After the parade, judges will determine the prize winners. Greenbelt's Outstanding Citizen will present the awards at the stage in the carnival area.

County Schools Reopen

It's that time of year again -Prince Georges county public schools will reopen on Tues., Sept. 7, for all boys and girls in kindergarten through Grade 12. The 184day school year ends June 17, 1977. There will be fewer buses transporting pupils in the county this year (down from 895 last year to 812 - a reduction of about 9%) and fewer total miles travelled by the buses in service. Sixty buses in the fleet will be new, replacing buses retired in the past year. Schedules and bus stop information will be sent to pupils prior to the opening date. (See Eleanor Roosevelt and Parkdale bus schedules printed elsewhere in this issue of the News Review.)

Registration

State law requires school attendance by every boy and girl be-tween the ages of 6 and 16. Children who will be five years old on or before January 1, 1977 may attend kindergarten this fall. Parents registering their children for kindergarten, or to begin school here for the first time, should have a birth certificate and immunization record with them at the time of registration.

Parents or guardians of youngsters entering Prince Georges schools for the first time are required to complete an "affidavit of disclosure" at the time of registration, for legal proof of resi-

Lunches

The board has been able to hold the line on school lunch prices, at least for the first semester. Elementary students will pay 50c and secondary students 55c. Milk prices will go up from 7c to 10c a half pint.

Hours

Schools attended by Greenbelt students will operate during the following hours: Eleanor Roosevelt Senior High, 9:30 a.m. - 4:15 p.m.; Mary Bethune Junior High, 9:30 a.m. - 4 p.m.; Center Elementary, 9 a.m. - 3 p.m.; North End, 9:35 a.m. - 3:35 p.m.; John Carroll. 8:05 a.m. - 2:05 p.m.; Oakcrest, 9:08 a.m. - 3:08 p.m.; and Springhill Lake, 9:08 a.m. - 3:08 p.m.

Parkdale

Greenbelt students Parkdale Senior High School this year will be mainly seniors. An Open House for students and parents will be held tonight (Thursday) from 7 to 9 p.m.

Springill Lake

Springhill Lake elementary school students will have to get to school a half hour earlier than last year. This year's school hours will be from 9:08 a.m. to 3:08 p.m. As in other years kindergarteners and first graders will receive cards the mail over the weekend giving their class assignments. Second through sixth graders should go to the front door of the school on the first day. Here the whole grade will be directed to one classroom where the children will meet their teachers and get their individual classroom assignments.

Report Cards

Report cards for elementary students will be different. Students will receive marks of A, B, C. D and E in place of the former VG. S. NI and U. In addition, the level of instructional materials will be marked under reading, spelling, mathematics and language. Thus, a parent will be able to tell, for instance, whether his 5th grader is performing on a 4th. 5th or 6th grade level, and how well.

The Kids Are Coming -- at Last As Eleanor Roosevelt Opens

by Mary Colombo

September 7 will be an extra special day for approximately 1,400 students attending the new Eleanor Roosevelt High School. After years of planning and construction and months of argument over who should attend the school and what kind of program it should offer, they will be the first ones to try it and see how it works. These students will mold the character, start the traditions, and to some degree determine the kind of school that Eleanor Roosevelt becomes.

Students already have chosen their courses and received information regarding bus schedules and opening day operation. (Elsewhere in this edition of the News Review is the bus schedule for Greenbelt students.) The school day is from 9:30 a.m. to 4:15 p.m. The school day is divided into seven periods plus a lunch period All students are expected to eat lunch in the school cafeteria. There they may either buy their lunch or eat one brought from home. The time of lunch periods for each student will be announced during homeroom on the first day.

Will everything be ready by opening day? If principal Ray Ogden and his staff have their way. yes indeed! However, even their enthusiasm and dedication will probably not solve all problems by September 7. Still the kids will find that, even though things may be a bit disorganized at first, school routine will shortly fall into place.

Doubtless the massive "move in and getting settled" operation will continue past the opening day. Thousands of boxes have to be unpacked, some 100 classrooms and labs, recreational areas, the cafeteria and offices have to be stocked. Library books have to be catalogued and shelved. Hundreds of pieces of equipment have to be tested and all kinds of supplies put in place before the school settles down to a normal routine

Special Equipment

The school itself, though not lavish, has features and equipment not found in other county high schools and never used in school buildings of even a decade ago.

NO BEER AT FESTIVAL

by Sandra Barnes

For the first time in several years, the Steering Committee of the Greenbelt Labor Day Festival voted it would not ask for a special exception to the city ordinance which prohibits beer from being consumed in the area of the Greenbelt Shopping Mall. This means that no organization will operate a beer booth, nor will beer or any other alcoholic beverage be permitted in the Festival area.

Beer was first sold at the Festival in conjunction with the annual crab feast. When the organization sponsoring the crab feast decided to abandon their activity, the beer concession was picked up by the Young Republicans, who have operated this booth for the past several years.

However, the Steering Committee decided that too many problemsprincipally underage youngsters being able to purchase the beer and inability of the police to properly enforce the regulations - came as a direct result of the sale of beer at the festival. It is hoped that this policy of the Festival Committee will eliminate the rowdyism which sometimes occurs in the late evening hours and will lead to greater enforcement of existing regulations by the Greenbelt po-"an denartment,

CENTURIANS PERFORM

The Centurians, a 5-piece drum ensemble, will be appearing on the Festival Stage on Sunday, at 3:50 p.m. Come hear them perform and herald in the Talent Show.

St. Hugh's School Hours

St. Hugh's School will open its doors on Tuesday, Sept. 7. There will be half-day sessions, 8:30 a.m. to 12 noon, during the first week of school. Regular hours will run from 8:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. starting on Monday, Sept. 13.

For example, in addition to fire alarms, there are smoke detectors, security equipment, air conditioning, special flooring and wall coverings in some areas for safety or sound proofing. In addition, there are the many kinds of machines and equipment necessary to stock the industrial labs. The school will have its own computer to be used by students in such classes as business and mathematics.

From the outside the new building seems massive. It is plain, brown brick, virtually windowless, except for stairwells on the outside which use daylight for lighting. The interior doesn't seem lightless or closed-in though. This may be because the building's three floors are open at either end to a concourse area, lighted partially by skylights on the roof. In the center of the building is the Media Center. It too is the full height of the building with skylights at the Classrooms are arranged in "pods". In other words classrooms used essentially for the same kinds of activities are grouped together. All biology labs are together, for instance, and the industrial arts labs are together in one wing.

The uniqueness of Eleanor Roosevelt, of course, lies in its combination of comprehensive and technical programs. In this respect it is different from other county high schools. The technology program, unlike other county high schools, will accept applications from students in any part of the county. Some of the students attending this year will travel as much as two hours each way by bus in order to get there. To be eligible for this program students had to pass a number of special tests.

Technical Programs

Courses in the technology programs are concentrated in science, math and industrial arts. Within these broad areas students can choose from a number of different courses. For example, in industrial arts, students may study such subjects as energy technology, industrial fabrication or visual communications technology.

The school has impressive facilities for its audio visual communications courses. The school has its own TV studio. Here students and teachers will be able to film their own programs in color. Facilities include a studio and a control room. There will be 30 TV located throughout school. Although regular school announcements can't be broadcast on TV because there are not TVs in all rooms, each science lab will have a set so that TV can be used as a regular teaching aid.

In addition, the school has its own print shop and dark room so processes as photographic offset printing, photographic screen-process printing, publication production and photography.

Comprehensive Program

The comprehensive program is a regular county high school program including general academic and business courses such as English, math, and history. These classes will generally be made up of students from both the technical and comprehensive sections of the school. In English classes students will be more or less grouped by ability. The English department. will test all students at the beginning of the school year. Since students already have their academic schedules, there will be no changes made in the time they have English classes. Instead they may change classes within the same time period so teachers can put students of similar ability together.

Courses will also be offered in art, foreign languages, music, and home economics. To aid survival after graduation, students can take a course in bachelor living. Here students can expect to ponder such subjects as cleaning, cooking, meal planning and safety and efficiency in the kitchen.

Auditorium

The auditorium, a magnificent room, has seating for 800. (It won't hold the entire student body at the same time, however.) It will have a stage fully equipped for dramatic productions, including a complete control room for lights,

Solar Heat and Heat Pump

To the Editor:

At a short telephone co. T.V. commercial of a solar installation combined with a heat pump, the price quoted was $10,000. This could possibly be reduced through quantity production to $7,000 per installation.

Being acquainted with the heat pump's performance on both Long Island, N.Y. and Florida and its dependability to heat and cool if properly installed, I can see the advantage of combining both systems in new developments especially designed to take maximum advantage of a new heating system. It would eliminate the necessity of a boiler and oil storage tank, as everything runs by electricity.

At present the solar heat installations are too expensive as they also require a conventional supplementary heating system. One must also add the cost of panel replacement about every five years.

I personally favor the heat pump as being a most efficient, economical heating and cooling system requiring no additional means of heating.

Policy Toward Gambling

To the Editor:

A short time ago I learned of the existence of the Commission on the Review of the National Policy Toward Gambling. This is a committee of fifteen persons composed of Senators, Congressmen, and private citizens brought together for the purpose of examining federal policies toward gambling and taxation of gambling income. Gladys Spellman, our Representative in Congress, is a member of this group. In response to my inquiry, she sent me a copy of the Second Interim Report of the Commission, a 75 page document which reviews enforcement problems, statutes. criminal gambling activities, and related matters

I was very pleased to note that Congresswoman Spellman extended a cordial invitation to me to express my views on these problems to the Commission. I intend to do this as soon as I have digested the material more fully. Meanwhile, readers who are interested can obtain the same report for the asking. Write Rep. Gladys N. Spellman, House of Representatives, Washington, D.C., 20515.

Concern Expressed Over Future of B-W Pkwy.

by Al Skolnik

Highways and parkways occupied the attention of city council at its special meeting on Monday, August 30. Introduced for first reading was a resolution for retaining control of the Baltimore-Washington Parkway by the National Park Service (NPS). Congressional legislation now provides for the transfer of the Parkway to the Maryland Department of Transportation (DOT) after the Parkway is widened and other "improvements" are completed upgrading it to Federal interstate standards.

tember 1, the city did not have sufficient time to secure additional

City manager James Giese said

that other companies have generally been reluctant to bid for municipal liability insurance. Northwestern is offering reduced coverage at substantially increased prices - about $15,000 above the budgeted amount. A member of the audience suggested that the city

look into the purchase of workmen's compensation insurance from the Maryland State Accident Fund.

The city of Cheverly has readopted a similar resolution. Cheverly and Greenbelt, along with other communities along the Parkway, fear that bringing the Parkway up to interstate standards may alter many of its present park-like qualities and destroy its effectiveness as a pleasant and scenic entrance to the Nation's capital.

Councilman Tom White, who introduced the resolution, said that it is becoming increasingly evident that the best chance for the city's recommendations to be heeded is if the Parkway stays under the control of the NPS. The ecuncil has opposed opening the Parkway to truck traffic and any unnecessary widening, and has favored enhancing the Parkway right-of-way with such features as bikeways, pedestrian paths, and pienic facilities.

Outer Beltway

White also brought council up to date on the status of the Outer Beltway, expressing concern over continuous efforts to construct a connector between the Baltimore-Washington Parkway and I-95 as part of the Outer Beltway. Couneil has been opposed to this connector because of the impact of increased traffic on the B-W Parkway as it passes Greenbelt.

The Maryland DOT has been reviewing this project along with other related projects and has asked for the views of the county councils of Prince Georges and Montgomery counties by the end of September. White suggested that the council inform the Prince Georges county council of its opposition to the connector.

Council agreed to a three-prong campaign: (1) communicate opposition to the county council, county delegation, and the DOT; (2) remind everyone of recently passed legislation prohibiting the I-95 connector; and (3) enlist the support of other municipalities against the connector.

Extension of Kenilworth

Council expressed its view that the widening of Kenilworth Ave. to Route 1 as a dual-lane highway is a low-priority item which should be subordinated to the improvement of the intersection of Greenbelt Rd. and Kenilworth Ave. The DOT held a public hearing on the Kenilworth extension on Wednesday, Sept. 1 in which seven possible alignments were presented for

Hope Held Out For Transfers To Roosevelt

The Prince Georges Board of Education has voted to allow 45 students (38 whites and 9 blacks) now enrolled at Fairmont Heights senior high school to transfer to the new Eleanor Roosevelt senior high, to open in Greenbelt this fall, if September 30th enrollment figures at Fairmont show the transfers would not push the percentage of black students at Fairmont over the 50% mark. Debate on the complex question carried the board's August 26 meeting till nearly midnight.

More than a dozen parents and students from the Cheverly area addressed the Board, taking issue with its previous decisions barring any Fairmont Heights high school students from participating in the open enrollment program at Roosevelt. Those decisions had been based on Supreme Court guidelines indicating that any action taken by a local school system which has the effect of undoing a court-ordered desegregation plan may invite further court intervention. The Prince Georges county public schools were released from the supervision of the U.S. District Court in Baltimore last March, and board members have stepped carefully to avoid anything that could invite a federal judge back into the management of the schools here

Many of the parents told the board that they felt the action parring their children from Roosevelt was unfairly discriminatory, and board member Nicholas R. Eny, who has been fighting that action, argued that August enrollment figures for Fairmont Heights invalidated the initial staff projections on which the original decision was based. But board attorney Paul M. Nussbaum advised that the only legally sound enrollment figures on which to base any reversal of the original action would be those from Fairmont after classes begin next month.

All of the board members expressed sympathy with the concerns raised by the parents, but a majority felt that it would not be safe to offer them any hope of relief until the end of September. Of course, if last spring's September enrollment projections hold up when students return, there will be no change, and no transfers from Fairmont to Roosevelt's open enrollment program.

Roosevelt Democratic Club New Greenbelt Organization

On June 18, 1976, a group of area Democrats met in order to form a new Democratic Club. One of the first orders of business was a unanimous decision to name the club the Franklin and Eleanor Roosevelt Democratic Club, a tribute to two great Democrats who were closely tied to the city of Greenbelt.

According to the Constitution, passed at the August 20 meeting. the purpose of the Roosevelt Democratic Club is "to assist and strengthen the Democratic Party of Prince Georges County by encouraging all eligible voters to exercise their right to vote and by registered voters." The club meets at Greenbriar Community Center on the third Friday of each month.

All Democrats living in the 21st Election District are eligible to become voting members of the club. The district encompasses all of Greenbelt, including University Charlestowne Village, Square, Springhill Lake and Greenbriar, as well as part of the Cipriano Woods, and all of Woodhome Forest, Chelsea Woods, Brae Brooke Village, Magnolia Woodlock, Springs Schrom Hills, Goodluck Estates, Westchester Park, Hunting Ridge and Goddard Space Village. Representatives from each of these areas are encouraged to become ac-

The first activity in the 1976 program is the Club's participation in the Greenbelt Labor Day Festival. Club members will become peanut vendors for the four-day festival, selling "Peanuts from Plains". Other offerings at the Club's booth will be Carter/Mondale, Sarbanes, and Spellman buttons and pins. Representatives Sarbanes and Spellman will be dropping by the hooth on Labor Day to extend their greetings to the Club.

Flu Shot Program Readying for Oct.

Prince Georges county is ready to move forward with an unprecedented public health program to immunize county residents against the A/New Jersey influenza (swine flu). The county executive and county council have attached "the highest priority to the planning, coordination and implementation of activities involved in executing this urgent community health program," according to a joint proclamation issued last week.

The anticipated arrival date of the vaccines is about October 1 and the week of October 11 has been tentatively designated for immunization in the 24th Legislative district, which includes Greenbelt. Clinics will be located at DuVal Senior High School on October 16 and 17 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. and again on October 31 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

At this point, the most critical need is for volunteers to assist in registration, clerical work, tallying of dosages, etc. For each three hour clinic, two health department shot teams will be supported by 20 local volunteers, a number of volunteer nurses and one volunteer physician from the county medical society.

Those wishing to volunteer may call Bessie Ramsey, 474-0993 mornings, Paula Smith 474-5043 afternoons, and Nancy Spong 474-7296 evenings.

Community groups and healthrelated organizations such as the American Red Cross, Lung Association, Heart Association and the county medical society participated in the organization of the immunization program.

Choral Society Try-Outs

The Greenbelt Choral Arts Society will begin rehearsals for the 1976-77 season on Tuesday, September 7, at 7:30 p.m. in the music room of Greenbelt Jr. High School. David Hardin will be resident conductor for the planned Christmas program while regular conductor and music director Douglas Freeman takes a fall sabbatical to work on his Master's degree.

The Society's Christmas program will feature Benjamin Britten's "Ceremony of Carols," a collection of ancient English Carols. Also featured will be Heinrich Schutz's "Christmas Story," a Baroque piece. Other works to be performed will be Brahms' "Christmas Lullaby," and David Willocks' "Ding Dong Merrily on High."

The Greenbelt Choral Arts Society, sponsored by the City Recreation Department, is open to all people with interest and the ability to sing. Voice placement for the Chorus will be held September 10 and 11. Details will be given at the September 7 rehearsal. All interested persons are asked to call Mary Kimmel at 474-5948.
