

GCS Board Meets New Staff Man

By Doris Asbell Mednick

Townsend Scudder, Jr., new full-time public relations and education director of Greenbelt Consumer Services, was introduced to the board of directors at last Friday night's meeting. Employed by GCS some years ago, Scudder comes from the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation where he worked in the advertising and publicity department.

The board learned that Scudder has been making home visits in Greenbelt and recording comments of consumers in regard to the local co-op.

General manager Sam Ashelman, asked if Mrs. Dorothy East who made home calls will be replaced, replied that "we are looking into the possibility of many people in various parts of town contacting new neighbors near them on a part-time basis," being paid a stipulated amount for each call.

Price-checking

The board adopted a resolution establishing a price-checking committee whose reports "will be presented to the board for its information, as well as to the general manager for action where necessary."

Although the price-checking committee has been in existence for a number of months, several difficulties have arisen over questions of personality and techniques and the presentation of reports directly to individual managers. The executive committee had been authorized to study the price-checking committee, and the above resolution was its recommendation.

Directors voting for the resolution were: Martin Bickford, Ellie Ritchie, Opie Stage, Henry Walter, and Cal Winegarden. Those opposed were: Bob Mitchell, George Davidsen and Milton Kramer.

The board also considered a publicity release on the activities of the price-checking committee which the executive committee had prepared.

Skim milk has been out of the center food store recently because it has been out at the warehouse, reported Ashelman. He said that Pete Caruso, new meat manager, is doing a good job, including putting all grades of meat in the cases and giving consumers their choice. Co-op products have been moving off the shelves in the Takoma Park store at a great rate and Co-op soups have been outselling a nationally-advertised brand.

The advisory committee in Takoma Park is planning to lease space in one of the stores in that shopping area to operate a child-checking center for mothers who want to shop. It will be tried for a month's period.

The executive committee and a number of interested co-op members met Monday, October 17 to plan the program for the next general membership meeting scheduled for November 7.

Camp Fire Girls Plan Local Groups

The Camp Fire Girls Organization of Prince Georges County is sponsoring Camp Fire groups, including Blue Birds for girls ranging from 7 to 9 years, Camp Fire Girls for girls of 9 through 12, and the Horizon Club for the 12 to 16 age group.

Since the organization founding in 1910 it has helped girls develop their best potentialities as alert citizens and homemakers or professional women through a program of fun, friendship and high ideals. During Red Feather Month, Camp

City Starts To Run School Bus Monday

Beginning Monday, October 22, the city will operate a special school bus, according to City manager Charles McDonald.

The bus will leave the center at 8:15, going out Crescent to the top of A block (Ridge and Crescent) thence out Ridge to the north end as far as Research, over Research to Hillside, and back to Crescent road stopping at St. Hugh's school. From St. Hugh's the bus will continue on Crescent to the junior high school and over Greenbelt road to Branchville, returning by way of Greenbelt road and Southway to the center.

The afternoon special trip will leave St. Hugh's schools at 2:45 p.m., over Hillside to Research to Ridge as far as Gardenway to the center. There the bus will make a special shoppers' trip leaving the center at 3 p.m. and circulating around the city through A block to Ridge Road, to Research to Hillside to Crescent Road, and out Crescent to the junior high school, over Greenbelt Road to Branchville and return to the center.

These special bus trips are provided principally for school children, says McDonald, but other passengers are welcome to use the trips at their own convenience.

The fare will be five cents for children under twelve, and ten cents for adults. Bus passes will be honored on this bus.

Local Gunners Win State Title

The Greenbelt Gun Club closed a sure-firing summer rifle season last Saturday in high style when it won the 1951 Maryland smallbore team trophy with the hot 4-man score of 1596 out of a possible 1600. This brought to the Greenbelt unit the award offered annually by the National Rifle Association to the team in each State which outshoots all others in matches and tournaments registered with the Association. Greenbelt won this plaque before in 1949.

The Club's "Wolves" team defeated 9 others in the local (registered) Maryland Rifle League series of matches held on Greenbelt's range this summer. Then the GGC sent four top shooters "into the western hills" last Saturday to compete with the Frostburg Club team, which was the winning outfit of the six-team Western Maryland League. The losing foursome fired a team score of 1588, as compared with GGC's 1596. The Greenbelters and their individual scores were: Ralph Robinson, 400; Donald Kern, 399; Freeman Morgan, 399; and Major L. L. Woodman, 398.

The Greenbelt Gun Club commences its part in the local League's winter indoor shooting program at the University of Maryland gallery range tonight. The Club will have three teams in the program of indoor matches for the coming months.

GIFTS FOR SERVICEMEN

The Woman's Club of Greenbelt is desirous of sending some small remembrance at Christmas time to the Greenbelt boys now serving in Korea. Please write or call Miss Cyrilla O'Connor, 15-B Parkway Rd., or any member of the Woman's Club and give the name, serial number, address, etc. of any member of a Greenbelt family who is now serving in Korea. A hint regarding his wish for a small or inexpensive gift and the date of his birth will be appreciated.

Library Contest

Library Week is over and done But Library Contest has just begun.

Three hundred words or less may well win

A prizeworthy book for you or your kin.

So, children from seven to past seventeen

Have a try at some prose. The record is clean,

The judges are waiting, the library's here,

Keep your meaning instructive, your sentences clear.

Let's have it, young votaries of the Muse,

You've books to gain and naught to lose.

Parents And Teachers Convene November 1, 2

"Home, School, and Church — Our Citadel of Security" is to be the theme of the thirty-sixth annual convention of the Maryland Congress of Parents and Teachers to be held in Hagerstown, Maryland, November 1 and 2.

Dr. Daniel A. Prescott, College of Education, University of Maryland, will give the keynote address on Thursday. Mrs. John E. Hayes, president of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, will be guest and consultant during the convention.

Mrs. Joseph B. Yuill of Lanham is serving as moderator for a panel on "Young Adults in Troubled Times". Mrs. Wells Harrington of University Park, vicepresident of the State P.T.A., and Bruce Bowman, County Council president, will represent Prince Georges County as will many delegates from local associations throughout the county.

Women Voters Plan UN Birthday Dance

The League of Women Voters of Prince Georges County is giving a birthday party and square dance Saturday night, 8:30 to 12, in the Old Gym on the Maryland U Campus, celebrating the sixth anniversary of the forming of the United Nations. Invitations have been issued to the embassies and legations of all the member nations inviting staff members as guests and to date acceptances have been received from the representatives of Burma, Canada, Cuba, Denmark, Honduras, Lebanon, New Zealand, and Poland.

Arthur Sweetser, director of the United Nations Information Center in Washington, has been invited to participate in the ceremonies of extinguishing the birthday candles and the cutting of the cake.

The popular Eb and Ely are callers for the dance, with the Rock Creek Promenaders furnishing the music.

Tickets may be obtained from the Greenbelt chairman, Mrs. Lydalu Palmer, 1-D Eastway, Gr-5201, or at the door. The public is invited.

The Greenbelt Unit of the League of Women Voters will hold its next meeting on Wednesday, October 24, 8:30 p.m., at the home of Mrs. Lyman Woodman, 2-D Westway. The first part of the meeting will be devoted to a discussion of the League's October topic, "The United Nations." The latter part of the evening will be a social and will include a special "white elephant exchange".

Other officers in the local Unit are Mrs. Theron A. Tompkins, secretary; Mrs. Haward Hunt, treasurer, and Mrs. Woodman, librarian. Mrs. Woodman also serves as Prince Georges County public relations chairman and Mrs. Palmer is on her committee as special events chairman.

Council Discusses Imminent Sale Of Greenbelt With GVHC Heads

By I. J. Parker

Only a determination of the sale price is holding up the sale of Greenbelt, according to Mike Salzman, president of the Greenbelt Veterans Housing Corporation. Appearing by invitation at last Monday's city council meeting with GVHC attorney David Krooth, Salzman also informed the council that all the conditions of sale have been met. A "time-table" for future negotiations has been planned, and financing for future development has been tentatively arranged.

Community Chest Opens 1951 Drive

The 1952 Red Feather campaign is now under way and, according to Greenbelt chairman Helen Chasanow, this year must mean a bigger local quota than ever.

In addition to the 6 local Chests of the National Capital Area, 100 local agencies (which aid over 150,000 men, women and children every year) and the hospitalization fund, the drive this year includes a proposed $320,000 for the United Defense Fund, which means USO, USO Camp Shows and all the other services connected with members of the armed forces. Altogether, something over four million dollars must pour into the Chest for 1952.

What this means to the government clerk on Crescent Road, the student veteran on Parkway, the housewife on Ridge is not necessarily a larger contribution. What it must mean, however, as local Chest leaders emphasize, is some contribution.

The Community Chest is a non-sectarian non-profit institution which makes possible the hospitalization, longterm care, temporary relief, proper housing, or normal child care of several hundred thousand citizens who have through sickness, misfortune, or family tragedy come to a point where they cannot help themselves. Contributors may at any time examine the "books," which are open to the public. Contributors may specify to what organization or project their money should be allotted. Contributors have the right to elect representatives to the National Capital Area Board, which controls the spending.

Apart from the newly added USO budget, the Chest pays for family counseling, assistance to individuals, care of children, aid to youth, and care of the aged. The numerous 'Y's, Boys Clubs, Scouts, Social Service Agencies (of all denominations), Florence Crittenton Home, Travelers Aid, Legal Aid Society, are typical of the institutions supported partly or wholly by money from the Community Chest.

The goal in Greenbelt will be a contribution from every home, beside and above what the working members of the family pledge on the job. One hundred per cent participation, says Mrs. Chasanow, will put Greenbelt on the Community Chest map.

Recreation For Girls

Instructor, B. Baxter

The girls of Greenbelt have a recreational program set up for them again this year. The program consists of the following: For the elementary age girls at 3:30 to 4:30 from Tuesday to Friday; first and second Tuesday, third and fourth Wednesday, fifth Thursday and sixth Friday. This includes the Center School, North End School and Catholic School.

The program for junior high and senior high school consists of basketball from 4:30 to 5:30 from Tuesday to Friday. There will be squads picked to play each other. Those who do not know how to play will be taught.

The sale price, scheduled last Monday, has been delayed until a new appraisal has been made, Salzman stated. The appraisal will be forthcoming in ten days and a week of study by PHA will be made prior to announcement of the price. The date informally set by PHA for the disclosure of the price is November 1. Although first considered as a new "evaluation" of Greenbelt's worth, the price will definitely be the result of a new appraisal, Salzman declared.

David Krooth stated that he had protested "the propriety of an increased appraisal at this time" to PHA. Asked by council whether it could assist in the negotiations, Krooth suggested a communication be sent to responsible parties including persons "outside the administrative field" asking the hastening of negotiations.

(The first appraisal resulted in a sale price which was disclosed to GVHC, but after the outbreak of the Korean war the sale of Greenbelt was halted by PHA. Following inquiry by a congressional committee, PHA was instructed to go ahead with the sale. A new appraisal was then deemed necessary by PHA. According to Salzman, the Administrator is not bound by the appraisal price, but can use his discretion.)

(Of the three "green towns," Greenhills, Ohio has been sold and Greendale, Wisconsin is in the process of being sold to the residents.)

Efforts to secure undeveloped land from the federal government have been undertaken unsuccessfully many times in the past, Salzman informed the council. However, plans are being made to develop the land after purchase, and will allow for dwellings of all types. Subordinate and independent corporations may be used to organize future developments and the intent is to take advantage of public housing legislation which would make development more practical for middle-income groups. All the corporations would be set up on a non-profit basis.

(Under Section 213, a group of home builders made up of 65% veterans can secure up to a 40-year mortgage at 4% financing with a 5% down payment.)

The Peoples Development Company, a non-profit organization associated with Farm Bureau, is prepared to finance such housing and to lend assistance in the purchase of Greenbelt, Salzman stated.

The council will prepare a resolution to be voted on at a special meeting tonight, asking PHA to expedite the sale of Greenbelt.

Appraisal

Money—again—is the prime problem in today's negotiations between the Greenbelt Veterans Housing Corporation and Public Housing Administration. A sale price, broken down into terms of individual houses, undeveloped land and commercial property, will give residents the approximate valuation of their homes. It is this amount that will determine Greenbelt's decision on the question of purchasing the project for themselves. The sooner this price is announced, the sooner residents can calculate their resources and plan their housing destinies.

Past experiences of GVHC members may give rise to some doubts. The GVHC board, working like beavers for several years without either encouraging results or much direct contact with its membership, will have a backlog of explaining and educating to catch up with. The large turnover in residents will make a new information program imperative. New residents must be told what a mutual housing group means to them; members must be brought up to date on plans for financing the purchase of present homes, and development of future dwellings. In a cooperative venture, only complete understanding and willingness on the part of each member will foster unity of purpose and action.

One main fact should be emphasized again: PHA is committed by Congress, under federal legislation, to SELL GREENBELT. Some of us who would prefer to rent under federal ownership cannot get away from this fact. It will be to our advantage to buy Greenbelt for ourselves. Asking for hasty negotiation of the sale helps our chances of keeping the price down, in the face of rising costs of living everywhere. This second appraisal has already boosted the price, in all probability, and any further delay will only mean further expense in the end.

The idea of building more homes on the undeveloped land is of great significance. Although GVHC has stated it may not adhere strictly to the original Hale Walker plan, Greenbelt will remain a "planned community." There will be new shopping centers, recreation areas, and cultural areas. Greenbelt will expand spiritually as well as materially. When physical growth was forced on the community with the addition of the defense homes, the community had to respond to that challenge with an increased civic sense and successful integration.

So, once again Greenbelt is on the threshold of municipal maturity. With the ownership of Greenbelt homes soon to be transferred to their residents, an intimate sense of responsibility will be also transferred. The tax rates, maintenance, and many of the city services will take on new meaning and importance to Greenbelt home-owners. We must face this responsibility with the courage and faith and belief in possibilities of people when they work together, that put Greenbelt here in the first place and that have given its people a unique experience in human relations.

Spirit of Halloween

According to recent information, the Children's Hospital Completion Fund, which began on January 18, has passed its first half-million mark. In the drive for $545,000 over 91% of the goal has been reached.

While the formal campaign is actually over, groups all over the area have been steadily organizing projects which will—some day—cover the last of the remaining $45,000.

The Cooperator, the City Council and other leading organizations in Greenbelt look forward to making a dent in that deficit on Hallowe'en Eve. Attempts are being made to secure collection boxes which will make the children's 'work' easier.

Although an articulate minority in the city has protested against the idea of using Devil's Night as collection night for Children's Hospital, informed leaders of the community feel that most of the people are behind the idea. Objections mainly center on the inadvisability of trusting youngsters on an occasion meant for fun, in a money-raising scheme. Time and experience, of course, will be the best judges of the accuracy of these reservations.

Meanwhile the Cooperator and other interested groups are continuing to hope for a substantial showing both in spirit and material.

THANK YOU

I wish to take this means of expressing my gratitude to all friends and neighbors for their kindnesses and expressions of sympathy at the loss of my mother on October 7.

Thank you.

(Mrs.) Rachel Algaze.

William Duter

William Duter, 47-C Ridge Rd., died October 13. Burial took place in Milwaukee, Wisc. October 17. He is survived by his widow, three sons Ralph, Paul and Rex, and five grandchildren.

St. HUGH'S CHOIR

Men or women interested in joining St. Hugh's Choir are cordially invited to become members, according to Mrs. Thomas J. Callanan, choir director. Practice is held at 10:30 Sunday morning in St. Hugh's School.

Trattler Chatter

Hi' folks . . . received a few calls for my column but would like to hear from more of you. In case I missed out not writing about you, please accept my apology. It wasn't that I didn't like you, I just didn't know about it . . . so come on, don't be shy. Let your neighbor hear the things she can't see. . . .

oOo

To Mrs. Rachel Algaze, 4-H Hillside, goes our deepest sympathy, on the passing of her mother, Mrs. Rose Agar, who lived in the Bronx.

oOo

Hey kids! How lucky can you get? Hear you're all having a nice week-end vacation. Now don't you dare make that awful mistake and go to school on Friday. You'll never forgive yourself. . . .

oOo

Talking about luck—Mrs. Joseph Long, 3-B Gardenway, just happened to have a can of Wilkins coffee on hand when the Wilkins man paid her a surprise visit. And being such a smart gal, she answered some questions correctly, and for her reward received a beautiful Westinghouse mixer and juicer. Not bad for nothing? (Keep those coffee cans handy girls, you may be the lucky one next time.)

oOo

"Lovely to look at" . . . That's what people were saying about the former Lorene Nelson, 45-L Ridge Road, when she became the bride of Seaman James Alvin Hanna, of Beltsville, at a double ring ceremony on October 7, at the Greenbelt Community Church. Here's wishing the happy couple lots of luck and success on their new venture, and may all their little ones be "babies."

oOo

October is the month for celebrations:-

Peter Solet, 17-G Ridge, was 7 on October 10 and had a supper party for some of his friends (no gals invited).

Jimmy Hunt, 3-D Research, was 10 on October 10 also, but his birthday party included girls (we're not so bad once you get to know us).

Bert Weidberg, 17-A Ridge, was 11 on October 16. His dad took some of his friends (all guys too) on a trip to the Ivy City Round House in D. C. and the lucky boys got to ride on a real Diesel locomotive. After the trip the boys came back to Bert's house for a party.

My favorite daughter Rhona was 17 on October 12. Her birthday was spent in town, buying guess what? Clothes of course. What more could a young lady ask for? (Only thing I'm unhappy about is that I'm getting older).

Hey folks, our Art class started last Wednesday at Northwestern High, and guess who our teacher is? None other than handsome Dave Young. He was our teacher last year—we all learned a few good pointers on art. Don't be surprised if you see some of our work hanging in the "Art Gallery." (Who wants to buy a painting cheap?)

oOo

Sol Mednick, 8-M Plateau, won 1st prize in a Sunday Star Weekly photography contest.

oOo

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Bryan, 8-G Plateau, are the proud parents of a new baby daughter. This brings their number of girls up to two.

oOo

Gregory Mac Ewen, 8 years old, 13-N Ridge, won the $100 jackpot Tuesday night. Next week there will be a $25 jackpot.

The Majorettes were the performers on the stage this week.

THANK YOU

I want to thank all the parents and teachers of the Center School for their generous contributions to our bake sale, and to those who gave their time so freely as salespeople and to those who picked up the baked goods. The total amount earned was $141.17.

Thanks again.

DOLLARS & SENSE

By Morris J. Solomon

GCS Takes the Boloney Out of Beef

The GCS meat department has made a change which hasn't received the attention it deserves. It is going on the premise that each customer is sensible about quality. It sells all grades of beef. You pay your money for what suits you best. They stock prime, choice, good and commercial beef. At all times you know exactly what you are getting. It's all marked on the package.

All Grades of Beef Wholesome Food

To buy intelligently you should know something about the grades. The top grade is "prime," next is "choice," followed by "good" and then "commercial." All grades of beef are wholesome food, federally inspected. Fortunately, back in the early 1900's Congress provided for a pretty foolproof system of inspection of meats moving across state lines. A U.S. grade on the meat is your assurance that it is good food—if it has been stored properly since the time it was graded.

What's in a Grade

What follows is an excellent description of the basis for grades in beef, given in a publication put out by the Household Finance Company.

The Lean: In better grades of beef the lean meat is firm, smooth and velvety in appearance and has tiny flecks of fat between the small individual meat fibers. This is called marbling. The lower quality beef is coarse and has little or no marbling. Generally, higher grades of beef have a brighter and more appetizing red color than lower grades.

The Fat: Better grades of retail cuts have a moderately thick covering of fat on the outside. The fat is firm and white or creamy white in appearance. In lower quality cuts the fat is frequently soft and oily.

Higher Grade Beef Has a Taste Advantage

The chief advantage of getting prime or choice beef is that for the same cut it is likely to taste better. If it doesn't, then it probably hasn't been aged right. However, if you cook the lower grades or the tougher cuts properly, any grade of beef and any cut should be excellent.

Some Rules in Cooking Meat

Rule 1 - Cook by "dry heat" (roasting, broiling, panbroiling, frying) if you are sure the meat is tender. Some cuts, even though of prime grade, are relatively tough—so you can't go by grade alone. When meat is ground or chopped, it will be tender.

Rule 2 - Any grade meat and just about any cut can be made tender by "moist heat" (such as braising, steaming and stewing). Use moist heat for less tender cuts and lower grades of meat.

Rule 3 - Cook meat at low temperature, no matter how you cook it. Roasts should be cooked in oven temperatures of 300 to 350 degrees. Meat cooked in water should simmer, never boil.

When You Buy Meat Consider Price, Grade, Cut, and the Dish you have in mind.

Never buy meat without considering price, grade, cut and the dish you have in mind. If you want meat for an Irish stew you're wasting your money if you pay extra for prime or choice meat. In any case the meat will be tender. Besides, unless you trim the fat off, it is likely to be too fatty. If your family likes steak braised, "commercial" or "good" grade will turn out quite well.

Lower Grades Cost Less and Have

Less Fat.

In addition to costing less per pound, the lower grades have less fat per pound. This has the effect of giving you more of the important nutrients per pound of meat. After all, you can get margarine at 25 cents a pound. Why pay 65 cents to $1.20 per pound for meat fat which isn't as good (no vitamin A) as margarine—unless you have some other good reason to do so? Don't use nutrition as an alibi. ### You Get What You Need

The new GCS meat system should help you get exactly what you want. You have a better choice and a wider field for economizing. The butcher lets you decide what suits you. It's a great system—for an intelligent consumer. A Department of Agriculture publication summed it up well, "Low grades take more cooking time, high grades take more money. Which do you have most of?"

WOLFE TALES

By Donnie Wolfe

Greenbelt traveled to Oxon Hill to give them their first defeat of the season, to the tune of 12 to 0. The Packers unloaded everything that they had up their sleeves to down the team from southern Maryland. Greenbelt could not reach paydirt until the later part of the second quarter. It was then that "The Cuban" Stu Knott took a handoff from Joe Brosmer with the help of a strong forward wall of Greenbelt to scoot 15 yards for the score. Oxon Hill threatened on many occasions only to be turned back by the strong forward wall of Greenbelt. Oxon Hill had the ball on Greenbelt's 5-yd. line only to find themselves going backward to their own territory. Score as the first half ended stood at 6 to 0 in Greenbelt's favor. The start of the second half found Greenbelt on its way to another touchdown. Bing Miller took the ball and went 35 yards with the help of a key block thrown by Frankie Lagana. Greenbelt's line was something to watch and all teams that have to play Greenbelt had better resort to the air. Much credit has to be given to Paul Rousseau for the fine job he did to produce such a strong forward wall.

The Packers play at home this Sunday and another tough opponent is on the schedule. Edmonston is the team that could give Greenbelt its first defeat of the season, as they have combined with Bladensburg and should be very powerful. Game time, 2:30.

NAVY WIVES MEET

The Truman Riddle Navy Wives Club of Greenbelt held a social Tuesday evening, October 16, at the home of Mrs. Jean Wilkinson, 51-P Ridge Road.

The Club welcomed the following prospective members. Mrs. Carl Eckman, Mrs. Joseph Nugent and Mrs. Kenneth Wira m.

The members turned in 3200 rolled dressings to be picked up by the Red Cross for distribution to the local hospitals. Anyone wishing to help the Navy Wives in this worthwhile cause, bandage rolling, kindly call the welfare chairman, Mrs. Dorothy Peifer, at Greenbelt 3356. These dressings are sorely needed by the hospitals.

Plans were discussed for the Halloween party for members and their husbands to be held October 27 at the Athletic Club. The usual business meeting was dispensed with in order for the prospective members to get acquainted. Bridge and canasta were played and delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Wilkinson.

Wives of enlisted men in the Navy, Navy Reserve, Coast Guard, Marines are cordially invited to join the Truman Riddle Navy Wives Club of Greenbelt. You do not need to be a Navy wife to volunteer for the bandage rolling. Everyone welcome.

TURKEY DINNER

The Order of the Eastern Star will serve a Turkey dinner and bazaar Saturday, October 27, at the Berwyn Presbyterian Church, Potomac Avenue and Quebec Street, Berwyn, Maryland.

Call Mrs. Ott at Greenbelt 7491, for tickets.

Bowling League Standings

Rank	Team	Won	Lost	Pins	Average
1.	Misfits	8	4	6196	.667
2.	North'd	8	4	5729	.667
3.	Bums	7	5	6235	.483
4.	Nor. M.	7	5	5939	.583
5.	Credit	6	6	6121	.500
6.	Rescue	6	6	4297	.500
7.	Cosmics	5	7	5993	.417
8.	Comets	5	7	5939	.417
9.	Blued's	4	8	5889	.333
10.	Cliff'drs	4	8	5833	.333

The Misfits lost two to the Cliff-dwellers but maintained first place by considerable pinfall. Cashman came up with a 372 set to pace the winners but failed to raise them from the cellar.

The Northend won three from the Bluedevils and moved into a tie for first. The loss dropped the Bluedevils into ninth.

Norman Motors took two from the Bums in spite of Boo Bauer's 394 set.

The Rescue Squad continued to move as they won 2 from the Credit Union, and went into a tie for fifth. P. Williams rolled a 332 for the Squad, while Blanchard and Bowman hit 344 and 345 respectively for the C.U.

The Comets moved up to eighth with a 2-game win from the Cosmics. Cliff Young's 346 was high for the Comets.

Drop Inn Data

By Bobbie Baxter

The members of the Drop Inn elected their new officers for the year of 1951-52. They are as follows:

President, Art Brittenbender; vice-president, Kenny Miller; secretary, Pearl Gold; treasurer, Jan Andrusic; editor, Shirley Thompson; editor-in-chief, Pat Arrington. The following offices will be filled after the first officers' meeting which will be Wednesday night, October 18: entertainment chairman, clean-up chairman, and typist for Drop Inn paper.

The "Back to School" Dance was a big success for the first dance since school started. The profit was $20.

Membership cards are being sold at the Drop Inn this week. Everyone must have a card to enter or pay the fee of ten cents each visit. Membership cards cost a dollar for one year. Only residents of Greenbelt, Beltsville and Berwyn may become members. All outsiders are welcome as guests and may come only with a member of the Drop Inn. Cards may be purchased only through Bobbie Baxter. The age limit for membership is from seventh grade to 21 years of age.

Parents of the boys and girls who are members of the Drop Inn, and parents whose children will sometime in the future become members of the Drop Inn, are asked to please feel free to come to the Drop Inn and visit for an hour or so to see how the Drop Inn is run and cared for.

Jr. Sodality Officers

Newly-elected officers for St. Hugh's Teen-Age Sodality are: prefect, Nancy Kurth; vice-prefect, Mary Ann D'Esposito; secretary, Mary Madden; treasurer, Joyce Kling.

Plans are being made for a weiner roast to be held October 27 at Greenbelt lake.

Mrs. Marg Salvan, moderator for the sodality, will be assisted by Miss Mary Burns.

Boys Club Activities

By Lee

Greenbelt's football teams didn't fare so well this past weekend. Competition is getting stiffer. Our boys played good games and the score was very close. The 90 lb. team lost to Bladensburg 6 to 0 in a hard-fought battle all the way. The 105 lb. team lost 12 to 6 to Berwyn in another close one that could have gone either way.

The Packer Jr. 150 lb. team went over to Oxon Hill and took their measure, 12 to 0. We had heard the Oxon Hill team was supposed to be one of the strongest teams in the County. They were good, but our boys outplayed them all the way around. The Packers have a fine line and a very good ground-gaining rushing game. That line really opens up the holes for the backs and they in turn do some excellent running. The touchdowns were scored by Bing Miller around end and Stu Knott off tackle. The defensive unit performed very well also, holding the Oxon Hill team whenever they entered dangerous territory. Pass defense was very good also. Looks like these boys are going to have a great season.

This weekend the games are as follows: The 90 lb. team drew a Bye (no game). The 105 lb. team plays Colmar Manor at Colmar. The Packer Jr. 150 lb. team plays Edmonston at Greenbelt. Saturday games are at 10 a.m. and 11 a.m. The Packers play Sunday at 2:30 p.m. Come out and see the boys play, you will enjoy it.

Our drive for funds is still on, as every home is to be contacted and we haven't been able to get around to all of them as yet. See you next week.

WOMAN'S CLUB

The Woman's Club of Greenbelt once more received honors at the Prince George's County Fair held last week at Upper Marlboro. Their booth on India won third prize in the Woman's Club exhibits featuring the United Nations. Congratulations to Mrs. Brautigam and her committee.

On Sunday, October 21, members, families and guests will meet in the Lecture Hall of the National Gallery of Art in Washington, D. C. at 3:30 p.m. to hear the lecture, view the "Picture of the Week," have supper in the Art Gallery Cafeteria and then attend the regular Sunday evening concert held in the West Garden Court. Further details regarding the lecture and concert may be obtained from Mrs. Charles Cormack.

In lieu of the regular afternoon meeting on Thursday, October 25, members and their guests will take a special bus tour of Washington, D. C. leaving Greenbelt at 10 a.m. Walter Bierwagen will lecture on "Points of Interest in Our Nation's Capital" pointing out many spots not ordinarily covered by the commercial sight-seeing companies. Also included will be a tour of the Pan-American Union Building which will be followed by a picnic lunch at Haines Point with members providing their own lunch. Coffee and dessert will be served by the hostesses who are: Mrs. W. J. Bierwagen, Mrs. E. C. Kaighn, Mrs. T. R. Freeman, Mrs. J. W. McCarl, Mrs. A. C. Long, Mrs. P. M. Taylor, and Mrs. W. H. Rogers. Reservations must be made to Mrs. J. W. McCarl by Thursday evening, October 18.

Center PTA Meeting

This Tuesday will mark the first meeting of the year of the Center School PTA at 8:15 at the school. The new program, based on the individual and his relation to his community, his county, his state and his world, will be launched.

Parents who are interested in being part of this only existing link between home and school are promised a rewarding evening. Teachers will be on hand in the classrooms starting at 8:15, where charts and individual work of students will be on display. At 8:45 the bell will ring for parents to assemble in the social room, and at 9 the teachers will be introduced by Principal Elizabeth Fugitt. A short business meeting will end with songs by Mrs. Lydalu Palmer, accompanied by Mrs. Louis Lushine at the piano. Refreshments will be served.

NURSE'S HOURS

Public health nurse Frances Stouffer will be in her office at 54-A Crescent each day from 1 to 2 p.m. for the benefit of anyone who wishes to contact her.

MUSIC RECITAL

Mrs. Lydalu Palmer will present her beginning pupils and members of the "Tune-in-a-basket" classes in a musical Sunday, October 21, at 4 p.m., 1-D Eastway. Singers for the afternoon will be Gregory Sullivan, Sandor Johnson, Lenore Algaze, Alexa Bevington, Betty Siegel, Jack Fruchtman, Kay Ellen Fruchtman, Joe Cornett, Marilyn Hazard and Jean Flanigan. The public is invited.

"He brought my son safely home"

"Recently, my four-year-old boy wandered away from our home. One of your repairmen, driving along, noticed my son darting across the street. Realizing the danger my son was exposing himself to, your repairman stopped his truck, found out where the boy lived, and returned him to his mother. My wife and I are convinced that the thoughtful actions of your employee saved our son from possible serious injury."

The above is from a letter we received. It carries an important message for all of us, for it points the way to safety on the road. Be thoughtful . . . drive carefully.

Telephone drivers are thoughtful and careful. Last year, for instance, they covered 7,655,000 miles of streets and highways in Maryland—in all kinds of weather. More than 1,700 of them completed the year without a single accident. And 47% have safe driving records that range from five to thirty years.

This is good, of course, but our people will never stop trying to better these records in every way. With telephone drivers, it's safety first, last and all ways.
