Who Will Be Next Outstanding Citizen? Perhaps Your Nomination

by James Giese

It's mid-summer already and you know what that means. Everybody is gearing up for the big weekend bash over Labor Day. The Gossips at the pools and at the grocery stores are beginning to speculate on who will be this year's Outstanding Citizen, and well they should, for it's nomination time once more.

This year nominations must be submitted on or before Sunday, August 13. A nomination form is published elsewhere in this paper. You may use that form or simply send a letter. While more than one person can make the nomination, one is all that it takes. Please give as much information as possible relating to the nominee's qualifications. The committee is not able to do its own research.

Send your nomination to Ed Birner, Chairman of the Outstanding Citizens Selection Committee, 13-N Ridge Road, Greenbelt, Md. 20770.

City of Activists

Greenbelt has a special reason for having an unusually large number of civic volunteers and activists. It was planned that way. When the town was first built in 1937 by the Federal government as a model planned community, the government had long lists of applications from which to choose prospective residents. Residents were selected in part on their interest in and willingness to participate in community affairs.

And participate they did. The new residents organized co-ops to run businesses, provide medical treatment, print a newspaper, and provide a nursery school education. They formed clubs of all kinds. They organized churches. In fact, life got so hectic that one year the City Council declared a one-week moratorium on meetings so that families could spend time together.

As time went on, new residents were attracted to and got involved in community affairs. The fun of being involved in activities has caused many a newcomer to decide to stay in Greenbelt permanently. Instead of moving out, they have moved to larger homes in the city--or, in many cases, just stayed put.

This year's Chair of the Outstanding Citizen Selection Committee is such a person. He came to Greenbelt as a student minister 44 years ago to serve the small Greenbelt Lutheran Congregation as vicar for one year. In August 1953, Ed was ordained and became minister of the Holy Cross Congregation, which met in a newly built church basement (it was all they could afford) at 22 Ridge Road, where Green Ridge House is now located. In 1957, Nancy became Ed's wife. They first lived in the 18 Court of Ridge and have lived in their present home in the 13 Court since 1959. After 40 years as Holy Cross' minister, during which time he oversaw the construction of a new edifice on Greenbelt Road, Ed retired. He and Nancy chose to stay in Greenbelt and are now assuming greater responsibilities as volunteers to the church and community.

The Selection Committee members are pleased to see Ed make the committee one of his new volunteer activities.

Trivia Quiz

It's once again trivia quiz time to test your knowledge of the 23 Greenbelters who have been honored as Outstanding Citizens since 1973. So put on your thinking caps and see how well you can do.

1. Which Outstanding Citizen raised nine kids in a GHI house and then decided to get a college education?

2. Which Outstanding Citizen was recognized ten years ago for outstanding service primarily to one Greenbelt organization and continues to provide outstanding service to that organization to this day?

3. Which Outstanding Citizen has done more than anyone to organize and promote neighborhood crime watches in her own neighborhood and throughout the city?

4. Which Outstanding Citizen celebrated sixty-five years of married life with the same partner last year?

Greenbelt Teachers Work With Russian Educators

Linda Agree, Chairman of the Math Department of Eleanor Roosevelt High School (ERHS), and Carole Lubetzky, Math-Science Specialist at Greenbelt Elementary School went to Moscow, Russia for one week, May 13 - 20, to continue working with Russian educators on mathematics education. Agree and Lubetzky were able to work with mathematics leaders as well as teachers, Form 1 (age 7 yrs.) to Form 10 (16-17 yrs.)

They were also able to bring graphing calculators and other calculators that were donated by Texas Instruments Company. These materials will make it possible for instruction in Russia to make a greater connection to technology.

Lubetzky had attended a Russian-American joint educational conference in Moscow in October, 1994 and had been invited to return in May. This strong working relationship between the two Greenbelt teachers with the Russian mathematics education leaders is said to be a first for any teachers in the United States.

In October, Lubetzky will return to Moscow to present a paper on "Teaching Statistics and Probability in Elementary and Middle Schools" at a U.S. - Russian Education Conference.

There is also a possibility that math students at ERHS will be able to "compete" via Internet with Russian high school math students in the Fall.

Council Listens to Experts Discuss Conflict Resolution

by Heather Elizabeth Peterson

In order to fight violence, communities must strengthen themselves. This statement was made by representatives of several conflict resolution groups who appeared before the city council at its June 15 worksession.

The groups appeared at the invitation of the Community Relations Advisory Board (CRAB), which advised council at its April 24 worksession that Greenbelt should use the help of such groups to form its own conflict resolution program. CRAB came to this conclusion after a 16 month investigation on how to resolve conflicts in Greenbelt.

The three groups which appeared before council dealt with different aspects of conflict resolution.

William Welch, Sr., executive director of the Prince Georges County Human Relations Commission, came to discuss the county's Mediation Board. The board is a volunteer group which mediates disputes.

The alternatives to Violence Project (AVP) concentrates on changing the behavior of children and young adults who are likely to become criminals. As described by its project coordinator, Robert J. Waldman of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, the AVP was originally set up by New York Prisoners working with young inmates. The prisoners used techniques for conflict resolution developed by the Society of Friends. In this state, prisoners at the Maryland House of Corrections work with youths who are at risk of becoming involved with violence.

Conflict Prevention

Whereas the Mediation Board and the AVP deal with people already in conflict, Norwood Security Consultants tries to prevent conflict from arising. Founder Pamela Norwood described how the Columbia firm has developed custom-made programs for such organizations as the Prince Georges County School System. The firm tries to tie together the efforts of four different groups: schools, parents, the "faith community," and the community as a whole.

All of the speakers agreed that community members must work together to fight violence. "A big factor behind the increasing incidence of violence is the disintegration of community," said Waldman. He explained that the goal of his program "is to contribute to rebuilding or to shoring up communities."

Welch emphasized that communities must go beyond just handling the immediate problems of conflict. He urged Greenbelt to "not only deal

ACE Honors Local Students Who Show Greenbelt Spirit

by Randy Crenwelge

At the June 12, Greenbelt City Council Meeting, there were many special guests. Young students, their parents, friends, and teachers gathered for the presentation of the Greenbelt Advisory Committee on Education (ACE) Awards. This year's ACE award recipients are John Norden and Nina Strauss from Greenbelt Elementary School, Devin Cain and Laura Ruiz-Soto from St. Hugh's Elementary School and Sima Fadli and Ferney Dennis, Jr. from Greenbelt Middle School. Other winners are Jennifer Susanne Parker and Darragh (Jack) Inman from Eleanor Roosevelt High School, Marquita Briscoe and Jonathan Dent from Magnolia Elementary School, and Ya-Shan (Samantha) Lei and Timothy Mobley from Springhill Lake Elementary School.

Qualifying Factors

Each ACE award honors Greenbelt students who have made a positive contribution to their school or the Greenbelt community. Each award winner exemplifies the spirit of Greenbelt. To be eligible, an award winner must have acceptable levels of academic achievement, attendance, and responsible behavior. These students' efforts may have often been previously overlooked because they were busy working behind the scenes, dedicating themselves to service in the classroom, organizations and the local community.

Award Citations

John Norden is an outstanding fifth grader at Greenbelt Elementary school, where he is an exceptional student. "He continuously shows a genuine kindness towards and sensitivity to others," the award reads. He is a school safety patrolman, member of chorus, a musician, science fair winner, essay contest winner, and a good student.

Nina Strauss is a fifth grader at Greenbelt Elementary school. "She does not seek the spotlight; she often receives it for her calm and caring activities both in and out of school," according to her school's nomination. She has been Little Miss Greenbelt, 1993, and Boy and Girls Club Girl of the Year in 1995. She has also been a cheerleader, little league coach, school safety patrol, chorus member, and musician.

Ya-Shan Lei, is described as an outstanding student at Springhill Lake Elementary School, where she is in the TAG program. Known as Samantha,

Greenbriar Hosts Cancer Swimathon

Greenbriar swimmers of all ages will join the fight against cancer and take part in a Swimathon to Conquer Cancer on Saturday, July 22, in Greenbriar's olympic-size swimming pool. Swimmers will complete as many laps as possible over a four hour period and get pledges from friends, family and the community based on the number of laps they finish. The funds raised will support cancer research, programs, and patient services. "This event has been planned in memory of Mrs. Regina Marie (Lorraine) Cooper who so loved the Greenbriar Pool," said Vince Curl, Greenbriar's pool manager. Mrs. Cooper died of cancer in 1994, and it was decided to dedicate the Swim-a-thon to her memory. Her grand-daughter, Loren DeRise, age 12, plans to swim in the Swimathon.

"We have been overwhelmed by the support shown by the community" said Michael Vaccaro, president of the Greenbriar Association. "Prizes, food, and funds have been donated on behalf of the American Cancer Society. A large, two-color banner was donated by the owner of "Signs by Tomorrow." Ken Rochon, Jr. the owner of a professional Disc Jockey Service "Absolute Sounds" will donate his own D.J. services. The General manager of College Clowns, Keith Bennett, will donate his time as a clown for the Swimathon. Safeway at Greenway Shopping Center has agreed to provide all the fixins for a Hot Dog Roast that day. Rooter the Warthog,

July Fourth Fireworks What a Display!

by Mary Moien

Residents who braved the elements were rewarded with a spectacular fireworks display on the Fourth of July. Although the fireworks began slightly behind schedule due to a rain delay in beginning the two hour set up procedure, the wait was certainly worth while. What Director of Public works, Carl Hirsch, described as the "introduction" to the fireworks seemed as awesome as the usual grand finale. What followed was more than 30 minutes of hearts, circles, and glorious drifting displays of gold and silver glitter. The crowd was enthusiastic and very orderly, according to Officer George Mathews, spokesperson for the Greenbelt Police Department.

Late afternoon storms and the lack of a covered bandstand led to the cancellation of the Greenbelt Concert Band. Many picnickers also started leaving. However, the skies cleared somewhat about 8:30 p.m. and residents started walking and driving down to the lake to see if the show was on. The Public works staff, under the direction of Kenny Hall, superintendent of operations, could be seen on the far shore of the lake, so the growing crowd waited more or less patiently.

Greenbelters remember a disappointing display of fireworks two years ago. Last year the City tried a new supplier, Fireworks Production. This year, the same amount was budgeted for fireworks ($7,500), but the ability to put a deposit down in March allowed the City to obtain a larger number of fireworks from Fireworks Production for the same money as last year.

Many of the explosions seemed low in the sky filling up the vision of viewers on the lake side. Some cinders and sparks fell into the lake and appeared to land on the ground, although the police and public works staff indicated there were no reports of injuries. In general the only human sounds heard were oohs and aahs as the shells exploded. Greenbelt Elena Bishop summed up the feelings of many by exclaiming: "These were the best fireworks we ever had."

SOMEBODY GOO-JED

In his ad called "Child Chatter" that appeared in the June 29 issue of this paper, Dr. Andrew Aronfy's name was mis-spelled. As he wrote to us, "a person's name is his identity." We apologize for the error.

the mascot of the Washington Soccer team, will be here to cheer the swimmers on.

The swimmers who come in all ages, shapes and walks of life, will be recognized and rewarded with prizes from the community. Terry Mangum a resident of Greenbriar Phase III, spends most of his day in a wheelchair but is looking forward to participating in Greenbriar's Swimathon as a team along with his wife, Marta, and their daughter, Bianca, age 6. Tina Murphy, Greenbriar's Service Coordinator who is barely 5' tall has accepted the challenge of the Swimathon to walk across the Baby Pool. Many employees (mechanics) and even a Board member have pledged money to see this -- all in fun and for the benefit of the American cancer Society.

In attendance will be: Greenbelt's Mayor Toni Bram, Miss Greenbelt Carolina Godinez, Junior Miss Greenbelt Shay Shackelford, and Little Miss Greenbelt Kerri Gilkerson.

Swimmers will try to secure sponsors willing to pay money for each lap the volunteer swims. A pledge can be as little as a nickel for each length or a flat donation. For example, Community Pools has donated $1.00 per lap with a cap of $250.00. This event will run from 12 noon to 4 p.m. The community is welcome to attend. Belated Goodbye

We recently packed our belongings and moved to Bethany, Delaware. In the rush of moving we missed the opportunity of saying good-by to so many of our friends. While we miss Greenbelt, we'll always feel we left a part of ourselves there...our hearts. With fond memories,

SWIM TEAM NEWS

by Amanda Baldauf

I think that we may have just swum in one of the hardest meets of our swimming careers! Strathmore Bel Pre was a very difficult opponent. Last year we lost to them by 39 points, and this year we lost to them by much less: ABP-283, GM-256.

Gail said that last week she saw some of the best races she has seen in a long time. Several of our swimmers won all of their races: Amanda Baldauf, Ryan Hardy, Kate Hilton, and William Kim. Aruna Inversin and Katrina Schwartz each got 13 points, Casey Conner got 11, and Fernando Freire da Silva and Jill Lau each got 10 points.

Last Sunday, GMST held its car wash and yard sale. I was busy with the car wash, which I am proud to say, was extremely busy due to posters, advertisements, and people in sandwich boards standing out on the corner of Southway and Crescent Road, beckoning passers-by. Thanks to Dave Matthews for his dedicated car washing. And thanks to Harry Baldauf and Clement Lau for running the yard sale.

The Greenbelt Swim-a-Thon will be held on July 18 at 8 p.m. at the outdoor pool. If you know any GMST swimmers, please pledge them something, as the money you donate is used for various expenditures, such as coach salaries and our winter swim program.

Next Saturday, July 15, we will swim against Belair Swim and Racquet at their pool. This promises to be a very difficult meet for all. Stay tuned for all the details.

Lyme Alert

I would like to call to your attention the potential danger of a Lyme's Disease epidemic right here in Old Greenbelt, from sources in our own back yards. I have recently been diagnosed with Lyme's Disease.

Deer are frequent visitors to our back yards along Ridge Road, which borders the forest (there were five out there this very morning). I am certain that the deer are the source of the problem. (As I'm sure you know, deer ticks carry the disease between the animal and human populations.) While I occasionally garden in the back yard, I never go into the woods.

I am dismayed that such a serious disease could be acquired in so casual a manner. I am now afraid to go into the back yard. I am hoping to warn others and to enlist your help in doing something about the problem. It seems that the deer population is out of control and that no one knows what to do about it.

Having Lyme's disease is a very painful experience. Unless something is done, I'm certain other members will contract it.

Anything you can do to help alleviate this problem will be greatly appreciated.

Beats El Cajon

I was told that you were the people I was to write to. My family (Stevens) and I went to the fireworks yesterday and thoroughly enjoyed them. I live in a small town in California (El Cajon - J pronounced H) and we have fireworks there. Yours were better, you had some configurations I have never seen before.

You all did a fine job. Thanks. Jane Rininger

New Deal Cafe Holds Member Drive

Come join the New Deal Cafe. Stop by the Cafe tables in front of the Mellon Bank space, Saturday, July 15, starting at 1:30 p.m., and complete a membership application. Get a taste of the musical talent to be enjoyed when the cafe opens and have some coffee, too. See specific schedules posted in the Greenbelt Co-op, in the Greenbelt Library and at the Cafe tables.

Become an investor in Greenbelt's newest cooperative. Five hundred paid memberships is the next goal to making the Cafe a reality. Plans to open Fall, 1996 hinge on how quickly 500 people join the Cafe cooperative.

Over 800 people visited the New Deal Cafe's Open House last fall and expressed exuberant interest in having a coffeehouse in Greenbelt. Since that time, a steering committee has analyzed area marketing statistics, researched health code permit standards and equipment needs, consulted an architect, developed financial plans for the first year's operations and elected a board.

Members get a vote and a say in the New Deal Cafe operations. Citizens and members are welcome at the Cafe board meetings. See the Greenbelt News Review for future meeting times. Additional membership drive activities are planned for July 22 and 29. For more information, call Amy Hansen at 441-8736.

Golden Age Club

by Dolores Capotosto

Apologies are expressed for not having a Golden Age Club report in the News Review last week. But what a dazzling display of fireworks for the Fourth!! Golden Agers were seen among the crowd of onlookers. Many were out of town, judging from the attendance at the last meeting. Other members had some family visitors.

The meeting of July 19 will have a double-treat--first there will be a video of the Golden Agers in last year's Labor Day parade which was filmed and will be shown by member, Sheppard Odom. Then Mike Burchick will lead us in practicing singing the song he wrote to the tune of "Love Letters in the Sand." Plans are to sing this at the reviewing stand in this year's parade--come out and add your voices!

The July 20 trip to "Sight & Sound" is fast approaching. Also, it is time to sign up for the August trip to Lewes, DE. The sheets to sign up for this and for Hilton Head Island, in September will be available at the meetings.

GetWell wishes are extended to all members who are ill; Golden Agers handle adversity well, because they have lived long enough to savor each day. There is a close bond among this group of Greenbelters.

PTA Seeks Books

Greenbelt Elementary PTA is having a book drive to support its booth at the Greenbelt Labor Day festival.

Local residents are asked to bring used books to the drop box at the Co-op supermarket, or to drop books at the Greenbelt Elementary School on weekdays between 9 a.m. and 7 p.m. For information call Diane, 982-3132. For large pickups, call Lynne, 345-4071.

Dog Park Association

The next meeting of the Greenbelt Dog Park Association will be held at Greenbelt Lake near the main entrance to the lake on Wednesday, July 19, at 7:30 p.m. Well-behaved dogs on-leash and their people are encouraged to attend.

The main topic of the meeting will be the pot luck picnic for dogs and their people, which will be held at Schrom Hills Park Pavilion on Sunday, July 30 from 4-8 p.m.

In Memoriam

Mae Gingell was the receptionist at the pool (the original outdoor pool) for quite a few years. In that high-ceilinged painted-stone lobby with big electric fans going, Mae would know if you had a pass (and would wave you through without your needing to show it). She was very hospitable and warm. You could get into conversations about the local and regional developments at this time. Mae seemed to represent the pool. Seeing her occasionally at the Co-op during the winter brought associations of grass and sunshine and feelings of freedom in summer. I miss her, but am glad for her being relieved from the suffering she was going through toward the end.

New Deal Cafe Seeks Talent

Local musicians are encouraged to volunteer their talents to help get the New Deal Cafe off the ground. In a series of open air music fests (most performance slots are already filled) designed as membership drives, local musicians will perform while Greenbelters enjoy light refreshments and picture the open cafe on warm evenings of music and community spirit.

People can register as a potential performer by writing to the New Deal Cafe, P.O. Box 992, Greenbelt, Maryland or by calling "Slee" at 474-8213.

Poets and writers should channel their interests in cafe performances through the Greenbelt Writers' Group. For information call Marsha at 982-0365.

Bible School

Greenbelt Baptist Church will hold its annual Vacation Bible School on Sunday, July 16 through Friday, July 21 from 6 - 9 p.m.

All children first through sixth grades can enjoy evenings filled with Bible stories, music, arts and crafts, recreation, refreshments, new friends and fun.

City Notes

A new city run re-cycling program began on July 6. Due to mechanical problems some of the pick up was done on July 7. Fallen trees were removed from Hillside Road (on July 4) and Ridge Road. Grass was mowed in various areas.

The path around the lake was refurbished in "Buddy" Attick Park. Compost was placed on newly landscaped areas.

Sharp curve chevron warning signs were installed on Edmonston Road in Springhill Lake where vehicle accidents have occurred, including fatalities.

Greenbelt Residents Will Collaborate in Recitals

Cellist Samuel Swift and pianist Naoko Takao, Greenbelt residents, will collaborate in two recitals featuring the complete works for cello and piano by Ludwig Von Beethoven Composed from 1796 until 1827. Beethoven's five sonatas and three sets of variations chronologically span virtually the entire period of his creative output, and convey his diversity of style and expression.

Swift and Takao have performed widely in solo and chamber music settings throughout North America and the orient.

The two recitals will take place at the Memorial Chapel at the University of Maryland on Thursday, July 20 and Friday, July 28, both at 7:30 p.m., Admission is free, but donations are suggested. For more information call Naoko Takao at 474-9443.

The construction industry accounts for a high number of workplace fatalities in the state.

CONFLICT

with what you see but with what causes what you see," he said, adding, "If you're simply dealing with symptoms you'll be going on forever."

Different types of cases arise in conflict resolution. In answer to a question by councilmember Edward V. J. Putens, Welch stated that the Mediation Board spends a lot of time working with gangs and with people involved in neighborhood and domestic disputes. He mentioned that "we had actually a case where two wives were about to (shoot each other) because of a dead squirrel."

Welch said that the Mediation Board does not give advice but simply mediates these disputes. He emphasized that mediation works because people are often eager to end the conflict.

Working with Youths

The Alternatives to Violence Project, on the other hand, works mainly with youth leaders, on the theory that the leaders will be able to change the behavior of others. You challenge the leaders, Waldman said, to "live by a different code."

Angela Callahan told of a case in which Robert Poole Middle School students who were ready "to shoot each other" were forced by circumstances to deal with one another in AVP workshops. She said, "When they came back into school, they could no longer differentiate Us and Them because they knew each other."

The speakers offered to help Greenbelt set up its own conflict resolution program. However, Waldman emphasized the difficulty of the task. "We grow up in a very competitive society," he said. "So I think (conflict resolution) does go against the grain. And it requires courage."

Abdullah Karim Muhammad of the AVP gave a dark warning as to why such a program might be necessary. He said that the older prisoners at the Maryland Hall of Corrections are "petrified at the lack of values" in the younger prisoners. No longer, it seems, is there honor among thieves: "These guys who are coming in now have absolutely no respect for themselves or others."

Callahan agreed with Waldman that conflict resolution is difficult. It takes more time than violence, she said, "but what it does is save generations of horror down the line."

How to Fund Your Children's College Education

A college education is expensive. One year at an Ivy League college now costs well over $20,000. If costs keep rising at the current rate, the freshmen entering Harvard in the year 2000 will spend well over $200,000 for their education.

And college costs continue to rise significantly faster than the general inflation rate.

That amounts to a lot of money! How can anyone afford it?

Fortunately, there are answers. We've included some of the best in our free video, A Parent's Guide to COLLEGE INVESTMENT PLANNING.

It'll help you sort through all the possibilities and show you alternatives that will help you fund your children's or grandchildren's education.

FREE CONCERT

The 17th Annual Montpelier Summer Concert Series continues with a free concert of country music on Friday, July 21 at 7:30 p.m. at the Montpelier Mansion grounds on Route 197 at Montpelier Drive in South Laurel.

Ruthie and the Wranglers, known for their lively honkytonk, country, and rockabilly music, will be performing hits from the sixties.

Bring a friend, picnic, blanket, and/or chair to enjoy the outdoor concert. In the event of heavy, prolonged rain at the time of the concert, the performance will be canceled. For verification after 5 p.m. the day of the concert, call (301) 953-7882.

Free parking and handicapped parking is available via both the Montpelier Drive and Muirkirk Road entrances off Route 197, one quarter mile west of the Baltimore-Washington Parkway.

The 17th Annual Montpelier Summer Concert Series is a gift for the citizens from the South Laurel Recreation Council volunteers, who are celebrating 25 years of service to the community. Free concerts will also be held on August 4th and August 18th. For further information, call (301) 776-2805.

The summer concert series is co-sponsored by the Northern Area of the Maryland-National Capital Park and Planning Commission, Department of Parks and Recreation, Prince Georges County. The participation by all individuals is encouraged. For information, call TTY: (301) 445-4512.

Trivia Question Answers

Score one point for each correct answer. If you have nine or more correct, you're outstanding. If you have seven or more correct, you're pretty good. Five or more right makes you a knowledgeable Greenbelter. If your score is below five, you need to get more involved in Greenbelt affairs. Then you may get to know and become one of our outstanding citizens.

1. Mary Linstrom, last year's Outstanding Citizen.
2. Mary Lou Williamson, Editor of the Greenbelt News Review and 1985's Outstanding Citizen. (Note: Although many Outstanding Citizens continue to serve the organization that they served when honored, only Mary Lou was Outstanding Citizen ten years ago.)
3. Dorothy Pyles of Greenbriar, 1993 Outstanding Citizen.
4. Ben Rosenzweig became Outstanding Citizen in 1991 and celebrated his sixty-fifth year of marriage with Ethel in 1994.
5. Joyce Chestnut, 1990.
6. Leo Gerton, 1977.
7. Sandra Lange, 1987.
8. Al Herling, 1983.
9. Henry Fisher, 1975.
10. Florence Holly, 1989.

EMERGENCIES OCCUR SUDDENLY. SO SHOULD EMERGENCY CARE.

Mary Lingeback of Doctors Community Hospital eases a young patient through the Fast Lane in our Emergency Department.

Introducing the Fast Lane Program. Available only at the Emergency Department of Doctors Community Hospital, it sets the standard for hassle-free care.

Fast Lane was invented for the simple reason that, to someone in pain, there's no such thing as a "minor" emergency. Even though small abrasions, cuts, sprains and colds aren't life-threatening, life's not much fun with them. That's why every emergency is top priority with triage nurses like Mary Lingeback. She directs traffic in the Fast Lane with one of the state's premiere emergency teams.

Mary guides you through an E.R. that's not only thorough and well-equipped but among the area's fastest. The Fast Lane boasts innovations like separate treatment areas, specially-coded charts, and X-ray room priority -- all to speed you on your way.

Then, on her days off, for real excitement, Mary volunteers as a nurse at St. Pius Elementary, helping to get the kids back in class quickly -- much to their dismay. We think you'll agree that people like Mary benefit not just the patients at Doctors Community Hospital, but the entire community.

Call 552-0044 to talk with one of the Health Resources Representatives at our Health Connection Information and Referral Service to find out more about the Emergency Department's Fast Lane or our other programs and services. Or, if it's an emergency - come on in. We're ready and waiting.

Not that you'll be.

Life. Health. Community.
