Variety, the Spice of Life, Keeps Folks Hopping Through Festival Weekend

by Sandy Smith

It's here. The long-awaited, much-anticipated Greenbelt Labor Day Festival is this weekend. The Festival runs from Friday through Monday with a carnival, games, shows, displays, events and entertainment. It's easy to get to the Festival this year. Shuttle buses run from Eleanor Roosevelt High School Parking Lot and Beltway Plaza Shopping Center on a regular and frequent schedule. Plenty of parking is available throughout the City for those willing to walk short distances. Peds-cabs will take Festival goers to their near-by homes or cars. The Festival is variety—in its entertainment, shows and especially the parade. The parade and other key festival events—opening ceremonies and Miss Greenbelt Pageant presentations—will have sign language interpreters. For information about any aspect of the Festival, parking and transportation, schedule or special services call the Festival information line operating during the weekend on 291-7001, cable channel B10, or check the Festival pages on the World Wide Web, <http://www.aww.com/GLDF/>.

Parade

The American Legion Honor Guard holds its traditional position of honor opening this year's Labor Day parade. It's closely followed by the Greenbelt Police Color Guard and cruiser. Then comes the Grand Marshall, the 1995 Outstanding Citizen, who will be announced Friday evening at the Opening Ceremonies. Next, there are Greenbelt officials, groups, and organizations, from the DARE Kids to the Golden Age Club. An international flavor comes through with the Emerald Society Marching Band, the Schuhplattler Alpine dancers, and the Mariachi de la Estrellas, Mexican mariachis who have played for U.S. Inaugurals as well as festivals throughout the world. The Chinese Lion Dancers, scare and delight, the Alte Kameraden, ohm pah-pah in festive harmony, and the Mecca Temple members entertain along the parade route. Expect to be charmed by the McLean Pipe Band, Dunloggin, and the Prince Georges Police Pipe Band, along with the Police Motorcycles.

Back for an encore presentation is the Southwest Virginia Cloggers, winners of last year's best in parade award. This group, from Rural Retreat, Virginia, has been clogging for 9 years and enjoys performing for

She joins Mayor Antoinette Bram in seeking re-election to council. All other members of council and one citizen have taken out nomination papers. Nominating petitions must be filed with the city clerk by no later than Tuesday, September 26 at 5 p.m.

Davis, a condominium owner in Greenbriar, moved to Greenbelt in 1975. She soon became active in local affairs. First elected to the Board of Directors of Greenbriar Condominium, Phase I, in 1979, she served on that body until 1993.

In 1982, Davis was appointed to the City's Advisory Planning Board and was elected chair by its members from 1988 to 1992. She was elected to the Greenbelt City Council in 1993 in a campaign that highlighted her knowledge and experience in the areas of planning and zoning. Davis has served as a volunteer on the annual Greenbelt Labor Day Festival Committee since 1981 as carnival chair.

She was appointed to the Citizens Advisory Committee for the Functional Master Plan for Public School Sites, Prince Georges County (1982-1983), the Greenbelt 45th Commemoration Committee (1982), the Greenbelt 50th Anniversary Committee (1983-1987), the Citizens Advisory Committee for the Langley Park-College Park-Greenbelt Master Plan (1983-1987), and the Citizens Advisory Council

Police to Launch Bike Patrols on Labor Day

by Babita Kapoor

Community Policing received a major boost this July when the city witnessed officer Mike Mesol along with three other officers patrolling the streets on their bikes. Bike patrolling goes a step further in enhancing the partnership between the police and the community.

"Bikes have the advantage of going where cars cannot," says police officer Mike Mesol, who heads the new four-man bike patrol.

Over the years, bike patrols in other communities have proved to be very successful in reaching the public and in handling all types of calls in service. Officer Mesol's proposal on conducting bike patrols in Greenbelt was accepted and should be launched on Labor Day. "Our city's landscaping is fairly suitable in conducting Bike patrols. Also, bikes have the advantage of going where cars cannot," says Mesol while explaining the importance of bike patrols.

Even in its nascent stage, bike patrol has made a difference. Mesol's present squad of four officers averaging 20 to 30 miles a day on bikes has reinforced that the bicycle is a budgetary dream and a criminal's nightmare. "On my first night of patrol I arrested seven criminals, mostly involved in car thefts," revealed Mesol. Besides, putting down crime, bike patrolling has managed to generate a lot of community support and enthusiasm. Putting officers on bikes removes the barrier created by the patrol car, enabling the officers greater accessibility to the citizens.

Although the marked motorized patrol vehicles have the advantage of speed over bicycles, the officers believe "there is nothing you cannot do on a bike." It lends enhanced mobility as officers meander their way through small passages, hiding behind buildings and swiftly catching the criminals, cashing in on the element of surprise. Mesol and his team are undeterred by the fact that bicycles put them in a more precarious position where they are vulnerable to physical attack. "We are aware that a bike cannot provide us protection equivalent to a car. Yet, I strongly believe that the element of surprise which only a bike can provide makes us a lot less vulnerable," explains Mesol. Currently the officers are undergoing a week-long training program in bike patrolling. This program teaches them officer safety skills, anticipating problems of various natures and enhancing the police department's community relations with the citizens.

According to Brent Humphries, a citizen of Greenbelt, an officer on a bike appears more accessible than an officer patrolling in a car. "I just feel I can relate more to officer on a bike," says Brent. Policing on bicycles will help accomplish the public's desire to bring police "back in the community."

This program with its futuristic vision and well planned, realistic goals, shows immense promise. The project, when fully functional, envisions two offic-

Hoyer Hosts Organizing Meeting to Protect Goddard

by Heather Elizabeth Peterson

The future of the Goddard Space Flight Center was discussed at a meeting held at the Municipal Building on August 23. The meeting was organized by Rep. Steny H. Hoyer as a way to start a community-based advocacy group to fight the recent threats to Greenbelt's NASA site.

The House Appropriations subcommittee proposed last month to close Goddard. It later decided to restore funds for the center, but the subcommittee still wishes to cut funds for Goddard's Mission to Planet Earth.

Hoyer told the audience, which was filled with representatives from various public and private organizations, that the strongest case that could be made for supporting Goddard is "that it's in the best interest of the nation." He added, "It's clear that it's also in the state's interest or the governor wouldn't come here." The audience laughed, since Gov. Parris N. Glendening had just walked into the room.

The Maryland governor said that "this type of strong, ongoing support group" is important because Goddard is a "major asset" to the state. He believed that the only way to head off threats to federal jobs in Maryland is to work together and that the group being organized "is something that is going to have to be in existence for a good number of years."

Jack Lynch, speaking for the Southern Maryland Naval Alliance, also emphasized the importance of continual vigilance. That alliance was organized four years ago in response to threats of base closures and realignments, and has remained active

Letters to the Editor

Incorrect

I just finished reading the "Review" of Thursday, August 24. In the article about Jack Cherrix he stated he was a member of the last graduating class of Greenbelt High School (1947). If Jack will look in his "Yearbook" for 1947, he will find there was a seventh grade, eighth grade, ninth grade and (our underclassmen) juniors.

I completed seven years of elementary school in 1944 at the "just demolished" Berwyn Elementary School in the 4800 block of Greenbelt Road. I then went to Greenbelt High School for four years, graduating in 1948.

The last graduating class at Greenbelt High under the seven and four system was in the year 1948.

Farewell

As I prepare to leave the Greenbelt area, I wanted to express my thanks to all the fine people of Greenbelt for providing me with the opportunities that allowed me to become part of the Greenbelt community experience these past (almost) 20 years. I don't think I'll find another community much like Greenbelt anywhere. I will miss all my friends (both the long time and new), especially the many young people I have seen grow over the years (some with kids of their own now). Community involvement is essential for achieving and maintaining a high quality of life. My life has been enriched by the experience.

Thanks,

Jeff Keir

Correction

In reporting the death of Jerry Conway in last week's issue, we erroneously named him Gerard Conway instead of Gerald Conway. The Greenbelt News regrets this error.

Correction

Greenbelt News Review issue dated Aug. 24, page 17, "Former Greenbelter Looks for his Roots", paragraph 2: The last graduating class of Greenbelt High School (now a middle school) was 1951 not 1947.

I know, because I was a member of the class of 1951.

Shirley Morrison Clute
- P.S. I like the new paper.

Thanks

I want to thank the Greenbelt Rescue Squad and Officer Barry Byers for the help I received from them last week when Mike had his stroke. The squad was here within minutes, and they took over completely, got him to the hospital, and Officer Byers called my two sons to go there, then took me over. Thank you.

I also want to thank the great people of Greenbelt who have called, the church for being so great, and all who have been offering prayers in his behalf. There really is no place like Greenbelt.

Historic District Study

Greenbelt: A National Historic Landmark?

by GHI Historic District Study Committee

Greenbelt Homes, Inc. has asked the city to join in seeking National Historic Landmark status for "Old Greenbelt". While studying the merits of county historic district designation, GHI's Ad Hoc Historic District Committee determined that Landmark status would confer special protections against certain outside threats to Greenbelt's historic integrity without restricting the actions of GHI or its members. Investigation into the more complex issues surrounding Historic District status will continue independently.

What does it mean to become a National Historic Landmark? National Historic Landmark status represents the highest form of recognition provided by the federal government for privately owned historic properties of national significance. Like the National Register of Historic Places (on which Greenbelt has been listed for 15 years), Landmark designation is largely honorific. Property owners enjoy unrestricted rights to their property, but the federal government would now review the impacts of federal actions (such as highways, constructions projects, or land transfers) on the property.

Is Greenbelt as nationally significant as, say, Mount Vernon, the Alamo or the Maryland State House in Annapolis? Many Greenbelters think so, as does the Prince Georges County Planning Department. GHI members and other property owners in the affected area will have a chance to voice their opinions to the federal government during a comment period before a designation could be made, probably in mid-1996.

Bank surveillance camera image of robbery suspect.

Local Bank Robbed

On Friday, August 25, officers responded to the First National Bank of Maryland, 7599 Greenbelt Road on a report of a robbery. The suspect entered the bank and approached the teller booth at approximately 10:10 a.m. The suspect passed a note to the teller demanding money. After receiving an undisclosed amount of money the suspect exited the bank and fled the area. The adjacent photograph was captured from the bank surveillance camera. The suspect is described as follows:

A white male, 25 to 35 years of age, 5'9" 200 pounds, with a large build, brown eyes, and a thin beard. He was last seen wearing a white long-sleeved shirt and a multicolored scarf on his head.

Two early aerial photographs of Greenbelt and the surrounding area are on display outside the Tugwell Room of the Greenbelt Branch Library until October 1. The aerial photos, one taken in March, 1937, the other in May, 1938, show Greenbelt in the midst of its construction and near completion. They also show the relative isolation of the town in the midst of its "green belt" Except for Berwyn Heights and the communities extending along Baltimore Ave., U.S. 1, Greenbelt was almost totally surrounded by woodlands and farms.

Both photographs are enlargements of originals in the National Archives and are on loan to the Tugwell Collection through the generosity of Herman Knauer of Beltsville.

Two people were arrested as a result of a domestic dispute in the 6000 block of Greenbelt Rd. on Friday, August 18. An officer was talking with one person when the second person stepped in front of the officer and began shouting obscenities. That person continued to shout despite several requests by the officer to stop. He struck two officers after being placed under arrest. As the first suspect was being placed into custody, the other person attempted to prevent the officers from handcuffing the first suspect. The second suspect was then placed under arrest. The first suspect, a 32-year-old non-resident man, was charged with hindering, disorderly conduct, resisting arrest, and two counts of battery. The second suspect, a 25-year-old non-resident woman, was charged with hindering and disorderly conduct. Both suspects were held on $500 bond pending trial.

A traffic dispute in the upper level garage of Beltway Plaza on Saturday, August 19 resulted in a woman being assaulted. The victim reported being struck in the face by a soda can, thrown by the suspect after a verbal confrontation. She was pulled from her car and punched several times in the face by the suspect. The suspect is described as a black woman in her early 20's, 5'9", 150 pounds with short dark hair and brown eyes. The suspect fled the scene in a white Nissan or Toyota bearing DC tags - 738477. The victim was treated on the scene and released.

Another assault was reported in the 6900 block of Hanover Parkway on Friday, August 19. A woman was punched in the face, injuring her nose and mouth, during a verbal altercation. The suspect, a 26-year-old resident man, was arrested, charged with assault and battery, and held on $1000 bond pending trial.

Officers on foot patrol in the 7400 block of Greenbelt Rd. located a four-year-old child in the back seat of a vehicle parked in the fire lane. The child's mother was located and charged with leaving an unattended child in a motor vehicle. The 37-year-old resident woman was released on citation pending trial.

Thefts

A 26-year-old non-resident man was arrested as a result of a suspicious persons report in the 7800 block of Emilys Way. As officers arrived in the area, they received a second report of someone attempting to enter the front door of a residence. Auto Thefts

A 14-year-old non-resident youth was arrested and charged with driving without a license and unauthorized use of a motor vehicle on Wednesday, August 23. Officers observed the youthful driver in the 6000 block of Greenbelt Rd. and decided to stop the vehicle. The driver was found to be underage and had taken the vehicle from his mother without permission. Three other non-resident youths, ages 12, 14, and 15, were arrested and charged with unauthorized use of a motor vehicle. All four juveniles were released to parents pending trial.

Two Youths Shot At Beltway Plaza

Based on Information Released by Greenbelt Police

Two resident youths were struck by gunfire as a result of an altercation at Beltway Plaza on Wednesday, August 23. The incident began early in the evening when the two suspects attempted to start a fight with the victims accusing them of "looking the wrong way" at the suspects. The victims left the mall and went home.

Later that evening the victims returned to the mall with three other people to go to the movies. The victims observed the suspects in the rear of the theater. After the movie ended, the victims left the mall. The suspects, who were in the parking lot, attempted to start a fight with the victims a second time. The victims began to walk home, after a verbal confrontation with the suspects. As the victims' group crossed the parking lot, the suspects drove up to the group and fired several shots into the group, striking the two 15-year-old youths. The suspects fled the scene in a vehicle described as a red two-door Pontiac.

Our Neighbors

by Linda Savaryn
474-5285

Our deepest sympathy to Judi Romello and daughters on the death of her mother and their grandmother, former Greenbelt Elizabeth "Betty" Pesak.

Sorry to learn about the death of former Greenbelt, Rebecca Faust Pittman.

Condolences to Ann Boswell and family on the death of her mother Greenbelt pioneer, Betty Louise Smith.

Carole Aderholdt, of Windsor Green, attended the 1995 Rudolf Dreikurs International Summer Institute, or ICASSI, in Malta this summer. The International Committee for Adlerian Summer Schools and Institutes (ICASSI) is a training opportunity founded by Dreikurs in 1962 for counselors, psychologists, teachers, parents, and other lay persons because of his interest in spreading the teachings of Alfred Adler, not only as a psychological method of treatment, but as a philosophy of life. The two-week trip to St. Paul's Bay on the Island of Malta marked Aderholdt's 15th year of attending the Institute. A member of the North American Society of Adlerian Psychology (NASAP) specializing in Marriage and Family Counseling and Parent Education, Aderholdt has a small private practice in Greenbelt.

We hope Mike Burchick will soon feel better. He would be pleased to receive cards from his friends and neighbors. Send them to Doctors Hospital, 8118 Good Luck Road, Lanham 20706.

Former Greenbelters Sue and Dr. Bill Weintraub are happy grandparents again. Kinnert, daughter of Janet and Yochanon Gori of Israel, made her debut on July 27. Weighing 7 lbs., she joins sisters Sari, age 9, and Matan, age 6.

Briana Michelle Sinden, of Charlottesville, VA was born August 22, weighing 8 lbs., 8 oz. She joins brother and sister Daniel and Mariah. Joyful parents are Jamie and Ana Sinden, grandparents are Steve and Martha Sinden, Ridge Road.

EMERGENCIES OCCUR SUDDENLY. SO SHOULD EMERGENCY CARE.

Mary Lingeback of Doctors Community Hospital eases a young patient through the Fast Lane in our Emergency Department.

Introducing the Fast Lane Program. Available only at the Emergency Department of Doctors Community Hospital, it sets the standard for hassle-free care.

Fast Lane was invented for the simple reason that, to someone in pain, there's no such thing as a "minor" emergency. Even though small abrasions, cuts, sprains and colds aren't life-threatening, life's not much fun with them. That's why every emergency is top priority with triage nurses like Mary Lingeback. She directs traffic in the Fast Lane with one of the state's premiere emergency teams.

Mary guides you through an E.R. that's not only thorough and well-equipped but among the area's fastest. The Fast Lane boasts innovations like separate treatment areas, specially-coded charts, and X-ray room priority -- all to speed you on your way.

Then, on her days off, for real excitement, Mary volunteers as a nurse at St. Pius Elementary, helping to get the kids back in class quickly -- much to their dismay. We think you'll agree that people like Mary benefit not just the patients at Doctors Community Hospital, but the entire community.

Call 552-0044 to talk with one of the Health Resources Representatives at our Health Connection Information and Referral Service to find out more about the Emergency Department's Fast Lane or our other programs and services. Or, if it's an emergency - come on in. We're ready and waiting.

Not that you'll be.

ers riding together. The idea behind this is to provide greater safety and back up for the officers. With the present team working round the clock to make this project a success, the only apparent hurdle appears to be an inadequate work force and inadequate funds. The city has budgeted $10,200 for this project with the citizens contributing an additional $2,200 to help purchase equipment. "We are still running short of funds for buying additional equipment and uniforms for the officers. We are accepting donations from all those who want to contribute in strengthening this project," states Mesol.

A study conducted by the Pittsburgh Police department 100 years ago, November 1896, found that one bicycle-mounted officer is equivalent to two officers on foot. And recent statistics reveal that an officer patrolling on a bike makes four times more arrests than an officer in a car. Bike patrol officers believe they can help destroy the myth that police are merely nameless, faceless officers who travel about the city responding from call to call. Instead it will reinforce the identity of police officers as individuals who patrol round the clock to make this community a safer place.

Citizens to Re-Elect "J" Davis

P.O. Box 153
Greenbelt, MD 20768

August 31, 1995

Dear Greenbelt Voters

Judith "J" Davis is running for re-election to the Greenbelt City Council. Those of us who have witnessed her energetic service on the Council for the past two years know that she uses her knowledge and experience well on behalf of the entire city.

The theme of her campaign is "Committed to Community." This reflects her strong support of the concept of Community Policing to increase public safety, her promise to continue to work to see the newly renovated Community Center fully operating, and her resolve to maintain city services in the face of fiscal uncertainty.

J needs the time and money of many volunteers for a successful campaign. We welcome all contributions to the above address, or call Pat Unger at 474-1052, or Jim Inzeo at 345-8221. Please plan to vote for J Davis on Tues., Nov. 7!

Sincerely,

Ed Cook, Chairman

"The Greenbelt Specialists"
Leonard & Holley Wallace

Hoyer

since then. Lynch said that his group could not "take things for granted" after the initial danger was past, because "the threat changes from year to year." He urged the audience, "Don't be complacent. . . . You cannot wait for (the new threat) to come to you."

J. Frank Raley, chairman of the Nobody Cares alliance, stressed that any group trying to protect Goddard must look beyond local issues. "The basis on which we operate," he said, ". . . is that nobody cares whether Greenbelt survives or not. It's got to be in the (national) public interest."

Raley offered some specific advice on how to run an advocacy group. "Knowledge is power," he said. Therefore, the group must answer the questions, "How does (Goddard) serve the advancement of knowledge? . . . What is the existence, what is the purpose of NASA in the future of our country?" In summary, he said, the group must not only deal with the specific issue of Goddard but must also join "the debate on what (the space industry) is going to be used for here in our country."

Raley later told the News Review that the group must make Goddard's mission clear to the public. "I'm from Maryland," he said, "but I didn't know what Goddard was doing. I thought it was going to the moon."

Tony Calio, president of the Maryland Space Business Roundtable, a forum for exchange of information on the space industry, underscored the importance of timing. He said that "trying to formulate a coalition in an emergency situation is a very difficult thing to do," and suggested that the advocacy group remain organized in order to deal with future crises before they hit. He gave as an example the fact that Sen. Barbara H. Mikulski routinely contacts his organization for information. Mikulski, he said, "didn't want a 911 call from me; she wanted to have a 411 call."

Joseph H. Rothenberg, Director of Goddard, expressed his appreciation for the support that the community had shown for his center. He said that it had encouraged his employees to know "that there are people who care what we do."

Goddard, he said, can give the alliance information "to demonstrate that we're doing something that's important to the nation, that we're doing it competitively." He believes that Goddard "is unique within the NASA system. It does not overlap with other centers."

Hoyer said that he wished only to be a "catalyst" for the formation of a private-sector advocacy group. He has asked William E. Kirwan, president of the University of Maryland, to organize the group. Kirwan pledged the support of the university, saying, "Goddard is absolutely crucial to the success that the University of Maryland has had in the past and for its plans for the future." He added, "This corridor between these two great institutions is really in many ways a national treasure."

Hoyer believed that "the quicker we can organize, the better," because Congress will be deciding Goddard's future in late September. Mayor Antoinette Bram, after consulting with City Manager Daniel G. Hobbs, offered the use of Greenbelt's Municipal Building for future meetings of the advocacy group.

Hoyer wished to make clear the seriousness of the crisis facing Goddard. "We're not playing tiddlywinks here," he said. "These are high stakes and we need high activity and advocacy."

Plaque Honors People

by Heather Elizabeth Peterson

The Greenbelt City Council at its August 28 work session chose a quotation from the city's first mayor pro tem to adorn the plaque on the new Community Center.

Sherrod East was elected to the city's first council back in 1937. The quotation reads, "Greenbelt was a beautifully planned town, but it was the people that made it work."

The plaque also contains the names of the present city council and staff.

Councilmembers preferred the quotation over two alternative quotations from President Franklin D. Roosevelt because the people in this city are, in the words of Councilmember Thomas X. White, "what distinguishes Greenbelt from other planned communities."

Festival Bands Entertain

Overjoy plays something for everyone, from Big Band to Motown to Top 40's. Catch their act Sunday night during the Labor Day Festival weekend.

by Sandy Smith

Overjoy

Overjoy is the featured band for Sunday evening of the Labor Day weekend. Overjoy has an extensive repertoire ranging from standards and Big Band selections with sophisticated arrangements and warm delivery through energetic top 40, Motown, and rock and roll party music. The band's lively audience interaction and friendly stage personalities delight audiences. The group has many years of experience performing at weddings, parties, clubs, tours and concerts. The band's instrumentation consists of a female lead vocalist, keyboardist, bass guitarist, lead guitars, drummer and saxophone/flutist. Several members of the group perform on lead vocals and their songs feature extensive vocal harmony arrangements.

A New Sound

Mariachi de la Estrella, Mariachi of the Stars strolling Mariachi group, plays the most popular folkloric music from Mexico. While this music is unique and distinctive of Mexico, it has gained popularity all over the world for its festive dynamic sound. The group wears the traditional costume of the Mariachi. The group instrumentation includes the Spanish vihuela, a five string rhythm guitar, the guitarron, a six string bass guitar, violins and trumpets. The repertoire has a wide range of styles, from the folkloric favorites to current popular songs and special selections from South America. Mariachi de las Estrellas has played for many functions and occasions, including concerts, festivals, serenades, weddings and parties. Whether playing at the White House, strolling at banquets, or giving the fanfare at the opening of a convention, Mariachi de las Estrellas provides festive, quality entertainment. The Mariachis played at the Inaugural balls of Presidents Reagan, Bush and Clinton, at the Kennedy Center, for concert series in Langley Park, Reston, Laurel and Rockville, and on all four local television channels. The Mariachi de Las Estrellas will perform Saturday, September 2, at 6:30 and will stroll through the Festival after the parade on Monday.

Country, Folk and BlueGrass

A professional full-time

musician for 17 years, Jay Smar entertains with a fine mixture of old-time country, folk and bluegrass music. He will be on the Greenbelt Festival Stage Sunday, September 2 at 5:30 pm. Last year he performed his unique family-oriented show in over 300 programs, across the United States and Canada. He is known not only for his vocals, but also for his expert playing of the guitar, fiddle, harmonica, and claw-hammer banjo. He has acquired considerable concert experience performing his own brand of new and traditional folk music as well as sharing the stage with many folk greats as well as such country artists as Doug Kershaw, Mary Chapin Carpenter, Ricky Skaggs, and Kathy Mattea. His versatile talents have earned him first place honors in songwriting contests. He recently signed with Mountain Laurel Records for international distribution of his recordings. His new release, "Socket to Me," has been described as an exceptional recording, where "the first cut hits you like a thunderbolt with its tough acoustic guitar playing," according to reviewers.

Ray Owens is Back

A popular performer in many previous Labor Day Festivals, Ray Owens has been described in the Philadelphia Inquirer as "one of America's premier outdoor fair and festival performers." He is one of the most requested entertainers today, performing across the country and with such legendary entertainers as Willie Nelson, Arlo Guthrie, Hank Williams Jr., Bill Monroe and others. Ray serves up a feast of classic American song and adds humor for the whole family and all ages to enjoy.

Ray plays guitar, harmonica, banjo and concertina to accompany his rich vocals. His repertoire includes the traditional classics and contemporary music. He is a national recording artist and award-winning songwriter. His latest album release achieved national airplay and was selected as a candidate for a Grammy nomination. He was named Pennsylvania songwriter of the year. He returns to the Greenbelt stage at 2 p.m. on Sunday, September 3.

More Entertainment

Last year's "Best in Parade," the Southwest Virginia Cloggers, will be back to entertain after the parade on the Festival stage. They dance to traditional and new country songs with rapid precision movements. These dancers travel 300 miles to appear in the Labor Day Festival. The U.S. Commodores, the premier jazz ensemble, performs Sunday afternoon at 4 p.m. Senior Chief Musician Gerard J. Ancione Directs the Commodores, who perform across the United States and throughout the world, in venues as varied as the White House and the community Festival.

Who's 260 years old and appearing again at the Labor Day Festival? The Leisure Time Grandads Quartet, that's who. This popular barbershop group was formed back in 1989 to perform for seniors, at nursing homes, and at community festival and family events. Their performances have taken them throughout Prince George's and Montgomery Counties and as far away as Florida and California. They have a repertoire of enjoyable traditional favorites.

Entertaining on Saturday, Kid's Day at the Festival, are Lula the one woman circus, whose comic variety show includes juggling, unicycling, magic stilt walking, puppetry and rope walking, and ChaCha the Clown, who's a real crowd pleaser. The Backpack Puppeteers is a zany show full of wit and whimsy and designed especially to be able to travel and perform in many locations. Greenbelt's Double Dutch Team and Aerobic Dancers round out the stage entertainment.

Senior Chief Musician Gerard J. Ancione, leads the U.S. Navy Band Commodores, its premier Jazz Ensemble in a concert Sunday afternoon of the Labor Day Weekend.

Meet the Rest of the Misses: Junior and Miss Greenbelt

by Sarah Ellis
Part II

In the second of a two part series we complete the introductions to the girls competing for the titles of Little Miss Junior Miss and Miss Greenbelt.

Twenty-five young girls and young women will entertain the Labor Day crowd on opening night, Friday, September 1, as they vie for the titles of Little Miss, Junior Miss and Miss Greenbelt. The first evening of the festival the competition features the Scholarship pageant and will include a dance presentation and modeling. The program begins at 8:15 p.m. on the stage.

In interviewing the girls, I asked each about her school, her hobbies, and her answer to a question: "If your parents said 'You've been so good lately, we'd like you to do something or go somewhere special' what would you do, where would you go?"

Junior Miss Contestants

Marie Torillo, 13 years old, is an eighth-grader at St. Hugh's here in Greenbelt. She enjoys swimming and spending time with her friends when she is not busy doing homework. Marie would like to take all her friends to Houston, Texas. Marie's sponsor is Generous Joe's, the "Fill Your Belly" Deli!

Christine Reese is an athletic girl who goes to Greenbelt Middle School. At 13, she likes to ice skate and swim. She also enjoys the company of her friends. Christine was a 1994 Junior Miss contestant, having lots of fun and making new friends. On her day off, she would like to go to the ice skating rink if it's the season or she would like to go to Adventure World. Christine's sponsor is Greenbelt Mobil Service Center.

Ashley Mullane is attending Greenbelt Elementary School. She has never been in a pageant before, but she is having lots of fun. Ashley enjoys swimming and rollerblading. If she could go anywhere, she would visit family members in Florida. Ashley's sponsor is William J. Phillips Co., Inc., located in Beltsville.

Miss Greenbelt Contestants

A $1,000 Scholarship will be awarded to the winner of the Miss Greenbelt Scholarship Pageant, which will be applied towards her future education. Out of this amount, $500 was contributed by Combined Properties, the management organization for Greenway Center.

In our interviews with the older girls we modified the "essay" question slightly asking them if they achieved a 4.0 GPA on their report cards, and their parents wanted to reward them, where would they go or what would they do.

Fourteen-year-old Shannan Odum is in 10th grade at Elizabeth Seton High School. She enjoys baton twirling, playing the trombone, and participating in her Senior Girl Scout troop. She has not entered a pageant before, but is enjoying this one! If she got that magic 4.0 on her report card, Shannan would choose to go downtown and visit the museums, and be treated to lunch in a nice restaurant. Shannan's sponsor is Suburban Bank.

Marissa "Missy" Troeschel, also 14, is in the 9th grade at Eleanor Roosevelt High School. She is a member of the Wells Figure Skating Team, with which she has won 1st place several times and has participated in 15 competitions over the last few years. She is also active in Girl Scout Troop 2142. In September, she will finish working on the Silver Award in Girl Scouts, the highest award in that level of Scouting. Missy has also received the Leadership Pin with her troop. She likes to read and collects anything to do with Anne Frank. She was in the Little Miss Greenbelt Pageant in 1991 and had lots of fun. If she could go anywhere, she would go to Amsterdam to visit the Anne Frank House, because she admires Anne's courage and her optimism in the face of tragic circumstances. Missy's sponsor is Greenbelt Kava.

Genette DonBullion is 15 and is a junior at Roosevelt, where she is in the TAG program. She enjoys camping and skiing, and has studied karate for five years. She also plays softball and soccer. Genette has traveled to every state on the East Coast and to Ohio and Nevada visiting family and friends, and she has been skiing in Arizona, Vermont, and Canada. She also enjoys participating in pageants as a hobby. She has participated in the big Maryland Perfect Teen Pageant where she had lots of fun. Genette also is the former Junior Miss Greenbelt 1993. If she got another 4.0 GPA (she has already achieved this!), she would like to go to Atlantic City with her family, see a show at Caesar's, and have a big, expensive dinner to celebrate with her family. She visits New Jersey frequently, so she is familiar with the area. Genette's sponsor is the Boxwood Civic Association.

Mia Carey, at 15, is in tenth grade at Roosevelt. She enjoys swimming and reading. She also enjoys cooking dinner and baking desserts. She has not entered a pageant previously, and did not know what to expect, but she is having a lot of fun! If she achieved the 4.0 on her report card, she would like to be treated to a long drive in the brand-new family car, 1995 Nissan Sentra! Mia's sponsor is NationsBank.

Tracy Still, 15, is a junior at Roosevelt. She writes poetry, plays the piano and clarinet, both of which she plays now for fun and to teach her younger sister. She also enjoys reading, talking on the phone with her friends, and shopping with her mother. Tracy was in the Miss Greenbelt Pageant last year, where she placed in the top eight finalists. She had lots of fun, making good friends to keep her busy not only during the summer but also to continue the friendships throughout the school year. If she received a 4.0 GPA, she would have her family and a few of her closer friends go to Florida for the day, visiting her great-grandmother who helped raise her. She would take her great-grandmother to Disney world, and visit the beach with her friends. Tracy's sponsor is the Greenbelt Federal Credit Union.

Katherine Patsas, 15, is a Junior at Roosevelt also. She enjoys playing the piano, drawing, and painting, she plays tennis and likes going shopping. She has participated in previous pageants, winning second runner up in the Miss Teen College Park Pageant. She also made the top 10 beauty finalists in the Miss Maryland American Teen Pageant and placed in the top five talent finalists in that same pageant. She was a 1994 America's Royal Crown. Her sister, Christine, is the former Miss Greenbelt 1993. If Katherine got a 4.0 on her report card, she would visit Greece, because she has family there and would enjoy seeing them. Katherine's sponsor is Greenbriar.

Angie Kowmas, 15, also is a junior at Roosevelt. She enjoys bike riding, rollerblading and watching movies; she sings and plays the guitar, and she likes hiking and running. She has successfully completed her CPR training from Red Cross. She has previous pageant experience as an America's Royal Crown Preliminary Crown. Angie would like to be a social worker helping troubled youth. Angie's sponsor is the Greenbelt American Legion Post 136.

Heather Villalba, 16, is a Junior at Roosevelt, where she is on the Honor Roll. She likes to cook and draw, likes swimming at the Greenbelt pool, and takes an aerobics class at the Greenbelt Fitness and Aquatic Center. She has been in a pageant before, winning first runner up in the Maryland Sunburst State Finals. She especially enjoyed all the new friends she made. If she achieves a 4.0 on her report, she would like to visit the beautiful Marco Island, off the west coast of Florida. It has an incredible beach, where one can go snorkeling and sailing, or ride really big water bikes! Heather's sponsor is the Greenbelt Consumer Co-op.

Rachel Petty, 16, is also a junior at Roosevelt. She likes to read, sing, bowl, and write poetry. She has been published already! She entered and won the "I Love Maryland" Poetry Contest, sponsored by Maryland's then-Governor Schaeffer, and she won second place in the Teen Pregnancy Advocacy Essay Contest. She has never been in a pageant before, but is having a wonderful time. When she gets her 4.0 GPA, she wants to be a journalist, so she could visit Los Angeles to interview people for the OJ Simpson trial. She would be interested to see how so many different people from such diverse backgrounds can live together and make their city work. Rachel's sponsor is Premiere Sedan, Inc., located in Georgetown.

Ghost Stories, Anyone?

Ever have the urge to call up and request a reservation in the ghost room of an inn or sit at a ghost table in a haunted restaurant? Readers of "Welcome Inn" by Ed Okonowicz can do this by calling a number listed after each chapter.

"Welcome Inn," illustrated by Ed's wife, Kathleen, a former Greenbelter, is the third volume in a ghostly series, Spirits Between the Bays. The book is different from the first two volumes in that all of the sites mentioned in this book are identified by name and address and they are accessible to everyone. (In ghost books, Ed said, many people are reluctant to give their names and addresses.)

Okonowicz claims that all stories in this volume are the results of interviews with residents of the Delmarva Peninsula who have had or continue to have experiences with ghosts. In this book there are haunted restaurants, country inns and museums. Interwoven in the tales is Delmarva folklore and history.

Ed Okonowicz is a professional adult storyteller, editor at the University of Delaware and freelance writer. Kathleen is a watercolor artist. She is a former Greenbelter whose parents Barbara and Ed Burgoon live on Ridge Road.

"Welcome Inn" may be purchased in area stores or can be ordered direct from their publishing company, Myst and Lace Printers.

Okonowicz invites those who have had a ghostly experience or who want to share a legend or family story, to contact him by writing a short note and a phone number. Mail it to 1386 Fair Hill Lane, Elkton, MD 21921.

Festival

many occasions such as festivals, reunions and in such entertainment centers as Dollywood Theme Park in Pigeon Forge, Tennessee. Under the direction of Dana Suthers, the group tries to keep the rich Appalachian Mountain heritage alive by preserving an old dance form. They perform a high-energy dance with the latest styles of clogging.

Greenbelt groups are well represented in the parade — Greenbelt Clergy, Greenbelt Arts Center, Greenbelt Girl Scouts, the Greenbelt Crime Prevention Committee, Lions Club Bikes and Trikes, Greenbelt Senior Soft Ball, The Greenbelt Nursery School, Greenbelt East Mobile Crime Group, Friends of the Greenbelt Museum, Eleanor Roosevelt High School Pom Poms, The Greenbelt Bahai Community, and the Greenbelt Swim Team. The 1995 Miss Greenbelt and Little and Junior Misses will ride through the parade in style.

Greenbelt welcomes Maryland Governor Parris N. Glendening to the parade. Congressman Steny Hoyer makes his traditional appearance in Greenbelt, as does Comptroller Louis Goldstein for the umpteenth year. State senator Leo Green, Delegates Joan Pitkin, James Hubbard and Mary Conroy return again to Greenbelt. Audrey Scott, Prince Georges Council Member from the Greenbelt district will be in the parade and parade watchers can see Greenbelt Mayor Toni Bram, Mayor Pro Tem Ed Putens and Council members Tom White, Rodney Roberts and J Davis.

There will be marching and performances by K Company, Shelly's Sparklers and the Dynamics. Beltway Plaza enters its first entry in the Greenbelt Labor Day Parade. The Central Maryland Amateur Radio Club will provide communications for the parade and march along. Fire trucks from companies throughout the area make a traditional appearance. Greenbelt Dog Training Group will march again this year in the parade, after a very successful performance last year, with precision marching by pets and their owners. Greyhound Pets of America is another successful doggie entry, this one promoting adoption of greyhounds. Maryland Forest Service is among the many other entries to make up one of the biggest parades in recent history.

Miss Greenbelt Pageant and 40th Reunion

The Miss Greenbelt Pageant, Little and Junior Miss Pageants will be a special event this year with the celebration of the 40th Anniversary of the Festival and a retrospective which features the return of past Miss Greenbelt winners as well as Festival directors. Rick Lee, the news director and popular early morning program host on radio station WAVA a.m., 105.1, returns to emcee the Miss Greenbelt Pageant. Lee is a veteran broadcaster with twenty years experience, beginning his radio career in Honolulu, Hawaii.

Carnival

The Festival brings back Rosedale Amusement Company with games, rides and booths for the carnival. Rosedale has rides for all ages, from small children to the most thrill-seeking teens and adults. Discount coupons for "one-price for all rides" on Saturday and Sunday afternoons are available at the following locations: Greenbelt Library, Aquatic Center, Municipal Finance Office, Youth Center, Springhill Lake Recreation Center, Springhill Lake Fountain Lodge, Community Buildings at Greenbriar and Windsor Green, GHI, Roosevelt Center 7-11, Good Luck Rd at Hanover Parkway 7-11, Greenway Liquor and Deli, Cipriano Liquors, Generous Joe's, Community Buildings in Schrom Hills Park, and at the Greenbelt Police Station. Carnival booths are run by organizations throughout the City to raise funds for their activities throughout the year.

The booths feature food, of all types, and various games and activities.

Saturday is Kid's Day, sponsored by Greenway Center. On Kid's Day there are games for children in each age category. It begins with the annual Children's Pet Show. Every type of pet is welcome and comes away a winner. Also on Kid's Day will be face painting, jugglers, puppets and a dynamic exhibition by the Springhill Lake Recreation Center Double Dutch Team. Throughout the day the Greenbelt Recreation Department sponsors athletic games and contests. The Annual Talent Show is held at 5 p.m. on Saturday and this year's producers, Patti Brothers and Konrad Herling will introduce a variety of talented performers, singers, dancers and a group of six cellists, who have to be seen to be believed. There are 40 information day exhibits, representing all types of organizations and businesses. The Arts and Crafts Show runs Saturday and Sunday. One Thin Dime takes the stage Saturday evening.

Sunday is Family Day with events, activities and entertainment appeal to the whole family. This is a good day to catch the Art Show and the Photographic Exhibition, both at the Youth Center. There are Pony Rides all afternoon and the annual Larry Noel 15K race is held. Tonight the Miss Greenbelt, Junior Miss and Little Misses are crowned. Overjoy is on stage to entertain with big band, top 40's and everything from Motown to Rock classics.

Shuttle Buses and Parking

Shuttle buses will run from both the Eleanor Roosevelt High School and Beltway Plaza Shopping Center rear parking lots. Signs will be posted with the schedule. On Friday from 5:30 p.m. to 12:30 a.m. the bus will run from each location on the half-hour. On Saturday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., a bus will run from ERHS on the hour and from Beltway Plaza on the half-hour; from 5 p.m. to 12:30 a.m., the buses will run on the half-hour from each location. On Sunday bus service begins at 11 a.m. and will run from ERHS on the hour and Beltway Plaza on the half-hour and from 5 p.m. to 12:30 a.m. on the half-hour at both locations. On Monday, the shuttle buses begin early for parade goers at 9:30 to noon on the half hour at each location and then on the hour at ERHS and half-hour at Beltway Plaza from noon to 5:30 p.m. Festival goers can also park at other locations in the city and walk the short distance to the Festival. St. Hugh's church is making its lot available except for times of church service early Saturday evening and Sunday morning. There's also parking at Greenbelt Homes Inc. and Greenbelt Elementary School. Pedi-cabs will be operating to take Festival goers back to their nearby homes or parked cars. Pedi-cabs are sponsored by local businesses and riders are expected to tip the drivers for their time and effort.
