New 8100-Acre Tract Added To Patuxent Wildlife Center

by Elaine Skolnik

Nearly 8100 acres of Fort Meade land was transferred to the Patuxent Wildlife Research Center on April 3. Interior Secretary Manuel Lujan joined Army Secretary Michael Stone in officially marking the transfer, which was authorized under the Military Construction Appropriations Act of 1990.

"We are turning an area once necessary for national defense into a place of natural tranquility, a place where nature can resume its peaceful course," said Lujan.

Participating in the ceremony also was Congressman Steny Hoyer (D-5th District). "This is a great day," he said, adding, "It happened by people of good will — civilian and military, legislative and executive, Republican and Democrat, private sector and government, and citizens and their elected officials—all working together."

Hoyer noted that the largest sycamore tree in the state stood on the land, along with the presence of 106 different types of birds. "The bald eagle — symbol of our nation's liberty and freedom — is nesting on this site," he said.

With this transfer, the Patuxent Research Center, the adjacent Beltsville Agricultural Research Center and the Goddard Space Flight Center encompass more than 20,000 acres of open space, the largest single tract of undeveloped land on the coastal plain between New Jersey and Richmond, Virginia.

The transfer of the Fort Meade land, to be known as the North Tract, nearly triples the size of the existing 4,700-acre Patuxent Research Center. The expansion will allow scientists to enlarge the scope of their work. Nearly 30 research projects, ranging from global change to additional work on lead poisoning of waterfowl, are being considered.

Unlike Patuxent's original research lands, where public access has been limited in order to minimize disturbances to wildlife research projects, the new area is being opened to hunters, fishermen and other forms of outdoor recreation.

"The land transfer is a good deal for everyone," said Mike Hayden, Assistant Secretary of the Interior for Fish and Wildlife and Parks. "The scientists receive a brand new outdoor laboratory and the public gets a great place in which to enjoy the outdoors."

According to the Fish and Wildlife Service, the $18 million visitor center, described as the "world's first wildlife research visitor" will be completed next year, along with a fishing pier at a nearby lake.

CDBG Funds Will Help City Pay for Parking Lot Project

by James Giese

Greenbelt has been allocated $150,000 of Federal Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) Funds for fiscal year 1993 to be used for parking lot improvements at Roosevelt Center. This allocation was approved by the Prince Georges County Council based upon a recommendation of County Executive Parris Glendening.

This is the third grant of funds allocated to the city for work related to reconstructing the parking lots at Roosevelt Center. It will be used to help pay the estimated $1,000,000 cost of Phase I of a parking lot renovation plan that will rebuild the west parking lot, increase the number of parking spaces, provide a large rectangular area for community event usage such as the Labor Day Festival and provide new landscape areas with built-in irrigation systems.

Other CDBG funds have been used for the planning and design of the parking lots ($75,000 allocated). Another $120,000 has been allocated for the construction project, but is yet to be spent.

A public hearing on the parking lot proposal, originally scheduled for April 27, was indefinitely postponed. The engineers and planners, Macris, Hendicks and Glascock and Trace Associates, have been asked to revise the plans in order to reduce the $2.6 million price tag estimated for the entire renovation program.

Besides the CDBG funds, city officials expect to utilize some of the funds borrowed for renovation of the commercial center buildings, which are to be repaid by the building owner, George Christacos.

Fatal Auto Accident

A traffic accident at the intersection of Hanover Parkway and Greenway Center Drive on May 11 at 2:20 p.m. resulted in a fatality. As a Chevy Camaro was trying to make a left turn from westbound Greenway Center Dr., northbound Hanover Pkwy. onto it was struck by a GMC pick-up truck traveling southbound on Hanover Pkwy.

As of last week, investigation of the accident was continuing by Greenbelt Police Department and no one had been charged. The driver of the pick-up truck, a 31-year-old nonresident man, was taken to Doctors Community Hospital and was reported in good condition. The driver of the Camaro, a 44-year-old nonresident woman, was taken by the U.S. Park Police helicopter, Eagle II, to Washington Hospital Center, where she was reported in stable condition. The passenger in the Camaro, a 70-year-old nonresident woman, was taken to Doctors Community Hospital and later pronounced dead.

E. Roosevelt Choirs Win National Trophy

The Eleanor Roosevelt Choirs received national recognition recently by winning the Grand Sweepstakes Trophy at the Orlando MusicFest. The trophy is awarded to the school receiving the highest cumulative rating.

Competing in the MusicFest were 92 students in the Chamber Choir, Women's Choir, and Concert Choir. All three choirs, under the direction of Dr. Barbara Baker, took first place Division AAA trophies.

The choirs competed with high schools from across the nation. Additional awards received by the group include Best Chamber and Women's Choir in all divisions. All three Eleanor Roosevelt choirs have been invited to compete in the select Winners Only Competition in 1993.

Last spring the school's music program was selected as the top high school program in the state. The Exemplary Music Department Award was given by the Maryland Music Teacher's Association at the group's 50th anniversary.

Eleanor Roosevelt competed in the AAA division for schools with enrollments that exceed 2000.

CITY HOLIDAY REFUSE SCHEDULE

Because of the Memorial Day Holiday, Monday, May 25, 1992, city offices will be closed and refuse from city customers will NOT be collected that day. Regular trash collections will resume on Tuesday, May 26, with Monday's route being collected on Wednesday. Thursday and Friday of that week will be on the regular schedule. Recyclable collections will be on their regular schedules during that week.

At Council Meeting - No New Park Name, Wilson Honored, PRAB Nixes Skateboards

by Diane Oberg

At its May 11 regular meeting, the Greenbelt City Council formally selected the winners of the contest to rename Schrom Hills Park. The winning name was Schrom Hills Park, first submitted by Betty and David Lehman. By motion, council officially named the park.

In other actions, council heard a request for increased funding from the city's cable access station group, received a petition from bus riders seeking a safer trip and received an advisory report recommending against the creation of a city skateboarding facility.

GATE Petition

Greenbelt Access Television, Inc. (GATE) petitioned council to receive 10 percent of the cable television franchise fee to support its operation. This fee brought in an estimated $80,000 in FY92, of which $48,400 was spent on city public information and community promotion activities. The remainder was used to fund general city operating expenses.

GATE wants to purchase additional equipment to become independent of Multivision and other cable TV studios. Their statement indicated that "waiting for the availability of others' facilities reduces GATE efficiency and frustrates its members."

In a written report, city Public Information and Communications Coordinator Beverly Palau did not comment on the funding request. However, she reported that Multivision's studios have reduced their hours because of the lack of demand for their use, suggested ways the group could reduce costs and recommend using others' studios until the group has "so many productions underway that current facilities cannot accommodate them."

Donna Weiss presented a petition with "pages and pages of signatures" seeking council's help in getting a larger bus for the morning R-11 bus. She reported that frequently passengers must stand while the bus travels on the Beltway. Council was appalled and directed staff to transmit the petition to the appropriate county and Metro officials.

City Manager Daniel G. Hobbs presented Planning and Development Director Celia Wilson with a watch with the city logo in recognition of her consistent high level of performance in handling multiple "major critical projects."

Council gave final approval to legislation raising the fees for swimming lessons for nonresident nonpassholders, establishing erosion and sediment control regulations and, under suspension of the rules, authorizing replacement of the broken heating and air conditioning system at the Youth Center.

Council received a report from the Parks and Recreation Advisory Board (PRAB) recommending that the city not establish a skateboarding facility as requested by petition. Although PRAB found that there was a clear need for such a facility, it found that the cost of liability insurance would be too high.

PRAB

Council accepted the resignation of Barbara Tyner from PRAB. She is resigning because of increased professional responsibilities.

The old building that housed the A&P and later the Super Fresh food stores and several adjacent shops has been demolished. A 68,600 sq. ft. flagship Giant Supermarket and Pharmacy will rise in its place during the coming months. Another 55,000 sq. ft. will house 30 new stores.

Achievement

Summer is approaching, and once again plans for the Greenbelt Labor Day Festival are taking shape. Having already seen the first article inviting young women to enter the Miss Greenbelt beauty pageant, I would like to ask this year's Labor Day Committee to take a moment to reexamine this particular tradition.

Recent studies have documented an alarming phenomenon among adolescent females: loss of self-esteem, decline in academic achievement, a dearth of women entering traditionally male fields such as mathematics and science. Clearly, something happens to many young women that makes them unwilling or unable to succeed academically and professionally, or to compete with male peers.

Starting practically at birth, society gives girls the clear message that what they are most appreciated for is their looks. Institutions like beauty pageants are part of this indoctrination. These traditions in effect tell girls that it is proper and "feminine" for women to be primarily concerned with being beautiful.

When one's mental energy is devoted primarily to one's physical appearance, it is being drained from more productive pursuits such as mastery, competence, achievement.

Of course, there is nothing wrong with wanting to look one's best; it is a question of perspective. But competitions among young women on the basis of their looks are not a healthy perspective for society to promote.

The Miss Greenbelt Pageant is an anachronism, a degrading and demeaning throwback to an era when women were kept in their place as decorative and ineffectual objects. Do we, as parents, really want to continue to send our young daughters this destructive message: that female "achievement" consists of looking nice?

Greenbelt has always been on the leading edge of social change. Instead of having female beauty pageants, why don't we replace them with a special young person's award similar to the Outstanding Citizen award? Let a young Greenbelter ride in the Labor Day Parade because of his or her service to the community, outstanding character or superior academic achievement.

Such an award would encourage both young women and men to be their best, not just look their best.

On Waste Fees

According to the March 12, 1992 issue of the News Review, the City Manager proposes to increase waste collection fees by $12/year. This struck me as strange: in April 1991 the city's waste collection costs were reduced, when the County took over and expanded the City's pick-up of Recyclables. I understand that the rationale behind the increase is to add a 10 percent "overhead" charge.

Some specific observations:
1) The amount of waste to be collected by the city per customer is bound to decrease with the addition of ferrous and bi-metal cans to the county's recycling program.

2) It is difficult to calculate the amount of waste and costs per Residential Customer, since the City also collects waste from businesses, churches and the Greenbelt Library.

3) Since FY 1992, the waste collection crew has been responsible for the collection of roadside trash. The cost-impact of this function on the waste collection account has been negated by transferring an equal amount of the landfill disposal rebate to the waste collection budget.

4) Even though roadside trash collection does not impact the net costs of the waste collection budget, it does influence the proposed 10% surcharge, which is taken from the cost side of the account. The largest single cost item is "Other Operating Expenses - Other Services" which consists of the costs of roadside trash collection and the "tipping fee" (the fee paid to the county for each ton of waste dumped in the landfill). The question remains: why should the size of the tipping fee influence the overhead costs? And of course, the residential user should not pay overhead costs on the removal of roadside trash.

5) The bottom line: for-profit private haulers did not raise their fees, which are lower than the City's.

Recycling Saves

This letter is to clarify a number of incorrect assumptions made in a letter from Charles Kendall, regarding recycling costs.

The proposed waste collection fee increase has absolutely nothing to do with recycling in Greenbelt. The waste collection fee supports the Waste Collection and Disposal budget, which funds refuse collection and disposal by the city's crews. The recycling drop-off center at the lake is part of the general Public Works Administration budget, which is funded through general city tax revenues—not the waste collection fee. The curbside recycling program (including the "yellow buckets" and "box-car size trucks with four men") is Prince Georges County run and funded. Since the city's refuse crews previously collected newspaper weekly for recycling, the county's program has actually reduced the city's workload.

Contrary to Kendall's assertion that recycling costs us extra, in fact recycling represents a cost avoidance even without considering environmental benefits. While I do not have cost figures for the county curbside program, the average cost for recycling one ton of recyclable resources at the drop-off center is estimated at $30, including rental and emptying of the "custom made bins" but, I will admit, not including the one-time cost to build the "catwalks with steps." The landfill dumping fee is currently $56 per ton and is scheduled to increase to $64/ton. Further, this landfill fee does not include city crew collection nor city truck costs. I submit that the drop-off center, at least, is a cost savings.

I commend Kendall's support for the county's hazardous waste days and his suggestion for carpooling. Given the success of the recycling drop-off center and curbside program, many Greenbelt residents do not believe they are putting on a show. Further, most know that every person can make a difference in protecting the environment.

Evening Treat

On Sunday night, May 17, those of us who were fortunate enough to be at Mishkan Torah were treated to an evening of entertainment and enlightenment. The music of the three-member Russian Jazz group provided hand-clapping and dancing participation which included oldsters and youngsters, and those in between. The opportunity to hear directly from newcomers to this country, their problems adjusting to new ways and a new life, added to our understanding.

Thank you, Chippendale Committee of the Mishkan Torah Sisterhood, for providing us with an unforgettable evening. Thank you, also, Jimmy Olsen for the pre-program piano concert. We look forward to future programs.

Thanks

On behalf of my mother, Evelyn Green and sister, Joyce Thomas, thank you for the honor you bestowed upon Austin R. Green, by including in the News Review, the picture and lengthy article on his life and activities in Greenbelt.

My father would have been extremely proud of his city and those employees, and the newspaper staff, most of whom he knew for years and personally, for taking the time to prepare the article, talking with my mother and sister and obtaining the picture from the police department, for lowering the city flag, and for all the other kindnesses shown to his family at this sad time.

We will miss him greatly, but can always remember how much he cared about the people of Greenbelt, the accolades the city bestowed on him throughout the years and the honesty and integrity with which he performed both official and unofficial duties for the betterment of the community.

Farewell

A warm farewell to Brownie Troop Leader Michele Lobkovich and family, who currently live on Southway. They'll be moving to Seattle, Washington, in June. On Thursday, May 21, Brownie Troop 567 will be surprising Michele and family (we hope) with a gift subscription to the Greenbelt News Review at a very special farewell potluck supper. Both Michele and husband Chris have been super volunteers in the best Greenbelt tradition, Michele with T-Ball, Cub Scouts and Brownies, and Chris with T-Ball and Little League. Their three children, Christopher, Jessica and Katie, will also be missed by all their Greenbelt friends. We hope that the Greenbelt News Review will help them keep in touch with a community that will really miss all of them!

The Girls and Their Parents, Brownie Troop 567

Ed. Note: Mail subscriptions are available at cost (first class postage). Write P.O. Box 68, Greenbelt, Md. 20768, or call 474-4131 on Mondays, 2-4 p.m. or 8-10 p.m. on Tuesdays, 8-10 p.m.

Correction

The date given for the city council meeting to approve the 1992-93 budget was incorrect in last week's issue of this newspaper. The correct date is May 26. The News Review regrets the error.

SCUBA CLASSES

Greenbriar's scuba diving classes will kick off with an organizational meeting on Tuesday, May 26 at 7:30 p.m. at the Greenbriar pool. Pool and lecture sessions will begin mid-June. Call Beth at (301) 474-3111 or Vince at (301) 249-1221 for details — or just show up — there's no obligation. A fee will be charged for the class.

GREENBELT CONNECTION MEMORIAL DAY HOLIDAY

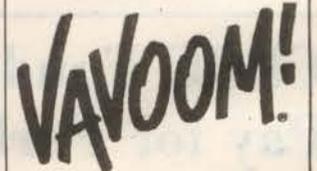

The Greenbelt Connection, the city's dial-a-ride service, will NOT operate on MONDAY, MAY 25, 1992. The service will be resumed on Tuesday, May 26, 1992.

Monumental Brass Concert Set for Greenbelt Day

by Sandy Smith

Monumental Brass Quintet, an award-winning ensemble, is the featured group at the Music Under the Stars concert, June 6, 8 p.m., at the Greenbelt outdoor pool. The concert is sponsored by the Greenbelt Arts Center and is offered without charge to the community as part of the Greenbelt Day festivities. The free concert begins at nightfall and concert goers are invited to bring lawn chairs and blankets and come early to enjoy dinner or refreshments which will be sold prior to the concert.

The Monumental Brass Quintet performs a versatile repertoire that spans the centuries. The ensemble is equally at home performing all styles of classical music, both old and contemporary, as well as Dixieland jazz, ragtime, movie music, show tunes and big band favorites. The group has entertained thousands, with concerts at music festivals and performance halls throughout the United States. Their year-round activities include coast-to-coast concert tours, young peoples concerts and performances at summer festivals in both popular and chamber music programs.

The group performs frequently at the Kennedy Center. They are now the artists-in-residence at the Selma Levine School of Music in Washington, D.C. They were also the performing brass ensemble for Yehudi Menuhin's "Live Music Now" program in this area. They perform regularly on radio and television. Locally they can be heard on WGMS, WMAL, WJHU, and WTRR.

The Monumental Brass Quintet is a prize winning ensemble of the 1987 Rafael Mendez Brass Quintet Competition held at the International Brass Quintet Festival. Established to promote, sustain and further the tradition of brass chamber music, the Monumental Brass Quintet strives to add new perspectives to that tradition by premiering new works and arrangements. In 1987 the ensemble recorded their first album, "Monumental Favorites." More recently they recorded "Monumental Brass Goes to the Movies" and an album of Holiday Music.

Music Under the Stars with Monumental Brass continues the tradition of open public concerts on Greenbelt Day. Previous concerts featured noted jazz groups. For more information, call 441-8770.

by James Giese

March, 1942—a temporary reprieve was given to the 160 or 170 families who were scheduled to move out of Greenbelt on March 31 because their incomes now exceeded the limits set for Greenbelt residency. Notice of this action was given in early March in a letter from Mason Barr, director of the Resettlement Division to Town Manager Roy Braden. The Resettlement Division decided to make the delay until it could complete a study of the "many and varied problems brought out in the recent income survey. . ." While uncertain as to how long residents could stay, Barr gave assurance that families with children in school can plan to continue in residence at least until the close of the school year.

In a March 13 editorial, the "Cooperator" expressed its displeasure with the manner in which the Farm Security Administration had handled the decision to delay. Many of the residents affected by the income limits had already either moved or made plans to move. The indefinite time for the postponement was another cause for regret. While supporting the general idea of income limits, the paper felt the policy needed revision.

The income limits for living in Greenbelt ranged from $800 to $2200 a year depending on family size. Rents varied originally from $19 to $41 a month.

Baha'i Observance

On May 29, the Baha'is of Greenbelt will join Baha'i communities worldwide in observing the centenary of the passing of Baha'u'llah, Prophet-Founder of the Baha'i Faith.

The observance is the first major commemoration of a Baha'i holy year, which began April 21. The holy year is a special time for Baha'is to reflect upon the life and mission of Baha'u'llah, and the development of his religion.

In Greenbelt, Baha'u'llah's passing will be observed with two special devotional programs. On Thursday, May 28, at 8 p.m. they will join the Baha'is of the Washington, D.C. metropolitan area at the University of the District of Columbia Auditorium Building #46 East, 4200 Connecticut Avenue, N.W. for a commemorative evening, followed by a gathering in Greenbelt.

On Tuesday, June 2 at 6:30 p.m. the public is invited to join Greenbelt Baha'is and Mayor Weidenfeld at a commemorative dinner. For information and directions, contact Jim Fischer at 474-4090.

The central principles of Baha'u'llah's teachings are the oneness of God, the oneness of religion, and the oneness of mankind. His teachings also include the equality of men and women, the essential harmony of science and religion, and economic justice based on spiritual principles.

In less than 150 years, the Baha'i Faith has become the second most widely spread religion in the world after Christianity with more than 5 million members. In the last six years more than 1.5 million people have become Baha'is.

Walter Wight

Walter G. Wight, formerly of Boxwood Village, died May 17. In August he would have been 98 years old. He is survived by his daughter and son-in-law, former Greenbelters Marion and Edmund Klukowski of Palm Coast, Florida; five grandchildren and 14 great-grandchildren.

So Long, Fr. Rich Come Back Soon

All are invited to join in celebrating a "Going-forth Liturgy" with Father Rich Maloney. Father Rich is well known to Greenbelt. He was assigned to work at St. Hughes' before his ordination and has been associated with the parish, Greenbelt and De Matha High School for many years.

Liturgy will be held on Sunday, May 31 at 10 a.m. at the 73 Ridge Road Playground. A potluck picnic will follow immediately. Rich will be leaving on a year's sabbatical to Europe, the Southwest, and the Appalachian Trail! Bring a lawn chair and a dish to share. Drinks will be provided. In case of inclement weather the group will meet in the Municipal Building. For more information contact Dee Downs at 474-4653 or Aida Bistany at 474-8556.

Gibson-Daffan

Lisa Gibson and George Daffan were married in Upper Marlboro on May 8.

The bride is the daughter of Richard and Anita Astrayka of Crescent Road. The groom is the son of the late Mary and George Daffan Jr.

The couple resides on Hillside Road.

City Notes

Public Works crews were busy this past week planting annuals at the Lake entrance and replacing the battered trash receptacles. Four trees were planted and landscape was repaired along Research Road plus trees were planted at the Center underpass. Ballfields were prepared for weekend league play and construction of the Little League batting cage is nearing completion. Also a barricade was installed at Northway Park area to deter unauthorized vehicle entry into the woods.

Public Works crews installed a play climber at Schrom Hills Park. In consideration of environmental concerns, the climber selected was made from recycled plastics.

A large section of temporary plastic mesh fencing was stolen from the Windsor Green ballfield. Replacement fencing will be installed and sectioned into smaller lengths to discourage theft for reuse by others.

All city ballfields were prepared for weekend league play. Construction of the Little League batting cage is almost completed and the batting net was hung.

P.G. Choir Concert

The Prince Georges Choral Society will be presenting a concert at the Publick Playhouse on Saturday, May 30 at 8 p.m.

This 45-voice choir will be featuring Broadway Tunes this year at their popular annual concert. The musical selections will include pieces from The Sound of Music, Oklahoma, My Fair Lady, and South Pacific.

For tickets, reservations or additional information, please call the Publick Playhouse Box Office at (301) 277-1710 (V/TDD). There is a fee.

Confusion on Timing

Pay-per-view cable television shows ordered after May 1 are subject to a five percent state sales tax. Recently, the city government became aware of a situation where Multivision charged the tax on a pay-per-view show ordered before May 1. The city wants to alert cable subscribers to check their bills to make sure that they have not been charged the tax on orders placed before May 1. Anyone who has been improperly taxed should call Multivision at (301) 731-4260 to request that the error be corrected.

Host Families Needed

Local families are needed to provide room and board for approximately 30 French teenagers and 15 Spanish teenagers who are planning to visit the area during July. This program provides American families with the opportunity to share their life and culture with a foreign student. The students' parents will provide transportation and pocket money.

At the same time students from this area will be spending four weeks living with a European family to experience their language and culture first hand. There are still openings in these programs for students who have successfully completed two years of the language of the host family.

Families interested in hosting a European student or sending a teenager to Europe should contact Nacel Area Coordinator Ruth L. Jamison, 1236 W. Pulaski Hwy., Elkton, Md. 21921, or phone 410-398-8486.

The View from Ridge Road

Christina O'Boyle

Rooms with a View

The sight of them can stop me in my tracks. Vacuuming and concentrating on the dirt and mud we bring in, I look up for no reason and see them through the windows; those old trees. Those familiar poplars, oaks, hollies, hickories and loblolly pines. Cracked and splitting, falling at angles or reaching straight up into the air, they are as familiar as family. Living on the BARC side of Ridge Road creates a certain possessiveness of these woods.

Just after buying this house, my husband-to-be gave me a tour, pointing at walls he would knock down and replace with windows or glass doors. We married, tore down walls, put up glass and let the woods in. Not wanting our new family to feel unwelcome, I have never hung curtains in the windows on that side of the house.

And it seems the woods feel right at home with us, interrupting our chores and calling us out for a walk. They've become such a part of our lives that our babies no sooner learn to walk than we let them toddle along the paths behind the house. Our sixteen-month-old daughter came with us for her first walk last Sunday; she slept soundly all night.

As Greenbelters, most of us live with or near the woods. We watch for hungry deer or laugh at the mischief of squirrels. We hope an unusual bird will snack at our feeders. Our excuse for daily dawdling is this art gallery and its changing shows. In winter there are architectural drawings with angles and arcs. In spring the setting sunlight washes pastels onto the gray trunks. In summer's lushness the vine-tangled bushes and leaves blur together in abstract confusion. Come autumn, the burgundies and yellows seem made for a painter's canvas.

Some days nothing much gets done around here, except staring out of windows.

GREENBELT AUTO & TRUCK REPAIR Inc. We took Preventive Maintenance Servicing years beyond oil & filter changes

We advanced with modern fuel injections & electronic ignition systems.

Without Question - We Are Technicians That You Can Trust!

Hello Again!

It's time to start thinking about our air conditioning systems in our vehicles. Some of us have already used our A/C systems to offset some of the heat we have already had.

For the systems which did not operate, it won't be long till you have a service professional take a look at the system to see just what happened.

The diagnosis you will most likely be told is the R-12 or FREON just leaked out. Sounds routine, but is it?

The days of just putting a shot of Freon in the system and worry about it when it leaks out again are over. Any quality repair shop knows the environmental damage and the financial fine that occurs if wrongful discharge of FREON takes place.

We here at Greenbelt Auto & Truck Repair have introduced the use of NITROGEN for dry testing and leak detection in automotive and truck A/C systems. It eliminates that sudden leak discharge if you have a ruptured hose or component because there's no way to contain that type of rapid leak of FREON.

And NITROGEN is safe to our Ozone. After all, we as human beings give off a percentage of NITROGEN gas.

Till Next Time Think Preventive Maintenance.

FOGM Budget Requests; Parking Plans Re-evaluated

by S.R. Cherry

Mary Linstrom, chairperson of the Friends of the Greenbelt Museum (FOGM), made her presentation to the Greenbelt City Council on May 5 for the funding needed by her organization for the upcoming fiscal year. In addition to the $4,900 that has been proposed for the 1992-1993 year, Linstrom asked council for reimbursement for renovation expenses incurred in converting the garage into an office. Linstrom suggested reimbursement in subsequent budgets, perhaps spread over a period of two to three years.

The Greenbelt Museum, located at 10-B Crescent Road, is owned, maintained and insured by the City of Greenbelt. Since 1989 FOGM, which is responsible for furnishing and operating the building as a museum, has hosted 1,754 visitors from 22 foreign countries, 26 states and the District of Columbia. Visiting groups have included classes from Georgetown University Law School, American University, Catholic University and Prince Georges Community College. The museum was a featured building during the tour of the city by the chairman and staff of the Maryland National Capital Park and Planning Commission.

Mayor Gil Weidenfeld thanked Linstrom for keeping the museum viable, noting that it is a "Feather in our cap," for the city of Greenbelt.

Roosevelt Center

Council also discussed construction to renovate the parking lot at Roosevelt Center. According to Weidenfeld, the original plan for the construction was to make the parking lot more efficient to automobile and pedestrian traffic, increase the number of parking spaces and make the area more aesthetically pleasing.

Increasing the parking spaces is the highest priority for the project. Council member Antoinette Bram noted that the addition of new businesses has increased the viability of the center, a fact with which council agreed. Weidenfeld added that the additional spaces were needed to keep the center viable.

The chief concern was the estimated cost of the construction, which has increased from $700,000 to $2.6 million. A second problem is that not as many new parking spaces will be created as was originally planned and that 30 percent of the existing spaces are for compact cars. Most of the construction will consist of improving the aesthetics of the lot. Celia Wilson, Director of Planning and Development, offered to see if there was a way to increase the number of spaces and improve the lot at a lower cost. It was generally decided that perhaps the plan as it is proceeding through the design stage should be reevaluated. City Manager Dan Hobbs suggested allowing the city's Advisory Planning Board to take up the issue and come back with suggestions.

Asian Heritage Display At Agricultural Library

A collection of items celebrating the nation's Asian heritage will be on display in the lobby of the National Agricultural Library (NAL) throughout May, which has been designated Asian Pacific American Heritage Month by President Bush. Additional items will be displayed in NAL's Special Collections Reading Room located on the 14th floor.

Finely crafted dolls, silk cloth and clothing, and hand-carved figurines are among the items in the exhibit. Also on display are books printed in Japanese and dating to 1688.

"Many of the items were loaned for the exhibit by members of the NAL staff," said Shirley King Evans, NAL's equal opportunity representative and coordinator of the exhibit. "The exhibit helps us to reflect on the contributions Asian Americans have made throughout the history of the United States and from a purely artistic point of view the items in the exhibit are fascinating to look at and study."

The free exhibit is open to the public, from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday. Free parking is available at NAL at 10301 Baltimore Boulevard in Beltsville.

NAL is one of three national libraries of the United States, with the Library of Congress

MVA to Remodel Express Office

The Motor Vehicle Administration (MVA) office in the Landover Mall is undergoing a 4-month renovation and expansion. The facility will remain open throughout the renovation period which is expected to run through the end of May.

"Once the project is completed, we will have added service counters, improved customer flow, expanded service and wait areas and improved the comfort and safety of our customers," said MVA Administrator W. Marshall Rickert. "We hope that by expanding the Landover office to the same size as other express offices,

Recycling Tips

Recycling Large Items

To discard large items, such as used furniture, call one of these organizations:

Purple Heart 454-0222
American Rescue Workers 336-6200

They will come to a person's house on an agreed upon date.

This method has several advantages over having the City remove the items. Old furniture may be restored and used again and will not clutter up the landfill. Also the City's Special Trash Pickup service will have less work to do.

Greenbelt History

Who are these children? Former Greenbelter Peg Waincott, who sent this 1945 picture of Center School children, thinks that the boy on the far right may be John Dittman. We would appreciate hearing from old-time residents who may be able to confirm or contradict that guess as well as to identify any of the others.

Basketball Day Camp

Prince Georges Community College is hosting a Basketball Day Camp for youth entering grades six through 12. The program, under the supervision of John Wiley, head basketball coach at PGCC, consists of quality instruction and participation in all phases of the game of basketball. College varsity basketball players will serve as counselors.

The Basketball Day Camp is a one-week program that will meet Monday through Friday beginning August 10 through August 14, 9 a.m.-4 p.m. There is a fee.

For more information, call the Athletic Department at 322-0512 between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m.

Greenbelt CARES

Preliminary interviews have begun for the CARES Family Counselor position. More than 230 applications have been received, to date.

Judye Hering began the spring semester session of the GED course on Tuesday, April 28. The course is held every Tuesday and Thursday, from 1:30-3:30 in the conference room, Municipal Building, for 10 weeks, through July 2. Nine students attended.

On Wednesday Wendy Wexler began a new Teen Group at ERHS. This group of 11 students will meet once a week for six weeks and will focus on issues pertaining to finishing up the school year and preparing for a productive summer.

An average of 17 families a week participated in regular, scheduled counseling during April. Forty-eight individuals were involved, 45% of them children and youth under 18 years of age. Weekly tutoring sessions in reading, math and English were provided to 76 students.

Wilson McDermut has joined the staff of volunteers in the Wednesday Evening Family Clinic. Currently a third year graduate student in the Department of Psychology at the American University, he is studying substance abuse, depression and anxiety.

Over the past year the staff at CARES has compiled a resource file covering a wide range of topics. Mental health, women's issues, shelter and government are just a few of the many subjects covered. Please call the CARES office or stop by for assistance in gathering information for a referral.

Police Blotter

Based on Information Released by the Greenbelt Police Department

A person reported being assaulted by four male teen-agers as he was walking with a friend down Southway towards Greenbelt Road around 5 p.m. on May 9. One of the youths accused the person of having assaulted a friend of his and began hitting him with his fists. Then another one of the youths joined in, kicking the person. Eventually all four teen-agers ran away, towards 8 Court Southway. They are described as 15 to 17 years old, three white and one black.

Around 11:30 p.m. on May 14, officers responded to a report of a strong-arm robbery in the 6200 block of Springhill Drive: apparently two men, about 25 years old, inveigled a lost pizza delivery person into following them to his intended destination; instead of helping the pizza delivery person, however, the men wrested the pizza from him and ran off towards Springhill Court.

Responding to an activated alarm at the Sports Authority around midnight on May 10, an officer saw two people inside the store and arrested one of them, a 14-year-old nonresident youth, as he left the store. The other person was not located. Charged with breaking and entering, the teen-ager was released to his mother pending trial.

A 23-year-old resident man was arrested and charged with possession of drug paraphernalia on May 10 after his vehicle was stopped for an equipment violation in the area of Lakecrest Drive and police found partially burned marijuana cigarettes and rolling papers in the vehicle. The man had also been driving with a suspended driver's license.

On May 9: a blue 1972 Chevrolet Monte Carlo, MD tags ZCP-271, was reported stolen from the 9100 block of Springhill Lane; a maroon, two-door, 1984 Oldsmobile Cutlass, MD tags 39131Y, was reported stolen from the 5800 block of Cherrywood Terrace; and a turquoise, two-door, 1986 Pontiac Sunbird, MD tags NTB820, was reported stolen from the 6900 block of Hanover Pkwy.

Vandalism to, thefts from, and attempted thefts of autos were reported in the following areas: the 6100 block of Breezewood Drive, the 6500 block of Capitol Drive, the 100 block of Centerway, the area of Edmonston Road and Edmonston Court, the 6000 block of Greenbelt Road, the 6900 and 7700 blocks of Hanover Pkwy., the 8100 block of Lakecrest Drive, the 200 block of Lakeside Drive, the 7900 block of Mandan Road, 73 Court Ridge Road, the 9100 block of Springhill Lane, and the 7800 block of Walker Drive.

On May 3 and 4, officers recovered two stolen vehicles, one in the 6000 block of Greenbelt Rd. and the other in the 9100 block of Springhill Lane.

Buckle Up Folks

Maryland State Police and the Maryland Committee for Safety Belt Use are urging motorists to buckle up if Memorial Day holiday plans call for travel on Maryland highways. Buckle up America Week is May 18 through 25.

Since 1986, the year Maryland's safety belt law took effect, more than 4,000 people survived motor vehicle crashes because they were wearing their safety belts.

Trees Planted in Fall Grow In Greenbrook

The Greenbrook Village Homeowners Association was awarded a grant as part of the Prince Georges "County Re-Leaf" program to plant trees in the Greenbelt East neighborhood's common areas. The county provided $1430 to purchase 42 trees from the State of Maryland "Tree-mendous" nursery and 32 large deciduous and flowering trees. On Saturday, November 2, nature provided perfect fall weather for the event.

Board members Monica Brown, Sarah Cohn, Kim Ethridge and Alice Trenholme were joined by volunteers Alla and Gary Lake, Patti Morris, Craig and Carol Levy, Kevin Brown, Paul Christensen, Margaret and Mark Powell, David Giles, Tom Smith and Bill Yancey. Monica Brown and Margaret Powell provided refreshments.

Bill Phelan, city horticulturist, provided excellent advice on tree selection. Laura Kinch of Prince Georges "County Re-Leaf" made funding possible and provided everyone with tee-shirts stating "I Put Down Roots in Prince Georges County."

The Greenbrook Village Homeowners Association plans additional plantings this year, in an effort to replace trees which were lost in building the development. The Association will again be applying for a grant from the county. Anyone interested in volunteering for upcoming events should contact Alice Trenholme at 474-3604.

O Yes We Need You B A Blood Donor

The Red Cross is currently experiencing a critical blood shortage in the Washington/Baltimore area. Blood types O and B are desperately needed but all donations will be gladly accepted. Greenbelt Homes Inc. is sponsoring a Red Cross blood drive on Monday, June 1 from 2 to 7 p.m. in the GHI Board Room on Hamilton Place.

Please call 474-4161 for an appointment to donate.

Beautification Award

Applications for this year's Beautification Awards must be submitted by June 1. Entry forms may be obtained at any of the Prince Georges County Memorial Library branches or at major County garden centers. Mail completed entry forms to the Beautification Committee, P.O. Box 143, Upper Marlboro, Md. 20773.

The committee wishes to honor those who are contributing to the beauty of the community through their landscaping activities. The contest is open to any person or group maintaining property in Prince Georges County. Entry categories include: private homes, stores and shopping centers, parks, schools and churches. Projects ranging from the small patio garden to the planting of a large, industrial complex will be considered. For more information, call (301) 925-5872.

Volunteers Needed

The Prince Georges Arts Council needs a secretary/treasurer for its volunteer support group, the Guild. Volunteer should be interested in the arts, possess written and verbal skills, and willing to work a flexible time schedule.

Contact P.G. Volunteer Action Center (301) 779-9444.

Paul Christensen, Margaret Powell and Alice Trenholme stand ready to wield their shovels as Bill Yancey and Mark Powell remove the sapling from its nursery container.

Seniors' Seedlings

A new state program entitled "Trees for a Lifetime" offers a special opportunity to contribute to the community by having seedlings planted in honor of a child, grandchild, or a loved one. This program is part of Maryland's Senior Conservation Corps, which encourages senior citizens to participate in over 20 environmental restoration projects statewide.

By donating one dollar to the program, seniors can dedicate five seedlings in honor of a loved one. A ten dollar donation will plant 50 seedlings in a desired county or community. A certificate will be mailed to the honoree indicating the location of the seedlings.

Seniors may participate in this project by contacting the Governor's Chesapeake Bay Communications Office at (410) 974-5300 or Tree-Mendous Maryland at (410) 974-3776.

Join Nature Hikes

At Watkins Center

Watkins Nature Center is sponsoring a series of Saturday nature hikes at Schoolhouse Pond on June 6, July 11, and August 1. The pond is behind the County Administration Bldg. off Governor Oden Bowie Drive in Upper Marlboro.

Families and individuals are invited to meet at noon for the hour-long hikes on the boardwalks and paths surrounding this pond, led by naturalist through this unique wetland area.

All programs are free, but a spot must be reserved at least 48 hours in advance by calling (301) 249-6202. TDD (301) 277-8456.

This activity is sponsored by the Maryland-National Capital Park and Planning Commission, Department of Parks and Recreation, Prince Georges County.

Pat and Dick Fitzenreiter, Tamarisk Court, are happy to announce the birth of their grandson, Matthew, born April 24.

ERHS students Lana Rigby and Damon Tweedy were selected to receive Project Excellence Scholarships.

Magnolia Elementary School and Prince Georges County Public Schools-Office of Media and Library Services will receive literary grants from 7-Eleven's "People Who Read Achieve" campaign.

Gregory Taylor, of Mandan Road, has been re-appointed to the Adult Public Guardianship Review Board for Prince Georges County.

Airman Kimberly M. Vandergrift has graduated from Air Force basic training at Lackland AFB, TX. There she studied Air Force mission, organization and customs, and received special training in human relations.

The Maryland State Arts Council has awarded Jean Ohring a 1992 Individual Artists Award for her work in two-dimensional visual arts.

Golden Age Club members Ed and Barbara Burgoon, of Ridge Road, are celebrating their 50th Wedding Anniversary on May 21.

On June 6 and 7 in various locations throughout the metro area, artists along with the public will create huge canvass murals to raise money for the Family Aids Housing Foundation.

Rabies Clinic

A rabies clinic will be held on Saturday, May 30 from noon to 4 p.m. at Greenbelt Middle School. One of eight clinics held throughout Prince Georges County by the County Health Department, this is for dogs and cats only.

All pets must be brought to the clinic by a responsible adult. Dogs must be secured on a leash and cats must be in a carrier, box or pillow case. There is a fee.

For further information call the Rabies Clinic Hotline at 464-4910. (TDD) 773-8717.

All pets over four months of age must have a license and be vaccinated against rabies. A prerequisite for the pet license is a current rabies vaccination.

Rabies, a fatal disease, continues to be a top public health priority in Maryland. In Prince Georges County there were 21 animals that tested positive for rabies last year.

Anyone who is bitten or scratched by a wild or domestic animal (dog or cat) should report it to the Police Department immediately.

May 24-30 is Arts Week in Prince Georges County as proclaimed by County Executive Parris Glendening (left) in presenting the official documents to Arts Council Member Albert Herling of Greenbelt and Executive Director Al Maitland.

50 YEARS AGO

More Garden Plots by James Giese

March 1942—Garden Club President Oscar Zoellner advised that although the club has 30 members, there were only 19 plots, (50 by 50 feet), available and 17 were to be assigned to the members gardening them the previous year.

However, later in March Angus MacGregor, Greenbelt's chief gardener, announced that enough gardens will probably be available to accommodate everyone, between 600 and 700. Approximately 20 to 30 acres more than in 1941 were plowed, fertilized and limed.

Vaccine Requirement

Beginning in September 1992, students entering kindergarten and sixth grade must show proof of having had two shots of measles vaccine—usually given as measles, mumps and rubella (MMR) vaccine—and one shot of mumps vaccine.

Since 1988, the state of Maryland has been hit by measles and mumps outbreaks. There have been more than 500 cases of measles and almost 2,000 cases of mumps.

Some children need two doses of measles vaccine to develop long lasting protection against measles. Proof of having had two doses of measles-containing vaccine will now routinely be required for all children entering kindergarten or sixth grade.

In order for a child to meet this new requirement by the time school opens in September, 1992, a parent must present to the school a letter, note, shot record card or other form from a doctor or from a local health department that shows the date of the second measles shot and date of one mumps shot.

If a child has not received the second dose of measles vaccine or has never had a mumps shot, parents should contact their doctor, HMO or local health department to arrange for the vaccination.
