Tour of City for Foreign Visitors Gives Local Reporter a Fresh Look

by Barbara Likowski

A tour of the city given for three city planners from Poland gave this reporter an opportunity to take a fresh look at Greenbelt—to see it as it was planned and as the growing community it is today.

It was a hot and muggy July 10 when the Polish delegation arrived here on the last lap of a day-long tour of Prince Georges County. The delegation was guided by Bob Seidel, program manager of the Johns Hopkins/Poland Technical Assistance Project. The delegates were Dr. Janusz Kot, Department of Urban Development Economics, University of Lodz; Maria Niemczyk, Deputy Director, Ministry of Physical Planning, Warsaw; and Dr. Zbigniew Zuziak, chief architect of Cracow, faculty of Urban Design and Physical Planning, Technical University of Cracow. Their visit was part of the county government's participation in a state program to help Poland's new government establish democratic and free market institutions. The county had been asked to provide education and training in the management of local government.

This is part of the state's plan to assist the new Polish government to set up a training center in the region of Lodz (pronounced "Woodge") to help educate Polish citizens about how democracy works at the local level and to prepare them to participate in local affairs. Lodz is about 30 miles from Warsaw and is Poland's second largest city and the center of the country's light industry.

With Mayor Gil Weidenfeld as host and using the city's air-conditioned van the tour began in the original planned community with the first stop between Center School, the first school/community building (1937), and the swimming pool (1939). City Manager James K. Giese, the tour narrator, explained briefly the history of Greenbelt, how it had been built during the Depression to put people to work and to provide low income housing. It had also served as an experiment in city planning based on the garden city ideas of an Englishman, Ebenezer Howard. Niemczyk and Dr. Zuziak were familiar with the plans of Howard. Giese further pointed out that city planners had used features such as following the topography of the land, clustered housing around a parking area, an inner walkway system with underpasses under roads, and a self-contained shopping center. From the van we looked past the pool to the commercial shopping center where the first cooperative stores had been built.

City Manager James K. Giese; Dr. Zbigniew Zuziak of the University of Krakow; city councilmember Edward Putens; Maria Niemczyk, Ministry of Physical Planning for Warsaw; Mayor Gil Weidenfeld; County Councilmember Richard Castaldi; representative of Prince Georges County Office of Community and Ethnic Affairs; and Dr. Janusz Kot of the University of Lodz enjoyed a barbecue at the Greenbelt Museum on July 10. The visitors from Poland received copies of the Greenbelt book from the city and umbrellas from the county.

Going up Gardenway to the Spellman pedestrian overpass, Giese pointed out several things—the connection to the newer part of town, the garden plots which had been continuously used since 1938 and some of the remaining trees and green space. Unfortunately, he explained, much of the original green belt had been sold and developed. Recently the city has managed to buy back some of that green belt which had been zoned for development.

How big is the city, the Polish officials wanted to know. Five square miles, Giese answered. The city had grown from a population of 2,800 in 885 housing units to approximately 20,000 people in 9,500 housing units.

As the van went up Ridge Road past the neat houses and trim gardens, Giese explained that the older part of town had become a cooperative and was no longer rental units. What are the greatest problems, the Poles asked. Controlling growth, Giese replied. The officials were surprised to learn that the city does not have control over development and zoning since the county decides on zoning matters. There is a concept in this country, Giese explained, that a man's home is his castle and that concept has influenced how zoning was decided. The city can use its influence to see that zoning requirements are carried out, but cannot stop growth of what is already zoned.

Reaching the defense homes Giese explained that they were built as temporary housing during World War II. Tenants in this and the rest of the original part of town were chosen for their ability to contribute to the community with certain other restrictions. They were poor because of the Depression, Giese said but often well educated.

To the right of Ridge Road the world-famous Beltsville Agricultural Research Center was pointed out to the visitors. Many Greenbelters work there, he said.

Next we drove through part of Boxwood where the well-spaced houses built in the '60s now were shaded by trees—and a quick look at Greenbelt's new police station.

Then, crossing over Crescent Road to Greenbelt Lake, the van was driven down to the spillway and the visitors got a look at one of the places set aside for recreation usage, the lake, picnic tables, play area, and lots of green space. On the way out, we passed the city's new recycling area with containers for glass, aluminum and newspapers. It will be enlarged, they were told.

Coming out to Kenilworth Avenue and crossing over, the van entered Capital Office Park. The visitors commented on the attractive buildings, landscaping and good roads. Privately owned and developed, the office park has been under construction since 1979. Greenbelters consider this to be a premier office park not just in the city but in the county as well. This development has worked with the city to preserve green space, Giese said, then added, to some residents any development is unwelcome. The county See VISITORS, page 2

Eight Hopefuls Seek Miss Greenbelt Title

Eight Greenbelt girls are having a busy summer preparing for the Miss Greenbelt Pageant which is held each year as a part of the Labor Day Festival. They meet each week to rehearse the dance routines which will be among the highlights of the pageant and carry out its "Country and Western" theme. The theme will also be featured in the pageant float in the Labor Day Parade.

This year's pageant contestants and their sponsors are: Tina Attick, Greenbelt Little League; Lori Byrd, Greenbelt American Legion Post No. 136; Leslie Corbin, Greenbriar Community Association; Shannon Grady, GBC Contractors; Crystal Hawkins, Glen Oaks; Apryl Kaye, Greenbelt Consumer Coop; Tara Koumas, Greenbelt Boys and Girls Club; and Susanne Nelson, Miss KAVA/Recreation Department.

On August 4 the contestants, their parents, and sponsors were entertained at a cookout at the Greenbelt Lake Park. Safeway donated a gift certificate for refreshments at the cookout.

The girls have also held two very successful car washes to raise money for pageant expenses. They have also attended workshops on make-up and nail care. Portraits of the Miss Greenbelt Pageant contestants will be on display around mid-August for Greenbelters to view.

Pageant participants are presented on the opening night of the Labor Day Festival, perform in their talent show on Saturday night, and are the stars of the crowning ceremony on Sunday evening.

Help Clean Up Greenbelt Park on Sat., August 25

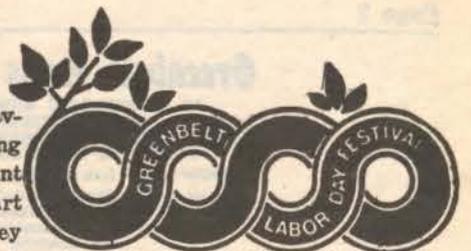

On Saturday, August 25, area citizens will have the opportunity to get a hands on experience in preserving a National Park Service site close to their neighborhood. During the "Take Pride In America Day" sponsored by Greenbelt Park and the National Park Service, interested citizens and volunteers will be able to join work teams led by park staff and participate in a day of outdoor work and friendship. Activities will include clearing brush, picking up litter, painting picnic tables, trail maintenance, replacing campfire circle benches, and general clean-up.

The event will take place from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. in Greenbelt Park, across from the Golden Triangle development on Greenbelt Road. To sign up as a participant, call 344-3949. Wear sturdy clothes and work boots, if possible.

Lunch will be provided for participants through donations from local merchants. All participants will receive a Take Pride in America certificate, and an TPIA hat.

PARADE DEADLINE NEARS

The 36th annual Greenbelt Labor Day Parade will step-off Monday, September 3, at 10 a.m. The parade route runs along Crescent Road from Greenhill Road (Lakewood) to the Municipal Building at Southway. The parade should reach the reviewing stand at the Municipal Building by 10:30 a.m. Best viewing is along Crescent from Northway to Hillside Roads.

The deadline for parade entries is Saturday, August 18. For more information call 547-4225.

Bikers & Trikers Sought for Parade

Once again the Greenbelt Lion's Club will be sponsoring the decorated bikes and trikes in the Labor Day Festival parade. Decorated bicycles and tricycles should be brought to the formation point in front of the Mobil gas station at 8:30 a.m. on Monday, September 3.

All children up to age 12 are invited to participate and all entrants will receive a prize. Top prizes will be awarded to the best decorated bicycles and tricycles, by age group.

Youth Football Cancelled; Basketball Program Shaky

At its August 7 meeting, the Board of Directors of the Greenbelt Boys and Girls Club voted not to offer a football program this year. The Board noted a lack of interest in the program this year, particularly on the part of adults. Despite pleas for volunteers since the end of last football season, no adult has come forward to be the Football Commissioner, to organize and oversee the program, and no new coaches were recruited.

Those youth who have expressed interest in playing football with the Club should contact Mel Scites immediately to explore their options: (1) to play with a neighboring boys and girls club; (2) to play soccer with the Greenbelt Club; or (3) receive a refund for dues already paid. Other clubs are already well into their football practices and the Greenbelt Club's soccer rosters are nearly filled.

The Club's basketball program may be headed for the same fate as football. The Club is in need of adult volunteers. The program needs commissioners for the Intramural program and for the County program. Coaches are always a need.

To volunteer to help, or for more information, call Mel Scites at 441-8689.

Registration Set For New Students

Monday, August 20 has been designated as a registration day for new students to county middle and high schools.

Each new student should be accompanied by a parent or guardian and have (1) immunization records, (2) birth certificate, (3) proof of residence such as a lease, rental agreement or settlement papers, (4) transcript or report cards, and (5) recent standardized test scores.

For additional information about school attendance areas, please call the Department of Pupil Accounting and School Boundaries at 952-6300.

"A Broader Perspective"

To the Editor:

I'm glad so many folks took up their cudgels! Alas, nature does manage forests with disease, insects, and fire, for instance. My idea was to get things out in the open. Pardon the pun.

If you really want to talk about biodiversity, I believe that it is greatest along the woods' edge or transition zone with fields, in natural forest openings, along streams, and, yes, along paths, not in the forest primeval. This is not to say that the majesty of the climaxed forest isn't awe inspiring in itself. I enjoy the splendor of nature as much as anyone.

The statement "Greenbelt can meet the recreational needs of its residents without the further loss of our valuable woodlands" was nice, but there was no following HOW statement. My intent was not just to use woodlands nor only to use part of those newly acquired acres.

Do we have "motorcycles, off-trail vehicles, or all-terrain vehicles" tearing around Greenbelt Lake? Then, why would it happen on other Greenbelt trails?

Reasonable is what Greenbelters deem adequate for their variable and collective needs and are willing to support. I doubt that we'll get carried away if our open space is properly surveyed and appropriate sites and needs are identified for recreational purposes. Such land is not lost, gone or unavailable. It is open green space for everyone's enjoyment.

We should hear more from the youth and adult softball, baseball, football and soccer teams, etc. in Greenbelt. What percentage of their practice time and games are played in Greenbelt? Most of the practice and about half the games should be. Greenbelt youth, in particular, need to be in Greenbelt to practice or some will be excluded for lack of transportation. The statement about the county, not Greenbelt, needing more ballfields is indicative of the attitude that bothers me and many others. For instance, what is the number of acres per 1000 residents set aside for athletic fields in Greenbelt. How does that compare to other cities in P.G. County?

And to "What's Next?", alias, the Amusement Park, it was great! A little comic relief never hurt any person, place or plant. Hopefully, we've eliminated the possibility of storage buildings, salt sheds, housing and other non-open-space initiatives on the green belt.

No doubt I'll be hung in effigy at the August 13 meeting of the Committee to Save the Greenbelt, but then I expected that. What has helped by building some of the roads including the new overpass across the Beltway which will connect directly to the new Metro rapid rail transit system.

Then we went over this new overpass to Springhill Lake, pausing to notice the large machinery on the right where Metro construction would take place. Looking at the Springhill Lake apartment project this reporter was able to understand the admiration expressed by the Polish officials. One of the largest garden projects in the county, with 2,900 housing units, the project seemed to fit right in with the concept of early Greenbelt. Trees had been left in many places, an inner walkway system, swimming pools, a small shopping center, and playground areas gave it much the same look and feeling of independence found in old Greenbelt. The visitors commented on its attractiveness.

"When buyers think Greenbelt, they think REALTY 1."

Ruth A. Bowman

Longtime Greenbelt resident Ruth Anne Bowman died Tuesday, August 14 at Washington Hospital Center of a massive heart attack. Ruth would have been 77 on September 4.

The Bowmans moved to Greenbelt in 1944. She and her husband, Bruce, of 53 years raised their three children in the green belt of Greenbelt, the woods at the end of Laurel Hill. They were active in many Greenbelt organizations and activities.

A graduate of Antioch College in Ohio as was Bruce, Ruth majored in child development. They were married on her graduation day. She taught nursery school in Greenbelt and later was a kindergarten teacher at North End School for 14 years, when kindergartens were cooperatives and later when they were incorporated into the Prince Georges County School system.

As a long-time resident, Ruth was interviewed for the oral history project in connection with the city's 50th anniversary celebration in 1987. Responding to the question, "What aspect of your life in Greenbelt meant the most to you?", Ruth said: "Oh, my teaching, no question. I just got so much satisfaction working with children, seeing them grow, develop and change. Oh, that was the most wonderful thing that happened to me." She went on to comment about the half-day schedule with the kindergarten which made it possible for her to look after her own family's needs as well. Her interests included the PTA, Girl Scouts and the Greenbelt Health Association, of which she was a board member.

Ruth is survived by her husband, Bruce; son, Peter, and his wife, Rose, of Houston; daughters Sandra of Seattle and Barbara of Bloomington, Illinois; and granddaughter Joysong.

A memorial service will be held at Cedar Lane Unitarian Church, 9601 Cedar Lane in Bethesda on Sunday, August 26 at 3 p.m.

Trips for Seniors Planned

The Greenbelt Recreation Department is sponsoring two trips for senior citizens in September. On Wednesday, September 12, participants will go to the Burn Brae Dinner Theatre to see "42nd Street". On Monday, September 24 they will have lunch aboard the Harbor Queen and cruise the Inner Harbor. There is a fee for both trips. Any senior citizen interested in attending these trips should come to the Youth Center to make reservations. Reservations are made on a first-come, first-served basis. Seats are limited. 474-6878.

Cowans - Anderson

Victoria Anne Cowans, daughter of Marguerite L'Anglais of Piedmont, Quebec, and John Douglas Cowans of Montreal, Quebec, was married to Hassell Thigpen Anderson, son of Martin and Hattie Thigpen Anderson of Greenbelt, on August 4 at Georgeville, Quebec.

Elizabeth Anderson MacLellan of Ottawa, Ontario, the sister of the groom and a former Greenbelt resident, served as matron-of-honor. The best man was Tim Bayler of Laurel.

Both the bride and groom are 1989 graduates of the University of New Brunswick. Fredericton, New Brunswick, she in sociology and he in engineering. The bride is a native of Quebec and a graduate of Bishop's College School of Lennoxville, Quebec.

The groom, who was born and raised in Greenbelt, is a graduate of Eleanor Roosevelt Senior High School.

The couple will reside in Maple Shade, New Jersey. The bride will undertake a second degree in nursing at Rutgers University. The groom is an engineer with Aerial Data Reduction Associates of Pennsauken, New Jersey.

For their wedding trip, the couple will be camping and hiking in the Great Smokies.

County Schools Schedule Immigrant Registration

All students K-12 born outside the United States or who have limited English proficiency are required to register at the International Student Office prior to being admitted to their local schools. The International Student Guidance Office identifies, admits, evaluates and places all foreign students from kindergarten through the 12th grade.

Special registration days have been arranged for August 20, 27, 28, 29, 30 and 31 from 8:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.

In cooperation with the Prince Georges County Health Department, on-site health surveys will be provided on August 20. Also health survey and on-site immunization will be provided August 27, 28, 29, 30 and 31, from 8:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.

Families should call 985-5164 for an appointment for student registration if they are unable to attend any of the above listed county-wide registration days.

The International Student Guidance and ESOL/Language Minority Programs Offices have moved to the Bladensburg Instructional Services Center (the old Bladensburg Elementary School), 5150 Annapolis Road, Bladensburg.

Support Groups Meet

Two support groups for survivors of sexual abuse, Survivors of Incest Anonymous (SIA) meet Sunday evenings from 6:30-8 p.m. at Mowatt Memorial United Methodist Church, 40 Ridge Road. Entrance and parking is in the rear of the church. These are step meetings; there is no cross talk. Smoking is prohibited.

SIA is a 12-step self-help group for adults 18 years or older who were sexually abused as children, or think they may have been abused. Incest is defined broadly to include sexual abuse by a family member or anyone who the child was led to trust such as a teacher, minister or friend of the family. There are no dues or fees.

One survivor group is for men only: the other, for the hearing impaired, is open to both men and women. Hearing survivors are welcome only if fluent signers since no interpreter will be provided.

For further information, contact Dan or Pat (301) 498-1588 (VTTY).

Volunteers Needed

Volunteers are needed to share laughter and friendship with the frail, homebound, needy elderly in Prince Georges County through a non-sectarian program of the Jewish Social Service Agency (JSSA).

The program, funded by a grant from the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation, brings in-home support and health services to elders who cannot afford such assistance.

Volunteers are needed as friendly visitors, telephone friends, shoppers and drivers. For further information or to volunteer, call Arleen Levy or Erika Engelmann at 881-3700.

McFarland-Garrity

Mr. and Mrs. Henry McFarland of Fayette Place are happy to announce the marriage of their daughter Anne Louise to Thomas Paul Garrity, son of Mrs. Roseanne Garrity of Cheverly Manor, Md. The wedding took place August 5 in Las Vegas. The couple resides in Fullerton, Calif.

OUR COMMUNITY

Jesper from Sweden is anxiously awaiting news that there is a family in the Prince Georges County area who will help fulfill his dream of spending a year in America. Jesper enjoys golf, tennis, music and movies and is hoping to pursue some of these interests during his exchange year. He is also looking forward to developing new 'American' interests and hobbies that he can share with his friends when he returns to Sweden.

Each year, ASSE International Student Exchange programs provide qualified European students with the opportunity to spend an academic year in America attending a local high school and learning about life in America. If your family would help make Jesper's year in the Prince Georges County area possible, please call your local Area Representative, Janet Smith at 301/567-7288 or ASSE's toll free number at 800-333-3802.

ASSE, a non-profit organization is dedicated to fostering international relationships between countries through cultural exchange.

Our Neighbors

by Linda Savaryn, 474-5285
Our sympathy to Bruce Bowman whose wife Ruth died Tuesday.

Certificates of recognition (State Championships for spring sports) were presented to the boys' and girls' track teams of Eleanor Roosevelt High School by the school board at its June 14 meeting. Congratulations!

It's a girl for Leslie and Michael McLaughlin of Windsor Green. Tipping the scales at 9 lbs., 5 oz., Julia Marie made her debut on August 1. She joins Matthew, age 5, and Andrew, age 3. Julia's dad is Greenbelt's Assistant Manager.

Kenneth Paul Costa (born and raised in Greenbelt) and Molly Costa, now living in Carlsbad, CA, are proud parents of a bouncing baby boy, named after Grandfather Joseph. Joseph Ryan Costa was born on August 7, weighing 7 lbs. Great-grandma is Helen Pelczau of Green Ridge House and proud aunts are Laurie Costa and Donna Costa Fletcher, all of Greenbelt.

Greenbelt Step Club Helps Many Addictions

The Greenbelt Step Club, which opened February 1, has helped many people find and continue recovery from addiction. The Club is located in the rear basement of Dominos Pizza. It is open from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. Sunday through Thursday. The Club stays open till 1 a.m. Friday and Saturday nights for midnight meetings.

Many groups meet at the club. The groups are Alcoholics Anonymous, Narcotics Anonymous, Chemical Dependence Anonymous, Adult Children of Alcoholics, Alanon, Co-dependency Anonymous, Overeaters Anonymous, and Smokers Anonymous.

Anyone who is interested is more than welcome to attend meetings. Members only wish to be helpful. When meetings are not going on, it's a drop-in for coffee, soda and understanding. For information, call 345-5775.

The group would like to remember with gratitude Lee Beall for his invaluable contribution which helped make the club possible. Lee passed away on July 27.

Police Blotter

Based on Information Released by the Greenbelt Police Department

On August 2 Pfc. Maria Arthur arrested a 21-year-old nonresident male for attempting to pass a bad check at Best Products (Beltway Plaza). He was held on $1,000 bond pending trial.

On August 3, Cpl. Robert Keller responded to a report that there were juveniles with knives in front of Bud's Deep Discount Drugs and arrested two nonresident males, aged 16 and 14. The youths were charged with carrying a concealed deadly weapon and were released to the custody of their parents pending action by Juvenile Services.

On August 8 Officer Robert Dowling arrested an 18-year-old resident male in the Municipal Building parking lot for possession of an open alcoholic container. The youth was released on citations pending trial.

On July 29 another breaking and entering in the 9100 block of Springhill Lane was foiled: a female resident heard a noise at a window and awakened a male resident. Together they looked out the window and saw two men at the window. The male resident then chased the men until he lost sight of them in the area of Springhill Lane and Market Lane. Later that morning, the residents found that the screen had been pried away from their bedroom window and that there were scratches on the man's vehicle as though someone had tried to wedge something between the driver's door and the door frame. The would-be burglars are described as black, in their early 20s, 6', medium build, with black hair. One of them was wearing a dark-colored sweat suit and fluorescent tennis shoes.
