Fun - Filled Labor Day Festival Begins Fri.

by Leta Mach

One last summer fling can be enjoyed this weekend at the Greenbelt Labor Day Festival. The Festival theme, "Unity through Community Involvement," has been amply demonstrated by the numerous individuals and organizations that have arranged the 27th annual Labor Day Festival.

Events on the first day, Friday, September 4, are representative of the wide variety of exciting programs and activities available during the Festival. During Opening Ceremonies, the highly-anticipated announcement of Greenbelt's Outstanding Citizen of 1981 will be made. The ceremonies also include a concert by the Greenbelt Concert Band, a drawing for free carnival tickets, and the introduction of city officials and the Festival Committee. Other events of the first day are athletic contests, the presentation of Miss Greenbelt contestants, and a street dance.

The climax of the Festival—the Parade on Monday morning—features all the candidates for city council, Senator Paul Sarbanes, Congressman Steny Hoyer, and city, county and state officials. Also, bands, floats, clowns, fire engines, decorated bikes and trikes, and the Greenbelt Marching Kazoo Band are only a few of those who will march before the reviewing stand. There may even be a few surprises—such as a famous mystery guest.

Midway

The Carnival Midway will be open from 6 to 11 p.m. on Friday, 1 to 11 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday, and after the Parade on Monday. All the favorite rides will be available each day except during a dinner break from 5 to 6:30 p.m. Dedicated riders can enjoy unlimited rides for just one price from 1 to 5 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday. Many new Midway activities are scheduled this year in addition to the old standbys. Games include a political raffle, bingo, zoo dip, and the dunking game. Food (funnel cake, ice cream sundaes, juice, ice tea, corn-on-the-cob, pizza, hot dogs, hamburgers, and caramel apples) and merchandise (frisbees, T-shirts, used books, buttons, and white elephants) will also be sold.

Miss Greenbelt Pageant

Thirteen lovely girls will be contestants in the Miss Greenbelt Pageant. On Saturday evening the contestants will provide entertainment featuring a Country-Western theme. Aerobic dancing, a popular feature of last year's Pageant, will also be performed. Breaking with tradition, a Fashion Show instead of a swim suit competition will be presented on Sunday afternoon. All these activities culminate Sunday evening with the crowning of the new Miss Greenbelt.

Highlights

Everyone's favorites—Christian the Magician, Irish Hirsch, the Grim Pickers, the Ralph Case Square Dancers, and the Guys and Dolls Cloggers—will again appear on the Festival Stage. This year there will be more local Greenbelt talent than ever before. New acts such as a D.J. and his unlimited music will be tried this year. One act, Expressions with Janet Bailey, will use sign language. Street dances will close the Festival on Friday and Sunday evenings.

Artists of all ages will display an infinite variety of works in the Annual Art Show in City Hall. Art Show awards on Saturday evening will include an award for the work best demonstrating the

Dial -a- Ride Call 474-1518

by Leta Mach

The Greenbelt Labor Day Festival Committee has arranged two special services for the convenience of Festival patrons. First, a special area for senior citizen seating will be roped off in the grassy area in front of the Festival Stage. Also, for the fifth consecutive year, free transportation will be available to and from the Labor Day Festival.

A dial-a-ride service tried as an experiment last year proved to be a big success and will be used again this year. The dial-a-ride service has proven to be faster and more convenient than the previous shuttle bus with its extended route.

By calling the Festival information number, 474-1518, Greenbelters can arrange to be picked up anywhere within the city limits and driven to the Festival. Members of the Woman's Club of Greenbelt will answer the phone and take messages at the Festival information booth. A ride to leave the Festival can also be arranged at the information booth.

The service will be available from 1-10 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday and 1-6:30 p.m. on Monday. If a request is made on Sunday, a 9 a.m. pickup can be arranged for the parade. To streamline departures in the evening, a schedule of final departures has been set up. Final departure of the day on Saturday and Sunday will be 9:15 p.m. for Springhill Lake, 9:30 p.m. for Windsor Green and Greenbriar, and 9:45 p.m. for old Greenbelt. Final departure of the day for Monday will be 6 p.m. for old Greenbelt, 6:15 p.m. for Windsor Green and Greenbriar, and 6:30 p.m. for Springhill Lake.

Capitol Cadillac will lend the Festival its van over the weekend for this service. Normally the van is used to transport people whose cars are being serviced. Gary Gentilini of Capitol Cadillac has been instrumental in arranging this contribution.

Philharmonic Auditions

The Prince Georges Philharmonic, under conductor Ray Fowler, will be holding auditions for all sections of the orchestra on Thursday, September 3 and Friday, September 11 at Northwestern High School on Adelphi Road in Hyattsville.

Candidates should bring a prepared piece to play. In addition, all candidates will be asked to play scales and do some sight reading. Rehearsals are held weekly on Wednesday nights from 7:30 to 10 p.m. at Northwestern High School.

To arrange for an audition appointment or for further information call 779-7360 or 277-5572.

Policeman Escapes from Danger After Assault in Greenway Lot

by Mavis Fletcher

Pfc. Mark A. DiPietro of the Greenbelt Police Department was the victim of armed robbery, assault and battery on a police officer, and abduction on August 31 at 3 a.m. in the Greenway Shopping Center.

Pfc. DiPietro saw a suspicious person approaching the back door of Jasper's Restaurant. As DiPietro got out of his police car, he was accosted by two other males armed with a sawed-off shotgun and an automatic handgun. The suspects took the officer's service revolver and handcuffs, and he was taken to a construction site near the shopping center while the third suspect drove the police car to that location. The officer was then locked into the trunk of the squad car.

The suspects had not taken DiPietro's portable radio, and he was able to make an emergency call to other units and to the Greenbelt police station. Although this action put him in further jeopardy, other officers were alerted to the critical situation.

Responding officers, in addition to those from Greenbelt, included members of the Prince Georges County Police, Maryland State Police, U.S. Park Police and other municipal departments. The

Labor Day Parade 1980

by Frank Stringfellow

I saw America on parade today; It passed along mainstreet USA. The people gathered at the curb and shared

They smiled and talked from folding chairs
It was their show; their groups would compete

They joined in both the rhythm and the beat.

Each entry in turn entertained the crowd,

It returned the favor by clapping aloud.

All regions were there—
A cross section of town, where Clowns clowned and kids chased candy.

Miss Greenbelt was a queen named Mandy

The crowd responded to all of the thrills;

They especially liked the precision drills;

Spines stiffened a little as each band appeared;

A few eyes glistened; some blinked back a tear.

The parade moved on with high steps and proud;

The sound of the music was uproariously loud.

Politicians were out (That's part of it too),

They waved the flag of red, white, and blue

Both the new and the old were right here and now:

A robot, cable TV; old cars and clowns

All over America it was like this today

Veterans of all wars were with us in spirit.

If they were alive, I believe they would say

Get the spirit, lets' hear it for the USA!

TRASH COLLECTION

WEEK OF SEPTEMBER 7

Since Monday, September 7 is a city holiday, the trash collection will be as follows:

Monday and Tuesday routes will be on Tuesday and Wednesday. There will be no paper pickup on Wednesday; and regular service schedules will resume on Thursday.

area was surrounded and checked but the suspects had apparently left prior to arrival of these units on the scene.

Pfc. DiPietro was released from the trunk and treated at Doctor's Hospital for an injury to his head caused when one of the suspects struck him with a shotgun. He was released from the hospital later in the day.

Sgt. James R. Craze, shift commander, coordinated activities of police at the scene until Chief William Lane arrived. The investigation has been turned over to Greenbelt detectives, and look-outs have been issued.

The suspects are three black males who were wearing neckerchiefs over their faces. The department speculates that the suspects planned to rob Jasper's Restaurant.

On two other recent occasions, restaurants in the Greenway Shopping Center were robbed in the early morning hours. Jasper's was robbed at about 5:40 a.m. on July 31, and H. T. McDoogal's was held up at 4 a.m. on July 18. In these cases also, the suspects were three black males wearing masks. In all three cases, the suspects were armed.

CRAB Meeting

The Community Relations Advisory Board will meet on Wednesday, September 9, at 8 p.m. in the Municipal Building Conference Room. Two members of the Takoma Park/Silver Spring "Neighborhoods Together" Program have been invited to attend this meeting to discuss their program. Janet Rosenkratz, Crime Committee Chairperson, and Virginia Ralph, Senior Community Organizer, have agreed to meet with CRAB to explain the work of "Neighborhoods Together" and offer suggestions to initiate a similar program in Greenbelt.

Rules for Absentee Ballots

Applications for absentee ballots are now being accepted in the city clerk's office. They must be made in writing no later than noon Monday, September 14. The ballot must be returned no later than 6 p.m. election day, Tuesday the 15th. Application forms are available in the city offices.

Any qualified elector who would be prevented from voting in a city election by reason of religious beliefs, physical condition, or absence from the city on the day of the election may vote by absentee ballot.

Candidates' Night at SHL

Greenbelt Jaycees and Citizens For Greenbelt will sponsor a candidates' night in the Springhill Lake Community House on Thursday, September 10 from 7:30-10 p.m. Rick Barber, president of the Jaycees, will be moderator.

All council candidates have been invited to present their views, answer questions and listen to comments from the audience. The public is invited.

Correction and Update On Police Incident

The News Review, in its August 27 issue, reported on the August 14 pursuit by Greenbelt police of a motorcyclist speeding northbound on Ridge Road. The pre-dawn chase ended when the lead police car and the motorcycle collided. Nearby residents awakened by the noise of the collision later questioned actions taken by police after the crash.

Assistant City Manager Dennis Piendak has corrected earlier information he gave the News Review, which was reported in the August 27 article. According to Piendak, the second police car involved in the pursuit of the motorcycle did not collide with the lead police car.

The article also reported that Greenbelt detectives had been assigned to investigate a formal written complaint by a witness alleging unnecessary use of force by a police officer after the crash. City Manager James Giese, when asked Tuesday about the status of the investigation, would make only a very guarded statement. According to Giese, a detective has interviewed residents of the northern Ridge Road area where the collision occurred, and has confirmed that residents are making allegations as reported in the News Review article. Giese added that the investigation is not completed.

Cub Scout Pack 746

Cub Scout Pack 746 celebrated the selection of Laurence S. Woodworth as their new Cubmaster by attending as a pack at the recent Cub and Webelos Day held by Patuxent District at Greenbelt Park.

The Cubs participated in a number of activities needed for their badges of rank. After a bag lunch, they watched Harry Lord of Springhill Lake, who demonstrated an old-time Mountain Man's muzzle-loading rifle and other equipment. A number lined up to actually shoot his rifle.

Many watched the Irish folk dancing by the Blackthorn Stick dance group of Riverdale. David Woodworth represented the pack in several numbers.

Woodworth, an Eagle Scout of the nearby Troop 257, announced the annual School Night for Scouting for all boys who do not have contact with a pack or troop. He invited all boys past the second grade to come with their parents to Greenbelt Center School on September 24 at 7:30 p.m. to hear about an exciting adventure, full of fun and action, for the coming year.

His phone number is 332-5281.

On Sept. 8, MNCPPC staff will be presenting the final report, findings and recommendations on the following subject areas: treatment of surfaces, detailed treatment of facades, site plans, parking and loading, signs, market analysis, economic findings and recommendations.

TOM WHITE

A CONTINUING COMMITMENT:

A major threat to Greenbelt is the growth and development that is taking place in and around our community. Although much of this activity is beyond the City's control, there are actions Council can take:

- Argue forcefully for reduced density in master plan updates and rezoning actions.
- Do not give approvals for development of areas not adequately served by public facilities (mainly roads).
- Support a bond issue to raise funds for acquiring strategic parcels of greenspace.
- Lobby for additional program open space funds.
- Hold developers to strict environmental controls when development must occur.

These principles have served us well in the past. If reelected, I will adhere to them.

I WOULD LIKE YOUR SUPPORT ON SEPTEMBER 15.

theme "Americans at Work."

The Monday afternoon event—the Salute to Americans at Work—also remembers the reason for this annual holiday. People who visit the Center Mall at that time can see displays from the Greenbelt Police, Metro, Iron Workers, Pioneer Crafts, Art and Design Consultants, and many more.

Many events are especially for children. First the Recreation Department offers the Big Wheels Roadcross as soon as school is out on Friday afternoon. Then on Saturday morning children can enter their pets in the Pet Show. All kinds are accepted and the imaginative judges have quite a time thinking up a prize for each and every pet. Special contests will be held on Saturday afternoon this year. New events, a treasure race and Dress-up Relay, join many old contests. No one needs to dress up for the Dress-up Relay. On Saturday Greenbelt youngsters will show what they can do in the annual talent show. Some acts may even return on Monday from 3:30 to 4:30 p.m.

The Utopia Theater is again participating in the Festival. It will serve as a rain location for Stage Events. The theater will also hold an open house throughout the four-day affair.

Athletic Contests

Members of the Greenbelt Recreation Department are coordinating an endless number of athletic events for the weekend. These contests include table tournaments, softball tournaments, tennis tournament, a swim meet, a golf tournament, horseshoe tournament, and foot races among others.

Utopia Theater Presents Chamber Music Concert

Greenbelt Cultural Arts Center will present an evening of chamber music featuring compositions of Carl Phillip Emmanuel Bach, Giuseppe Cambini, Franz Joseph Haydn, and George Phillip Telemann at the Utopia Theater, Friday, September 11 at 8:15 p.m.

Accomplished musicians performing will be Mary Beth Kiss, flutist; Catherine Culver, violinist; Becky Staup, oboist; and Robert Synder, bassoonist.

Mary Beth Kiss, a flute teacher in Greenbelt, is a member of St. Mary's College faculty. Co-director of Rosewood Consort and Maryland Flute Quartet, she has performed at the Renwick Gallery, National Gallery of Art, Greenbelt Cultural Arts Center, University of Maryland and Kennedy Center.

Catherine Culver, a free lance violinist, gives private music lessons and performs with the Maryland Flute Quartet. She is also a musician with the Fairfax Symphony.

Becky Staup, oboist, studied with Robert Bloom at the Julliard School of Music. Founder and co-director of the Rosewood Consort, she plays with the U.S. Navy Band, Tuscon Symphony, and Pro-Arte Woodwind Quintet.

Robert Synder, bassoonist, plays with the U.S. Navy Band.

COUNCIL CONCERNED WITH FUTURE PLANS FOR NORTH END SCHOOL

by Leta Mach

Education—or rather the safety of school children and the use of a former school—concerned council at its August 10 session.

Council passed a motion to express to the County Executive the city's possible interest in obtaining the recently closed North End School. The city would like to be informed of any county actions relating to the property.

Previously Council had directed that the Community Relations Advisory Board, Park and Recreation Advisory Board, Advisory Planning Board, and School Study Committee examine the issue. In a joint report, the advisory boards recommended that the city obtain the property, prevent its purchase by private developers, and permit no use which would require a zoning change.

A seemingly endless list of uses for the closed school has been suggested. A community center which would house a variety of programs is one frequent suggestion. The city staff has requested that Maryland National Capital Park and Planning Commission do a use feasibility study of the facility for a community recreation and meeting center.

In a related matter which had been placed on the agenda by Councilman Thomas White (who along with Councilman Richard Pilski was absent), council considered the effect of the North End School closing on student pedestrian traffic. White had noted that children from the North End would be crossing Crescent Road at various locations. Council moved to request county school crossing personnel to determine the need for and location of additional crossing guards.

Overpass

Another matter which originally came to council's attention from concern for the safety of children walking to school was

CONDOMINIUM SEMINAR

Community Associations Institute, Central Maryland Chapter, will conduct an all-day seminar on how the new Maryland Condominium Law will affect homeowner associations on Saturday, September 19, 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., at the Howard County Council Chambers (Banneker Room) in the George Howard Building, Ellicott City.

Panelists including attorneys, managers, legislators and other government officials will focus upon rules and regulations, dispute settlement, resales, powers and assessments, insurance, state registration, warranties, consumer affairs, books and records, and maintenance and alterations. Time has been programmed for questions and answers after each session.

There is a fee which covers a coffee break, lunch and a clean copy of the law.

also on the agenda. This was the Baltimore-Washington Parkway Overpass, which will provide a safe route for Eleanor Roosevelt Senior High School students.

After many years of delay, including the need for a condemnation trial, the city has received a memo of agreement for the project between the Federal Highway Administration, the National Park Service, and the city. Having no surprises, the agreement contains earlier city commitments to the project. The Federal Highway Administration will be responsible for construction of the overpass and the city for construction of the connecting pathways. Council authorized the Mayor to execute the agreement.

"My wife Dea and I chose Greenbelt as the ideal community in which to raise our daughter Kristina. Our choice was based on the emphasis given to family and spiritual values by the people of Greenbelt. I believe it is my obligation to commit all my abilities to the preservation and strengthening of those values. This commitment, I am convinced, can best be implemented, at this time, by service on the Greenbelt City Council."

A Commitment to Greenbelt

Candidates Give Views on Zoning, Transportation & Crime Control

by Sid Kastner

The first Candidates' Night for city council aspirants, on August 26, was held at the Greenbelt Library's Meeting Room, where eight incumbents and challengers fielded several topical questions and gave some of their general philosophy in the relatively brief time allotted. Viewpoints of these office-seekers were sought by the meeting's sponsors — Citizens for Greenbelt and the Jaycees — on three main issues currently affecting Greenbelt: zoning and development, transportation and crime control.

The reactions of the eight to these issues—at least as expressed at the gathering—were fairly similar, so that the flavor of the event may be best conveyed by some actual quotes:

On development:

Ed Putens - "... naive to expect that all development be stopped... but retain a consultant to advise city (against) rampant, outrageous growth"; Tom White - "(as) commitment to Greenbelt, (urge) purchase of park land and green space by city"; Ed James - "accumulate professional services... and businesses for people to work at... to avoid commuting"; Gil Weidenfeld - "prefer not to see development but realistically there will be, (therefore) hold developers strictly accountable for their concessions"; Ron Ott - "as chairman of PRAB, I've been involved (but) I don't think you can leave land undeveloped forever"; Richard Castaldi - "economics won't allow us to purchase the open land we'd like to (and) there will be a lot of pressures around Beltway Plaza"; Bob Zugby - "will the cost of services for new growth be balanced by... income from that growth"; Richard Pilski - "I've opposed undesirable development... annexation is the only way we can control anything further."

On transportation:

Ron Ott - "push for completion of the Green Line, as a vital necessity (but) a local minibus system would be expensive for the taxpayer"; Gil Weidenfeld - "we can subsidize inner city bus transportation"; Ed Putens - "advocate a minibus system linking Beltway Plaza, Greenway and Greenbelt Center (maybe) financed from the business community"; Ed James - "work with other municipalities to complete the Green Line... privately finance internal city transportation"; Tom White - "intergovernmental relations are very important (to) represent the city"; Richard Castaldi - "have to tell our citizens where the... underutilized... bus routes are"

On crime:

Richard Castaldi - "I've been working with the police (to) make sure citizens are aware"; Tom White - "urge no more multifamily zoning... protect inner walkways and extend them"; Bob Zugby - "urge more police... a shopping center requires more police protection"; Richard Pilski - "(need) vigilance and awareness of citizens"; Gil Weidenfeld - "crime is everybody's business, not just a police job... I will give such programs a high priority"; Ron Ott - "need more police... but the city (needs) to put more teeth in the laws"; Ed Putens - "advocate communications, (such as) the court parent system"; Ed James - "publicize crime areas better... police foot patrol rather than cars".

After these replies to questions the candidates had a chance to prepare for, they were asked to field some further questions from the audience:

What are your priorities?

Weidenfeld stressed that he did not want to see the wrong type of development coming in. Zugby said his priority was security and crime prevention, while Putens agreed that crime was a major problem, but questioned whether more police and studies were the answer. Pilski asserted that the important issue was public health and safety. James favored an approach of self-sufficiency for citizens, rather than "feed at the public trough". Ott urged more "pre-planning" on matters such as school closings, and because of the economy "do more with less". Castaldi felt that with respect to development citizens need to be unified, to influence the coming redistricting process. And White repeated his emphasis on the importance of relations between the city and other (county, state) governments to assure Greenbelt gets fair treatment.

Will Metro cost too much?

The candidates basically were in agreement that the important thing was first to get the Green Line completed to Greenbelt, one of them (Putens) noting "the longer it takes, the more it will cost". Most also agreed that taxing highway development was a reasonable way to help pay for it. Though one suggested the city should use its influence to keep fare rates down, another cautioned that higher fares "should not be prematurely opposed without a viable alternative".

Two more questions pertaining particularly to Greenbelt's internal affairs were raised, one on the use of "special assessments... as a... method for down-zoning", and the other on the use of community volunteers. The first of these, evidently referring to a recent city council action affecting eight citizens building homes in the North End of the city, was supported or defended by practically all the candidates as a "good working tool". James did not respond directly, but suggested that requirements for development (curbs, sidewalks) should be relaxed. Weidenfeld (one of the homebuilders involved) noted that while he had taken no part in the voting that affected him, as a general principle he would put the interests of Greenbelt citizens first "to provide the type of development we need".

With regard to the role of volunteers in Greenbelt, predictably, the complete cast of candidates spoke as one in praise of the concept, with Zugby for example asserting that "volunteerism is what makes Greenbelt run", and James urging that fledgling organizations be helped to be self-supporting. Weidenfeld reminded listeners that people thereby get to know each other and feel part of the community, and "I think you get more out of volunteering than the community does." The example of the Cultural Arts Center was frequently mentioned; and candidate White, after himself marvelling at the talent displayed at the Center, drew a round of applause by confessing, "I can't sing, dance or act; so put me back on Council."

Police Blotter

Sgt. Thomas Ceccarelli located and charged a juvenile with a breaking and entering at North End School when he found the suspect inside.

One suspect was arrested for attempted breaking and entering into an apartment in Springhill Lake.

An entry by way of a window was made to an apartment and to a house on Lakecrest Drive.

Two apartments in Springhill Lake were entered by the patio doors. Cash, stereo equipment and TVs were stolen. Most of these entries took place during daylight hours.

Cpl. Thomas Miskell closed a case of phone misuse with the identification of a juvenile suspect.

Ten arrests were made for shoplifting at various stores within Greenbelt.

The Greenbelt Police Department is participating in an Automated Fingerprint Identification System which has been established by the Prince Georges and Montgomery County Police Departments. This new resource will permit the department to match latent fingerprints found at crime scenes with the thousands of fingerprint cards being maintained by this system. Suspects can instantly be identified by use of an automated fingerprint computer. The name of this system is RAFIS — "Regional Automated Fingerprint Identification System." This new resource should be of particular help to Greenbelt police in combatting the increasing numbers of breaking and entering cases.

"Unity Through Community Participation"

RE-ELECT

RICHARD CASTALDI
For City Council
Vote 3-A

POLICE PROTECTION

To more adequately address the ever increasing crime problem and deter the rate of increase within our community, recommend the development of a crime prevention pamphlet which is now used by the city. I requested additional staff allocations and rescheduling of patrols to coincide with the ever growing population and criminal activity. I urge that local problems be met with professional guidance and strict law enforcement.

TRANSPORTATION

Support completion of Greenbelt's Metro system. Urge comprehensive multi mode transportation system for Greenbelt. Works to establish safe and adequate highway access to all segments of the community. Urge completion of the city's bike path and inner walkway.

RECREATION

I seek to promote greater utilization of existing facilities through a broader range of activities reflecting our citizen's interests. I will work to better utilize mandatory dedication of park areas from proposed development. Also to revitalize Greenbelt Lake Park and the development of proposals that will maintain this area for the citizens of Greenbelt, while lessening the adverse impact on adjacent residential dwellings.

GROWTH & DEVELOPMENT

I urge and support legislation giving incorporated communities a greater voice in local development proposals. I believe in a rational approach to planned land use and zoning by requesting and requiring city control of site development plans, environmental impact studies, Metro, and other public facilities.

T-16, R-12 Metro Routes Combined in Old Greenbelt

The T-16 Metrobus route will be changed effective Sunday, September 6. Because the bus does not run Sundays and holidays the change will become effective for Greenbelters on Tuesday morning.

The T-16 Metrobus coming from New Carrollton to Beltway Plaza comes into the Center as it formerly did. Then it will take up the old R-12 route through Gardenway, Ridge Rd., Laurel Hill Rd., Hillside Rd., Crescent Rd., Kenilworth Ave., Greenbelt Rd. to Beltway Plaza. All trips will make a loop into Mandan Rd. and Hanover Pkwy. After 8:30 a.m. the loop will include the Greenway shopping center. (Before 8:30 it will stop on Greenbelt Rd. near the shopping center.)

Return trips leaving Beltway Plaza and heading toward the New Carrollton station will return the same way, i.e., Greenbelt Rd., Kenilworth Ave., Crescent Rd., etc.

The first bus will leave New Carrollton at 5:45 a.m. and will reach Greenbelt Center at 6:10 and Beltway Plaza at 6:19. Other buses will reach the Center at 6:40, 7:10, 7:35, 8:07, 8:37, and 9:10. After 9:10 they will run hourly until 3:10 p.m. when they will again run more frequently.

The first trip will leave Beltway Plaza heading for New Carrollton at 5:40 a.m. followed by buses at 6, 6:30, 7, 7:30, 8, 8:30, 9, 9:30, etc. They will arrive at the center about nine minutes later. New schedules are expected to be available on the buses by Tuesday.

Schedules have been coordinated with the C-2 (Beltway Plaza, Prince Georges Plaza, Wheaton Plaza, Montgomery Mall) so as to eliminate the long wait between buses. Hourly T-16 buses are scheduled to arrive at Beltway Plaza around twenty minutes after the hour and the C-2 should arrive about twenty-five minutes after the hour. They are both scheduled to return around half past the hour.

Saturday schedules have been changed to include hourly runs instead of the present seventy-five minute ones.

The R-12 will now run between Deanwood and Beltway Plaza (by way of Springhill Lake). Service to Westway, Lakeside Dr. and Lakecrest Dr. will be provided by the F-6.

Free Saturday parking at New Carrollton, Landover, Cheverly, Deanwood and Minnesota Ave. is being offered on a trial basis until the end of January. Parking is free on Sundays.

AKITA CLUB

The Colonial Akita Club is holding an Akita Breed and Obedience Fun Match, Saturday, September 19 at Applewoods Dog Center, #1 Main Street, Laurel, at 11 a.m. Free admission and free parking. There is an entry fee. Call Elaine Nussbaum, 474-9118.

Cruise Will Benefit Senior Citizen Centers

The Leo Green Family annual cruise on the Harbor Queen will leave port from the Annapolis City Dock on Saturday, September 19, 1981, rain or shine.

All proceeds above cost will be donated to area Senior Citizen Centers, including Greenbelt.

Ticket price includes beer, set-ups, snacks, music and entertainment during the three hour cruise. For further information, or for tickets, call 464-8777 (days) or 464-0999 (evenings).

ELECT

to the GREENBELT CITY COUNCIL

In 1979, Ed James took the initiative and time to found what is now known as Citizens for Greenbelt, a city-wide citizens association, and served as chairman during the early days of the group. Because of this action, Greenbelt now has a strong and active civic organization composed of residents from all sections of our community which has helped maintain greenspace through re-zoning participation, worked to reduce crime, produced the 1981 Greenbelt City Directory and has served as a vehicle to unite the various sections of our community. Ed James would be a strong, innovative and hard-working asset to Greenbelt as a City Councilman.
