Santa Claus Visits Cub Scout Pack

Santa was the principal attraction at the December meeting of Cub Scout Pack 202. The Cubs and their families turned out in full force on the night of December 17 and filled the arts and crafts room, which was decorated with evergreens and holly. The boys made all of the tree ornaments and decorated the tree. Under the tree were two Nativity scenes—one of the 'Shepherds in the Field' and the other of the 'Baby Jesus in the Manger'—also made by the boys of one of the Dens.

Awards Presented

The following Cubs received awards for passing achievements: The Wolf Badge was given to Clifford Woodward, Teddy Kaufman and Peter Stepp. The Lion Badge and Gold Arrow and Silver Arrow was given to Fred Pfeiffer; Dick Barlow received the Wolf Badge and Gold Arrow; Benny Goins received one Silver Arrow and Charles Barlow two Silver Arrows. Service stars were given to Harry Merryman and Neil McCully in recognition of one year's service. Bobcat pins were awarded to Richard Myers, Tedy McCord, Phillip Guidry, Harvey Haviland, Bobby Nugent, John Nugent, David Lee and Michael Grabel.

Hunt Retires

A bronze Scout statuette was presented to Howard Hunt for his past service in the Cub organization. Mr. Hunt retired because of ill health.

The jingle of sleigh bells announced the arrival of Santa Claus who distributed gifts to the children. As each guest departed he was given a gift of candy by the Pack committee.

Faulty Cord Cause Of All That Noise

A small fire Friday night at the home of Hugh O'Neil, 19-D Hillside, caused much excitement and clamor. The fire was started by a faulty ironing cord. Trucks and rescue squads from Berwyn Heights, Branchville, and Greenbelt answered a call through the Fire Board from Hyattsville, to find flames already extinguished by a bucket of water. Damage was restricted to burning of an easy chair.

Co-Op Nursery Hears Talk

On Monday night, December 15, the mothers of children who attend the Saturday Morning Cooperative Nursery School for three-year-olds met at 4-B Hillside, home of Rachel Aigeze. Rosemary Bridge and Linda Solomon were elected to represent the group at meetings with the Parents Board of the every-day Nursery School. Linda Solomon, director of the school, conducted a discussion on "The Child in Relation to his Family."

The Saturday morning group meets from 9:30 to noon. A child who will be three years of age before the end of February, and is no more than four by then, may enroll. Registration blanks may be secured by calling 5677, and information about the school at 5342.

GCS To Enlarge Service Station

Work was started last Monday on tearing down the GCS gasoline station and rebuilding it into a larger, more efficient and attractive structure. When completed, the grease racks will be under cover, there will be an island with more gasoline pumps, the air hose will be more conveniently located, and there will be more room for cars waiting to be served.

The gasoline station is being rebuilt by the same contractor that will build the new store. By having the same supervisor in charge of all the construction, considerable economy will be effected and time saved.

Committee Wants More Information On Juvenile Thefts

A committee to study the problem of juvenile thefts from the GCS Variety Store met Thursday, December 18, and decided that there should be more specific facts presented. It asked that the situation be studied further within the next month. A second meeting will be held in February, at which time a report will be issued. The group felt they should meet several times as a loosely organized coordinating committee, and each organization should see what they can do about the problem. On January 26, the PTA will discuss the problem of juvenile delinquency.

Members Listed

Present at this initial meeting were Sgt. Albert Attick of the police department; Mrs. Mary Jane Kinzer of the PHA office; Mrs. Elizabeth Fugitt, principal of the Center School; Mrs. Catherine Mitchell, teacher at the North End School; Dr. E. A neighbor in the apartment building, at 8 Parkway, noticed that the lock was broken and the door opened Sunday evening and called the police. Officer Albert Attick, who took inventory at the scene of the robbery, called the editor. Drop-Inn Extends Open Hours For Holiday Season

The Drop-Inn has extended its hours during school holidays. Beginning with the close of school last Tuesday and continuing until the end of the vacation January 5, the canteen is open each weekday afternoon (with the exception of Christmas and New Year's Day) from 2 to 5:15 p. m. and Tuesday nights from 7:30 to 10:30 p. m.

Members have gayly decorated their canteen for Christmas. An after-Christmas party will be held on Sunday from 8 to 10:30 p. m. The program will consist of caroling, a grab bag, charades and other entertainment. Each person attending is asked to bring an inexpensive gift for the grab bag—the funnier the better. The table tennis table and pool table will be closed for the evening.

Outsiders Party

Following the recently adopted policy of opening the canteen on Monday nights for youth groups, Monday, December 29, has been reserved for a Christmas party for the out-of-high-school boys and girls. Entertainment and refreshments are planned, and all boys and girls in this age group are invited.

The canteen is also sponsoring a New Year's Eve dance at the canteen from 9 to 12 p. m. on December 31. An orchestra, refreshments, and prizes are scheduled. The admission fee is 25c for members showing membership cards and 50c for all others.

All teen-agers are invited to take part in the holiday program offered at the canteen.

Gifts Help Canteen

The boys and girls at the Greenbelt Youth Center have reason to believe that there really is a Santa Claus after all. The valuable gifts the canteen has received is their proof.

Several weeks ago an almost-new maple rocker was found outside the canteen door with a little note saying "Compliments of Father Dowgiallo and St. Hugh's Church." Not long after that a floor-model radio, needing only minor repairs, was presented to the canteen by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Drass. This was followed shortly by a donation of 60 Book-of-the-month Club books by Mrs. James Jones. The latest gift is a brand new shuffleboard set donated by A. K. Jacobs, manager of the Bladensburg Sears & Roebuck store, through the courtesy of Fred Pfeiffer of Greenbelt.

The canteen wishes to express publicly its thanks to these donors, to parents and friends who have given their time so generously to serve as hosts and hostesses for the past year, and to all citizens who have assisted with the various phases of the canteen work.

New York To Pay Veterans' Bonus

The Greenbelt Chapter of the American Veterans' Committee has received information to the effect that application blanks for payment of the New York State veterans' bonus are now available. Inquiries should be addressed to Leo V. Lanning, director of the Veterans Bonus Bureau, 1875 Broadway, Menands, Albany County, New York. Applications must be accompanied by photostatic copy of honorable discharge.

Residence in New York State at the time of application, and also for six months prior to entry into the service, is a necessary requisite. However, persons who have accepted federal government positions or temporary work in private industry outside the state, or who are absent from the state for purposes of business or education, are eligible, if such absence is temporary and they have a fixed intent to return to permanent residency in New York State.

Delphic Shades

We yield this year to what is apparently a universal temptation. Our favorite oracle has given us the following predictions for 1948:

January: The drug store's sale of remedies for "over-indulgence" will compensate for the loss of revenue resulting from being closed January 1.

February: Any rumors to the contrary, valentines will not be exchanged between Mayor Canning and ex-Mayor Bauer.

March: Greenbelters will remember, when filing income tax returns, how deductively generous to the March of Dimes and Community Chest they were in 1947.

April: Prices on milk will not have reached 28 cents a quart—yet.

May: Some method other than the drawing of straws will be used to determine whether the town manager or the mayor will crown the May Queen.

June: Greenbelt parents will start the long wait for Junior's return to school.

July: There will be fireworks, in at least one sense.

August: The maintenance department will get very few calls about lack of heat.

September: Everyone will be glad the year is one of national—not Greenbelt—election.

October: Parents, for the most part, will resist the temptation to join their offspring on "Beggars' Night," regardless of how high prices have gone.

November: New Year's resolutions to prepare early for Christmas will have been forgotten.

December: Santa Claus will maintain that the increase in the price of reindeer fodder, not the desire for profit, motivates the increased cost of his products.

The oracle refused to venture a forecast about steam shovels. He did, however, add his hope and his prediction that most of Greenbelt's troubles in 1948 would be little ones.

HAPPY NEW YEAR!

Questions Coverage

To the Editor:

May I call attention to certain inaccuracies contained in the lead article signed by Irving Rothchild in the December 19 issue of the Cooperator?

1. The town ordinance affecting the salary of the town treasurer was not made effective on January 1, 1948, as stated in the Cooperator, but was made effective on January 1, 1947, eleven and one-half months prior to the date of passage of the ordinance. Much discussion took place over the impropriety, if not illegality, of paying town employees at a rate in excess of the legal maximum. How is it that no mention was made of that?

2. Councilwoman Harrington was not alone in her objection to the proposed salary schedule, but was joined by other councilmen and citizens. One objection to the salary schedule not mentioned in the article was "reclassification" of one employee's job (and the appropriation of adequate funds in the new budget) to give a salary increase of more than $700 or an increase of more than 22%, while most of the other employees had to be content with increases of $75 to $125.

Other inaccuracies might be pointed out, but let the above two suffice. Slanting news through omissions or de-emphasis of embarrassing facts is not in accordance with the Cooperator's policy of "Covering Greenbelt news as fully, fairly, and accurately as possible."

fully, and accurately as possible." Editorial writing, it seems to me, is best reserved for the editorial page.

(Editor's Note: Space limitations prohibit word-for-word transcripts of such wordy proceedings as Town Council meetings. Copy-reading, not editorializing, was responsible for the date reading 1948. Mr. Rothchild's copy read 1947, was presumed to be an inaccuracy, and changed by the copy-reader.)

Wrong Emphasis

The confused thinking which enables some good Christians to condemn pacifism was well expressed in a letter in last week's Cooperator, which, in speaking of the "insignificant minority . . . who would turn the other cheek," said "May their number ever remain thus." For it was Christ who taught of turning the other cheek, and whose teachings led to a religion dedicated to peace on earth and good will to men. Can Christians fear the acceptance of the teachings of Christ?

Let us hope, at this season particularly, that more and more people will turn to, rather than from, Christian principles (which basically are the principles of all the great religions), and that we will accept Christ's precept that the power of brotherhood exceeds the power of the sword. Surely the devastation following the last war must teach us that there is no other hope.

Problem

To the Editor:

Concerning the problem of juvenile thefts in the variety store: Last Monday night, after leaving the food store, I went into the variety store to get some last-minute Christmas items. I set my groceries on a counter momentarily to carry my purchase to the cash register, and returned to find them gone. The bag contained half-a-dozen eggs, some bread and orange juice for my children's breakfast. It was then too late to return to the grocery store for more. However, it was not the inconvenience of doing without the food, nor the monetary loss—less than a dollar—which appalled me; it was the fact of the theft itself, and that there was any necessity in Greenbelt to steal food.

I have always contributed to collections for welfare funds; I have never knowingly refused to assist anyone in actual need, nor have I waited to be asked. Till now, it would have been unbelievable to me that, here in my community, hunger could drive a person to take food. If the act was prompted by necessity, something or someone is gravely at fault. If not, I would like to ask: if a child took it, does the parent know? or if a parent took it, does the child know?

Faculty Of G. H. S.

Plans Meeting

The Greenbelt High School faculty has taken as its theme for their monthly professional meetings, "The Ends From Which We Educate". Last year they studied "The Adolescent and his Problems". They hope to correlate these two topics in relation to the students of the school. The faculty has been divided into five committees, composed of members from the different departments of the school. Parents will be asked to become members of each group. They expect to spend at least two years studying all available material that has been written on the "Emerging Curriculum", reporting their findings at table discussion. From these they hope to evolve original ideas which will be used to enrich the present curriculum.

The students' requests and interests in extra-curricular activities have been met by the organization of forty-three clubs. The initial meetings took place the third week of school, with each teacher sponsoring two clubs, one on Thursday, the other on Friday. Almost one-hundred percent of the students wanted clubs. Membership is limited only as facilities or space require.

Robert A. Nye

Robert Arthur Nye passed away Tuesday morning at 4:30 at his home at 5-C Parkway Road. For the past 16 months Mr. Nye had been ill and treated both in the Baltimore and Riverdale hospitals.

Mr. Nye was born in Bobcagen, Quebec, October 8, 1869. When he was two years old his parents moved to Holyoke, Mass. Mr. Nye retired from the advertising business in Rochester and Buffalo because of ill health in 1936. He and Mrs. Nye moved to Washington, D. C., in 1940 and have made their home in Greenbelt for the past five years.

A lifelong member of the Congregational Church, Mr. Nye was a beloved member of the Community Church congregation and the Men's Bible Class. Fox, Lynch Squads In Tie For Lead

The youth of Greenbelt is taking over—at least in basketball. In the Recreation Department's Basketball League both Fox's Youngsters and Lynch's Newly-weds are tied for the league lead, each team supporting a 3-0 record.

In the first game Provost's Mixers defeated O'Connell's Ironmen 38-27, with Brewer and Ward leading the way for the victors. Brewer scored 14 points while his team mate was close behind with 12. Burt and O'Connell each scored 8 for the losers.

Rock Busters Crushed

The second game was another easy touch for the Youngsters as they crushed Chellman's Rock Busters 40-24. Fox led the winners with 17 points. Blanchard, Buck and Zanin led the Rock Busters with 6, 10 and 6 points respectively. The nightcap saw Killar's Climbers surrender an early lead to the Newly-weds which they could not regain even with Mothershead ringing the bell 18 times. Gleasner led the victors with 12 and Lynch followed closely with 11.

New Vets Group Organized Here

Post 404 of the Regular Veterans Association in Greenbelt was organized December 19 at the home of James C. Smith, veteran of World War I. Members were initiated by National Public Relations Officer John F. Farrell. Milton J. Eckert, National Adjutant, acted as adjutant of the meeting, and Walter Perry of Presidential Post 150 officiated as chaplain. Comrade Henley Goode of 28-P Ridge Road was delegated commander pro tem, John Andrew Freeman as adjutant pro tem, and James C. Smith as quartermaster pro tem.

The legislative program of the RVA recommends parity in compensation and pension scales and equal recognition for war-time and peace-time service. Veterans interested in the organization are invited to call either Mr. Smith, 3671, or Mr. Goode, 3111.

GHA Holds Meeting To Plan Drive

A meeting of the board and the block captains of the Greenbelt Health Association was held on Monday night. The purpose of the meeting was to make plans for the final phase of the Association's membership drive to recruit 100 new members.

Greenbelt Squad Whips Air Force

After losing to Clifton Liquors 32-29 in the first week of competition in the Tuesday Recreation League at Roosevelt High School, the Greenbelt Athletic Club bounced back to defeat the Army Air Force Pentagon in a fast game 33-29. The Greenbelt A. C., coached by Bob Lindeman, led 21-13 at the half but were tied up 23-23 at the ¾ mark. The team roughed it up to defeat the AAF by two baskets.

U Of M Teams Have Stellar Records

In spite of football losses to North Carolina and Duke, University of Maryland's student body and alumni are "up" on athletic results in general at College Park. Most of them feel that the Terp gridiron machine will do better next year and, in the meantime, Terp boosters point out that when the 1947 all-sports summaries are published the Terps will be right up around the top.

Maryland's rifle team holds the Intercollegiate national title with five Terps qualified for the National Golden Bullet team. That's comparable to Army's record in the Davis-Blanchard-Tucker days.

Maryland's boxing team, for the third time winners of the Southern Conference championship, has been selected to represent the East in the New Orleans Sugar Bowl sports week.

Maryland's cross country team literally ran away with the Southern Conference championship after an undefeated season.

Maryland's soccer team went through an undefeated season and knocked off Temple, undefeated theretofore in 19 games.

Maryland's golf team won the State championship.

That's five topnotch performances and the Terps believe no other college has done as well.

93% Of Quota Met In Chest Drive In Prince Georges

Leading all other counties in percentage of quota reached, Prince Georges County has to date contributed $41,120 to the 1947 Community Chest Campaign. This amount, over 93% of the quota, represents 7,059 contributions.

This is in addition to 4568 contributions made in U. S. Government Agencies in the county, totaling $30,151.

From the campaign results, Prince Georges will receive $89,388, it was announced; this sum having been approved as the county's share of the Community Chest Federation funds at a meeting of the executive committee. Approximately the same amount received last year, the allocation is considerably under the original request for $136,198 made by the local budget committee under the chairmanship of Harvey T. Casbarian, and because of rising costs will result in a slight reduction in services available in 1948.

Campaign chairman Bill Werber this week expressed hopes of yet reaching the full $44,000 which was this year's quota. "We know there are still thousands of residents who have not been reached," Mr. Werber said, "and we again urge all these to share with us by sending their checks now to the County Service Building, Hyattsville."

Veterans Administration maintains a staff of social workers as part of its medical program. One important phase of their work is to help veteran-patients with personal problems that might retard the veterans' recovery.

Second Annual National Capital Open To Be Held On Local Course In April

Greenbelt's golf enthusiasts will get the opportunity to see the country's top-flight golfers in action again next April, when the second annual National Capital Open golf tournament will be held at Prince Georges Golf and Country Club in Landover.

Announcement of the dates—April 29 to May 2—was made this week by Al Houghton, pro at the local club.

With $2500 more in the "kitty," the purse for the 1948 event having been boosted from $10,000 to $12,500, it is expected that practically all the golfing greats will be on hand for the tourney. The event will be the first on the summer schedule for the touring pros, and will serve as a tune-up for the PGA championships at St. Louis later in May.

As was the case last year, a golfing clinic conducted by some of the biggest "names" in the game, will be held preceding the tournament, on April 28.

Eighteen-hole rounds will be played daily, and the field will be limited to 150 players. Should the entry list exceed that mark a qualifying round for all except eligible players will be held April 28, it was announced.

The local layout is being worked over this winter, new tees and greens have been installed, and several holes altered as to length. By the time the tourney rolls around, it should be in great shape for the onslaught of the players, who last year blazed around the course in sub-par figures. Lloyd Mangrum, of Chicago, was the 1947 winner.

Fly To New Orleans

University of Maryland's boxing team will leave Washington Airport at 9:15 a. m. on Dec. 27 for New Orleans, where the Terp boxers are scheduled to meet Michigan State's powerful ring squad in Sugar Bowl competition.

Meals for Millions Foundation Feeds 33 Persons for $1

Greenbelt citizens interested in helping needy European families to enjoy at least the basic necessities of life will be glad to learn of Multi-Purpose Food, available from the Meals for Millions Foundation, Inc. This product, developed at the California Institute of Technology, supplies protein of high biological quality, vitamins and minerals.

Two ounces, dry weight, of Multi-Purpose Food, when cooked with water for ten minutes, provide an 8-ounce serving, which contains one-third of the normal day's requirements, except Vitamin C. It is the approximate nutritional equivalent of a meal of beef, green peas, milk and potatoes. It is cheap and light, in comparison with other foods, $1 sending 33 meals. It is tasty, according to reports from Greenbelters who have tried it, and blends well with other foods, assuming their flavor.

Demonstration quantities are available, as well as overseas parcels, sent directly to the name of your choice. For more information, write Meals for Millions Foundation, Inc., at 119 East 19 Street, New York, or 648 South Broadway, Los Angeles, California; or call Greenbelt 5106.

On CARE

Another organization which is putting the Christmas spirit into action is CARE, a non-profit agency set up by relief agencies of all kinds and creeds. Through CARE you can send for $10 any of the following packages: a food package weighing 21½ pounds, an infant food package for babies up to 6 months of age; a baby food package for babies from 6 months to one year of age; a layette package; a blanket package; a knitting wool package; a household linen package; a woolen package; and a cotton package. The packages containing cloth or wool also contain needles, thread, buttons, and a thimble—all scarce commodities.

CARE's greatest advantage, aside from the variety and cheapness of its packages, is that it guarantees delivery to the person to whom you have the package sent. You get a receipt signed by the recipient, or in case of non-delivery, you get your money back. All packages are duty- and ration-free, and can be sent to 15 European countries. You can also send your packages to general relief, or to a type of person, such as a destitute widow in Vienna, or to a group, such as an orphanage in Paris. Order blanks can be obtained from CARE, 50 Broad Street, New York 4, N. Y., or locally from the GCS officers.

Community Church Helps

Your own cast-off clothing can be utilized, also, for the benefit of those who have so little. The Greenbelt Community Church sponsors a collection service for such garments, and sends them abroad through the American Friends Service Committee, and the Church World Service in Westminster, Md. Your gifts will be warmly received either at 7 Woodland Way, or at the Community Church service, Sunday morning, Center School auditorium.

There are many other worthwhile organizations through which we can do our part to help keep our world one of peace and brotherhood, but space does not permit their listing here. If you know of some special service provided by a particular organization, write a note to the Cooperator, and it will be described in later issues.

Transit Patrons Get Temporary Stay From PSC

Patrons of Capitol Transit street car and bus lines in Maryland will not be faced with an increase in fares before April 8 as a result of a ruling the Maryland Public Service Commission made public this week.

Capitol Transit's petition for higher fares in Maryland was filed on Nov. 10, and the increased rates would legally have become effective 30 days from that date. The Public Service Commission, however, has issued an order suspending the automatic increase until it has had an opportunity to study the testimony presented at its hearings, and to issue a decision.

The order was dated Dec. 8, after the transportation company had refused a voluntary postponement of the fare raise, but no publicity was given the action at the time.

Hearings on the increased fare petition and on the Transit Company's proposed abandonment of shuttle service between Beltsville and Branchville, which began this month, have been continued until January.

The abandonment petition will be considered on Jan. 6, with the increased fare petition scheduled for hearing after a decision on the first petition has been reached.

No specific date has been set for the second hearing, and it was understood the Public Service Commission may continue the suspension for another 30 days after April 8.

Collectors will also be available from Jan. 2 through 15 at the Internal Revenue Building, 222 East Redwood st., and at Room 130 Customs House, Gay and Water sts. in Baltimore; and in Washington at Room 1002, Internal Revenue Building, Constitution ave. and 12th st.

Veterans Info

Veterans may use photostatic copies of their discharge papers instead of the original in applying for several of the benefits handled by the Veterans Administration, the VA's Washington Regional Office pointed out this week.

By so doing, it was explained, a veteran will lessen the chance that he will misplace his original papers. The VA added that ex-servicemen and women should keep their original discharge papers in a safe place.

But if a veteran does lose his discharge papers, the VA continued, he should apply to the branch of service in which he served for a certificate in lieu of discharge.

A photostatic copy of a veteran's discharge may be used in applying for education or training and also for hospitalization. However, the original papers or a certificate in lieu of discharge must be presented upon making application for a G. I. loan or for readjustment allowances.

Application for benefits administered by the Veterans Administration, with the exception of readjustment allowances, may be made at the VA Regional Office, 1825 H st., n. w., between the hours of 8 a. m. and 4:45 p. m., Monday through Friday.

Participants from this area were Francis Birchard, Greenbelt, and Jean Todd, Berwyn. The adults participating were Dr. John W. McKay of Berwyn and Mrs. T. C. Iyerly of Beltsville.
