Super Highway Will Be Routed Through Center

Offers Pretzel Service

Pleased residents appreciate the new "pretzel service" offered by the GCS bus. Starting from the Center, the bus goes up Southway, right on Ridge, then swoops down Crescent, turning right on Gardenway. Thence left on Ridge and counter-clockwise around the "North End Loop." Every other trip the schedule is reversed. "This way no one knows exactly where they'll wind up when they get on," states Bus Manager Winteringham. "It makes for animated conversation."

"We Have No Delinquency Here"

"We have no juvenile delinquency in Greenbelt, no adult delinquency, and no senile delinquency," Police Chief Panagoulis stated this week in an exclusive interview.

"It's pretty tame here. A few skunks, a few brush fires, a few minor accidents. That's all. I'm thinking of running a guide service around town in my spare moments. Mr. Gobbel has given permission for the patrol cars to be used for this purpose."

As the chief spoke, shrill cries were heard across the way as a band of juvenile delinquents, easily identified by large tags bearing their names and addresses, started to demolish the Drop-Inn. The purposeful steps of a hatchet murderer were heard crunching across the parking lot in the general direction of Parkway. A masked intruder ran screaming from an apartment on Crescent Road.

"If you'll excuse me . . . a routine inspection," murmured the chief. "Don't forget, anything you've seen or heard is strictly off the record."

Policeman Flees Laundry Hideout

Tenants of Crescent Road apartments have organized a protective posse as a result of a disturbance occurring this week in one of the basement laundries.

As reported to the Cooperator by an unusually unreliable source, an unidentified policeman roused sleeping residents by crashing into an electric dryer in one of the apartment basements, and was seen to flee on foot in the direction of the police station, pursued closely by a masked figure who had been interrupted while washing some laundry.

By the time the aroused inhabitants reached the basement nothing was to be seen except dryer poles, several recently-laundered masks, and a bottle of bleaching fluid. It is thought that the masks will be of little use as clues to the intruder's identity, as they are of several sizes and shapes.

"Maybe there's more than one intruder," suggested one worried vigilante, "and this one just does the washing for them."

What Goes On??

Friday, March 28—Joint High and Elementary PTA meets at the firehouse. Topic: "Why don't we keep our children at home and avoid all these extra meetings?"

Saturday, March 29—As usual, several affairs have been scheduled this evening. Rival organizations are glaring at each other's ticket sales.

Sunday, March 30—Tennis and "Sunday morning at the Legion" for pagans.

Monday, March 31—American Legion and American Veterans Committee to discuss "Common Problems of the Veteran." Neutral spot, near Center, to be decided by joint committee.

Tuesday, April 1—Baby Sitters Amalgamated to discuss special rates for washing dishes, reading bedtime stories. Gun Club meets Athletic Club at twenty paces.

Wednesday, April 2—Gym Night for all those over eighty.

Thursday, April 3—Greenbelt Grizzlies to meet the "Caps," Uline Arena, 9 p. m.

Crusades Against Fellow Travelers

Judge Thomas Freeman this week called upon Greenbelt to fight "the growing menace of fellow travelers."

"Every time I pick up the Cooperator," snapped the Judge, "I find another prominent citizen has joined their ranks. First it was our mayor and town manager, then Sam Ashelman. This has got to stop. With all these fellows busy traveling, community functions are in danger of coming to a halt."

Disarms Hatchet Murderer

A Plateau Place housewife snatches a deadly weapon from the grasp of a prowler, who stands aghast at her daring. "I allus knew this was a woman's town," he was growling as the photographer snapped the picture.

Council Meets To Approve Decision; GCS, Zoning Group Add Their Okays

FPHA General Field Office Director Oliver Winston, in an exclusive interview with the Cooperator yesterday afternoon, announced that the new six-lane super-highway would be routed directly through the town center.

"We here in the General Field Office realized how worried you folks were at the thought of a super-highway going through your backyards, so we thought we'd do you the favor of routing it through your business center. It will do a lot for your town. We always have the best interests of you people at heart."

The Zoning Committee recently appointed by the Council seemed full of approbation, when interviewed, on the score of the new super-highway route.

"It will make our task much easier," was the consensus of opinion among the 18. "There'll be no question now about where the business centers should be located. We'll really be a 'belt' town now, on a belt between Washington and Baltimore."

Sam Going Out For Hot Dog Concession
Sam Ashelman, Greenbelt Consumer Services general manager, said he "welcomed the opportunity created by the new highway of going after the exclusive right to erect hot dog stands along the right of way."

"There's nothing like a Co-op Red Label hot dog smothered in Co-op Red Label mustard, enclosed in a hot Co-op Red Label roll, with Co-op Red Label pickles, Co-op Red Label sauerkraut, and Co-op Red Label relish on the side," he stated, to a Cooperator reporter who was so biased she almost fell over.

East Plugs Highway Lots
Sherrrod East, president of the Greenbelt Mutual Housing Association, predicted that lots along the super-highway would be much sought-after.

East also announced a plan to facilitate the disengaging of separate houses from multi-family units. "So much mud has been slung at mutual housing," he said, "that we have a considerable stockpile laid up. The tough, adhesive qualities of the local adobe are well-known. It would provide excellent insulation for any unit which is moved out of its original line-up, and would furnish the necessary buttrressing as well."

Free Barbecue Beer And Bingo
President Robert Davenport has announced for the next meeting of the Citizens Association a gala barbecue, with beer and bingo. "It will all be on the house," he remarked.

Upon further questioning Mr. Davenport added that the Association was interested in getting a crowd out so as not to embarrass the guest speakers for the occasion, President Truman and J. Edgar Hoover, FBI Director.

Push Liquor Store Under Underpasses

The "Committee of 18" this week came up with a scheme for zoning any future liquor stores in the vicinity of the underpasses.

"Greenbelt residents have all noticed how hard the underpasses are for women pushing baby carriages. The grades are terrific. We feel like furnishing mother a chance for a little 'nip' before she starts that long uphill trip."

Landscape Gardener Angus MacGregor was in full accord with the zoning committee's plan. "It would encourage more people to go by way of the underpasses instead of cutting across sodded and seeded areas," he said hopefully.

Run-Down Theater Has First-Run Pix
According to Theater Manager Linson, he has secured permission direct from Samuel Goldwyn to elevate the Greenbelt theater to "first-run" status. Linson plans to run "The Best Years of Our Lives" Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday, to be followed by "Duel in the Sun" Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday.

At the same time Mr. Linson announced that beginning Monday, admission to the theater will be free. "The theater is so badly in need of repairs and renovation," he stated, "that we feel it is unfair to charge patrons for frequenting it."

Parents whose children chew candy in their neighbors' ears, or carry on by wailing and shouting, however, will be fined $5 per offense.

This money will be used to defray the expense of a theater nursery where parents can dump their children.

April Fool!

The staff struggled in vain this year against the temptation of running an April Fool issue. We all suffer from taking ourselves too seriously at times. Here's hoping you all let loose and laugh with us.

We've tried to scatter our shots widely so that no one needs to feel hurt at being left out. We even took cracks at ourselves, you'll notice.

It's just human nature to forget that the Cooperator is purely a volunteer project. The only guys who get paid are the delivery boys. As the sole town-wide paper, we feel our responsibility to cover the news to the best of our ability. At the same time we get awfully tired of being called on the carpet for minor slip-ups. We stay up till 2 o'clock Wednesday mornings and till midnight on Wednesdays and Thursdays struggling with this tabloid. We worry about it all week, every week.

So you might say this April Fool issue helped the staff blow off a little steam, too.

Help Wanted-Urgent

We really do feel we owe the Greenbelt Grizzlies an apology. Through a bad oversight, we omitted special mention of their county semi-finals game at the University of Maryland last Saturday.

It seems the boys have done all right this year, and they haven't liked the scanty coverage we've given them.

This brings us back to how badly we need a sports editor, someone to keep an eye on the main sporting events and to nudge us when we go leaving them off the calendar or burying them in inconspicuous places. You don't find volunteer sports editors under every cabbage leaf, though.

We never were the sporting type ourselves. Went in for folk dancing and tumbling instead of basketball. Wouldn't know the difference between a hockey stick and a baseball bat if someone conked us on the head with one. Sorry, that's how it is, kids.

The GHS boys' and girls' basketball teams will enter the finals for the State Basketball Championship title tomorrow evening, March 29, starting at 7 p. m. at Ritchie Coliseum. Both teams will meet Easton High school teams.

Last Saturday afternoon the GHS teams won the Class C Western Shore Championship at the Maryland University Armory. The Western Shore region includes high schools from fourteen Maryland counties. These games were also the semi-finals for the State Championship title.

The boys got off to a slow start last Saturday afternoon but came through in fine style defeating Brunswick High 52-36. Cragin and Benefiel led the scoring for the local team with 20 and 18 points respectively. At the first half the score was 20-16 in GHS's favor. Cragin scored only 2 points in the first half while Benefiel scored 15 of the first twenty points, but Cragin tore lose during the last half of the game, giving GHS its overwhelming lead.

The girls finally nosed out the Boonsboro High gals by a score of 35-31 in an overtime period. Esther Wolfe, 9th grader, was high scorer with 13 points and Jane Johnson followed with 12 points.

Winners in a preliminary game with the Sherwood team, the Greenbelt Women took on Rockville, three time before a victim of the local team, only to lose when a title was at stake.

This closed the season for the team, and though they didn't succeed in bringing home a cup, they won twelve of their eighteen games played.

Terps Down Chiefs

In an exciting game last Thursday night at Men's Gym, the Terps downed the Chiefs to gain first place in the second half of the men's recreation basketball league. This brings them up against the Ironmen, first half winners, in the championship bout.

Teddy Fox led the scoring with seven baskets and 1 freebie for a total of 15, and Stanley Provost followed with 8. Van Note and Mothershead shared honors for the Chiefs with 7 and 6 each.

Mrs. Leon G. Benefiel entertained the boys' team at her home, 60-B Crescent Road, last Saturday night to celebrate their winning the county championship. Coach Zeldin, Harry Powers, manager, John Mowatt and Leo Slaughter, assistant managers and High School principal Speicher were also present.

The color scheme was green and white and the center-piece a miniature basketball court with paste-board figures of each player in his place.

Jr. High Girls On Top

Last Friday afternoon, the Jr. High girls won their last basketball game of the season 33-14 against the Beltsville Jr. High girls.

Mabel Vicker, captain, was high scorer with 15 points while Barbara Neher of the visitors followed with 10. The Greenbelt team consisted of Mabel Vickers, Betty Oldham, Mary Jane McWilliams, Beverly Werz, Norma Kerns, Ann Walker, Shirley Morrison, Betty Longanecker, Marie Vickers, Mary Allen, Carol Day and Mary Dindlebeck.

Anyone interested in acting is asked to contact Mr. Hutsler 6053, and those interest in props or scenery should call Mr. Moritz.

A benefit evening of table-tennis and basketball has been scheduled for April 5 in the Center gym. Sponsored by the Athletic Club, the proceeds will go to the Rescue Squad.

Buddy Attick Will M. C. Stunt Night

Buddy Attick of the Greenbelt Police will serve as master of ceremonies for the High School Stunt Night which will be held tonight in the elementary school auditorium at 8 p. m.

Organizations participating by presenting skits are "Drop-Inn," Greenbelt Consumer Service, Athletic Club, Greenbelt Theatre Group, Woman's Club, American Legion, Greenbelt Girl Scouts, Berwyn Girl Scouts, and Beltsville Women's Club. The Greenbelt band will perform with majorettes.

Judges for the competition will be Mrs. Wesley Darling, Rev. Eric T. Braund, Mayor George Bauer, John W. McKay of Berwyn and C. A. Logan of Beltsville.

Refreshments will be sold in the social room.

Greenbelt Sale Requires Cash

The cause of the Greenbelt Mutual Housing Association received a blow recently when the House Banking and Currency Committee and the House Appropriation Committee decided that cash should be required for the purchase of any housing units constructed with Lanham Act funds. New Greenbelt is included in permanent war housing affected by this decision.

Dillon S. Myer, FPHA commissioner, announced that he would abide by the recommendation, but pointed out that it would have two harmful effects. It would narrow the field of potential buyers and therefore lower the price which the government could obtain. It would work an especial hardship on the present occupants if they wanted to buy their homes and were unable to pay cash.

Over seven hundred dollars has been collected to date in the Greenbelt Red Cross drive under the chairmanship of Mrs. James Gobbel. This means Greenbelt has gone over the quota of $600, and the results are not yet entirely tabulated.

Russell Nixon Speaks On Anti-Labor Legislation

The meeting will be held April 1 in the home economics room at the Center school, 8:15 p. m.

At the last meeting of the UPWA held March 6, Rachel Garner, consumer aide and dietician of GCS, discussed comparative prices at the Greenbelt and neighboring food stores. Miss Garner indicated that she would forward a number of the suggestions aimed at improving GCS services to the managers of the various departments. The meeting also heard an announcement regarding the Wakefield Dairy which is serving Greenbelt with milk at a lower price than other companies. The Wakefield Dairy furnishes this service through the Potomac Co-operative Federation.

The Sitters League formed by UPWA Auxiliary members reports that the dues which it collected paid for a $10 CARE package sent to the Varsovie Hospital for Spanish Loyalists in Toulouse, France.

Executive officers were elected at the March 6 meeting. Rose Rothchild was re-elected president; Dorothy Spindel, vice-president; Ruth Shifrin, recording secretary; Roslyn Borsky, corresponding secretary, and Helen Salzman, treasurer.

The Council passed a resolution at its last meeting offering aid to any church group in laying a foundation.

Greenbelt Artists Exhibit Next Week

Four Greenbelt artists will exhibit their work at the Isadore Parker home, 45-J Ridge Road, the week of April 6. The exhibit will open the afternoon of the sixth at 3 p. m. and will be on view every evening from 8 to 10 till April 12.

Mr. Parker, Ben Abramowitz, Sophie Cohen and Charles Shinn are the artists who will be showing their work locally. The paintings will not be for sale.

Mr. Parker stated that the artists chose to exhibit their works in his home since there are no facilities in town for such an exhibit.

AVC Auxiliary Card Party

At the last meeting of the American Veterans Committee Auxiliary, final plans were made for the bridge and gin rummy party which will be held in the social room of the center school, on Saturday, April 26.
