GHI Board Receives Boiler Room Use Proposal, Discusses Personnel Policies

by Mavis Fletcher

Former board member Mary Clarke appeared before the board of directors of Greenbelt Homes, Inc. on April 3 to request time to explore a plan for use of a large boiler plant by the Catholic community.

Clarke emphasized that the idea was hers at this time and that she had not had time to discuss it with other members of the community. However, she said, the group was looking for a place to worship and she hoped that the boiler plant could be purchased, perhaps for the cost of renovation. She expressed a preference for the plant on Plateau Place.

President Margaret Hogensen asked General Manager Ron Colton how long it would be before demolition of the plant would begin. He said that demolition of the plants was scheduled to begin on April 17. The contract is already let.

After some discussion, Director Janet Cantwell made a motion to instruct management to work with the Catholic community on the proposal and to bring back a recommendation at the next board meeting on April 17. This motion passed 6 to 2, with Directors Mac Wirick and Nancy Hutchins opposed. Wirick said that he was uncomfortable with the plan because getting permission to sell the plant would require a special membership meeting, would require a commitment of management time to explore the plan and, if the plant were then eventually demolished, the cost of demolition would increase by as much as $5,000. Hutchins pointed out that the corporation would have continued exposure to liability for these premises while the issue was being considered.

Change in MOC Procedures

The board approved without dissent a management recommendation that a resident member must appear on the Mutual Ownership Contract. In his report to the board, Colton explained that since 1953, "it has been the custom and practice in GHI that parents are allowed to purchase units for occupancy by their children. Likewise, children sometimes purchase units for occupancy by elderly parents, etc. . . . It has been the practice that the designation of the member for purposes of the Mutual Ownership Contract is a decision left to the family involved."

Colton's report also pointed out that "Since September of 1983, it has been the Corporation's practice that, if the person residing in the unit is not on the Mutual Ownership Contract, a tenant-subtenant lease must be executed. This policy was not applied retroactively. Thus we have situations where the resident of the unit is not on the contract nor under a sublease. Several of these have become problems. . . . For this reason, staff is recommending that the Board revise the policy to require that the person living in the unit be on the Mutual Ownership Contract. This policy would be effective with any new members, but probably cannot be required of persons who received their Mutual Ownership Contract before the policy's effective date."

Personnel Policy

The board spent most of the evening going over the changes in the corporation's personnel policy which had been recommended by management. The question of maternity/paternity leave for childbirth or adoption occupied a large share of the board's attention. The board split on the question of giving 16 weeks of leave without pay to

Liquor Board Denies BLX License to Copa

by Mavis Fletcher

The Prince Georges Liquor Board denied the application of the Greenbelt Video Corporation for a BLX liquor license for "The Copa," a proposed music video and restaurant establishment in Beltway Plaza. According to a Liquor Board spokeswoman, the application was denied on April 2. No basis for the denial or other details was given, she said.

The Greenbelt city council, at its meeting on February 24, recommended that the liquor board deny the license. The council members cited concerns about parking and security problems among their reasons for recommending denial.

The Copa, planned for the location now occupied by the Showcase-Beltway theater, was to be a 9,750-square-foot establishment which would have included a 154-seat restaurant and a sizeable dance floor as well as a 50-foot video screen.

Sidney Brown, developer of Beltway Plaza, commenting on the liquor board action, called the denial a "political decision." He also said he expects that the board will eventually grant the license. He said that the Copa "will operate" and called it a "proper use here."

Council Plans Public Hearing On Parcel 15 Zoning Petition

by Betsy Likowski

The city council discussed the latest proposal for development of the land near the lake park, Charlestowne Village and the American Legion, (parcel 15), at both its regular meeting on April 7 and at an earlier work session on April 1. No final decision was made at the council meeting. A work session is scheduled for Wednesday, April 16, so council can hold further discussions with developer representatives. The meeting will be open to the public.

This proposal to develop parcel 15 is the latest of a number of plans for the piece of wooded land lying between the Beltway and "Buddy" Attick Park, Charlestowne Village, and the American Legion. The current plan calls for 38 two-story commercial townhouse units along the Beltway, designed to create a barrier for noise from the Beltway, and 158 residential condominium units that would run in a line closest to Charlestowne Village. The 10 acres of land next to the lake park would be dedicated to the city under this plan.

Four council members expressed their opinion at the work session that this was the best plan they have yet seen for Parcel 15. Mayor pro tem Thomas X. White said he did not want to see Parcel 15 zoned any denser than R-55, single family homes. But several council members expressed their ideal preference as no development at all on this parcel.

While council members thought the new proposal was the best plan yet for Parcel 15, they expressed concerns at the work session that were similar to those raised earlier in the city's Advisory Planning Board (APB) report to council (see News Review, February 27). The APB report was favorable to the latest development proposal of Parcel 15 while at the same time noting several problems which need further study, such as noise from the Beltway, increased traffic through adjacent parts of Greenbelt, recreation needs, and compatibility with Charlestowne Village.

Mayor Gil Weidenfeld and council member Edward Putens wondered about allowing commercial development on this parcel. It could set a precedent for other commercial use of land in the core of Greenbelt.

Council members Joseph Isaacs and Putens said they were worried about the problems of noise from the Beltway and increased traffic as a result of the proposed development.

Council member Antoinette Bram said that the planned residential units are really garden apartments. She wondered if they might be bought up for investment purposes and rented out to others. She would prefer townhouses, she said. She repeated this preference for townhouses at the council meeting. And Weidenfeld noted that there are already a great number of garden apartments in Greenbelt.

At the council meeting some concerns were raised by citizens. Steve Curtis of 9 Court Ridge Road noted that most of the traffic on Ridge Road between Westway and Southway is from the area of the University Square Apartments and Charlestowne Village. He feared such through traffic will increase if this planned development is built. He requested a traffic light on Greenbelt Road at Lakecrest Road to alleviate this flow (since people are back-tracking using Ridge Road to get to the traffic light on Southway). He also would like a stop sign at 11 Court Ridge Road to force this through traffic to move at slower speeds.

Keith Chernikoff expressed his hope that council will discuss the problem of recreation facilities in the area of the planned development and was assured by Weidenfeld that it would.

Alta Morrison

Greenbelt has lost another of its few remaining "pioneers." Alta L. Morrison, age 87, passed away on Easter Monday, March 31, at Doctor's Hospital. She had resided at 58 Crescent Road for almost 50 years.

She was born Alta Leonice Beall in 1898 in Green City, Missouri, the youngest of five children of a Civil War veteran and his wife. She grew up in this small rural community and graduated from high school with honors in penmanship, art and music.

Allen Morrison, 12 years her senior, was Alta's Sunday School teacher. He was an eligible bachelor and considered a "great catch" by many of the girls, but Alta was the one to win his heart. In 1908, Alta was only 10 but Allen, 22, had already served on the school board and was now planning speaking engagements for the then Democratic Presidential nominee, William Jennings Bryan. When he became a cashier in the local bank, Alta went to his line to cash her check just to talk to him.

When Allen was called to serve his country in France in World War I, Alta made a life for herself in Green City. On his return from the war, he was elected to the Missouri State Legislature and wrote many letters and post cards to Alta from Jefferson City. Allen and Alta became a team in 1930 when they were wed in Kansas City, Kansas.

With the onset of the Great Depression, Allen applied for work with the federal government, receiving an appointment with the Veterans Administration. The family with two children, Shirley and David, moved to Washington, D.C. in 1934. They lived in an apartment for three years until learning about a new town being built in Maryland—Greenbelt. Out of the 9,000 applications received by the federal government for the 885 rental units available, roughly one in 10 were approved for residency in the new planned community "out in the country." Overjoyed to learn they were the first family approved to live in the model town, they moved in with other "pioneers" in October 1937. As quoted in an Evening Star article in October 1962 (Greenbelt's 25th anniversary), Mrs. Morrison said, "I was ready to go back to Missouri. Until we got this place, I know we would have gone." She loved Greenbelt and neither she nor Allen ever returned to Missouri.

During World War II's manpower shortage, Alta carpooled with neighbors to work at the Treasury Department, Payroll Disbursement, from 4 p.m. to midnight for four years. She now had two more boys, Donald and Billy, to care for as well as her husband, who was serving as Greenbelt's Mayor for the same period, 1941-45.

After the war she returned to her home full-time. Every kind of flower imaginable has graced her lawn, where she could be found working in her straw hat after hanging the day's laundry. Pink roses cascaded around the entrance to her home every May. She always carried her age very well and was active most of her life until last November when illness struck.

Alta Morrison modestly shared in the honors bestowed on her husband. A wing of the Youth Center is named the Allen D. Morrison Lounge for Senior Citizens, and Morrison Drive is located in the Greenbelt's Windsor Green subdivision.

Mrs. Morrison is survived by daughter Shirley L. Clute; three sons, David A., Donald G., and William B.; eight grandchildren; and six great-grandchildren.

Services were held on April 4 at Fort Lincoln Cemetery Mausoleum Chapel. By request of the family, memorial contributions may be made to Greenbelt Community Church, Hillside and Crescent Roads.

To Much to Ask?

On April 8, Judge Joseph Kaplan signed an order placing Community Savings & Loan into receivership. One result is the elimination of all further interest payments after that date! The Maryland S&L Depositors' Committee opposed the order. While there is a legal need to go into receivership for one or two days in order to consummate the Mellon purchase, there is no justification for doing it a month early.

According to Marje Hoban, who attended the court proceeding and took shorthand notes, Judge Kaplan said that he did not think it was asking depositors too much to give up a month of interest, when they are getting the privilege of having the state bail them out to the tune of $131 million of the taxpayers' money. Kaplan added that for the depositors to say, give them interest until the last moment, was a bit much.

These outrageous comments ignore the State's deliberate efforts to encourage trust and the subsequent betrayals, the seven months of locked-up savings, and the reduction of interest to 5½ percent. The Judge seems to ignore the failure of Governor Hughes and his executive departments to first stop the cancer, and then to solve the resulting crisis promptly. We are the victims, not the cause of the crisis. We expect justice from the courts, not further penalties. We are not seeking a "privilege" or a "bail-out." We are simply asking for access to our own money in our "insured" accounts.

If this represents your views, I recommend that you write Judge Joseph Kaplan at the Circuit Court for Baltimore City, 111 North Calvert St., Baltimore, Md. 21202.

David Lange

(Editor's Note: Judge Kaplan told the News Review on Wednesday, April 9, that the remark attributed to him above is a "pretty close" paraphrase of what he said in court. He noted that the period for which depositors will receive no interest is in fact less than a month. Kaplan explained his view as being that the interest any individual depositor loses will be a small amount and relatively insignificant when compared against the large amount of $131 million being paid out by the state.)

Opposes Longer Terms For Greenbelt's Council

I oppose the proposed lengthening of city council terms from two to four years.

I have never met an incumbent politician who wouldn't like a longer term. I have never met an incumbent politician who wouldn't prefer to spend less time campaigning. Challengers to the incumbents generally have the opposite view.

The arguments for longer terms here in Greenbelt are identical to those made anytime the issue arises. Most recently these have been heard in the context of extending the Presidency from four to six years. Those arguments always are: (1) to provide greater continuity, and (2) reduce the amount of time wasted on campaigning.

In this country in general, and in Greenbelt in particular, there are few jobs as secure as being an incumbent politician. In the 10 Greenbelt city council elections I have observed, the number of defeated incumbents could be counted on the fingers of one hand. For the past two decades, in this, and in other ways, Greenbelters have indicated that they have been pleased with the job done by the city council, and have, therefore, overwhelmingly returned the incumbents to office. It is hard to see that with a turnover rate of less than five percent one needs greater continuity.

I have little sympathy with the argument for reducing the time "wasted" on campaigning. Campaigning time has been that time when the council members meet with the voters outside of the council chambers, outside of scheduled council meetings, outside of a highly structured agenda running under Roberts Rules. Curiously enough, this happens every two years shortly before an impending election. I don't think this is a waste of time. I don't think once every couple of years to do this is too often.

Traditionally, successful candidates have been those who have done a . . . lot of door knocking. That may be a waste of time. However, the city will benefit by having city council members who find more successful strategies on a biennial basis, rather than allowing them to avoid meeting with their constituents every two years.

Thomas Jefferson said: "The tree of liberty must be nourished with the blood of revolution every generation." An election is a non-violent revolution. The blood of Community Greenbelt is nourished by these biennial elections. That is, the knowledge of our community by our citizens is refreshed by having issues raised and discussed in a way that happens only during an election. One need only look in this and the county newspapers to see by column-inches the importance an election is accorded.

Greenbelters should not give up their biennial colloquay. It's one of those things which enable us proudly to say "Greenbelt Is Great".

Our Museum Needs A Permanent Home

The recent debate regarding a site for the proposed Greenbelt Museum is one that threatens to compromise not only the success, but the integrity of this fine project. Failure of the GHI membership to approve the use of an original unit in favor of a "quick fix" for the proponents of the North End School would be a giant step backward for the Museum Committee. To suggest setting aside a room in the North End School (even temporarily) for use as a museum space would reduce the concept of an historically and architecturally accurate museum site to one of "simple exhibition" of a representative sampling of furniture, books, and historical artifacts. Aside from destroying the character and intent of the Greenbelt Museum, there may be other, more far-reaching implications which have not yet been considered.

First and foremost, the Museum must have a permanent home. Once it is open and operating, the organization will be eligible to seek corporate, foundation, and federal funding to augment the existing operating budget; to research and mount special exhibitions; to improve the quality and quantity of its collection; and to endow the museum, thereby helping to ensure its long-range financial stability. As a current employee of one of the largest federal granting agencies and former small museum employee, I can state with great certainty that without a permanent home, these options will not even exist for the museum.

Secondly, use of an original unit would not only place the Museum—physically and historically—where it should be, but would also serve to attract a broader audience that might otherwise never express an interest. Aside from educating school children and the general public about the history of the town, the Museum would also attract architects and architectural historians, preservationists, those interested in furniture (its design and relation to its surroundings), as well as students and aficionados of 20th century American history and culture.

To forego an opportunity to house the Museum in its proper and rightful historical context would be a disservice to the town and future Museum visitors. The Museum Committee and the citizens of Greenbelt have a unique opportunity to preserve an important part of our heritage for those who wish to learn about and benefit from it. This opportunity should neither be compromised nor relinquished.

WHITE CANE DAYS SET

The Greenbelt Lions Club will be holding their spring white cane days Friday and Saturday, April 11 and 12.

"Help the Lions help the blind," is their motto. The Lions ask Greenbelters to please give generously when they see the Lions at the old Greenbelt Shopping Center, Beltway Plaza and Greenway this week-end.

Greenbelt Wildlife

The great excitement generated by the recent peacock spectacle reminds me of two other less publicized but equally invigorating wildlife sightings in old Greenbelt.

Last Fall my son, Josh, and friend, Seth Hamlin, while walking home from Center School on the inner walkway, encountered a peculiar looking large dog frantically butting his head against a chain link fence. Closer inspection revealed the "dog" to be a buck with his antlers caught in the fence. With a mighty pull the deer dislodged himself and sailed away over fences, through the playground at 39 Court Ridge Road and past Mowatt Methodist Church. The two excited boys attempted to verify the sighting with a neighbor who was raking leaves in the path of the swiftly exiting deer but were dismayed that the man had turned his back at the moment the deer ran by.

Several weeks later while dozing in the sun on my deck, I was awakened by the sudden rustling of a flock of doves in the pine trees overhead. Just as I was opening my eyes a large object hurtled out of the sky and landed with a thud in my backyard. I stood up quickly to find a large hawk with the largest talons I have ever seen, clutching a dove and staring coolly back at me. After a few seconds the hawk spread great wings and hauled the prey back to the woods behind the church.

To further update the peacock story, the earliest sighting I have heard so far was Greg Hunanian and friends who spied the bird at Spellman overpass on Saturday the 29. Two days later on Monday, one of my helpers innocently asked if we often had peacocks in the backyard. My wife, Terry and daughter, Jean verified the species which quickly retreated to the safety of the woods.

From time to time a city official will threaten to cut down the woods behind the Methodist Church in favor of soccer fields. This is a move the Kepler family is opposed to as it would detract from one of the important parts of our neighborhood—the wild life.

Debate Continues

I read Jim Cassel's letter of April 3 concerning the "... tax exempt Senior Citizens Co-op Apartment Building" that he and the "Fortunate 100" want to construct on city land. The threat that this group might sell out and take their "expertise and equity" to Florida resulted in mixed emotions on my part. I like Florida but then I love Greenbelt. Maybe the city would find it cheaper to subsidize the Florida move rather than spending so much time protecting the taxpayers assets from this "expertise"?

I was not surprised that Jim ignored the poor in the city again nor was I surprised when he stated that the "Fortunate 100" will "... get much more happiness from such a situation than all Greenbelters would get from leaving the land as it is". Should the city ever build a monument to selfishness that would make a perfect inscription!

Jim, you made my point about your small group of financially-well-off Senior Citizens with their hands out much better than I have been able to. Thank you!

Careful Checking Urged

I was an insurance agent and visited 20 homes a day or 100 a week and 5,200 a year.

I always made it a point when I entered a court, to carefully see if any children were there. If there were none I parked my auto with the rear end against the curb. Then, when I left my client's home, I circled my auto to see if any children were there. On two occasions, I found a young baby sitting directly in front of my left or right tire. If I had not looked, I swear that would have been that.

A mother going to the grocery store failed to look around her auto and ran over her own child and killed her. A garbage truck once did the same thing.

For these reasons, I strongly recommend that all people visiting homes follow the previous careful procedure. I also recommend that the City Council pass a law requiring all garbage trucks or all trucks must follow the above procedure.

The Stars Shine Bright In SHL Talent Search

by Jody Buffington

There are stars, and there are STARS! On Tuesday, April 1, there were several stars shining at the first annual Star Search Talent Show, sponsored by Springhill Lake apartments in Greenbelt.

Local talent, representative of the best the city has to offer, was on hand to perform for a full house at the Springhill Lake Elementary School. The 13 acts ranged from ages five to 35—tap dancers to rock and roll bands—comedy to a martial arts demonstration.

Acts were selected to appear in Star Search by a panel of audition judges two weeks prior to the performance. A total of 23 acts auditioned before the final 13 were chosen.

On the evening of Star Search, acts were judged according to age category and on a "group" or "single" basis. The judges included Laurie Butler, Classy 95 Radio; Doris Cheely, WRC-TV 4; Adele Dodson, WDVN-TV 9; Joan Clark and Patti Buttholz, Erickson Talent Agency; and Konrad Herling, Greenbelt Arts Center.

A total of six winners was selected: age 6-12—Erin Delaney and Carol Fox, a dancing group called "Sugar & Spice" and Sean Pregent, a martial arts demonstration; ages 13-17—Kim Cully, Starleta Sprately and Rachelle Catlett, a lip sync and dancing group called "The Candy Girls", and Terry Williams, a single vocal performance; ages 18 and up—Robert Gouchour, Mike Small Eric Small, Mike Oudemans and Sean Corona, a rock group called "Profile", and Judy Nicks, a single vocal performance.

Terry Williams was selected as the winner to appear the following morning on the Baker & Byrd Show, on Classy 95 Radio.

"Star Search '86 was designed to get a variety of students and residents of all ages together to have some fun and to showcase their talent," said Pamela Grossman, director of the show, and Program Coordinator at Springhill Lake's Fountain Lodge.

"I think many people were surprised at just how talented and professional the acts were," Grossman added. "I expect to see them back next year, even bigger and better than before."

Star Search '86 is the second community project that Springhill Lake has sponsored in the past six months. The first was the "Hometown Chili Cook-Off" to benefit the local Cystic Fibrosis Foundation.

This coming May, Springhill Lake will be hosting "Rally 'Round The County", an adult team road rally and treasure hunt, to help raise funds for the County Department of Social Services Summer Camp Program.

Greenbelt Soccer

by Bobbi McCarthy

On Saturday, April 5, the Greenbelt I Soccer Team scored a 4-2 victory over Beltsville even though Greenbelt had only 8 players on the field during the entire game. Despite the odds, the players refused to forfeit the game, and proceeded to score 3 goals before Beltsville got on the scoreboard. Special congratulations go to Grace Hamlin, for scoring two of the team's goals, and to Haim Yagen and Mark Nash for scoring one each. The five other players on the field, Paul Beavers, Christopher Coulter, Nathan Jones, Donald Law and Jeannie McCarthy also deserve congratulations for their great teamwork against Beltsville's greater numbers, and special thanks goes to their coach, Doc Jones.

Based on Information Released by the Greenbelt Police Department

About 10:30 p.m., March 31 a motorist travelling southbound on Kenilworth Avenue at Greenbelt Road rammed his car, apparently intentionally, into that of a female motorist, injuring her. The driver of the striking vehicle then stripped off his clothing and began fondling himself alongside the roadway. The female motorist was hospitalized.

A woman was severely assaulted by her husband about 9 p.m., March 28 in the 9100 block of Springhill Lane. Officer Troy Harding arrested the man on a charge of assault with intent to maim. He was incarcerated on $10,000 bond. Later in the evening Pfc. Craig Rich responded to a disturbance at the same residence where he arrested the victim's son who had arrived in an intoxicated condition and was threatening to assault his mother. He was charged with disorderly intoxication and incarcerated on $3000 bond.

A female pedestrian was the victim of an indecent exposure about 7:30 p.m., March 31 in the 7400 block of Morrison Drive. The suspect asked for directions to an address, then exposed himself. He was described as white, medium build, in his 20's, 5'7", possibly wearing an earring in his left ear.

About 3 a.m., April 2 Officer Maria Arthur, responding to a complaint of a peeping tom in the 6100 block of Springhill Terrace, arrested a male resident of the 9000 block of Breezewood Terrace.

About 10:30 p.m., March 21 a patron at a restaurant/bar in Greenway Shopping Center found her purse had been stolen from the bar stool where it had been hanging.

A brand new refrigerator was stolen on March 28 from a townhouse under renovation in the 9200 block of Edmonston Road. This was one of a number of recent thefts of appliances from vacant units at Springhill Lake.

An apartment in the 100 block of Springhill Terrace was broken into on April 2 and property was stolen.

A man who is currently serving a prison term for murder in Arlington County, Virginia has been identified by Greenbelt police investigators as the perpetrator of an armed robbery at Wendy's in Beltway Plaza which took place on August 30 last year.

A wallet containing cash and credit cards was stolen March 27 from the purse of an employee at a Beltway Plaza Mall business while she was working there.

About 6:30 p.m., March 31 Officer Leslie Hodge arrested a 27-year-old male resident of the 12 Court of Hillside in the Candy Cane City area at the North Municipal Parking Lot and charged him with consumption of alcoholic beverages on public property. At "Buddy" Attick Park Sgt. John Lann arrested an 18-year-old male resident of Berwyn Heights about 7:15 p.m. the same date on the same charge. Both men were released pending trial.

Workshop on Condo Ownerships Planned

The perks and perils of condominium ownership will be the topic of a day-long workshop offered by the Consumer Protection Division in the office of Maryland Attorney General Stephen H. Sachs, the Maryland Secretary of State's Office, and the Maryland Association of Condominium Owners (MACD).

The workshop, designed to provide information on issues of concern to prospective condominium buyers, as well as current owners, will be held on Saturday, May 3, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., at the Sheraton Silver Spring, 8727 Colesville Road in Silver Spring. There is a registration fee. The registration deadline is April 24.

According to Assistant Attorney General Steven J. Cole, chief of the Consumer Protection Division, "You're really buying a place within a mini-government" when you buy a condominium. It's important for prospective buyers and current owners to know what rules are in operation, what their right are, and how to work within that system. "Often, they'll find that if problems arise, they can help themselves better than we can," Cole said.

Among the subjects to be covered at the workshop are questions prospective buyers should ask before buying; the role and responsibilities of a condominium's governing board; and how that board deals with management, buyers, professional services, develops a budget, sets assessment fee levels, establishes reserves and deals with taxation and insurance. Seminars will also be held on drafting rules, enforcing rules, running a meeting, and keeping disputes out of court.

For further information on the workshop, call MACO at 428-1942.

CITY NOTES

The general crew poured the foundation for the Little League building addition at McDonald Field. They also assisted with the paving of Ridge Road between Southway and Westway and in-laid the center line tape on Ridge Road between Southway and Westway.

They worked on miscellaneous street repair, patching potholes and other clean up projects, and assisted with the bus route.

The parks crew planted spring flowers and the chipper was out one day. The leaf vacuum is expected to be back in service soon.

Two special trash trucks were operating due to the heavy demand. At the present time special trash collections are running one week behind.

The crew also assisted both regular and special trash crews recently due to the absence of the regular crew.

Two new four wheel drive pickups were delivered and will be in service shortly.

A study was made this week on the traffic control and parking regulations at Ivy Lane.

Our Neighbors

Martha Kaufman 474-9359

Our deepest sympathy to the Morrison and Cluet families on the death of Alta L. Morrison on March 31, 1986.

Condolences to Joan Pitkin, delegate to the Maryland 23rd Legislative District, on the death of her father Leo Breslin of Easton, Md. Breslin died Sunday evening after a long illness.

Our condolences to Adolphus Edwards and the Edwards family on the death of Adolphus' younger brother.

Jeffrey G. Van Scoy, son of Norma Lou Van Allen of Eastway and grandson of Otilie Van Allen of Ridge Road, has received the Army Commendation Medal on March 3, 1986, from Secretary of the Army. Van Scoy has been promoted to Sergeant and is stationed at Walter Reed Hospital as legal specialist in The Judge Advocate's Office.

Buck Powell who is with the Public Works Department, has been ill all week with a heart condition. He is recovering and expects to return to work in the near future. We wish him well.

Have you wondered about what happened to the peacock that was wandering around Greenbelt? Peeper the peacock was found inside the loading dock at Goddard Space Flight Center on March 2. He was finally "netted" by Lou Kurtz, who with his wife, Shirley, own the bird. Both were relieved the bird was back home.

Welcome home and best wishes for a speedy recovery to Gloria Gleason of Lakecrest Road who is home from a recent stay in the hospital.

Sid and Bernice Kastner have recently moved to a new home in the 1 court of Ridge Road. Sid reports that their son Joel is also on the move - in Africa. Joel called home from Johannesburg just before leaving for Botswana. Apparently it all started when Joel, who is currently a graduate student at UCLA studying astronomy, responded to an ad. He has joined a safari which, while geared primarily to photographing animals in South Africa, needed an astronomer to come along as a Halley's Comet commentator. They have an expert in Joel and he should have quite an adventure!

Beautiful Homes Sought

by Sandy Smith

Does anyone know of a GHI home and yard which is especially attractive? Is there a home in the neighborhood people have always admired? Perhaps someone has spent a lot of time and energy beautifying the house and yard. Now is the time to make those homes known to Greenbelt Homes, Inc.

For the past several years, the Member and Community Relations Committee of GHI has awarded certificates of appreciation to GHI members whose home and yard are especially attractive and well-maintained. The Committee bases its decision on the outside appearance of the unit, its conformance to GHI regulations, the condition of the yard and landscaping and any other factors which contribute to the overall appearance. This program was established to recognize those residents who have been particularly active in creating a good-looking home and to encourage other members to beautify their homes.

The Member and Community Relations Committee is now seeking nominations from the community. To nominate a unit to be considered for a certificate of appreciation, please contact Committee Chair Betty Deitch at 474-3152 or leave a message with the Member Services Coordinator Maureen Osborne. The committee will review every nomination received. Selections will be made from those units nominated by the community and those identified by the Committee. SAT INFORMATION NIGHT TO BE HELD AT ERHS

Representatives from The College Board will present a "Parents' Information Night Program" on the Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) on Tuesday, April 15, following the PTSA meeting. The session begins at 7:30 p.m. in the auditorium. ERHS has been selected as one of only 40 schools around the country at which such a program will be conducted. The program should be especially useful for parents of juniors or sophomores who will be taking the SAT in the coming year. Among the topics to be covered: what the SAT is and what it measures; the purpose of the SAT; predicting SAT scores from PSAT/NMSQT; how to prepare to take the SAT; how the SAT is scored; what the scores mean and how they are used in the college admissions process; how students can use SAT score in choosing colleges to which to apply; and the controversy over coaching for the SAT.

Junior Tennis

by Beverly Fiege

This promises to be a very exciting season for Greenbelt's National Junior Tennis League members. Having won the regionals in the boys novice division, we will be moving up. Depending upon our local players and also upon the other teams in Prince George's County, we may have boys, girls or mixed teams in novice, intermediate or advanced divisions. Any interested boy or girl from 8 to 18 is encouraged to join.

Practice began on Tuesday, April 8. With two more courts in operation at Braden Field, it is hoped that adult players will not be too inconvenienced by NJTL practices. Our regular times will be Tuesdays 4-5:30 and Wednesdays 4:30-6.

Gary Swank will be in charge of coaching this year. As a member of the P.G. Community College tennis team, Gary is used to team competition. We are hoping that several G.T.A. members will be able to volunteer an hour or two occasionally to help coach.

Tennis is perhaps the only sport which has people from eight to eighty playing and competing together.

Library Friends Seek Volunteer Helpers

Friends of the Greenbelt Library are gearing up for the big book and baked goods sale on Saturday, April 27. On Wednesday, April 16, the Friends will hold a short meeting at 7:30 p.m. in the Library. At this brief meeting, anyone—whether formally a member of the Friends group or not—can "adopt" an hour during which hands to sort and set out books or to take money and give change will be invaluable to the sale's success.

The Friends need a few volunteers who can come on Friday, April 26, to help unpack books anytime between noon and 5 p.m.

Donations of books, records, magazines, tapes and all kinds of baked goods can be brought to the Library (except the food) anytime. Questions about baked goods can be answered by Barbara Simon at 474-2192.

Mike Twigg of Seabrook announced his candidacy for the Maryland House of Delegates today, April 10 at 4 p.m. at the Greenbelt Hilton.

Twigg, 33, is a lifetime resident of Prince Georges County having attended the county public schools and graduating with a Bachelor of Arts degree in history from the University of Maryland. Twigg, long active in community and university affairs, is currently the president of the Prince Georges Young Republicans and vice-chairman of the Maryland Federation of Young Republicans.

The public is welcome to attend. For further information, contact Baird Brookhart at 827-5754 (day) or 345-8629 (evenings).

GREENBELT LEGISLATORS TO DISCUSS 1986 SESSION

The Eleanor and Franklin Roosevelt Democratic Club will meet at 8 p.m. on Friday, April 18, in the Greenbriar Social Center. Senator Leo Green and Delegates Jerry Devlin, Joan Pitkin, and Charles "Buzz" Ryan will be present to discuss legislative activities of the recently completed session of the Maryland General Assembly. They will respond to a series of prepared questions as well as to questions from the audience.

The program will be preceded by a short business meeting. The public is cordially invited. For more information, call President Bob Zugby at 345-2065.

Scholarship Applications Ready for ERHS Students

Applications for PTSA scholarships are available now in the Eleanor Roosevelt High School Guidance Office. Deadline for submission of the completed forms is Friday, April 18. Winners of the eight $250 grants will be announced at the annual Awards Night on May 14. Graduating seniors who plan to continue their education are eligible to apply. Criteria for selection include not only academic achievement but activities, service and need. The PTSA Scholarship Committee also will select the winner of a $1,000 scholarship for a student who will be attending Prince Georges Community College next year.

CARES Offers GED, Classes, Job Bank, Tutoring for Youths

by Andrea Edie

Greenbelt CARES resumes its educational and vocational services this month after hiring Bill Daniels to oversee the GED preparation classes, the tutoring service and the job bank.

"The program has been on hold for several months," Daniels said. "Community interest has been high in the past, so we expect that it will continue."

Daniels, who has a Master's Degree in English literature and teaches English composition part-time at Montgomery College, will instruct the GED class on Tuesday and Thursday mornings from 10 a.m. to 12 p.m., beginning on April 29. The class runs for 10 weeks and includes registration information for the GED test.

Anyone over 16 years of age who is interested in preparing for the high school equivalency exam should call Daniels at 345-6660 and set up an interview. During the interview, Daniels said applicants will take a short test to determine their strengths and weaknesses and then be scheduled for the class, which is free.

To avoid competition with the county's evening GED programs, CARES has scheduled the classes during the day. "There are a lot of unemployed people and youths from Juvenile Services who need the opportunity to work for their high school diploma," Daniels said.

The second program Daniels is working on is the tutorial service. "The tutorial program usually supplements the school year curriculum," Daniels said. "This summer we want to start a summer program," that will concentrate on developing the basic skills of reading, writing and arithmetic.

"We have plenty of volunteers during the school year," he said, "but we need students and tutors for the summer."

Daniels is also organizing a job bank for people under 15 years of age. "The job bank offers kids a chance to make a little extra cash for the summer," he said.

People who need a job done, such as lawn mowing, gardening or babysitting, should contact Daniels. He will then match an interested youth with the prospective employer.

For more information or to volunteer call Bill Daniels at 345-6660.

RLDP WORKSHOP FOR GHI MEMBERS

As a service to members, GHI offers a Rehab Loan Deferral Program (RLDP). Under this program, eligible members can defer as much as $70 of their rehab payment each month. To find out more about the program and how to apply, GHI will hold a special workshop.

TUESDAY, APRIL 15 AT 1 P.M.

GHI Members are invited to attend.

GHI BOARD MEETING

a male employee as paternity leave. The matter was later reformulated by Director Todd Amani by limiting leave for female and male employees to 12 weeks maternity/paternity leave. Amani and Cantwell both strongly supported the position that male and female employees should be treated the same. Cantwell made the point that to grant more leave to a female employee is "sexist" because it implies that the male employee is more valuable to the corporation than the female employee.

Amani's motion was passed 7-1 with Hutchins opposed. She said that while she hoped GHI was a compassionate employer, she felt that the board needed to make policies which are for the good of the corporation.

Other personnel policy actions taken by the board included: provision for employees to be allowed to take time and a half compensatory in lieu of paid overtime at the employee's option; making new employees eligible for health insurance coverage after they have completed 30 days employment; turning down a proposal to give the day after Thanksgiving as a holiday; reducing somewhat the amount of life insurance paid for by the corporation but allowing the employee to buy additional term insurance at the group rate.

The board did not take action on the entire package of policy changes. Such action was deferred until the next regular board meeting on April 17.

Doctors' Hospital Forms

Volunteer Department

The new program's initial focus will be assisting patients and their families to make their time at the hospital as pleasant as possible. Volunteers will be involved in tasks ranging from entertaining, to special patient and community projects, to assisting the staff in their efforts to provide the best quality care.

Anyone interested in donating their time, energies and caring to the new Volunteer Department should contact Fay Woolwine, at 552-4960.

Toastmasters Club

The Columbian Toastmasters Club will celebrate its 25th Anniversary on Wednesday, May 21 at a reception at the Knights of Columbia Hall, 9300 Baltimore Boulevard in College Park, beginning at 7:30 p.m. Participating in the celebration will be Greenbelters Bob Auerbach, Jim Cassels, Bob Kostic, Tom and Larry Noel and Steve Polaschik, who are current members. Tom Noel is the president.

When the Greenbelt Toastmasters Club was dissolved some years ago, many of its members at that time continued with the Columbian Club. Scores of persons have improved their speaking, listening, thinking and leadership skills during the existence of the clubs. A warm welcome is awaiting guests who would like to witness a typical meeting and to learn more about the benefits they can gain by belonging to a Toastmasters Club.

For more information, please call Steve on 474-9352.

Panthers Sponsor Debate On Generational Issues

A dialogue between young and old will take place Saturday, April 19 at 1:30 p.m. at the Greenbelt Library. This debate between Paul Hewitt, president, Americans for Generational Equity and Irving Riskin, National Field Representative of the Gray Panthers will be sponsored by the local Gray Panthers. Moderator will be Abe Bloom, vice president of the National Gray Panthers.

Newspaper columnists are increasingly claiming that Social Security and other benefits are penalizing the young to enrich the old. What are the facts? People are invited to come and decide for themselves. There will be plenty of time for questions. Young persons and persons of differing points of view are particularly invited to participate. Free refreshments will be provided. For information call 474-6890.
