GCS Cong. Considers By-Law Change To Drop "Greenbelt" from Co-op's Name

by Tom Ritchie

Greenbelt Consumer Services Congress members considered several suggested by-law changes at their last meeting on March 7. Foremost was the proposal that the name "Greenbelt" be dropped from the Co-op's legal name. This set off a wave of protest from the members. Bill Arntz, Board Vice-President and representative of the by-law committee, pointed out that the change would better describe the far flung activities of the Co-op. The name would be left as "Consumer Services, Inc."

In their protests, Congress members stated that Greenbelt is a name associated with Co-ops and known throughout the world; that the name "Consumer Services" means nothing to Co-op minded people, inasmuch as loan companies and many others use similar names; and that GCS would lose its sense of identity. Bill Arntz brought out the problem of consideration of the name change at the time of the management-merger with Rochdale. The name change now would ease matters. He also admitted that there has been no pressure from other store areas for the change.

Some members suggested that if the name were to be changed, it should have more of a Cooperative connotation. This would be difficult because of the restrictions under Maryland law on the use of the word "Cooperative." Any change other than the suggested one would involve a charter change which is a complicated and involved procedure. The Greenbelt Congress members went on record as overwhelmingly opposed to the suggested change.

Eighteen year olds could own stock under another proposal. The present age qualification is twenty-one. Many young people of eighteen are now married and it seemed "nonsensical" to require them to get their parents' signature to own stock. The question was raised: "Would this present legal problems?" It was recommended that the legal qualifications be investigated before this proposal is further considered.

Shareholders would be allowed to own five hundred shares of stock instead of the present one hundred. This was not considered excessive in view of the Co-op's rapid expansion and the limitation of one vote per member. Shareholders, under the proposed changes, would also be allowed to vote three proxies at the Area meetings instead of the present one. This was suggested so that husband and wife could give their proxies to one person. No explanation was made for the third proxy.

Proportional Representation, or PR, as it was popularly known, would also be dropped. This system of voting is now used only for the area congress elections, as the claim that it was illegal in Maryland forced its disuse for Board elections. No court case has ever decided the merits of this argument. Sam Schwimmer and this reporter were its only supporters. The majority of the Congress decided PR was too complicated for further use.

Board salaries would also be raised from the present $300.00 per year to $500.00. Officers and Executive Committee would be compensated at a higher rate, based on a formula still to be worked out. The change permitted the Board to set the higher rate, but the suggested dangers of abuse resulted in a promise for further consideration. The Board meetings would also be set up at one a month, with provision for eight additional meetings, these, together with the Congress meetings, making a total of twenty-four for the year.

Many other suggested changes are for the purpose of clarifying passages and do not change the present substance. The proposals will also be considered by the other area congresses, the area meetings, the Board, and will be finally ratified, mostly by proxy votes, at the annual meeting of the Co-op.

In other business, the GCS Congress voted to request the Board to direct the management to send copies of the News Review containing the Wheaton story to all Congress members. A committee was appointed consisting of Ann Jarvis, George Adams, and George Davidson, to plan the Greenbelt area meeting. A motion was also passed to send condolences to the Halbert family on the death of Leroy Halbert, at the age of 82. Halbert was affectionately known as "Pop", and was considered the Dean of Washington area cooperators. His passing marks the end of a long career devoted to the cooperative movement. Practically all co-ops in this area have felt the guiding hand of Pop's active participation and experienced interest.

GHI Election Notes

One additional candidate for the annual Greenbelt Homes, Inc. election on Wednesday, March 26 has been added to the ballot. She is Ann Levine, 23-F Ridge, who has filed for the 3-member audit committee. As published last week, 13 nominees to date have signified their intention of running for the 9-man board of directors, including all present incumbents. One other member has filed for the audit committee.

The deadline for submitting nominations to the GHI Elections Committee is tomorrow night, March 14. Thereafter, any GHI member wishing to get his name on the ballot must submit a petition signed by at least ten GHI members. These petitions must be in the hands of GHI secretary Bruce Bowman no later than Wednesday, March 19. Biographies of the candidates will appear in next week's News Review.

The election will be held in conjunction with the annual membership meeting scheduled for the Center School Auditorium, starting at 8:15 p.m. The polls will be open throughout the meeting and during the next day from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. at Tanner's Cleaners.

BASKETBALL

In the 1st annual Greenbelt Teen Club Invitational Tournament, Greenbelt and Kentland advanced to the final game which will be played at 7:30 p.m. in the Center School gym, Saturday, March 15. A dance will follow with parents invited.

In the semi-final games on Monday night Greenbelt defeated Maryland Park 59-28. Bob McGlothlin and Dennis Murray scored 14 and 14 points respectively with Jack Trudeau controlling the back boards. In the second game Kentland defeated Riggs Lane 42-33 in a game which saw-sawed for three quarters.

Twin Pines Loan Policy Set, Program Planned

Families borrowing from Twin Pines Savings and Loan Association for the down payment on a GHI home will have to pay at least 20% of the down payment from their own funds. The Association will limit their loans to 80% of the down payment. This policy was set by the Twin Pines Board of Directors at its monthly meeting, March 6.

At the same time the Board asked the Loan Committee to be sure the asking price reflected the reasonable value of the property.

The Loan Committee reported $4,711 in loans outstanding, and plenty of opportunity to make good loans as soon as more funds become available.

In order to make saving more attractive, the Board agreed that deposits in by the 10th of each month will receive dividends from the last of the month.

The program was announced for the First Annual Meeting to be held Saturday morning, March 22, at the Center School. Business meeting and elections will start at 10 a.m. At all there will be discussion groups on (1) Loan Policy and Practice, (2) The School Savings Program, and (3) Working With Other Community Organizations.

The staff of the St. Hugh's School Savings Program will be on hand to describe how they operate. People from the Parent-Teacher Association at St. Hugh's North End, Center, Junior High and High Point Schools are being invited to join in this discussion.

The "Working With Other Community Organizations" session will have participants from the Greenbelt City Council, Greenbelt News Review, Greenbelt Homes, Greenbelt Consumer Services, and the Greenbelt Federal Credit Union.

These will be followed at 12 Noon by a General Brainstorming Session on "How Can We Increase Membership and Savings?"

A Brainstorming Session is a brief period when everyone tries to think up new ideas. None of the ideas are discussed—they are only listed. No ideas are laughed at or considered absurd. Some may not have particular merit in themselves, but they might suggest something of real value to someone else.

The Meeting is scheduled to adjourn at 12:30.

Council Approves New GCS To Build Bakery Shelter at Lake Area Addition In Wheaton

The city will build a shelter at the lake recreation area, it was disclosed at a special city council meeting last Monday night. The council asked Charles McDonald, city manager, to plan a new shelter with sanitary facilities at the site of the former shelter. McDonald will try to get the structure started as soon as the public works department activities leave ample time for the project.

The parking lot serving the lake area will be refinished with black-top surfacing and restored. Money for this work was provided for in the budget; the shelter will be financed by public works funds until additional appropriations are necessary.

Representatives of the Greenbelt Garden Club suggested that the city rejuvenate the center mall area planting. Club members agreed to improving and maintaining the shrubbery themselves, and the council accepted their offer.

Teen-agers, don't forget the new time for the teen dance sponsored by the Grenadiers. The next dance will be held Sunday evening, March 16, from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m., at the Legion Home. Let's make this a big one.

Leddick at Conference

Recreation Director Warren Leddick last week attended the Annual Governor's Conference on Recreation in Hagerstown, Md. Leddick was a member of a televised group, "Recreation an Exciting Career." The group pointed out the opportunities in the recreation profession and the curriculum available at the University of Maryland. Leddick is Careers and Recruitment chairman of the Maryland Recreation Society.

Governor McKeldin was guest speaker at the Saturday luncheon held in the Cafeteria at South High School in Hagerstown.

Mrs. Louise Moore Wins Local Sewing Contest

At the February meeting of the Women's Club of Greenbelt, the feature of the evening was a fashion show by the seven entries in the National Federation of Women's Clubs Fashion-Sewing Contest which is being run in conjunction with Vogue Patterns. The winning entry, with a pink frock, was Mrs. Louise Moore.

Last week Mrs. Moore and Mrs. Jean Schneider, Chairman of The American Home Department of the local club which sponsored the contest, hid themselves over to Hyattsville to the Sixth District GFWC contest, and Mrs. Moore was again the winner.

The next step is the State Contest of the Maryland Federation of Women's Clubs, to be held in the Emerson Hotel in Baltimore on March 26. The Women's Club of Greenbelt is very proud of Mrs. Moore and is hopeful that she will win in Baltimore too, with a $50 cash award.

Then follows the National competition with $250 First Prize, $150 Second Prize (plus a trip to the GFWC Convention in Detroit to First and Second Prize winners), and $100 Third Prize.

SWEEPING MACHINE MAKES DEBUT (from Greenbelt Cooperator of March 16, 1938.)

"Our new sidewalk-sweeping machine swung into action Thursday, for the first time, quickly and efficiently removing the snow from the main walks. "The new machine, powered by a gasoline motor, can be manipulated by a single operator, and sweeps by means of large revolving brushes. It is equipped with a water spraying device which is used when cleaning dusty pavements."

Community Church Fund Drive Well Under Way

Edward W. Schneller and Andrew A. Duncan, Co-chairmen of the 1958 Stewardship Campaign of the Greenbelt Community Church, report that the current drive is gaining momentum rapidly with the mounting enthusiasm of the church men and women who are planning the traditional Joash Chest Processional on Sunday, March 16. There will be an announcement by the minister, the Rev. Donald N. MacKenzie, at the close of the eleven o'clock service to tell the congregation about the success of this first phase of the stewardship drive. March 16 is the day when members and friends of the church bring their pledges up to date and make new pledges for the new financial year. An all-church rally will be held at the coffee hour following the eleven o'clock service.

Following this first phase of the Stewardship Campaign, there will be calls on individual member families who have not had the opportunity to participate in the Joash Chest Processional.

In the Senior Division the playoffs are still underway. The 1st half of the league was won by the Yanks and the second half won by the Rebels after a playoff with the Lions. On Wednesday night the Yanks defeated the Cards in the first game 49-30. In the second game the Cards came back to win 44-42. The playoff is a 2 out of 3 series. The final game will be played next Wednesday night at 8 p.m.

For the second straight game, Charlotte and Louis Miller of West Hyattsville captured top honors in last Friday's 7-table duplicate bridge session by out-distancing their nearest East-West rivals, Bill Bowen and Jim Anderson by 4½ points. In the North-South direction, first place was gained by the newly-formed team of Peg Wainscott and Lillian Fontaine, while the mighty combines of George Kaufman-Dale Frese and Ed Keefe-Al Skolnik fought to a second-place standstill. Because of the Easter holidays, next month's game has been postponed one week to Friday, April 11.

Mexico-Guatamala Tour Enchant McCarls

Dr. and Mrs. James W. McCarl, returning home from five weeks of touring Mexico and Guatemala, describes their trip as "just wonderful." In both Mexico and Guatemala, they enjoyed many new and novel experiences with much to see and do.

They were enchanted with the sights of magnificent monuments of ancient civilizations and the pageant of distinctive native life that still goes on today. Lands of beautiful mountain scenery, still smoking volcanos, beautiful lakes, jungle rivers and occasional earthquakes, as well as Spanish Colonial Churches, were seen.

In Guatemala, as guests of Dr. Carlos, Ruiz and family, (Dr. Ruiz is a graduate of the University of Maryland and a classmate of Dr. McCarl) they were overwhelmed with hospitality, visiting coffee "Fincas" or farms, sugar plantations and cattle rancho's, owned by the Ruiz family. Dr. McCarl enjoyed hunting mountain cats, wild pigs and ducks; Mrs. McCarl liked riding horses through the mountains and the swimming in the Pacific Ocean.

In Guatemala City, the exciting experience of witnessing an election for President of Guatemala, under the threat of a revolution, a tense period for two weeks but law and order prevailed. (The communist trouble makers were defeated.) The election was honest, and General Miguel Ydigoras was elected. Dr. McCarl had the pleasure of meeting and talking to General Ydigoras who is a personal friend of Dr. Ruiz. President-Elect Ydigoras is visiting Washington this week.

The McCarls left Guatemala City, land of perpetual spring weather, just in time to greet our recent snow storm.

ture, a visit to the Air Science classroom for three films about aviation, and a surprise refreshment treat. The visitors also had an opportunity to see the University of Maryland Rifle Team in action on their indoor Rifle Range in the Armory building.

Boys Scouts of Troop 746 will meet at the Methodist Church this Saturday morning, March 15, at 9:45 a.m. for their first hike. There will be two important camping demonstrations by the Camping Chairman during the breaks, which should prove to be valuable to all Troop members.

REGISTER TO VOTE

To The Editor,

On April 15, the voters will have an opportunity to approve or disapprove of several proposed changes in the operation of our council-manager form of government. The results of this referendum should truly represent the views of the majority of residents.

Unfortunately, the majority of our citizens are not qualified to vote, merely because they have never taken the time to register.

The members of the Citizens Charter Referendum Committee, who willingly gave of their time and efforts to see that the voters could express their wishes on this matter, urgently request all unregistered persons to qualify as voters.

The requirements are simple. Persons must be 21, have lived in the state since April 15, 1957 and in the city since Oct. 15, 1957. Only seven business days remain before the books are closed on March 17. Those desiring to register need only appear before the City Clerk.

The questions to be presented for the voters' decision are of continuing importance. All eligible residents should make it their business to become qualified voters, and to inform themselves of the issues involved.

TELEPHONE PEOPLE—

good neighbors, good citizens

For many telephone men and women, public service doesn't stop at sundown, at the end of the working day.

Evenings and week ends find them helping out in many kinds of civic and neighborhood activities. The lineman who works on telephone poles by day will teach young Scouts to tie a bowline by night . . . the operator who helps to speed your call will be helping those in need . . . a business office girl will be taking the minutes of a community meeting.

Serving others, you see, is a habit of mind which our men and women don't restrict to their business careers. Throughout the Washington area you'll find telephone people putting their neighbors and communities first—off the job as well as on the job.
