

Dog Ordinance Will Be Enforced; Resident Complaints Forced Action

Violators of the dog ordinance will be taken to court, it was disclosed at last Monday night's city council meeting. The decision to prosecute to the legal limit was made after Mrs. Fernan Trudeau appeared before the council and demanded that the city take definite action on loose dogs that roam the community. She stated that her child had been bitten by a dog owned by another resident. When Officer Austin Green attempted to apprehend the animal, the officer was attacked by the dog.

The dog-owner had been warned that the dog was vicious, and Greenbelt Veteran Housing Corporation had sent a letter to the resident warning that keeping a dog was a violation of the home-owner's contract. Mrs. Trudeau declared that the owner has promised to keep the dog under observation for 10 days, as required by law.

City manager Charles McDonald stated that the dog-owner had previously been taken to court on a similar charge, but the case was dismissed by the judge. The magistrate declared that he did not think the city of Greenbelt was within its rights.

Mayor Frank Lastner advocated that court proceedings be continued against dog ordinance violators, and that city solicitor Ralph Powers be present at court to represent Greenbelt. It was disclosed by Abe Chasanow, GVHC attorney, that civil court action is anticipated against this and future contract violators. The party involved is alleged to have declared "I beat the city on this rap, let GVHC try to get me."

Mrs. Trudeau explained that she was called from work, and had to take leave without pay to attend her child.

The owner of the dog, who resides in the 4 court of Laurel Hill, told police officers that the dog had been innoculated for rabies, but could not recall the date.

City ordinances provide that no dog can roam public property without a leash, a muzzle, or without the company of a competent person. GVHC contracts with home-owners provide that keeping pets is prohibited. Mayor Lastner declared that the city has gone as far as it can to protect residents from dogs, and called for more stringent enforcement of GVHC contract terms. Ralph Webster, GVHC president, declared that his corporation will take all legal steps necessary to force residents to comply with the contract.

PTA's, Co-op, Sponsor Book Fair Nov. 4-7

"The Magic Land of Books" is the theme for the first annual jointly sponsored PTA-CO-OP Book Fair to be held November 4-7 in the Greenbelt Theatre.

Over 200 juvenile and adult books will be on display for book lovers to browse through. A $1.00 deposit will be required for each book ordered. Many more books other than those on the display tables can be ordered from a separate list available at the Fair.

Each participating PTA will earn a commission on all books ordered by its members. For a PTA to receive credit, however, each purchase, when placing his order, will have to indicate the PTA to which he belongs.

A customer discount of 20% has been set for all non-price fixed books, with a 10% commission going to the individual PTA's. On price fixed books, each participating PTA will receive the full 30% commission, less a small fee to cover handling and shipping charges.

Water Supply Line Planned For County; 30 Million Gallon Capacity For Greenbelt

By Russell Greenbaum

Construction is soon scheduled to begin on a water supply line to Greenbelt which will cost nearly two million dollars and will eventually supply the city with an estimated capacity of 30 million gallons per day.

This is the largest of major water supply improvement projects planned by the Washington Suburban Sanitary Commission for the Prince Georges County portion of its Sanitary District.

The construction program, consisting of six projects to cost an estimated $2,825,400, is designed especially to assure an adequate water supply for the rapidly developing area of Prince Georges County southeast of the District of Columbia.

A 42-inch supply line will be laid from the Patuxent filtration plant near Laurel to Glenn Dale Road at Greenbelt. The length of the line is estimated at nearly eight miles and the cost is $1,725,000.

It has been pointed out by the commission's chief engineer, Harry B. Shaw, that the full capacity of this water main would not be immediately available to Greenbelt because there is not sufficient capacity at present for distribution of the full 30 million gallons per day.

Telephone Men Explain Problems To Council

Two representatives of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company spoke before the city council last Monday night to explain the problems of the company in Greenbelt. They admitted there have been many complaints about phone service, but that the complaints have diminished now that service has improved.

Verl D. Ward, area manager of CPT, disclosed that Bell Laboratories are now working on a device to provide "intercept" service to local phone subscribers. The device would automatically call the operator if a non-existent number is called, or a number that has been changed. "It is a tough problem to lick with the Greenbelt equipment but we hope to solve it shortly," he stated. Greenbelt equipment was the newest and latest in 1937, when it was installed, he explained.

General manager Frank Holmes stated that Greenbelt residents will soon be able to dial numbers as far away as Baltimore, Hagerstown, and Annapolis, when new equipment is installed. Date set for the installation is March, 1954. Only 20 residents are waiting for phones in Greenbelt, Holmes disclosed, and about 120 are waiting for improved phone service.

Mayor Lastner stated that he personally found service improved. He had dialed the operator that evening, in fact, and was shocked to get the operator immediately, he said. "I was scared to death," he stated. Holmes assured him the improved service was not designed to frighten subscribers.

National Education Week

The week of November 8 has been set aside as National Education Week. Greenbelt schools will be open for class visits during that week. Parents are urged to take advantage of the opportunity of witnessing a typical portion of their children's school day in operation.

HOW WELL DO YOU KNOW GREENBELT?

1. Why are there street lights on Crescent Road out past the lake and not out Southway to Edmonston Road?
2. Under whose jurisdiction is the new intersection of the Glenn Dale Road and Greenbelt Road?
3. Does the city have a plan for leaf collection this fall?
4. May residents burn leaves in the yard?
5. Is the water at Indian Spring (recreation area reached from the lake) pure to drink?

PTA Plans Discussion Meeting Tuesday Night

What is a "progressive" school? Is the Greenbelt Center school "progressive"?

What constitutes overcrowding in a classroom?

What is the California achievement test and how do Greenbelt children score on it?

These and other questions relating to our schools will be answered by experts and discussed by parents and teachers at the Center School Parent-Teacher Association meeting next Tuesday night at 8:30 p.m. in the social room.

Speakers announced for the meeting are George H. Robinson, Assistant Superintendent of Schools for Prince Georges County, and Miss Emma Bowman, area supervisor. Their talks will cover administration, curriculum, and methods.

Opportunity to visit classrooms will be extended to parents from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. prior to the meeting. During this period the teachers will be in their rooms to welcome parents, and displays of current projects may be seen.

Parents of kindergarten children are invited to a meeting in the kindergarten room from 7:45 to 8:30 p.m. to discuss problems of that group with the teacher, Mrs. Wallace Smith.

Mrs. James Daly, program committee chairman, informed the Co-operator that next Tuesday's program is planned specifically to answer the many questions in parents' minds with regard to the County school system. It is hoped, she said, that it will be particularly informative to parents new to the County.

Assisting Mrs. Daly on the program committee are Miss Hannah Long, principal, Mrs. Fred Thompson, teacher, and Morris Solomon, Mrs. Emanuel Dondy, and Mrs. Nelson Chapman, parents.

Refreshments will be served at the close of the meeting.

Webster Denounces Litter In Town; Collection Cost Exceeds Budget

By I. J. Parker

The untidy appearance of Greenbelt drew a "heated" complaint from Ralph Webster, president of Greenbelt Veteran Housing Corporation, at last Monday night's city council meeting. Webster declared that keeping the city clean was primarily a municipal problem, and called for the city to provide leadership in this field. He demanded strict enforcement of city ordinances concerning cleanliness.

City Provides Space For Commercial Parking

Parking space will be provided by the city for large moving vans and trucks, it was decided at the city council meeting last Monday night. The parking space is near the warehouses next to the disposal plant.

The move to provide parking space for trucks was taken after many complaints about trucks parking overnight on city streets reached city council members. They were considered traffic hazards and unsightly.

Greenbelt Veteran Housing Corporation has appointed a committee with Ed Burgoon as chairman, to study the lack of parking space in Greenbelt, and to alleviate some of the parking problems of individual residents, it was disclosed by Ralph Webster, GVHC president. Many residents have complained that motorists living in apartments are using parking space in residential courts after failing to find parking space elsewhere. Webster appealed to the city for police enforcement of parking violators.

City manager Charles McDonald declared that the courts are still GVHC property and the "crime" is stressing rather than illegal parking. He stated that the courts are properly public areas, however, and the city and GVHC will cooperate in the matter.

Noted Guests Speak At Church Sunday

Miss Alice M. Huggins, a missionary who has been imprisoned by both the Japanese and the Chinese Communists, will be one of two featured speakers at Community Church services this Sunday, October 25.

She will speak at the 9 a.m. service and will address the adult and senior high classes of the Church School at 10 a.m.

Miss Huggins, who was principal of the Goodridge Girls School near Peiping, China, for 25 years, was imprisoned by the Japs at a prison camp in Manila for two years during that period. After returning to this country, she taught Chinese for one year at the Yale School of Missions.

She then returned to Peiping only to be interned by the Chinese Communists in her own school for 18 months. She was released and allowed to return home one year ago. Miss Huggins was the last American Board Missionary to leave China.

Speaking at the 11 a.m. service will be Mrs. Harold C. Kelleran, director of the Department of Christian Education at the Washington Diocese of the Episcopal Church since March, 1946. Mrs. Kelleran is also a member of the faculty of the Episcopal Theological Seminary in Alexandria, where she teaches the course, "The Parish Educational Program," in the department of pastoral theology.

As an example of unsightly conditions, Webster pointed to littered roadsides in Greenbelt and on the approaches. He stated that the poor appearance of Greenbelt has come to the attention of important people. The Commissioner of the Public Housing Administration, the head of the GI Loan Guaranty office, and a visiting English architect were cited as examples of well-known people complaining publicly and privately of their disappointment in the appearance of Greenbelt. Their chief reaction, Webster declared, is "what the hell has happened to Greenbelt?"

7 Long Years

City manager Charles McDonald answered, "We are trying to reclaim, in a short time, seven years of deterioration under Public Housing Administration." The Federal government gave minimum care to the city, McDonald stated, while it was anticipating getting rid of Greenbelt. The local PHA office had a very difficult time getting money to maintain the community. McDonald added. However, the manager explained, he was heartened by the hard work individual citizens are undertaking to beautify their homes.

Mayor Frank Lastner put part of the blame on GVHC. He said new home-owners and people moving from Greenbelt are responsible for much of the trash littering the community. The city is now in the process of distributing cards explaining the ordinances governing trash and garbage disposal, he disclosed.

Trash Grows

McDonald informed the council that the city has collected more trash in the past six months than in the past six years. He declared that the city has gone above its original budget estimate in this department and the council should expect an increased figure for this department in next year's budget. There are two trucks busy each day picking up trash on special calls, McDonald disclosed.

Both Webster and Lastner admitted a good educational campaign is necessary to arouse the citizens on the need for community cleanliness.

Church Plans Annual Reception For Teachers

The Community Church's annual reception for school teachers in the Greenbelt area will be held in the social hall of the church on Sunday, October 25, from 7:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m.

Native folk dances by a group in costume from the Philippine Embassy will be the feature of the evening. There will also be songs by Norma Knauer accompanied by Maxine Boyar, both seniors at Northwestern. The reception will be preceded by organ music played by Elizabeth Goetze from 7 to 7:30 p.m.

The principals of Greenbelt Junior High, North End and Center Elementary Schools, and Northwestern High will introduce members of their faculty and staff. Leaders of community civic and social groups will also be introduced as special guests.

Girl Scout Week Oct. 25 - 31

More than 2,000,000 Girl Scouts throughout the country will participate in the observance of national Girl Scout Week, Oct. 25 - Oct. 31 in memory of the founder of Girl Scouting in the United States, the late Juliette Gordon Low, who was born in Savannah, Georgia, October 31, 1860.

One of the highlights of this year's national observance of Girl Scout Week will be the publication of the tenth edition of the Girl Scout Handbook containing up-to-date information on Girl Scout activities and describing new badges. Although this edition of the handbook contains much new material it outlines the same basic program that Juliette Low introduced to American girls nearly 42 years ago.

Girl Scout Week opens with Girl Scout Sunday (Oct. 25) when Girl Scouts attend their churches in uniform. Monday is Home-making Day; Tuesday is called Citizenship Day; Wednesday is Health and Safety Day; Thursday is International Friendship Day with a "Hands-across-the-sea" theme; Friday and Saturday are Arts and Crafts and Out-of-Doors Days. Many local troops will observe these days with hikes, outdoor cooks and overnight camping.

Girl Scout Week should not be confused with the Girl Scout Birthday celebrated on March 12 in commemoration of the day the first troop was formed in this country.

United Nations Day - Oct. 24

Eight years have passed since the United Nations was established in San Francisco. They have been eight difficult years. The peace and security which we thought the UN would bring have not been entirely achieved. Indeed, many people have become disillusioned with the world organization. But the majority, from the President on down, still support the UN as an instrument for international cooperation. This support, however, has been tempered by the cold war in Europe, the hot war in Korea, and the many, many serious problems of the past eight years. It is no longer the wide-eyed, idealistic support of 1945. Our support today has a quality of depth and realism.

We recognize the necessity for revisions in the UN charter. The questions of the big-power veto, the relationship of the Security Council to the General Assembly, disarmament and the control of atomic weapons, among others, all have to be examined and reexamined. None of these questions are susceptible to easy solutions.

But one fact stands out — that this country continues to support the United Nations. If the UN mechanism needs an overhaul, then we will put our mechanics to work overhauling that machinery. We must make the UN an effective instrument for coping with the tremendous problems it faces. For only through concerted action can the nations of the world learn to live in peace. And only in a world organization is there even the hope that these nations can learn to take such concerted action.

UN Day Celebration Scheduled At U of M

A "Salute to the United Nations" will be held at 3 p.m., Sunday, October 25 in the Central Auditorium on the University of Maryland campus. Governor Theodore R. McKeldin will be the principal speaker when he accepts a scroll containing signatures of hundreds of Prince Georges County residents. The scroll was designed to give individuals an opportunity to voice appreciation for the many occasions during the existence of the United Nations when it "succeeded in halting bloodshed, stopping aggression and improving the conditions of life for millions of people", and to give support to President Eisenhower's recent statement that "the need for the United Nations is greater than ever before and its success depends on the extent to which its members give it support".

The meeting is open to the public and was arranged by a number of county organizations. Cooperating organizations include, the Prince Georges Council of Church Women, College Park Branch of the American Association of University Women, the County Council of PTA's, County Civic Federa-

It was from the appreciative owner of a wallet, containing $76.00 that had been lost on a trolley car and later that day recovered by Mr. Mikesell, operator of the car. The woman told the News, "With all the crime and violence you hear about these days, I thought you'd like to hear something pleasant for a change." THANKS

I would like to take this opportunity to thank the children of Greenbelt and their parents for their fine support of the movie shown last Thursday for the benefit of the Nursery School. We are very sorry that the second cartoon was not shown as advertised and hasten to report that this was due to an error at the film exchange and not at Jack Fruchtman's office from whom we received fine cooperation.

MRS. SAMUEL VERNOFF, Ways and Means Chairman, Greenbelt Cooperative Nursery School.

UNSOLICITED TESTIMONIAL

For three weeks now, unexpectedly and delightfully, we have been receiving the Cooperator. We do not know to which one person we are indebted, and we hope that thru this letter he will learn of our increasing gratitude.

Reading over the familiar columns as eagerly as we ever did, we are forcefully reminded of a fact that we have never really forgotten: that Greenbelt is not merely a place to live, it is a way of life.

And that is what we've missed since we've been in California, despite the sunshine and cool summers. In the two years since we left Greenbelt we have been able to find no similar atmosphere and it goes without saying, no comparable friends.

We hope you'll forgive the definite strains of "Hearts and Flowers" being played quietly on a violin in the background.

Mae and Milt Haut, 7710 Isis Avenue, Los Angeles 45, Calif.

CARELESS ADULTS

The several recent articles and letters regarding the unsightly appearance of Greenbelt are most timely.

When we first arrived here six months ago, the litter situation left much to be desired. Since that time it is our impression that the condition has grown worse.

However the blame rests only partly on the children, for the cigarette wrappers, empty oil cans, newspapers, etc., strewn around the lawns and parking areas are certainly the work of careless adults.

A spirited drive by one and all to revive civic pride in Greenbelt seems in order. With cooperation it can become a beautiful city. Let's not allow a few delinquents to spoil the city's appearance.

Mr. and Mrs. John T. Haldane, Two New Greenbelters.

CLEAN UP

The following was written by Ralph Webster, GVHC president, during a city council meeting last Monday night. It was submitted in the hope it would assist in publicizing the need for a clean-up program.

"The way to clean up a city is for every man to clean his own doorstep."

1. The city has its doorstep.
 2. The individual business leaders have their "doorsteps."
 3. The apartment owners have their "doorsteps."
 4. The individual home-owners or tenants have their "doorstep."
 5. GVHC has its "doorstep."
- "Let's clean up our city!"

"My

The busy dentist can tell you how the telephone saves him time and trouble. He uses it to order supplies . . . to make and change appointments . . . to consult with others on special cases . . . to check on his patients . . . to call his home when he's detained. How much does the telephone save you? When you add it all up, you'll have the reason why so many people say, "My telephone service is one of the biggest bargains I buy today!"

COMING TO TOWN THANKSGIVING DAY

CORRECTION

On page 4 of last week's Cooperator an outline "Organization and Responsibilities in Greenbelt" was presented. Unfortunately corrections of the proof did not appear in the final printing in the proper places. Two paragraphs concerning the relation of the U.S. Government to Greenbelt should have read as follows:

"Still owns commercial property which it leases to Greenbelt Consumer Services, Inc., and Suburban Trust Company.

"Just sold twelve apartment buildings, advertised for sale to highest bidders; 2 to GVHC."

The Cooperator regrets that this information did not reach its readers in correct form the first time.

QUIZ ANSWERS Drop Inn Data

By Carol Martin

1. Crescent Road lights were extended out past the lake at the request of several local groups. The next extension, according to City Manager Charles McDonald, will be out Southway, but so far funds have not been appropriated for this purpose. Requests are coming in to the Council for this purpose following the automobile accident at the intersection of Glenn Dale and Greenbelt Roads recently.

2. The intersection and its safety are the responsibility of the Bureau of Public Roads (U. S. Department of Interior) which is building this portion of the Washington-Baltimore Highway. The present intersection is considered "secondary" or "temporary" as the proposed inter-county Belt Freeway may alter its location. Again, according to McDonald, the City will do everything it can to make the intersection a safe one.

3. Yes. A day will be announced in the Cooperator when the leaf suction (the delight of the small fry) will pick up piles of leaves left at the roadside. Until that day, residents are requested to box or bag their leaves and call GRanite 3-2011 for a special truck to pick them up.

4. No, leaf burning is considered a fire hazard by city authorities.

5. Yes, the water at Indian Spring is tested from time to time by State health authorities.

The final touch of artistic grandeur will be completely this weekend when the windows will be carefully fitted into their assigned places. (Incidentally, we hope they will stay there for the remaining year.) Now we can sit back and finally enjoy the Drop Inn and its new alterations.

We all want to bid a fond farewell to Bill Jackson who was seen regularly around the Drop Inn. Bill joined the Coast Guard last week and they selfishly whisked him away. His official mailing address will be posted at a later date.

October is the month for pumpkins, frost and Hallowe'en parties. Since this is going to be the "top" year we want some original ideas for a good Hallowe'en party. How about showing some of the superior Greenbelt talent and arrange a good talent show for entertainment? It's you members who have charge, so let's submit some fresh ideas to Mrs. Frady and get the ball rolling.

Remember - the early bird always catches the worm.
