Candidates Sought for GHI Board

By Al Skolnik

Nominations are now being accepted for the 9-man board of directors of Greenbelt Homes, Inc., R. Hal Silvers, chairman of the corporation's Nominations and Elections Committee announced last week. The election for the one-year term will be held at the annual membership meeting on Wednesday, March 19, 1958. Board directors receive a salary of $400 per annum; officers $500.

Also open are nominations for the 3-man Audit Committee which will be elected at the same time as the directors for a 1-year term.

The Nominations and Elections Committee will hold its first meeting on Friday, Feb. 7 to consider procedures, rules, and regulations for conducting the election. In addition to the chairman, members of the Committee are Emory Harman, David Lehman, Fred Eschbach, and George Frenner.

Silvers stressed that all nominations must be accompanied by a signed form signifying the willingness of the nominee to serve if elected. According to GHI by-laws, a member can get his or her name on the official ballot in one of two ways: (1) by being accepted by the Committee or (2) by submitting to the Committee a petition with the signatures of ten or more other members requesting that his name be placed on the ballot. The Committee is receiving mail in care of the GHI office, Hamilton pl.

Voting at the annual membership meeting is by secret ballot, with each member entitled to one and only one ballot. Election of directors and members of the Audit Committee is by a majority system of voting whereby successful candidates must receive a majority of the votes cast. If there are not enough successful candidates, a run-off election must be held a week later.

In the second election, the ballot will consist of those remaining candidates receiving the highest number of votes in the first election, up to twice as many names as there are positions to be filled. Candidates polling the largest number of votes, whether a majority or a plurality, will be declared winners in the run-off election.

Recreation Review

Attendance ran higher during the month of January than any period in 1957 in the city recreation program. A total attendance of 2,987 people in Greenbelt participated in the program.

The Women's Slimmest Course seems to be the major attraction with fifty-one women now registered. Slimming exercises start at 8 p.m. and last to 9 p.m. At 9:00 the women participate in other activities such as volleyball, basketball, and table tennis. The course is being instructed by Mary "Mike" Rupert, a physical education major at the University of Maryland.

The Recreation Basketball League occupies about sixty boys each Wednesday night at the school. Four games are played each week between 7 and 10 p.m. Each boy receives an opportunity to play under our own substitute rule. The program is being supervised by Joe O'Loughlin and Warren Leddick.

The latest addition to the recreation program is a choral group. Thirty-three boys and girls attend each week under the directorship of Maureen Moore. A gala spring activity is in the planning.

If you are tired play and relax.

TEEN DANCE

The regular bi-monthly Teen Dance of the American Legion Junior Marching Unit will be held at the Legion hall on Sunday, Feb. 8, at a new time, from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m.

Cormack Heads Annual Heart Fund Campaign

The annual Heart Fund Campaign will be conducted in Greenbelt on Sunday, Feb. 23. The Prince Georges County Heart Association has appointed Charles M. Cormack as Campaign Chairman for Greenbelt. In commenting on his plans for the collection Mr. Cormack said: "Last year Greenbelt responded splendidly to the Heart Fund appeal and ranked well in comparison with our neighboring communities. This showing was due to the complete coverage that we were able to achieve thru the loyal and devoted efforts of a total of 64 volunteer workers and the response by the residents. I am again appealing for volunteer workers, both men and women, to assist me in this worthy cause. If you can contribute two hours of your time on Sunday afternoon, Feb. 23, please call me at my home, GR. 4-9435. Your help will be appreciated."

Ordinance Sets Up New School Zones

Two new city ordinances were passed by the city council at its regular meeting on Monday, Feb. 3. One of them set up special school zones in the vicinity of schools, churches and synagogues. Within these zones the speed limit is 15 miles per hour.

The school zone for the North End School includes 400 feet on Ridge Road in front of the school and also 50 feet on Research and on Laurel Hill road from their intersection with Ridge Road. For the Center School the school zone takes in not only 400 feet of Crescent Road near the school driveway but also the entire length of Centerway and 200 feet of Southway Road from its intersection with Crescent Road.

The school zone for St. Hugh's also takes in 400 feet of Crescent Road in front of the school as well as the section of Northway Road from Crescent Road to Woodlawn Way. The school zone for the Community Church includes the section of Hillside Road between Woodlawn Way and Crescent and 300 feet of Crescent Road.

The school zone for the Jewish Community Center covers 300 feet on Ridge Road and 200 feet on Westway from its intersection with Ridge. The Greenbelt Junior High School, the Lutheran Church, and the Methodist Church all received school zones of 300 feet of the roads in front of the buildings.

The second ordinance liberalized annual leave for city employees, allowing up to 26 days for service of 15 years and over.

CO-OP KINDERGARTEN

The Greenbelt Co-operative Kindergarten will hold a membership meeting on Monday evening, Feb. 10, at 8:30 p.m. in the Social Room of the Center School. A brief business meeting will be followed by the showing of a movie named "Sippy and the Three R's." This film shows how a first-grade boy is taught by a teacher who utilizes the boy's interests to help him to realize his own need for learning.

PACK 746

By Smoky Stover

Those who attended the 11 a.m. service at Mowatt Memorial Methodist Church on Feb. 2, 1958, saw Scout Family 746 celebrate the annual Scout Sabbath together. The inter-faith service was especially prepared and conducted by Rev. Walter Smith. Scouting stands for many physical things, but the spiritual side of scouting is important, too. This service showed the whole community that all faiths can worship God together. As our world of the space age progresses, our people will be coming in contact with other people more and more. If the world is to survive, all mankind must learn to live, work, and worship together.

Junior High PTA News

The next Junior High PTA meeting will be held on Tuesday, Feb. 11, at 8 p.m. Peter Whittaker, of the faculty, will discuss the grading system. His presentation will be followed by a discussion of guidance at the Junior High School level. Dr. Katherine Fossett of the Board of Education will discuss the county program, and James Painter, Vice Principal, will speak on the school program. There will be a question period following each presentation.

There are now 527 members of the Junior High School PTA, an increase of 101 members over last year. Parental attendance at meeting has been excellent, and there was another large turnout for the January meeting. At that meeting parents had the opportunity to visit with teachers. The visiting period was then followed by a presentation and lively question period on the "Core" program and concept. Lowell Hatfield, Special Projects Chairman, reported on the work of his group, calling attention to a set of standards in dress which were developed by a joint committee of parents, teachers, and students. A description of standards, which represent proper attire for dress at Greenbelt Junior High, has been mailed individually to all parents.

New Board President

Virginia Beauchamp was named to succeed Rhea G. Kahn as president of the Greenbelt Cooperative Publishing Association, publisher of the Greenbelt News Review, at last Friday's board of directors meeting. Mrs. Kahn, who had been president since November 1956, resigned from the board because she is moving from Greenbelt. To bring the 5-man board up to full strength, Russell Greenbaum was elected to fill the vacancy.

Council Bars Rezoning Center Site To Commercial, Supports Apartments

By Russell Greenbaum

The city council with virtually no discussion was in complete agreement at its regular meeting on Monday night in recommending against a petition to rezone from residential to commercial the parcel of land owned by the Gilbert Realty Co. located between the service station on Centerway and the Parkway apartments. However, the vote against the petition was 3-2 owing to a disagreement on whether the council should include in its decision an indication that it was in favor of rezoning the parcel of land for apartment buildings.

A motion by Councilman Jim Smith that the council should inform both the Park and Planning Commission and the owner of the land that it would "look with favor" on a petition that requested zoning as low as R-18 (apartment houses) touched off a lengthy debate. Mayor Tom Canning and Councilman Alan Kistler opposed the idea of committing the council in any way in advance of an actual petition for such rezoning. Smith however, strongly felt that the owner was entitled to use the land in some way and that the council should hold out definite hope for a future rezoning decision although not as low as commercial.

His motion passed when it was supported by Councilmen Ben Goldfaden and Stan Edwards. The petition to rezone the land to commercial (C-1 or C-2) was presented by the Birch Realty Co. acting as agent for Gilbert. At the previous council meeting Mayor Canning said he had been informed by Birch that the prospective purchaser intended to locate a service station on the site. The Park and Planning Commission will forward on the council's decision, to the board of county commissioners, which takes final action on the petition.

Indian Dancers Perform

The roaring of drums and the ringing of many bells will resound through Center School on Wednesday, Feb. 12, at 1:15, immediately following half-day dismissal, as the Chasatonga Indian Dancers of Greenbelt present an Indian dance program in the auditorium.

The program will begin with Indian movies, and include an explanation of Indian dancing. Resplendent in their colorful plains Indian outfits, from Sioux warbonnets, feathered roaches, horsehair roaches, and dog soldier headbands, to moccasined feet and jingling bells, the group will present several dances, including the Chippewa Deer Hunter Dance, the Cherokee Snake Dance, and the Kiowa Squat Dance, all to the beat of Indian drums.

Admission will be 25c, proceeds going to Center School PTA.

The Dancers were formed in May, 1957, from a group of Cub Scouts interested in Indian lore, crafts and dancing, choosing the Sioux word, "chasatonga," meaning "little big man," as the group name. They have participated in several Greenbelt parades and presented a program in Fredericksburg, Va. in October. Plans for this year include a public performance once a month.

The Dancers now have openings for a few more boys. Age limits of the group are from 8 to 14. The group is self-supporting, and parents of the boys serve on committees to make all plans and necessary arrangements. Weekly meetings are held on Wednesdays at 6 p.m. in Center Auditorium.

20 Years Ago

The Board of Directors of the Greenbelt Federal Credit Union announced that "we now have approximately 110 members who have paid in more than $800."

The Greenbelt bus line had been in operation three days.

The Recreation Division of W.P.A. State Wide Recreation Project, sponsored by the University of Maryland, is working with Greenbelt Management on a program of developing a community recreation project.

Office Space for Twin Pines

In another matter involving Gilbert Realty, which owns nearly all the commercial area and buildings in the shopping center, the council received a letter from Abraham Chasanow, local agent for Gilbert, concerning office space in the center for the new Twin Pines Building and Loan Association. Twin Pines has opened an office in the basement of the apartment at 1-A Parkway, which is technically in violation of the county building code and zoning regulations. The council is concerned because of the precedent it sets.

At the last council meeting Jim Cassels of Twin Pines reported that the organization moved into the apartment basement after it had been unable to obtain office space in the center for satisfactory rental charge. Chasanow, basing his letter on the story that appeared in the News Review, offered to rent office space at the same rate that the city formerly paid the government when it owned the commercial center. He also proposed a concession in the rent until Twin Pines was financially able to make full payments.

Councilman Smith reported that the county building inspector has notified Twin Pines that it cannot qualify for a license to use the apartment basement for a business office. The council asked the city manager to explore the matter further and report back at the next meeting.

Northway Stop Sign Asked

Another item that generated a long discussion was a written request by Woodway Homes that a stop sign be placed at the crosswalk near 119 Northway to slow down the speed of traffic on Northway Extended. The letter maintained that there was now no place to cross Northway safely.

City Manager Charles McDonald, when asked for his opinion by Smith, stated that he definitely did not approve of placing a stop sign in the middle of a block. He said he did not consider this crossing much different or any more dangerous than several others in the city. Although he recognized that speeding traffic created a menace on Northway, which is now a through road from the North End, he felt that there is a limit to the number of stop signs that can be posted in town.

Goldfaden wanted the council to inspect the situation at the Northway crosswalk but received no support. The manager said he has already given the matter careful study but agreed to reexamine it. He expressed approval of a suggestion by Councilman Kistler that slow signs be painted on the road approaching the crosswalk.

New Site for Fourth Fete

The Fire Department and Rescue Squad received permission from the council to use the plot of land behind the Center School and extending down to the tennis courts for a week-long Fourth of July carnival and the annual fireworks display. Formerly the celebration has been held at the lake and limited to one day.

The council also suggested that there be a $500 fireworks display to be procured and handled by the city. The council said it would donate half the cost, provided the Fire Department raised the other half of the amount.

The monthly reports were reviewed at the meeting and received little comment except that Smith complimented the Recreation Director on his lengthy and detailed report. He also noted that nearly 3,000 people attended 13 activities during the month of December. The treasurer was also lauded for her report.

FIRE CALL

The Greenbelt Volunteer Fire Company responded with their new pumper to a 2-alarm house fire on Cipriano road last Thursday. The interior of the house was badly damaged.

Although the nearest fire hydrant was about 1½ miles from the fire, the Greenbelt pumper, which carries 500 gallons of water, and two pumpers from nearby areas, had more than enough water to put out the fire.

Long-Venghaus

Mr. and Mrs. Adelbert C. Long announce the marriage of their daughter, Rosemary, to Walter H. Venghaus, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Venghaus, Sr., of Annapolis, on February 1, at Holy Redeemer Church, College Park. The young couple, students at the University of Maryland, will resume their studies when the new semester starts.

Miss Long wore her sister Nancy's wedding dress of Chantilly lace with a three tiered skirt reaching to the floor. Matron of honor was the bride's sister, Mrs. Michael Wardinski. The bridesmaids were Mary Lou Smith and Helen Neitzey. Robert Canning and Stuart Long were altar boys.

After the ceremony the newly married couple were presented with the Papal blessing by Father Harris, who had officiated at the marriage service.

Vote on Building Plans

Members of the Greenbelt Baptist Church will have the opportunity to vote their approval on the detailed plans and specifications for their first unit building on Sunday, Feb. 9, following the evening service in the Center School.

The detailed plans will be shown to the congregation on Thursday, Feb. 6, during the midweek service when the Rev. Robert Suttie, pastor of the Temple Hills Baptist Church, will speak. Dr. James T. McCarl, chairman of the building committee, will make the presentation.

After the plans are approved by the members, the plans will be sent out for bids to building contractors. Bids are scheduled to be received on March 5, after which a contractor will be selected.

For the last two Saturdays men of the church have not been able to use their sharpened axes because of rainy and snowy weather. If it does not rain, snow, hail, or sleet this Saturday, a group of busy men will be chopping down trees on the church property on Crescent and Hillside extended.

Lions Club Holds Ladies Night Party

Mass psychoanalysis aimed to restore the appetite for hearty laughter, is one of eight feature acts scheduled by the Greenbelt Lions Club for a Ladies' Night Monday, Feb. 10 at the Greenbelt Community Church. Another laugh act in this second edition of the laugh fiesta is the A.B.C.'s of Matrimony, the simple and surprising rules of life discovered by a professor of Koo Koo College. Possibly the funniest event, according to Program Chairman Scott Sandilands is Hats by Hollywood, in which the puzzled man for once will take a keen interest, and ladies, of course, will scream. Five other acts now in the laugh-hopper will be spaced to increase the fun-making pressure as the appetite for laughter increases. "These are top secret," says Sandilands, "but the reputation of the Greenbelt Lions Club for super enjoyment will certainly suffer no setback on Monday, Feb. 10."

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Swinson, 2-N Laurel Hill, announce the arrival of a son on Jan. 19. Richard Murphy weighed in at 9 lbs. 8 1/2 oz. He joins a brother, Danny, age 7 and a sister, Linda, age 5.

It's a pink bundle for Mr. and Mrs. Richard Newman, 7-E Parkway. Kathryn Ann, a first child, made her debut on Jan. 12, weighing 7 lbs. 5 oz.

It's a boy for Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hanyok, 10-A Crescent. James Joseph was born on Jan. 28, weighing 6 lbs. 8 oz. He has two brothers and a sister, Robert Joseph, age 8, Joseph Michael, age 15, and Mary Cecilia, age 5.

Home for the weekend was Kenneth Hertz, 45-T Ridge. Kenneth is a first year student at the University of Pennsylvania.

Janet Hertz tells me that the Greenbelt Girl Scouts had a grand time at Rockwood, Md., over the weekend.

The O'Loughlins, 11-R Laurel, have Joe's mother, Mrs. Ann O'Loughlin of Boston, Mass., visiting them. Mrs. O'Loughlin is recuperating from a broken ankle, and we wish her a speedy recovery.

Mrs. Guppy, R.N., 9-L Research, instructed the girls of Brownie Troop 416 in the art of bed-making last Thursday. The girls learned the correct techniques at the home of Brownie Patricia Barthhoff, 14-Q Laurel.

Good luck to the Werner Poppers, 14-P Laurel, who have left Greenbelt for San Francisco, Calif.

Shalom Fisher, 5-D Eastway, is in Calif. where he will be attending the Graduate School of the University of California, in Berkeley. The University is waiving the out-of-state tuition fees, because of Shalom's excellent record. Studying to be a physicist, he completed his undergraduate work at Maryland University. Shalom was elected to Sigma Pi Sigma, a national honorary physics fraternity, and he is also member of the Phi Kappa Phi, a national honorary scholastic fraternity.

The Russell Greenbaums are now living at 13-V Ridge. Their telephone number is Granite 4-8088.

Lisa Laster, 15-A Ridge, visited with her grandfather in Guttenberg, N. J. while her daddy, Howard, attended meetings of the American Physical Society in N. Y.

Thomas Day, 32-J Ridge, was among the many Greenbelt physicists attending the APS convention last week.

Accompanying Dr. Joseph Sucher, 15-D Ridge, on his New York trip last week were wife, Dorothy, and son, Gabriel. While Sucher was at the APS meetings, Dorothy and Gabriel visited with relatives.

To all the kiddies ill with measles, mumps, chickenpox, etc., etc., a speedy recovery. Ditto to the poor mamas and papas unfortunate enough to catch their offsprings' diseases.

Robert P. Kaskeski, electrician's mate third class, USN, 24-A Ridge, is serving at the Naval Station, Newport, R. I.

Love Manages Flying A

The Flying A service station on Crescent rd. has changed hands again. Woody Love has taken over the management from George Hazel.

Love intends to keep most of Hazel's employees. The station will be open on weekdays from 6:30 a.m. to 9:30 p.m. and on Sunday from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Love has been "in the grease" since 1929 when he started to work in a filling station in Va. Since then he has managed several service stations and for the past 11 years has been an auto mechanic for Chevy Chase Chevrolet, where his specialty was automatic transmissions. He has attended several General Motors training schools.

Love is married and has three girls, ages 9, 6, and 4. The Loves now reside at 9311 Adelaid dr. Bethesda, but plan to move to Greenbelt, or near Greenbelt, as soon as school is out.

Child Behavior Studied

A meeting of the Co-op Nursery School was held on Wednesday, Feb. 5, at the home of Beverly Silberstein, 137 Northway. Discussion centered around specific kinds of behavior in the nursery school child, what it means to the child, the kind of feeling the behavior generates within adults and the responses it elicits from them. To begin the discussion, Charlotte Berman, nursery school teacher, presented some specific examples of behavior. Jenny Klein, kindergarten teacher from Center School, acted as moderator in the informative discussion.

Vice President Leah Warner (8551) is accepting applications for a March vacancy and the Nursery school waiting list.

ACCIDENT

John Novick, 26-E Ridge, escaped unhurt when his car, after sliding on the ice at the Eastbound access road from Kenilworth ave. to Greenbelt rd., struck another car and rolled completely over the raised center island of the divided part of Greenbelt rd. The accident occurred at 11:45 last Sunday morning.

Faulkner, the investigating Greenbelt officer, reported that the damage to Novick's car was about $400. The other car, driven by Leroy Bathlow, 8505 Potomac ave., College Park, received $150 worth of damage. Bathlow was not injured.

THUNDERBIRD

Excitingly New and Different Wine!

Thunderbird is especially made to be enjoyed as a cold or hot drink. Here at last is the kind of wine enjoyment millions have been waiting for. For a new taste thrill, serve Thunderbird over ice with a dash of soda water and a squeeze of lime or lemon. It's smart to serve Thunderbird any style, "tall and cool," "on the rocks," or straight. It makes a wonderful Tom and Jerry, hot toddy and egg nog—Thunderbird is great for any of your favorite winter drinks.

This is a great new wine originated by GALLO, the makers of America's largest selling wines. Great Advances in Wine Originate with Gallo
