FDR Commemoration Oct. 1-3

A Trip to the Thirties

by Sandra Barnes

Next week-end, October 1-3, Greenbelt celebrates the 100th anniversary of the birth of the person who was responsible for its creation—Franklin Delano Roosevelt.

The weekend will begin on Friday, October 1, at 7 p.m. with a reception for the First Families. The event, by invitation only, will be hosted by Greenbelt Homes, Inc. in the City Council Chambers.

Following the reception, the community is invited to a dance beginning at 7:30 p.m. in Greenbelt Center School's auditorium. The dance, sponsored by the Greenbelt Lions and Lion Belles, will commemorate the period of the 30s and 40s with dress styles and music. Even those who do not dance are encouraged to attend as the get-together will feature photo sessions, a sing-a-long, contests and much mingling.

On Saturday, October 2, the Municipal Building will be open from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. for those who want to view a display of the original Greenbelt furniture, specially designed for the homes in a "make-work" project and often paid for by the First Families in installments along with the monthly rental fee. With the furniture will be a historical display of early Greenbelt photographs, many not exhibited previously.

Beginning at 10 a.m., also, noted Greenbelters will lead a walk along the Greenbelt Trail. From the assembly point in front of Suburban Bank, the walk will continue through the underpasses and along the inner walkways.

At 2 p.m., Saturday, the Utopia Theatre will open its doors for a special children's matinee with films first shown in 1938, the year the theatre opened. The playbill will include two cartoons: "All This and Rabbits Too," a Bugs Bunny classic, and "Hamateur Nights." The feature film will be a Buck Rogers special, "Planet Outlaws."

Also on Saturday afternoon, from 2-4 p.m., the Rexford Tugwell Room at the Greenbelt Library will be open with Greenbelt historian and librarian Betty Allen on hand to answer questions. The Tugwell Room contains many documents and photographs portraying the construction of the city as well as photographic examples of life in those early days.

Saturday evening, at 7:30 p.m., there will be a special showing of "The City," the half-hour documentary film which depicts the construction period and life in Greenbelt when the first residents arrived. Following the short film, a full-length feature film, circa 1938, the Alfred Hitchcock thriller, "The Lady Vanishes," will be shown. The entertainment is free and open to all. Refreshments, provided by the Ministerial Alliance, will be served following the movie.

Sunday Events

On Sunday, October 3, the celebration moves to Greenbelt Lake Park. At 2 p.m., ceremonies begin with a performance by the Greenbelt Concert Band, including some favorite pieces of the 30s and 40s. Sherrod East, an original resident, will be the master of ceremonies, introducing the honored guests and dignitaries, among whom will be Lenore Thomas Straus, sculptor of the Center Statue and Center School friezes. Local, state and national figures are expected to attend. Ceremonies will conclude with the distribution of hot dogs, symbolic of the time that Franklin and Eleanor Roosevelt served hot dogs to the King and Queen of England, George VI and Elizabeth, just prior to the United States' entry into World War II. Though the hot dogs will be free, only one will be allotted per person. The Bowmans of Gunners Mate will provide lemonade.

The FDR Centenary Committee is grateful to the Greenbelt Co-op Supermarket for supplying the hot dogs and Giant Food for the buns, and to members of the Eleanor and Franklin Roosevelt Democratic Club for lending their culinary expertise in preparing the fare.

In case of rain, Sunday's events will be held at the Greenbelt Youth Center.

Founding of the Town

by Sandra Barnes

The city's FDR Centenary Committee has been working for several months to plan a weekend of events to honor the President whose visionary planning led to the construction of Greenbelt, one of the first planned communities in the country.

The weekend is dedicated to the 100th anniversary of Franklin Delano Roosevelt's birth, as well as the 45th anniversary of the date that the first residents moved into the new green town. This was the first one of three to be constructed by the FDR administration in those depression days of the 1930's. The two other towns are Greenhills, Ohio and Greendale, Wisconsin.

Greenbelt was a "make work" project for thousands of the unemployed. Hand tools were used whenever possible in the construction of the city in order to employ as many as possible. The concept of Greenbelt emphasized neighborhood and a healthy environment in a garden-like setting for its first hand-picked families. Criteria for residency were rigorous; applicants had to meet income standards; come from crowded, urban dwellings; be of "good character" and

It's the Sunday night evening gown competition for the Miss Greenbelt Pageant and Liz Greig, awaiting her turn to be questioned, feels a mosquito land on her eyelid. "I just sat there and blinked," she says. "I didn't want to look like a fidget."

Children who knew her as a lifeguard from the pool came to the front whispering, "Liz, hey Liz." "I didn't want to be rude to them," she says, smiling. So she "waved discreetly."

This year's Miss Greenbelt is anything but a typical queen.

Yes, she's tall, pretty, poised and talented. But she did not feverishly seek her queenly status and treats it as she does everything else—an experience worth having.

Lifeguard at the Greenbelt pool, Greig had not considered entering the Miss Greenbelt Pageant, but "got talked into it at the last minute" because of a shortage of entrants and the eagerness of the Recreation Department to have her represent them.

"I don't like thinking about winning things," Greig says, "because then you have the wrong attitude. I think you should just do the best you can."

Greig's thoughts on competition, garnered from years (9) of playing soccer and a strong interest in track, enabled her to unselfconsciously display her artwork and to play piano for the entertainment part of the competition. A piano student for only two years who has never played for others, she says, "I have never done anything like that. It was a good experience."

The multi-faceted pageant, put together by Jean Cook, consisted of two fashion shows, an entertainment portion and an evening

PTAs to Hold Voter Registration Drive

Greenbelt area PTAs and PTSAs will sponsor a voter registration drive on Wednesday, September 29. The voter registration books will be open for one week only, September 27 through October 4. Parent volunteers from Eleanor Roosevelt High, Greenbelt Center Elementary, and Springhill Lake Elementary Schools will be in the high school lobby from 7 to 9 p.m. on Sept. 29 to register voters. The PTAs urge all eligible persons to register to vote in the November election.

gown competition. In addition, the girls put in a large block of time preparing the float used in the Labor Day parade and rehearsing the chorus line entertainment for the Saturday night production. They rehearsed nightly for three weeks prior to the pageant, under the patient direction of choreographer Shelley Beardmore, who drove in from Deale to work with the 12 girls, aged 14 to 18, some of whom had never danced before.

Cook says of the energy input involved, "It was a good experience for many of the girls to find out how much effort was necessary to put on a good show."

Cook, who spent most of August in preparation for the pageant, says she would do it again, but "would do a lot of things differently" by delegating some of the responsibilities she took on this year. Cook coordinated the pageant and solicited fashions, cosmetics, entertainment and food from such places as Dutch Maid Fashions, Mary Kaye Cosmetics, H. T. McDougal's, Jasper's and Wild World.

Judges Ed Prutzer, Marlene Dixon, Cheri Ali and Dee Raley put in many hours meeting with the girls individually and at luncheons, as well as rating them during scheduled performances and questioning times.

From a queen's eye view, the whirlwind of events presented interest, challenge, fatigue and sometimes frustration. "The worst thing was having to wear all that makeup!" Greig says. She feels she doesn't really "fit the mold" and was surprised to win the pageant. "There were other girls who knew how to present themselves and to display clothes instead of themselves," she says.

What was the best part of the

Nigerian Chorus Sings At Eleanor Roosevelt

The University of Lagos National Chorale of Nigeria will present a concert at Eleanor Roosevelt High School Auditorium, 7601 Hanover Parkway, on Tuesday, September 28 at 8 p.m. The chorale is in Washington performing in the Fifth International Chorale Festival, presented by Choruses of the World.

CORRECTION

The correct figure for Al Golato's vote in Precinct 8, Springhill Lake, was 24.

Primary Election Wrap-up

by Charles Schwan

Richard Castaldi's triumph in last week's contest for the Democratic Party nomination for the County Council seat in the fourth district may be likened to a tripod. One leg would be the extraordinarily high percentage of the Greenbelt vote that he won (82.4%). The second leg would be his receiving in Bowie a larger share of the total than even he might have hoped. The third, the "icing on the cake" would be his doing so well in those district precincts located in neither Bowie nor Greenbelt.

More than half the total Democratic registrants reside in Bowie precincts (56.4%). Just under one in four—24.8%—live in Greenbelt. Just under one in five—19.8%—live in neither city.

In the recent election a somewhat higher percentage of Greenbelt's registered voters saw fit to do their civic duty than their Bowie counterparts—43.9% and 40.1% respectively. In the "other" precincts, 31.9% of registrants voted in the County Council contest. For the district as a whole the total was 39.5%.

A distant second to Castaldi in Greenbelt was incumbent Councilman Roy Dabney, who received 9.9% of the vote, Al Golato's and William Wildman's percentages were 6.2, and 1.6 respectively.

In Bowie, Golato received half of the total vote cast, but Castaldi secured almost one-third of the remainder. The Dabney-Wildman-Castaldi percentages of the Bowie vote were 17.2, 17.2 and 15.9 respectively. The Castaldi showing was impressive against three opponents, all of whom reside in Bowie.

In the "other" precincts, i.e. not in Bowie or Greenbelt, Castaldi received more than half—56.8% of the votes cast. Second again as he was in Greenbelt was Dabney with 27.4%. Golato and Wildman percentages were 11.5 and 4.3 respectively.

For the District as a whole, Castaldi secured 40.8% of the vote. Golato was a distant second with 31.5%. Dabney and Wildman garnered 16.8% and 10.8% respectively. Clearly, too, Castaldi's strength was spread more evenly through the district than that of any of his rivals. For example, 88.7% of the votes received by Golato were cast in Bowie. By contrast, although Castaldi was the overwhelming favorite of Greenbelters, they furnished only 55.7% of the votes that he received.

Kaleidoscope-Last Weekend; Film Series, Photo Workshops

The Greenbelt Cultural Arts Center will be sponsoring the last weekend of the musical revue, "Kaleidoscope" at the Utopia Theatre this weekend. For all three performances (there will also be a performance Sunday afternoon at 2:30 p.m.) a special two-for-one discount is available by bringing a copy of the ad in this issue. Up to this point the revue has played before disappointingly small crowds which belies the quality of the production. The Arts Center urges all to take advantage of this opportunity.

The Arts Center also announces, pending substantial business and residential support, a Classical Film Series to begin the weekend of November 4-7, with the films, "The Candidate" and "All the King's Men." To those interested in subscribing to the series, please consult the advertisement in the News Review. For more information, call Rosemary or Gus during evening hours, 474-1360.

The Photography Workshops began September 15 under the direction of Bill Cornett. While it is too late to sign up for the Beginner's Phototechnique session currently running, the Center wants to remind photo buffs that the next session will commence October 27 and run through December 8. Photographic workshops have been expanded this year to include a course on wedding photography and a seminar on fashion photography. The fashion photography workshop will be taught by David Neely, considered to be one of the best fashion photographers in the Baltimore-Washington area, who is also a contributing photographer to Playboy Magazine. Intermediate and advanced photography courses will be taught in the near future. For additional information regarding photographic workshops please call Bill Cornett, 474-9229.

The Flea Market and Bake Sale is coming up this Saturday, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Anyone interested in renting space for the market, please call Ann or Anthony Pisano, 474-7841. Those contributing baked goods may call Paula Lipman, 345-3516, or Trix Whitehall, 345-4487.

Return of Articles Asked

To the Editor:

Articles of furniture which were part of a collection for a Sidewalk Sale for Melwood Training Center for Retarded and Handicapped Children and stored for overnight were removed recently from a basement locker at 15 Parkway Rd. The articles taken were a new TV stand, electric toaster, 12-foot new carpet runner, small rug, framed picture, other smaller articles and even an antique rolling pin. The person who removed them could return them to the locker room, "No questions asked."

THANKS

To the Editor:

Many thanks to all our friends in Greenbelt for your support in the Republican Central Committee election. Without your support we would not have won.

We look forward towards working with all Greenbelters in building a strong Republican party in Prince Georges County. A healthy democracy needs a strong two-party system.

Once again—thanks!

THANKS

To the Editor:

I would like to take this opportunity to sincerely thank the citizens of Greenbelt for their enthusiasm and tireless support which helped elect me as the Democratic Candidate for County Council.

A campaign the caliber of ours could not have been accomplished by a handful of people. I have been proud to work side by side with many Greenbelters who were willing to give of their time and talent on my behalf.

I am counting on your continued support throughout the general election, and urge you to call or stop in at our Greenbelt Headquarters in Beltway Plaza (345-0027) to offer your help once again.

I thank you from the bottom of my heart. Truly, "Greenbelt is Great."

GRATEFUL!

To the Editor:

In a short time, almost surely Jim and Mary Agnes Smith will be leaving Greenbelt. In an exhibition of almost unparalleled stupidity, Jim became the victim of a reduction in force.

Jim and Mary have been conscientious and competent contributors to the public weal. They have been exemplary neighbors. They have been good friends.

I am aware of some of Mary's contributions to the community, but I am much better acquainted with Jim's. With apologies to her, therefore, I shall concentrate on Jim's activities.

My first awareness of Jim occurred in 1964. I believe when I heard of his having spoken forcefully and well in a zoning hearing. Shortly after that he joined the Steering Committee of Citizens for a Planned Greenbelt of which I was a member. In 1965 he was elected to GHI Board of Directors where we were colleagues for the next six years. It was during those years when I gained my real appreciation of his extraordinary ability.

Jim continued on the Board after I left it. As a matter of fact, except for two years, his service has been continuous since 1965. About half that time, he served as President of the corporation. In my opinion, his has been the greatest single contribution to the evolution, approval and implementation of the rehabilitation program. That is perhaps his signal achievement, but one must not forget that he led GHI's very successful effort to reduce its oil consumption following the 1973-74 escalation in oil prices. To my knowledge, no member of GHI has contributed so much to his fellows as Jim.

I am grateful to Jim and shall miss his continuing to serve GHI but his and Mary's leaving Greenbelt, should that happen, will be even more painful to me because of the long, warm personal relationship that I have enjoyed with them.

healthy. Married couples would start out in a small one-bedroom unit and move to larger homes as their families grew. Residents were white, and reflected the religious composition of Washington, D.C. at the time. Most had high school educations and were skilled or semi-skilled.

Once they moved in, other restrictions were imposed: no pets, no laundry on the line past 4 p.m. and never on Sunday; hedges and lawns had to be properly clipped. Enforcement could mean eviction for those who failed to comply. As incomes rose, some of the first residents had to move out.

Though there was a municipal city manager form of government, the federal government owned the town until 1952 when the original homes, 60 apartments and the surrounding land were purchased by the residents who formed Greenbelt Veterans Housing Corporation, later Greenbelt Homes, Inc. (GHI). Other government properties (apartment buildings, shopping center) were privately purchased. Land was sold and the city expanded.

Many stories of those earlier days will be printed in the "Recollections" to be published in next week's special issue of the News Review. As residents were invited to take part in the celebration, they have come forth with wonderful vignettes of what those "pioneer" days were like. For some, the weekend will be homecoming, an opportunity to greet old friends and reminisce. For the "original" twenty or thirty people who still remain in Greenbelt, they will no doubt relate how things have changed.

Additional recollections will be sought during the time the City Council chambers in the Municipal Building will be open on Saturday, October 2, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. At that time, Dorothy

Police Blotter

Compiled by Mavis Fletcher

An assault with a handgun occurred in the early hours of Sept. 14, when a man approached a car stopped on the exit ramp from I-95 to Greenbelt Road and attempted to open the door. The suspect shot at the car as it moved off. Greenbelt police and U.S. Park Police were called to the scene; about one hour later U.S. Park Police personnel arrested an adult male suspect.

Pfc. Craig Rich arrested three residents of Washington, D.C. for theft in a shoplifting case. The three reportedly were using two juveniles to transport goods from Marshall's to an automobile. The juveniles were turned over to the District of Columbia Child Protection Services.

Sgt. Thomas M. Ceccarelli arrested a male suspect who had broken into an apartment on Edmonston Court. The suspect had assaulted the female resident.

A no-force entry was reported by a Laurel Hill resident. Jewelry was stolen. Jewelry and a TV were taken during a breaking and entering in the 5800 block of Cherrywood Lane. Entry was made through an unlocked sliding glass door. Items of value also were stolen from a storage bin on Parkway. In another case, there was a theft from a storage bin on Springhill Court.

Cpl. Daniel P. O'Neil arrested a subject for possession of a controlled dangerous substance.

Pfc. Craig Rich arrested a male subject in the Beltway Plaza for indecent exposure.

Pfc. Fred E. Murray arrested a female suspect for attempted credit card fraud when she used stolen cards in the Greenway Shopping Center.

Thefts of automobiles were reported from Lakeside Drive, Edmonston Court and Cherrywood Terrace.

CDA Offers Freedom From Drugs, Alcohol

Chemically Dependent Anonymous (CDA) is a recovery program for those who wish to stop using any drugs, including alcohol, but have difficulty doing so.

CDA, unlike other recovery programs, deals entirely with the disease of addiction. Those in CDA do not make distinctions in the recovery process based on any particular substance, believing that the addictive-compulsive usage of chemicals is the core of the disease and the use of any mood-changing or mind-altering chemical will result in relapse to the disease.

Chemically Dependent Anonymous is a fellowship of people from all walks of life who share experience, strength, and hope with each other that they may solve their common problem and help others to recover from chemical dependence which has made their lives unmanageable. Following the traditions of similar recovery programs, all CDA members remain anonymous in public references.

CDA is not affiliated with any political, religious, or commercial organizations or institutions. There are no dues or fees. It is self-supporting.

CDA meets in Greenbelt Sundays at 6 p.m. at St. Hugh's.

For more information, write: CDA Intergroup, P.O. Box 1566, Annapolis, Md. 21404, or call 345-4297.

Greenbelt CARES

Greenbelt CARES regularly offers free six week workshops for parents of adolescent or preadolescent children. These Parent Discussion Groups are led by family counselors Jim Holmes and Wendy Wexler and are open to single parents or couples.

Parents will have an opportunity to get together with other parents in an informal setting to tackle thorny parenting issues and share failure and success stories. Confidentiality will be respected.

For more information, call 345-6660.

CITY NOTES

The pedestrian crossing signal at Green Ridge House is now in operation. The signal is set to flash one minute of yellow when a pedestrian pushes the control button to cross Ridge Road.

Overgrown trees and shrubs which were hanging over the street from vacant lots on Lakeside Drive were trimmed. Flowers in the city flowerbeds were watered. New basketball backboards were installed outside Springhill Lake Recreation Center. Maintenance was done on the ballfields and golf course.

Work continued on base removal and replacement on Ridge Road between Laurel Hill Road and Research Road. Some 160 feet of curb on Pinecrest Court was removed. The contractor has already replaced 80 feet of the curb.

The easement through Greenbriar is being prepared for an approach sidewalk to the overpass. All trees in the area have been topped and removed. The plumbing contractor has filed for the permit to move a fire hydrant on the easement and Miss Utility has marked all utilities running through the area. A meeting was held with Clayton Warner of P.G. County Public Schools with respect to the final routing of the sidewalk once the walk reaches the east side of Hanover Parkway.

Heart Attack Victims Needed for Study

Anyone who has suffered one heart attack within the past 4 1/2 years can have the unique opportunity to participate in a nationwide cardiovascular research program. Supported by the National Institutes of Health, the study lowers cholesterol to unprecedented levels. With heart disease the No. 1 killer in America today, the aim of the study is to find out if lower cholesterol levels will reduce the risk of progressive heart disease.

The Study needs persons who are age 29 through 64, have had only one heart attack in their lifetime (suffered within the past five years), have not had a stroke, do not have diabetes, and have not had heart surgery.

The East Coast Center is located in Philadelphia. The center covers transportation and lodging costs for all prospective participants and an interested family member. Persons who may be eligible are urged to contact the Hyperlipidemia Study for more information. Call, toll-free, 1-800-345-1057.

The Study works closely with each person's private physician.

GHI Board Tackles Many Problems

by Mary Moien

The September 9 board meeting of Greenbelt Homes, Inc. (GHI) and GHI Development Corporation (GHIDC) was another marathon meeting not adjourning until 1 a.m. In a departure from most recent meetings, no visitors or members requested the floor. Items on the agenda included a presentation by a representative of Storer Communications, Inc., discussions relating to rehab and member exemptions, and the need for upgrading computer software for 1983 budget programming.

GHIDC

During a brief meeting of GHIDC, the board approved the extension of the contract with Capital Electric. For work not affecting heat, the deadline was extended to December 31 and for heat work until November 15. This extension was granted since the contractor had not included time for installation of grills on the heating units and wall thermostats as these items were added after the contract was signed.

Statistics were presented showing that, as of September 9, 92% of the heat conversions had taken place. As of the same date, 20% of the masonry window installations had been completed.

At the outset of the meeting, president Jim Smith surprised most members of the board and audience with the announcement that, due to a Reduction in Force (RIF), he would be leaving his position with the Department of Agriculture immediately. He felt the board should be aware of this as it leaves his future plans uncertain.

Cable TV

A representative from Storer Communications, Inc. made a presentation regarding cable television coming to GHI. Storer has been stringing cable throughout the city in recent weeks, but a problem has arisen regarding providing cable to GHI homes. In normal situations, a cable is strung from the telephone pole to a subscriber's home. The cable enters the home with the telephone wire. In GHI homes, there is only one telephone line to a row, not a line to each unit. Thus Storer would need to run a line under the rows to each unit as the telephone line is now run or would need to have an overhead cable connected to each unit. Storer prefers the first option and wishes GHI to consider a proposal whereby each GHI unit would be hooked up to cable service and GHI would pay a flat fee of $3.50 per month for basic service to each unit. This fee is half of the current monthly base fee of $6.95. This would put GHI in the position of collecting fees from the members. Since this issue poses numerous choices and problems, the board instructed management to provide information to the membership and to set up a membership meeting for discussion of options.

Rehab Issues

The board had anticipated making a final determination of the conversion of the solar-heated units at this meeting. Management discussed the costs associated with solar heating. Some of the affected members indicated that they had been led to believe that they would remain on solar heat and now, with one week's notice, are being told that the heat will be changed. Management indicated that it would be very expensive for the affected members to maintain the solar heat themselves. The board requested management to provide more financial data on which system will be more cost effective for the members to operate.

Another heating-related issue concerned three of the freestanding homes on Woodland Way. These homes have their own furnaces of varying ages. Exemptions from the heating program had been requested in January, but the board tabled discussion until September. The board appeared to be in agreement to grant the exemptions, but could not agree on whether the members should be required to purchase the furnaces from the corporation and, if so, how much should be charged, as the furnaces were of various ages and in varying stages of repair. Management was requested to obtain an estimate of the current worth of the furnaces.

The use of the boiler plants after rehab was discussed again, but no progress was made. The board requested management to develop a list of plants by address, size, whether located in a member's yard, and possible uses with dollar estimates for conversion.

Computer software

Management is seeking to allocate $12,000 to purchase computer software and a fixed-disc needed for 1983 budget programming. After substantial discussion by board members, management, and members in the audience regarding the advisability of continuing to purchase computer services versus having the capability to perform the computer processing in-house, the board approved the allocation.

Key security

The Audit Committee presented a report on key security. They found that the present security system was adequate for the protection of members' keys. The Committee did feel, however, that "one area of concern exists when the key leaves the GHI building." They felt that at the end of rehab, an extra key used by GHIDC should be destroyed. During the discussion following the report, the suggestion was made that perhaps all locks should be changed after the completion of rehabilitation.

Miss Greenbelt

pageant? Emphatically she says. "The evening gown competition" because it was "more elegant."

Greig emphasizes that, though she enjoyed this pageant, she did not take it so seriously as to let it cloud her general perspective. "I am more concerned about getting into the college of my choice," Greig says. A potential pre-med student and a senior at Eleanor Roosevelt High School, Greig hopes to be accepted at Princeton, Duke, Emory, Brown or Wellesley.

Would she enter a beauty pageant again? "I don't think so." Greig says. "Once was enough to get the experience. I'm not that type of person."

This year's Miss Greenbelt did her own makeup for the pageant and plans to contribute considerably to her college education. She entered the Miss Greenbelt Competition as a favor to the Recreation Department. "I started feeling conceited," Greig says. "There was so much talking about myself."

If there is a typical beauty pageant queen, Greig is right. She doesn't "fit the mold." Which is probably why she won.

Greenbelt Soccer

The PG County Boys and Girls soccer team of 10-year-olds overcame considerable adversity in a 2-1 win over College Park at Braden Field this past Sunday. Because of injuries, sickness and absences, the Greenbelt roster was reduced from fifteen to eight healthy players. However, when the College Park soccer commissioner refused to reschedule the game, the players voted unanimously to play rather than forfeit. In a situation similar to the Greenbelt goal disallowed against South Bowie the previous week, College Park scored early and led 1-0 at halftime. Greenbelt came out and dominated play in the second half, consistently attacking and finally tying the score on a penalty kick by Shawn Luddy. Increasing the pressure, the fullbacks came out to play offense, drawing College Park offside a number of times. Following a series of passes from the backfield, Chris Adams went in to score the winning goal. Greenbelt preserved the 2-1 lead to the final whistle. Goalie Shaun Abell made many fine saves despite playing with a bruised knee.

SOCCER KICKS

by Sue Cornelius

The 1982 Fall Soccer Season is now well underway with two games of the season already completed. There are a total of nine teams, some in the County, some in the Interleague, and all co-ed.

The two six year old teams came out victorious last Saturday with big wins over Lanham teams. Greenbelt I (coached by Lisa Kellaher) won 6-1, and the goals were scored by Cathy Colvin (1), Ian Joseph (1), Steve Klem (2) and Nathan Jones (2).

Greenbelt II (coached by Jane Jenkins) won 7-0, with 5 goals scored by Mike Sweeney and two by Mike Davis. There is a lot of talent on both teams, and Greenbelt looks forward to a successful future for them. They have a firm grasp already on the skills necessary for a soccer team; communication, good sportsmanship and teamwork.

The 10 year old County team (coached by Bob Cahalan) played an outrageous game on Sunday at Braden Field. Even though Greenbelt could field only eight players against College Park's 11, they played an excellent passing game, winning by a score of 2-1 (see Greenbelt Soccer story).

The 11 year old county team (coached by Pete Halkiotis) won a tight game played in Forestville by 1-0. Their only goal was scored by Stephen Tolzman. Congratulations Greenbelt!

All winning Democratic candidates will be invited to speak. Refreshments will be served.

Democrats Meet Tuesday

The Eleanor and Franklin Roosevelt Democratic Club will meet on Tuesday, September 28, at 8 p.m. in the Greenbriar Community Room. The meeting date has been changed because of Rosh Hoshanah. The program will consist of a discussion of this year's budget, programs and future meeting places.

SENIOR CITIZENS

The Senior Olympics

The Maryland Senior Olympics will be held this year on October 15 and 16, at Towson State University. This festival for Maryland residents over the age of 55, consists of a large number of events, such as golf, tennis, racketball, bowling, square dance, swimming, running, walking, horseshoes, etc. Everyone competes within his/her own age and sex group. The olympics windup is a banquet on the evening of October 16, which provides an opportunity for all participants to meet senior citizens from around the State. Last year over 400 SC competed in the various events.

Information about the Senior Olympics can be obtained by writing to: Maryland Senior Olympics, c/o Agnes Taylor, Office of Aging, 301- W. Preston Street, Baltimore, MD 21201 or by calling (301) 383-2100. Informational brochures and entry blanks can be obtained from the Greenbelt Recreation Department. The deadline for submitting entries is October 1. There is a single fee which includes the banquet and all facility fees.

One need not be a world class athlete, or even highly proficient in the event to compete, and even get an award. The major accomplishment is not the winning of a medal, however, it is the fact that one prepare for the event, and do the best one is capable of doing. This is what the olympics is all about. It demonstrates that 60, 70, and 80 year olds can still be physically active and can compete in athletic events.

I would urge all senior citizens who can run, swim, walk, or can compete in any of the other events to give serious thought to entering the Senior Olympics. The mere fact that you got out there and competed will do a lot for your self esteem. In addition, the accomplishments of the other contestants (especially those much older) will be an inspiration and a motivation to continue to be mentally and physically active.

POTTERY COURSES TO BE TAUGHT AT YOUTH CTR.

The Recreation Department is offering registration for a special 10-week session of pottery courses taught by local creative arts specialist Nancy Neupert of Greenbelt. The classes are scheduled for Monday evenings from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. in the Evelyn Boggs Art Studio at the Youth Center. Nancy has an extensive and varied background as a potter, including intensive training in Colorado with several well-known potters such as Professor Betty Woodman of Boulder.

Nancy will teach beginning and advanced techniques in hand-building, wheel-throwing, glazing and decorating, and hopes to include unusual projects such as sawdust firing, smoked redware, musical instrument making, Raku, or use of local clays and brick bodies.

The course is open to all skill levels of potters. For additional information and registration, contact the Recreation Department Business Office at the Youth Center weekdays, 8:30-5 p.m. 474-6878. There is a fee. Unlimited practice time will be offered.

Candle Making Class Offered by Rec. Dept.

Looking forward to the Holiday Season the Greenbelt Recreation Department is planning a class in candle making. This will be six two-hour classes on Tuesday evenings. Basic candle crafting techniques will be taught and several candles will be made in class with variations described and demonstrated.

The class will be taught by Rosemary Bridge, who has 20 years experience in teaching candle making. It will run on Tuesday evenings 7:30 to 9:30 p.m., Oct. 5, 12, 19, 26 and November 2 and 9.

There will be a fee for instruction and supplies. A list of simple equipment to be brought from home will be given to each student at registration.

On September 10, first place winners were Madeline Greene and Shirley Bryant. A tie for second place was Lucille and Louis Lushine with Clare Jacobs and George Nelson.
