Many thanks to Vivian Greenbaum and Betty Lawton for their excellent coverage of this column during my absence.

Greenbelt boasts of being a playground for children. Let's take a look at some lucky newcomers.

It's a girl for Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Scallion, 14-Z Parkway. Christina Lynn made her debut on October 14, weighing 8 lbs. 11½ oz. She has a brother, Joe Steven, 19 months.

They named him James Edward. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mattes, 14-X Hillside, and he has a brother Jeffrey. James arrived on October 14, weighing 5 lbs. 9 oz. His grandmother, Mrs. Swan, of Orlando, Florida, is here. Four year old Jeffrey and his grandmother haven't been well. We wish them both a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. William F. McBride, 12-A Crescent, were blessed with a pink bundle on October 16. Cynthia Ann weighed in at 9 lbs. 9 oz., and she has a thirteen month old sister, Michele. Cynthia's paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William McBride, live at 13-N Hillside.

They all came back pined. Last Wednesday the Greenbelt Cooperative Nursery School tots traveled to the College Park Fire Department, where they climbed ladders, rang bells, and received Sparky pins.

The George Tryttens, 13-A Laurel, have moved from Greenbelt to Riverdale.

Janet Parker was the guest of honor at a surprise baby shower given by Lil Schwimer, Ruth Bowman, and Ellie Ritchie at the Schwifens home, 45-M Ridge. Former Greenbelter, Valerie Holton and Freda Perelzweig were among the many who helped Janet celebrate.

Good luck to Jean and Richard Johnston, 8-A Hillside, who left Greenbelt last Saturday for Seabrook Acres, Maryland.

North End's fifth and sixth graders had a delightful time at last Friday night's costume dance.

Happy birthday to Robert Berroza, 17-E Ridge, who celebrates his eighth birthday tomorrow.

The Herbert Gelhardts are headed for Japan, where Gelhardt will be employed.

Visiting the M. Pehls, 2-B Crescent, was Dotty's mother, Mrs. V. R. Caswell, from Alachua, Florida.

The Alan Kistlers, 7-B Crescent, have returned from a weekend trip to Pittsburgh, Pa., with their children, Mary Ann and Kevin. They visited their parents, Dr. and Mrs. Alan Kistler and Mr. Joseph Connolly.

Mr. and Mrs. George Talbert, 60-A Crescent, announce the engagement of their son, James Robert to Nancy Wagner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alton F. Wagner, 5715 Euclid Street, Cheverly, Maryland. The couple will be married in St. Ambrose Church, Cheverly, on March 15. James is a Lieutenant with the Greenbelt Fire Department.

John Bee Lewis, son of Gladstone S. Lewis, Sr., 5-A Gardenway, has pledged Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity at the University of Miami, Coral Gables, Florida. A sophomore, Lewis is majoring in botany in UM's College of Arts and Sciences.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Barkley announce the arrival of their fifth grandchild on Thursday, October 24, 1957. The proud parents are Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Barkley of Takoma Park, Maryland. Mother and baby are doing nicely

The Greenbelt Cooperative Nursery School will have a membership meeting on Wednesday, November 6, at 8:30 p.m., in the Social Room of the Center School.

The play, "Tomorrow is a Day," which deals with one of the more universal problems—insecurity in children—and the reasons behind it will be presented by the Drama Wing, Department of Speech and Dramatic Art, University of Maryland. After the presentation, the director, E. Thomas Starcher, will lead a discussion period. Refreshments will follow.

The membership of the Greenbelt Cooperative Kindergarten and the public are invited. However, anyone desiring to attend but who is not connected with the nursery school, should call Mrs. Hildebrand (9445) or Mrs. Laster (7146).

Step Taken Against Pet Owners, Subletting And Sales Analyzed

By Al Skolnik

Following the action of the special membership meeting in upholding the termination of mutual ownership contracts of members who fail to dispose of unauthorized dogs and cats, the board of directors of Greenbelt Homes, Inc. took first steps at its regular meeting last Friday night to carry out the wishes of the membership.

The board requested its attorneys, Krooth and Altman, to recommend attorneys authorized to practice in Maryland to represent the corporation in the pet cases. GHI manager John O. Walker explained that GHI must take the initiative in securing a court order directing the eviction of the pet owners. Unlike the non-payment of monthly charges which can be remedied through a routine court warrant, the pet owners' case involves an alleged failure to abide by the terms of the contract. Thus, the court must examine the contract, interpret its contents, and determine whether a violation occurred before it can issue a judgment. Walker was not certain, but he believed different legal procedures and courts were involved in the two types of action.

New Eviction

In other action concerning the dog issue, the board added the name of Charles K. Lowery, 5-H Gardenway, to the list of members whose contracts were being terminated. Lowery, in response to the termination of contract notice of August 30, had notified the board of the disposal of the pet. The board later received word that the pet had been brought back to Greenbelt.

The board decided to set aside part of the next regular meeting, Friday, November 8, to hear the written and oral pleas of the seven or eight pet owners who wish to justify the retention of their pets on the basis of special need or circumstances.

Subletting

A request by a member living in California to renew for the fifth straight year the privilege of subletting his Greenbelt house touched off a policy discussion on absentee ownership. The board decided to have management prepare a report analyzing existing subletting arrangements in order to determine the extent to which the practice has reached undesirable proportions.

The general policy in the past has been to permit subletting for periods up to two years where a temporary absence from Greenbelt was involved. Some members of the board felt that continual requests for extension of this period indicates an intention not to return to Greenbelt, and such members should be made to dispose of their property.

Lately another type of absentee ownership has developed, arising out of departing GHI members who, unable to dispose of their units at the price desired, chose to sublet them for a limited period. Again, some board members felt that any extensions of these periods would be undesirable.

Sales

The board received a report on the resale of Greenbelt housing units during the 8-month period January 1 to August 31, 1957. Of 185 units sold during this period, 102 were sold by the GHI Sales Office. The dollar value of these sales amounted to $444,100 out of a total of $781,000. Homes sold directly by owners were valued at $132,900, and Greenbelt Realty Company sold the remaining homes with a market valuation of $204,000.

The board voted to retain the services of Mrs. Helen C. Ditman in the limited capacity as attorney. Mrs. Ditman had originally been appointed a year ago to represent GHI as real estate broker, but services of this nature were no longer needed with the recent licensing of Mrs. Mary Jane Kinzer, Sales and Service Supervisor.

New Scout Troop Forms

The necessity for another Boy Scout Troop in Greenbelt has prompted the Mowatt Memorial Methodist Church to take steps to sponsor such a unit. All fathers of boys 11 to 14 years of age interested in joining the Boy Scouts are urged to attend a meeting to be held at the Methodist Church this Friday evening, November 1, at 8 p.m. when details of the program for the new troop will be discussed.

Volunteers For Utopia

Volunteers are still needed by the Bureau of Public Roads to help in the experimental viewling of road signs along the newly-constructed Edmonston road. Only a few drivers can be used at one time, and it would take about an hour during the afternoon or evening. Volunteers are urged to call Mrs. Cerulla, at EXecutive 3-4950, extension 2541.

Good Turn Day Gets Scout Aid

Greenbelt Cub Packs 202, 746, and 750; Scout Troops 202 and 67; and Explorer Posts 67 and 202, will distribute specially printed "Good Turn Day" bags this week end, in cooperation with the Davis Memorial Goodwill Industries drive. November 9 will be known as "Good Turn Day" in the entire Washington area, and the National Capital Area Council, Boy Scouts of America, is cooperating in this project.

In Greenbelt the local Fire Department will do their good turn by making their station available for collection depots of filled bags. Residents are urged to fill up the bags with repairable clothing, shoes, and household textiles, and to place them on their porches for the scouts to pick up the morning of November 9.

The Goodwill Industries is a project aimed to provide jobs and training for disabled or handicapped workers. The material will be cleaned, repaired and sold at nominal prices at the Goodwill store. The proceeds help low income families and offer a chance for the workers to earn self-respecting wages and learn new skills and trades.

Center PTA To Hear Perkins And Ritchie

The next regular membership meeting of the Center School PTA will be held on Tuesday evening, November 5, at 8 p.m., in the Center School auditorium. Announcements of current interest will be made by Mrs. Ann Jarvis and Mrs. Rose Amberg, legislative and health chairmen, respectively. Featured speakers will be Dr. Hugh Perkins of the Institute of Child Study, University of Maryland, and local citizen Thomas B. Ritchie. Their topic is "The Parents' Responsibility to the School and Children." The membership will then be invited to participate in a buzz session and question period. Parents and interested persons are urged to attend. Refreshments will be served.

American Education Week

BY THE

BOARD OF EDUCATION OF PRINCE GEORGE'S COUNTY A Proclamation

If America is to maintain its world leadership, we must train for that leadership in the local communities; and

If we are to train our children for leadership; we must exhibit leadership ourselves in community affairs; and

If we are to interest our children in education, we must encourage that interest by our own knowledge of the educational program;

Therefore, we the Commissioners of Prince George's County, Maryland, feel that contributions to the total program of our schools will be the more worthwhile because each citizen participates in the observance of American Education Week from November 10 to November 16, 1957.

We urge the citizens of Prince George's County to visit the classrooms in the schools of their communities to see the modifications in the curriculum, in the teaching, and in the program designed to help the future citizens continue the work of this nation.

American Education Week is a time to discover the progress and achievements of our schools.

It is a time to appreciate the difficulties and needs of a school program which serves the needs of many individuals.

It is a time to understand that education aimed at a search for truth is education designed to move freedom forward.

Most of all, it is a time for all the citizens to work with the youth of our communities.

Given under my hand and the seal of the Commissioners of Prince George's County, Maryland, this eighth day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and fifty-seven.

American Education Week

BY THE

BOARD OF EDUCATION OF PRINCE GEORGE'S COUNTY A Proclamation

Because the future of a community or of a nation rests upon its youth; and

Because the potentialities of youth are developed not only through a school program but also through parental guidance and interest;

The Board of Education of Prince George's County, Maryland, supports the observance from November 10 to November 16, 1957, of American Education Week.

The Board of Education, therefore, encourages the parents and interested citizens at this time to visit the schools of Prince George's County to witness the achievement of the children, to discuss the program of education, to learn about the future plans, and to perceive the needs of the schools.

Given under my hand and the seal of The Board of Education of Prince George's County, Upper Marlboro, Maryland, this twenty-fifth day of September in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and fifty-seven.

Education Week

Education is not only involved with the process of training the minds of our young people, but also with the teaching of the rights and responsibilities they must assume in a democratic society. The school has been accorded this all-important task along with the home, the church, and the community. Education must have the cooperative support of all if our youngsters are to fully mature and take their place in an ever complex and ever changing world. Our children are our most precious asset. We must always strive to give them the best possible, and to expect that they too will give of their best. We must affirm our hope and our faith in our young people by the educational program we afford them that their tomorrow will be somewhat better than our today.

In honor of National Education Week the Greenbelt News Review is running a series of essays. This week the message comes from Allan I Chotiner, Principal of High Point High School.

"We Get Letters"

"A CLEAR CUT ISSUE"

To the Editor:

Thoughtful citizens, anxious to keep the administration of their civic business on an efficient and honest basis, free from political bosses and corruption, long ago established the Council-Manager form of government - whereby a competent manager would administer the policies of the citizens' elected council, sitting as a unit in public forum (no behind the scenes collusion, pressures or influences), and run the citizens' affairs on a strictly business basis. So zealous were citizens for this protection, that they even provided that any councilman who would attempt to influence the manager in the hiring and firing of any employee, would himself be subject to prompt removal from office. This plan has served Greenbelt well and satisfactorily for twenty years, and has given the citizens the muchly desired benefits stemming from non-political appointments of competent and experienced civic personnel.

Now come three men sitting on the Council, who suddenly desire to take unto themselves a say so about who gets a city appointment and who gets fired. This is the opening wedge in the wall to open up all the repugnant evils of political control and corruption. I hope that every thoughtful citizen and organization in Greenbelt will resist the efforts of these three councilmen to the bitter end.

I am only sorry that these three men did not reveal their intentions to the voters of this city until just after our recent election. I am surprised and disappointed in their actions and in the timing of them. However, they have at least now provided a clear cut issue for the next election in Greenbelt. I urge the citizens of Greenbelt to watch and record carefully the actions of these three councilmen during the coming drive to put over their proposal - one that would crack the citizens' protective wall of Council-Manager government, and subject the appointment and firing of city personnel to cheap political and personal pressures and influences.

HOUSING FICTION

To The Editor:

Once upon a time there was a City which was dedicated to the children of its inhabitants. Its roadways were limited, it had underpasses, parks, and playgrounds for the safety and enjoyment of its youth. No vicious dogs ran loose, and no cats littered sandboxes and play areas. The postmen were happy as no dogs snapped at them, but instead, children greeted them.

Suddenly, the peacefulness of the community was shattered by a small group of citizens who felt that the town needed notorious publicity. They defied the wishes of their fellow neighbors and the contracts which they signed in good faith and imported dogs and cats to annoy their neighbors. Some persons whose employer boasted that they were "good neighbors" were swept up in the rebellion against a policy which was followed faithfully by a majority of the dwellers. Where formerly neighborly greetings were in order, these "rebelleys" now wore the silent masks of a persecuted people.

The diligent members of the Housing Board were accused of running a dictatorship, though no barbed wire or atomic weapons surrounded the development, speeches were free, appeals were heard, and the greatest number of members expressed their confidence in the Board in any number of elections.

The case against the eviction of the members who owned pets dragged through the lower courts and into the Supreme Court where a hearing is scheduled next month, November 25, 1957.

In closing this story, I'd like to state that the City has a population now of 7016 cats and dogs, and its Board voted against the keeping of humans. Eighteen members are facing eviction.

COMPROMISE?

To The Editor:

This concerns the dog issue.

It is too bad to see a community so divided over a matter which is, after all, not so vital as many others. We are aware of the principle involved and of the need to uphold it; but we have been wondering whether a device, used sometimes when new zoning regulations must be applied to old areas, might not be a sound basis for compromise and a return to friendly relations all around.

In legal language it is called the "non-conforming use." The old use is allowed to go on for a specified time, usually the reasonably expected life of the property, at the end of which time the new principle is applied.

Why couldn't the pets be allowed under suitable restriction to stay with their owners for their lifetimes if the owners in return would agree not to acquire any new ones.

THANK YOU

To the Editor:

Words cannot express our deep and humble gratitude to the residents and organizations of Greenbelt and the surrounding area for their expressions and acts of kindness, charity and service during the recent loss of our son and brother, "Danny."

Years will never dull the beautiful memories of the boys who came singly and in groups to pay their respects and offer their services. They were a symbol to us of true fraternity, charity, and affection and were a most touching spiritual bouquet.

Gratefully,

Your Home

By Ann Levine

Mrs. P. L. has plenty of money and buys only the "best." Her criterion is price! If it is expensive, it is good. If it is not expensive, then naturally it can't be good.

Recently, Mrs. P. L. saw a lovely sofa displayed in the window of an interior decorator's shop. In her accustomed manner she informed Mr. Interior Decorator that she would like to have a sofa similar to the one in the window, but it had to be the "best" in his shop. Mr. I. D. disappeared into an anteroom, and after a few moments he came out with three sample swatches of material. He explained that the sofa in fabric no. 1 would cost $600, in fabric no. 2 it would cost $750, and in fabric no. 3, the best, the sofa would cost $850. Of course, Mrs. P. L. chose the no. 3 fabric and hurried home so she could call her friends and tell them that she had just purchased an $850 sofa.

Actually, the sofa Mrs. P. L. purchased was priced at $395, covered in muslin. What Mrs. P. L. did not realize or fully understand was that she had bought 10 yards of imported, high tariff fabric at $45 per yard, which was the real reason for bringing the price up to $850. Mrs. P. L. could have chosen an excellent fabric at $10 per yard and could have had the very same sofa for $500.

In the other extreme, we have Mrs. A. G., who decides she needs a sofa. She does not want to pay the price for a good sofa primarily because she wouldn't be caught dead making a purchase that was not a "bargain." So in her tight little fist she clutches an ad which states that she too can have a very beautiful, well made sofa for only $99. In this case, too, if Mrs. A. G. stopped to think that approximately 10 yards of fabric is included in the price of this sofa at $99. She should also ask what kind of fabric she could get and—most important of all—what kind of construction she could expect to find in a sofa costing $60 or $65?

Both Mrs. P. L. and Mrs. A. G. are very extravagant. While it is not wrong to pay $850 for a sofa, Mrs. P. L.'s expenditure was not warranted. Mrs. A. G. paid $99 for something that will be ready for the junk pile inside of six months, and $99 is too much to pay for any item that will last just six months.

VOLUNTEER NOTES

By Don Pratt

With the possibility of the By-Laws being changed to allow a Junior Membership in the Greenbelt Volunteer Fire Department and Rescue Squad, several potential Junior members are taking the Basic Fire Fighting Course being given by the company.

Several Explorer Scouts are taking this Basic Course, as well as some boys who are acting independently.

Ben Groves, the Advisor of Post 229 is also taking this course. Buddy Attick, Past Chief of the Greenbelt Fire Department, is Assistant Advisor.

From Post 202, we have James Hunt, brother of Pat. Unattached are James Munro and Steve DeCoste.

Several of these boys have taken the Civil Defense Light Rescue Course at Olney, Maryland, attending on week-ends.

The enthusiasm shown by these boys has been remarked about by several of the regular members of the Company, and it is hoped that they will be able to be voted into our membership in the very near future.

These boys are doing their studying along with their regular school work.

Any time the public sees these boys riding the equipment, whether the fire trucks or the ambulances, they can be sure the boys are as well trained as the regular members.

The program the Explorer Scouts work on is planned by themselves and their Advisors. We are very glad to see the public service that has been chosen for this period of twenty weeks. They will have the satisfaction of knowing the basic facts of fire fighting, which can prove invaluable. Most of these boys have had first aid instruction which along with their rescue training and the present course will well qualify them to join our group.

In case of emergency where an ambulance or a fire truck is needed, Dial 1, then UN 4-1122. This is the number of the Prince Georges County Fire Board. A trained dispatcher will get all the necessary information and send the nearest piece of equipment. Calling any other number will cause a delay when seconds count. We have trained men available at all hours, and the emergency may be serious enough to require help from out of town.

A radio call will bring enough equipment and men to handle just about any kind of emergency. We have extra stickers that can be put on your telephone. If you wish any of these stickers, call Don Pratt at GRanite 4-9480, and he will be glad to tell you about our services and attach the stickers himself.

The Long View

By Al Long

Last week I wrote a column on Russell Greenbaum. It started out something like this:—"I understand you taught Russell Greenbaum when he was a student here? Can you tell me something about his behavior as a student?" I asked the elderly and slightly hard of hearing teacher who is still principal of Russell's old Alma Mater. "Ah, that Russell Greenbaum", he sighed, shaking his head sadly, "I suppose you're another probation officer, eh? What's he done this time?" he added hopelessly.

Then it got better or worse, depending on your point of view and devotion to the PTA. But Editor Zubkoff thought it might be too rough on poor old Russell, and after reading the letters to the editor in last week's issue, I had to agree.

So I thought I would wander over to Greenbaum's kind of casual - like and cheer Russell up a bit, if possible. I found Mrs. Greenbaum and two carpenters busy in the back yard and after some usual small talk like, "Did you see the Sputnik at 3:10 a.m. this morning?", I noticed they were building a small edifice in the yard. "I'm a little surprised", I confessed to his good wife. "I didn't expect you would be keeping a pet".

"We don't have a pet", she assured me.

"But the dog house you're building? It is a dog house, isn't it?" I asked in bewilderment.

"Oh, that", she explained grimly. "It's a dog house alright and it's for Russell!" she added firmly. "The Center School PTA donated the lumber and the Jr. -Hi PTA are contributing the labor. And I'm going to see that he uses it. It's sort of a work of love all around", she smiled.

I looked in and it is big enough for him to sleep in, but there is no room to write anything. Russell will have to learn to be more kindly in his writings, -like me for example, I never write anything that I wouldn't say behind your back.

County Folk Dance

The Prince Georges Folk Dance Group which meets on Wednesday evenings at Riverdale Elementary School has been established for about one month, and membership has increased considerably. College students, working and professional people, and housewives are all represented in the open group which spends its Wednesday evenings doing dances from around the world. Interesting dances, such as the Sicilian Tarentella, Serbijanka Kolo from Yugoslavia, and The Gie Gordons of Scotland turn each meeting into a sort of magic carpet tour of interesting places.

The folk dancers now plan to broaden their activity on occasional evenings to include parties, with the opportunity to find and wear traditional costumes, sample foreign delicacies and watch demonstrations by other groups.

All interested adults are invited to attend the group. No dance experience is necessary, as new dances are taught each evening. Single persons without partners are welcome. Meetings are held in the multipurpose room of Riverdale Elementary School, with entrances at the rear of the school facing Queensbury Rd.
Further information is available from Prince Georges County Recreation Department, APpleton 7-8696.

My Town

By Russ Greenbaum

Two weeks ago I made some comments about the first Center School PTA meeting . . . And then the roof fell in!

It's not that I'm a coward, but I'm writing this week's column from my newly installed atomic bomb shelter—guaranteed against blast, searing heat, and deadly radiation (although the salesman was less certain about angry females). The bomb shelter also doubles as a dog house—and I don't have a dog.

What would happen to the city government if Ben Goldfaden's proposal for increasing the city council's responsibility is adopted? This is not an easy question to answer. There are pros and cons, and perhaps it cannot be known until it is actually put into practice. Whether or not it subverts the city manager form of government, as is feared by Mayor Tom Canning, I do not believe it will turn all department head positions into political appointments. Although the Goldfaden proposal would give the council the veto power over the city manager's appointments, the council or the individual members of the council will not be able to select their own choice. The city manager will still be the man who selects the final candidate for the job. Although the council conceivably could veto every one of his candidates until the ruling triumvirate (the big three) got the man they wanted, this would be an extremely difficult and awkward maneuver as well as being an obvious one that would discredit them.

The big question would be how much would it hamper the city manager in carrying out his duties and functions. As I said, perhaps it is impossible to tell in advance and therefore a trial run is needed—say about two years. If the city manager felt that he was unable to perform his job properly under those conditions, then he could present his case bolstered by actual experience. That might be the time for the residents of the city to decide in either a regular election or a referendum which way the city government should move.

New Funds For Polio

An additional $2000 in emergency aid has been received by the Prince George's County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, bringing to $27,000 the total of such emergency funds received here this year. Percy L. Wolfe, chairman of the county polio chapter, reports the situation in Prince George's County differs only in degree from the problem facing National Foundation chapters throughout the county. "In 1956, the Prince George's Chapter spent $59,070 to help 111 patients, in the state $357,940 was used, while a total of $21 million was spent throughout the United States. "Last January the March of Dimes raised $24,000 for county patients, and we have already had to ask $27,000 more from our national organization. In 1956, our emergency help amounted to $29,000 for the whole year, so it is obvious that before the end of 1957 we will have used more money for polio care than in 1956.

"This must come as a tremendous shock to the public, just after the announcement that polio incidence is down 80 per cent from last year," Wolfe continued. "On the one hand comes the news that polio is pretty much on the way out — then comes news that the bill isn't quite paid yet." Wolfe went on to indicate that next January the 1958 March of Dimes will mark the anniversary of twenty years of service to the American people. "These have been years in which this wonderful organization brought relief to the thousands of polio sufferers and now has brought the general public a means to end polio as a health menace. The job isn't ended with the Salk vaccine, however," Wolfe stated.

The chapter chairman pointed out the heavy expense borne by the National Foundation in caring for 80,000 past victims of polio still needing March of Dimes help. This responsibility didn't end with a polio vaccine, he noted; "you just don't forget about the battle wounded after the victory is won. We must go out in January to raise as much or more than we did this year to assure the rehabilitation of these 80,000. Otherwise, there will always be a black mark on our nation's record showing this job that is so near completion was left undone."
