Five Cents

The Name Is Familiar

By Dorothy Sucher

Irmgard Griem, an athletic-looking young Valkyrie with finely-chiseled features, came to Greenbelt 3 years ago from Germany with her husband, Hans, now a physicist at the University of Maryland. "Hans asked me, would I like to come with him to America," said Irmgard reminiscently. "But he did not mention one word about marriage, and I thought he meant I should be his secretary. So I told him: Fine, I'll come. Then he started talking about 'when we're married.' I said—Married? You did not ask me to marry you." Well," she laughed, "Then he started like it really should be when you want to marry somebody!"

Irmgard Griem had studied a little English in school but, as she puts it, "I was very lazy on this case. I thought never would I come to America, so why should I give all my power out?" But she learned it quickly enough when it became necessary, and although she still speaks with a charming accent, she has no difficulty in making herself understood. "At first when I came to Greenbelt," says she, "I understood nothing. My nice neighbor invited me to her house, I go, I smile, I nod the head. I see everyone bringing presents so I think it must be somebody's birthday and here I am with empty hands. I feel very ashamed. Suddenly I find out all the presents are for me, and my neighbors are making me a kitchen shower! Something I never heard of before. Oh yes, the people here are very nice."

Since coming to America, Irmgard has lived the life of a typical American housewife. "It is so much easier here," she commented. "I come from a little fishing village in Schleswig-Holstein. I remember my mother working all the day long. And also my mother was very clean. Well, I'm clean, too; but in this I think I am half part American already. Whatever isn't hundred percent necessary, that I don't do."

Right now, Irmgard is awaiting the birth of her second child, and designing a "plant window" for her dining room. Although, as she announced cheerfully, "I have a—how do you call it? A black thumb. Nothing wants to grow for me."

Irmgard was 5 years old at the outbreak of the last war. Living as her family did, in a remote, rural part of Germany, they heard, she says bitterly, "Only what Adolph Hitler wanted us to hear." Her father was an elderly man at the time, too old for the army. However, her 19-year-old brother was conscripted, and a few days later, another brother, only 14 years old. "He was so small he couldn't even carry a gun. My father went to the authorities to beg that they should take him instead of his son. So they took them all—all three—all in one week." The elder brother vanished, and the government has never notified his family of his fate.

"You ask me what I don't like about America? Oh, I like it so much, it is possible we will stay here. But maybe T—don't tell my neighbor! I think it makes your brain dead, and the children get nervous. Also, I feel life is a little too busy. The wives want to be somebody in business, and they can't relax. Possible it is better for husbands in Germany. Hans never washes the dishes unless I am sick, but when I need it he is wonderful."

"But the life is better here." She shook her head. "If you don't think so, you should come to Germany. Also at home people know each other's business too much, but here in America you can live your own life."

Swim Team Scores 125 Loses To Hillandale

Greenbelt's swim team again had to bow to defeat by Hillandale on Saturday, July 23, when they were beaten by a score of 125 to 172 at the Greenbelt Pool.

H. Goldberg earned the first points for Greenbelt by coming in second in the 12 and under backstroke. S. Hillebrand took second place in the 8 and under boys' freestyle. Linda Keer took the first place spot in the girls' senior individual medley, being timed at 1:07.3 for 80 yards. Pete Regala was a close second in the senior individual medley for boys, swimming 80 yards in 57.4 behind first placer H. Rock of Hillandale, who scored with a time of 52.1.

In the junior individual medley for girls, Rosemary Aulisio took first place and added five points to Greenbelt's score. Another five points was added when M. Haker copped first place in the junior medley for boys with a lead of .6 at the finish line.

Linda Cobb took first place in the ten and under breaststroke—swimming faster than a yard a second—making 20 yards in 18.2. Greenbelter J. Wells followed suit in the ten and under breaststroke, coming in first in 19 seconds, with G. Aulisio trailing by .1 to come in second.

W. McElderry triumphed in the 14 and under breaststroke, coming in first, with Y. Regala trailing right behind, earning a combined total of eight points for Greenbelt.

Linda Keer again earned a first place by winning the 16 and under, 40 yard back-stroke for girls.

The team will be traveling to Carrollton on Wednesday, July 27, to participate in an unscheduled meet. They will travel to Cheverly on Saturday, July 30, and meet with that team with hopes of bringing home a winning score. Coach Jack Trudeau is still looking for youngsters between the ages of 8 and 16 who would like to try-out for the team. Just look for Jack at the pool any weekday from 7 a.m. to 8:30 p.m., where you will find him as a coach, instructor, or pool manager.

Police News Review

The theft of jewelry from a home in North End was reported this week. Two rings, valued at $725, were reported stolen. Police suspect teenagers are involved.

A "Bathing Suit" thief toured certain parts of town on Saturday night and the theft of five expensive women's suits were reported to police on Sunday morning. A total of four suits were taken from clotheslines in 9 court of Ridge, and one suit missing from a line on Southway. Although men's suits were also on the lines, the women's suits were the only ones taken.

Another prowler report was filed this week. A woman on Plateau reported someone knocking at her door at 2 a.m. The person or persons were gone when police arrived.

A teenager reported her wallet containing $5.00 missing from the basket she had turned in at the pool. The pool personnel are not responsible for valuables left in the baskets, and it is advisable for all money and jewelry to be checked with the cashier for safe-keeping.

A teenager was caught siphoning gas from a parked car at the Co-op gas station at 4:30 a.m.

Liquor Appeal Denied

Local realtor, Abraham Chasanow, lost his appeal last week from the ruling of the Prince Georges County Liquor Board denying his application for a license to open a package liquor store in the Center. Chasanow's appeal was turned down by Circuit Court Judge Charles C. Marbury.

In denying the request, Judge Marbury stressed that the general aspect of the Center, as a recreational and community center, rather than merely a commercial center, was the overriding factor in his decision to sustain the March 22 decision of the Liquor Board.

Little League Chatter

By Bud Dean

Monday the GHI Giants and the Pepsi Cola Athletics fighting it out for the lead in the American League took the field with Hudson tossing for the Athletics. Hudson's airtight pitching and heavy hitting for the Giants was too much for the Athletics, although George Moraz tried to keep them in the ball game with 3 for 3 including his first homer of the year. Giants 6, Athletics 1.

Tuesday the National Guard Indians using all rookies had little trouble beating the American Legion Cardinals, 12-1.

Wednesday the league leading GHI Giants had little trouble disposing of the Greenbelt Pharmacy Orioles 14 to 5 with Shegogue of the Giant hitting his 5th homer.

Thursday the Pepsi Cola Athletics breaking out of a hitting slump needed a barrage of hits including Jimmy Rhatigan's first homer to down a stubborn Co-op, 14-11.

Friday the National Guard Indians and the Lions, fighting it out for second honors, went right to the wire with Inikesell of the Indians getting the win 3-2.

Babe Ruth Stars Split Two With Quantico

Greenbelt defeated the Quantico All Stars, 8-4 on Sunday after losing 11-4 on Saturday under the lights.

Nine costly errors by the Greenbelt Stars enabled the Quantico team to score 9 unearned runs and romp to an easy win in the first game. Playing under the lights for the first time seemed to hinder the defensive play by Greenbelt, although they outhit the Quantico team 10 hits to 6. One of Greenbelt's hits was a 360 ft. out-of-the-park homerun by pitcher Louis Caruso.

On Sunday afternoon it was a different story, as Greenbelt had only one error and collected 12 hits. Kenny Powell held the opposition to just 6 singles. Three hits each by captain Al Moraz and third baseman James Caruso led the attack.

The team opens play in Frederick on Wednesday, July 27 in the single elimination state tournament. Three straight victories would give Greenbelt the state title and the opportunity to play in the regional tournament in N. J. in August.

Greenbelt Jaycees Install New Officers

On July 14 the Greenbelt Junior Chamber of Commerce held its first installation dinner at the Domino Restaurant. The new local president installed is Charles "Chuck" Collins. Other officers installed were Jerry Conway, Vice President; Donn Liston, Secretary; LeVere Henderson, Treasurer; Al Dean and Eugene Kellaher, Directors; Ben Kolbenslag, State Director; and Howard Chasanow, Parliamentarian.

The installing officer was Fred Steppe, President of the Maryland Jaycees. Other guests present were Warren Stroh, National Director; Walter Lachman, State Vice President and Robert Wagner, President of the Beltsville Chapter. Outgoing President Warren Leddick served as master of ceremonies. The Greenbelt Chapter is "looking forward to a bigger and better year," states new president Collins.

GREENBELT 5 - MUIRKIRK 1

Butch Brown pitched a three-hitter over Muirkirk last Sunday at Greenbelt, striking out 14 and winning his sixth straight with no losses thus keeping Greenbelt in first place in the Tri-County Baseball League. Marty Gallagher, Doug Sullivan and Dale White led the attack for the Shamrocks, each collecting two hits, Gallagher notching a triple.

Elsewhere Beltsville won a double-header over Fairland, 9-1 and 4-3, Laurel swept two from Scaggsville, 8-4 and 9-6 and Burtonsville defeated Minnicks, 11-0.

Second place Beltsville, who beat Greenbelt, 6-5 previously, comes to Braden Field this Sunday, July 31 to play guest to the Shamrocks in a game slated for 2 p.m.

Desire for Adventure

By Warren Leddick

Editor's Note: This is the fourth in a series of articles on the various pleasures in recreation.

Children are living question marks. Man's persisting desire to extend his knowledge and to gain new experiences makes for continued growth and progress. The spirit of adventure affords, at least in part, the incentive that prompts men to undertake such challenging projects as climbing the Himalayas or exploring outer space.

Many forms of recreation appeal because they contribute to this universal desire. Nature activities, especially afford unlimited opportunities for exploring the wonders of the world about us. Man's curiosity and his desire for new experience go far in explaining the tremendous popularity of travel. Sailing, camping, mountain climbing, and photography also open avenues of adventure to large numbers of people. Just as truly, though perhaps to a lesser degree, the musician finds adventure in playing a new composition for the first time, the craftsman in working in a new medium, or the actor in learning a new part.

The new expanding field of recreation, through services, offers limitless opportunities for pioneering and adventurous experience. The widespread appeal of popular story and pictorial magazines, television, and moving pictures is due in part to the fact that they afford opportunities for new, though vicarious, experiences to a large number of people, many of whom do not have the courage, initiative, opportunity, or ability to seek their own adventure.

The elements of variety, adventure and surprise are especially important in planning and conducting children's play activities. The imaginative leader recognizes the value of introducing creative equipment, new games, appealing stories and novel activities and encourages the children to adapt them and to work out original play forms and projects.

Community Problems Concern Committee

The joint committee from the city council and GHI met both Thursday and Monday nights to discuss the pet control problem. City manager Charles McDonald is currently drafting an ordinance to be presented to council which will embody the recommendations of this committee. Most striking new feature of the proposed ordinance is the inclusion of cats under the regulations which previously governed dogs only.

A better—and it is hoped—more economical system of special trash collection has also been discussed. The committee is hoping that a Saturday collection can be regularly scheduled to pick up in specific parts of the city at certain specified times. At present, however, various technical problems would have to be solved before this plan could be adopted.

Other problems before the group are parking especially in courts with garage compounds, recreational areas for ball playing and possibly a swale situation involving flooding. They will meet next Monday again to discuss these matters.

Members of the committee are: Tom Canning, chairman, Edgar Smith and David Champion, all representing council; and Henry Brautigam, Paul Kasko and Hans Jorgensen. Both city manager McDonald and GHI general manager Paul Campbell have also sat in with the group.

Men's Slow-Pitch League

Playing a two out of three series, the Jaycees defeated the Athletic Club two straight games to win the National Division. On Thursday and Friday nights the Jaycees met St. Hugh's for the city championship. In the first game the Jaycees coasted to victory. On Friday night, going into the seventh inning, the Jaycees were leading 5-1. St. Hugh's came up with five runs to win 6-5. In the second and deciding game the Jaycees were never in contention, as St. Hugh's hit the ball to every empty spot on the field to win 15-8. With this victory St. Hugh's will now meet the two District winners at Turkey Thicket in a double elimination for the Metropolitan Championship and the right to play in the world tournament at Toledo, Ohio on Sept. 2-5.

Lassie League
On Tuesday of last week the Tigers defeated the Indians 11-9 while on Wednesday the Lions defeated the Athletics 16-12.

Words and Music

By Harry Zubkoff

Watcher in the Shadows by Geoffrey Household, published by Little, Brown and Co., an Atlantic Monthly Press Book.

This is the story of a man-hunt, of a protracted duel fought out in London and in the countryside of Sussex by two of the most accomplished and deadly intelligence officers to have survived the second World War. One of them is a Viennese who served in the British Intelligence; the other is a former Resistance leader of excruciating courage and grisly determination. Their duel begins ten years after V-E Day, but they bring to it the cool wit and steel nerves on which their lives depended during the war. Their chase is a grimly calculated game.

The tension in this book would be unbearable if it were not for the brief periods of poetic relief. Geoffrey Household, who was himself a distinguished intelligence officer during the war, is also a lover of nature, and his description of the downs and hedges, of the dense woods and the wildlife they shelter, is a quieting theme as the duel mounts to its climax. This is a most exciting, most skillfully wrought novel by the author of Rogue Male.

The Bride, by Manfred Gregor, published by Random House: The long-awaited translation of the German novel whose own author thought it would be "too shocking" to publish. In the last months of World War II, seven boy-soldiers are forced into the suicidal defense of a bridge. Though barely awakened to life, and just beginning to understand and treasure their individual lives, these youths must face the imminence of death with the brutal knowledge that the sacrifice is futile. Already translated into 12 languages, this novel has been hailed abroad as one of the most sensitive and compelling stories of either side of the war.

CUB PACK 746

Seven "nations" were represented at the Olympic games and picnic held by Cub Pack 746 Saturday afternoon on the grounds of the sponsoring institution, Mowatt Memorial Methodist Church. Denmark took first place, Australia second, and France won over Belgium in a special event to break a third place tie.

Following the picnic supper, Den No. 1, under the tutelage of Mrs. C. M. Kolbe, presented a bit of top hatted, white frocked showboat comedy and music.

Cub Master Pat Heizer as Akela started the games by leading a parade of the "athletes" and giving them the Olympic oath and pledge, after the arrival of the runner with the perpetual torch.

Mrs. Walter Louk, Mrs. William Stapler and Mrs. C. M. Kolbe and their Dens of Cub Scouts made the shields, flags and torch for the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Noble were in charge of the games, with Mrs. Heizer, Mrs. Edwin Smallman and Rev. W. Clark Main serving as Judges.

Individual winners were given ribbons for the first three places and captains of the "nations" were awarded the gold, silver and bronze colored medals as they took their places on the winners' stands.

When The SIREN BLOWS

By Rita Fisher

July 26

Two brush fires, origin unknown, had the equipment scooting out of the first house this past week. The first call, on July 20, came from the rear of 15 court of Laurel Hill. This was put out in short order. The second call, a brush and leaves fire at 19 court of Hillside was also put out without much difficulty.

The men were 10:22'd twice this week on calls from Bowie. They were included in the original call for help from the Fire Board but were then told that their services were not necessary indicating the fact that whatever the trouble was could be handled by the engine companies closer to the area. The men were called on to spend two hours at the Glendale Firehouse as a standby crew while the Glendale equipment was out on call.

An eight year old boy from Rogers Heights was injured at the pool on July 20. He was given emergency first aid for a cut over his right eye. A seven year old child was treated at the firehouse on July 23 for a lacerated right knee cap. He was then carried to P. G. Also carried to P. G. this week was a woman from Berwyn Heights. This was a routine transport meaning usually that no siren has to be sounded because of prearranged timing. On July 22 on a 9-1 call, the ambulance carried a D. C. woman to P. G. suffering a possible fractured right ankle as a result of an auto accident on the B-W Parkway.

Some of the men took the ambulance and attended the Boy Scout Camporee at Rosecroft Raceway from July 23 at 9 p.m. to July 24 at 7 a.m. They were not called on for any first aid until the final hours when a boy with a bug in his ear needed assistance.

A resident of Parkway was injured on Plateau pl. on July 25. The only information I could gather at this time is that he was injured on his back by a tree?

An out-of-town woman, who was visiting in Greenbelt, fell and broke her left knee and ankle on Monday night. She was carried to P. G. on Tuesday from the doctor's office for X-rays.

Words and Music

By Harry Zubkoff

Enjoy, Enjoy by Harry Golden, published by The World Publishing Co.

Here is the latest and best-seller, to-be from the warm and invincible heart of America's favorite practicing philosopher. Reaching into his seemingly limitless cracker barrel of essays, he has brought forth a potpourri of wit, wisdom, and laughter about life in America as well as some pungent observations on people abroad. It's an opportunity to relax, chuckle, and reflect once more with Harry Golden, as he talks about the importance of the rocking chair; the problems of the middle class in America; how the corner saloon helped temperance; why a trip to London changed his mind about TV commercials; quitting jobs; the Golden Plan to end anti-Semitism; the decline of murder; Evil Eye Finkel; rent control and babies; togetherness. In all, there's a grand total of two hundred and thirty-two happy, incisive, rollicking, outspoken, nostalgic, witty, satirical, pertinent, and peculiarly Golden ideas wrapped up in this one volume. As Harry Golden, Jr., says of his father in his foreward: "He writes his heart out." It's a heart that offers several dimensions in entertainment.
