Dancing, Listening, Looking - Something For Everyone on July 4th Weekend

by Helen Webb

Greenbelt, as in years past, is celebrating the Fourth in many ways. There will be tournaments, a street dance, concerts, and of course, fireworks! Three concerts are scheduled to entertain the celebrants. On Friday, July 3, from 8:30 - 10:30 p.m., there will be a "sock hop" in front of the Mother and Child statue in the Center. A D.J. will be spinning your favorite Swing Time tunes of the 40's, including works by Jimmy Dorsey, Harry James and the Big Bands. Whether you like dancing or listening, come and enjoy! (Rain date will be Friday, July 10.)

On July 4, from 2:30 p.m. to 4 p.m. at the lake bandstand, there will be a rock concert by the local group, "Playing for Keeps." The group, whose members are Amy Aycock, James Crockitt, Chris and Phil McConnell, and David Sardelli, will be playing pieces from performers ranging from Linda Ronstadt to "Journey."

Later, at 7 p.m., the Greenbelt Concert Band will perform its traditional concert. This year's M.C. will be Stephen Polaschik. The band, conducted by John DelHomme, will feature soprano soloist Charlotte Kaminski, saxophone soloist Caroline Cherrix, and a special performance by a saxophone octet and will conclude with traditional Independence Day music, including Tchaikovsky's 1812 Overture.

And then come the fireworks! The fireworks display will start around 8:30 or 9 p.m. and last for 20 or 25 minutes. Zambelli Fireworks Internationale will provide this year's spectacular. The show will be about the same as last year's, except the number of ground displays has been diminished from nine to six. The event will cost $3491; $2791 for the fireworks (down slightly from last year's $2851) and $700 for their launching by Zambelli and assistants. If it rains on the Fourth, the show will take place on the fifth or on the first day that weather permits.

Parking

Parking is expected to be as bad as ever this year. It is recommended that residents walk to the lake. Police will not be enforcing "no parking" regulations on the Fourth, but persons are advised to park their cars away from fire hydrants and not to block roadways or park in the street.

Groups are not permitted to reserve picnic areas at the Lake

Park on the Fourth. All facilities will be available for use; the spillway area, where the fireworks will be set up will be off limits. Picnickers should observe the following rules: no swimming; no alcoholic beverages at the lake; all animals leashed; all private boats registered with the city; and firecrackers and sparklers prohibited. Not only are they illegal in Maryland, but they are especially dangerous at the celebration at the lake, because of the number of people about.

On the Fourth, both the Springhill Lake Recreation Center and the Youth Center will be open from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. The municipal pool will open at 1 p.m. and close at 8 p.m.

The Firecracker Tennis Tournament will be taking place at the Braden Field Tennis Courts on Friday from 5 p.m. till dark; Saturday and Sunday, from 8 a.m. to dark.

Greenbelt also hosts the Slow Pitch Softball Tournament over the weekend. Twelve teams are entered in both the "A" and "B" divisions. The games will start on Friday at 6 p.m., and on Saturday and Sunday at 9 a.m. Games will take place at the Braden and Northway fields. The women's tournament will be held next week.

Labor Day Festival

Preparations for the 1981 Labor Day Festival began even before the first day of summer. However with the advent of summer these preparations are accelerating. Steering Committee meetings, which are open to the public, are held in the Greenbelt Library Conference room beginning at 7:30 p.m. Meetings will be held on July 8 and 22, August 5, 12, 19, and 26, and September 2 and 16. August 19 is the meeting for all organizations that plan to have a booth at the Festival. September 16 is the evaluation meeting.

Any Greenbelt non-profit organization is eligible to participate in the Labor Day Festival. Not only can funds be raised, but programs can be given publicity.

Worried Citizens Attend CRAB Crime Meeting

by Mavis Fletcher

In response to an urgent citizen request, the Community Relations Advisory Board (CRAB) held a brief public meeting prior to a scheduled work session on June 17 to allow a group of concerned citizens to appear before it and express opinions on the forthcoming CRAB report on crime prevention improvement.

CRAB will hold a public information meeting next Tuesday, July 7, 8 p.m. in the council room of the Municipal Building. The board is seeking citizen ideas for a community-wide crime prevention program.

Mrs. Mary Tschabrunn of 6-C Plateau was spokeswoman for a group of women who, alarmed by a recent daylight rape, wished to urge CRAB to step up its efforts. Tschabrunn, who said she had been looking for an official body with a mandate in crime prevention for two months before reading of CRAB's activities in this field in the News Review, urged that the public meeting date be pushed up; that women be cautioned not to walk alone; that a crime watch be instituted; that some means be established for recognizing workmen in the area; and that consideration be given to equipping women with chemical dispersers, police whistles or other self-defense mechanisms.

Edward Putens, chairman of CRAB pointed out that CRAB is in the midst of planning a major advisory report and that a key element in that report will be citizen input. He advised all those who are concerned with this problem to get involved. He reminded Tschabrunn that for instance, she had learned of CRAB's interest in crime prevention only through the publicity given by the News Review.

Steven Curtis 9-M Ridge Road, said that he thought there is a need for police foot patrols in residential areas. Putens pointed out that foot patrols tie up large numbers of police and make it difficult for the police to respond to special needs in another area.

Several participants in the meeting said that additional public education is needed. For example people need to know what to look for in identifying a suspicious event and when to call the police. Katherine Keene, CRAB member expressed the opinion that people have to accept the police's stopping them and asking questions. She pointed out that the police have become very sensitive about this procedure because of the criticism they have had to take.

Putens ended the public forum by asking that those who took time to come could help get out a large representation at the forthcoming public meeting.

Greenbelt Homes Has New Assistant Manager

Shekar Narasimhan has been named Greenbelt Homes, Inc. (GHI) Assistant General Manager. Joining the staff on June 29, Narasimhan replaces Tim Mitter who became General Manager following the resignation of Ken Kopstein.

Earlier he was an Associate Director for Field Programs of Rural America, Inc. He also served as Director of Housing of the Human/Economic Appalachian Development Corporation in Berea, Kentucky, where he established a technical assistance program for nonprofit housing groups in the 4-state Appalachian region as well as publishing a monthly newsletter. He has also worked as an economic planner, data compiler, editor, and consultant.

NCCB, GHI Prepare to Close On $13.7 million Rehab Loan

The Greenbelt Homes, Inc. Rehab program took a giant step forward on Monday night when the board voted unanimously to close the $13,677,978 loan from the National Consumers Cooperative Bank (NCCB) at 13.25% guaranteed for 5 years. President Jim Smith said, "It's a normal agreement — we pay interest, have a mortgage, do the planned work on Rehab."

The loan does not include any extra monies for contingencies, but does include a mandatory purchase of NCCB stock by GHI. The future value of this stock is unknown, nor is it known whether at some future time GHI might sell the stock or if it will pay some sort of dividend. If the government were to abolish the NCCB as it at one time threatened then the stock would be repurchased by the government.

"We were surprised," Smith stated, "that NCCB wanted to close as rapidly as they did, but they wanted to get things moving, and that is why there was such short notice. After several hours of discussion the Board voted unanimously to proceed with getting the loan. Now we should be able to get on with the rest of Rehab."

Second reading of the resolution and motion to close will be on the Board agenda at its regular meeting on Thursday, July 2.

Community Relations Advisory Board Public Information Meeting

Tuesday, July 7, 1981, 8:00 p.m.

The Community Relations Advisory Board will conduct a public information meeting on the development of a community-wide crime prevention program. All citizens are urged to attend to give their views and recommendations for the development of this program. This meeting will be held in the Council Room of the Municipal Building, 25 Crescent Road.

Policy on Letters to the Editor

We have spelled out our policy on letters before, but every now and then it bears repeating. Accordingly, letter writers are reminded that letters must contain the name, address and telephone number of the writer.

We will withhold the author's name in some circumstances, but under no circumstances can we print a letter unless we know who wrote it.

Membership Approval Needed for Change

To the Editor:
 In an otherwise excellent account of a meeting difficult to report, your reporter misunderstood or I failed to make clear that earlier this year the GHI board exceeded its authority in voting not to repurchase the new homes—25 townhouses and four free-standing homes—when they are offered for sale. The policy that GHI repurchase was adopted specifically by the membership in 1967. It can be changed by the membership, but not by the board.

CLARIFICATION

(Editor's Note: Following are excerpts of a letter dealing with the Nyman suit from Janet James written to the GHI Board of Directors. In response to her request for clarification of points made in the letter and reported on in last week's issue, the News Review received permission to print the pertinent parts.)
To the Board of Directors Greenbelt Homes, Inc.

..... This matter might not have come up if Maryland had had a law governing and protecting cooperatives, but it hasn't. Many other states have.

My suggestions would be that we stick strictly to the letter of the Court ruling, but go to the legislature, or State Assembly and ask for a law of that sort. It would be wise to have a model law to present to them and our attorneys should be able to come up with one from another state which has been tested in the Court.

Don't say it is too late for that. The many years I worked for Internal Revenue, I saw case after case where taxpayers lost in the Supreme Court, and then went across the street to Congress and got legislation passed which nullified the Supreme Court ruling. Since there is only corporation law in Maryland, the Court couldn't have ruled other than it did. There is a possibility that we can get cooperative law in Maryland; at least we can try.

Upholding Original Plan

To the Editor:
 I like screened porches. When I moved into my present honeymoon bungalow, it had a narrow 4' x 13' unscreened and partly unroofed porch. I wished to extend the width to 7', have it roofed and screened. Stan Sersen, Staff Architect for Greenbelt Homes, said, "No." He disapproved my plans not because they would be unsightly or unsafe, but simply because the porch so constructed would destroy a bit of the original plan of Greenbelt.

Stan says the four Honeymoon Bungalows, of which mine is one, are supposed to cluster together, sort of like the extended arms of a four-pointed star, and when one approaches them down the inner walkway, one is supposed to have everything open enough to see and enjoy the placement of the houses. My porch would have interfered with that view.

I can't have the porch I planned and I AM DELIGHTED! It hadn't occurred to me that my plans were destroying an aesthetic concept of Greenbelt. I am so pleased that Stan would not let me, in my ignorance, violate this plan that I wish to commend him publicly. I am sure that so long as he is Staff Architect, "we will not have architectural atrocity piled on atrocity around our community.

Stan suggested another treatment for my screened porch which will not be quite so satisfactory insofar as the use of the porch is concerned, but it will not spoil the open concept he speaks of. I expect to have my porch built in accordance with his suggestion. Thank you, Stan. Long may you be with us.

Janet M. James

Discriminatory

To the Editor:
 I am writing to beg your discontinuance of a practice that is highly discriminatory and that causes many of your readers, and me in particular, to wonder about your editorial outlook. Are you trying to alarm the public by mentioning the race of suspected criminals only when they are black, or is this just an oversight? Mind you, the result is the same, the feelings of one group are hurt and ignored and those who have a racist bent can proffer your "Police Blotter" column to substantiate whatever twisted beliefs they hold.

For all our sakes, please leave race out of the column.

Sharon K. Anthony

Editor's Note: We agree with the writer's sentiments; however, when a suspect has not been apprehended, race is a basic identifying characteristic. We agree that usually the race of a victim need not be mentioned nor of an offender who has been apprehended.

SAVE ENERGY

To the Editor:
 The usual weather this time of year is too hot for comfort, so most of us have prevailed upon our air conditioners by now to save our health and sanity. Aren't we lucky to have these electrical angels of mercy? Of course. And that's what makes me nervous, because I believe reports that energy sources are drying up rather quickly.

Therefore, I would like to make a request of all those who own and regularly use an air conditioner: Please give the day a chance before you turn it on. Often a fan will do the trick at a fraction of the power. I'm amazed at how cool my home stays even on 90° days; I walk outside and a blast of hot air hits, but inside it's quite bearable. So when I hear other air conditioners churning away, even on lovely, unhot days like last Wednesday, I worry that we may run out of energy on a day when we really need relief. Please, discriminate and conserve.

Ruth Kastner

THANKS

To the Editor:
 The family of Allen Guy Clute wish to express their gratitude for the many cards, flowers, contributions to Greenbelt CARES, and other thoughtful acts of kindness and generosity sent in Allen's memory. Our special thanks to Jim Holmes and the staff of Greenbelt CARES, all of our friends and neighbors, Mayor Weidenfeld and the City Council, and the Greenbelt Police Department and Rescue Squad.

Allen was a bright, promisingly-talented, sensitive young man whose loss will be keenly felt not only by his family, but judging from the expressions of sympathy received, by many other individuals of all ages. Perhaps his untimely death will have a far-reaching effect on the youth of "today's" Greenbelt; we certainly hope so.

From one of Allen's poems:
 "He Loves the beauty of the outdoors, as he stands and soaks it all in;
 But it will never fill a certain emptiness within.
 He's been sailing on the sea of time, with its waves stormy and high;
 As they try to sink his ship so fine;
 And I'll try hard to keep my boat afloat; But I'm running out of time!"

Educator Retires

Katherine Keene: Activist, Teacher, Feminist

by Rose-Anne Lenchek

Some folks live their lives peacefully and then kind of sink into the quiet haven of retirement. But people aren't likely to forget Katie Keene so quickly. She's been a vocal member of the Greenbelt community for too long to fade easily from memory and she doesn't plan on disappearing into obscurity either.

Two weeks ago Katherine Keene officially retired from her job at Eleanor Roosevelt High School, where she has taught history since the school opened in 1976. A luncheon at Roosevelt drew many co-workers and friends including two long-time friends who served together with Katie Keene as WACs during World War II. Jean Farrell, a close friend and Roosevelt teacher expressed the sentiment that Roosevelt was losing a valuable instructor. "She's a scholar", Farrell said, "the kind of teacher a student ought to experience at least once."

Before taking the job at Roosevelt Katie Keene taught at High Point Senior High School for 17 years. Francis Tracey, the school's principal, explained why Katie Keene leaves an impression on the people she works with: "When I first met her she kind of floored me," he chuckled. "But I learned to love and admire her."

Outspokenness is the quality that many people attribute to Katie Keene. And she is the first to admit that she has strong opinions.

An ardent feminist, Ms. Keene wears an ERA bracelet which she vowed she will not take off until the bill is passed. "I'll probably still be wearing it when I'm floating in a jar of formaldehyde," she scoffed.

When she was presented with the opportunity to teach history from a book entitled Men and Nations, she promptly returned the 200 copies, refusing to teach from a sexist textbook. The new edition coming out this summer, will have a new title.

Her views on many subjects have been voiced at community meetings in Greenbelt for 22 years. When Katie Keene moved to Greenbelt from Washington state in 1959 she quickly became involved in city activities.

A neighbor encouraged her to attend some GHI meetings, which she described as "three-ring circuses" back in those days. She quickly became an active member of GHI. "Once you get involved," she smiled, "soon they have you running for mayor."

The mayor's job is just about the only post the activist hasn't held. In addition to participating in many community groups she sat on the GHI board of directors for six years. She said she enjoyed that position because, "when you teach, especially if you're single, you don't have any contact with adults."

Charlie Schwan, who was board chairman for part of the time Katie Keene was a board member, said there were a number of times when they were on opposite sides of an issue. "She was easy enough to work with . . . but on some occasions she could be obstinate as hell," he laughed.

Another contribution to Greenbelt Katie Keene considered important was her 13 years of work with the Community Relations Advisory Board. One of the projects she was involved with entailed investigating juvenile quarters at the police station, which led to a push to build a larger city hall. She also is involved in CRAB's current city-wide crime prevention program which draws on community participation.

Presently, Katie Keene sits on the GHI Audit Committee, which keeps an eye on the activities of board and management for the members.

Being a visible community member had disadvantages, though, since she played the additional role of a teacher.

"I feel very, very strongly that teachers can do an awful lot for their students when they live in their community," she said. "But you pay a price in vandalism."

She described incidents of rocks thrown through her windows and fires burned on her front lawn. "I had eggs on the outside of the house," she recalled. "It looked like an omelet."

Katie Keene said that students pick on her because of her unique teaching method. "You don't look to your students for friendship," she explained. "You're there to teach them something. It's a choice you have to make early on."

The former instructor said she preferred that her students respect her rather than like her. In fact, many students were not enamored of the lecture style of the hard-task mistress but some students appreciated her thorough knowledge of history and the discipline she demanded.

Former Roosevelt student Alan Amberg said that Katie Keene liked the kids who liked to learn. "The amazing thing I find about her is her eyes," he said. "You know by her eyes that she loves teaching more than anything."

Roosevelt principal Robert Ogden agreed that Katie Keene was an outstanding teacher, although he admitted that her style was not agreeable to many high school students. "She's particularly helpful to kids who wanted to go to college," he said. "She offered another perspective to teaching. Kids need to be exposed to different styles."

Katie Keene will no longer roam the halls of Eleanor Roosevelt but she said she will continue to be active in her community. She did say that she plans to sleep for two years, not answer any doorbells, and take long lunch hours. But she also has plans to get out and . . . take some classes at the University of Maryland and to take a trip to central France. She doesn't intend to become a recluse in the home she shares with her three furry companions, Amity, Ben Ben and Tiny Tim. Unlike other retired folks who look forward to years of relaxation, Katie Keene proclaims, "I don't expect to just sit around."

Contract Let for Local Section of Water Main

A $1,207,895 contract has been awarded to Marbro Company, Inc., of Beltsville, Md., lowest of 11 bidders, for construction of a pipeline, 56 inches in diameter, between Kenilworth Avenue and the new Greenway Shopping Center, just east of the Baltimore-Washington Parkway. The Marbro Co. contract is expected to take 16 months to complete and will involve tunneling under Greenbelt Road and the Baltimore-Washington Parkway to avoid cutting of these major highways. More than a mile of 96-inch pipe will be installed.

Construction of this section of a major water supply artery being built to improve the distribution of water from the Washington Suburban Sanitary Commission's Potomac River Filtration Plant through Montgomery County and into Prince Georges County is expected to get underway soon. It is one of 16 contracts in the WSSC's Project 80 Series of bi-county water system improvements.

More than $100 million in Project 80 Series contracts have already been completed or are currently under construction. Three additional contracts will be let in the future to complete the series—forming a continuous pipeline around the Capital Beltway to Central Avenue. Upcoming contracts include sections from Route I-95 to Cherry Hill Road,

"Evita" at the National

The award winning musical hit "Evita" at the National Theatre will run for a limited engagement, starting Thursday, September 21. The musical, winner of 7 Tony Awards including Best Musical, 1930, is directed by Harold Prince, with lyrics by Tim Rice and music by Andrew Lloyd Webber.

Subscription orders and group sales reservations for National's 1931-82 season may be obtained by calling 628-5959. For general information call 628-3393.

slated to get underway in the Fall of 1981; from Ardwick-Ardmore Road to south of Landover Road, with construction to start in 1982; and from Annapolis Road to Ardwick-Ardmore Road, which probably will be under construction in late 1982 or early 1983.

For its entire length, the Project 80 Series of contracts provides for interconnection to existing feeder mains to strengthen distribution to WSSC service areas in southern Montgomery County and central Prince Georges County. The Marbro contract will involve two major interconnections with existing mains, which are 24 inches and 42 inches in diameter.

When completed, the Project 80 Series will increase the reliability of the system and improve the Commission's ability to meet peak customer demands and fire protection requirements in some of the most densely populated areas served by the bi-county system.

Greenbelt Park's Future Debated

by Virginia Beauchamp

A recent report released by the National Park Service summarizes public responses to the proposed design changes for Greenbelt Park that were first presented in a public hearing on March 6. The report, under a cover letter by Thomas N. McFadden, Superintendent of Greenbelt Park, summarizes testimony presented at the March 6 hearing; at three post-hearing meetings held with citizens of Westchester Park, Kingswood Park and Berwyn Heights; and in written form during a 60-day comment period.

Alternative 2 (minimal action) received most support from among those testifying, including that of the City of Greenbelt. This alternative proposes only mild intervention to address several problems now confronting the park. Next most popular was Alternative 1, which makes no changes at all. This received support from Westchester Park, several Kingswood residents, and the town of Berwyn Heights.

Next in popularity was Alternative 4 (interpretive development), which would include a nature center. This was especially favored by the Kingswood Civic Assn., representing the community on the park's eastern boundary. This group, however, stipulated that no development should occur in the section of the park east of the B-W Parkway. Alternative 3, calling for extensive recreational development received least support, although the City of New Carrollton and the National Campers and Hikers Assn. both favored it.

Planning Issues

The report breaks down into six categories the kinds of issues raised by governmental groups, organizations, and individuals who commented on the proposed plans.

First among these were the principles for management of the park itself. Almost unanimously, respondents hoped that the park would remain under the jurisdiction of the National Park Service. Some officials expressed the wish that lands along the B-W

Citizens For Greenbelt

A general membership meeting of the Citizens for Greenbelt Association, (CFG), has been scheduled for Monday, July 20 at 7:30 p.m. in the City Council Meeting Room. The meeting agenda will include a summary of activities which have taken place since the last meeting and a discussion of plans for the remainder of the year. Special attention will be given to the role that CFG might play in helping the city improve its crime prevention programs.

Members of CFG and interested citizens are urged to attend and to participate in the Greenbelt Community Relations Advisory Board hearing, which will be held on July 7 at 8 p.m. in the Council Meeting Room. CFG is cooperating with CRAB in confronting crime problems in the city.

The membership drive will continue during the next few weeks, with emphasis on enrolling members from all subdivisions of Greenbelt to help provide balanced views. Information about how to join upon payment of exceptionally low dues is available by calling the Membership Committee Chairperson at 345-2756.

Parkway not needed for highway development might be transferred to the park—an eventuality unlikely to be possible before 1983, after a planning study is completed. Others were concerned about future possibly adverse development of an 8.7-acre parcel of privately owned land that intrudes into the park from Good Luck Rd. opposite Parkdale High School.

Operations and Maintenance

Improved park security, including construction of a stable for rangers' horses; replacement of the ranger trailer with a permanent structure; and improvement of park restrooms were all recommended. Separation of police and park headquarters functions now housed in the same building was also considered desirable by many commentators.

The major clash between testifying groups dealt with recreational facilities such as ballfields, playgrounds and a swimming pool. The city of New Carrollton and Kapitool Kampers Camping Club strongly favored such facilities, but the Kingswood Civic Assn., the Sierra Club, and county planning officials opposed the idea. On the other hand, a great deal of support was expressed for improvement and extension of hiker/biker trails—even to adding a trail for the handicapped. Many groups and individuals also endorsed the addition of a nature center.

Circulation and Access

A proposal to provide an entrance into the eastern section of the park from the Kingswood subdivision was almost universally opposed. Some persons, however, favored a new entrance into the park from Kenilworth Ave., where a gateway now exists. Several favored connecting the east and west sections by a footpath through existing culverts under the B-W Parkway, and many supported the present situation in which no through vehicular traffic is allowed into the park.

Further Comment Sought

Following evaluation of all testimony presented McFadden's letter promises, a planning team will prepare a new General Management / Development Concept plan, which will be printed and made available for a 30-day comment period.

Public Hearing on Crime

The Community Relations Advisory Board (CRAB) is scheduling a public information meeting on the development of a community-wide crime prevention program. Citizens are urged to attend and give their views and recommendations. The meeting will be held on Tuesday, July 7 at 8 p.m. in the city council room of the Municipal Building.

The City Council, aware of increases in breaking and entering crimes, several months ago requested CRAB to gain information on the scope of the problem, learn what other communities have done in the way of crime prevention, ascertain what programs are already being used by police departments, and get suggestions from interested citizens for coping with the problem. CRAB will report to Council with suggestions for a crime prevention program for Greenbelt.

If necessary CRAB will hold one or more additional public hearings.

Rules Posted for Visitors In Greenbelt Lake Park

City ordinances regulating park use are posted throughout the Lake Park and at the concession stand. These regulations are for the protection of the park and benefit all by insuring proper conduct and use. The park is closed between the hours of 11 p.m. and 5 a.m. unless otherwise posted. Special activities requiring a city permit have first priority use over all Lake Park facilities.

Specific activities which are prohibited include: 1, Alcoholic beverages, loitering, wading, swimming and horseback riding are prohibited; 2, building of charcoal fires, picnicking, ball playing, motor vehicle traffic and parking are permitted in designated areas only; 3, fireworks and firearms are prohibited; 4, dogs must be kept on a leash at all times; 5, to damage any park property including natural resources and city fixtures; and 6, to sell merchandise, solicit contributions or distribute circulars without city permission.

Greenbelt residents are reminded that permits may be obtained at the Greenbelt Police Department for use of the permit parking area at Greenbelt Lake Park. The annual permit fee is one dollar. While it is expected that adequate spaces will be available to accommodate all permit holders on a first come, first served basis and on special occasions, all spaces might be occupied.

The permit parking area was established so that Greenbelt residents could drive to the Lake Park on busy weekends and have a parking space available. Public parking spaces are expected to be scarce, as parking is prohibited between 9 a.m. and 6 p.m. on Saturdays, Sundays and holidays along Crescent Road, Lastner Lane and Ivy Lane in the vicinity of the Lake Park.

Police Blotter

by Mavis Fletcher

The Mishkan Torah located on Ridge Road was reported as having been entered three different times last week. Acts of vandalism and theft also took place. Numerous objects of value and religious significance were stolen, including medallions, pendants and candleholders.

As a result of an investigation, three male juveniles, all Greenbelt residents, were arrested by Sgt. Ceccarelli and Officer Lynn. Two were charged with breaking and entering, theft and destruction of property. The third was charged with possession of stolen property. About $730 worth of stolen property has been recovered.

In juvenile cases, the suspects are charged and then released to the parents. In this case, the Greenbelt police have filed juvenile petitions to juvenile services. Juvenile intake, a pre-processing step in the juvenile justice system, will then decide whether the suspects will be tried in juvenile court or whether some other disposition of the case will be made.

The Trak Auto store in the Greenway shopping center was broken into during the evening of June 21. Car stereos and other merchandise were stolen. Entry was effected by breaking through the wall of an adjacent store.

Upon receiving a call of a shooting in the 44 court of Ridge Road, investigating officers discovered that a female resident had been shot in the stomach during a domestic argument with her husband. The officer charged the husband with assault with the intent to murder. After arraignment and an appearance before a judge, he was released on $1,000 bond. The victim was transported to Prince Georges Hospital Shock-Trauma Unit and is in fair condition.

The Theodore Nye Jewelry Store in Beltway Plaza reported that while two suspects averted attention, a third suspect shoplifted several items of jewelry including a valuable ring, and all fled the area. As a result of a lookout, an alert Beltway Security Guard spotted a suspect who was then arrested by Pfc. Murray. A ring valued at approximately $1,000 was recovered.

Cpl. Michael Craddock arrested a man and a woman whom he was trying to help, when he discovered the vehicle they were driving had been stolen in Florida. On June 23 Cpl. Craddock noted a stopped car at Southway and Ridge Road. The car carried a Florida registration. During a routine check, it was learned that the car had been stolen in Sarasota, Florida. The two occupants were charged with theft by possession of stolen property and will be extradited to Florida.

At 12:07 a.m. on June 29 a young woman was robbed at gunpoint when returning to her residence in the 5800 block of Cherrywood Terrace. The suspect is a dark-complexioned black male, 17-18 years old, about 6 feet tall, medium build. His hair was cut in a short bush. He was wearing a blue windbreaker, dark pants and white sneakers and was armed with a blue steel revolver. Shoplifting arrests mere made

PUBLIC NOTICE

The Maryland Department of Transportation, State Highway Administration, in accordance with Certification Acceptance Operating Procedures, has granted design approval for the interchange to replace the at-grade intersection of Maryland Route 193 (Greenbelt Road) and Maryland Route 201 (Kenilworth Avenue). The improvement would involve approximately one mile of each route in each direction from the existing intersection.

The design for which approval has been granted is as presented at Location/Design Public Hearing held March 22, 1979.

The proposed action is the improvement of the at-grade intersection of Maryland Route 193 (Greenbelt Road) and Maryland Route 201 (Kenilworth Avenue) in the City of Greenbelt in Prince George's County. The improvements to Maryland Route 193 would extend from the intersection of 62nd Avenue to the Capital Beltway, a distance of approximately one mile. The improvements to Maryland Route 201 would extend from approximately 2,000 feet south of Maryland Route 193 to the Capital Beltway, a distance of approximately 0.9 mile.

The selected alternate proposes that Maryland Route 201 be depressed below Maryland Route 193. The configuration is a diamond type interchange with the ramps running along Maryland Route 201 at approximately the existing roadway grade.

This alternate would provide Level of Service D at the intersection of Maryland Route 193 with the ramps serving Maryland Route 201 in the design year 2005. All traffic entering Maryland Route 201 from the Springhill Lake connection would remain in the far right lane to exit to Maryland Route 193, eliminating the weaving movement now existing in this section of Maryland Route 201. Traffic from Springhill Lake desiring to go south on Maryland Route 201 would continue across Maryland Route 193 onto the on-ramp to southbound Maryland Route 201.

Maryland Route 193 and Maryland Route 201 roadways would consist of three through lanes in each direction, acceleration and deceleration lanes, and double left turning lanes where needed. There would be raised medians of varying width separating the roadways on both Maryland Route 193 and Maryland Route 201. Curb and gutter would be provided along both sides of Maryland Route 193. Maryland Route 201 would provide full ten (10) foot paved shoulders on the outside of both roadways. The centerline of the selected alignment of both Maryland Route 201 and Maryland Route 193 would coincide closely with the existing centerlines.

Traffic signals would be provided at the intersections of all ramps with Maryland Route 193 and at both entrances to Golden Triangle. The existing one-way operation of the connection for Springhill Lake would be maintained.

Beginning on July 1, 1981, the Design Study Report for which approval has been granted and the transcript of the Public Hearing held on March 22, 1979, will be available for public inspection during normal working hours at the following locations:

GHI NOTES

A special GHI Board meeting is scheduled for July 2 at 8 p.m. in the GHI Board Room. Items on the agenda are the audit committee report, NCCB loan, a rehab report, GHDC inspection procedures, and subcontractor field supervision.

GHI members are reminded that monthly charges are due on the first of the month.

Most Rehab Phase I work has been completed. Structural repairs are still being made where needed. Plumbers will be working at 14 court Laurel Hill from June 29 to July 8. Please remember that this is an approximate schedule.

GHI would like to remind members that any work to GHI buildings which requires a Prince Georges County permit, such as structural, electrical, or plumbing, must be approved through the Staff Architect's Office before the county will issue a permit. GHI may require that any work either in process or completed without these proper approvals be removed at the member's expense.

Finally, management wishes to express thanks to the members who send letters to the maintenance department. Many members make note of the good job done by GHI workers who have been to their homes to make a repair. These letters are shared at the regular maintenance staff meetings and the staff appreciates them.

BOYD WINS MILE RACE

Bill Boyd, 40, of Plateau Place, won the 40-49 men's mile race in the Meet of Miles held at George Mason's new track in Fairfax, Va. Boyd won a stirring duel with Skip Grant, long-time D.C. CYO coach in 4 minutes 59.2 seconds. The fastest of the 22 mile races was won by Sandy Chapman, 20, formerly of Spingarn High School in 4:15.5 seconds. Chapman won by half a second over Jeff Peterson, acknowledged as the premier long distance running star in the area who has done a 2 hour and 14 minute marathon.

Eight saxophone players from the Greenbelt Concert Band participated in the Washington Saxophone Society's presentations in the Tawes Fine Arts Center Rehearsal Hall at Maryland University on Sunday, June 8. Resounding applause rewarded the John DelHomme Saxophone Octet as the musicians performed works of Tchaikovsky, Handel, Ostransky, Bizet-Cailliet and Frangiser. Playing Alto Saxophones were Caroline Cherrix; Tom Cherrix, Greenbelt Concert Band General Manager; Luigi Vagnoni; and Mel Lerman. Alan Jones and John Head played Tenor Saxophones. The Octet was rounded out by Louis Vagnoni and Dale Kane on Baritone Saxophones.

Greenbelt residents will hear these musicians plus the rest of the Greenbelt Concert Band of Prince Georges County this Saturday evening, July 4, beginning at 7 p.m. at the Lake Park before the Fireworks Display. Bring a folding chair or blanket, lean back and enjoy the professional sound of the band.
