

English Officials Like Local Set-Up

Greenbelt received a pat on the back this week from two notable English visitors, Sir James Grey West, chief architect and director of post-war planning in the British Ministry of Works, and Alfred Bossom, architect and member of Parliament.

The British visitors had been sent to the United States by the Ministry of Works to inspect public and private housing developments as it is expected that England will have to rebuild approximately four million homes after the war.

After having travelled throughout the country the gentlemen were brought to Greenbelt where, according to Town Manager James T. Gobel, they expressed great enthusiasm and said the community is just what they had been searching for, both as to community planning and the types of homes. They were taken to inspect various homes in the town and are reported as having captured one housekeeper's heart by exclaiming on "how charmingly kept" her house was.

Officials Express Appreciation of Aid

Edward E. Stafford, president of the State Contracting Company that is now installing a comprehensive drainage system in the unsodded areas, has expressed his appreciation to Town Manager Gobel and Police Chief Panagoulis of the cooperation shown by parents in keeping their children away from Company equipment and property. Mr. Stafford has his headquarters at 6-K Research Road.

Pierre Ghent and Associates, who designed the drainage system, share an office at 9-D Hillside Road with Oscar Eklund, Government project engineer for Federal Public Housing Authority, who inspects, and O. K.'s the work as it is carried through.

An expenditure of $300,000 has been authorized for the project, which includes the construction of catch basins, storm lines, yard drains, curbs and gutters. Both parking areas and lawns are being regared. The three final processes—laymen, are you listening?—will be "swaling, sodding and seeding", according to Mr. Eklund.

Editors Note: Washington papers please copy. You so kindly pointed out how destructive our children were.

By Bus and By Trolley They Got to the Gallery

The Girl Scouts and Brownies rounded out their observance of scout week with a trip to the National Gallery Saturday afternoon. About eighty scouts took the trip as well as ten leaders and mothers. The Capital Transit Co. had arranged for a special car to be at Branchville so that the children could all go at the same time and would not crowd regular passengers from the cars. The company also had the street car take a special route that let the children out very close to the gallery so they would not have so far to walk.

At the gallery the girls were treated to an illustrated lecture which had been prepared particularly for them and then they were conducted about the gallery. During the lecture they were shown 25 pictures of particular interest to children and were then shown the originals in the gallery.

Mrs. Gerald Campbell announced that she is receiving registrations for the formation of a new scout troop for girls in the age group of ten to fourteen years. The troop will be under the leadership of Mrs. Annabelle Owens. Any girl interested may call Mrs. Campbell. The officers of district number one, Mrs. Lloyd Nelson, chairman, and leaders of all troops in Greenbelt will meet to discuss various problems in room 123 at the elementary school on November 18 at 8:30 o'clock.

Health Assn. Members To Meet New Doctor

Dr. Isabelle Blum, new local physician will attend the Health Association quarterly membership meeting Wednesday evening, at 8:15 p. m. in the elementary school auditorium to meet the G. H. A. members.

Features of the meeting will be a speaker from Washington to discuss the congressional bill to extend social security to cover medical care, a discussion of the problem of hospitalization, election of a board member and an auditing committee.

The board of directors vacancy exists due to resignation of Edward Turner who was elected in February 1943 an whose term was to expire in January 1945.

Commandoes Collect 3900 Lbs. In Drive

The Junior Victory Commandoes are bent on making their final paper salvage tomorrow the biggest to date. As the town isn't completely covered, Mrs. Rolfe Sauls suggests that households that aren't collected from combine their regular morning shopping at the Center with bringing down a wagonload of the neighborhood newspapers to the salvage depot behind the fire station.

Last Saturday's score was 3,900 pounds, which netted $25.14 for the Young People's Dance Fund. Their sixth affair, a barn dance, will be held November 27. Invitations will be issued the preceding Sunday.

Poetry and Woman's Club

The Woman's Club of Greenbelt held their November meeting at the home of Mrs. John Gale. Mrs. George Clark, president, presided. Mrs. Hester Beall Provenson, associate professor, department of speech, University of Maryland, the speaker, spoke on the subject, "There is a verse for it".

Mrs. Provenson stated that for every kind of human emotion somebody has written a poem to give it perfect expression. She quoted from various authors. Mrs. Mattie Blake and Mrs. O. M. Slye were co-hostesses.

The Welfare department of the club under the leadership of Mrs. Linden S. Dodson will hold its first meeting November 18 at the home of Mrs. Comly B. Richie of 56-F Crescent road. There will be a panel discussion on "The Need for a Juvenile Court in Prince Georges County".

Consumer Course Opens

The class studying Consumer cooperation held its first meeting last Sunday. By way of introduction Robert M. St. Clair, the instructor, dealt with the pre-Rochdale period of cooperative development, the social and economic conditions and the early fathers of consumer cooperative thought.

The class decided to hold its sessions Sunday afternoons from 4 to 6 p. m. Persons interested in registering may do so by getting in touch with Mr. St. Clair.

Coal-Oil Shortage Anticipated Here

Community Manager James T. Gobel said this week that the heating problem in Greenbelt this winter will be extremely serious, due to the scarcity of coal and fuel oil and expressed the hope that residents will do their utmost to conserve heat.

Mr. Gobel stated that the town is closely rationed on fuel oil and has been forced to dip into its reserve of coal recently, due to the freezing of coal during the coal strike.

Greenbelters are requested to keep radiators turned off in bedrooms and the doors shut so that the cold air will not circulate throughout the balance of the house. As mentioned last year, pulling window shades during the day will help keep out some of the cold. On warm days, the radiators should be turned off rather than opening windows to cool off the houses.

Sixth Annual Legion Dance Saturday Eve

The local American Legion Post is holding its sixth annual Armistice Day dance at the Legion Home on Saturday, November 13 from 10:00 p. m. to 1:00 a. m. Music is to be furnished by VanCamp and his Cavaliers.

A part of the money raised—admission is 50 cents plus tax—will be used to assist the county Legion organization to purchase an audiometer to test the hearing of school children in the county.

14 Arrests and $90 In Fines Recorded In Oct.

The police department made 14 arrests during the month of October and issued 40 traffic warnings and seven non-traffic warnings. A total of $90.50 was forfeited in town and state fines and costs.

Hallow'en damage this year was the lowest in the history of Greenbelt. Two bent signs was the only damage reported. The fire department received four calls during the month, two brush fires, one automobile fire and one house call.

Librarian Gets Assistant

In the regular monthly report to the town council, the department of adult education announced the addition of a new assistant librarian, Mrs. Marjorie H. Muir.

Mrs. Muir worked at Enoch Pratt Free Library in Baltimore and came to Greenbelt from the Washington County Free library in Hagerstown, Md. She is now living at 3-D Parkway.

The library report for the month of October showed an increase of 22 new books to the shelves, making the total number of volumes 5664.

Mrs. Reba Harris, head librarian, also stated that 1902 books were circulated among adults and 1730 among juveniles during the past month.

Hopes For North End Jitney Wane; Council To Back Youth Court Plan; Police Auto To Get New Equipment

By EILEEN SHERIFF

Hopes for the early establishment of additional transportation for residents living in the northern section of town sank once again as members of the town council dismissed the question without any progressive action at last Friday's meeting in the town office chambers.

Although each councilman expressed the desire to help furnish transportation from the northern part of town to the shopping center, every suggestion for establishing such a service was found to be faulty. Town Manager James T. Gobel stated that Town Solicitor John S. Whie had advised him that the town does not have the authority to run a transportation system within its limits. It was also pointed out that any such means of transportation would have to meet with the approval of the Maryland Public Service Commission as well as the Office of Defense Transportation and that, in view of recent difficulties in maintaining the bus service between Greenbelt and Mount Rainier, it does seem unlikely that such permission would be granted. Several councilmen feel that taking the question to these agencies at this time might even endanger the Greenbelt bus route and local residents might again have bus service only as far as the Branchville shuttle trolley car line.

The question of whether the school bus, which transports students to the high school building daily could be used to convey residents to the outskirts of the town, was answered by Mayor Allan D. Morrison who said the bus is barely able to perform its present duties. Mayor Morrison also pointed out that in order to change the routing of the bus to include more territory it would be necessary to gain permission from the defense transportation agency as the bus is now restricted to the activities for which it was utilized before the war.

Councilman Fred DeJager stated that members of the Citizen's association have shown a great deal of interest in this problem and a committee has been appointed to make further inquiries into the problem.

Recommend Juvenile Court

At the instigation of Councilman Francis J. Lastner, the town council passed a resolution recommending that the commissioners of Prince Georges County apply their efforts toward the establishment of a juvenile court for the county and urging the commissioners to hold a public hearing to discuss the question. The council requested Lastner to represent the town at any hearings or meetings that might be held on this subject.

Councilman Lastner presented a brief history of the establishment of juvenile courts in the country and presented facts showing the need for such an agency in Prince Georges County. Special tribute was given Judge Green who has been striving for a means of handling juvenile delinquents in a special court rather than in the regular criminal court.

Lastner pointed out that although there has not been much need for such a court, one delinquency case in the town would warrant any efforts toward the establishment of an adequate system for dealing with it. One of the important phases of a juvenile court is the follow-up work

'Soup To Nuts' at Russian War Bazaar

Greenbelters, old and new, had better start brushing off their old gray bonnets (with or without the blue ribbons on it) because there are only eight days left before the grand-slam-hit United Nations war relief bazaar.

At 8:30 p. m. in the Elementary school auditorium on November 20, Greenbelt is going to have itself a wonderful time, with all the ingredients from soup (refreshments) to nuts (entertainment) of the very first quality. Not only will everyone have more than a carload of fun, but everyone's fun will be painlessly converted into dollars and cents for Russian war relief.

No matter what your pet form of amusement may be, you'll find a swell edition at the bazaar. Good food and drink for the hungry; dancing professional to admire and a-la-square for self-indulgence—an that's not all!

Mrs. Dorothy Magee, well-known New York illustrator, will devote her talents to thumbnail sketches of the audience.

The knitting booth will feature topnotch instructions and an inspiring display of what can be done with them. The education booth will be overflowing with every kind of fascinating facts about our ally, Russia, and there will be a book table loaded with food for every thought.

Somewhere in between will be the gift sale booth, where patrons will find Christmas shopping problems solved at one glance. Earrings, compacts, jewelry, books, and novelties, each a distinctive gift in itself, will be on sale.

Calling Blood Donors To College Park Nov. 19

The Red Cross mobile blood donor unit will be in College Park November 19 and arrangements have been made for transportation for anyone from Greenbelt who wishes to go to College Park to give a pint of blood.

Those who have made appointments and any others who feel they can go should be at the bus depot at 9:15 o'clock on the morning of November 19. Those who have not made an appointment may call Mrs. D. J. Neff or Mrs. J. L. Rogers after 6 o'clock. There is a very real need for more blood plasma—help save a fighting man's life—give a pint of blood.

Red Cross Canteen Doing Valiant Job Cheering Artillerymen On Lonely Posts

By ANNE HULL

The night sky is frequently criss-crossed by the lights of the Coast Artillery, which maintains its outposts in dreary, out-of-the-way spots all along our shores. The crews who man the lights are from twelve to thirty men strong and live under strict military discipline. Every seventeen days the boys receive half a day's leave, but since they are from two and one half to three miles from transportation, they barely have time to sip a coke in the big city before having to go back to camp. One of the few bright spots in their routine, therefore, is the weekly visit of a Red Cross canteen. The Greenbelt unit, which is the largest in the county, has been "visiting lights" ever since January. Mrs. Daniel J. Neff, their chairman, has many stories, both amusing and pathetic, to tell of her experiences.

Three women go out on canteen duty at a time, in addition to two motor corps girls from Red Cross headquarters. Besides coffee and some kind of baked goods or sandwiches, they carry such morale-builders as books, magazines and radios. There is an especially strong demand for radios, Mrs. Neff reports, as they constitute one of the few contacts with the outside world enjoyed by these boys in the course of their daily routine. The canteen has been able to secure radios for four of the lights it visits, but it still needs another. "It doesn't matter if it's broken," says Mrs. Neff. "Those boys can fix almost anything."

One of the motor corps girls frequently accompanying the Greenbelt unit is Miss Helen Green of the rental department in the administration office.

Each light crew has at least one dog as a mascot. In one case the name is "Tojo". It was because of a litter of puppies that the canteen decided to increase the number of cup cakes allotted per

November Is Christmas Mailing Month This Year

Delivery of the annual flood of Christmas gifts and cards on time, always a serious problem, "will be more than a problem this year—it will be an impossibility—unless Christmas mailings are made largely in November," Postmaster George W. Bryant warned today.

Transportation facilities are burdened to the limit with war materials and personnel, and the postal service has sent more than thirty-one thousand experienced employees into the Army and Navy. The only solution to the Christmas problem is: Mail in November. Mark your parcels, "Do not open until Christmas". That is the only way to avoid disappointment on Christmas Day not only for many civilians but also for millions of members of the armed forces who are still in this country.

Juvenile Courts

News that Greenbelt organizations and the people of Prince Georges County are taking up work on the problem of juvenile delinquency is very welcome. The problem is not a very acute one as far as Greenbelt itself is concerned but there is much to be done in the county as a whole.

Juvenile courts are fine as far as they go but for most of the children and young people in the county there is very little in the way of recreational activities to keep them out of mischief. It will be necessary to eventually provide adequate preventative measures but a juvenile court would be a step in the right direction.

The problem can never be eliminated entirely by the courts. People have learned that it is almost impossible to frighten a child into behaving and the courts try to do just that. Courts can prove that preventative steps are necessary and are therefore important but they can never solve the ills by themselves.

The news of this project is welcome in another light. This is one of the best evidences that Greenbelt is participating in a county project.

Some weeks ago it was pointed out in this column that as citizens of the county we had a definite duty to carry out. A greater part in county affairs is essential to a healthy condition for the community. The COOPERATOR will be watching for further evidences of an interest in county problems.

soldier. On this particular night they still had another light to go, and they'd figured on two cup cakes per man. When they returned from admiring the puppies, however, they found that all the cakes had been devoured. The official cup cake allowance is now three per man. The ladies vary their offerings with the season. In honor of Hallowe'en, for example, they took pumpkin pie around with the coffee. Still more recently elaborately decorated birthday cakes were prepared. At one light a boy was found whose birthday had occurred the week before; at another, one member of the crew planned to celebrate the next week. At the remaining light they made a perfect connection.

One factor adding to the loneliness of the boy's lot is that none are native to this locality. They are consequently greatly pleased to find some canteen visitor who hails from their own section. Canteen worker Jessie Fair, for example, made a big hit with four New York boys on one of the crews.

During the hour or so the canteen says at a light the motor corps girls and canteen workers find time to play ping pong or Chinese checkers with the boys, or to dance to the radio. Sometimes there are requests for buttons to be sewed on. A recent amusing incident brings out the fact that the boys are more than appreciative. The canteen ran out of their own coffee, and had to serve the regular Government issue. "You can sure tell this isn't G. I. stuff", remarked one beaming private, completely carried out of this world by the combination of friendly feminine faces and the home-baked goodies. The boys at one station have such voracious appetites that the camp cook keeps a heavy chain wrapped about the icebox. It passes twice around through both handles, and is secured by a padlock.

The Greenbelt canteen now visits two lights every Monday, and Mrs. Neff figures they serve about 125 men each month. They work in rotation with other units in the county so that one canteen does not visit the same light twice in succession. Mrs. Neff wishes to express her appreciation to the Greenbelters who have given the canteen various items to carry to the boys. She made an informal survey of what reading material they most liked, and found that Esquire and the comic books were tops. "I thought they'd at least mention the Reader's Digest",

Reports of All Foreign Holdings Must Be Filed

Local citizens who own any property in foreign countries were notified by Postmaster George W. Bryant today that they must file reports of their foreign holdings with the treasury department before December 1.

Postmaster Bryant points out that it is necessary for the government to have as complete information as possible on the American stake abroad to assist the military authorities and the civilian governments on the fighting fronts and to bring about sound solutions of the post-war problems.

Report forms, known as TFR-500, may be obtained through commercial banks, or from the nearest federal reserve bank, the postmaster stated. Penalties are provided for those who wilfully fail to file reports.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. McGill, 2-D Northway announced the birth of a daughter Tuesday at the Leland Memorial Hospital in Riverdale.

she says somewhat sadly.

Another task performed by the Red Cross canteen is to assist the blood donation centers by serving lunch to the medical staff and liquid refreshments to the blood donors. The Greenbelt unit swings into action every time either Greenbelt or Beltsville is visited. It also takes part in the mock raids put on by the civilian defense committee.

To qualify as a member of a Red Cross canteen a woman must have to her credit twenty hours of nutrition with a qualified instructor and twenty hours of canteen training. Mrs. Laura Browning of College Park, formerly one of the group's instructors, is now a regular member. Mrs. Jo McGuire, of Greencelt, has also acted as an instructor.

Members of the present Greenbelt unit, which was a year old in July, are: Mrs. Neff, chairman; Mrs. Amy Slye, vice-chairman; Mrs. Kay Clarke, serving chairman; Mrs. Jo Gawthron, preparation chairman; Mrs. Elisa East, sanitation chairman; Mrs. Martha Keith, Mrs. Ella Spicer, Mrs. Adeline Beck, Mrs. Elizabeth Fikes, Mrs. Henrietta Barnhart, Mrs. Laura Browning, Mrs. Gladys Freeman, Mrs. Loretta Littlefield, Mrs. Carrie Hall, Mrs. Catherine Houlton, Mrs. Marion Dietzel, Mrs. Iris Fleharty, Mrs. Jessie Fair, Mrs. Anna Schwan.

Elementary School News of the Week

By EDITH SNAPP

You parents who have been deploring the lack of a dance instructor for your younger set should be very interested in the meeting to be held at the school Tuesday at 3 o'clock. Miss Evelyn Davis, director of the dance play house in Washington and teacher of creative dancing at the University of Maryland, is going to discuss "What the Dance Does for the Child".

Miss Davis devotes one afternoon each week to teaching the dance to students of the Parkside school, where Mrs. Elizabeth S. Fugitt formerly taught. While it is very improbable that Miss Davis' assistance could be obtained for the first half year, if there were enough parents interested, plans to bring such a program to Greenbelt for the last part of the year might be formulated.

Mrs. Fugitt would like to see at least as many parents at Parent and Teacher's meeting on November 22nd as attended the first one of the year.

One of the most gratifying results of the establishment of the North End school is that it enables the great majority of the students to go home for a hot lunch these cold days.

Mrs. Fugitt asks that parents who intend to contribute clothing to the Russian War Relief Project do so before Thanksgiving.

It will probably surprise some of you mothers to learn that your seven or eight year old Johnny can tell you in a few words why you don't seem to accomplish anything at home. He might tell you that while you know what should be done, you waste a lot of precious time just because you do not organize your work systematically.

Why not enlist Johnny's aid in planning your family program? After all, there is no use in having him learn efficiency in school unless there is a carry-over to the home where all his background of information and experience is needed and can be put to good use.

Your parental prestige would be increased one hundred percent as well, if you would take an hour off now and then and visit Johnny at school and see what goes on there.

If you had happened into Mrs. Rowena Whittaker's room Tuesday afternoon you would have entirely restored your faith in the younger generation. Such an ambitious group. Those children might well have been the bees of the previous week turned human.

In one corner was a group of little girls polishing shoes. They weren't sparing the elbow grease either. At the desks sat boys, mind you, and girls, each wielding a needle and thread with remarkable skill. They were darning and mending holes and tears in everything from baby dresses to father's discarded work shirt. Here and there a mother was lending a hand when a particular operation had proved an exceedingly delicate one.

The spirit permeating the room was one of determination and the desire to accomplish. Ah, but in the midst of all this work was a lad drawing a picture. To give him the benefit of the doubt I asked him what he was doing. "Drawing a picture", was the answer. "Oh, but aren't you helping with the clothing project?" "Yes ma'am! I'm on the laundry committee!" "When do you do your work?" "Well, you see, we had to do the laundry before they could do the mending." Then I recalled seeing a drying rack of clothes in the Home Making room as I had passed.

In order to fully understand such industry, all one needed to do was lift one's eyes above the heads of the children and there as plain as day was their outline of work. It wasn't difficult to figure out that they had planned it themselves for the bulletins were pasted in order. The first one was entitled, "Work We Want to do on Russian War Relief Clothing".

1. Sort the clothing.
 2. Mend garments that are ripped and have holes.
 3. Wash soiled clothing.
 4. Polish the shoes.
 5. Sew on buttons.
 6. Iron and press clothing.
 7. Fold clothes for packing.
 8. Wash shoe laces.
 9. Clean inside of hats, collars of suits and soiled spots.
 10. Brush hats, coats and suits.
- Next was the list of committees and under each committee the list of equipment needed and names of the workers who had chosen to work on the committee. Included were the mending, laundry, dry cleaning and shoe

B'nai B'rith Aids Soldiers

At a regular monthly meeting of the B'nai B'rith Wednesday, November 3, the membership voted to contribute to the Friday night suppers held at Hillel house for the soldiers stationed at the University of Maryland. The chapter is also sharing in the task of keeping a perpetual cookie fair for the soldiers.

It was announced that at the December meeting a model of the 32 outposts now undergoing construction is expected to be exhibited.

These outposts will be furnished by the B'nai B'rith war service council of the metropolitan area of which the Greenbelt group is a member. This branch has agreed to pay for the furnishing of one outpost.

The meeting was concluded with a program in the form of a broadcast arranged by Mrs. Grace Mohl.

Church Guild Re-elects

Mrs. D. J. Neff President

The Community Church guild met last Wednesday, for its regular monthly meeting, at the home of Mrs. D. J. Neff.

Mrs. D. J. Neff was re-elected president; Mrs. George Wyant, vice-president; Mrs. Clifford Haver, secretary and Mrs. H. A. Bates, treasurer.

The ways and means committee reported that an apron sale will be held December 4 in the food store. All members were asked to help by making aprons. Mrs. Pau E. Featherby is chairman of the sale and any donations may be made to her or to any other member of the guild.

New Babies

A daughter, Marinee Fayne Pethal was born October 14 at Columbia Hospital in Washington to Mr. and Mrs. Burnell E. Pethal of 55-M Ridge road.

Mrs. Kinzer Seeks Help

Mrs. Mary Jane Kinzer has again requested all women in the community who will do housework, practical nursing, take care of children, or who are qualified as a registered nurse and will do nursing at homes in Greenbelt, to notify her office as many calls are received daily for such help.

25 Mumps Cases In Oct.

Public Health Officer William Eisner has reported twenty-five cases of mumps in the community during the month of October.

In the monthly report of the council, the health department also indicated that 227 school children were weighed, measured and had their eyes and ears tested during the last month.

shining committees. There was also a list of mother's names as they were assigned to committee work.

The last bulletin was especially noteworthy. It was entitled, "Standards for a Good Committee Chairman".

1. He should be a hard worker.
2. He should be honest.
3. He should be dependable.
4. He should be a careful worker.
5. He should be able to get along with others.

Are you mothers sure you appreciate what Johnny is learning in school and allow him to assume responsibilities in keeping with his ability?

Community Church

"The Man Who Overcame Depressions" will be the theme of the Rev. Wilmer P. Johnston's sermon Sunday morning at the Greenbelt Community Church at 11 o'clock. The doors of the church will be opened for the reception of members. Those wishing to unite with the church at this time are asked to contact Mr. Johnston before Sunday.

Mrs. Hester Neff will preside at the organ in the absence of the regular organist, Mrs. Milton J. Wiksell. Miss Janet Neff will sing a solo.

The regular church school will meet at 9:30 a. m. All pupils who are not attending some other church school in Greenbelt are invited to attend. The school is working under war time conditions. The Braden Bible class will be taught Sunday by the Rev. Mr. Johnston.

The board of deacons and deaconess will meet at 8:00 p. m. at the home off Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Neff, 3-D Ridgt road. The colonies who have held canvasses will report at this time.

The regular meeting of the choir will be held in the social room, Wednesday at 8:30 p. m.

GUILD APRON SALE

The Ladies' Guild of the Community Church will sponsor an apron sale December 4 in the food store. All proceeds will be put into the building fund for a protestant church in Greenbelt. Mrs. Bessie Featherby is chairman of the committee.

Catholic Church

Sunday Masses—7:30 a. m. and 9:30 a. m., Greenbelt Theatre. Confessions—Saturday evening 7:30 to 9:30 p. m. at 17-E Ridge Road.

Miraculous Medal Novena, 8 p. m. each Wednesday evening at Berwyn.

Hebrew Congregation

The Hebrew Congregation committee is still actively engaged in contacting officers and representatives of several religious institutions for the purpose of obtaining the services of a resident Rabbi. Until such time as a complete report can be made, no membership meeting will be called. In the meantime, should any member or non-member have any suggestion, or seek any information, they may contact Mr. Zimmet, president of the congregation.

Inadvertently, last week's item erroneously reported the election of Joseph Loeb, when actually Carl Epstein was elected vice-president of the congregation.

Hyman Black, one of its most zealous workers has been inducted into military service and the congregation members wish him "Godspeed".

Sunday school classes for children of all ages are now being held regularly at 11:00 a. m. in the elementary school. The parents of those children not yet registered are urged to register them at once.

Regular Friday evening services at 8:30 u. m. are held in the social room of the elementary school, and all are invited to attend.

Miss Dorothy G. Neff, 3-D Ridge road, is recuperating at Leland Memorial hospital from the effects of an appendectomy performed Tuesday morning.

Corner Delicatessen Scores 14th Straight

Corner Delicatessen scored their fourteenth straight victory, as they shut out the Scorpions 3-0, the "B" boys, Bowman and Blanchard rolling 335's each to top the Sandersites. The Eagles remained in hot pursuit of the leaders as the rolled 1618 to take 3 from the Triggersmen, with Al Sansone's 360 set being tops. "Buck" Bowen's 335 set was best for the losers. Police and Firemen, aided by some fine rolling by Charlie Wright, took the Vitamen's into camp 2-1, to emerge from the cellar by virtue of their superior pinfall. The Redskins scalped the Yankees 2-1, as "Boystuff" Andestad turned on the heat. Paradise Lane, paced by Cain, took the Minute Men into camp. Beahm's fine rolling for the losers was not enough to stave off defeat. American Legion, with Dick Bowman still maintaining his fast pace with a 336, toppled the Tenderfeet 2-1. Commandos defeated the Defenders 2-1, with Peeler leading the way and Snafu defeated Coop 2-1 with Le Pire showing the navy boys how it should be done. "Pappy" Hawkins fine 126-352 was not enough to stop the navy. Individual honors for the week went to the Eagles as Dean's 128 game was high, as was also Al Sansone's 360 set.

The boys have their eye on the Thanksgiving roll-off November 23. Al Bowman vows he'll stop Brother Dick when they meet. A couple of last year's bowlers, Mathers of Coop and Rysticken of the Legion, now serving Uncle Sam, showed up at the alleys to root for their alma mater.

Local Minute Men Rifle Team Headed For Match Sunday

Challenges by the Greenbelt Minute Men company have at last aroused a response in the form of a rifle match for companies in this area. The meet will be held Sunday at 10 a. m. in Hyattsville. Captain Harry Bates expects that about six teams will be entered in the competition.

Greenbelt's riflemen for the match will be Sgt. Freeman Morgan, who will serve as team captain, Lt. Edward Turntr, Sgt. Benjamin Rosenzweig, Cpl. Sam Wallace and Pfc. Donald H. Cooper. Captain Bates, one of the outfit's best marksmen, will not participate, in accordance with an agreement that company commanders would stay on the sideline.

The Dewar course—20 rounds prone at 50 yards—will be used.

An armored division in action and on the move uses 650 tons of gasoline, 600 tons of ammunition and 35 tons of food a day. A Liberty ship would have to arrive every eight days to maintain it in battle.

A recent release from the War Department on promotions meted out included in he listings a name familiar to many Greenbelters. Old "Sarge" George Uhrinak, former local athlete, stepped from 1st Lieutenant to a Captaincy. Geroge was in the regular army, loaned to Maryland University for drilling R.O.T.C. students before the war broke out. He was commissioned shortly after, a 2nd Lieutenant, and his record speaks for itself since that time. Congratulations, old team mate, and good hunting!

Gunnery Sergeant Leroy Clark was here on furlough last week. Although we missed seeing him we received glowing reports on his looks and good health. The former high school and town athlete has been touching all points in the U.S.A. while soaking up liberal training in the Army.

Leroy visited with Lynn Buck in Arkansas after he left here en route to Shreveport. Leroy and Lynn were high school mates. Lynn is in basic training to become an Army pilot. Roy reports that cadet Buck looks fine with his close cropped top and aggressive determination to rate wings.

Sergeant Clark was chosen among 16 men out of a very large class for some future training in an unannounced subject. We hazard a guess that he might become an aerial bombardier with a shavetail rating!

The Greenbelt Packers' on and off schedule has this department in a dither. We've announced gams in our pages that have never materialized. Who is fooling who? We do know that our kids WANT to play football. Twice in the last three weeks scheduled opponents have not shown up. Once they played away from home to play at all and the second time they just didn't play. We've been assured that Hyattsville Police Boys' Club will visit Braden Field in a return game this Sunday. The visitors will be trying to avenge an earlier 6-0 loss to our cohorts.

Hyattsville is expected to bring a large number of fans and a goodly turnout of locals would help coach VanCamp's boys a lot.

The axe fell! Coach Helena Knauer chopped some 20 girl basketeters from the varsity and retains a more workable squad of about 15. Of the 20 who fell by the wayside several will have the opportunity to make the freshman or jayvees, as will a few more of he favored present varsity squad.

The girls have been scrimmaging for over a week and are rounding into condition. From now until the first game early in December the kids will be absorbing plays that veyone hopes will bring as successful a season as last year's outstanding team enjoyed.

The boys' outlook isn't any too bright. Coach Ben Goldfaden hasn't pruned his squad, in fact, any boy who professes a knowledge of what a basket ball is, makes the squad. Pruning time will come much ater after survival of the fittest.

All men are urged to attend gym class night (Thursdays 7:30) and play themselves in shape for the coming Recreation Department Court League. Teams will be chosen by the men themselves. Come on down and get acquainted with the guys who will be your team mates.

It is hinted that a town team will be reorganized to play a few games on Saturday nights. Rebirth of the Reps!

Rifle Range Improved

Sam Wallace and other Gun Club members are giving the Greenbelt rifle range a "face-lifting" in between strings on the firing line. Wooden shutters have been fitted into the windows of the clubhouse to replace the glass panes which were recently all broken out by vandals, and a new cinderblock walk connects the clubhouse with the firing line.

Next on the improvement program is a drainage system for the rifle range between the 50 yard and the 100 yard target lines, and revamping of the pistol range.

The best way to root for victory is to dig deep into that pocketbook or purse and buy War savings stamps.

Dr. Theodore Byerly of Beltsville spoke on the responsibilities of the parent at the meeting of the high school P-T.A. Tuesday night.

A number of the alumni are attending Maryland university. Among them are Jane Stone, James (General) Anzulovic, Doris Keplinger and Sammy Rolfe. Attending Western Maryland College are Troy Tood, Barbara Dupuy and Florence Raum. All of these students graduated from G.H.S. last year.

A physical education program has been started in the high school. The program, consisting of games and calisthenics, is under the direction of Ben Goldfaden and Miss Knauer, who also serve as physical education directors in the elementary school. Classes meet every Friday and on alternate Wednesdays.

The high school library is now offering subscriptions to Popular Science and the Readers Digest magazines. Students interested may subscribe through the librarian, Miss Pendergast. News week map is being sent to the school and will be used in civic classes for current event discussions.

G.H.S. clubs were fully organized last Thursday morning. Besides the old clubs, radio, library, shop, home economics, glee, orchestra, homemaking, dramatics, international friendship, debate and Latin, a new nature club has been started this year under the direction of Mrs. Gump. Clubs will announce their schedules shortly.

Bob Arrington, a student who joined the Army last March, is home on furlough now. Bob worked at the gas station here previous to his induction. Receiving his basic training at a camp in Greensboro, N. C. Bob is happy to be a private in the army and from his looks the army is sure agreeing with him. Good luck, Bob!

It seems as if the problem that supposedly stumped "Professor Jones" (refer to Cooperator of October 29) really didn't stump him at all. Instead of reporting to his draft board Ralph joined the merchant marine the day before he was to report for his army physical examination. He will be sworn in November 28. Adios Amigos!

COUNCIL

with the delinquent after his appearance in court, Lastner stated. Greenbelt's welfare department, under the direction of Mrs. Mary Jane Kinzer, would be most valuable along this line, he said.

The manager and council members expressed their satisfaction with the conduct of youngsters in the community during the Halloween season. George Bauer stated that a portion of the credit should go to those responsible for presenting the importance of conducting a non-destructive Halloween to the children. Town Manager Gobbel added that the help of auxiliary policemen and high school boys was very important. The only serious difficulties were the two false alarms.

Budget Hearing Soon

Preparation of the town budget for the coming calendar year is under way, according to the town manager, and a public hearing on the proposed budget will be held early in December.

Mayor Morrison indicated that he will probably recommend the addition of another nurse to assist in the public health department. Both Councilmen Bauer and Lastner expressed anxiety over the need for a larger police force, particularly in the early morning hours and an increase in this department's personnel is possible.

Public Safety Director George Panagoulis was instructed by the governing group to investigate the possibility of converting the police car into what is referred to as a "crash car", in order to be better prepared to handle first aid cases. The addition of equipment which would facilitate the use of a stretcher in the car, as well as a fire extinguisher, resuscitator and other first aid equipment was suggested. As Councilman Bauer stated, "Sometimes waiting for an ambulance from in-town may take just a little too much time."

The next meeting of the town council will be held in the council room of the administration building Monday, November 15 at 8 o'clock. Regular meetings, under the new schedule, will be held on the first and third Monday of the month.

Our Neighbors

Former Town Manager Braden has so far been unable to find a dwelling place in High Point. He came back to town last weekend to fetch Mrs. Braden down to help solve his housing problem.

Meanwhile present town manager Gobbel commutes from Arlington. He and his family will move into 1-F Gardenway when the Bradens are finally established in High Point.

John Collier, former FSA and OWI photographer, now serving in the merchant marine, arrived in town last week on a surprise visit after a two months' trip. His return coincided with the appointment of his wife, Mary Trumbull Collier, to a new job in the OWI office where her husband used to work. Mr. Collier has travelled widely in this country, making photographic studies of American community life. His new job is taking him to other corners of the globe and he is finding it very interesting.

Greenbelters in Uniform

TO YOU
By P.F.C. Seymour Levine
Camp Haan, California
Alone I sit and drift about in thought
Of yesteryear which seems not far away
And wonder why my dreams have turned to nought
And faded out, or else have gone astray.
Perhaps the flame that drives men on to deeds
Of great renown and fame for untold years
Has lacked the kindling spark and fuel it needs
To burn within my soul amidst the tears.
Perhaps it's not too late to plan and do
Instead of dreaming endlessly in vain.
The flame of deeds for me shall burn in you
And I will have the strength to try again.
If you will be the flame within my soul,
I then will have the power to reach my goal.

Fresh fish makes a good summertime dish. It's a source of highly digestible proteins, has a goodly store of phosphorus, and some calcium.

Cheese contains high quality protein, calcium for bones and teeth, and riboflavin of the vitamin B family.

When greens are washed, sand and grit may be removed by lifting the vegetables from a pan of water rather than pouring the water off.

Vegetables should be stirred only when absolutely necessary. Stirring mixes air into the food and air is a vitamin-destroyer
