Castaldi's Big Vote Here Brings Victory in Primary

by Mary Lou Williamson

County Councilmember and favorite son Richard Castaldi won in Greenbelt by a large enough margin - 1558 votes — to assure his victory in the Democratic primary on Tuesday, September 11. G. Fred Robinson, Mayor Protem of Bowie, proved himself to be a tough challenger, losing by only 1318 votes. Castaldi will face Republican Theodore Henderson in the November General Election. (See box for election results.)

In an even closer race, in-cumbent State Senator Leo E. Green clung to victory over Terezie Bohrer by only 700 votes in the 23rd District in the closest race on the Democratic side here. Bohrer beat Green in Greenbelt by 467 votes.

In the House of Delegates race, all three incumbents, Joan Pitkin, Mary Conroy and Charles "Buzz" Ryan won the right to represent their party in the November election. Antoinette M. Bram received the high vote in the group in Greenbelt, but not around the 23rd District.

Top Vote

Steny Hoyer is again Greenbelt's top vote getter in his bid to be the Democratic standard bearer for the U.S. House of Representatives. He will face Republican Lee F. Breuer in No-

Races for the top state officials also brought high votes in Greenbelt. The team of Gover-nor William Donald Schaefer and Lt. Gov. Melvin Steinberg copped 1855 votes. They will face the husband and wife team of William and Lois Shepherd in the general election. The Shepherds eked out an 11 vote win in Greenbelt, but fared much better across the state. Perennial winner Louis L. Goldstein's substantial showing in Greenbelt was duplicated around the state. He will face Republican Larry M. Epstein who won in Greenbelt and in the state. Democratic voters also gave County Executive Parris Glendening a high vote of confidence in Greenbelt and in the county.

Greenbelter Thomas X. White and Don Beach of Bowie took the two seats on the Democratic Central Committee from the 23rd District. White was top vote getter in Greenbelt with 1246, Beach was second with 595, and former Greenbelter William Aleshier was third with 381 votes.

Turnout

Greenbelt Democrats voted in - 46.7 perhigher numbers -- in Greenbelt than they did four years ago. On the other hand, Greenbelt Republicans had poor showing of only 15.9 percent. Voters may not cross party lines in the Maryland primary. Election judges in the Precinct 6 reported that more than one Republican exited the voting booth without pulling any levers after discovering they could not make choices in the Democratic lines.

"This check will help pay for the purchase of 100 acres in Greenbelt, so the land may remain as open space," County Executive Parris Glendening tells the crowd at the Labor Day Festival. He presented the check for $1,250,478 to -photo by Nick Pergola Mayor Gil Weidenfeld (left).

City Gets Parkland Money

The city was a big winner at the Labor Day Parade. County Executive Parris Glendening presented a check to the City Council in the amount of $1,250,-478.00 to assist the financing of the acquisition of the 102.4 acre Parcel 1 property in the city's northeast corner.

These funds whch are more than 50 percent of the cost of the property became available through the cooperative efforts of the city, state and county elected officials.

In gratefully accepting the check, Mayor Weidenfeld thanked the county executive for his efforts. He noted the acquisition of Parcel 1 had been a long term goal of the city and was one of the accomplishments to be achieved through the 1985 bond

Park Agreement Signed By City and M-NCPPC

On Friday, August 31 the Greenbelt City Council signed a memorandum of understanding with the Maryland National Capital Park and Planning Com-mission on the funding of 57% of Parcel 1. Council met Thurs-day and Friday nights to discuss the issue.

There was discussion about one clause which referred to a forest management plan to be developed by a forester employed by the state. Under such a plan the property owner, the city, would define the goals of the usage of the property. Then the forester would draft the plan. Finally, the city would have to approve the plan. Such a plan allows a variety of types of uses.

City Council Hears Review of Capital Improvement Projects for the Year

by Mary Lou Williamson City Council heard a review by the city manager of the capital improvement projects and their funding sources for the next four fiscal years (FY) at its August 17 worksession. Thirty-four items are listed in the order of their chronological priority, 13 are listed but not funded, and another three haven't made either list. Priorities remain somewhat flexible as the city juggles and readjusts items according to their urgency, planning schedules and funds available. Council plans to consider approval of the budgets at its September 17 meeting.

FY 1991 Projects

1. Municipal Building Remodelling, $25,000—Remodelling of the building after the departure of the police department is about 25 percent complete. The council room may be completed first, but work is continuing to be slow. The room is frequently in use during the day. Ceilings, walls and some woodwork remain to be done, reported City Manager James K. Giese. An outdoor bulletin board that will provide for advance notice of city council meetings has been ordered and will be placed at the outside door. Total cost of the remodelling is expected to be $187,000.

2. Centerway Reconstruction, $525,000—This project was deferred from the last fiscal year and reduced in scope in order to reduce the cost. Work is pro-ceeding more slowly than expected. Some of the delay resulted when workmen found underground utility lines that had been abandoned or were not ac-curately mapped. "The work is going well," reported Celia Wil-son, the city's planning director. Ve're very happy with the project." One incident of vandalism, which cost about $3,500, delayed work for two days. The work areas will be cleared up for the Labor Day Festival crowds. Wilson expects the project to be completed by the end of October.

3. Indoor Swimming Pool, $3,826,680—The contract with Kettler Bros, will be signed shortly. Work will begin immediately after closing the outdoor pool on Labor Day. Council directed staff to start now to plan marketing strategies aimed at full use of the pool when it opens in a year.

4. Public Works Shed, $79,000-Giese told council that the proposal to rent space from the National Park Service in Greenbelt Park is dead. He recommended quick approval of the site at the present public works compound. Plans and permits are needed, he said, and we are "anproaching the time when we will have to be out of the North End School." Greenhorne and O'Mara will do the site plan work.

5. Youth Center Addition, Air Conditioning, New Furnace, $115,-000—The addition will house a women's locker room and a weight room. Wilson reported that the project "is ready to go."

6. Acquisition of Steiner Property for Schrom Hills Park, $200,000-Condemnation has been postponed to December at the property owner's request.

7. Schrom Hills Park Development, $1,272,090-Start of the project will be delayed until the Steiner property is owned by the city. A February start on construction could make the park available in June. The contractor will do the necessary grading, construct two buildings, the allee or entrance, parking lot, See CAPITAL, page 8

Metro Commercial

One recent, wet and dreary August day Greenbelt Lake was invaded by a production company shooting a commercial for METRO. Scenes were shot at the lake of an actor running out of the woods and jumping into the lake in a business suit. The commercial will begin airing around September 25. Although the lake was shot in a way that it would not be recognizable, it is indeed Greenbelt lake. So, if while watching television this month something looks slightly familiar, it is!

13. Northway Curb and Gutter Installation, $67,000— Construction of standard flat-faced curbs is planned for the full length of the street, probably next spring.

14. Edmonston Road Reconstruction, $75,000—"We could go to bid right away," Giese told council. Funding comes from Community Development Block Grants.

Public Works Building, Resurface Roof, $45,000—Project planning has not been started.

16. Hedgewood Drive, Resurface, $21,000.

17. Research Road from 9 court to BARC gate, $18,200 — The above two projects are small and should be combined with a larger project to get the best price, Giese said. Both could be held until next year when all home construction along Research Road should be completed. Construction vehicles have tortured the road surface over the past five years.

18. Roosevelt Center Parking areas, FY 91 $60,000 and FY 92 $65,000—Funds would cover engineering costs. The project is not yet listed for construction.

19. Northway Ball Fieds, $15,000—This is seed money to prepare for in-depth planning that will be undertaken in the future. No construction funds are identified at this time.

FY 92, 93, 94

Start-up of renovation work for Center School will be the major project of the city during FY 92 and 93. Other capital improvements are largely street resurfacing, construction of new sidewalks and curbs and gutters. a new gym floor and restoration of the mother and child statue at the Roosevelt Center. Projects tentatively scheduled for FY 93 and 94 include a substantial ad-Public dition to the Works Building, underdrains on Empire Place and the next batch of streets to be resurfaced. There is not enough money to fund all the projects listed. More juggling will occur. Some projects will be postponed and others reduced in scope to meet funding limits.

FY 92
20 Ridge Road resurface from Laurel Hill to Plateau Place, $72.600—The city would like to widen and reconstruct this section of Ridge Road, Giese told council, "but we don't know how to do it." The narrow street has perpendicular parking along its west side with the front bumpers of cars close to the houses and the rear bumpers of longer cars in the travel lane of the street. Therefore the city plans only to resurface the street at this time.

City

21. Hanover Parkway resurface from Greenbelt Road to Ora Glen Drive, $66,200-A number of utility cuts have roughened the pavement here, but more are to come with the construction of the last Commerce Center building. Council was concerned about the poor appearance of the street rights-of-way, especially around the storm water management pond. Planned wetland plantings will make an improvement, Wilson reported, and the city may supplement or take over maintenance responsibilities.

22. Ridge Road resurface from Research Road to Lastner Lane, $96,000—There is one more house planned along Ridge Road near Lastner, which would require heavy construction equipment.

23. Hanover Parkway, construction of sidewalk along Witt property, $5,200.

24. Parkway renovation and repair, $60,000—Funds will come from CDBG. Public Works Director George Smith reported the crown and base of the original street are still in good condition after 53 years of use.

25. Springhill Lake Recreation Center, replace gym floor, $30,000—The composition material used in the original floor, once considered state-of-the-art, is no longer used. New flooring will be wood.

26. Southway, construct sidewalk on east side from Ridge Road to Greenbelt Road, $15,000—Project is to coincide with sidewalk to be built along the north side of the Greenbelt Road bridge over the Baltimore-Washington Parkway.

27. Woodland Way, curbs and gutters, $36,000—Recent survey of residents favors construction of a rolled curb giving the street a more informal or rural look a more informal or rural look.

28. Mother and Child Statue restoration, $80,000—Current expectations are the statue needs extensive work now to recapture the original lines of the work by Lenore Thomas in 1937 or the statue will be lost. Staff plans to seek a grant from the National Endowment for the Arts.

FY 93 and 94
29. Public Works Addition,
FY93 $100,000; FY94 $1,100.11
—Several choices have been under consideration: construction of an entirely new facility at a new location; an addition to the present building or a second structure, parallel to the present building. The city can borrow from itself to get this project underway before FY95.

30. Empire Place underdrains, curbs and gutters, FY93. $31,400—A study of the excessive water problems along Empire Place is row in progress, More funds, $100,000, will be needed for construction.

32. Other Lakewood Streets, resurface, FY94, $92,400—The above two projects will likely be done together.

33. Crescent Road, resurface from Southway to 7-Court, FY 94, $77,000.

34. Ridge Road, resurface from Northway to Plateau Place, $35,-000.

Unfunded Projects

More than a dozen projects have been identified but not funded. A few had been considered in earlier years and postponed, such as the sidewalk at the south end of the original town where Crescent and Ridge Roads meet. Also, the sidewalk along Eastway. In another example, the reconstruction of the Braden Field ball fields cannot be undertaken until other new fields at Schrom Hills Park or Northway ball fields have been constructed and are able to handle Braden's program for a year.

Projects include: curbs and gutters from Ridge Road to Crescent Road, $15,800; Crescent Road sidewalk from Hillside Road to Gardenway, $40,000; Attick Park comfort station and picnic shelter, $100,-000; Attick Park parking lot reconstruction, $38 ann. Dr. Frank Pisciotta, Gastroenterologist

Listening To Your Body's Language

f you think the way computers work is complicated, think for a minute about your own body. Everything we do-from taking a step to reading a page to processing food-requires enormous coordination of systems within. When something is going wrong, the body often sends out signals to warn us.

These signals are commonly known as symptoms, and are the body's way of telling us that something needs attention.

Dr. Frank Pisciotta, an area gastroenterologist, states, "Two common signs of a digestive system in trouble are diarrhea and constipation. Others include painful swallowing, heartburn, nausea, cramping, unexplained weight loss, discoloration of tissue or the presence of blood in the stool."

Dr. Pisciotta says that for some 20 million Americans, minor digestive upsets are a daily problem. According to the National Institutes of Health figures, another 20 million are chronically ill with serious gastrointestinal disorders.

He states, "Almost everyone suffers from occasional bouts of heartburn. Changing eating habits may heip dramatically, however, if within a week's time self-care measures don't help, it's time to seek medical advice. The acids caused by heartburn can actually erode the esophagus and cause painful uicers. Your doctor can likely prescribe something to prevent it."

Common sense, he says, is the key. Many people wait too long for the symptoms to disappear on their own. By the time they seek medical advice, the problem has advanced to a more complicat-

Most digestive diseases are highly treatable in their early stages, includes malignancies. Early tumors can usually be effectively removed with little or no discomfort by a simple in-office procedure called endoscopy. Dr. Pisciotta has offices that include endoscopy facilities, as well as on-site lab, and Xray, so there is no undue disruption of the patient's daily routine. Should there be a need, he has hospital privileges at many of the areas finest facilities.

He says, "We often see patients who have suffered for weeks or months before they come in, thinking that the problem would go away. Our staff understands the importance of early treatment, so when someone calls, we accommodate them right away. A thorough evaluation and program of treat-ment, if needed, begins immediately."

Dr. Pisciotta, who is a graduate of the Universities of Maryland and Texas Medical School, trained at institutes including Hahnemann Medical Center and Hospital in Philadelphia; M.D. Anderson Hospital and Tumor Institute in Houston; St Mary's Hospital at the University of Rochester in New York and Washington Hospital Center in Washington, D.C. He prescribes preventive measures as ways in which to avoid having trouble.

"Eat slowly," he advises, "and as your mother always told you, chew your food well. Have plenty of high-fiber food in your diet, drink alcohol only in moderation. don't smoke cigarettes, and be aware of any changes in your body's normal patterns. If you have doubts concerning the seriousness of a condition, see a doctor. Ignoring symptoms for long periods of time can wind up being very costly in terms of your health. When your body talks, listen.

JOE'S TIPS OF THE WEEK

Hello Again!

Have you ever gotten the feeling at one time that your vehicle seemed like it was all over the highway or it seemed to have a mind of its own? Well, some of the problem could be the roads we drive on, which we have no control over and some of the problem could be worn out suspension components. In particular shocks and struts and sometimes the actual springs. In time these components lose their ability to stabilize the wheel bounce and maintain the proper body height which in turn stabilizes the vehicle's ability to control itself; in other words so it doesn't feel like it's all over the road. All vehicles incorporate some type of suspension controlling devices. In most cases after 5 years or about 50 thousand miles, these components do not react as they once did. Most of the complaints are sloppy steering, a poor ride when on bumpy roads or lane changing, premature on bumps. 50% of the time these conditions are misread as a front ent component being defective or an alignment condition. One sign of component wear is hydraulic oil passing out of the shock of strut area. This is a positive sign of a piston seal leaking and component replacement will be required. No service on the individual component, in some cases struts can be serviced with only the internal components depending on the vehicle application. You will be surprised at the outcome after replacing these components. It restores the integrity and tightness not to mention the safety factor involved. It's like putting on that new pair of shoes. It makes you feel like dancing!
