The Tintinabulation of the Dogs, of The Dogsdogsdogsdogsdogs

The city's approach to enforcement of the ordinance against dogs was thoroughly explored at the regular meeting of the city council on Monday, May 6. The discussion was prompted by a letter to the council from John O. Walker, manager of the Greenbelt Veteran Housing Corporation, asking the city to place more emphasis on enforcing the regulation.

The council meeting was attended by an overflow crowd of about 35 citizens who came not to hear about dogs, but in anticipation that a letter from James Wolfe would be read regarding the ride in a police car given to three teen-agers last week. Most of those present planned to protest the disciplinary action taken by the city manager against one of the police officers involved, who was suspended as a result of the incident. However, neither the letter nor the matter was brought up.

Dogs, Dogs, Dogs

The city ordinance in regard to dogs carries a fine ranging from two to ten dollars against owners who allow their dogs to run loose or molest people. The police also pick up stray dogs. A GVHC regulation prohibits members of the housing corporation from keeping pets in their homes. This has always been interpreted as applying largely to dogs. GVHC is currently considering strong action against members who keep dogs and wants backing by the city.

City manager Charles McDonald explained day-to-day police handling of the dog situation. Dogs, running loose, are picked up whenever spotted and held for the county Animal Rescue League, which does not itself apprehend dogs. If the dog is licensed, the League notifies the owner, who can then get his dog back by paying a fee of two dollars. Dogs are not generally destroyed unless they are unlicensed or prove to be vicious.

The police take their most severe action against dogs that molest or attack children. In one such recent case, the family owning the dog was charged and fined. McDonald pointed out, however, that it is up to the judge to decide whether to fine a dog owner prosecuted by the city. Furthermore, he admitted that he was reluctant to take local citizens to court unless forced. The police first issue warnings and then extract a promise from the owner to dispose of the dog. McDonald said he generally receives good cooperation from the citizens involved.

The city manager noted that the police are not trained or equipped to pick up dogs, nor does the city have a proper vehicle for this purpose. Councilman Ben Goldfaden suggested that the city license dogs and use the fees to buy such equipment. However, McDonald said that the city would be duplicating a county service, since the Animal Rescue League is provided by the county for that purpose. Councilman Jim Smith suggested that since GVHC was deeply concerned about the problem, a GVHC employee could be deputized by the city to pick up dogs and paid a fee per dog.

McDonald indicated that a major portion of the complaints were not against wild or vicious dogs but "friendly" dogs who are a nuisance to neighbors. It is difficult for the police to trace the owners of such dogs and take action. The council agreed to notify GVHC that the city would make every effort to enforce the dog ordinance vigorously.

Other Matters

In other council action, Councilman Alan Kistler asked the city manager to get the "Berwyn Heights" sign removed from Greenbelt land bordering Edmonston road near Good Luck Road. The matter of overflowing garbage cans at the lake picnic grounds was raised by "Pop" Bell, who said he had checked them several times in recent days. McDonald said there was no excuse for this and would see that the cans were regularly emptied.

GCS Opens Its Fifth Big Shopping Center

Greenbelt Consumer Services, Inc. has opened its fifth major shopping center in nearby Maryland—a half million dollar "general" store in Rockville. An estimated 10,000 persons flocked to an "open house" held in Rockville Sunday in connection with the opening. A number of prizes were given away.

County, state and local dignitaries who participated in a brief ribbon-cutting and welcoming ceremony included Judge Stedman Prescott, of Rockville, recently appointed to the Maryland Court of Appeals; President Charles H. Jamison, of the Montgomery County Council, and Mayor Dickran Hovsepian, of Rockville.

Several hundred co-op members from co-op stores in Greenbelt, Takoma Park, Wheaton, Westminster and Rockville, as well as the general public, attended the ceremony. Nothing was sold during the three-hour open house, and the new store formally opened for business Monday morning.

Beside containing a major, ultra-modern supermarket the "general" store will offer general merchandise, shoes and major and small appliances. It has nine check-outs. Due to a restrictive clause in the shopping center lease the co-op has been unable so far to build a pharmacy and a service station at the site as it has done in other areas.

Also in the same shopping center, biggest and newest in or around Rockville, are a W. T. Grant's Department Store, Woolworth, Western Auto, Peoples Drug, Miller's Apparel, and a host of smaller specialty shops.

Rockville has been termed one of the fastest growing areas around Washington.

Annual Fund Drive For Community Band

The Greenbelt Community Band has announced that it will open its annual fund drive on Monday evening, May 20. Money is to be collected to provide repairs to instruments, for uniforms, and to purchase new instruments.

The band, now in its 16th year, is the only one in the area supported by a municipality. Its affairs are managed by a board composed of parents of the band members. It is supported in part by local taxes and in part by nominal weekly membership dues paid by band members. The fund drive is needed to cover the remainder of band expenses.

One of the aims of the board of the band this year is to make available a scholarship to a summer band camp for one or more members, who range in age from nine to 16 years of age. The next public appearance of the band will be in the Memorial Day parade on May 30. Also planned are Monday evening open-air concerts near the swimming pool area in June.

Freedom Foundation Rewords High Point

High Point high school's newspaper, the Beacon, was presented with the Freedom Foundation's George Washington gold medal award for editorials at the old Supreme Court chamber at the Capitol on Monday, May 6.

Presented to Mr. Allan I. Chotiner, High Point's principal, the award was one of two presented to high schools. Other recipients of the medal were two congressmen, Admiral Radford, Frederick Brown Harris, the Red Cross, the National Federation of Women's Clubs, WTOF, and various individuals and organizations. Phyllis Chasanow, editor of the Beacon, and Mrs. R. Madalyn Angel, advisor, also attended the ceremony.

Center PTA Elects Mrs. Galvin President

Mrs. Dorothy M. Galvin, 1-C Woodlandway, was elected president of the Center School PTA by unanimous ballot at the final meeting last Tuesday. Also elected were: Mrs. Everett E. Whitbeck, 19-H Ridge, vice president; Mrs. Lois Nelson, 8-L Southway, (incumbent) secretary; and Lawrence Levine, 18-N Ridge, treasurer.

The meeting opened with an invocation by the Rev. Robert C. Hull of the Greenbelt Community Church. Following the committee reports, the Greenbelt Community Chorus, directed by Thomas B. Ritchie and accompanied by Martin Berkofsky, sang the following selections: "One World," "June Is Bustin' Out All Over," "Pilgrims' Chorus" and "John Peel." Mrs. Ethel Gerring, accompanied by the chorus, sang "Embraceable You."

Legion Auxiliary Poppy Day Sale

Everyone in Greenbelt will be given an opportunity to wear a memorial poppy in honor of the war dead. The observance will be directed by Mrs. Anna Link, the Auxiliary Poppy Chairman. Those assisting Mrs. Link will be unpaid volunteers, and the entire amount of contributions given for the poppies will go to support American Legion and Auxiliary welfare work for disabled veterans and needy children of our community.

Poppies for the day have been ordered from the veterans hospitals, where they are made by disabled war veterans. They are crepe paper replicas of the wild poppies which bloomed "between the crosses row on row", in the war cemeteries in France and Belgium, and which have become the memorial flower of the English-speaking world. Making the poppies provides employment for thousands of veterans unable to do other work.

North End Safety Patrol Team Wins Second Place In Drill Competition

Organized only two months ago, the North End school safety patrol drill team literally marched off with the second place trophy in the National AAA Drill Team Competition held at Fort Meyer Va., on Friday, May 6.

The drill team, formed and trained by Joseph O'Loughlin, a teacher at the North End School, lost first place to a team from Pottstown, Pa. which has been competing for 14 years. Third place was won by a team from the Jacksonville, Fla., city schools. Officers of Fort Meyer's Third Infantry Regiment judged the contest.

The North End drill team was composed of 10 girls and six boys, aged 11 and 12, and headed by its 12-year old captain, Sandy Vaughn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Vaughn of 57-J Ridge. O'Loughlin, who had never organized a drill team before or even seen one in action, found that his team was willing to apply itself enthusiastically to drill practice.

The team practiced before school, during lunch hour, after school, after supper, Saturday mornings and three hours a day during Easter vacation. The members of the team were mainly interested in competing and did not think they had a chance for top honors.

In the competition the team, performing fancy maneuvers before a crowd of about 4,000, finished their drill within two seconds of the five minutes allowed on the floor. This time was closest to the limit of any

Open Meeting For Adult Girl Scouts

All registered Girl Scout adults are entitled to attend the "open" meeting, May 10, 10 to 12 a.m., of the Board of Directors of the Girl Scout Council of Southern Maryland. The meeting will be held at Riverdale Presbyterian Church, on Queens Chapel Road. Delegates and alternates for the national convention in Philadelphia next November will be elected.

Older intermediate scouts eligible to be senior scouts next fall (14 or in the 9th grade by then), and their troop leaders, have been invited to attend a senior rally, May 15, 5:30 to 8 p.m., on Wells Parkway, behind Riverdale Presbyterian Church. (The rally will be in the church in case of rain.) Bring a nosebag supper, a sit-upon, and wear slacks or jeans.

The program will include singing, a salute to the graduating seniors, welcome to prospective new members, and review of the senior aide (hospital, child care, library, ranger, etc.) program.

Committees in charge, chosen from the Council's 17 senior troops, are: program, troops 8, College Park, and 85, Greenbelt; hospitality, troop 83, East Pines; refreshments, 14, Hyattsville; mixers, troop 1, Green Meadows; cleanup, troops 262, Takoma Park, and 53, University Park.

Girls wishing to be senior scouts who are not now in troops or who have never been in scouting should contact their nearest senior troop, or the Girl Scout office (Warfield 7-0655) or senior advisor Mrs. Carson Howell (Warfield 7-4982) for information on how to join.

of the competing teams. Some of their movements were so rapid that judges, who observed the teams on the floor, had to run to keep a close eye on the Greenbelt team.

The drill team marched in the Safety Patrol Parade on Constitution Avenue on Saturday, May 7. As the Greenbelt group passed the reviewing stand, their previous night's victory was announced with the explanation that the team had been formed only two months previously.

Theatre Cuts Admission Rate For All Students

The Greenbelt Theatre has announced a new "special student admission rate" for children 12 years and over—50c matinee or evening. To get it, the student must present identification from his school—elementary, junior high, or high.

The new rate replaces the regular evening price for children 12 and over of 70c except on pictures on which all admissions are advanced. Regular rate for children under 12 is 30c.

Student Nurses

The School of Practical Nursing of Prince George's General Hospital will illustrate the role they play as an integral part of the hospital team during National Hospital Week, May 12-19. The students enrolled in the Practical Nursing School will present demonstrations which will include how to bathe patients, give medications, and use Stryker frames and Ripple mattresses. They will also offer a playlet to dramatize methods used in the classroom. These informative and educational skits will take place in the third floor lobby of the hospital between 2 and 4 p.m. and 7 and 9 p.m. on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, May 17-19.

Applications for the September class will be accepted at that time.

Intermediate Baseball

All boys living in Greenbelt and born after January 1, 1942 and before Jan. 1, 1944 are eligible to try out for the Boys Club intermediate team. Vol. 21 Thursday, May 9, 1957 No. 40

An Appeal To Complainers

In the last few months we have heard numerous complaints by Greenbelt Veteran Housing Corporation members, especially those living in original Greenbelt, that they are having difficulty in selling their housing units. Many reasons are given, but one that seems to occur most often is the fact that it is hard to interest buyers when the down payment bears such a large relation to the value of the house.

In many instances the down payment amounts to 20 to 30 percent of the price of the home. Although it is true that Greenbelt homes are priced reasonably with respect to the outside market, the equity accumulating in these homes is often of such an amount as to be an impediment to the sale.

The board and management of GVHC are aware of this problem and have negotiated with First Mutual Investment Company of Baltimore a refinancing plan through which part of the down payment can be spread over a 4 or 5 year period. Such a plan will undoubtedly ease the selling difficulties of GVHC members, at least for the next few years.

The plan would probably now be in effect if it weren't for the fact that approval by the membership was not forthcoming at the annual meeting on March 20 because of the absence of a quorum. It will again be presented to the membership at the quarter meeting on Monday, May 13, at the Center School auditorium.

The point we are making is that membership in a mutual housing corporation entails the responsibility of maintaining continuous interest in its affairs, even though a member is planning or expecting to leave town shortly. Here is one illustration where even the last act of a member—selling his house—can be affected by what the corporate body decides to do at a membership meeting.

So, to all complainers: Don't get into the position where your complaints can be shrugged off with the comment, "Did you attend the last membership meeting? Were you there when they proposed to make it easier for members to sell and refinance their homes?"

Greenbelt is indeed fortunate to have him here and I sincerely hope he will still be here to teach my two little ones when they reach the 5th and 6th grades.

VOLUNTEER NOTES

Fireboard No. 1-UN 4-2211

By Lester Citron

The Ambulance Club drive does not want any Greenbelt family to be deprived of a chance to give. So, to be sure that there will be no hurt feelings each of the thousand families missed in the regular drive has received a stamped self-addressed envelope. Each envelope was sent out with hope and some are beginning to trickle back with some first aid cash for needy ambulances. Maybe we'll hit that $4,000 goal yet.

Another Dance

The last dance was such a success that, by popular request, the Fire Department is giving another one come Friday night, May 24. This dance, too, will be co-sponsored by the American Legion and will happen at the Legion Post. Again there will be door prizes and the best music this side of D. C. provided by Chuck Kidwell's Combo. As before, the tariff will only be $1.50 per couple. Come and dance and have fun; the Fire Department needs new apparatus and Greenbelt needs a night out.

THE C & P TELEPHONE COMPANY OF MARYLAND

Little League

By Frank Youell

Just for a little while last Sunday afternoon the kids of Greenbelt were in the limelight, and they made the most of it.

First, there was the parade — and what a parade it was! There they were, grinning like Cheshire cats up there in those convertibles — brand new, too! They were champions, and they knew it. It was a lot of fun and a great big thrill having people smile and take pictures of you and your buddies. If you looked around, there were the strutting majorettes, and then the precise martial beat of the Greenbelt band. Beyond them, you could see the Cub Scouts, proudly led by Smokey Stover, carrying the American flag. Further back, the rest of the teams were marching, fronted by automobiles carrying the placards, telling which team followed. If you were kind of further back in the parade, you didn't hear the band too well, but the folks along the side smiled just as big and clapped just as loud.

When you got to the field, there were the majorettes putting on a show for the hundreds of spectators lining the side of the field. Of course, the first thing you noticed were the new dugouts and the beautiful condition of the playing field.

All of a sudden, the pre-game ceremonies were underway, and all the coaches were out there. Then Bill Moore was introduced, and the MVP award for 1956 went to Dave Dalbow. You were glad — no matter where you were sitting.

Then, Charles McDonald and Mayor Tom Canning and Prince Georges County Commissioner Frank Lastner were marching with the Cub Scouts out to center field for the flag raising. If you let your eye rove just a little, while the National Anthem was being played, it was a pretty impressive sight. Something lumped up in your throat—and you felt that a lot of work had gone into this afternoon just for a bunch of kids. Depending on where you were sitting, it made you feel bigger than anything!

Then came the event you had been waiting for all winter long—the ball game!

You thought it would be a pretty good game, and it was—at least, for a few innings. Mr. Dean's American League champions, the Athletics, took an early lead in the game, but then those city champions, Hoppy Hofstetter's Tigers kicked up their heels, and finally outthit those Athletics. Final score — 12 to 6!

Yep, there was lots to remember about last Sunday. I guess the biggest thing of all to remember was Jimmy Caruso's first home

by Elizabeth B. Hage

The 1957-58 library budget has been announced by the Board of County Commissioners, together with the budgets for all other county agency. Unfortunately, the library budget received a very large cut—almost 1/3 percentage-wise. What this will mean to the people of Prince George's County is simply this: there can be no expansion of service by the library. That is a very serious situation. Everything has been accelerated to keep up with the increasing demand for library service. During the next fiscal year progress will stop. It is to be hoped that back-sliding can be prevented; but that will be difficult. Equipment gets older and needs repair and/or replacement. There can be no increased buying of books to meet growing demand; in fact, if book prices rise at all we won't be able to buy as many as we have during this past year. So far as opening up any new service outlets—either branches or bookmobile stops—is concerned, it will be out of the question. We are indeed very sorry, nay, we're even pretty sick, about it, but that's what the loss of $100,000 from the library budget request is going to mean to the people of Prince George's County.

There is one bright spot in our picture of the next year. The Prince George's County League of Women Voters adopted the County Library as their project for study during the next two years.

run of the year. Boy, was he happy!

You know, it's kind of swell to live in Greenbelt, where they give the kid's the VIP treatment every baseball season. Depending on where you were sitting, I guess it's about the greatest thing in the whole world!
