Oakcrest Elementary School

PHYSICAL PLANT

by Muriel Weidenfeld

Oakcrest Elementary School has a pupil capacity of 720. Presently 509 children are enrolled. 175 Oakcrest children are scheduled for transfer to Springhill Lake Elementary and 175 Springhill Lake children will go to Oakcrest.

Oakcrest is built on one level in a style similar to Springhill Lake. The multi-purpose room serves as the auditorium, the cafeteria, and in bad weather, the gymnasium. The classrooms are large and have sliding walls that open two rooms into one for special activities. The desks and chairs are bright shades of red, blue and green.

The new addition, completed last year, was built as a large open area. It is called the "Mod Pod." It is headquarters for the fourth and fifth grades. The "Mod Pod" serves four classes which interact together for various subjects.

Oakcrest is fully air-conditioned. The library is carpeted. One double classroom is set aside as a workshop where children do woodworking, pottery, decoupage. A visual projector to show correct shop procedures is used. Also employed to teach manual skills are two typewriters and a sewing machine.

Springhill Lake children will see many similarities between Oakcrest and Springhill Lake, both of which were built in 1966.

Schools Hold Open House

The John Carroll Elementary School, 1400 Nalley Terrace in Landover will hold an open house on Sunday, January 21 at 3 p.m. Elementary School students residing at University Square Apartments, Charles-town Village and Boxwood Village are scheduled to be transferred to John Carroll. In addition, it was announced on Tuesday that Lakeside North students will be bused.

On Sunday, January 21, Oakcrest Elementary School will host an open house from 1 to 4 p.m. at the school, 919 Hill Road, Landover.

Springhill Lake Elementary School will have a special meeting for parents of children presently attending SHL school on Thursday, January 18 at 7:30 p.m. On Tuesday evening, January 23, from 7:30-9:30 p.m. an open house will be held for all SHL and Oakcrest parents and students. Some 175 SHL students are slated to be transferred to Oakcrest.

Mary Bethune Junior High, 5301 Addison Road, Chapel Oaks, will hold an open house on Thursday, January 25, from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Tours will be conducted and teachers will be present to answer questions. All Greenbelt Junior High students, with the exception of those living at SHL, will be transferred.

PGSO Holds Second Concert

The Prince George's Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Emerson Head, will hold its second concert of the 1972-73 Season, on Sunday, January 21, 4:00 p.m., at the Prince George's Community College's Fine Arts Auditorium in Largo, Md. The program will include Schumann's Symphony #4 in D Minor and several selections for Harp, featuring Jennifer Greis as harp soloist.

The concert will be repeated on Wednesday, January 24, 8:15 p.m. at Fairmont Heights Elementary School, Sheriff and Addison Roads,

OPEN HOUSE HELD

by Muriel Weidenfeld

Phillip G. Stroup, principal of Oakcrest Elementary School, along with members of the Oakcrest PTA, hosted an Open House on January 11 for parents from Springhill Lake, Berwyn Heights and the immediate Landover area.

The group assembled in the school's multi-purpose room, where they heard welcoming speeches by Mr. Arrington, Oakcrest PTA President, and by Stroup. Then smaller groups formed, each led by Oakcrest parents and school personnel, each meeting in a different classroom, to discuss the concerns and fears of parents and what parents could do to make the school transition easier for their children.

Following the discussion groups, visitors were taken on a tour of the school, which concluded in the entrance hall with refreshments prepared and served by members of the PTA.

Finally, the entire group, in what seemed a more relaxed atmosphere, returned to the multi-purpose room for a wrap-up of the evening's accomplishments.

Many questions had been discussed:

How would education be affected? Parents were told of the monumental job of assembling each child's academic record and cumulative folder so that children can pick up exactly where they left off before the transition.

Even though a complete solution to the concerns focusing around the greater distance between home and school did not evolve, parents gained a definite sense of the responsibility and commitment of the principal and the staff toward the children. One of the lighter notes of the evening occurred when Stroup, replying to another parent's concern, commented, "We would make certain that any child who missed the bus would get home. We have never left a child in the school overnight."

Stroup extended an open invitation to all parents to visit Oakcrest at any time during school hours, "to see it like it is," and that he was planning an Open House to take place Sunday, Jan. 21, 1-4 p.m.

FDR Senior High School Construction Bid Accepted

The Prince Georges County Board of Education on January 16 accepted the recommendations of its staff and approved a bid for the Franklin D. Roosevelt Senior High School, which will be located on a 40-acre site occupying the western portion of the Smith-Ewing North tract east of the Baltimore-Washington Parkway in Greenbelt. The contract will be submitted to the State Inter-Agency Committee for final approval.

Rebids for the new high school were opened on December 19. The low bid, submitted by the Glassman Construction Company was $9.5 million, some $1.9 million over the budgeted amount for the school but $590,570 less than the lowest bidder at the first round of bidding last November.

P. G. Transportation

On Tuesday, January 23, at Parkdale High School, at 7:30 p.m., there will be a community workshop on future transportation alternatives for the western part of Prince Georges County. The public is invited to evaluate a number of future transportation proposals under consideration including possible improvement to mass transit, commuter rail and highways.

For further information, call Joe Clark at 345-6663.

GHI 20th Anniversary Reception Next Sunday

Greenbelt Homes, Inc. is holding a reception celebrating its 20th Anniversary next Sunday, January 21, from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. at the GHI Board Room on Hamilton Place. Refreshments will be served and members and friends will have an opportunity to exchange views, to listen to stories of "the old days", to visit the offices and to see the equipment display. A slide-tape presentation on the history and organization of GHI will be shown. A large "20" has been mounted near the top of the tall GHI Administration Building chimney. Letters of invitation to the reception have been sent to various dignitaries, including the Prince Georges County legislative delegation, the Prince Georges County Executive, County Council, and School Board, and the Greenbelt City Council.

GHI Calls Special Meeting In Response to Petition

by Al Skolnik

Honoring the petition submitted by 70 members, the Greenbelt Homes, Inc. board of directors has called a special membership meeting for Wednesday, January 31, at the Center School. The petition had asked that the following items be placed on the agenda, so that the membership can "discuss the 1973 budget and determine whether a raise in monthly charges for 1973 is justified":

- 1) Legality of the loan to Twin Pines.
- 2) Review of membership's policy of deferral of monthly charges to the elderly and disposition of funds collected.
- 3) Maintenance and trim paint program.
- 4) Disposition of management survey (CMP Report).
- 5) Disposition of structural survey (TAA Report).
- 6) Justification of 1973 increase in monthly charges to members.

No Voting Contemplated

Because the petition did not include any specific motions or resolutions that might be put before the membership, the board deems the meeting's purpose as mainly informational. At last Thursday's board meeting, the board read a letter from its attorney supporting this interpretation.

Thus, in sending out notice of the meeting, which will include the petition's identical language, the board will specify that the subject of the meeting will be exclusively the 1973 budget and that no binding action can be taken by the membership on the agenda items.

The Vote

On the motion to follow this course of action, the board vote in favor was 5 to 4. Director Nat Shinderman voted against because he thought that by limiting the subject to the "1973 budget" not all the items on the petition could be discussed. GHI president Jim Smith made clear, however, that every item mentioned in the petition will be the subject of discussion.

Director Tom White voted against the motion because he thought the petition had been improperly drawn since it did not specify the actions that would be voted on. He therefore concluded that there was no need for the board to call a membership meeting at all.

Smith explained that he and Secretary Norman Weyel had met with the petitioners in an endeavor to clarify the question of what resolutions or motions would be introduced at the meeting. He said he was told by Eunice Coxon, one of the leaders of the petition drive, that they did not want to spell out in advance what their motions would be because then the membership might become better informed on this subject beforehand.

Smith caustically remarked that this was an odd position for one to take who has been indicting the board all along for not keeping the membership better informed.

The other two opposing votes were cast by directors Howard Brooks and Tony Lynch. Brooks, one of the leaders of the petitioners, objected to the restrictions placed on the voting at the membership meeting, saying that all "power belongs to the membership."

Director Janet James differed, noting that power belongs to the membership but within the framework of the by-laws. And the by-laws, according to her interpretation (stressed also by Shinderman), are designed to protect the membership by requiring that the membership know in advance of meetings what actions are being contemplated.

Lynch, the other opposing vote, said he saw nothing in the by-laws which would restrict the membership from talking about any subject it wanted to at a membership meeting.

Busing Issue

The board went on record approving a motion by White that it support action to secure a stay in the implementation of the January 29 busing plan. This was the board's response to a petition signed by numerous GHI members and submitted by a 58 Ridge court resident (Mr. Schad) asking the board to take a stand on the school busing issue.

The board-approved motion stated that the hurried implementation of the plan would bring unusual and severe hardship to the schools and the children and would impair sound education. A delay, the motion said, would give the school board time to reevaluate the plan with a view to assuring its equal impact on all neighborhoods and subdivisions.

Lynch voted against the motion on the grounds that it avoided the issue and merely sought delay.

Director Don Volk was named to represent GHI on the school leadership committee called together by city council to help in meeting the problems that might be encountered if the busing plan is not delayed.

Sewage Plant

The board approved the sending of a letter to Dr. Neil Solomon, head of the State Department of Health and Mental Hygiene asking that he remand the County Ten-Year Water and Sewer Plan back to the county council for removal of the temporary package sewage treatment plant for the Greenbriar apartment project.

The letter noted that county executive William Gullett has expressed his reluctance to be a signatory to the plan because of a provision contained in it for a proposed point of discharge for the Greenbriar project.

The letter maintained that temporary package plans would clearly be a circumvention of the moratorium imposed by Solomon's office in May 1970 and would be promoting a further backlog in the regional treatment capacity.

John Carroll Elem. School

by Kathrin Gough

John Carroll Elementary, in its second year of operation, is located in a neighborhood of new, individually owned townhouses.

Carroll utilizes the open school concept, with children ungraded in grades 2 through 5. This enables children to work at their academic level rather than be restricted to their age group. The individual attention required in an open school demands an eager and energetic staff. Mrs. Gretta Henry, principal, feels her staff works exceptionally well as a unit and is backed up successfully by parent aides.

Mrs. Henry characterizes learning as exciting and feels children learn best from real life situations. Mathematics lessons include food advertisements as well as regular textbooks. Frequent field trips are also a large part of the Carroll program with study approaches planned along with the trips. The Carroll staff attempts to teach children positive attitudes toward all kinds of work. The children may take turns in the school's wood shop in addition to their regular academic work.

Mrs. Henry describes Carroll as "a happy school." On a recent field trip to the White House a guard complimented the children as the best behaved he had ever seen. Mrs. Henry attributes good behavior to support from the parents for the school's discipline theory.

Carroll parents will be calling Greenbelt parents to invite them to an open house on Sun. Jan. 21. Each Greenbelt child being transferred will receive a letter from a Carroll child who will act as a buddy during the opening week. Staffs at Carroll, North End and Center are working together to assure a smooth transition. In the meantime, Mrs. Henry says the atmosphere at Carroll is one of "calm" and "welcome."

Renters Pay Taxes

To the Editor:

Last week's letter from Viola Keer covered everything from sidewalks to the competence of public officials. It contained several inaccuracies — one of which is too glaring to be ignored. "Since apartment dwellers do not pay any city taxes, the private home owners get their property taxes raised to provide these services." Greenbelt apartment residents would be surprised to learn that none of the taxes they pay, find their way back to the community. In fact, their federal income taxes support federal grants received by the city, part of their state income taxes are returned to Greenbelt, and property taxes are paid by owners of the apartments in which they reside and are used to pay for city services.

After a short business meeting Mrs. Meer of the Jewish National Fund will present a film and address the Sisterhood in an interesting evening on Israel and its ecology. Refreshments will be served.

Center School Holds Open House Sunday

An Open House for new parents and students will be held at Greenbelt Center School this Sunday, January 21, at 7:30 p.m. This was one of several items set up at a meeting of principal Robert Ellis' staff-PTA committee last Monday, at which a joint meeting with the corresponding John Carroll school committee was also arranged for this evening, in the Center School library at 8:00 p.m.

Mr. Ellis described work carried out by the teaching staff to prepare for the approximately 140 new students who will be coming in; he stated "it is important to show the new students and parents that they are accepted and made welcome." In line with this, for example, a voluntary "buddy" system may be tried, in which each "home" student may help a new student assigned to him. In the first days of the transfer, also, the PTA will provide hall guides who will assist the students in finding their classes, just as in September. Further ideas were offered by committee members. The Rev. Robert Fields suggested that the school would probably find it helpful to have several parents available, who would be willing to provide transportation for students when required. The principal was also informed that the city has offered its assistance in areas such as traffic control, etc.

At the Open House on Sunday, information on Center School and the Greenbelt community will be made available. Mr. Ellis said he would welcome the assistance of parents at the event; he may be contacted at the school at any time.

Transition Plans Made For School Activities

In the event that the mid-year desegregation plan will be implemented on January 29, school officials have prepared procedures for adjustments in the extra-curricular programs and in student organizations at the affected schools. Officials feel that student interest and community feeling for a school "must be safeguarded during the time of transition and that the activities program might very well be the focal point around which to build a new school identity."

Under the proposed guidelines, schools receiving new students must accommodate students who have been elected to student office, appointed to student positions of leadership and service, gained eligibility for participating in interscholastic sports and its related organizations and who have been members of clubs and other student activities. For example, transferred students who held an elected office in student government or an elected class office should be given immediate status in the new school government or class organization. Should a school find that there would be more than one student government president, class president, vice-president, etc., sharing of office duties and responsibilities (co-presidents and/or executive councils) would be required.

Similar reciprocal eligibility shall also apply to cheerleaders, drama club members and all other organizations for which there exists try-out and selection criteria. Equal status and placement must also be given to students in the school band and related groups. All clubs and organizations will be required to adopt open membership procedures for a period of two months. Regarding school publications, yearbook and newspaper staffs will be reconstituted to include transferred students who have previously served on publication staffs. Supplements to yearbooks and ordering and purchasing of yearbooks between schools will be considered.

The guidelines propose that all transferred junior and senior high school athletes participating in interscholastic sports must be given a place on the team at their new school. This means that affected

Prince Georges Art Show

For the month of January, the Prince George's Artist Today Traveling Exhibit is at the Twin Pines Savings and Loan Association in Greenbelt.

This is the second stop for the professional juried show which will travel to different locations throughout the county for exhibit during the next six months. Works in the show were selected from approximately 130 entries submitted by local county artists.

Area artists whose works are represented in the show include Adron O'Neil, Beltsville, Glennis Reilly, Adelphi, and Greenbelt Junior High Art teacher, Barry Richardson, Beltsville.

schools may expand their squads without danger of penalty.

School officials recommend that a team of students, a student government advisor and a counselor should be assigned in each affected school to assist in the adjustment of the school activities and extra-curricular program. It is also proposed that an extracurricular program be drawn up for every transferred student. Director of the program will be under the Office of Student Concerns and Supervisor of Interscholastic Athletics.

A RESOLUTION CONGRATULATING GREENBELT

HOMES, INCORPORATED ON ITS

TWENTIETH ANNIVERSARY

WHEREAS, the original planned Community of Greenbelt celebrated its thirty-fifth birthday in 1972; and

WHEREAS, virtually all the housing units of the original planned community were purchased from the Federal Government in December, 1952 by Greenbelt Veterans Housing Corporation, later renamed Greenbelt Homes, Inc., or, more familiarly, G.H.I.; and

WHEREAS, G.H.I. is a cooperative, owned and operated by its members who are the 1608 families residing in the houses owned by Greenbelt Homes, Inc., and

WHEREAS, in the ensuing years, the histories of the city and G.H.I. were both intertwined and parallel as G.H.I. contributed its efforts to the community to resolve the controversies over the master plan for this area, the location of the senior high school and a series of important zoning proposals; and

WHEREAS, on January 21, 1973 Greenbelt Homes, Inc., will have a celebration to mark its twentieth anniversary; now, therefore,

BE IT RESOLVED by the City Council of Greenbelt, Maryland that on behalf of the entire community it extend to its fellow citizens, the members of Greenbelt Homes, Inc., its warm congratulations on this significant anniversary, its sincere hope that G.H.I. will enjoy success and prosperity in the future and its firm belief that Greenbelt Homes, Inc., will continue to play an important role in the life of the community.

Education - The Real Issue

There is at least one person in Boxwood Village who believes in equal educational opportunities for all children, even when it involves some expense and inconvenience for my own family.

Busing has long been considered a safe and efficient method of transporting school children. I can attest that it can be done without physical injury, psychological damage or academic failure. I was bused as a child. My own children have been bused for such reasons as overcrowding, construction work, dangerous highways and no sidewalks. Although better planning by county officials and better coordination between governmental agencies could have prevented most of this busing, I never heard parents complain much about it. Busing only becomes an emotional and political issue when it involves integrating schools.

The real issue before us is quality education for all our children, black and white. All the shouting and demonstrations cannot obscure the fact that segregation itself causes inequality. If we are concerned about all children, not just our own, we will support busing as a necessary if expensive and inconvenient step toward the long-postponed desegregation of our county schools. At the same time, hopefully led by our city officials, we can work toward the long term solution of integrating our community. We should have no trouble doing this in Greenbelt with its rapid turnover in real estate sales and rentals.

I propose that the city council set up a public relations office to publicize the fact that Greenbelt is a great place for families to live - black and white. A vigorous campaign in the right quarters could rapidly integrate our town. Busing as a tool for integrating our schools would end. We could then turn our full attention to the basic problem of improving the quality of our public schools. That's what it is all about.

Mildred Pacl

Deplores Rising Costs, etc.

I'm fed up with the lame-brain excuses that insult my intelligence for things half-done or left undone. I'm fed up with sprawling acres of the most priceless custom-built architectural designs conceivable and incorporating the most costly operational and maintenance features capable of building into our school structures. I'm fed up with the escalation costs of the buses, the drivers, the bus garages, the operational and maintenance expenses, the time lost in traveling and the hazards inherent in busing.

All this so that my kid, and yours, can go to a long since overcrowded classroom where he could possibly be allotted one minute of personal instruction per class. I'm dragged-out tired from this sort of incipience. I'm totally in support of practically constructed local schools more closely attached to the home and its influence. Only in the rural areas where it originated is busing financially feasible. This is the area where it is desired, where it is needed, and where it makes sense.

Some of these people sound as though they have been whipped with a stupid stick when they ask us to blindly comply so that the Constitution will be upheld. What about that part of the Constitution concerning equal rights, pursuit of happiness, freedom of choice, of the people, by the people and for the people, not to mention representation of the masses for the common good. If we don't want to think for ourselves there are plenty of others who are waiting for the chance.

Now Judge Kaufman has received a kind word from neither you nor me. Regardless of his intentions, he has jolted us from our soporific stupor; for this I am grateful. Again, regardless of his intentions, he is doing for us what we wouldn't do for ourselves, and that is - he is bringing us together toward a common goal.

Charles D. Kendall

Where Are You Now?

I have been asked this past week: "Where are all you environmental people now that we need you? When you didn't want a high school in old Greenbelt you shouted about the pollution of the buses. Now buses are invading the county and we have yet to hear from environmentalists against busing."

I could respond with questions of my own. Where have all you safety conscious parents been as Ralph Nader and others have demonstrated the dangers of school buses and all manner of motored vehicles? Have you just now discovered that buses are risky when tens of thousands of P.G. County children have been riding them every day? And whence all this concern for the neighborhood (a valid environmental passion), for walking instead of driving, for bicycling instead of busing? We'll be needing all this new energy in the coming fights against making the B-W Parkway six or eight lanes and extending Kenilworth out to Powder Mill and beyond.

But most of all: where did this sudden zeal for the good of children come from? For that is, I believe, the raw material of an environmental activist. Only when you see the waste of air and land and ocean and plants and people, only when you see overcrowding and overpopulation, only when you see the few decades that scientists give us before famine of body follows famine of soul, only when you see all this in terms of our children does ecology get personal and do persons get angry enough to protest and create alternatives. If you think busing is a threat to kids, you probably haven't read much about land and water and energy in the year 2000.

But I must answer the question originally addressed to me. Very simply, each of us sets priorities, and every good today seems to take its toll. For example, trucks carrying sludge to the research farm will pollute, but perhaps at this time turning waste matter back to good productive earth is worth it. And so this environmental enthusiast must, for once, say, "This trip is necessary! But let's keep pressing for cleaner engines in buses." And not just because segregation is against the law, though that seems to me a just law. Not just because the courts have found de jure segregation in our county, though it seems to me a correct decision. But even more because I believe that to have a future we need the socio-economic integration that busing can help bring. Without that, the cleanest air won't be worth breathing.

Volunteers Needed

We are appealing for volunteers to help with the free heart risk testing, Monday, Feb. 5 through Wed., Feb. 14 at the Ridge Road Center. About 1500 Greenbelt residents will be tested for heart and related diseases by the Heart Association of Southern Maryland. If you have children, we plan a nursery at one of the churches. If you can't drive, we plan bus services by volunteer and qualified bus drivers. Volunteers are needed from 3:30 to 9:30 p.m. during the week and 10 to 6 p.m. Sat. and Sun. For nurse and professional aid, call Marilyn Fowler (after 5 p.m.) 474-5698.

Please call any of the following for further information.

On Special Membership Mtg.

On December 28, 1972 the GHI Board of Directors received a petition signed by some 70 members requesting the board to call a special membership meeting "to discuss the 1973 Budget and determine whether a raise in their 1973 monthly charges is justified". The petition further listed six subjects and a suggested speaker for each. The petition, however, did not indicate any specific action the petitioners wished the GHI membership to consider.

Since the By-Laws require that all members be given due notice of specific business to be considered at special meetings, the Secretary and I met with several representatives of the petitioners, explaining the need to give the membership notice of proposed actions and offered to place any proposals on the agenda (i.e. specific motions or resolutions). They refused to provide any indication of any motions they desired to have passed by the membership. Rather they indicated a desire to make whatever motions they wished at the meeting.

We feel strongly that the membership have a right to know what the issues are well in advance of a meeting so that they may have an opportunity to get the facts, study the issues, discuss them with their neighbors and come to the meeting prepared to vote. The meeting called for January 31, 1973, will discuss the topics as requested in the petition, but no binding action will be taken.

Incidentally, of the six topics listed on the petition, two are not even appropriate for membership action: the legality of the loan to Twin Pines; and the 1973 increase in charges to members. By definition, the legality of any matter may be determined only by legal process - not by popular action. The setting of monthly charges is part of the budget process for which the board is responsible (Article VIII, Section 11) unless an increase of 10% or more in operating payments is required.

As for the renovation program, the board has already expressed its intention to hold a meeting(s) to obtain membership approval prior to starting the program. At present, the Planning Committee is working very hard and as soon as its recommendations are developed and approved by the board a membership meeting will be scheduled. Similarly, the board has considered the major recommendations from the management survey and is in the process of formulating recommendations for the membership. These will be provided for your consideration as soon as possible.

All members are urged to get the facts, study the issues, and express their opinions. Even though no official membership action can be taken at the January 31 meeting, the board is interested in the views expressed. You are urged to come and participate in this meeting.

Learning to Communicate

For many months I have been noting the reactions to proposed busing for Prince Georges County from concerned people inside and outside schools. I would like now to speak to all concerned people about what I believe.

I have attended school in Prince Georges County for 12 years, and have come to the final conclusion that a very important part of my education has been severely damaged by our present school system. Until I reached junior high school I had no contact with kids of different socio-economic or racial backgrounds than my own, or they with me. As a result, it was very hard for us to communicate. If I had grown up with them through elementary school, it would have helped us to communicate so much more than we were able to.

There was a basic building block left entirely out of our education. Our backgrounds had been allowed to separate us until we no longer knew how each other thought and lived. When a child cannot communicate he cannot learn. If a building has a part left out of it, it topples over. I am so thankful that we did not fall, but it was painful to get to know each other. I do not want any child to have to go through what we did.

All of the reading, writing, arithmetic, and show-and-tell in the world will not help your children learn to communicate with other people, and there are too many beautiful people in this world that they will never meet unless you give them the chance.

Your child's education does not end on January 29. With your support it will be just beginning.

Sarah Hanna

Special Thanks

As Chairman of the first Greenbelt Festival of Light, I would like to thank all the people who made it a roaring success.

Thank you - Those individuals and groups who worked on the events.

- Those who publicized the events.
- And those who CAME.

To sum up: People sold crafts (lots of them), people enjoyed crafts (lots of them), and children (lots of them!) enjoyed the crafts Show and Sale. The Goddard Garden Club's Greens Show was much appreciated.

The Happening happened; the pinata broke, and the One Act Play was well received by many, many children - and no few adults.

The craftsmen and participants did enjoy the Do-In.

The city tree was lit and carols were sung despite the near zero weather. The combined Choral Concert was beautiful.

And - last but by far from least - Santa and the puppets arrived in grand style and received all the eager children.

The Committee who worked on all this was marvelous and it could not have been done without all their tireless effort. I would also like to thank the Recreation Center for their support and contribution.

Now - a plea. If you enjoyed the Festival and would like to see it happen again next year, please lend a hand. You can volunteer your time and suggestions by calling the Recreation Center at 474-6878.

COUNCIL SEEKS INFORMATION ON SLUDGE DUMPING GUIDELINES

by Sandra Barnes

Even though the composting of sludge from the Blue Plains treatment plant at the Agricultural Research Center seems imminent, the city council unanimously voted Monday night, January 15, to send a letter to Dr. Perry Stearns, county health officer, questioning certain aspects of the project.

Councilwoman Rhea Cohen listed the questions she wanted Dr. Stearns to reply to. She wanted to know what precautions would be taken to guard against exposure to harmful agents such as heavy metals and radiation, what methods would be used to keep uncomposted materials from being washed into Indian Creek, how many wet tons per day there would be, how noxious odors would be controlled, how the truckers would be restricted to dumping only on the site and not any place in the woods, how the emissions from the trucks would be controlled and whether some engines would cause less air pollution than others. She also expressed concern over the route, noting that in her opinion there would be less congestion if the trucks came and went along the same route, using Greenbelt Rd. instead of Powder Mill Rd. and Kenilworth Avenue.

City manager James Giese responded to some of Mrs. Cohen's questions, stating that at the meeting he attended with the officials from the Department of Agriculture, there had been no discussion of harmful elements; no run-off was expected because of grading and other precautionary treatments; with proper composting there are no noxious odors.

He mentioned that there would be eight cement truckloads per hour and that his impression had been that Blue Plains personnel or the Maryland Environmental Service would be doing the trucking, implying that the air pollutants and the truckers would be controlled by a responsible agency.

Councilwoman Elizabeth Maffav stated that government officials were not responsible to the citizens, but that the county health officer was and that she therefore wanted his opinion on these matters. Mrs. Cohen also noted that the county has to give a permit for the authority over the dumping.

Revenue Sharing

Although council put off any action on the subject, of revenue-sharing until the budget is discussed in the spring, some discussion did ensue concerning possible uses of the revenue sharing funds, some $90,000 of which the city expects to receive. The city manager recommended that the city use the money for the recreation budget and that this would give the city an equivalent amount of money in the general fund to be used for other projects such as additional construction or land acquisition. The reason for not using the revenue-sharing funds outright for the additional projects is the government's restrictions on how the money can be used. For example, no revenue sharing funds can be used when other federal aid money is involved.

Other Business

On Mrs. Cohen's instigation, council agreed to request the city's Community Relations Advisory Board (CRAB) to advise council on whether they saw a role for themselves in aiding in landlord-tenant problems. Mrs. Cohen envisioned that CRAB could act as a referral and investigative service for the council.

Council also agreed to send a letter to the county executive, William Gullett, requesting that a task force be formed to establish building codes to bring all buildings up to standard. Such a task force would be composed of fire and building inspectors, owners, municipal and fire officials, and tenants.

Finally, the city manager gave an information report on the Youth Service Bureau which is a family-oriented counseling service, connected with Greenbelt Cares, to be established with federal funds received from the state and administered locally by the city manager and the assistant city manager, who will be project director. The city manager noted that he hoped to have the project operating by February 1 on a 60-hour per week basis. The city will receive $58,998 in federal funds this year, but next year may be asked to put up 5% in matching funds. Part of the purpose of the project is to show a correlation between such counseling services and low crime statistics.

The city also passed a resolution congratulating Greenbelt Homes, Inc., on its twentieth anniversary. Also in a public hearing held prior to the regular meeting the city formally agreed to annex the 3.9 acres of land on the northeast corner of the city received from the federal government. The next step in the process is to advertise the annexation and wait 45 days. If no petitions for a referendum on the subject are received, then the annexation becomes law.

Junior Highlights

by Chip Collins

"Goodbye My Love" is the title of the last dance for Greenbelt students. Dress will be jacket or sweater with tie for boys, girls semi-formal. The dance will be on Jan. 20, 8-11 p.m. at Greenbelt Junior High School.

On Jan. 27 and 28, ninth grade students from Greenbelt Junior High will attend the 17th annual New York trip. Sights they will see include Hayden Planetarium, N.B.C., Radio Music Hall, the United Nations, and the Statue of Liberty.

The dance and the New York trip were moved up because of the busing, and because of the busing, this is one of my last articles for Greenbelt Junior High.

Boxwood Civic Association

Greenbelt, Maryland

The following resolution was presented to the Prince George's County School Board, Upper Marlboro, Maryland, on Wednesday, January 17, 1973, by representatives of Boxwood Civic Association.

RESOLUTION

WHEREAS, the citizens of Boxwood Village, City of Greenbelt, Prince George's County, Maryland, are presently faced with forced transfer of resident public school children; and

WHEREAS, the citizens of Boxwood Village are and have been living together without regard to race, creed, or national origin, in the spirit of the United States Constitution and laws of the United States; and

WHEREAS, the community is composed of single-family dwellings, has adopted a policy of open housing since its inception, and is being increasingly integrated; and

WHEREAS, it appears that the current plan approved by the Court was developed without careful evaluation of the communities or the schools which will be affected; and

WHEREAS, the plan, as it applies to the schools to which and from which the children of Boxwood Village will be transferred, is illogical, in that it provides no educational improvements to the children of the schools involved; and

WHEREAS, the selection of children to be transferred by designating specific housing developments and apartment complexes is a form of discrimination, in that it will allow persons to circumvent the law by directing movement to developments not subject to transfer; and

WHEREAS, the necessary and proper interaction between school and community is greatly attenuated by distance, in that participation in parent-teacher conferences, PTA, social events, and student activities will be greatly diminished; and

WHEREAS, the citizens of Boxwood Village are categorically opposed to the use of forced busing to achieve racial balance; and

WHEREAS, the citizens of Boxwood are firmly committed to the concept of community schools.

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED THAT the Boxwood Civic Association requests the Prince George's County Board of Education instruct the Superintendent of Schools and his staff that future plans for transfer to exclude the children of Boxwood Village, City of Greenbelt.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED THAT the Boxwood Civic Association requests that the Prince George's County Board of Education instruct the Superintendent of Schools and his staff that future plans be developed in conjunction with and in cooperation with the communities, the community organizations, and the schools which will be affected.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED THAT the Boxwood Civic Association strongly urges the citizens of Prince George's County to conscientiously maintain the judicial integrity of the Courts and the U. S. Constitution and as responsible citizens obey lawful and effective Court orders and to refrain from acts that would endanger the safety of our children or disrupt the educational process.

Passed by the Boxwood Civic Association at a special meeting held on January 11, 1973

How come this kid has more money saved than you do?

Take stock in America. Now Bonds pay a bonus at maturity.

Because over the years his parents have invested in U.S. Savings Bonds—in his name, for his future—by participating in the Payroll Savings Plan at work.

He probably doesn't even know. And right now, he couldn't care less. But when he's older, that money can be used for a lot of things—a car, a college education, or even a new home.

The Payroll Savings Plan is an easy way to save money for you and every member of your family. When you join, an amount you designate will be automatically laid aside from your paycheck and invested in U.S. Savings Bonds. It's a painless way to save.

And now there's a bonus interest rate on all U.S. Savings Bonds—for E Bonds, 5½% when held to maturity of 5 years, 10 months (4% the first year). That extra ½%, payable as a bonus at maturity, applies to all Bonds issued since June 1, 1970 . . . with a comparable improvement for all older Bonds.

Join the Payroll Savings Plan where you work and make your son the richest kid on the block.

Bonds are safe. If lost, stolen, or destroyed, we replace them. When needed, they can be cashed at your bank. Tax may be deferred until redemption. And always remember, Bonds are a proud way to save.
