Bulletin Board and Bus Shelter For Boxwood Interest Council

by Virginia Beauchamp

The Boxwood Village section of Greenbelt claimed, and got, considerable attention from the city council at the regular council meeting on Monday, July 11. Represented by president Joe Isaacs, the Boxwood Citizens Assn. had requested that the city construct a community bulletin board on Parcel 7 to be used for community-wide information. Discussion of this matter, as well as the possibility of placing a city-constructed bus shelter at the corner of Crescent and Ridge, also on Parcel 7, occupied a good deal of council's attention. Both projects received provisional approval.

Since the request for a bulletin board was first presented at the previous council meeting, city staff have gathered information concerning possible designs and cost projections. These ranged from an 8-foot by 8-foot covered area for $715 to a 10-foot by 10-foot covered area with benches for $926. However, the city staff could prepare a simple bulletin board with neither shelter nor benches for $300.

Boxwooders had nothing so elaborate as benches in mind, said Isaacs, nor anything so large. They were thinking of the bulletin board at the Attick Park as their model, he said. At the present time they had no way to get various messages out to the Boxwood community, he said — a number of messages which he estimated as at least 40 a year.

Mayor Gil Weidenfeld wondered if the bulletin board could in any way be incorporated into the bus shelter also requested, but discussion brought out that the latter's location on heavily traveled Crescent Rd., at a presently graveled bus stop, would be hazardous. Isaacs felt the Ivy Lane-Lastner Lane corner of the playground area in Parcel 7 would be a better location for cars to pull up so that people could read notices on the bulletin board.

Council agreed. In fact, as they recalled observing both elementary and junior high school students waiting for buses at that corner in inclement weather, council members became more and more interested in a sheltering roof for the projected bulletin board — which could do double duty to protect children on rainy days.

On a motion by councilman Thomas X. White, council authorized the city staff to provide drawings and specifications for a community bulletin board and children's shelter that could be constructed within the range of $1,000. "We need to get the figures to know what we're talking about," councilman Richard Pilski agreed.

"We should be glad to do it," White said; "Boxwood does not get as much from the city as other areas."

Bus Shelter

Everyone agreed that a bus Shelter was needed at the bus stop opposite the lake parking lot on Crescent Rd. The only question was who should pay for it. METRO, which had looked into the issue, claimed that only seven passengers boarded the bus there in the morning. Large number.

Weidenfeld, White First to Announce

Two city council incumbents — Mayor Gil Weidenfeld and councilman Thomas X. White — have announced their candidacies in the forthcoming city council election, which will be held on Tuesday, September 20. Weidenfeld is currently serving his third term as mayor. He has been a member of council for 12 years. White first was elected to council in 1973; he has served five years.

A graduate engineer and an attorney, Weidenfeld as a representative of Greenbelt has served as a vice president of the Maryland Municipal League (MML) for three years and was on the MML's Board of Directors for five. He is a past president of the Prince Georges County Municipal Association (PGCMA) and served five years on the PGCMA Executive Board. He was selected by the PGCMA as the "Outstanding Municipal Official of Prince Georges County" for 1976-1977.

Weidenfeld is serving his fifth year on the Board of Directors of the Washington Metropolitan Council of Governments (COG) and has served on COG's Public Safety Policy Committee and its Transportation Planning Board.

A manager for the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office, Weidenfeld has earned numerous governmental awards for outstanding performance, special achievement and for work of outstanding quality.

In 1969 he earned a law degree, Doctor of Jurisprudence, from Catholic University in Washington, D.C. In 1960 he received a Bachelor of Science degree in engineering from Rutgers University in New Jersey. He is a member of the Maryland Bar, the District of Columbia Bar and the United States Supreme Court Bar.

An 18 year resident of Greenbelt, Weidenfeld lived in Springhill Lake for eight years, resided in Boxwood Village for eight years and now resides on Ridge Road. His wife, Muriel, has been involved in numerous community activities in Greenbelt. The Weidenfelds have two daughters, Sharon and Ellen, who were educated in the Prince Georges County school system and attend Prince Georges Community College.

White Biography

During his five terms with the city council, White has also been active in county, regional, state, and national committees dealing with municipal affairs. These include membership on three COG committees—the Water Resources Planning Board, the Air Quality Steering Committee, and the Metropolitan Interstate Air Quality Planning Committee. He is currently Vice Chairman of the Energy, Environment and Natural Resources Policy Steering Committee, National League of Cities.

Other statewide activities in which White has participated include membership on the State of Maryland Air Quality Control Advisory Council; the Legislative Action Committee; and the Board of Directors of the Maryland Municipal League; the Governor's Task Force on Oil Price Overcharges; and the Governor's Commission on Condominiums, Cooperatives and Homeowner Associations.

He is also a member of the Prince Georges County Democratic Central Committee (elected), a member of the Legislative Action Committee, Prince Georges Municipal Association; and chairman of the Legislative Affairs Committee, Greenbelt Homes, Inc.

White is a member of Greenbelt American Legion Post No. 136, Citizens For Greenbelt, and the Greenbelt Cultural Arts Center. He is a past president and charter member of the Eleanor and Franklin Roosevelt Democratic Club.

The Whites, who are members of St. Hugh's Church, reside on Woodland Way. He and his wife, Helen, have seven children. They have lived in Greenbelt for the past twenty-four years.

A native Washingtonian, White was educated in the parochial school system, graduating from Gonzaga College High School in 1953. After attending Georgetown University for one year, he enlisted in the U. S. See WHITE, page 8, col. 3

Requirements to Vote, Run In City Election on Sept. 20

Election Day for the Greenbelt City Council is just two months away on September 20 to be exact. All citizens should be aware of the requirements to make them eligible to vote or run for office. Here below are the regulations for citizen participation in the Greenbelt city elections.

Anyone who is eligible to vote in Greenbelt city elections is eligible to run for one of the five seats on the city council. The term of office is two years. Members of council receive a salary of $2,900 per year; the mayor, $3,400.

Registration

Citizens may register at the city offices during regular office hours, Monday through Friday, from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Also, the city clerk has arranged for on-site registration from now until the books close at three additional places: Greenbelt Homes office on Hamilton Pl., Greenbriar and Springhill Lake Community Buildings. (See city ad for more information.)

Persons who cannot register at those times may request a voter registration form by calling 474-8000 or 474-3870) or writing to the City Clerk, 25 Crescent Road. (See city ad for more information.) The last day to register will be August 22.

Once registered, a citizen need not reregister as long as he lives here continuously, and has voted in at least one of the two previous regular city elections. If a person has never registered here or if he has moved out of town and then moved back or if he has missed voting in the last two general elections, it will be necessary to register again.

There were 2,788 registered voters as of June 30: Of these 948 vote at Center School, 901 will vote at St. Hugh's; 251 vote at Springhill Lake; and 688 at Greenbriar.

In 1981 there were 3,522 registered voters — 1,137 at Center School, 1,070 at North End, 438 at Springhill Lake, and 877 at Greenbriar.

Voting Qualifications

Citizens must meet the following qualification requirements in order to register in person or by mail:

1. United States Citizen.
2. 18 years of age as of September 20, 1983.
3. Domiciled within the corporate limits of the City of Greenbelt.
4. Of sound mind.

The city Charter defines "domicile" as the dwelling place which the voter intends to be his permanent home.

Running for Council

Anyone wishing to run for city council must do the following:

1. Obtain at least 50 qualified voters to sign a nomination petition form, which may be obtained from the city clerk. Married women who wish to sign a petition should use the form Mary Doe, not Mrs. John Doe. The records show the given name, and if the city clerk does not recognize the name in its married form, she may not be able to check and accept it.

2. Prepare a notarized financial statement on a form supplied by the city clerk disclosing financial interests for the period beginning January 1, 1983 and ending June 30, 1983. The report must list business entities and/or real estate in which ownership interests, as defined in the law, are held by self and family and also the source of specified income or debts.

3. Submit the signed nomination petition and financial statement, together with a written acceptance of the nomination to the city clerk no later than Monday, August 8 at 5 p.m.

One final requirement: candidates must file with the city clerk by noon of September 13 a notarized interim report showing all campaign contributions received in excess of $25 and the names of contributors. A final report is due on September 26.

If five candidates fail to win at least 40 percent of the votes cast, there will be a run-off election 7 days later (September 27). In the run-off election the ballot will consist of those unsuccessful candidates receiving the highest number of votes up to twice as many names as there are positions to be filled.

Dogs . . . A Serious Matter

Editor's note: We repeat, for the second incident in two months, an editorial which we have previously run. Unfortunately, it describes in all details the new incident.

Last week one of our News Review carriers, while on her regular route, was bitten by a dog at a residence where she was making a delivery. The incident, which is most regrettable, should never have happened. It goes without saying that our carriers, whose dedication persists through the unpleasantness of inclement weather and in the dark of winter nights, should never have to endure confrontation with free-ranging, aggressive dogs.

Our patrons are herewith reminded that no News Review carrier is expected to make deliveries in a court where a dog is permitted to run free. These young people have been performing an important service for our community and for this paper. We desire in no way to curtail that contribution, but their own safety must be our paramount concern.

Lewis Cassidy IV      Alpheus Tavenner

Lewis C. Cassidy IV, 53, assistant vice president of District Realty Insurance Co. who was a former real estate lawyer in Prince Georges County and was a past president of the Patuxent Title Corp. died of cancer July 5 at his home in Greenbriar.

From 1968 to 1982, he was a partner with his brother, John W. Cassidy, (a Boxwood resident for several years), in the Cassidy & Cassidy law firm in Upper Marlboro. Before that, he had practiced privately in Upper Marlboro and had been partner in a Mount Rainier law firm. He was president of Patuxent Title in the 1970s and early 1980s and had been as assistant vice president of District Realty since 1982.

He was a founder and past president of the Prince Georges Civic Opera.

Mr. Cassidy was a native of Boston and had lived in this area since 1950. He served in the Marine Corps during the Korean conflict. He was a graduate of American University and its law school.

His marriage to the former Carmel Jones ended in divorce.

In addition to his brother, of Upper Marlboro, survivors include a son, Maxwell M., of Arlington, a daughter, Martha Cassidy of Cambridge, Md., his mother, Clara M. Cassidy of Harpers Ferry, W.Va., a sister, Isabel B. Polser of Alexandria, and a brother, Hugh T. of Bowie.

Alpheus E. Tavenner of 19-R Ridge Rd., died June 30 at 86 years of age. He had resided at the Ridge Rd. address since 1938. He had retired from GSA in 1970. Some of the original inhabitants of Greenbelt, the Tavenners were among the families who formed the Mowatt Memorial United Methodist Church. They were quite active in that church; their son Julian was the first president of the Methodist Youth Fellowship. Julian was ordained as a minister in 1955 and is now Chaplain of Asbury Village Methodist Home in Gaithersburg, Md.

Mr. Tavenner served in the Army during the First World War. He was past Post Commander of Greenbelt American Legion Post No. 136. Legion services were held Sunday, July 3.

He is survived by his wife of 57 years, Stella Best Tavenner, who had worked in the Co-op Variety Store from 1942 to 1975. He also is survived by his son Julian A. Tavenner, brother W. T. Tavenner, two grandchildren and one great-grandchild. Interment was at Fort Lincoln Cemetery. The Rev. C. Douglas Cooney, pastor of First Hyattsville United Methodist Church, conducted the funeral. The Tavenners were long-time members of that church.

The Way I See It

by Charles F. Schwan

If a fledgling columnist may begin his career with a boast, then I am about to boast.

Recently I was fortunate enough to be able to move into Green Ridge House. It is a fine facility that even my brief experience persuades me justifies the praise that its elderly or infirm residents have heaped upon it.

The City Council plays a relatively small role in planning and constructing most projects. The City Manager and other staff members perform the tasks necessary to erect a Springhill Lake Recreation Center or an addition to the Municipal Building. In the case of Green Ridge House, however, Council participated actively in determining what should be included for residents' safety, comfort and convenience. Make no mistake. Most of the credit for the decisions made belongs to the City Manager, James K. Giese; to the former Assistant City Manager, Dennis Piendak; and to the late Buddy Attick, who was Director of Public Works; to their associates and an advisory committee of citizens. A good share, nevertheless, can be claimed by the Council sitting at that time.

My boast? I was a member of Council when Green Ridge House was planned and built.

Objection

To the Editor :

In the July 7 News Review Bettie G. Denson suggests that because she believes "many irregularities and ambiguities exist" in the GHI bylaws, "it is high time our bylaws and corporate papers were reviewed by our law firm."

Surely Ms. Denson is aware that our present law firm is well acquainted with our bylaws and corporate papers, particularly considering that they were our counsel when GHI was originally incorporated. It is a mystery to me why she feels that we ought to spend a lot of money at the current rate of $125 an hour that lawyers charge for a further examination by our counsel of something with which they are already familiar.

If Bettie G. Denson and her friends wish to engage the lawyer as a private project for which they will pay, that is fine; but I do object to my monthly charges being used to pay for what we already have.

Greenbelt Police Officers Riskin and Hahn

by Eleanor Santoro

Two of Greenbelt's most recently hired policemen, officers Alan Riskin and Timothy Hahn, describe the force as a "very well respected" department with an enjoyable atmosphere.

Officer Alan "Jeff" Riskin, 28, sworn in on July 18, 1982, has been a policeman for seven years. As he drove around sections of Greenbelt, carefully patrolling the areas on what he called "a relatively slow day," he reminisced about previous employment with other police forces and finally told what brought him to Greenbelt.

When he was a teenager, Riskin first worked for the District Heights Police Department, but he wasn't employed as a policeman. Riskin's work was in electronics for the Police Communications Systems. He said he never really had planned to be a policeman until District Heights asked if he would consider it if the opportunity arrived. Shortly after, Riskin was offered that opportunity, and he said "yes."

Riskin worked on the District Heights force as a policeman for about four and a half years, serving as a supervisor for one of those years. During his stay, Riskin said he was involved in two shootouts, but he added that those experiences never caused him to worry about getting wounded or killed. "When you're doing your job, you can't worry about getting killed, or else you'll get killed," claimed Riskin in a serious tone. In 1980 he transferred to the Annapolis City Police Department, where he worked for two years.

Subsequently, Riskin came to Greenbelt, the Department that he says is "very well respected by other departments because of its excellent reputation made by the people who were here." Riskin said that he is "very pleased" with Greenbelt's department and gets along well with his co-workers. Summarizing, Riskin said he "likes every aspect of police work" and ultimately he "likes who he is working for now."

Riskin, certified by the state to teach at 14 police academies, said he enjoys teaching about law enforcement. Photography is another one of his hobbies. He does his own developing and processing in his home in Upper Marlboro and is the "major crime scene photographer" for the Greenbelt police. Riskin, who said he felt he has "a certain obligation to people," is also involved with helping troubled youths.

"Sometimes I go out of my way — big deal," said Riskin, after seeking counseling at the Greenbelt Juvenile Services building for a youth who asked Riskin for help.

Officer Hahn

Officer Timothy Hahn, 28, sworn in on March 8, 1982, is serving his first year as a policeman here in Greenbelt. Hahn worked as a fireman for 13 years but his interests changed and the challenges of police work were appealing. "I wanted to stay in public service and police work is closely related to the fire service," explained Hahn. Appearing somewhat exasperated but nevertheless interested (he had just returned from apprehending several individuals at Springhill Lake for disturbance), Hahn expressed his particular interest in the Springhill Lake area. A resident himself, Hahn said "Springhill Lake is the most active sector in the Greenbelt area. It keeps me busy and I like being busy."

Besides being interested in his work, Hahn enjoys working in his environment. Hahn explained that the positive attitude of his co-workers led to a very agreeable atmosphere. He said, "The people in the Greenbelt Police force are very professional, progressive and very interested in their jobs." Hahn added that he plans to stay with the Greenbelt Department for quite a while.

A rather sensitive, but common question often asked of policemen was answered honestly and personably by Officer Hahn.

The question, "Does police work scare you?" The answer: "Yes, very much. You know the policeman who was shot at last November by the Lake, it was me," said Hahn. "I get scared mostly when I respond to domestic and 'unknown trouble' calls," pointed out Hahn.

Explaining that it is easier and safer when one knows what to expect and when there are "set procedures" to follow, Hahn said that he would rather respond to a bank alarm call than a domestic call. "There are certain procedures you follow when a bank alarm goes off, there are certain people who know what to do, such as sending the police dogs in. Hahn said that there are further sets of rules about handling domestic cases and it is sometimes difficult to know what to do.

Hahn said he likes to play soccer and hopes to coach a team with the Greenbelt Boys and Girls Club. Hahn said he also likes to keep up with current laws and is anticipating a degree in Law Enforcement Technology at Prince Georges Community College in the near future.

GHI Members' Questions On New Charges Answered

by Sandra Surber Smith

Greenbelt Homes Inc. (GHI) members recently received a notice of mid-year adjustment in charges. These notices and the increase in charges have prompted some members to ask a number of questions. The News Review spoke with GHI Comptroller Don McGinn and other GHI staff to learn what questions were being asked and the answers being provided by GHI. McGinn indicated that most of the questions pertained to the charges placed on an individual unit. He stressed that the overall number of inquiries had been relatively small and that a quick review of the payments received for July showed that most members are paying the new amount.

There were some issues which more than one member addressed. Some members asked about the charge for access doors. GHI reports that this charge for each member has been determined by a shared structural formula. That is, the total cost of the door per the contract was multiplied by the number of doors in each group (original Greenbelt or frame- and then spread by the structural formula.

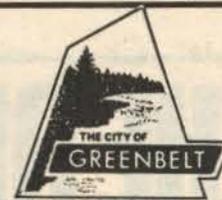

A question raised by some members of brick homes related to the charge for masonry roofing. This charge represents the member's share of work done on the block flat-top units, since all masonry units (brick, block and asbestos-shingled) form a single budgetary entity and share costs. Members questioned charges for masonry insulation, both crawl space and attic. Members who did their own attic insulation received a credit. A few rehab items, such as foundation repair in masonry units, have not been completed and therefore are estimated on the charge itemization form.

In addition, some members have asked about the payoff option. Members can pay in full or in part the capital improvement loan section or rehab loan section. The payoff amount and the benefit in doing so would have to be computed and reviewed for each individual unit.

Finally, a question on the timing of the notice to members and the due date for the new monthly charge was raised by at least one GHI member. A June 23 letter from GHI Board President Margaret Hogensen alerted members to the adjustment in charges which would be due with the July payment. GHI attributed the short notice to the complicated computer processing and calculations needed to arrive at the correct amount for each unit and reminds members that an extension to August for the additional amount was permitted and that members had been alerted to a July adjustment six months earlier with the 1983 monthly charge notice.

Members who have questions about any charges may still call McGinn at 474-6601 or write a note to him.

bers or University students, on the other hand, used the same stop for the University's shuttle bus runs all day long. Unfortunately the University, which recognized the need, had no money to spare. That brought up the question about whether the state, which funds the University, might pick up the tab.

Pilski then made a motion that the city manager be authorized to construct a shelter for approximately $1000. To this motion White added an amendment. According to the amendment, the city was to continue pursuing with the county, state, and University the possibility of cooperating with them to finance and construct the shelter.

"Is there any time limit?" someone asked.

"September 21," White shot back. And everybody laughed, including the savvy audience who recognized that this would be the day after election.

Finally the phrase "within two months" was added to the amendment and both amendment and motion passed.

Waste Disposal

The perpetual topic of what to do about solid waste also came up on the council agenda — twice, in fact. The first instance involved the city's response to a study prepared by Maryland Environmental Service (MES), a state agency, to find the best site for a "mass burn" facility to destroy solid wastes. Since the facility was to be located somewhere in the vicinity of College Park, council at an earlier meeting had directed the city manager to seek the city of College Park's response to the proposal.

According to a memo from the manager, College Park objects to the location of a "mass burn" facility within the immediate proximity of their city; they have requested that MES instead look into the refuse derived fuel technology (RDF) at any site receiving further study.

One of the sites proposed for

FOSTER HOMES NEEDED

The Prince Georges County Department of Juvenile Services and the Bureau of Rehabilitation, a private, non-profit United Way Agency, are working with teenagers who need foster homes. Foster parents in the county are desperately needed. They can be single or married, with children or without and will receive financial reimbursement for room and board for the youth.

Anyone who is interested and would like further information, please contact Bonnie Kasander at 459-5525.

a waste conversion facility is the A. H. Smith property in Branchville, just west of Beltway Plaza. City council members were unanimous in their opposition to that location. They suggested four others, however, that met criteria of access to transportation and to other existing power sources and directed that a letter be sent naming these sites and also submitting the rationale for their selection.

The second matter concerning waste disposal involved a communication with the city of Bowie. Both cities are agreed that a county council bill establishing a site development/environmental surcharge of $3.00 per ton of refuse disposed at any sanitary landfill site in the county is inadequate as written because it fails to establish a separate fund earned from these monies. The city concurs with the Bowie position that such funds should be restricted to planning and development of new solid waste facilities. Also to be added to the bill, if Greenbelt and Bowie get their way, would be a five-year period to be established within which landfill fees would be set.

The city manager was directed to send along the city's position to county councilman Richard Castaldi. That was not difficult to do, since he was present at the meeting.

Navy and served for five years as a Medical Corpsman. Leaving active service in 1959, he enrolled at the University of Maryland. In 1962, he earned a B.S. degree in microbiology and has worked for the past 21 years in the field of medical diagnostic products. At the present time, he is on the professional staff of the Science and Technology Division of the Pharmaceutical Manufacturers Association.

He has continued his affiliation with the U.S. Navy as an active Naval Reservist, now completing 24 years of Naval Reserve service. He is assigned to a Navy Reserve Surgical Team at Adelphi, Md.

White began his active community service in 1962 when he served with the Greenbelt Jaycees, the Citizens for a Planned Greenbelt, and various committees and elective offices of the Greenbelt Homes Inc. (GHI) Cooperative. He served on the GHI Audit Committee for three years, the GHI Board of Directors for four years, and served as the Treasurer of GHI during 1973-74. He was one of the founders of the Greenbelt Save Our Community Committee (SOCC). SOCC was instrumental in preventing the location of a planned three school complex on Parcel 1 and 2 west of the B-W Parkway, and led the opposition to the use of a package temporary sewage treatment plant to serve new residential properties in Greenbelt.

Play at Utopia

"Not Now Darling" is the hilarious bedroom farce that will be presented at the Greenbelt Cultural Arts Center on Fridays and Saturdays, July 15, 16 and 22, 23 at 8 p.m. Sunday matinee is at 2:30 p.m.

The Maryland Traveling Repertory Theater will bring Greenbelt audiences a spicy comedy. It will be performed at the Utopia Theater, 129 Centerway. For information call 474-7763 (Recording) or 441-8770 one hour before showtime.

Festival Notes

Organizations which participated in the carnival at the Labor Day Festival last year recently received letters about participating in the carnival again. Other organizations interested in a booth in the Festival should contact J Davis (345-3243). The deadline for requesting a carnival booth is August 1.

Miss Greenbelt

One of the most exciting parts of the Greenbelt Labor Day Festival is the Miss Greenbelt Contest. Young women between the ages of 14 and 19 compete for prizes which include a modeling scholarship, gift certificates and a diamond watch and diamond earrings. Contestants also share in luncheons at local restaurants and many other fun activities. These activities lead up to three evenings of events when the girls compete for the title of Miss Greenbelt and the place of honor on the Miss Greenbelt float in the Labor Day Parade.

Those interested in joining in the fun of the Miss Greenbelt Contest should contact Jean Cook at 345-2597.

Parade

The parade committee is making plans for the Labor Day Parade. Community groups that are interested in marching in the parade are encouraged to call the Chairperson, Richard Semler, (474-0885).

GHI is pleased to announce that the Rehab Loan Deferral Program (RLDP) has been amended to allow eligible members to defer up to $70.00 a month of their rehab payment. The deferred amount or loan will be assessed 3% accrued interest but does not need to be repaid until the house is sold.

Eligibility

A member's individual financial status will determine eligibility for the program. The following Federal housing assistance criteria provide a guideline for determining eligibility:

Highest Eligibility Income Limit	No. in Household
$15,100	1
$17,300	2
$19,450	3
$21,600	4
$22,950	5
$24,300	6

A member must also have a rehab charge at least equal to the deferred amount.

Application

Interested members may take advantage of the Rehab Loan Deferral Program by filling out an RLDP application which is available from the GHI Receptionist. Members who are already receiving a $35.00 deferral and would like this deferral increased, should call the new Member Services Coordinator Marc Schwartz (474-6644).

The increased deferral will take effect August 1. GHI appreciates this opportunity to be of assistance to its members.

Adrienne Szafran Wins Skolnik Award, Again

by Eleanor Santoro

This year's recipient of the Alfred M. Skolnik Memorial Award for excellence in journalism was second-time winner Adrienne Szafran of 113 Lakeside Drive. The award, a $100 savings bond, which is dedicated to the memory and achievements of former Greenbelt News Review publisher and president Alfred M. Skolnik, is given to an Eleanor Roosevelt High School (ERHS) student residing in Greenbelt who excels in the field of journalism.

When Adrienne, 18, received the award last year, she was a junior and co-editor of the school newspaper, the Raider Review. This year, Adrienne, who graduated in early June, was editor of the paper and also wrote articles for the ERHS yearbook, but she modestly confesses, "I can't believe I deserved the award this year." Szafran said, "Another girl on the yearbook staff who worked really hard was more deserving."

Besides, having been involved with writing, Szafran was a participant in other school-related activities. She was secretary of the honor society and co-captain of the ERHS volleyball team, for which she also won most valuable player. Despite her participation and taking on of responsibilities connected with these extra-curricular activities, Szefran managed to maintain about a B-plus average throughout her four years at ERHS.

Having just returned from a week's vacation in Ocean City in celebration of her June 6 graduation, the jubilant Szafran spoke openly and optimistically about future plans. Szafran said the $100 savings bond award will be contributed toward her education. Adrienne plans to attend Dickinson College in Carlisle, Pa., where she intends to study political science. Although Szafran said that she is fascinated with writing and the journalism field, she indicated that her real interest lies behind the writing—into the making.

Szafran: "I used to want to be a journalist but I'm tired of seeing how 'coldly' news is treated in the newspapers and on television. I want to do something about the rapes and crimes and robberies. I couldn't report, I need to do something." Szafran said she sees law school as a later possibility, but muses, "I'd rather go to the police academy, but my parents would kill me." Szafran added, "Risks are exciting."

Flashing a genuinely delightful smile and looking quite scholarly in her sister's Pratt University sweatshirt, Szafran seemed excited with the future and appeared to fit right in with what's in store.

Our Neighbors

by Eileen Peterson

Condolences to Stella Tavenner on the death of her husband Alpheus. The Tavenners moved into their 19 Court Ridge Road house in January 1938. Stella recalls their court was in "a sea of mud" as Greenbelt's first families settled in.

Sympathies also go to James Simon of 45 Court Ridge on the recent loss of his brother-in-law. Condolences to Evelyn Feller on the death of her sister.

Congratulations to Lynette Johnson of 17 Court Ridge on passing the D. C. Bar examinations. Lynette is a law clerk to a U.S. Claims Court judge as well as wife to Lee and mother to Sonja and Bjorn.

A June graduate of St. Anselm's Abbey School, Ed Cook, Jr., will study aerospace engineering this Fall at Boston University on a four-year Navy scholarship. Ed's Tamarisk Court family includes father and mother Ed and Jean and brothers Frank and Michael.

Welcome back to Greenbelt to Evelyn Hillier and daughter Donna. They are temporarily living with her parents, Bill and Alice Donahue of 14 Court Ridge, and Donna will attend St. Hugh's School in September. Evelyn's brother Gerard, a June graduate of ERHS, received a PTSA scholarship and will attend the U. of Md. this Fall.

Pat and Howard Savage of Lakeside Drive returned recently from a stay in Spain. Howard was there for a month in his work as a metallurgist with the U. S. Navy Lab in White Oak, and Pat joined him for two weeks. Unfortunately, Pat injured her leg four days before their return, so she is hobbling a bit these days. Son Tom and his wife Barbara have been staying at the Lakeside home until their departure Tuesday for Texas. Tom will begin four years of study at the Dallas Theological Seminary. Barbara graduates this week from the Washington School for Secretaries. Son Tim is spending the summer in Wisconsin.

Greenbelters were saddened to learn of the death of Lewis Cassidy, who lived in Greenbriar.

Center School Awards Assembly

by Barbara Likowski

Daniel Gorman and Zoe Yurkovich were awarded the American Legion medal for citizenship at Center School's Awards Assembly on Friday, June 10. Runners-up were Stephen Williamson and Dhara Patel. The awards were made by a representative of the American Legion Post 136 and by Anna Link, representing Post 136 auxiliary. Link also announced that Jennifer Burgess had won an honorable mention in the American Legion essay contest.

Principal Dr. John Van Schoonhoven told the 6th grade graduates that it was essential "to have faith in yourself." He advised them to take a step at a time when confronting their new experiences, assuring them that the next years would be challenging and rewarding. Education, he said, was not a game but "the serious business of shaping the rest of the days of your life." "Be the very best you can be," he exhorted them. Van Schoonhoven also thanked parents for their help, saying that it was a combination of parental and school personnel helping the children that was responsible for the success of the students.

The awards program was planned by members of the sixth grade, who entertained guests with speeches and musical selections. The program began with the 6th graders marching in, led by flag bearers Sammy Saunders and Maurell Handy. DeWahn Jennifer and Sherry Hamilton led the audience in a salute to the American flag. Barbara Sutherland, student council president, welcomed parents and friends and praised teachers and other school personnel, thanking them for their help to students. She especially praised principal Van Schoonhoven for his guidance and understanding. Andrew Knoll spoke of "Our Days at Greenbelt," while Zoe Yurko-vich's presentation was "Looking Toward the Future."

Special Student Council awards went to the president, Barbara Sutherland; vice-president, Sherry Hamilton; treasurer Zoe Yurkovich; recorder, Daniel Gorman and 6th grade student council members Andrew Knoll, Beverly Walker, Kim Farrell and Wendy Shindler.

Four sixth graders earned the Presidential Physical Fitness

Award: Zack Patton, Katrina Fowler, Sabrina Currie and Zoe Yurkovich. Known as the gold medal, the award is really a seal and an award and goes to those children who are among the top 5% of the children tested.

The silver medal was given to Lisa Miller, Tony Clements, Thomas Horstcamp, Mark Wilson and Sharon Curl. Stape Shields, physical education teacher, presented the awards. Alok Doshi and Wilson George, members of the hearing classes, were given special physical fitness awards by their teacher, Mary Gary.

Officer Mintz from the Prince Georges County Police Department praised Center student patrol leaders for doing such a good job that no injuries were sustained on their posts during the school year. She gave patrol awards to Kim Farrell, Kristy Norell, Shawn Abel, Tara Pryce, Matilda Cook and Kerry Harvey. Patrol members also received thanks from Randy Kosik, who had worked as their faculty advisor during the school year. Kosik announced the Greenbelt Lions' "Outstanding Patrol of the Year"—George Clinedinst.

Joel Cahalan was named outstanding instrumental music student. Stephen Williamson was honored for designing the cover of the program for the assembly and Sally Morrison for perfect attendance for six years. George Cook, Sabrina Currie, Maurell Handy and Lisa Kirsch were named the most improved students of the year.

Awards were also given to students for academic achievement (honor roll), and for contributions to the school, including library aides and tutors. Eighty-eight student tutors helped younger students on a continuing basis this year.

Refreshments, provided by the PTA, were served in the lobby following the program.
