

Reps Nose Out Manhattan Auto 7-6 To Win County League Title

By BILL MOORE

The softball Representatives of Greenbelt downed Manhattan Auto 7 to 6 at Braden Field last Friday and became Prince Georges title-holder for the third time in four years. Greenbelt played the selfish host to the league this summer, all the battles being fought under the lights of Braden Field.

Close Scores

The Reps romped through the half undefeated and slumped enough in the next heat for Manhattan Auto to scoot in first. Two 1-run victories were crown-winning efforts for the locals in the play-off.

A tournament of league champions to be held at the Washington Softball Stadium beckons the Reps. Winner of this tourney will represent Washington in the South Atlantic regional tourney in Baltimore next month.

Marack, Goldfaden Star

The clubbing of Bob Marack and Ben Goldfaden was the tool with which the Reps built their championship in the finale. Marack had a triple and single to drive in three runs. Goldfaden banged out three hits, including a two-bagger.

Curt Barker hurled fine ball until the last two innings when he gave up five of the six free passes he issued during the game. Generally though, he was good in the tight spots, whiffing nine Automen in all.

FWA Says $587,000 Ready for Hospital

Construction of a hospital in Prince Georges County became a certainty Tuesday when the county board of commissioners received formal notification of the Federal Government's willingness to make available the necessary funds. However, there are no indications that the hospital may be constructed in Greenbelt.

In a letter to the board, Henry J. Sullivan, assistant regional director of the Federal Works Agency, said that he was prepared to recommend the appropriation of $587,000 for the construction of a 100-bed hospital and a 15-bed-nurses' home, both to be built by the FWA and leased to the county for operation by the county.

Mr. Sullivan stated that the building was to be of brick with concrete floors in the basement and over the wings and with composition-covered wood floors over the basement.

The commissioners have already accepted the recommendation of a special committee named to select a site for the proposed hospital and have taken an option of a 20-acre tract adjoining the Prince Georges Golf and Country Club at Landover.

Theatre Opens Bond Drive September 1 With Ceremony

Inaugurating a drive to sell more War bonds and stamps, the Greenbelt Theater will hold a short program before the 9 o'clock feature on Tuesday, September 1. Highlighting the affair will be a short speech by Town Manager Roy S. Braden and a colorful ceremony in which local members of the armed forces will participate.

The drive has been organized on a national scale with 15,000 theaters across the country serving as collection stations. It is expected that by the end of September one billion dollars will have been contributed at these theaters.

Jack Fruchtmann, manager of the Greenbelt Theater, is sure that patrons will respond as enthusiastically as they have to past drives. He feels that pledging 10 per cent is not enough, since we are all still spending some money on pleasures and can afford to participate in such a necessary cause. Mr. Fruchtmann adds that patriotic citizens can help further by volunteering to sell the bonds and stamps in the theater lobby. He would like to have some one on duty whenever the theater is open.

Theater Buying Ambulances

In addition to serving as a collection agency, the Greenbelt Theater is also making a direct contribution.

Health Association Picks New Manager

The appointment of Delbert C. Mesner, 21-B Parkway Rd., as business manager of the Greenbelt Health Association, effective September 3, has been announced by President Sherrod East. This position has not been filled since William R. Stewart resigned over a year ago.

Mr. Mesner is secretary of the Citizens' Association and a staff member of the Cooperator.

It was announced at the same time that Dr. Samuel R. Berenberg, who has been gone since June, 1941, has accepted a contract offered him by the board of directors of the association. Dr. Berenberg is now returning from Alaska. Word was received by Mrs. Berenberg in New York that they would be here about September 15.

Panagoulis Corps Controller; Attick Auxiliary Police Head

By PHIL WEXLER

George Panagoulis has been appointed as chief air raid warden and controller of the Control Center at Greenbelt. The former position is an old one and the latter a new one. As controller, Mr. Panagoulis will be in complete charge of routing all men and equipment in time of practice or actual air raid to the various locations designated as "incidents."

His duty will be to receive all reports and calls from the Control Center in Branchville and relay the information to the chiefs of units in Greenbelt. He will also receive reports from the chiefs during such emergency and will assist them in sending help wherever it is needed. The controller can overrule any decision by any chief as to where and how much equipment and manpower will be sent to an "incident" in time of an actual or practice raid. He is responsible directly to the commander.

Auxiliary Police Chief

Commander Rysticken announces the appointment of Albert "Buddy" Attick as chief of the Auxiliary Police of the Civilian Defense Corps. Buddy is one of our oldest residents having come to Greenbelt with the construction crew in which he served as guard, and later, as platoon chief of the Fire Department. Later he worked for the Town Administration and finally, was appointed to the regular Police Force in 1938. He acts as officer-in-charge when Chief George Panagoulis is away from Greenbelt and has had experience in training many auxiliary policemen for our civilian defense program. Mr. Attick will have full responsibility of recruiting and training auxiliary policemen and policewomen for day and night duty in Greenbelt. A full training course will be announced in the very near future and volunteers can register at the Fire House with Mr. Attick.

Specialized Duties of Chiefs

Due to the enormous increase in the size of the town the Defense Corps will necessarily be composed of larger units and divisions and all chiefs will be held responsible for the proper functioning and training of their respective units. To this end, all chiefs are expected to devote their time exclusively to organizing their units so that Greenbelt can be assured of proper protection in case of emergency.

The Defense Corps has not, as yet, appointed anyone to fill the vacancy of chief of the Auxiliary Firemen. Commander Rysticken reports that he expects to make this appointment some time next week. Other appointments placing responsible men and women in charge of the Defense Corps units here in Greenbelt are expected in the near future.

Defense Registration

Mrs. Helen Rogers reports that almost two-thirds of the town has been canvassed for defense registration. People who are interested in signing up for local defense duties are requested to hand in their application forms as soon as possible. Indicate on the form the type of defense work you would like to do in addition to filling out the routine questions on the form.

"But Names Will Not Hurt Them" Other towns may call them "block wardens" or "welfare wardens" but in Plaquemine, La., they are plain "blockheads" and it is an honored title. The Women's Division of the Defense Council has appointed a woman in each block to take complete responsibility for defense activities in her block—therefore the "blockheads".

A token of thanks and appreciation must go to the residents of the Defense homes for their participation in Defense Corps work here in Greenbelt. Many of the residents are enlisted military personnel but this fact hasn't discouraged them from enlisting their aid wherever and whenever necessary to complete important civilian defense posts here in town.

Blood Bank

Mrs. Virginia Harris reports that she is still taking in at least one carload of residents each week to the Washington Blood Bank. People who are interested in donating to this worthy cause are requested to make appointments—and not to break them at the last possible moment. This causes embarrassment to Mrs. Harris who has to explain to the Red Cross and to the Hyattsville Motor Corps that she cannot fill the expected number of cars requested. People who are ready to go in for their second trip do not have to wait until they are contacted. Call Mrs. Harris and tell them you wish a repeat performance—this goes as well for residents who may care to contribute to the Blood Bank but are waiting until someone calls for them. Do your share and make your appointments with Mrs. Harris.

New Students To Register Sept. 3 For Entrance to Local Schools

Although classes do not commence until Wednesday, September 9, new students entering either the Elementary School or the High School are asked to register on Thursday, September 3, between 9 and 12 a. m. at the Elementary School, it has been announced by C. Paul Barnhart, principal of the Greenbelt High School, who is in charge of the registration of both schools.

Children who are five years old, or who will be that age by January 1, 1943, may be registered for the Kindergarten on Tuesday, September 8, between 9 and 12 a. m. at the Elementary School.

New Teachers Listed

New teachers to begin the fall term at the High School are Miss Gladys Dickerson, formerly of Howard County, to teach home economics and biology; Mrs. Anne Lueth, of the University of Maryland, social sciences and commercial subjects; Miss Charlotte Stubbs, of the University of Maryland, mathematics; Miss Aileen Williams, of the University of Maryland, commercial subjects; and Ben Sheldon, of Wyoming, to teach industrial arts.

Those former teachers who will be back this year are Miss Catherine Councell, French and English; Miss Violet Younger, English; Miss Rose Nudo, physical education and mathematics; Miss Ellen Smith, home economics; Mrs. Helen Trucksess, English, Latin, and music; Mrs. Glennis Kabat, social sciences, and Paul Brengie, sciences.

It was Mr. Barnhart's conjecture that 400 students would be enrolled before the end of this year.

Mrs. Catherine T. Reed, principal, announces the following staff of teachers for the fall term at the Elementary School:

Miss Florence Lieberman, Miss Margaret Gwynn, Mrs. Betty Rathell, Mrs. Rowena Whittaker, Mrs. Naomi Thomas, Miss Virginia Harkum, Mrs. Mildred Parker, Mrs. Genevieve Gerrits, Miss Emily Clinart, Miss Ruby Collier, Mrs. Sarah Walton, Mrs. Dorothy East, Mrs. Rachelle Roberts.

Former students in the local schools are not required to register but will begin school on the ninth of September.

Selection of four kindergarten teachers has not yet been completed, but will probably be announced next week. About 200 children are expected to be accommodated in four sessions of two hours each. Only those children whose fifth birthday will occur before January 1 may attend this year's kindergarten. The social room in the basement of the Elementary School will serve as quarters for this group.

Legion Collects 600 Old Records

To carry on the collection of phonograph records for our armed forces, already so successfully inaugurated, the local American Legion post is making a house-to-house canvass this week and next for more old records to add to the 600 turned in last Sunday at the special program held in the Elementary School. These records will be traded for new ones which will be distributed to the fighting men through the United Service Organizations.

A concert by the local band featured the program Sunday. Short speeches were made by Comdr. Virgil Estes, Dr. James W. McCarl, and Roy S. Braden, who were introduced by Chairman Roy Bell. The program closed with the playing of the National Anthem, and the retiring of the colors by the Legion officers.

Band Plays for C Block

The local band, "rained out" for the past two weeks, held a concert for the residents of "C" block last Wednesday evening.

The 'Enemy' Blows Up 'The Works' in Minute Men 'War'

By BEN ROSENZWEIG

If you had lights in your home last Tuesday night after 9:30 p.m., you weren't playing cricket because the "enemy," disguised as Pvt. Morris Terkeltaub of the second platoon of the Minute Men blew up the transformer station with a "hand grenade" despite a valiant defense by the first platoon who went down fighting.

Using flashlights for "ammunition," the first platoon of Greenbelt's home guard was dispatched on the double to guard the new station on Crescent Road, when word of an approaching "enemy" was received. The moon was also blacked out for the occasion, but not in cooperation with the maneuvers, we are reliably informed; merely an eclipse. Searchlights playing overhead added realism to the maneuver.

After many flashy encounters which decimated the ranks of the second platoon, our hero sneaked in with a detachment of "corpses" being marched in to join the "late First Sergt. Ed Stacey," who was shot while crawling out of a drain pipe of the sewerage system. When the backs of the defenders and the corpses were turned, the terrible "Terk" shot a last sentry and blew up the works, which retired the first platoon in confusion.

Capt. Harry Bates expressed his satisfaction with the maneuver and announced that Friday night a second meeting would be held under the new plan of two meetings each week to speed up the training program. At that time a reconnaissance party will be organized to study the roads surrounding the airport.

A schedule of rifle practice is being worked out in cooperation with the Gun Club.

Citizens Association Sets First Meeting of Fall

The first fall meeting of the Greenbelt Citizens Association will be held September 14 according to Stanley Ostler, president. Although the regular time is the first Monday of each month, the meeting is postponed until the second Monday since the 7th is Labor Day.

Not Music Alone

Our Greenbelt Band gives us not only music but a community enterprise which keeps us continually working together. It is now an established social institution which has found a dozen ways in which to serve our town.

The latest novelty introduced to our community program is the prospect of the old-fashioned ice cream social being revived here Sunday, September 6. Typical of small town life the ice cream social should find an annual niche in our schedule. With the band playing and a program of entertainment in progress we shall eat our cake and ice cream in a nostalgic mood.

While most bands have to solicit funds for their upkeep ours pays its way. Proceeds from the forthcoming social will be applied towards the purchase of 17 more uniforms.

Larger than ever, the band is now planning a fall schedule of concerts which will demand the continued fine training of Paul Garrett, and the constant support of the Parents' Board headed by S. Hartford Downs. We learn that another feeder band is being contemplated if space can be made available this fall. In the meantime new children in Greenbelt who have had previous band experience should apply to the Auditorium any Friday night between 7 and 9 o'clock in order to join the Greenbelt Band. Bass instruments are in particular demand just now.

The Seven Points

Several months have passed since the President in a punchy message to Congress outlined a seven-point program to hold down the cost of living, and little except price control, one of the seven points, has been put into effect yet.

Let's look at the seven points and what has happened to them thus far:

Tax heavily. In February the Treasury outlined a proposed tax measure. The House Ways and Means Committee has chewed over it for six months until little is left. They appear to lack the intestinal fortitude to tap the wealth where it is to be found. The Treasury opposes a sales tax, but Congress may adopt one as a last resort. Meanwhile, we lack the heavy taxes which the President called for to curb inflation and pay at least a part of the stupendous war cost.

Fix prices and rents. Henderson has done it. It is still too early to pronounce judgment, but this is bold "offensive" warfare anyway.

Limit incomes to $25,000. Congress shivers at the thought. The picture of poor, shivering, hungry $25,000-a-year men roaming our streets is too much for them to bear. The Treasury modified the proposal and made it specific recently, but the House Committee shelved it.

Fix farm prices at parity. Nothing has been done. Farm commodity prices can go to 110 per cent of parity before price control can be applied. Thus most of our staple foods are exempted from price control. Why?

Put a ceiling on wages. This, too, is still at the talking stage. Though the War Labor Board ruling on the Little Steel case (a 15 per cent wage boost to correspond with similar boost in living costs during the past year) is being talked up by newspapers as a possible measuring stick for a future wage ceiling, pre-election fear of labor's reaction has prevented formation of clear-cut policy. In the meantime, the upward trend of wages is undeniably an inflationary force. It is also putting civilian industry (especially small civilian industry) in a pincers of increasing production costs and stationary price structure.

Sell more war bonds. The people are doing it. The June and July quotas exceeded.

Ration all necessities that are scarce. Sugar has been added to the rationed commodities, and there is still plenty of sweet for the average tooth. Why not add coffee and other items, now, and thus free transport for war duty? Gasoline is rationed in the east—but not to curb inflation.

Discourage credit buying. This was begun before the President announced his program.

Pressure on the price ceilings is becoming dangerously high. Henderson is having his hands full to enforce them.

This pressure would be eased if more restrictions on buying were applied, that is, more rationing.

To win the war it is just as important for civilians to consume less as it is for them to produce more. Rationing is the fair and democratic way to cut consumption.

Our Greenbelt Reps took the County Softball League title this week, bringing the eyes of neighboring communities to the home town again. This sort of athletic participation is probably building up friendlier relations with the rest of Prince Georges County better than any other single activity.

Timely Facts for Consumers

Poorer Quality Shoes at Higher Prices Feared Unless Ceilings By Grade Are Provided

Watch your shoes and make them last. Repair them whenever possible. This is the advice of government leather specialists who foresee relatively poorer wearing qualities of civilian shoes now coming on the market.

New shoes, especially in the higher price brackets, will be made of lower grade leather because the needs of the armed services will absorb the entire supply of high grade leathers. This information was given to the Cooperative League as a result of checking on a release issued by the Consumer's Division of the Office of Price Administration on July 31st saying that "from 10 to 15 per cent longer wear under wet conditions is expected for shoes as a result of federal specifications recently issued by the National Bureau of Standards."

According to the leather specialists, the Consumers' Division erred in proclaiming the additional wear for shoes, because the specifications apply to the soles only. Also, the extent of the additional wear is not yet fully known since the tests are still in progress. Some soles showed an increased wear of 30 per cent, and some none at all. It may prove to be necessary for the Army to re-dip the sole leather so that the oil content goes as high as 8 per cent to get maximum service from the leather. And, more important, there is no assurance all tanners will meet these new specifications, even if they are proved to be worthy.

It is doubtful that shoe rationing will go into effect for some time, as all sources of information point to heavy inventories and light consumer demand. However, in the event of scare buying or sudden scarcity, rationing of shoes will become a certainty in order to evenly distribute the civilian supply.

Consumer standard experts in the government want shoe standards for men, women and children in A, B, and C grades of quality, ceiling-priced in terms of grade. They say present shoe price ceilings become a mockery without quality standards as were finally established during World War I. The shoe industry has been battling the institution of adequate standardized qualities for shoes for six months.

OUR NEIGHBORS

By SALLY MEREDITH

Hello, Greenbelt: Twenty-eight cents for entertainment, twenty-five cents for Victory—that's not asking too much, is it? And since the local theater is participating in the national theater War bond and stamp drive, the least we can do is spend the same amount for future existence as we do for a movie. The movie, by the way, will be "Mr. V," starring Leslie Howard. Appropriate, isn't it?

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bates of Greenbelt announce the marriage of their daughter, Doris, to Lloyd Barnes of Washington, formerly of Muskogee, Okla. The ceremony was performed at the home of Rev. Wilmer P. Johnston of Berwyn Heights, August 20. They were attended by Mrs. Paul Cherry and Richard Bates, brother of the bride. Following the wedding, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. A variety shower was given for Miss Bates on August 14, at the home of Mrs. Ed Halley. Now visiting Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bates is Mrs. Bates' mother, Mrs. A. R. Vosburgh.

Mrs. Cliff Cockhill has returned from two weeks in Augusta, Ga. How are the red old hills, Blondie?—Mrs. Shirley Levine left yesterday morning for New York. Her brother, Arnold Rothbard, who has been visiting her here, returned with her. She'll be gone a couple of weeks.—Lorraine Buck, 3-A Gardenway Road, returned Saturday from a two months' vacation with her grandparents at Miami Beach, Fla. She says she had a wonderful time and thought Florida very beautiful, but was glad to get back to Greenbelt and all her friends here. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hnatysh left Wednesday for New York. They'll be back in two weeks.

It's quite a change in the daily library routine to have as a patron a five months' old lion cub, even a lion cub with a cute name like "Cimba," isn't it, Mrs. Harris? A Greenbelter from way back, friend to everybody in town, Officer "Buddy" Attick, has been appointed Chief of Auxiliary Police. Nice going, Buddy.

Miss Shirley Mitchell returned Wednesday from Ocean City, New Jersey, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Breen returned Sunday from Albany, New York, and Philadelphia.—Mrs. William R. Stewart was visited here by her niece, Irene Magnuson, of Portland, Connecticut.—The Tessim Zorach's had a housewarming last Saturday night.

The young people of Bethel Pentecostal Tabernacle, Washington, D. C., conducted an outing Saturday, August 15, at the Greenbelt Recreational Grounds. Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Vickers of Greenbelt directed a number of games in badminton, volleyball, croquet, horse shoes, et cetera. An outdoor supper was served to a group of seventy at Indian Springs. The outing was concluded by an open air devotional service near the lake under the direction of Mr. George Robey, assisted by Mr. August Johnson. Rev. William A. Ward, assistant pastor of Calvary Gospel Church, Washington, D. C., gave an address.

We announce this week the wedding two weeks ago of Miss Virginia Johnson to Ross Sodine, of Greenbelt. They were married in Arlington, Virginia, and will spend their honeymoon in Cleveland, Ohio.

Thought for the Week Department: See you at the movies, Tuesday night. Two good bargains—$25 War Savings Bonds for $18.75, and an excellent movie for 28 cents.

That's all, until next week.

Reps Drop Initial City Tourney Game To Standard Linen

The Reps, newly crowned champs of the County League, bowed to the Standard Linen ten 3 to 1 in the Washington tournament of champions last Tuesday night.

The Linen runs were unearned, but the Reps could make but one hit off Benny Rubin, and therein lies the story. Ben Goldfaden drove out the lonesome bingle.

The Reps will get another chance in the tourney, as it is being run on the double-knockout system, two losses for elimination.

Working Mothers May Get Nursery

To provide care for the children of working mothers a child care center may be opened in Greenbelt, Mrs. Mary Jane Kinzer told the Cooperator last night. Three million dollars in Federal funds are being made available for the construction, equipping and staffing of all-day nurseries in communities where there are sufficient defense homes to justify such projects.

Miss Edna McNaughton of the University of Maryland, and state chairman of the Committee on Child Care for the Maryland Council of Defense, visited Greenbelt yesterday and urged that this community make application for funds necessary to set up a child care center here. Mrs. Kinzer has already called together a group of interested parents to discuss the possibility, and is now engaged in exploring the requirements for application for funds.

"If we act promptly we may have the first of the child care centers anticipated," Mrs. Kinzer commented after pointing out the vital need in Greenbelt for some organized care for pre-school children of mothers who are working.

A nursery in Greenbelt would accommodate 100 children from 2½ years to 5 years of age under present plans, and would be open to families in which the mother is working, and especially in cases where the father is in military service. Parents would pay a share of the cost on a sliding scale commensurate with their ability to pay.

Application blanks are being distributed tonight to ascertain the number of mothers interested in the proposed nursery. These must be turned in to Mrs. Kinzer at the Administration Office by Tuesday.

Goffen Is Winner In Handball Play; Doubles Next Up

Plans for a handball doubles tournament will be formulated at a meeting in the Recreation Office in the Elementary School Monday, August 31 at 8:00 p. m.

Dave Goffen and Harry Luboff, finalists in a fast, furious singles tourney, waged a keen fight for the championship last Sunday. Goffen was the winner 15 to 12 and 15 to 10.

In the coming doubles scramble the top-flight players will be paired with less able partners.

Shamrocks Lose 3-2 To Hyattsville B. C.

The Hyattsville Police Boys' Club made good their early boast when they downed a once haughty Shamrock nine at Braden Field August 23 by a 3-2 score. It was the fifth loss in the last six games, the second straight league reverse, and the ninth setback in 25 games this season.

Texas Jim Breed was on the mound for the locals and with just a little help from his mates could have turned in a win. The big righthander only gave up seven hits and drove in the Shamrocks' pair of tallies with a long double in the seventh period.

First Aid Meets at 8:15

For the advanced first-aid course that began August 24 classes will be held at 8:15 on Monday nights in room 121 of the Elementary School, instead of at 7:15 as was stated in last week's Cooperator. Although next week's class will be the second, newcomers may start Monday, August 31, and complete the course, it was announced this week.

Fort Washington Whips Shamrocks Second Time, 4-1

Last Saturday, for the second time this season, the Soldiers of Fort Washington invaded Greenbelt and defeated the locals. This time the score was 4 to 1.

The Shamrocks, with the noble exception of Joe Todd, were unable to do anything against the curveballing of Bill Clubb. Todd hit two crispies in four tries.

One Tally In First

The Soldiers scored twice in the first and ninth innings. The Shamrocks scored their lonesome tally in the home half of the first.

The game's only bright spot, as far as the home crowd was concerned, was the fielding antics of Jerry Geyer. On two occasions he committed base robbery on "sure hit" drives back of second. Nine other chances were fielded expertly by the wraithlike Geyer.

Fine Games Pace Second Week Of Tennis Play

The Greenbelt Recreation Department tennis tournament has just completed its second week of play. The weather has still been a drawback but there have been quite a number of matches played in all but the mixed doubles.

Mrs. Ann Martone has reached the final round in her quest for another women's singles championship. Cliff Pierce is further along the men's ladder than any of his constituents, having attained the semi-final round.

Blanchard Doing Well

Bill Blanchard, the defending champion, had little trouble in disposing of Freeman Morgan, 6-2, 6-2. He will meet Wallace Sherertz in the second round.

Mr. Sherertz had a hard time getting started against Bob Porter and dropped the first set 5 to 7, but came on fast to whip Bob 6-0, and 6-2.

Left-handed Dick Irving came within an ace of trimming Steve Comings and really played his legs off before bowing, not in shame, 6-2, 1-6, 8-6.

Other first round matches had plenty spirit and were closely contested. Mr. Pierce edged Leroy Clark 7-5, 6-4. Joe Sheriff pushed back Johnny Murray 6-2, 6-4. Arthur Plackett battled hard against big Ben Goldfaden but couldn't quite make it. Scores were 6-3, 6-4. Cliff Pierce jumped on Sol Lebowitz 6-0, 6-3 in the only second round tilt.

In the women's singles Lois Bowman beat Ora Donaghue 3-6, 6-2, 6-3, in a well played match. Marian Moore downed Helen Johnson 6-1, 6-0. Ann Martone won over Lois Bowman in a second round affair 6-0, 6-3.

Three of the four listed men's doubles matches have been played. Joe Sheriff and Bill Moore pulled an upset when they beat last year's tandem champs, Bill Blanchard and Al Bowman in three hard fought sets 6-4, 4-6, 7-5. Cliff Pierce and Bob Porter beat Dick Irving and Bob Howey in two sets by 6-4, 6-4. Sol Lebowitz and Art Plackett eliminated Johnny Murray and Ben Goldfaden 6-3, 6-4.

By next week the matches will have progressed pretty nearly to the finals, and from the spirit shown thus far, some fine duels are in store for local tennis fans.

Newcomers Welcomed By Women Bowlers

Thursday, August 3, the Women's Bowling Club will hold its final meeting, before the winter league begins play, at the Greenbelt Athletic Clubhouse.

At the last meeting it was noted that few women from the new homes attended. The intent of the club is to welcome as many new people to its folds as possible.

Anyone not placed on teams as yet may call Mrs. Ronnie Wright at Greenbelt 3431, and attend the meeting next Thursday.

Annual Crab Feast Will Be Sept. 15

Crabs and beer will be the fare again Saturday, September 15, at the Legion House when local Legionnaires and their friends gather for their annual crab feast.

Dancing and entertainment are being fitted into the program for the evening to accompany the food and drinks. The crab feast will begin at 5 p.m. Tickets will be on sale by the middle of next week, with Robert Gray, chairman of the committee, in charge.

Handicraft Classes Exhibit Projects

Tuesday and Wednesday of next week the handicraft classes which Mrs. Doris Armstrong has been conducting, will display samples of the projects they have fashioned this summer. The exhibit will be held in room 120 of the Elementary School from 2 to 3 p.m. and from 7 to 8 p.m. each day. Every one is invited to see the interesting work which the youngsters have done.

Nearly a hundred different children have participated in the craft classes this summer, the younger children, 6 to 9 years old meeting every Tuesday and Thursday afternoon for an hour, and the older ones, 10 years and older reporting each Monday, Wednesday and Friday afternoon from 2 to 3 p. m. Summer handicraft classes were conducted for the children last summer and the program has been greatly enlarged this year.

The exhibit will include bean bags and scrapbooks made by the younger group and various stuffed animals, pocketbooks, jackets, pot holders and other sewing projects along with coasters and ash trays made from paper and baskets made from reed by the older children. The reed work proved especially attractive to the youngsters as did the paper work which has just been introduced this year.

Local G-Men Will Feast Sunday at Lake Area

Approximately thirty Greenbelt families will feast on watermelon at Greenbelt Lake Sunday evening at 6 o'clock. They represent an informal organization of the personnel of the Federal Bureau of Investigation residing in Greenbelt.

A wiener roast for the same group was held earlier in the summer, with some twenty families in attendance, but more of J. Edgar Hoover's G-people have moved to Greenbelt recently, and a larger group is expected for the share-expense "drip-feast" Sunday. All local F. B. I. employees are invited, whether or not they have been contacted personally.

Prospects Seem Poor For Meeting Space

Due to the large increase in enrollment at the Elementary School this year, it is doubtful if the various organizations in town will be able to use rooms in the school building for their meetings this year. Mrs. Helen Foley, who is in charge of scheduling rooms for meetings, says that it has not yet been determined whether any rooms will be available for meetings other than the school classes. It is expected that the Auditorium will still be available, however.

Credit Union Fills Committee Vacancies

Henry M. Sidlinger, chairman of the credit committee, and Walter Dickout, member of the same committee turned in their resignations to the Greenbelt Credit Union this week. Lack of time for their personal affairs was the cause.

Bennet Beale and F. N. Meriam were appointed as placements. The latter will serve temporarily.

Swimming Lessons End For 1942 Summer Season

Last Friday, August 21, was the close of the season for swimming lessons, it was announced Tuesday by Mrs. Doris Armstrong. All but three beginners learned to swim and all others advanced in their techniques.

Officers of the Greenbelt Post, American Legion, are inviting all servicemen to attend meetings of the organization the first and third Thursdays of each month. Meetings are held at the Legion House, on the north side of the Glenn Dale Road between the airport and the high school cross roads.

Cooperator Staff Agree On Changes for Paper

In regular monthly staff meeting residents who publish the Greenbelt Cooperator took apart the last several issues of the paper with detailed criticism Wednesday night in the Cooperator office.

Several changes were approved: the addition of a personalized column of comment on current sports trivia, inclusion of a recipe and kitchen hints column, drastic revision of the Calendar of Events, elimination of New Babies as a separate feature, and revamping of the feature One Year Ago.

Suggestions were made for the improvement of news stories and editorials. Approval was voted on the paper's general policies.
