"Open House" Sunday For Opening Of New Methodist Church Building

First service of the Mowatt Memorial Methodist Church will be held this Sunday in the new building at 40 Ridge, at 11 a.m. This will be a service of Holy Communion on observance of the opening of the building for public worship. Formal Service of Consecration will be held Sunday, October 9, including a program with distinguished visitors and music and open house that afternoon.

According to Seibert D. Meade, Building Construction Committee Chairman, the present building is the first unit of a projected plan which will include a large sanctuary unit, connecting wing and addition to the present building. These will be constructed as soon as funds are available.

Valued at over $60,000.00 the present building includes a large multi-purpose room, three classrooms, boiler room, washrooms and storage space. Kitchen facilities are also included so that dinners for up to 150 persons can be served.

When additional grading has been completed, the Methodist Church will have the largest off-street parking facilities of any church in Greenbelt, which will provide for safe entrance to the building without involving the crossing of Ridge Road. Attention is called to the no parking signs on the side of Ridge on which the church is located. For the safety of all, these restrictions will be strictly enforced by town police.

Public Invited

The public is cordially invited to attend the service of worship as announced each week and to participate in various activities of the church school, choirs, and women's and men's groups. Methodists who live in Greenbelt are being strongly urged to transfer their membership and become affiliated with the local Methodist Church, according to Rev. Stanley F. Knock, Jr., minister.

Hoe There! Garden Contest To Begin

The Greenbelt Garden Club and The News Review will hold a "yard gardening" contest for all yards in Greenbelt on September 16 and 17 according to Lilburn Lee, president of the Garden Club. Henry Brigham, Andrew Duncan, and Hans Jorgensen will judge the contest on condition of lawn, completeness of planting, neatness, horticulture, and general effect.

A first, second, and third place ribbon will be awarded for yards in "new" Greenbelt and a separate set of ribbons for yards in "old" Greenbelt. In addition, signs will be posted in the winning yards. Honorable mention will be given for outstanding features of yards that do not qualify for a prize on overall appearance but have an outstanding ornamental specialty such as a rose garden, rock garden, or herb garden.

The News Review will announce the winners in the September 22 issue; Mr. Campbell of GVHC will present the ribbons at a meeting of the Garden Club the same day at the Center school at 8:30 p.m.

You may enter your yard or a neighbor's yard in this contest by filling out the entry blank on this page.

Red Feather Day Set For Sept. 25

"One thousand, eight hundred and forty-seven Chairmen, Captains, and Workers are needed in Prince George's County to manage the community chest this year in our all-out effort to contribute our share in raising $4,000,000 in the Metropolitan area," Ernest N. Cory, Jr., Chairman of the 1956 Campaign for Community Chest in Prince George's County, announced at his campaign headquarters in Laurel.

"Here in Prince George's County we must raise $88,000 which represents a contribution of only four cents per person," Mr. Cory continued. "Last year Prince George's County raised $64,392, which amounted to three cents per person."

"Out of the total funds collected in the Metropolitan area last year, $174,223 in actual cash was actually given to our own agencies. Besides that, many of our people were helped by other agencies outside of Prince George's County, particularly in the District, in such institutions as the Florence Crittendon Home, Summer Outings Committee, the Legal Aid Bureau, and many others. It would be fairer to say that we received in return for our $64,392 an amount closer to $250,000, or about four times the amount we contributed in the campaign last year."

Mr. Cory also stated, "We have been most fortunate to secure many prominent people in all walks of life, business, professional, and social, to accept high responsibilities of raising funds in business and banking circles, in the government, among professional and executive groups, and among our residents in all areas of the county. The names of those chairmen will be published within the next fortnight."

"Each of these chairman in turn has secured Captains and Workers. I have written hundreds of letters to men and women who helped Community Chest last year and we hope they will help us this year in our all-out drive to raise even more than our quota of $88,000."

"With this end in view, we have asked all the present appointees to meet together at the University of Maryland, in Symons Hall, on September 12 at 8 p.m. We have asked them to bring their Captains, Workers, and volunteers to meet with us."

"September 25 has been set aside as Red Feather Sunday," Mr. Cory stated. "And we hope that at all services on that day a few minutes will be set aside to consider Stewardship as related to the Chest, and the need of all of us to help our fellowman."

Labor Day Weekend Festival Draws Record Crowds; Pronounced Success

The freshness and charm of Greenbelt's youth combined with the enthusiasm of their hard-working parents and neighbors to make the first annual Greenbelt Community Festival held over the Labor Day weekend a glittering success.

Winner of the popularity contest and crowned Queen of the Festival was Mary Emmert sponsored by the American Legion. Drawing 11,857 votes in pennies (or $118.57), she finished well ahead of her nearest competitor Joanne Iseli who garnered $97.23 as representative of the Fire Dept. and Rescue squad. Third was Addie Speziale sponsored by the Little League. Total votes cast in the contest were 51,689.

Winning the plaudits of the crowd and the judges in the local talent show was a girls' quartet composed of Sharon Romer, Maureen Moore, Carole Diedrich, and Diane Finlay. Sweeping through the jitterbug contest was Joanne Iseli and her partner Bob Wright.

The art exhibit, in which 25 exhibitors displayed 75 pieces of art, demonstrated that artistic talent abounds among the females of Greenbelt. Trophy winners among the adults were Annette Teresa Karitas, whose paintings won acclaim in the first public display of her works, Constance Lawson who won with a landscape in oil and one in ceramic, Virginia Moser who displayed a landscape in oil, and the prolific Don Uhlin who won with a woodblock, an engraving, and an oil portrait of a polio patient.

Carolyn Hoecker, junior high student, won a trophy for a landscape, and Mrs. Hall won a trophy for her display of crocheting. Exhibitors who won honorable mention (and will have ribbons mailed to them) were Diane Leasia, Frances Bukzin, Kathleen McGee, Stephen Mintz, Mrs. J. Smith, Mollie Ruben, and Miss Hennessey.

Switching to the athletic contests, here again youth was triumphant with one notable exception. Mayor James Wolfe, young in heart at least, beat 62 other contestants in the baseball throwing contest. Winner of the tug-of-war was the Little League, the 100-yard dash was taken by Richard Rock, the football throw was won by Robert Phillips, and the golf driving contest was taken by Marcus Volk.

Winners of the Boys Club boxing bouts were Billy Thomas, Pete Hoffman, Carl Swiger, Lewis Caruso, James Caruso, and Bob McLaughlin who received the outstanding boxing award for his win over Joe Markowich. Donnie King and Billy Morgan fought to a draw as did Blanchard Swiger and Jimmy Panagoulis.

The majorettes who came to the Festival from neighboring areas to participate delighted the crowd with some sparkling performances. Mary Lou Brookman from Hillside won the best individual trophy with Shirley Hamby from Tuxedo-Cheverly second. Moira Henry won the Greenbelt majorette contest with Henrietta Haslinger coming in second. The College Park group won the majorette team event with the girls from Annandale, Va., taking second.

The following fire and rescue units won trophies in the Labor Day parade and events: Laurel, best marching unit; College Park, best appearing majorette; Surratsville, best band; Little League, best youth float; Co-op, best civic or community float; Branchville, best pumper under 500 gallons; Kentland, best pumper over 500 gallons; Riverdale, for its ladder truck; Beltsville, for its ambulance and Laurel for its squad truck. The Agricultural Research Center came in with the oldest apparatus in use, and Forestville, longest distance.

A young girl, whose name was unavailable, won the best decorated bicycle award. Cub scout pack 202 won the cub scout athletic competition, and girl scout Pat Barick and Brownie Susan Schwimer accepted awards for the outstanding work of their respective troops.

Two special awards were presented by the Festival Committee. The trophy for the most active organization in the Festival, based on the number of adult manhours worked in the concessions and games, went to the Fire Dept. and Rescue Squad. The Committee had to ignore the extra work put in by individuals from various organizations on Festival duties since there was no way to make an accounting. It chose the most feasible method for this award.

The award for the outstanding individual of the Festival went to Miss Beverly Marsh, the producer of the talent show from Baltimore. Neither she nor her entertainers received pay for their work but nevertheless worked tirelessly to provide fun and merriment for the Greenbelt throngs.

Other details of the Festival, including the financial results, will appear in next week's issue of the News Review.

Youth Fined For False Fire Alarm

An 18-year-old youth was fined $250 and costs last Tuesday for pulling a "false alarm" fire signal last Saturday night. Brilliant detective work by Greenbelt officer Jim Williams resulted in the apprehension of Robert J. McDonnell, 5811 Ruatan St., Berwyn Heights, who pulled the alarm in the 71 court of Ridge. He was seen by a nearby resident, who reported a description of the car the youth was driving. From this information, Williams picked up McDonnell and after questioning him and a companion, obtained a confession.

The fine was imposed by Judge Grover Small, in Hyattsville.

School Days, School Days Good Old Golden Rule Days

The kids went back to school on Tuesday, and by the looks on all those smiling faces (their mothers') it was a happy occasion. Both Mrs. Grimm and Miss Long, principals of the two Greenbelt elementary schools were kept on the run trying to keep up with the hundreds of youngsters eager to start learning again. The North End School registered 331 students, but expected a total registration of about 350, once all the latecomers enrolled. This is about the same enrollment as last year. The first grade this year has 61 students as compared with last year's 58. Center School has a noticeable drop in registration of first graders; 59 as contrasted with last year's 70. The total registration thus far at Center School is 393; however a final total close to that at the close of last year's term when 418 students were enrolled is expected. During the last year over 50 students left Center School presumably as a result of moves out of the city and were not replaced.

Both schools lost four members of the faculty who have been replaced this year by four new members in each school. Tuesday, youngsters greeted these new faces at North End School - Mrs. Bevan, Mrs. Furey, Mrs. Ruffo and Mrs. Newyt. At Center School the newcomers are: Mrs. Eams, Mrs. Driller, Mrs. Stripling and Mr. Stanford. The music teacher shared by both schools also left at the close of the school term and the new teacher is Miss Isabelle Hoag.

CHORAL GROUP

The Greenbelt choral group will hold its first social and business meeting of the year on Tuesday, September 13, at 1-H Westway at 8:30 p.m. All old members as well as anyone interested in joining the songsters are invited to attend. Future meeting dates will be set at that time.

A Communication

To the Citizens, the Shooters and the Parents of Greenbelt:

Another historical landmark of your city is gone forever! Few residents may be aware that the rustic log cabin which has served as headquarters of the Greenbelt Gun Club since 1940 was the first structure built in Greenbelt, erected by the surveyors who laid out the town. Ever since Harry Bates, Lyman Woodman and Don Kern joined forces to organize the Gun Club in 1939, it has served the community in the many little ways a gun club can. Somehow, the cabin has always been symbolic of this service and the vandals who set the midnight fire on August 30 burned far more than logs and target frames. With them went the work, the hopes, the enthusiasm and the determination of the many members of the Greenbelt Gun Club who have tried to serve the city through the club.

While F. P. H. A. owned the city, the club leased the property from them. Since it was sold a year ago, we are using it by special permission of the new owner. The city firearms ordinance gives control of the responsibility for the range to the Gun Club. It also prohibits firing except when a range officer is present. All "members" are range officers so that any member may fire at any time. Membership is open, and inexpensive.

During World War II, we trained the local Company of Minutemen in marksmanship. We conducted pre-induction training courses for prospective servicemen. We provided facilities for sighting in hunting rifles and for junior and senior qualification firing. We made special arrangements with scout groups, DeMolay, Izaak Walton League Juniors, Greenbelt Jr. High, University of Maryland, and several other organizations to permit their members to become trained marksmen. We made the range available without charge to police forces throughout the county and to the FBI and the Secret Service.

We contributed financially to various public benefits such as the Athletic Club and permitted that group as well as the American Legion to use our facilities each year for their turkey shoots. This weekend we are loaning the club tent to the Labor Day Festivities held to benefit the local teenagers.

We have never turned down an applicant for membership and through our joint purchasing arrangements have been able to save our members many times the cost of their annual dues. The club, the range, and the facilities have always been open to those who wanted to use them properly and safely. The cost has always been low, $4.00 a year for a "family membership" and as little as $1.00 per year for members of the special groups mentioned above.

The club has an outstanding record of performance. It won the D. C. Smallbore rifle title in 1941, its second year of competition. It has taken the summer league title eight out of ten times and last year finished second in the national finals. Greenbelt has reigned over Eastern Maryland for the past five years and took the state Smallbore title twice. Our women's team holds a half dozen world records and our junior team established two. Our hi-power rifle team won the state title in 1954 and topped the "Expert" class in the Middle Atlantic Regional. The Greenbelt Gun Club has had at least one team in every major rifle competition in the state, indoor or outdoor, smallbore or high-power, since 1940. No other club can make that claim.

Since 1948 we have sponsored at least two tournaments each year. For the past few years this has involved a Junior tournament in the summer and an Open tournament in the Fall. In addition, we have provided the range for the Maryland Rifle League competitions and have performed a major share of the work. Our next tournament, now necessarily cancelled, was scheduled for the weekend of September 17-18.

In return for this, we have been plagued with vandalism from irresponsible persons of all ages. Our signs have been torn down and riddled with bullets. The cabin has been entered countless times by breaking down the doors, the windows and even the chimney. The range is littered with bullet marked beer cans and broken bottles to cut up the feet of our children and our pets. Our tables and other equipment have been used as target butts until they hardly stand. Soft drinks and chairs have been taken from the cabin, presumably to some juvenile "hut" in the woods. A few years ago our small castiron stove was taken, probably to a similar hideout.

Last spring the rash of vandalism was intensified. Our tools, chairs and tables were carried off. Extensive malicious damage was done to the cabin and target frames. Tournament rifle frames were used for illegal high-power shooting or for uncontrolled pistol shooting resulting in tens of dollars worth of damage to the equipment. Even our sod which the members planted with seed bought by the club was dug up and carried off!

Finally, on the evening of August 30, 1955, the climax was reached when someone set fire to the cabin and burned it to the ground with all $400.00 worth of our tournament equipment!

We are unable to understand the motivation of apparently normal people to destroy things such as this. The stealing is done by boys aged 8 to 13 for the most part. Some of these we know, while others may not have been caught—yet. We cannot condone this, either for the boys or their parents, but we can understand it. We were boys once too! The damage, however, is largely due to

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lakin, 44-H Ridge announce the arrival of their first child, Cynthia Lee. She was born on August 27 in Prince Georges Hospital and weighed seven pounds, three ounces.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan B. Branch, 13-H Ridge attended "Open House" for the parents of the Class of '59 Plebes over the August 27 weekend at the Naval Academy in Annapolis. It was a most interesting and educational experience as it was an opportunity for the parents to get an inside picture of the life and duties of their son, Dan, Jr., at the Academy. Each day was filled with new and exciting experiences. One of the highlights of the three day Open House was a forum on Saturday evening when the parents were told of all the activities, requirements and duties of the fourth classmen.

Welcome back to Betty Reznikoff and her two children, Neil and Alice. While Alice spent the summer in Camp Louise and Neil spent his at Camp Airy, Betty taught arts and crafts at Camp Airy. They all had a wonderful time but Dave is glad to have them back.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Dominick Ciccarelli, 2-D Northway on the birth of a boy on August 27 at Prince Georges Hospital.

Nancy Rae Kurth wishes to publicly thank the Greenbelt Volunteer Fire Department for their confidence in originally voting her their choice in the "Miss Popularity" contest. She declined because she was chosen by the U.S.O. to be one of twelve dancers, singers, and entertainers who will perform for the U.S. Air Force Station at Fort Churchill, Manitoba Province, Canada. This is quite a thrilling occasion for Nan because three "firsts" will be included in this 2000 mile trip. 1. Her first plane trip (non-stop for nine hours); 2. Her first view of the Hudson Bay; and 3. The first time she will represent the USA in an overseas assignment for the U.S.O.

On September 2, Pvt. Vernon C. Iseli, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon C. Iseli, Sr., 14-V2 Ridge is scheduled to complete recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot at Parris Island, S.C.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Martin, 69-G Ridge, announce the arrival on August 28, of a son. The baby was named Joel Daniel for his grandfather who passed away last January. Joel arrived in Prince Georges Hospital and weighed eight pounds, eight ounces. He has a sister, Patricia Lynn (3½). Mr. Martin's mother is currently visiting.

Congratulations also to Mr. and Mrs. James Harbaugh, 69-F Ridge on the birth of a girl on August 27 at Prince Georges Hospital.

The following portion of the column was left out of last week's paper because of insufficient room. Bear this in mind when reading the following, particularly about the dates.

older boys, girls, and men. Further, most are shooters or would-be shooters themselves, but are not interested in formal competition or in joining clubs and seem to resent our doing it. They expect to use our range anytime, without charge, benefiting by our labors, but never offering to help in return. If asked for a nominal range fee of 25 or 50 cents, many get huffy and drive off. Two groups of youth did this Sunday the 28th, one with three youths and a girl and the other with three youths. Each group had two guns, but drove away rather than join the club or pay a small fee to use them. The fire may have resulted from this, who knows?

In all these 16 years we have never received a formal expression of appreciation from anyone for our service to the community. On the other hand, we have found ourselves continually forced to fight and to work to keep our equipment in usable condition. At this point we realize that we are tired, very tired. The life of the Greenbelt Gun Club is hanging by only a slender thread today. If it dies, something more of the spirit and the heart, characteristic of the teamwork associated with old Greenbelt dies with it. We are sorry to see this happen. Perhaps some of you are sorry too. You were glad to have us around in 1942. Someday, even the children and the adults who wreaked the devastation may also be sorry!

GRATITUDE

On behalf of the Advisory Board of the Greenbelt Youth Center I would like to express our gratitude and appreciation to everyone who helped to make the Labor Day success. This includes not only the Festival Committee, who gave so generously of their time and abilities, but also the City Council, the Recreation Advisory Board, the Recreation Department, the Public Works Department, GCS, GVHC, The News Review, and all the organizations and individuals who contributed their help and manpower to arrange and operate this four-day festival.

We of the Advisory Board have long recognized the need and worked toward the goal of having a Youth Center Building in Greenbelt and while a building such as we dream of would cost considerably more than could be raised through any one money-raising venture, this Festival has brought us a long step forward toward the day when we can provide our youth with a much needed building they can call their own.

It has been extremely gratifying to us that the citizenry of Greenbelt has responded so generously with their time and their money and we can only say to each and every one of you, "thank you" from the bottom of our hearts.

Civil Defense The Long View

The Warden Service works directly with persons, families and neighborhood and employee groups. It is the connecting link between organized civil defense operations and the public. Wardens train people in self-protection, disseminate civil defense information, make rosters of neighborhood residents, inventory buildings and equipment within their posts. Wardens are responsible for training families in individual self-protection, and organize neighborhood self-protection teams such as rescue, first-aid, communications, and welfare.

Governor Peterson, FCDA Administrator, recently stated:

"The importance of the wardens in civil defense has increased with the advent of the newer weapons. A good warden organization makes civil defense strong at the neighborhood level.

"Self-protection is the first law of civil defense just as self-preservation is the first law of nature. To be effective, self-protection must be organized. This is done through warden leadership. Each neighborhood must have its own disaster plan, preparing for evacuation, shelter and survival in harmony with the master civil defense plans of its city and State."

CIVIL DEFENSE BACKBONE

Civil Defense Wardens form the backbone of civil defense. They must, therefore, be well-known, respected, and accepted as leaders by their neighbors and fellow workers.

WARDEN'S RESPONSIBILITIES

Pre-Attack Duties . . . Prepare neighborhood residents to carry out the provisions of the local survival plan.

- a) Conduct neighborhood meetings to develop a neighborhood evacuation plan consistent with the State & County plan.
- b) Compile neighborhood records, maps, evacuation lists, including lists of handicapped and dependent persons.
- c) Visit families to instruct them in warnings and plans, and in protection from radioactive fallout.
- d) Encourage and arrange car pools, assist in preparation of movement route cards, mutual assistance agreements among neighbors, transportation plans for the handicapped and dependent persons.
- e) Director neighborhood participation in the test exercises and support of other civil defense services.

Attack Duties — When an alert signal is sounded, the warden should:

- a) Supplement the alert warning.
- b) Direct neighborhood traffic especially along feeder routes to radial evacuation routes, and if the alert is at night, enforce lighting regulations in neighborhoods that are mainly residential.
- c) Direct persons lacking transportation to loading stations or available automobiles.
- d) Disseminate official information, assert leadership, give on-the-spot assignments to volunteers as circumstance warrant.
- e) Assist evacuees enroute to reception areas.

Postattack Duties — The warden should:

- a) If the fallout problem is present and movement is necessary, assist in movement to safer areas and to shelter.
- b) After radioactive fallout has subsided, direct neighborhood group action in decontamination and assist radiological decontamination forces.
- c) Assist in placing evacuees and returning them to their homes.
- d) Assist other services, such as the fire services in the protection of lives and property from the increased incidence of fires and the police service in the maintenance of law and order.

Civil Defense Wardens will need comprehensive training. Setting up a neighborhood warden organization is a basic step in organizing civil defense. Men and Women able and willing to assume responsibility are needed as wardens. Housewives, since they know their neighborhoods best and are home

by A. C. Long
In ante bellum days folks used to start a letter with the now quaint phrase: "I take my pen in hand to write you . . .", and then ease into the subject of the letter. Well, as I take my No. 2 bonded lead pencil in hand I haven't got the least idea of what I'm going to write.

But as I sit here and ponder, there flits through my mind Zubkoff's brief treatise on how to get an item printed in that paragon of journals, the NEWS REVIEW, namely, give the editor a free ticket. I should like to ask him how you prevent an item from being cut up and butchered when it is printed.

Then I see a parade of eight friendly waving, bowing citizens and suddenly realize that election day is September 20, so why not ask James Wolfe, Thomas Canning, Benjamin Goldfaden, Robert Hurst, James Smith, Allan Kistler, William Siegel and Louis Tierney some questions, such as: What will you do to bring Greenbelt's tax rate into line with that of other communities in the area?

Will you help work out a co-operative program with GVHC to avoid duplication of efforts and misunderstanding (I know it's a two way street) and to develop a beneficial, coordinated program for Greenbelters, most of whom pay both taxes and home payments and want better service and lower costs from each bureaucracy?

What will you do to provide police beat protection, i.e., have the police patrol the courts on foot to prevent vandalism and help develop civic responsibility among the young fry?

What will you do to compel the business men in town to clean up in front of their stores as they do in every other city, and not charge this off to the taxpayers as we now do in Greenbelt?

My prediction is that three of the eight candidates will be defeated, and that we will end up with a pretty good council again, even as we have had for the past two years.

There's an empty house in the 13 Court on Ridge Road, but it won't stay vacant long. When the Flynn's moved to San Francisco, however, they left more than an empty house,—they left an empty niche in our religious and civic life which will be hard to fill. "Winnie" Flynn, as she is known to her many friends, is one of those good quiet citizens commonly referred to as "salt of the earth." Up every morning at 6 a.m., she was on hand to fix the altar and hear daily mass. Chairman of the Community Chest drive the last two years, she never refused to work on any worthwhile drive. Solid Irish, she always spoke her mind. Well, her friends and neighbors will be glad to know she arrived safe and sound in Frisco and as you might expect her first visit was to church with the family for a little prayer. I know she'll like that hilly city,—after a while, even though Johnny Flynn did get lost on his first visit downtown and had to take a cab to his dad's office.
