

Local Navy Man Is Missing Following New York Sinking

William E. Eubanks, a Navy chief pharmacist's mate, whose wife resides at 33-D Ridge road, is among those listed as missing following the explosion and sinking of the Navy destroyer off Sandy Hook, N. Y. Monday, January 3.

Chief Eubanks and his family moved to Greenbelt in October, 1937. He served in the Marines from 1923 to 1925 and later enlisted in the Navy.

Mrs. Eubanks and her two children, Catherine, 13 and Robert, 10, are staying with Mrs. Eubanks' family in Annapolis.

A telegram from the Navy Department to Mrs. Eubanks was reported to have been received here and accepted by a neighbor in her absence. It was said that the telegram advised the chief's wife that he was listed as missing and stated that further details will be forthcoming later.

Friends of the couple who have been in touch with her report that Mrs. Eubanks has heard no further word about her husband.

Police Chief's Car Stolen In District

George J. Panagoulis, Greenbelt's genial chief of police, was the victim of a car thief last week, but he did not have to do the sleuthing in this case because the crime was committed in Washington.

The chief's automobile was stolen Wednesday evening, January 5, while Panagoulis was entertaining his father and two brothers, Lieut. Nicholas Panagoulis and Private Charles Panagoulis, in downtown Washington.

The auto was stolen from a parking lot and District police immediately instituted a wide spread search for the vehicle. It was recovered by District police Sunday morning on Illinois ave. and was considerably damaged.

Dr. Berenberg Takes New York Job Says Farewell to Greenbelters

By ANNE HULL

Dr. Samuel Berenberg, former Health Association physician, has been appointed chief of child health services for New York City's Department of Health. Dr. Berenberg left a Washington job of confidential nature to take his new post.

"Sam", as he soon came to be called, arrived here February 10, 1939. The Health Association had previously employed a succession of physicians who had proven unsympathetic to cooperative medicine and who left in short order. Sam was to serve the association three and a half years and to become known for his devotion to cooperative principles, his accurate diagnosis, his deft handling of children, his wry humor and "off-side" manner. As a Health Association physician he advocated complete control by the membership of all non-professional matters and an extensive educational campaign to widen the membership.

Sam was the first public health officer in the country to administer free whooping cough serum in addition to the small pox and diphtheria vaccines. This practice has just recently been instituted in New York City's public health Department, Dr. Berenberg says. He set up Greenbelt's public health department and served as its first director. Stressing a program of community education, he ran a weekly column in the COOPERATOR and arranged various health lectures with the cooperation of the Citizens Association and the Parent-Teacher Association, besides organizing the pre-natal and immunization clinics. He confirmed all diagnoses of cases of infectious diseases reported to the department and imposed the proper quarantine, provided for periodic check-ups of school children and arranged the

Health Assn Board In Stormy Session

The Medical Staff and Board of Directors of the Greenbelt Health Association convened January 6 in the first of a series of meetings for the purpose of discussing problems of mutual interest, and eliminating various difficulties before the general membership.

President Hyman Black presided. The agenda for the annual membership meeting, January 26 was planned. At this meeting, Dr. Isabelle Blum and Dr. Joseph Stein will be presented to the G. H. A. members. Election of four board members will take place early in the evening. The outgoing directors are: Gretchen Stoudenmeyer, Herbert Hertz, Dr. Linden Dodson and Herman Durburg.

At the board meeting, the Medical Staff, represented by Dr. William Eisner, Dr. Isabelle Blum and nurses Margaret Singleton and Helen Cooley, discussed problems the doctors encounter in Greenbelt. Dr. Eisner stated that in an effort to improve service, members should avoid calling a doctor needlessly. A state of emergency exists in view of the physician shortage and the recent epidemics. He recommended the raise in rates for home calls. Too many deem a house call more convenient than waiting in the office. Dr. Eisner further recommended a charge for telephone calls between 11 p. m. and 8:30 a. m., except in emergency cases. Dr. Blum suggested that members be encouraged to call before 11 a. m. and 3 p. m. to insure greater promptness in the doctors' home call. It was also suggested that doctors set aside a special time during the day for phone conversations with those patients not desiring a home call.

Delbert Mesner, business manager of the association, read three letters of resignation received during the past few months, which evoked a discussion of a number of verbal complaints and comments which had been received by the Medical Center, and various members of the Board. The Association has enrolled 1400

Grizzlies Break 2 Year Losing Streak at Mt. Rainier In Keen 31-29 Tilt; Girls' Win Parade Halted 25-27

By BILL MOORE

Mt. Rainier, January 11—Greenbelt's pair of high school basketball teams kept their date with the two Mount teams here tonight with results quite opposite than the public has been taught to expect. The all-conquering Grizzlies dropped a heart breaking 27-25 skirmish, their first loss in two seasons of play, in the preliminary, then took to the sidelines to cheer the boy Grizzlies on their first victory since the last of February 1942 when they whipped Gonzaga 51-26 on some very excellent play by Lynn Buck, Bob Egli, Johnny Bozek and Co. The boys' long-awaited win was a 51-29 affair.

Lynn Buck Suffers Severe Injuries In Plane Crash

Army Air Cadet Lynn A. Buck of 3-C Gardenway, was injured in an airplane accident near Ocala, Florida on January 6. His condition is critical according to word sent to his mother, Mrs. Kathryn Buck, here in Greenbelt. Mrs. Buck and Lynn's little sister, who has been hospitalized for over a year and just recently allowed to return home, caught a late train for Ocala late the same evening.

Word from Mrs. Buck simply states that her son had suffered severe head injuries, two broken ankles and a punctured kidney. He has been operated on and is in the Monroe Post Hospital at Ocala, Florida.

The strapping young air cadet was an excellent basketball player here in high school and on the town team. He also played baseball and softball. His former team mate in school, Billy Dodson, soon to become an air cadet is on his way down to see his buddy.

Appoint Dodson To Food Unit

Dr. Linden Dodson of 2-G Gardenway has been appointed county coordinator for the Prince Georges "Food Fights for Freedom" campaign by General chairman P. E. Clarke, county agent, of Upper Marlboro. Dr. Dodson teaches sociology at the University of Maryland, besides engaging in extension work in the county. He states that no meeting of the "food fights" committee has yet been held.

The various committees comprising the organization are Nutrition, headed by Ethel Regan, county home demonstration agent, Food Waste, with Mrs. Earl Keefe as chairman, Food Preservation, which is under Miss Sue Mitchell of Marlboro and Wartime Food Production, managed by Harold P. Townsend of Brandywine. Three sub-committees on Consumer Interests, Labor and Victory Gardens are headed respectively by George C. Cook, John Speicher, both of University Park and Allie Brown of Landover.

General Chairman Clarke has stated, "The course and length of the war may depend on how skillfully we produce food, how willingly and widely we share it and how carefully we save it."

Police Seeking Panties Thief

Greenbelt police have been besieged within the past few days with reports of the theft of ladies' unmentionables from local clothes lines, Police Chief George Panagoulis stated today.

At least 15 pair of panties and other dainty feminine undergarments have been stolen, the chief said, within the past two weeks.

The thief or thieves have shunned other items of clothing on the lines in preference to the underthings. The police are working on several clues.

Scout Leaders Sought

Mrs. Lloyd L. Nelson, chairman of the Girl Scout Council, District No. 1 has announced that there will be a meeting of the Girl Scout leaders, assistant leaders, and troop committee members January 20 in room 222 at the Elementary School at 8:15 p. m. Two troops are in need of leaders

Cage Games, Dance At Local Gym Next Saturday Evening

Recreation Director Ben Goldfaden and his assistants, Misses Helena Knauer and Eileen Mudd, are collaborating with Andy Farkas, popular professional football player and presently director of recreation at the Engineering and Research plant at Riverdale, to bring the residents of Greenbelt and the war workers of ERCO a night of athletics and recreation. They plan to stage a pair of basketball games that will be followed by a dance at the elementary school gymnasium on the evening of January 22, Saturday night next.

Miss Knauer is in the process of selecting a representative sextet from among her women's gym class members and some of the High School alumni girls. Mr. Goldfaden has invited McDonald, Grego, Blanchard, Marack, Pearson, Glasgow, Geyer, Lloyd, Clay, Pluto, Burt, Dodson, Giereman, Porter and Fearer to try out for Greenbelt's town team that will meet a really formidable ERCO quintet.

Farkas released the rosters of his plant teams to the Cooperator last Tuesday. The great Fred "Knocky" Thomas will captain a quint made up of Townsend, Farmer, Abare, Steiner, Fones, Phillips, Rodriguez, Kolb and Queen. The ERCO sextet will be made up from among Genny Short, Betty Bush, Edna Pavol, Marion Griffin, Gilma Ingersoll, Evelyn Cross, Eileen Caherty, Pearl Phelps, Imogene Smelter and Christine Baker.

Music for the dance, following immediately after the cage games will be furnished by C. J. Van Camp's Crusaders. Refreshments will be served by the Greenbelt Girls Service Organization and the coat room service will be done by the High School Senior Class. Admission for the evening's fun will be 35 cents per person, tax included.

DeJager Sees Hope For North-end Bus

Progress is being made in efforts to obtain bus transportation for Greenbelt's isolated north-end residents according to Councilman Fred DeJager who reports that the Office of Defense Transportation is now considering his proposals. In a recent conference with ODT officials Councilman DeJager requested that Capital Transit Co. be authorized to route certain incoming buses through the north-end. Tentative plans call for these trips to be made at 10 a. m., 12 noon, 2 p. m. and 4 p. m. Pointing out that shoppers, consisting mainly of women and children, are totally without service, DeJager states that Capital Transit officials seem willing to install the service if ODT approves.

It has been suggested that incoming buses enter town on Southway road, move along Crescent road to Hillside road, go out Laurel Hill Road to Ridge Road and return to the center via Ridge road and Gardenway road. An extra fare of five cents would be charged.

DeJager estimates that the routing through the north-end will involve only about two miles of additional travel each trip.

Mt. Rainier's sextet, featuring sure shot tactics of Barbara "Butch" Gilchrist and supporting cast of Shirley Magruder, Vivian Weinstein and their agile guards, GOLDFADEN moments after the Mount lassies upped their lead 25-20.

A basket by Betty Ann Dickson and a free toss by Ora Donoghue narrowed it to 25-25 but Shirley Magruder iced the contest with a long bucket. Miss Donoghue connected for one more double-decker but the Green and White failed numerous tries thereafter.

Coach Ben Goldfaden's boys leaped into an 11 to 7 lead in the first quarter. A most unusual sight it was to see the green-jerseyed lads fighting for and getting the jump on the opposition. Their passing was aggressive, if spotty, but their scoring eyes were sharp, at least from the floor. From the foul line it was something else. Don Brewer caged 3 of his 7 tries and Paul Strickler one for one, but the team as a whole showed need of more foul shooting practice, caging 5 out of 17.

The Goldfaden coached kids made a rollicking night of it with their spirited scoring spree. Teddy Fox was the high point man with 9 but was no more spectacular than the two Dons, Brewer and Wolfe, or than Eshbaugh and Cookson.

Greenbelt's 11 points in the first period were totalled from a pair of baskets by Fox, one each by Wolfe, Eshbaugh and Brewer and a freebie by the latter. Their second

War Bond Drive Opening Tuesday With Hero Rally

Greenbelt's Fourth War Loan campaign will officially get underway Tuesday evening when a special rally and show will be presented in the Greenbelt Theatre at 8:30 o'clock.

Jack Fruchtman, general chairman of the campaign, is arranging for the appearances of several war heroes representing the Army, Coast Guard, Navy and Marines.

War bonds will be sold for cash at the theatre and pledges will also be taken for purchases of bonds during the current drive.

Co-sponsoring the drive with Fruchtman's committee is the newly organized Truman Riddle Navy Wives club, headed by Doris Thomas, president.

Mrs. Thomas has enlisted the services of the members of the Woman's Club, Woman's Guild, B'nai B'rith and the American Legion Auxiliary. The members of each organization will devote one day weekly during the drive selling bonds in the food store, variety store, drug store and theatre. All bonds will be issued through the local post office. The local goal has been set at $35,000. More than $31,000 was subscribed during the Third War Loan drive.

A Measuring Stick . . .

Sometimes it is difficult to measure things—particularly in the field of public attitudes on controversial and complicated problems such as mobilization for war.

Yet, we feel that the President's home front mobilization program furnishes us a convenient measuring stick. To the extent that we as a people and you, as an individual, are willing to make the sacrifices called for in this program—to that extent you measure up to the needs of total war.

This courageous program consists of five fundamental recommendations:

1. A realistic tax law taxing all unreasonable profits.
2. Continuation of the law for renunciation of war contracts to prevent unreasonable profits.
3. A cost of food law to control food prices.
4. Continuation of the Price-Wage Stabilization Act.
5. A national service law to make available to the country every able-bodied adult in the Nation.

We feel that this program transcends partisan political considerations—that it is above and beyond disputes between labor and managers—and similar controversies.

There is the measuring stick. How do you feel about it? Are you willing to make the sacrifices necessary to hasten the war's conclusion?

How do you measure up?

Church Class Joins Philathea Union

The world-wide Baraca-Philathea Union has accepted the Philathea class of Greenbelt Sunday School as a new member. The class was sponsored by the Philathea class of Petworth Methodist Church of Washington. The organization is non-sectarian and the plan is flexible to suit the needs of the class.

The next meeting of the Philathea class will be at the home of Mrs. Mildred Richardson, 53-K Ridge Road, Friday evening, January 21 at 8 p. m. A cordial invitation is extended to anyone wishing to join this group.

The incoming officers for the year are Doris Seigworth, president; Julia Rice, First vice-president; Helen Frady, Second vice-president; Mildred Richardson, secretary; Kathryn Holmes, treasurer and Agnes Des Marets and Nevada Rothgeb, corresponding secretaries. Outgoing officers are Kathryn Holmes, president; Kathryn Eshbaugh, First vice-president; Mildred Richerson, Second vice president; Lillian Bloomster, secretary; Zue Hauver, treasurer and Genevieve Kramer and Elinor Getzin, corresponding secretaries. Mrs. Morton Smith has been the teacher of this class since its organization.

Van Camp to Entertain

C. A. VanCamp's Cavaliers will entertain the servicemen at the Stage Door Canteen in Washington Sunday afternoon with petite Dotty Herbert doing the vocals. This makes the second visit of the VanCamp crew to the Washington servicemen's spot.

Our Neighbors

By JUNE WILBUR

Hi, friends!

We've learned that Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Haas and son, Dick, are in Albion, Ind. where they attended the funeral of Mr. Haas' mother.

Billy (Wimpy) Dodson expects to go into training with the Army Air Corps some time this month.

Mrs. Edith Snapp and daughter, Carolyn, are leaving Saturday to join Nathan Snapp in Colorado Springs, Colo.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Citron of 40-B Crescent rd. have recently had Max Feldman of New York as a guest. Feldman was en route to the west coast.

Mrs. Ann Pollack is visiting in New York with her sister. She will attend the wedding of her brother, Dr. Benjamin Lemkin.

Marine Sergeant and Mrs. Frank Galvin of 4-A Parkway rd. are entertaining a sailor from over-seas, Coast Guardsman David L. Hegarty, radioman, second class. Radioman Hegarty is Mrs. Galvin's brother and is on leave after duty at Trinidad.

Carroll Barcus celebrated his fifth birthday January 7.

Of those Greenbelters who have recently to join the armed forces we learn that Ben Perelzweig is in communications in Camp Butler, N. C. Wayne Roberts is also there. Hugh Hawkins has been made company clerk at the Navy station in Sampson, N. Y., and William Rupert has been made his assistant.

Lynn Buck was recently injured in a crash of an Army plane in Florida. His mother has gone to Florida to see him.

Bill Schoeb, Jr., of 33-N Ridge Road has entered the Army Specialized training program at the University of Maryland.

Billy Neff has only one worry left after being bitten by a dog last week, he's afraid they'll kill the dog.

We have just learned that, thanks to a request in last week's COOPERATOR, the eighth radio to be donated from Greenbelt residents was made available for the members of the Coast Artillery light detail of Prince Georges county.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brautigam of 3-B Parkway had Mr. and Mrs. Orvin Dokkin from Arlington as guests Sunday.

Robert C. Howey arrived home on leave from the Marine training Camp at New River, N. C. during the last week. He injured his back while here so will not be

Community Church

"The Sources of Inspiration" will be the theme of the sermon to be preached next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock at the Community Church by the Rev. Wilmer Pierce Johnston.

A nursery is provided for those who desire to leave their children while their parents worship in the auditorium. Mrs. Anna Lewis will be in the church vestibule Sunday morning from 10:50 to 11:10 to direct those so desiring to the kindergarten where these children may be left.

The Church School will meet Sunday morning at 9:30 o'clock. About 350 people, young middle aged and old, enjoyed an hour of Bible study and worship last Sunday morning at our Sunday school services. Others are invited to enjoy this service with us Sunday. Mr. James Gamble will teach the Men's Bible Class. All other adult classes will be taught by their regular teachers.

The Board of Deacons and Deaconesses, together with the Trustees, have initiated something new at the Community Church. This "something new" is a system of transportation for those who find the church at too great a distance for them to reach otherwise. Under the direction of Mr. Fred DeJager, a system of transportation will be initiated Sunday, January 23, and continued thereafter, whereby those living in the outlying districts and having no means of private transportation, will assemble at certain points and between 10:45 and 10:55 a. m. an auto will pick them up and transport them to the church in time for service, and after the church service will return them to the points from which they have been taken. A full account of this as well as the places where those who desire transportation will assemble, will appear in the next week's Cooperator.

Grizzlies' Efforts Vetoed on Court By Presidents

Alexandria, January 7—Coach Ben Goldfaden's Grizzlies scored the first 5 points of the game here tonight with George Washington High but helplessly stood by and watched the next 23 points go to the Presidents. The host club finally shaded the Greenies by 44-29.

Greenbelt controlled the ball for exactly 2 minutes of the game on alert interceptions by Mahlon Eshbaugh and Ted Fox and subsequent scores by Eshbaugh and Don Brewer. Eshbaugh added a freebie before the Green and White quint retired. The 23 point drive by the Presidents was sparked by Boaz and Chalmers. Brewer and Eshbaugh awakened just before halftime to tally a bucket apiece and Boaz added another for the Virginians to make the score 25 to 9 at the half.

George Washington's scoring ace, tall Joe Hensley, sparked the third period play which ended 42 to 17. Hensley scored six points in his brief tenure. Greenbelt went on a bucket brigade march against the President third stringers in the final period, scoring 12 points to 2 as Donnie Wolfe and Don Brewer cashed in.

Navy Cagers Stay Undefeated as Rec Loop Resumes

The Recreation League added three lop-sided games to its archives last Thursday night as Glen Wilbur's Navy Department quint took the feature roll by remaining unbeaten in the evening's top-heaviest game, their 45-18 success over the Greenbelt Athletic Club. Other tilts were the G-Men's 29 to 18 win over the Clovers and the Yankees' initial victory, one over the Air Station five by 23 to 14.

Geireman and Burt were the only cagers to notch as many as 10 points, Burt having 11. Navy's high scoring was very evenly divided among their 7 players.

Hughes scored 7 points to spark the Yanks' first win as all eight players on the team scored at least 2 points. Ben Sheldon, Yank captain, is in sick bay with the mumps.

Frigid airs returned this week to give local ice enthusiasts another whirl at the lake after a week's thaw. Full moon didn't do a bit of harm to the sport either. No accidents to mention.

Lanky Bob Porter got back from Chicago just in time to cheer the heroically inspired Grizzlies to their deserving victory over Mt. Rainier. Last time the high school kids won a game they went to bat with Johnny Bozek, Bill Dodson, Jim Scordellis, Lynn Buck, Blake Palmer, George Davidson, Bob Egl and "Bee" Sommers. That was the time they skinned Gonzaga 31 to 26 after having been licked by the purple earlier in that 1941-42 season.

Ted Fox really came into his own at Mt. Rainier. The slim sophomore corded 4 beautiful shots from 25 to 40 feet out and added a free shot for a leading 9 point total.

Donnie Wolfe, playing only a little more than half the game (in and out) put on a most aggressive show as he stole the ball several times and tied his opposition up for jump plays. He spread his 3 baskets over all but the second period when he was gathering splinters.

Dickie Palmer was ejected on 4 fouls as were Jack Gilchrist and Bucky Loomis of Mt. Rainier.

Scoring was pretty evenly divided among the Greenie starters except that Cookson tallied a lonesome timely bucket in the second stanza.

It would be unfair to say that any lad stood out like a "sore thumb". They played like a neat handful of fingers, with all their scores "timely". In a 31-29 game how could they be otherwise?

The girls' 25-27 licking came as a surprise but the Mt. Rainier lassies played a sound game. They didn't exactly stop Ora Donoghue but they slowed her down some. As a ball handler though, they don't come any better than the little forward, just taller.

Local Minute Men To Remain Active

The Greenbelt company of the Maryland Minute Men has been ordered to remain in active status and at full strength according to Captain Harry A. Bates in explaining published reports that the state defense group is to be drastically curtailed.

Although some companies are being placed on inactive status, the Greenbelt company has just received equipment consisting of hats, coats and gloves for the full strength of fifty men.

"Inductions into the armed forces have been a severe strain and we still need ten or fifteen new men", stated Captain Bates. Training in marksmanship is offered along with the other instruction. Drills are held each Wednesday night.

Not so long ago

every farm HAD ITS OWN BAKERY
HAD ITS OWN BUTTERY
HAD ITS OWN BREWERY

Back only a few years ago, as time is counted, every farmer ate bread baked from his own grain—ground at the nearby mill. That bread was mixed in his own kitchen, set to rise behind the warm kitchen stove, and baked fresh and brown and crisp.

On it he spread generously the butter from his own cream, made in his own buttery. The slice of good, home-cured ham was sliced from a porker born and raised in his own pens. And to wash it all down, there was a mug of sturdy beer, brewed in his own brew-house, alongside the roomy kitchen.

This was quite natural, too—because both the cattle and the hogs were fed on grain the farmer grew. The bread was baked from the flour, milled from the grain he raised. And the beer was brewed from his own home-grown barley, flavored with hops grown in his herb patch. And the same yeast that he used in brewing his beer, he used, too, in baking his bread.

In time, the farmer became a specialist—raising only certain crops and buying in the market what he did not raise. Today more and more farmers buy bread from a nearby town bakery, buy butter from the store in town (five or ten minutes drive away)—his ham and bacon come from folks who specialize in pork products, and his beer, he buys by the case from a dealer in town.

WE ARE IN AN AGE OF SPECIALIZATION

Maybe it is best for all of us. In any event, it's a lot easier on the women folk on the farm. The modern bakery, the modern creamery, the modern packing plant, the modern brewery, lift great loads from the shoulders of the farmers' wives and daughters. Life on the farm is an easier life—the good fresh air, the active day-to-day exercise, and then the mere sight of the dinner and supper table—they all combine to make the country ham and the well brown bread and the fresh butter taste as of old—and the tall, slim glass of NATIONAL BOHEMIAN is as much a part of the home life at mealtime as when each farmer brewed his own beer.

ond advantage was 18 to 13 by virtue of single baskets by Cookson and Eshbaugh and Strickler's free toss. It was 25-20 at the ¾ mark on buckets by Wolfe, Brewer and Eshbaugh and Brewer's second freebie.

Mt. Rainier made a desperate 9 point rally in the final quarter but fell a basket short of tying as Greenbelt's Fox and Wolfe tallied baskets and Brewer and Fox capitalized on Mount fouls.

In the girls' game both teams scored 11 baskets but Mt. Rainier was 5 to 3 better on fouls. Both boy teams caged 13 buckets with Greenbelt 5 to 3 better than their hosts. The Grizzlies committed but 8 fouls while their opponents were caught wrong 14 times by referee Everett Russell.

members in 6 years and the membership, at present, numbers 375. After an hour's discussion of complaints, Black pointed out that the Co-operative Health plan was to offer the best medical care for the lowest cost to its members. He urged that personal ire be eliminated and an effort be made to convince members that the success of the organization depends upon their effort and upon the Boards' to meet problems and improve service.

The possibility of purchasing laboratory equipment evoked various comments. Both Dr. Blum and Dr. Eisner voiced approval and verified the need of at least a microscope and equipment for taking complete blood counts. Dr. Blum favored as complete a laboratory set-up as possible while Dr. Eisner recommended a minimum outlay for laboratory equipment in view of the shortage of trained help.

Eisner's final recommendation was that Delbert Mesner, business manager, confine his duties to Secretary and Treasurer of the organization. The issue involved proved to be Eisner's disapproval of hiring a receptionist, full or part-time. Mesner, upon instruction from the Board, had advertised for a receptionist. Dr. Linden Dodson suggested that the medical director concern himself with medicine only and leave the business to the manager and the board, and asked if the business manager was responsible to the board or the medical director. Mesner stated that he preferred being responsible directly to the board. Whereupon Eisner stated, "I must have a gross picture of the financial status of the organization." An almost unanimous suggestion was offered, that the medical director be responsible for the maximum efficiency of the medical staff and should therefore operate only on the medical side.

A motion by William Hayward Hunt to delete the paragraph in the by-laws governing the rates for home calls was seconded by Herbert Hertz and passed unanimously.

Mrs. D. J. Neff entertained at luncheon last Friday in honor of Mrs. Martha L. Keith, Mrs. Neff's mother. Mrs. Ada Markley assisted. Other guests were Mrs. Mary G. Long, Mrs. H. K. V. Letkemann and Mrs. O. M. Slye.

Tire Inspection Station Here Soon

The Greenbelt service station will soon be designated as the local official tire inspection headquarters, according to reliable information reaching G.C.S. Manager Tom Ricker. Continued efforts by Ricker and the Greenbelt Citizens' Association finally brought a state OPA inspector to examine the station's equipment and personnel. Formal notification of approval is expected in the next few days.

Protest letters were sent by the Citizens' Association to the OPA state director asking why the largest community in Prince Georges county was denied an inspection station.

Approximately 1100 Greenbelt cars are in use here, Ricker said. Having an official inspection station available will eliminate much unnecessary driving since the nearest station is six miles away.

Pennies Count

A small fry with a very small coin, a penny to be exact, waited patiently in the tobacco store to get his bit of candy. Now that we are a million dollar business, the pennies seem like small stuff and the clerk laid the precious penny on the register to rush to another customer. Our small fry waited, sucking on his candy and waited some more. Finally, time being short, he went up and demanded his cash register receipt! So mama could get her patronage dividend, no doubt!

All cash register slips for 1943 purchase must be turned in before 6 p. m. tomorrow. Forms are available at the GCS office over the drug store and any questions will be answered there. Remember the old adage about watching out for those pennies. Our little friend was learning that lesson early.

Legion Auxiliary

The next meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary will be held Thursday at 8:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. R. R. Gray, 13-J Ridge Road.

Spotters Class Starts

The local airplane spotters recognition classes have received model airplanes from the Army to facilitate the training program. The classes will start Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in room 125 of the Elementary School. C. S. Turner, chief observer, will be the instructor. The model planes are dismantled and the class members will put the planes together, thus learning to more easily recognize the various types of aircraft.
