NEWSPAPER WEEK

The Commissioners of Prince George's County have proclaimed this week, October 9-14, 1967, as Newspaper Week, with today, October 12, singled out as Newspaperboy Day. In their proclamation, the commissioners declared:

"Whereas, few elements in our daily lives play a greater role in the changing world around us than the newspapers we read, and

"Whereas, in no other nation in the world does the press have greater liberty and in no other nation do newspapers respond to the freedom they are given with a greater sense of civic pride and professional dedication than the free American press, and

"Whereas, newspaper boys perform a valuable service to the community in delivering the product that chronicles the events of our lives through the most severe weather conditions, performing their service with distinction, loyalty and devotion,

"Therefore, be it resolved, that we, the Board of County Commissioners, do hereby proclaim October 9-14, 1967, as Newspaper Week, and Oct. 12, 1967, as Newspaperboy Day, in Prince Georges County, and call upon the citizens to give special attention to the enormous value the newspaper has in our daily lives, and to pay tribute to the valuable services of our newspaperboys, and encourage them in their fine work."

FUNDS RUN OUT FOR COUNTY ROAD PLANS

A possible new obstacle to Greenbelt's projected perimeter road has emerged in recent weeks, namely, lack of funds. This has come to light after the State Roads Commission notified the county that out of $25,100,000 allocated to it for road construction during the 1965-70 period, only $1.5 million remain, to complete projects estimated to cost $13,000.000.

The perimeter road, denoted as highway A-123 on the Preliminary Master Plan of Highways issued by the Maryland National Capital Park and Planning Commission in May, is now on the State Roads Commission's 20-year plan. It was included in this plan as a result of Bill 523, introduced by Senator Edward T. Conroy during the last session of the State Legislature as a first step towards putting the road on the Commission's immediate schedule. According to the Master Plan, the road will be 4.6 miles long, will have 4 lanes in an 80-ft. right of way and will pass through the projected school complex on parcel 2.

Following the announcement of the State Roads Commission, the commissioners and state legislators of Prince George's County met and revamped the county's road building plans. They rejected the existing list of priorities and drew up a new one, covering the most ur-

Public Hearing on 1968 Legislation

The Board of County Commissioners for Prince George's County will submit their legislative program for 1968 to the Prince George's County Legislative Delegation at a public meeting on October 16 at the County Service Building, 5812 Rhode Island Avenue, Hyattsville, Maryland at 8:30 p.m. This is a second in a series of five public meetings scheduled by the Prince George's County Legislative Delegation for the public disclosure of local legislation to be introduced in the next regular session of the Maryland General Assembly by the Prince George's County Delegates and Senators.

The third public meeting will be held at the Courthouse in Upper Marlboro on October 17 at 8 p.m. to hear legislative proposals of the Judges, States Attorney, Sheriff, County Departments and county employees.

As time permits following the presentation of the County Commissioners 1968 Legislative Program, the Delegation will hear the proposals of private citizens, civic groups, and other interest groups. It would be helpful if persons or organizations desiring to be placed upon the agenda following the presentation by the County Commissioners would contact the Legislative Office at 4811 Riverdale Road, Riverdale, Maryland or by calling the office at 779-2170.

gent needs of the county.

Under the new list, top priority goes to a one-mile stretch of Md. rte. 197 near Bowie, estimated to cost $500,000. The rest of the $1,500,-000 remaining for road construction will probably go to the widening to four lanes of a stretch of Md. rte. 4, extending through the middle of the county towards Upper Marlboro. Beyond that, the officials developed a new priority list, estimated at $27,000,000, of projects to be carried out as funds are provided by the State Legislature. It is not known at the present time whether this list includes Greenbelt's perimeter road.

UNIVERSITY SQUARE FIRE

Damages estimated at $18,000 were reported as a result of a fire Saturday in newly-occupied University Square Apartments. No one was injured in the blaze, which was ignited by a defective lamp cord about 11:30 a.m. in a first floor apartment at 122 Westway rd.

Residents of the building were evacuated and firemen used ladders to rescue occupants of the top floor of the three-story building. Several apartments were damaged by fire, smoke and water.

Five fire companies responded to the alarm - from Greenbelt, Berwyn Heights, Branchville, College Park and West Lanham. The firemen rushing to the scene saved 2-3 critical minutes by using the newly-opened extension of Westway.

The Police Blotter

An 18 year old has been charged with providing alcoholic drinks to several younger boys ranging in age from 13 to 17. The youth and the juveniles were apprehended in the woods near Braden Field late in the evening.

A Greenbelt man has been charged with assault and battery involving the molesting of two little girls at Springhill Lake. Bond was set at $1.000.

Three model homes at Boxwood were entered and a number of articles of furnishings taken. Due to the alertness of a resident who notified police, the young men apparently involved were frightened off and the articles were recovered in a wooded area.

Chief Lane has returned from Ocean City where he attended a conference of Police Chiefs.

Several officers attended an FBI conference for further training. Among new law enforcement developments discussed was the National Criminal Information Center, which provides computorized information immediately available to practically every state through local terminals.

Two new police officers, Robert Lee Mulkey and Thomas Henry Miskell, have been attending Police School. Under the new state law, they will have further training in Greenbelt Homes, Inc. members are invited to attend the Fall Orientation meeting of the corporation on Tuesday, October 17. Under contract to the city, Reliable Contractors of Millersville. Md., has begun work on building or replacing curbs and gutters in various places throughout the city. The pricr work of removing broken gutters and curbing has been done by the city crew. Most consuicuous of the newly built curbs is a stretch along Crescent Rd. in the city center. New curbing is also being installed on Crescent between Gardenway and Hillside, on Laurel Hill between 2 Ct. and 14 Hillside, on Plateau from 2 to 10 cts., and on Ridge from the North End School to Laurel Hill. In addition, the contractor will widen and repave Parkway Rd. and install the final surfacing on the con-ment and for the police to help the youths understand the department's problems.

ions on these and other matters.'

Pat Madden, GYC secretary, was concerned that there were many teens who could not identify themselves with the Youth Center. She felt the use of another facility might be an answer to this problem since the Youth Center, with might not be able to accommodate.

GYC advisor William Barber saw a need for the city to assign one person to work consistently with the teens. He pointed out that a close relationship between young people and their advisor could well be the most important ingredient of successful programming. Barber also expressed the hope that the teen trip program could be re-

GYC spokesmen said that they desired to see a beter communication system established between the police department and the youth of Greenbelt. They envisioned it as a two-way street: for the youth to present their views to the depart-vived.

Vol. 30, No. 48

GYC members will also meet from time to time with city offioials to present their opinions, criticisms, and suggestions and to see what possible action can be taken. A proposal to receive complaints from teens is being considered. Such a proposal would require that all complaints be submitted to the GYC board in writing; the board would then study the matter and take action if it is warranted. Opening of the snack bar, adherence to a consistent set of rules for the Youth Center, and the posting of collateral to safeguard equipment will also be discussed in the near future.

The GYC will meet on October 26 in the Municipal Building. All youths are urged to attend.

Hillside.

The Public Works Dept. has recently been operating with its refuse collection crew short by three men. This has necessarily caused some curtailment of the public works program, since other employees have been forced to substitute on the refuse collection detail.

Burial in the city's sanitary landfill is the fate of all garbage collected daily throughout Greenbelt. Unlike the special trash collections (usually bulky items of paper and wood), which are regularly burned, garbage is trucked in to the disposal site and dumped into a long, deep trench. There it is covered with earth and compacted by the city's recently acquired new tractor-shovel.

Last week a private contractor excavated a new trench for this purpose, as the one dug last year has only a little space left. The new trench is 150-200 feet long, about 25 feet wide, and about 10 feet deep at its deepest point.

Our Junior Partners

To the youngsters who deliver tonight's issue of the Greenbelt News Review all over town, this probably is just another evening's work. But in some sense it is their own special day, for today, October 12, is Newspaperboy Day, so marked as part of Newspaper Week, proclaimed by the county commissioners" . . . to give special attention to the enormous value the newspaper has in our daily lives, and to pay tribute to the valuable services of our newspaperboys, and to encourage them in their fine work.'

On this day, then, let us salute our junior partners. It takes the joint effort of many hands to create the Greenbelt News Review, and their contribution in delivering the final product - summer and winter, rain or shine - is an essential one. We salute these enterprising youngsters, earning their allowance the hard way and at the same time performing a service to their community. They, too are part of our team.

"Just Plain Bill" To the Editor:

Last week's toast to the Greenbelt Post Office on its 30th birthday was an interesting folio of growth and service. Congratulations certainly are in order.

The article listed names of the very earliest employees and the several postmasters who have served through the years. Another name not on the list is an important part of the story, and I'm sorry the writer missed it.

Equally deserving of mention is the one man who has served under all of the postmasters you named.

Who has toted that bag for the Greenbelt Post Office virtually since the beginning of carrier delivery, when there were just two routes (and he has the "mailman's knee' to prove it) .

Whose efforts have helped the post office meet demands of a growing community and mold itself into first-class stature . .

Who recently was honored by the Post Office Department for reshaping Greenbelt's carrier route system to fit today's city .

Who since January 1943 has been "just plain Bill" to hundreds of Greenbelt families who can be as proud of him as I am-My dad, Bill Shields. How about a word for him?

Old Valentines? To the Editor:

I am a handicapped veteran, living on a small pension.

One of my projects is the history of the calendar. I am collecting real old calendars to use as illustrations and have four that are 1882, 1883, 1887, 1896 and looking for others.

I have two valentines that are over 125 years old and four that are over 95 years old and a few dating back to 1880.

Preferred Gifts for Servicemen Listed

"Something personal" from the loved ones at home topped the list of Christmas gifts preferred by servicement overseas, according to a survey just completed by American Red Cross workers serving with U. S. forces around the world.

Almost important as the gifts themselves is the need to mail them in sufficient time for delivery hefore Christmas Day. U. S. Post Office deadlines for overseas mailings are November 10, if by surface, or December 10, if by airmail. Many families mail their gifts a week or two in advance of these dates, it was pointed out.

Family snapshots and portraits, voice tapes, hometown newspapers, and many more letters were the most frequent gift suggestions made. Other gifts high on the list of preferred items included paperback books, magazines, small puzzles and tabletop games, playing cards, ballpoint pens, stationery with self-sealing envelopes, brand name articles known as the serviceman's preference, and even extra money for leaves or purchase of small items from foreign countries.

Home-baked foods such as cake or cookies are always welcome, but such perishable gifts are usually not practical gifts for a serviceman in distant tropical areas like Southeast Asia. Individually wrapped hard candy and cookies in metal containers may arrive unspoiled, but even this is not certain.

Family gifts should vary according to a man's military location. Depending on climate, socks, sweaters, and other articles of clothing will be welcome if the serviceman is in an area where he can wear civilian clothes when off duty.

Chocolate chip cookies arrive in Viet Nam without problems, and are very welcome to all servicemen.
