Additional appointments in the near future are anticipated as the number of enlistments swells. Captain Bates stated to the Cocaptain Bates stated to the Co-operator, "I have been compelled to overlook much excellent material in selecting officers be-cause of lack of squads over which to place them. I hope that these men will attract more recruits, as our maximum has been raised to 100.

"I wish to emphasize with re-gard to enlistments that this is purely a home defense unit for local protection only. There should be no hesitation to join on the part of those men who are not now actively engaged in civilian de-fense activities.

"As a final word, to all inter-ested, I wish to state that it has been indicated that of the 37 companies in the Ninth Battalion, Greenbelt ranks with the first two outstanding units, and is striving to be an undisputed first. Those who like to belong with the 'winners', are urged to fall in with this outfit."

Citizen's Association Committee To Sponsor Group Buying

The executive committee of the Greenbelt Citizens' Association in a meeting Wednesday, August 12, moved to again sponsor member-ship group-purchasing privileges extended by certain Washington stores. The suggestion that membership meetings be interspersed with some form of entertainment also received approval.

John Marshall, treasurer, an-nounced that a sum of approxi-mately $15 of prize money re-mained undistributed from the Fourth of July celebration due to the fact that some sports events were not run. This sum is to be distributed among the organiza-tions contributing in proportion to the amount given.

The group-purchasing privileges, arranged last year in cooperation with Norment D. Hawkins of Washington, affords Greenbelt citwashington, affords Greenbelt cit-izens the opportunity of purchas-ing such items as house furnish-ings, electrical appliances, and sporting goods at discounts of 10 per cent to 35 per cent. Present membership cards may be present-ed to President Stanley Ostler for renewal, and additional cerds for renewal and additional cards for new members will be available in the near future.

Announcing that any liklihood of retaining the present transpor-tation system in Greenbelt was now probably remote, Arthur L. Rysticken, local representative at the Public Utilities Commis-sion hearings at Baltimore Tues-day and Wednesday, said Wed-nesday night that the only hope for commuters lay in an alternate plan to extend the Riverdale bus line to Greenbelt. line to Greenbelt.

Petitions Presented

Petitions Presented In his testimony before the Commission, in which he present-ed the petitions signed by a large percentage of Greenbelt citizens, Mr. Rysticken pointed out that his suggested alternate, although not cutting off 159,000 yearly bus miles, as proposed in the reversion to a "shuttle bus" system would, would eliminate over 100,000 bus miles. His pro-posal included the substitute of 45-seat buses instead of the present 27-seat vehicles now used on that line. It was his belief, he on that line. It was his belief, he said, that the substitution would accommodate both Greenbelters and residents of Riverdale.

Overcrowding Shown

Presented as part of his evi-dence were figures showing the overcrowded conditions already existing on the Beltsville and Branchville street-cars, which would take on the additional load of Defense-working Greenbelters if Capital Transit's petition were granted. To take care of the overflow caused by the change, Capital Transit representatives said they planned to add several street-cars to the present line. It was brought out by Mr. Rysticken Presented as part of his evistreet-cars to the present line. It was brought out by Mr. Rysticken at this point that after the new Branchville Road is completed, and the Greenbelt bus uses that route rather than the one through Berwyn, there will be absolutely no shelter at the Branchville transfer point, and asked that if the petition is granted some shelter be built to protect pass-engers against inclement weather. It was estimated by Mr. Ry.

It was estimated by Mr. Ry-sticken that final decision will be made not sooner than six or eight weeks, during which time he has been granted permission to gather additional evidence and prepare a brief for further study.

Annual Swimming Bus Line Change Ordinance Gives Legal Status To Defense Corps; Town Council Approves Rysticken as Commander

) COOPERATOR

By PHIL WEXLER

The existence of the Greenbelt Civilian Defense Corps has been made legal by an ordinance passed Thursday night, August 13 by the Town Council. Though the Corps was organized at the request of the Town Council it never possessed until the present time an official or legal status in Greenbelt.

The ordinance, which becomes part of the Town Code, provides for a Defense Council which will be composed of nine citizens who are not actively engaged in any of the Corps' activities, and who will act as a liason group between the Defense Corps and Town Council.

The recreation report for July, submitted to the Town Council at the meeting of August 13 by Rec-reation Director Ben Goldfaden, indicates a decrease in the use of the facilities available as com-pared with 1941 figures.

"Wet weather—one of the rain-iest summers we have had," was Director Goldfaden's explanation for a decline in the use of tennis courts.

The Greenbelt Minute Men, now numbering 75, meet 8 o'clock Tuesday nights at the east door of the Elementary School for drill and instruction. More field work is scheduled for the weeks ahead, with a Sunday schedule ahead, with a Sunday schedule for rifle practice and maneuvers in the area around the town.

Legion Offers Program Sunday

Rained out last Wednesday and postponed, the American Legion record collection program will be held Sunday at 6 p.m., Comdr. Virgil Estes announces. The band concert will be given on the lawn of the Elementary School, and in case of rain the program will be moved to the auditorium.

Old or broken phonograph records should be brought to the Sunday affair, to be traded in for new records to be sent to men in the armed services. Any one with more records than can be carried conveniently is asked to call Mr. Estes, phone 3021, so that a collection can be arranged.

The association has been asked by the Town Council to sponsor Greenbelt's Russian War Relief drive. Mr. Ostler states that the proceeds from the initial fall dance may be turned over for this cause.

Weather Holds Down

Local Racket Play

The Greenbelt Tennis Tournament got off to a very poor start this week and it was not due to lack of enthusiasm. Players came down to the courts in groups only to be driven under the umbrella stand by the falling weather. There were only three singles matches played to a finish. This week end will probably see a lot more written in the records.

Bob Porter, court attendant, was the only player to get a real workout, and that was from mop, 1ather than racket wielding.

Ann Martone, playing a smooth effortless game, defeated Margaret Plackett, 6 to 4 and 6 to 1. Wallace Sherertz lasted too long for Bob Porter and won 5-7, 6-0 and 6-2. Sol Lebowitz took Bill Moore, 6-3 and 6-4.

Milk Club Members May Collect Rebate

Members of the Greenbelt Milk Club may be able to collect funds paid to Maryland Farms Dairy when the dairy raised the price of milk, Mrs. Ella Roller, one of the milk club leaders, has announced.

The Milk Club recently filed a complaint against Maryland Farms Dairy for alleged violation of the OPA price ceiling order.

An OPA spokesman stated that without WPB sanction the Maryland Farms would be subject to suit by milk club customers who, if conviction were handed down in court could collect triple dam-ages with a $50 minimum.

All blackout provisions will hereafter be strictly enforced and violators will be prosecuted to the limit of the law, Director of Public Safety George Pana-goulis said. One Year Ago

Just one year ago we shifted from a photo-offset process to a printed newspaper. The increased cost and other problems loomed as something of a gamble in the change, but looking back from this vantage point we see a better newspaper, improved finances, a larger staff, and a circulation half again as large as in August 1941.

We are out of the woods now, and our energies can be wholly devoted toward applying those finishing touches which our publishing job has so long required and never received.

Ours is not a professional staff, nor a privately-owned paper. Your neighbors whose names appear in the masthead at the top of this column donate from two to many many hours per week so that you may have this service of news and opinion about our town regularly and free. In a very real sense this is your newspaper, and you are increasingly demonstrating your appreciation of that realization by phoning news tips, social items, editorial suggestions, and questions to staff members. Your response in recent weeks has been most gratifying to every regular worker on the Cooperator. With your continued help we shall soon have a town newspaper which you will be proud to mail to your friends or relatives.

Hey, You!

Yes, you way over there. We don't know your name yet, neighbor, but you and 13 others are needed right now as plane spotters for Greenbelt's civilian defense program.

Day and night, in rain or blazing sun, the loyal group of spotters have been working their own shifts and extra time as well for your protection. Now we need a few hours help from you. Phone Virgil Estes, Ed Kaighn, Cy Turner, or Tom Freeman now before you put this paper down and forget.

Correction Please

When amateurs publish a newspaper they make mistakes. For the first time in many months we feel a need for apologizing. The front page headline in last week's Cooperator "Air Raid Catches Greenbelt Unprepared; Spotters Needed" should have read "Air Raid Finds Greenbelt Prepared; Spotters Needed." It was just one of those unexplainable slips which went past the copy desk and past the editor without being noticed for correction.

Our ARP preparations here are so well organized and efficient that we think few were mislead by the careless headline.

If there was any resident in doubt the demonstration of efficiency in the practice blackout of Tuesday, this week, certainly dispelled uncomplimentary notions. The report

Greenbelt Citizens Association

Being president of the Greenbelt Citizens Association sounds like an enviable position, but we are afraid Stan Ostler, as well as Abe Chasanow, Frank Lastner, and the others who have served agree that it is a thankless headache. To the Citizens Association falls the job of representing all of us in contacts with other communities.

Everyone resident in town is a member of the Association, but there have been occasions when but a handful appeared at meetings. This has always presented a problem in the extent to which the organization as such could speak for the community. But if this Association can not represent all of us, then neither can any other organization. The few critics who have from time to time made a point of how poorly the G. C. A. speaks for Greenbelt would do well to spend more time in building the Association to the strength and importance it should have and keep.

The present move to include a well-organized entertainment as part of each monthly meeting should go far to improve attendance. With the increase of wartime tension and the decrease of transportation available for recreation home talent should prove popular this year. If the officers of the Association can provide this they will have made available a service we can all appreciate, and at the same time we shall have been induced to take part in the deliberations of the Association on town affairs.

The first Monday of every month, at the Citizens Association meetings, is your opportunity to suggest community improvements, praise or criticise the town officials, holler bloody murder about the things you don't like, and talk things over with your neighbors. Here is your chance to practice democracy-and learn how to use it wisely.

Roy S. Braden, community manager, will be the guest speaker for the Community Church services this Sunday at 11 o'clock. Irving D. Johnston will conduct the opening and closing ceremonies.

The regular midweek meeting will be held in the music room of the elementary school building on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock.

To The Editor: The Citizens' Association is issuing a call for volunteers to form a local talen group to provide entertainment at the close of each association meeting. Be a Grease Saver

Pouring dynamite down the drain, that's what you're doing. Mrs. Greenbelt, every time you throw away the drippings from our frying pans and broilers. Clogging up the war and your drains at the same time.

Fats are essential war material. We get glycerine from grease, and glycerine is needed to make explosives. Two pounds of grease produce enough glycerine to make dynamite for five rounds of antiaircraft fire.

To be a grease saver: (1) Strain pan and broiler drippings through double layer of cheesecloth into clean coffee or shortening can; (2) cover fats and store in refrigerator; (3) To clarify used fats with objectionable color, taste or odor just melt fat with an equal volume of water, heat a short time at moderate temperature, stirring occasionally, let cool, remove fat; (4) never let fat get hot enough to smoke as that may be irritating, gets rancid faster, and gives less desirable flavor to food; (5) if you have one pound or more of waste fat, sell it to your butcher.

People who have had either ama-teur or professional experience, persons who can perform any type of specialty act, magician acts, dances or a dance team, songsters or people experienced in leading community-sing festivals, barbershop quartets, instrument players, monologue deliverers or those per-sons interested in performing skits and sketches, amateur shows or minstrel shows are needed to es-tablish this group. The performances and exhibitions presented by this talent club are expected to take a full half-hour or longer depending upon the type of perform-ance given. This group will develop its own programs for the type of entertainment to be pre-sented at the Citizens' Association meetings and it will be meetings and it will be part of the association's social activities functions.

Minute Men Back From Guard Camp

By BENJAMIN ROSENZWEIG With considerably more military aplomb than when they left town, Greenbelt's contingent of Minute Men have returned from a hectic week at Camp Herbert R. O'Conor. They bore the laurels of military victory with a certain modest as-surance, and their department was that of seasoned—and dampened -veterans.

As adjuncts of Company A of the Ninth Battalion of the State Guard they fulfilled the expecta-tions of their local commander, Capt. Henry A. Bates, and also command the work of Command opened the eyes of Company A officers, who in parting, stated that they had added to the laurels of the Ninth Battalion.

Company A was cited for ex-cellence in dress, deportment, collence in dress, deportment, maintenance of quarters on the company street, and in their con-tribution in putting the Ninth Battalion for the first leg up on the Governor O'Conor Trophy for high score in the three-position rifle match held at camp. Capt. Waldo Burnside, at the farewell dinner given at Hyattsville to the Guardsmen in honor of them per-formance at camp, stated that the qualms originally entertained about the Minute Men were wiped out by their actions, especially when their rifle scores were found to be extremely helpful in win-ing the trophy rather than the ex-pected detriment. Encore: They were all invited to remain in the State Guard permanently. State Guard permanently.
