Registration for City Election Next Month "Extremely Light"

By AL SKOLNIK

Registration for the city council election on Tuesday, September 19, has been "extremely light," according to Mrs. Winfield McCamy, city clerk. Less than a score of new voters have signed up so far. It is hoped that the special registration days scheduled for the next two weeks will attract the new citizens. The last day for registration is Monday August 21.

To register to vote, one must be a citizen of the United States, be at least 21 years of age, and must have lived in Greenbelt six months and in the State of Maryland for one year immediately preceding the election. It is not necessary for a person to be a registered voter in Maryland to be eligible to vote in Greenbelt. Even though you normally vote in another State for State and national elections, you may still vote in the city election if you meet the other conditions.

Those citizens who have voted in at least one of the two previous regular city elections need not register again, as long as they have lived continuously in Greenbelt.

Posted on the bulletin board at the city offices is a list of 250 names that have been stricken from the voting rolls—either because of leaving town, not having voted in the last two elections, or death. In the last 1959 election there were 1,419 registered voters of whom 1,096 voted. Two years previous there were 1,097 registered voters and 781 ballots cast.

The city election will feature the election of five city councilmen. Each voter is entitled to vote for as many candidates as there are vacancies to be filled. Council members are paid $750 a year and tenure is for two years.

The city charter, which governs election procedures, requires that a candidate must receive a majority of the votes to be elected. If fewer than five candidates receive a majority, a "run-off" election is held one week later. In the run-off election, the ballot consists of those remaining candidates receiving the highest number of votes in the first election, up to twice as many names as there are positions to be filled. Candidates polling the greatest number of votes, whether a majority or a plurality, are declared winners in the run-off election.

Citizens desiring to become candidates for office must get at least 43 and not more than 71 qualified registered voters to sign a nomination petition. Forms are obtainable from the city clerk's office. The signed petition must be submitted (together with a $3 filing fee) not later than August 21. A voter may sign only one nominating petition, even though he may vote for five candidates.

Championship Meet

The Greenbelt Swimming Pool will be the location for the Division Championship Meet, which will take place on Saturday, August 12, starting at 9 a.m. Since members of the Greenbelt team will be participating and competing with other teams in this meet, it is hoped that there will be a good turnout of spectators.

Honor Local Jaycees At State Convention

The Greenbelt Jaycees received two awards at the Maryland Jaycee Convention in Annapolis this week. The Jaycee Community Development Award was presented to them as a result of their work in polling local opinion and designing an action project for Greenbelt, which resulted in the family swimming pool plan. The citation reads in part: "... this chapter did give its membership and the public an increased awareness of local problems and did thereby contribute to the overall growth and development of the community."

The Jaycees also received the Chapter and Individual Development Award "for extraordinary interest and progress in promoting and administering the fundamentals for sound chapter organization. And, for the institution and conduct of training programs for the development of the individual as a leader of his chapter, community, state and nation."

Jerry Conway, president of the Greenbelt Jaycees, accepted the awards on behalf of the organization. Howard Chasanow and George Confer also attended the convention.

Labor Day Art Show

The annual Art and Art Crafts Exhibit will be held on Labor Day, Monday, September 4, on the Centerway lawn across from the shopping center. Exhibits should be on hand by 9 a.m.; they will be on view until dusk.

It is hoped that more crafts exhibits, such as ceramics, china painting, copper enameling, and wood carving, will be submitted.

The exhibits will be judged by Benjamin Abramowitz, a

Majorette Contest

Again this year, as part of the Greenbelt Labor Day Festival, a majorette competition will be held at the National Guard Armory on Saturday, August 19, at 8 a.m. This competition, now in its seventh year in our town, has become one of the largest in the metropolitan area. Many of the entrants are champions in their respective states.

Last year 43 teams and corps entered, as well as over 200 individual twirlers. All local girls are urged to enter the contest to represent our town.

Six top judges from Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Maryland, and California will select a Grand Champion Corps, Grand Champion Twirler, and runner-up.

Everyone is invited to see these girls perform. Refreshments will be served throughout the day. Contest Directors are Mrs. D. Newkirk and Mrs. M. Marjon.

Annual 4-Day Festival Starts Sept. 1; Dedicate Youth Center

By ELAINE SKOLNIK

The Seventh Annual Labor Day Festival will explode into a colorful display of talent, parades, contests, entertainment and splendor on September 1. Highlighting the four day celebration will be the dedication of Greenbelt's beautiful Youth Center on Sunday, September 3, at 4 p.m. Dr. Albin O. Kuhn, Executive Vice President of the University of Maryland will be the guest speaker.

Likens and Dillinger Starred in Art Show

David Young, of the Prince Georges County adult education program, has arranged art exhibits by two Greenbelters, Eugenia Likens and James Dillinger, at the Twin Pines Savings and Loan Association office during the weeks of August 11 and 25. Contrasting art styles can be viewed in these preview exhibits by the two young artists, both of whom are preparing for one-man exhibits elsewhere. Miss Likens will be present at the opening night, Friday, August 11, and Mr. Dillinger will be on hand on Friday, August 18.

A longtime Greenbelt resident, Miss Likens attended Greenbelt High School and graduated with first honors this June from the University of Maryland, where she majored in English and minored in art. She combined her interest in literature and art as Editor-in-Chief of EX-PRESSION, the campus literary magazine.

Miss Likens has studied art with Herman Maril and James P. Wharton at the U. of M., and with David Young in the Prince Georges County adult education program. She has won several awards for her work at the University and at the Labor Day art fairs in Greenbelt.

James Dillinger, originally from the midwest, studied illustration at the American Academy of Art in Chicago. He entered the service as a musician staff member of the Naval School of Music in Washington. He was later transferred to the U.S. Navy Band, where he was assigned to special projects—a variety of jobs ranging from art for reproduction and display, to portraits, murals, and designing for pageants of naval history.

Miss Likens' works are described by David Young in the following words: "Emotional and sensitive are two qualities which aptly describe the paintings of Eugenia Likens. Subject, color, and technique are enticed into existence as a result of these qualities."

Young said of Dillinger's contrasting style, "Versatility of technique is the dominant factor working through in the canvases of James Dillinger. Whether it be natural, conventional, or abstract work, this factor along with 'jewel-like' coloring makes for enjoyable viewing."

Some of the paintings of the artists will be for sale.

For four days, the commercial center will be turned into a great White Way. Under the direction of Eli Don Bullian, local organizations will combine their efforts to benefit the youth of Greenbelt.

The dream of a building, which would provide activities of wholesome fun and programs encouraging opportunities for youth leadership, dates back to 1939. The COOPERATOR (the former name of the News Review) reported in the January 12 issue of that year that plans were being developed for adequate recreational room for boys and girls of junior high and senior high school age; the large garage behind the filling station was expected to be converted into a social center for the young people.

This proved unworkable, and it was not until November, 1944 that steps were taken to open a canteen in town. A space about 1,600 square feet, in the basement of the old firehouse was renovated, and on December 23, 1944, amid much pomp and ceremony the Greenbelt Youth Center was formally opened.

With the end of the war and the need for a larger space, the Town Council and the Advisory Board put in a bid for an army surplus building. Through the combined efforts of the Recreation Department, Advisory Board, and the teenagers, $5,000 was raised. Open house on May 9, 1947 marked the opening of the new building. The teenagers new home which consisted of a library, snack bar, game room, and lounge was a marked improvement over the one room center in the firehouse. Eileen Labuka (the former Eileen Mudd) 21 Lakeside, was the Teen Recreation Director. Approximately 250 juniors and seniors were members of the club at that time.

In 1954 the Drop-In had deteriorated and became a fire hazard. The building was condemned and Youth Center activities moved to the Community Building (Center School). It was in 1955 that the First Annual Labor Day Festival was held to raise money for the Youth Center. When the Community building was sold in 1959, some teen club activities were permitted to continue in the school until the new Youth Center was completed.

The past New Year's Eve marked the opening of the $160,000 Youth Center, complete with skating rink, lounge, all-purpose office, and arts and crafts rooms. Warren Leddick, Superintendent of Recreation, has scheduled an extensive program, with activities for all ages. He reports a total of 520 members in the Teen Clubs.

Above is a recent photo of the front of the new Greenbelt Youth Center which will be officially dedicated during the annual Greenbelt Labor Day Festival on September 3. The Youth Center, which was completed this past winter, has been in the planning stage since 1939.

Police News

On July 31, a man was taken to Hyattsville on a Peace Warrent which had been obtained by his wife. Later that week, she called police and told them that her husband was in Greenbelt again, and police informed her that they had no power to make the man stay out of Greenbelt without a ruling from a judge.

A young adult was arrested for throwing a beer bottle in the Center. He was charged with Littering and paid a fine of $12.

A Greenbelt resident was charged with driving under the influence of alcohol after he drove his car into the wooded area on Hamilton Place and got stuck.

An odd story of three young juveniles was disclosed this week. A report was given to police that a house had been entered and a mirror had been broken and a bond stolen. This turned out to be a false report.

One of the residents of the house was a boy who was caught along with two other boys in a vacant house on Plateau Pl. The three boys were charged by juvenile petition with doing damage in a vacant house. Later questioning brought the story from one boy that he had set the scene in his own home to look like robbery so that he would not be blamed for the broken mirror which had been broken when he was descending from the attic of his home.

A resident of Northway reported that a rear tail light had been stolen from his car sometime during the past week. Another resident complained that about a half tank of gas had been siphoned from his car which was parked in Ridge Wednesday evening.

A hit and run was reported from Laurel Hill on Thursday evening. A non-resident was charged with leaving the scene of an accident without leaving identification after he had hit a parked car while in the process of backing out of a court. A resident saw the accident and noted the number of the car involved.

A non-resident avoiding a police chase was spotted in Greenbelt and trapped by two police cars in 14 Ridge. The driver was charged with speeding and turning out lights to avoid identification.

A report of shooting led police to the lake where they saw four juveniles sleeping. Two of the boys ran away, and two were caught. No weapons were found but police notified parents of all four boys of the incident. It is considered that the noise could have been made by firecrackers.

A resident chose to ignore a parking ticket issued by police. The case was turned over to Hyattsville for further action with notification going to the person involved. The man failed to appear in Hyattsville and was so charged by a judge. This usually ends up with the fine being doubled.

There was suspected vandalism to a clothesline on Northway. The residents of the house involved were out of town but a neighbor reported seeing the clothes on the line prior to going shopping but finding the clothes strewn over the yard upon her return.

A man's wrist watch was found in the vicinity of 16 Ridge and police will give further information if an identification can be made as to the owner.

A man and woman appeared at the police station and complained that an apple had been thrown into their car as they rode up Hillside. The apple was thrown with such force that it knocked the woman's glasses off and she got a black eye. Parents are urged to warn children about throwing apples and the added danger of climbing trees. Many times children will trespass on other people's private property in order to obtain the still unripe fruit.

A resident of 6 Hillside complained finding that eggs had been tossed at his home during the night. Pranks such as these can be considered juvenile misdemeanors if youngsters are caught in the act, and their names will be placed in a juvenile file.

We're Kidding

To The Editor:

Recently you have run ads for our Company as a public service asking for Camel Drivers and Mule Skinners.

Somewhat facetiously we have asked for men with these particular occupations, knowing that there were none available to join our Company.

To any person taking these ads seriously, we wish to dispel any doubts about our equipment. We have the latest and best of equipment; one pumper is a 750 G.P.M. American LaFrance, 1957, with a 500 gallon Booster Tank, and a 1400 Watt, 110 V. DC generator, and carries 1000 feet of 2 1/2" hose.

Our newest pumper is a 1959 American LaFrance 750 G.P.M. pumper with a 500 gallon Booster Tank, and carries 1000 feet of 2 1/2" hose.

Our ambulances are a 1952 Pontiac, and a 1958 Cadillac. Although a 1958 is considered an old piece, we have taken trophies this year for Best Appearing Ambulance, competing with the latest models.

Any person interested in Fire Fighting is welcome to join our Company. Training is offered in Fire Fighting, First Aid and Rescue.

Our meeting nights are the first and third Wednesdays at the Fire Station.

Thanks again, and remember our slogan "You come to our Aid, and we will come to your Fire."

Greenbelt Gardener

Round about this time, in the depths of the summer doldrums, the apathetic gardener is probably sipping a cold drink on his porch and eyeing the property with distaste. Everything seems to have gotten out of hand, because it's just too hot; too hot to stake, too hot to weed, too hot to trim edges or pick Japanese beetles off the roses.

Spring's glorious display has receded into the past, and it's hard to believe that with the coming of cooler weather, the gardener's enthusiasm will revive; or that chrysanthemums and asters, bright-berried pyracantha, and colorful autumn foliage will provide many a charming garden picture before the garden year comes to a close.

Perhaps this is the time to make good resolutions for improving the midsummer situation in 1962. First of all, let's consider two wonderful, labor-saving shrubs. A young hydrangea, set out this fall or next spring in that bare spot beside the north wall, will provide plenty of August color. Remember, the color of the flowers depends on the acidity of the soil. If it is quite acid (mixed with peat moss, for instance), the flowers will be blue; if alkaline, pink or a mingling of pink and blue. Butterfly bush (buddleia, summer lilac) also blooms profusely until frost. The flowers spikes are good for cutting, and range from deep purple to pale blue. A white form is also available. Cut off dead flowers to prolong blooming. Buddleia may winter-kill severely, but it doesn't matter. Prune it back sharply, and it will send out a bushy new growth every spring.

Ground covers have many uses, and they require much less care than grass. Shady spots where grass is thin; steep slopes; dry weedy soil at the margin of large shrubs - all are well adapted to the various ground covers. English ivy is easy to grow, evergreen, and spreads rapidly. Pachysandra is handsome, but set plants fairly close together, for it grows slowly. Creeping myrtle, with its small leaf and starry blue flower, is appropriate in a semi woodland setting. The various heaths and heathers make fine evergreen groundcovers, with a bonus of winter flowers. However, they are expensive, and thrive best in a sandy soil. Various prostrate-growing evergreens, such as the spreading yews and junipers, make good groundcovers, especially on a slope. And don't forget the species roses, which will ramble over a bank, provide a bountiful spring display, and never need to be mowed.

Finally, most experienced gardeners realize that a good thick mulch will keep flowerbeds neat with a minimum of effort. Mulches reduce both weeding and watering. Peat moss, ground corncocks, peanut shells, and pebbles (for those who like a touch of the Orient in their gardens) are all good; there are many others which are also good. Even grass clippings or raked-up leaves, piled on the beds, will keep down weeds. They dry out to a straw color which is not ideal for flowerbeds; however, they may prove useful in the vegetable garden. All or part of almost any sort of mulch (not pebbles, of course) may be dug into the ground just before it freezes. They will add humus to the soil as they decompose. D. S.

Stray Cat Warning

A small gray tabby kitten suspected of being a ring-worm carrier was last seen in the 4 court of Laurel. Children should be warned to stay away from strange cats and report all strays to the police.

4-H Cloverettes

by BARBARA SKOLNIK

The 4-H Cloverettes saw music Man last week. For many of them, it was the first time to see a live production. The play was delightful.

The girls also went backstage, thanks to Mrs. Geller, our club leader, who called the manager, Mr. Kirkpatrick, and requested a tour. He agreed and seemed very interested in 4-H because he asked a lot of questions. The tour included a talk about the history of the theatre.

Michael Garin, 10-A Hillside, couldn't have been happier when he received a message from the White House informing him that the President was very pleased to receive his splendid drawings. The mailman also delivered an envelope from Ranger Hal. When Michael opened it, he discovered he had won a Silver Dollar.

August is a busy birthday month for the Shabe family, 1-C Northway. So, happy, happy birthday to Jackie who was four on August 5 - to Marion who will be 3 on the fourteenth - and to Janice who will be 2 on the seventeenth.

It's a boy for the Spyros Constantinos', 11-K Laurel. Tony was born July 19, weighing 8 lbs., 3 oz. He has a sister, Nicky, Mrs. Constantinos was delighted with the baby shower given her at the home of the Champions, 11-L Laurel, last week. Many neighbors and friends attended.

Mrs. A. Stewart, 8-H Southway, had a marvelous visit to Berlin, New Hampshire, where she attended the wedding of her granddaughter, Carolyn Birt, to Frank Corrigan. Mrs. Stewart's son, Herbert, of the above address, and two daughters, Mrs. Edgar Weber, 18 Ridge, and Mrs. Donna Blake of Fort Meade, also attended.

The Cormack Seniors, 6-B Ridge, and the Cormack Juniors, 35-H Ridge, are spending a couple of weeks in beautiful Cape May, New Jersey. On July 26, grandfather and father took the two grown up children deep-sea fishing; they returned tired and sunburned, but jubilant, with a haul of 14 flounder. Bud Cormack won the prize with his 8-pound flounder, the largest catch among the ten passengers.

We welcome back to Greenbelt, Mrs. Lambert Prichard, the former Dale Downs, whose family left Greenbelt in 1946. Dale and her husband live at 9-C Parkway with sons Dale, age 13, and Dougy, age 7. The Downs family came to Greenbelt in 1937. Mrs. Hartford Downs was a member of the first Youth Advisory Committee in 1944, and Dale was an active member of the Teen Club when it met in the basement of the firehouse and later in the Drop-In. "Now my sons are enjoying the marvelous programs in the Youth Center," said Mrs. Prichard, who has been very helpful in locating former members of her Teen Club so that they will know of the forthcoming dedication ceremonies on September 3. Mrs. Prichard expressed much disappointment over the appearance of Greenbelt upon her return. "Many of the apartments and yards are badly neglected. The Center and some of the parklands look shabby. Something is missing - a feeling of pride in what we have." She thought the new homes were very attractive.

Glad to hear that little Kevin Moegel, 4 Greentree Place, who was born on June 28th, is having a speedy recovery from an abdominal operation. Kevin is the son of Paul and Margie Moegel, and the brother of 2 year old Paul, Jr.

Visiting the Moegels recently was Margie's brother, Frank Thomas Rymer of New York City.

It's a bundle from heaven for Steve De Coste, USN, and his wife Barbara. Little Theresa was born on July 30 at Bethesda Naval Hospital. She weighed in at 6-1/2 pounds.

Captain Charles W. Kinzer, son of Mrs. Mary Jane Kinzer, 6-G Ridge, recently completed the military orientation course at Brooke Army Medical Center, Fort Sam Houston, Tex.

LASSIE LEAGUE HIGHLIGHTS

Under the lights on Braden Field last Friday night, the Giants and Athletics battled for the championship. In a well played game the Athletics came up with two big innings to beat the Giants 19-12. Patsy George was the winning pitcher. Mary Anne Perch of the Athletics collected four hits in four times at bat. Barbara Hudson of the Giants also collected four hits, one a home run.

On Friday night, September 1, an All-Star game composed of players from the Athletics & Lions will play players from the Giants & Indians. Game time will be 8 p.m., on Braden Field.

TEEN AGE SOFTBALL

One of the highlights of this summers recreation program has been the very successful high school teen-age softball league. There are two leagues. A boys league, made up of 4 teams consisting of 15 boys per team and a girls league consisting of three teams. The boys team names are "The Unbeatables" (which have been beaten) and the "Tramps" who are currently in first place. The girls have dainty names such as the "Le Femes" and "The Rockets." Games are played at twilight and under the lights at Braden Field. Close to 200 teenagers attend and participate each night the leagues are in operation.

The boys plan to close the season by selecting an all-star team to play an all-star game with the stars from the Men's Slow Pitch League. They will also play the Recreation Department and enter the Softball Tournament sponsored by the Little League.

QUEEN CONTEST ENTRY

Kathy Fern, who attends Regina High School, has been elected by the Teen Club to represent the Youth Center in the coming Labor Day Festival Queen Contest.

Siren Notes

By RITA FISHER

The trophy room at the firehouse is now in possession of two new trophies which were both won at Beltsville on July 15. Again our ambulance, which in years is now considered an old model compared to the new one in operation in this county, won a prize as the best appearing and best equipped ambulance in the parade. And the comic antics of some of the boys on Greenbelt's old, old fire truck, which was on display in our own Fourth of July parade but ineligible for a prize, won a trophy for the best comic entry. I've a hunch this will win more awards.

The men in company 35 spent a bit of their volunteer time filling in at other firehouses last week. Twice they were requested at Glendale and twice at Berwyn Heights. They were 10-22'd once on a call to Glendale Rd. on August 7. They were summoned to Parkway on August 4 when a washing machine belt caught fire but the fire was of very minor consequence. Also from Parkway came a call on August 8 when a man who was trying to adjust some parts in his car motor, started a small fire when the gas ignited. Estimated damage was set at $50.00.

There were five emergency runs to P. G. last week. The first person was suffering from a possible heart attack. The second call was for a three-year-old girl who was reported to have fallen from the steps of a sliding board and further examination at the hospital disclosed that the child had a concussion. A man was carried to the hospital when he had difficulty breathing. A woman, also having breathing difficulties, was carried to P. G. also. The final trip was for a woman who was ready to bring another Greenbelt resident into this world.

The Greenbelt Fire Department, etc., is hoping to enter an original slogan referring to fire prevention at the Gwynn Oaks outing on August 20. Any helpful suggestions will be considered. Call me and leave a message at GR 4-6787.
