Interfaith Leaders to Mark 9/11 with "Healing Hands"

by Jaco B. ten Hove

To commemorate this year's anniversary of the attacks on September 11, 2001, a group of local therapeutic touch professionals have offered to provide relief from physical stress in exchange for donations to community relief funds. The Saturday, September 11, event "Healing Hands Strengthen Community" will be hosted by members of the Greenbelt Interfaith Leadership Association (GILA) at Roosevelt Center from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m.

An outdoor pavilion will feature employees of Pleasant Touch and other certified professionals, providing seated massage on a first-come, first-served basis. (In case of bad weather, the event will move into the nearby Pleasant Touch facilities.)

"We touch people's lives literally every day, hoping to bring them to greater wholeness," said Gwen Vaccaro, owner of Pleasant Touch. "We'd like to contribute more toward the needs of people in our town."

Individuals from GILA administer the Good Samaritan Fund and the Interfaith Eviction Relief Fund, which will receive all proceeds from the event. GILA tries each year to creatively commemorate this hard anniversary, hoping that it may become an annual Day of Service to strengthen the bonds of community at all levels.

The idea of honoring the 9/11 anniversary by offering a healing touch for charity came a year ago, as Vaccaro heard her minister, the Rev. Dan Hamlin, pastor of Greenbelt Community Church, speak from the pulpit. He helped promote GILA's 2003 anniversary effort, which challenged residents by issuing "A Call to Be Neighborly" as a more lasting memorial to the great losses and pain resulting from the attacks.

That Sunday morning experience deepened Vaccaro's active commitment to providing ways her business can give back to the community. She also wanted to help raise the visibility of local spiritual resources so the idea of a joint 9/11 anniversary project with GILA was born. She approached Hamlin, who carried the inspired suggestion to his colleagues during one of their monthly meetings.

"September 11, 2001, was a terrible day," Hamlin said. "But the brightness in it was the service of so many people, police, firefighters and passengers on the flight that went down in Pennsylvania and countless ordinary citizens who did whatever they could to help. It is fitting to remember the best of that tragic day with community service."

Citizens are encouraged to come by Roosevelt Center on Saturday, September 11, any time

Metroland's Approval Overturned by Court

The Maryland Court of Special Appeals has overturned the Prince George's County Circuit Court in its determination concerning the Metroland Development, the City of Greenbelt learned on Tuesday, August 31.

The Maryland Court of Special Appeals remanded the case to the Prince George's County Circuit Court, requiring them to enter an order reversing the approval of both the conceptual site plan and the preliminary plat of subdivision.

The plaintiff in the case, the City of Greenbelt, had filed both administrative and judicial appeals of the approval by the Maryland-National Capital Park and Planning Commission's Planning Board and the Prince George's District Council of the conceptual site plan and the preliminary plat of subdivision. The case was argued before the Court of Special Appeals in March, 2004.

50th Labor Day Festival Offers Opening Ceremonies on Friday

by Patti Brothers

The 50th Labor Day Festival begins Friday with the Opening Ceremonies and rolls on through the Monday morning parade, which will be followed by an afternoon of activities. In between there will be rides, games and sports for all ages, food for all palates, music and stage events for all preferences, the Miss Greenbelt Pageant for all viewers and a good time to be had by all. It is the traditional end to summer in Greenbelt – when friends and neighbors catch up with each other and reminisce about old times and past festivals. There will be plenty to do the entire weekend.

Rain

Rain is not expected but in the case of short, spotty showers, all outdoor activities will continue. In the event of heavy, continued rain entertainment (as well as the pageant) will move into the Community Center gym and bingo will be set up in the Youth Center gym. The Information Day tables will relocate to the multi-purpose room in the Community Center. The festival information booth will be at the first-floor intersection of the two main hallways of the Community Center. But if wishes come true, there will be blue skies.

Games, Activities

In addition to the ongoing activities on the stage and at the carnival, which were highlighted last week, the festival

Greenwood Village Townhouse Fire Displaces Greenbelt Family

by Shirl Hayes

Greenbelt firefighters responded to a two-alarm fire at 8148 Mandan Terrace home of Kelby Brick, former candidate for Greenbelt City Council, that started at approximately 6 p.m. on Wednesday, September 1. One occupant of the house escaped, unharmed, to a neighbor's home. It is believed that the owner was out of town at the time. The interior of the house is destroyed and it is unlivable, according to Assistant Fire Chief John Wynkoop. The neighboring townhouse, 8150, suffered only smoke damage. No one was home at the time.

Neighbor Judy Moien heard the commotion when she walked her dog.

"I heard all the sirens and all I could think about was the Greenbriar fire last year," said Moien. "When I went outside, I saw smoke filling the [neighborhood]. There were [firetrucks] and ambulances everywhere."

"The initial incident coordinator was Deputy Chief Morgal.

The fire was contained in under 40 minutes," said Wynkoop. "The cause of the fire is unknown at this time and is under investigation."

Lazy Attitude

I am an unhappy driver. I am in the school of thought where one stops at a stop sign. In my four years of living in Greenbelt, I've never seen a town with such a lazy attitude for stop signs! I've witnessed the rolling stop, where the driver is looking as he or she is driving through. I've watched as two cars go through the same side of the 4-way stop. I've even glared as the second car goes by. (Maybe they have noticed and maybe they are too engrossed in their cell phone call.) The worst is driving into Greenway Center. The cars that are entering the mall have the right-of-way. All other sides have a stop sign. I have almost been hit numerous times as I have tried to enter the mall. I may be old-fashioned but I still believe in obeying the laws of the road. This includes stop signs.

I know that some Greenbelters do obey stop signs. To you, I say thank you. This is a great place to live. The more we obey the stop signs and the laws of the road, the better this town can be.

Yours in driving,

Sarah Headley

American Legion Observes 9/11

The Greenbelt American Legion Post Post 136 will hold a ceremony in memory of September 11 at 10 a.m. in the Post Home, 6900 Greenbelt Road. The public is invited to attend.

Correction

The Labor Day Festival schedule incorrectly listed the Greenbelt Access Television (GATE) Film Works Festival. The correct date is Sunday, September 5, midnight. The schedule for Monday, September 6 at noon is correct.

Artful Afternoon Activists Busy on Festival Sunday

What is better than seeing the fruit of one's personal labors on display for everyone to enjoy? Seeing a project created together with friends and neighbors on display in the Greenbelt Community Center? The Greenbelt Recreation Department continues its monthly Artful Afternoon series during the annual Greenbelt Labor Day Festival. Kids and adults of all ages are invited to explore and join in the community-building, fun and potentially wacky art projects on Sunday, September 5, from 1 to 5 p.m. at the Community Center.

Meet Bob the Crab, Yertle the Turtle and other fantastic creatures created by past Artful Afternoon participants and Creative Kids campers with assistance from artists Sandy Dwiggins and John Norden. Add a special touch to help create a new addition to the Community Center's "School of Flying Fish" display. Make a unique sculptural hat to keep or a fanciful foam rubber "pet." Hands-on activities will take place from 1 to 4 p.m. All materials are provided.

Make sure to see the "binks" in their temporary habitat in the Community Center Gallery in the new show, "Dangling, Draped and Dilly-Dallying," an installation by Chicago artist Carole Loeffler. These imaginative, alien-like soft sculptures will bring a smile to all ages and provide plenty of inspiration for the hands-on projects. Throughout the run of the exhibition, families are invited to explore the show with a free "i spy" children's gallery guide which includes a page of take-home activities, plus a contest for ages 10 and under to win prizes. Loeffler's "binks" will remain on view through October 9. The Art Gallery is open 9 a.m. to 10 p.m. daily whenever the room is not reserved.

From 1 to 5 p.m., visitors can see Greenbelt's own Artists in Residence and Greenbelt Pottery members demonstrate ceramics, stained glass, drawing and additional media as they tour the Community Center Studios.

Art Shows

See the works of friends and neighbors in the always enjoyable all-hung art shows sponsored by the Greenbelt Labor Day Festival Committee. Exhibits feature photography, painting, sculpture, and mixed media artwork by people of all ages living, working and studying in Greenbelt.

For historic perspectives on this great community, stop at the historic home at 10-B Crescent Road operated by the Greenbelt Museum where guided tours will be available from 1 to 5 p.m. The Greenbelt Museum also invites visitors to enjoy its exhibit at the Greenbelt Community Center — "Living the Healthy Life" which explores the history of sport, health and fitness in the New Deal Era. This exhibit is open 9 a.m. to 10 p.m. daily.

Remember, the Tilt-a-Whirl is only one of the ways to take a spin at the Labor Day Festival. Visitors are invited to join Recreation Department instructor Francis Solomon for ballroom dance demonstrations at the Community Center.

Additional Labor Day Festival activities will be taking place in historic downtown Greenbelt throughout the weekend.

Artful Afternoons are a production of the Greenbelt Recreation Department. Events are held on the first Sunday of every month based at the Greenbelt Community Center at 15 Crescent Road. For additional information call Barbara Dickey Davis at 240-542-2062.

The Labor Day Festival Through a Participant's Eyes

When my family and I moved to GHI two Labor Day weekends ago, I never thought I would be in the same company of such celebrities as the governor of Maryland and his predecessor, a United States Senator, and, ah yes, GHI board and committee members.

Politicians rode past the parked GHI float as we attached banners to it for the Labor Day festival parade this year. When we moved, GHI Board Director Betty Deitch and committee member Sue Krofchik and I waved to new and familiar faces on Crescent Road from our table shaded by an umbrella. During our neighborly court party, committee members Isaac Robinson and Roger Brown joined us in sipping sodas and chomping chips from a nearby bench on the float. Since our theme was "GHI — Bringing People Together," it was fitting that people gathered their thoughts and commented on our float.

"I think you guys are really roughing it up there," hollered one woman standing in the sun and waving the American flag.

"Got a Coke?" eagerly asked a boy.

"How's the food doing?" cried a hungry sounding man.

"Almost done," joked GHI Vice President Julia Eichhorst, who was turning hot dog buns on a cold grill.

"Hey," called a dejected youth sitting on the curb, "I thought I was invited to the party."

"Next year," quipped Eichhorst.

Other parade goers smiled and applauded as we passed. An elderly gentleman waved both arms and shouted that he once lived in GHI, moved away and had returned to live.

As our float crept closer to the review stand, we saw a little girl with the ruler that GHI staffer Kathie Linkenhoker, her son Tommy Lloyd and her nephew, Charlie Linkenhoker, passed out to the crowd. The girl held up the ruler to the face of a man who could have been her grandfather. It turned out she was measuring his nose.

Near the end of our procession, a woman yelled, "What a bright idea."

The judges thought so, too. We won second place for our float and I acquired yet another pleasant memory of the place that my husband Ted, my son Joshua and I call home.

Free Film on Alaska Crash on Saturday

As the first of a new series of free old-time movies, the Old Greenbelt Theatre and the Prince George's County Library will present "Tundra" on Saturday, September 4 at noon in the Greenbelt theater. ## Enjoy Water Polo Festival goers don't have to go to Greece to see live water polo this Labor Day. The Greenbelt Aquatic and Fitness Center will host a water polo exhibition right after the Greenbelt Labor Day Parade, from noon to 1 p.m. on Monday, September 6. Players from the Greenbelt Municipal Swim Team (GMST) will give a daytime demonstration of this Olympic sport in the deep end of the outdoor pool, just down the walk from the moon bounce.

The water polo program usually meets in June and July on Thursday nights at 8 p.m.

This exhibition is to attract interest in the Greenbelt swim team that plays water polo as part of their practices and is a year long stay-in-shape program for kids under 18 years old. Swim practices are Tuesdays and Thursdays after school and Sunday mornings.

See GMST Saturday morning at the Labor Day information table or poolside on Monday after the parade for more information, or visit the GMST website at <http://greenbelt.com/swimteam/>

CARES to Offer Two More Groups

Since CARES has $11,571 left in a Prince George's County Livable Communities Grant, Director Liz Park plans to offer two more groups - one this fall and one in spring 2005 as part of the Strengthening Families Program at Springhill Lake Elementary School. Some money was saved last year because the school picked up part of the costs (babysitting and paper supplies) and the amounts budgeted for incentives were not fully spent. "Providing two more groups should really help to cement the program at the school," said Park.

One of the objectives of the groups was to build a support network among families at the school. To facilitate this, Park plans to invite past graduate families to the first session of the new group and host a reunion/refresher session for them. This way, new families can see families who completed the program and graduate families can reconnect for the new school year. The school reports that the families who attended last year have continued to stay in contact, so this will help to continue this process.

Visit the Museum During the Festival

A tour of the historic Greenbelt Museum will be held on Sunday, September 5 from 1 to 5 p.m. This is an opportunity to learn about Greenbelt's history.

New Library in Accokeek Has Ties to Greenbelt

by Eileen Peterson

The new Accokeek Library, which opened August 16, has numerous ties to the Greenbelt community.

Its newly appointed branch manager is Tom Simon, a 26-year resident here. For 16 years, he worked in the Adult Services department at the Greenbelt library before being transferred to the New Carrollton branch nine years ago.

Simon lives on Ridge Road with wife Barbara McGee Simon, Greenbelt arts activist, and daughters Nora and Julia. Simon has served on various Greenbelt Homes, Inc., committees.

The new library, at 15773 Livingston Road, replaces a small, storefront facility rented by the Prince George's County Memorial Library System. The 15,000 square-foot space is augmented by an outdoor patio. A formal dedication will be held this fall.

In the library's entryway stands the "Tree of Knowledge," a metal sculpture by Larry Morris of Accokeek. His parents are long-time Greenbelters Ruth and Tony Morris of Ridge Road.

An additional linking of the communities is the fact that Lenore Thomas, the sculptress of the Community Center's frieze and the Mother and Child statue in Roosevelt Center, lived in Accokeek for many years. In her garden stood a statue of a woman. That sculpture, donated by her daughter Lenore Strauss, now stands in the meditation garden created at the right front corner of Greenbelt's Community Center.

Since 1975, the Greenbelt Interfaith Leadership Association (formerly the Greenbelt Clergy Group) has celebrated religious diversity by expanding awareness of how the holy is honored in different faiths and by exploring ways to share the struggles and joys experienced by religious leaders. Such cooperation, they believe, can build community and point the way toward greater peace. The group meets monthly and currently represents local Bahai'i, Catholic, Hindu, Jewish, Protestant and Unitarian Universalist traditions.

Festival Bands

by Patti Brothers

The Labor Day Festival's live music performances on Sunday and Monday feature nationally and locally known artists.

Wayne Brown

Sunday night of the festival will feature "Wayne Brown & 2nd Conspiracy" on stage at 9 p.m. This band is a good time rock 'n roll band with a professional performance. Formed 17 years ago, a product of the "Louie Al-Phontz Conspiracy" (a NW Washington band), Wayne Brown has been playing keyboards and performing all of his life. Along with him are Frank Burton on lead vocals, Chris "Pooter" Brown on drums, Mike Greco on bass and vocals and Jerry JP Pickholtz on lead guitar and vocals. This group has performed with legends such as Dion, "The Mommas and Poppas," "The Crystals," "The Bogues," "The Grass Roots," "Three Dog Night," Dennis Yost, Gary Puckett, "The Buckingham" and the "Fabulous Hubcaps" to name a few. This group will end the festival night-time activities on just the right note.

Shoe Suede Blues

The Monday daytime stage this year will host a band that is a real treat for the festival. That band is Shoe Suede Blues, featuring Peter Tork (of The Monkees) who will perform on Monday, September 6 from noon to 3 p.m. This is a return engagement for this group and the festival committee is happy to have them back. This band was formed in 1994 when Peter Tork and friends Tadg Galleran and Michael Sunday were asked to put together a band for a benefit dance for a women's recovery home and child care program. Following the performance, requests began to arrive for performances at other benefits, local night clubs and local events. The band was then asked to perform on Cox Cablevision and at the 30th Anniversary Monkees Convention in 1997.

Following the national media coverage they received, the band started to get inquiries from around the nation for live and recorded performances. Now Shoe Suede Blues performs at dance clubs, theaters and private functions all across the nation and has plans to travel abroad in the near future. The band plays a lively and unique combination of blues, rhythm 'n blues, blues rock and pop from such legends as Muddy Waters, Wilson Pickett, Chuck Berry, Little Richard, Bob Dylan, The Coasters and The Monkees, of course.

Band members include Peter Tork, a former member of the world-famous 1960s pop group The Monkees.

Michael Sunday, who played with the popular Blues Underground, plays the bass for Shoe Suede Blues; John Palmer, who has toured with Ronnie Dawson, The 5th Dimension, The Diamonds, The Penguins and Sha Na Na, plays the drums; and Richard Mikuls, who has performed as Rufus with Chaka Khan, BB King, Ike and Tina Turner, Chuck Berry, Ray Charles, Little Richard, and Jerry Lee Lewis, plays guitar and sings lead and backup.

Shoe Suede Blues is sure to provide a wonderful conclusion to the festival stage activities on Monday.

YARD WASTE COLLECTION PROPOSED PLAN

To Be Effective MARCH 1, 2005

YARD WASTE WILL NO LONGER BE COLLECTED IN PLASTIC BAGS!!

The City currently processes approximately 450 tons of loose leaves, branches and Christmas trees at the in-house processing site at Northway each year. This processed material is then available for use by City landscape crews and city residents. The City estimates it saves $2,000 annually in the purchase of mulch.

In addition to the yard waste processed in-house, city crews also collect approximately 300 tons of yard waste in plastic bags each year. Since the City doesn't have a debagging machine, this material is transported to a County facility in Upper Marlboro. The yard waste is debagged, then processed and rebagged as mulch for sale. Additionally, the City pays $25 a ton for the disposal of this bagged material.

In order to recycle more bagged yard waste with fewer negative environmental impacts, it is proposed to discontinue collecting leaves in plastic bags as of March 1, 2005. Residents will be required to place yard waste in brown paper bags or bins/cans for collection.

The leaf vacuum will continue to provide collection of loose leaves from detached homes from November 1st through January 15th and the chipper will continue to collect branches throughout the year.

Paper yard bags can be purchased at local stores such as Giant, Safeway, Costco, Home Depot, etc. Also, bags will be sold at the City Municipal Building during regular business hours and at City events such as Earth Day, Electronics Recycling, Labor Day and SchromFest.

Plastic bins/cans can be purchased at Target, K-Mart, Home Depot, etc. The City will provide "YARD WASTE" stickers bins and cans. Each yard waste bin/can must weigh less than 50 lbs. for collection.

GHI RESIDENTS: Residents of GHI can pick up 10 free paper yard bags each fall (beginning in the fall of 2005) at the GHI Maintenance Facility. The City will provide these bags free to GHI residences since they do not receive city leaf vacuum service.

**Be sure to visit the Public Works Information Booth at the Labor Day Festival this weekend. To promote the proposed yard waste collection program which takes effect March 1, 2005, the City will be giving each residential refuse customer who stops by the booth 10 FREE paper yard bags.

the Community Center front lawn.

The children's pet show will also be on the front lawn. Kids can parade their pets (of any and all kinds) and win prizes in a variety of categories. The pet show takes place at 9:30 on Saturday morning.

At 11 a.m. on Saturday morning, there will be a Children's Walking Scavenger Hunt – also starting on the Community Center front lawn. The hunt ends at the Youth Center.

Other Activities

Games of strategy, sponsored by the Recreation Department, will be played on both Saturday and Sunday beginning at 1 p.m. and continuing until 5 p.m. each day. The games will be played in the festival area and also in the Youth Center game room. Demonstrations and instructions will be offered on playing over a dozen strategy games by members of the Beltsville Strategy Games Club. The Petting Zoo, brought to the festival by Carol's Critters, will be located on the Community Center front lawn from 1 to 5 p.m. on Sunday. This is a great opportunity to get up close and personal with rescued farm animals.

The Annual Larry Noel 15K Foot Race will be held on Sunday at 5 p.m. Registration is at 3:30 p.m. at the Youth Center. The starting line is on Northway and Woodland Way. This event is sponsored by the DC Roadrunners.

And finally, for the kids, the Lions Club will once again sponsor the annual "Bikes and Trikes" entry in the Labor Day Parade on Monday morning. Contestants will meet at the Mother and Child Statue in Roosevelt Center Mall at 9:30 a.m.

Art/Photo Shows

The annual art show, which is sponsored by the Greenbelt Association for the Visual Arts (GAVA), and a separate photo show open on Saturday at 1 p.m. in the Community Center. These events showcase the wealth of local talent in Greenbelt and surrounding areas. Entries are judged and ribbons awarded in various age categories for art works and in general categories for photos. A tour of these two galleries provides a very enriching experience. It also provides a cool and quiet respite from the activity of the carnival and the stage events.

Information Day

Many of the community's service groups and several Greenbelt businesses and organizations will operate information tables located in Roosevelt Mall on Saturday from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. It's a good time to talk to the volunteers in some of the city's nonprofit groups and the owners of businesses. No selling will occur at these tables but information will abound.

Festival Committee

The Greenbelt Labor Day Festival Committee will operate an information booth throughout the festival as well as a phone line at 301-345-0204. The booth, located directly across from the stage, will also be the center for the committee's fundraising activities. Beautiful 50th Festival commemorative T-shirts will be for sale from the booth – a green tie-dye and a plain grey one.

Raffle tickets for $200 worth of Co-op groceries will be sold, as well as raffle tickets for a discontinued Longaberger wooden/woven panel chest, a 50/50 drawing and a $25 gift certificate from Jaspers. Drawings for all raffles will take place on Monday afternoon. Even as the festival goes on, fundraising (which is very important to the success of the festival) continues.

Individuals in the information booth can provide directions to a favorite booth (although maps are provided at two locations on the grounds) and answer questions relating to any other part of the festival.

While there, thank the volunteers (or any volunteer you see at the festival – identified by Dobson worked on this film for over 18 months, primarily using a computer to produce the special effects and the GATE studio green screen for filming the actors. Dobson is also a member of the local Greenbelt rock band "Adrenaline." Two members of the band star in the movie. "Adrenaline" will perform at the Labor Day Festival stage on Sunday at 5 p.m. other picnic food were plentiful as everyone braved the summer heat to cheer on the home teams.

The 65-lb team tied their opponents, the Unity Thunder, 6 to 6, with Greenbelt MVPs: Victor Wainwright for defense and Bacarri Mapp for offense.

The 75-lb team had strong opposition despite their early touchdown, with a final score of 26 to 7 in favor of the other team. Greenbelt MVPs were Malachi Alexander, the kicker, for defense; and Donte Scales for offense.

The 85-lb and 95-lb teams were unable to score against their counterparts, although the 95-lb team was able to hold its opponents to 6. MVPs for Greenbelt in those weight classes were: Michael Adeyeye and Quentin Douglas for defense and Marquist Brookings and Denny Long, the two offense players.

Cheerleading

The cheerleading squads now have a total of 18 girls from ages 5 to 13 but more Greenbelt girls are invited to join the squads. They must commit to the full practice schedule three nights per week and regular attendance at the weekend games on either Saturday or Sunday during the season. For more information call Cheerleading Commissioner Teddy Lowder at 301-864-8771.

BEFORE

Mike Roberts of Greenbelt is the grand winner of the McCarl Dental Group Smile Makeover contest. Mike has spent years feeling self-conscious about his smile. His severely broken and decayed teeth affected his speech, appetite and overall well being. Providing Mike with an extraordinary smile was just the beginning; he now eats a variety of foods and his quality of life has greatly improved. "It's fantastic to be able to smile again, which I haven't done in a long time," Mike says. The McCarl Dental Group is pleased and proud to have been able to help a member of our community!

AFTER

It's never too late to give yourself a beautiful smile. For over three generations the McCarl family has provided a full range of dental services to Greenbelt and the surrounding communities. In the past, cosmetic dentistry was only for the wealthy. Today, however, cosmetic dentistry is affordable and available to everyone. Give someone you love the gift of a smile!
