Police News Review

Two youths, tried for the theft of a Greenbelt resident's car, which was found in the Baltimore area, have been sentenced to six months in jail. A third youth, in the service, will not be charged until a disposition of the matter comes from the Navy Department. The fourth youth involved, a juvenile, was released for cooperating with the police.

Residents in certain areas in Greenbelt informed police of a man, who was apparently representing nobody but himself, who was trying to conduct an "Honest Opinion Survey." The survey was to obtain an expression of opinions on racial segregation. The information he handed out asked for a contribution of money to defray the cost of printing, mailing, etc. Greenbelt Police Chief Jim Williams states that the man's background was checked and although there is no organization sponsoring the man, there is nothing illegal with the procedure. Citizens are left to use their own judgment if they are called upon.

Babe Ruth League Has Annual Awards Dinner

The second annual Babe Ruth League Awards dinner was held on Saturday, October 22, at the Community Church.

Trophies were awarded to the League Champions, the Volunteer Fire Department and Rescue Squad team. Thomas Snoddy of the Fire Department received a team trophy to be displayed in the new Fire House. The most valuable Player Award was presented to Kirk McCauley by the City Manager, Charles T. McDonald. The Rookie of the year awards were presented to Robert Emmert and George Braunatti by the League President, John Huffman. A new award called the Outstanding Captain's Award was presented to Kenneth Powell by the Recreation Director, Warren G. Leddick for Norman Ressegue of the American Trophy Company, donator of this award. The batting Championship Certificate from Louisville Slugger Company was presented to Albert Moraz, who batted .475, by William L. Moore. All-Star Plaques were awarded to each member of the All-Star team by Mayor Allan Kistler.

Mayor Kistler was guest speaker in the absence of Elton Jackson, Baseball Coach at the University of Maryland, who was unable to attend because of sudden illness. Mayor Kistler stressed the importance of team play rather than individual standouts on a winning team.

Joseph O'Laughlin was Master of Ceremonies. Among the other guests were Dave Meadows, representing the Co-op, Charles Collins representing the Junior Chamber of Commerce, and Bud Dean representing the Little League.

Henry Brautigam presented the sponsors of the Babe Ruth League with certificates of Appreciation. They were: Co-op, Volunteer Fire Dept. & Rescue Squad, Ten Pin Lanes, Tobacco Shoppe, Junior Chamber of Commerce, and Twin Pines Savings and Loan Association.

LAKWOOD MEETING

The Lakewood Citizens Association will hold a General Meeting on Thursday, November 3 at 7:45 p.m. at the Greenbelt Firehouse. Mayor Kistler and City Manager McDonald are slated to be the guest speakers.

As a result of the membership drive, 85% of Lakewood homeowners have joined the organization. The Executive Committee will hold its next meeting on Thursday, October 27.

Safety For Little Spooks

Hallowe'en will be here shortly, and the cry of "Trick or treat" will be heard in the land. Make this a worry-proof Hallowe'en for yourself with a little safety planning.

Kids in dark clothes and blacked faces are practically invisible to motorists until it's too late. Make light-colored costumes - of flame-proof material of course - and as an extra precaution apply some reflecting tape liberally to hats, broomsticks and anything else the youngsters may be carrying. Costumes should be kept short, so there'll be no falls, and with no streamers to catch on hedges or fences.

Use cosmetics and burnt cork to make up the children's faces. Masks are dangerous - they're difficult to see through and there's always the danger of suffocation with very young children.

Don't let a child carry a candle or torch. A flashlight inside a lantern or pumpkin head is just as effective and a lot safer.

No sharp objects, please, even if they're only made of wood. Unless you can buy rubber swords, knives or what have you, that type of equipment will just have to be left out.

If your child is very young, make sure he plans to make the rounds with others of his own age. Older ones may thoughtlessly leave him straggling behind, where he can get into trouble.

If you can work it out, inconspicuous supervision of the very little ones by a mother or two can avoid later heartbreak. (In the interest of better health by: YOUR TUBERCULOSIS ASSOCIATION.)

Gov. Tawes Schedules Visit Here Tuesday

The Hon. Millard Tawes, Governor of Maryland, will visit Greenbelt Tuesday, Nov. 1 during a tour of Prince Georges County. The tour, part of a statewide caravan, will arrive in Greenbelt at 10:30 a.m. and greet citizens at the Center.

Comptroller Louis Goldstein, Attorney General Ferdinand Sybert and Secretary of State Thomas Finan will accompany Governor Tawes on his first visit to Greenbelt. A concert will be presented in the Center area by Connie B. Gay and his ensemble during the Greenbelt tour.

North End School PTA Calendar

The P.T.A. of the North End School will meet Tuesday, November 1, and new members are urged to attend.

National Children's Book Week comes in November; however, there will be no book fair at the North End School this year.

November 3-4 are the dates for the State Convention in Baltimore. Among the issues to be voted on is the Warfield Plan of the University of Maryland.

The P.T.A. wants copies of any picture that may have been taken at last year's school picnic, to be entered in the scrapbook.

American Education Week is November 6 through 12, and its theme will be, "Strengthen the Schools for the 60's."

Greenbelt Park May Be in Use in 1961

Development of the 1100-acre Greenbelt tract in Prince George's County into a recreation park will have progressed sufficiently so that portions of the Park will be available for use during the 1961 recreation season, Rep. Richard E. Lankford has announced.

The Maryland lawmaker released a progress report on the project furnished him by the National Park Service showing that a topographic survey of the site has been completed and preparation of the road plans is nearing completion. Construction drawings will be completed before the end of this year, at which time invitations to bid will be issued, the report indicated.

Rep. Lankford explained that once this basic engineering work is completed the development work will progress more rapidly.

ADULT DANCE CLASS

Registration for the adult ballroom dancing class conducted by the city recreation department will be held in the recreation office between 10 and 12 a.m. this Saturday, Oct. 29. The fee is $10 per couple for a series of ten lessons, which will be held on Wednesday nights in the North End School from 8:30 to 9:30 p.m.

GCS Proposes New Building, More Parking In Shopping Center

By Virginia Beauchamp

At a special meeting of the city council Monday night Ed Burgoon, representing Greenbelt Consumer Services, Inc., formally presented the recommended plan of the corporation for the future development of the commercial center. The proposals—encompassing a plan to be completed in five years—had been prepared for GCS by the New York architectural firm of Victor Gruen. The major provisions called for the establishment of angled parking on Centerway itself, with the elimination there of the city bus stop; increased parking space adjacent to the swimming pool and behind the co-op store; and the eventual construction of several new commercial buildings in the Center.

According to Burgoon, who is director of membership relations for the Co-op, the report presented Monday night is a revision of an earlier report prepared by Gruen. This new report encompasses suggestions made by members of the Greenbelt delegation to the GCS congress and by members of the corporation familiar with the Greenbelt situation and philosophy. Now that the final recommendations to develop the Center have been presented to council, Burgoon noted, GCS is "most anxious to move very rapidly." The Center cannot grow "business-wise," he affirmed, "until some of these things are done."

Taking top priority in the view of the corporation is that section of

UNICEF Trick or Treat Coming Sunday, Oct. 30

Greenbelt's "Trick or Treat for UNICEF" will begin Sunday evening, Oct. 30 at 6:30 p.m. when boys and girls collecting from courts, apartments and individual homes all over town will meet at Fellowship Center (behind Community Church) to get their official tags and collection containers.

Collectors and helpers will return to Fellowship Center for cider and doughnuts while receipts are being assembled and counted.

Present plans call for adult drivers, who will be needed in a ratio of one to each four or five collectors, to take their carloads to various sections of town and supervise the collection. Parents who are free to drive during that evening are invited and urged to participate, as are any Greenbelt boys and girls who wish to do so. Residents are requested to give only to youngsters having the official UNICEF identification tags and containers, who will be calling "Trick or Treat for UNICEF" between 7 and 9 p.m., Sunday evening, Oct. 30.

The United Nations Children's Fund, beneficiary of the Halloween collection for a number of years, has a use for every penny collected. Even a minimum contribution works directly for education, nutrition or medical aid overseas, and the trick or treat collection has been one of the most appealing channels of people to people aid because of the young people's participation in it.

Individuals or organizations wishing more information may call GR. 4-9275, or leave message at the Twin Pines office, GR. 4-6900, which is furnishing the materials and refreshments for collections as a community service.

Beauty Queen to Draw Food Bonanza Ticket

A real beauty queen, Miss Maryland, 1960, will be in Greenbelt on Tuesday, November 15, to draw the winning ticket for the Jaycees' Free Food Bonanza. She is Miss Robin Davis, a Beltsville girl, who was sponsored by the Maryland Jaycees in the recent Miss America Contest.

According to the rules of the contest, the winner will have ten minutes in the Co-op store on Friday, November 18, at 8 p.m. to take as much food as he can put into a shopping cart and carry in his arms. The winner will have three minutes at the meat counter, three minutes at the produce department, and three minutes at groceries. The extra minute will be used for travel time between departments. Cigarettes are excluded.

Members of the local Jaycees are distributing tickets in the Center and door-to-door.

the plan which deals with increasing parking in the immediate vicinity of the commercial area. The introduction of angled parking on Centerway would increase the number of parking slots for short stops at very little cost to the city, Burgoon pointed out. (A city spokesman, however, noted that enforcement of the time limits for such parking would add continuing expenses to the city's police budget.)

A second area where action might be taken almost immediately to increase parking was directly behind the Co-op store and adjacent to the swimming pool. One possibility was to build some permanent parking space for 80 to 100 cars in a strip between the swimming pool and the forested area. The need for additional parking space near the recreational facilities has been recognized for some time by council.

According to a letter from Sam Ashelman, General Manager of GCS, to Mayor Alan Kistler, the feeling of the corporation is that the city should bear the expense of providing parking on Centerway and adjacent to the pool and the Youth Center. But Ashelman noted further that "when additional buildings are erected, the additional parking lot expense is the responsibility of the developers."

Among the proposed new buildings in the long-term plans for the development for the Center, a site for a library attracted most attention at the meeting. This was the section of grassy land directly west of the local bank. According to present plans, this land might be given to the county for the purpose of building a library.

The proposed new buildings would contain such shops as a shoe store, a hardware store, or appliance repair shops. One would be a 2-story extension of the bank building, with the access road to the parking lot moved further west. Another would be a one-story store next to the post office, and another just east of the swimming pool, facing an extension of the present mall down the slope into the wooded area. Also proposed is a 2-story building back of the Co-op store also facing on the extended mall, and a 2-story addition east of the theater and barbershop, extending into the present access road to the parking lot.

The old firehouse building and repair garage (if they could be acquired) would be demolished to make room for additional parking. Four kiosks might be located on the four sides of the present mall, to be used for magazine sales, a tobacco shop, and similar establishments.

The assumption underlying these plans, as stated in the architect's proposal, is that "the present Greenbelt shopping center will, even in the future, serve only the needs of the town population . . . and that major purchases, even by the town population, will be made outside the Greenbelt center." Nevertheless, the architect, as well as GCS, feels that the anticipated increases in the population of the community call for the enlargement of the present commercial space to 140,000 square feet.

By invitation of the mayor and city manager, the newly appointed advisory planning board was also present at the Monday meeting. This board, which is to meet for its organizational meeting next Wednesday, will undoubtedly take as its first responsibility the scrutiny of the GCS plan. Members of this board are: John F. Downs, Harvey Geller, Clayton Werner, Elliot Bukzin, Eli Crupain, Clifford Simonson, and Lewis Bernstein.

Library Poetry Club

The poetry club of the Greenbelt public library held an organizational meeting last Friday and will officially launch its third season when it meets again on Friday, November 4, at 4 p.m. Branch librarian Mrs. Marjorie Muir is in charge.

"The response by children and the public in general to this unique creative experiment has been considerable," said Miss Elizabeth B. Hage, county library director. It is hoped the group may carry on with as much enthusiasm in the coming year.

The children produce an annual and the library prints it. The youngsters take their club very seriously, and follow a similar routine each meeting. The first half hour is devoted to reading aloud from anthologies of verse, listening to records, or watching a film. During the second half hour, the children read their own poems. Any child in fourth, fifth or sixth grades may attend the meetings of the Poetry Club, which start promptly at 4 p.m. on alternate Fridays at the library.

Mrs. Labukas Honored By Dunbarton College

Mrs. Peter P. Labukas, 21 Lakeside Drive, is the first recipient of the Alumnae Service Award of Dunbarton College as the alumnae who has done the most for the college since its founding in 1935.

A graduate of Dunbarton in 1943, Mrs. Labukas has been executive secretary of the Dunbarton College Alumnae Association since 1954. She presently serves on the Advisory Committee of the Greenbelt Recreation Department.

The award—an engraved silver bowl—was presented to her at an alumnae banquet Saturday (Oct. 22) at the college, 295 Upton Street, N. W. The banquet climaxed a three day reunion by alumnae to celebrate the 25th anniversary of the founding of Dunbarton. More than 300 alumnae, many from the Washington area, attended.

Mrs. Labukas, mother of three, is the wife of the football coach at Woodrow Wilson High School in Washington. The former Eileen Mudd, she was born and raised in Berwyn.

She was unanimously named for the Alumnae Service Award by a committee of Dunbarton alumnae for her "devoted and dedicated work in reorganizing the Dunbarton College Alumnae Association on a national level, and making the association an integral part of the college".

In greeting alumnae attending the banquet, Mother Rose Elizabeth, C.S.C., Dunbarton's founder, and Sister Mildred Dolores, C.S.C., president of the college, paid tribute to Mrs. Labukas and her work for Dunbarton.

200 At Awards Banquet

Last Friday's Tri-County Awards banquet at St. Mary's Hall in Laurel, Md., brought to an end the 1960 baseball season for the eight clubs of the Tri-County men's baseball league. An estimated 200 people were present.

Butch Brown was presented the Sportsmanship Trophy for Greenbelt, and player-manager Bill Moore presented individual trophies to the champs. Bill, himself, was presented with a 5-foot red and white pennant, which he accepted with a statement about "going for the green one next year". Laurel's catcher, William Nally, was elected and received the league M.V.P. award.

TEAM INSPIRED

To the Editor:

Members of the Greenbelt Shamrocks Baseball team of 1960 wish to extend their gratitude to the following organizations and people of Greenbelt, who with their generosity and willingness enabled men's baseball to return to town. Their support along with our other friends inspired the Greenbelt team to sweep to the league championship in the first year of the Tri-County League.

Mouth to Mouth Breathing Saves Life of 10-Year-Old Mario Malasi

By Rita Fisher

The heroic action of an elementary school principal and two teachers saved the life of a ten year old Greenbelt boy who had stopped breathing and was without any apparent pulse-beat.

Young Mario Milasi, 52 D Ridge, had just returned to North End school after the lunch hour on Friday, Oct. 21. He had no symptoms of an asthmatic attack when he arrived in the classroom. A short while later he said to his teacher, William Yates, "I feel sick," and was unable to stand. His sister Paulina, also a student at North End, happened by the room and she and Yates took Mario down stairs to the sickroom, which adjoins the office of Principal Maxine Grimm.

The boy appeared lifeless. The skin around the area of his mouth had turned blue, his eyes were wide and staring, and there was no discernible pulse. Mrs. Grimm administered mouth-to-mouth artificial respiration to the child, and thick phlegm started to flow from his mouth. She then applied the arm method and the child started to react to the touch. At this point, Joseph O'Loughlin, a teacher at the school, arrived and again tried the mouth to mouth method.

MOUTH RESCUE METHOD

1. Place victim on his back, and loosen his collar and belt.
2. To prevent victim's tongue from blocking the windpipe, pull lower jaw up and forward with the right hand, thumb in victim's mouth.
3. Cover victim's nose with left hand to prevent air leakage.
4. Take a deep breath, cover victim's mouth with your own, and exhale.
5. Remove to permit victim to exhale, count to three, and repeat.

NOTE: Continue until victim begins breathing. Watch the victim's chest for signs of respiration. Breathe about twice as deeply as normal, since you are breathing for two. However, in the case of infants, breathe instead in shallow puffs, and cover both mouth and nose of the infant with your own mouth.

The boy continued to throw up the thick phlegm and again the teachers switched to the arm method.

The Rescue Squad, which Mrs. Grimm had already called, then arrived at the scene. The boy was taken to the office of a Greenbelt physician, where medication was administered, and the child regained consciousness. He again vomited, this time all the food that was in his stomach. The boy was carried to Prince Georges Hospital by the Rescue Squad, where tests were scheduled to try to determine the cause of the unusual suddenness of the attack. Mario was released from the hospital two days later with no apparent complications. He can only remember complaining that he felt sick, and then waking up in the doctor's office.

In an interview with Mrs. Grimm, I learned that she had just been studying a new book on the subject of first aid techniques and mouth-to-mouth breathing—a new method for her. Mr. O'Loughlin, who is also a member of the Greenbelt Fire Department and Rescue Squad, had studied the mouth-to-mouth method in his advanced first aid course.

The attending physician stated that the quick alert action of Mrs. Grimm and Mr. O'Loughlin saved Mario's life. If any time had been lost waiting for the Rescue Squad to arrive, the boy would not have lived.

Mario, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Milasi, has suffered from asthma since he was a baby, and Mrs. Milasi is always alert for one of Mario's attacks to occur. Usually there is time, from the moment when the asthmatic sufferer feels the attack coming on until the attack actually occurs, to administer medication. However, this time the attack came with unusual suddenness, and it is hoped that tests which he is undergoing will determine the underlying causes.

On Wednesday, young Mario was taken to the hospital with a less severe attack. He is reported resting comfortably.

Local Registration Tops County Precincts

In a record-breaking registration campaign, Greenbelt added 1,020 voters to the rolls since the spring primary, bringing the total to 2,398 Democrats, 967 Republicans, and 221 independents—a grand total of 3,586 eligible to vote in the general election on Nov. 8. Democrats registered after the May primary totaled 635; Republicans 286 and independents 99. In 1956 there were 3,048 registered voters.

In the 3 special days assigned for registration in Greenbelt, a total of 886 new voters were added to the rolls. For the first two days—September 13 and 20—Greenbelt had the highest registration of all 66 precincts in Prince Georges County. On the third day—September 26—only 1 precinct exceeded the Greenbelt total.

UGF DRIVE LAGS BEHIND

With $306 collected, our City has, to date, contributed only 45% of its goal of $684. The U.G.F. drive will be extended, and anyone not as yet contacted, and wishing to contribute, is urged to call GR 4-4482 and arrange to pledge a gift. Many persons may be unaware of the fact that a pledge can be paid in installments to suit the budget of the giver. Now, when the Thanksgiving holidays and Christmas are rapidly approaching, those in need should be more than ever in our minds and hearts. Please give, and give generously, to those who are not as fortunate as you. You can designate your gift to the group or agency of your choice. The local Woman's Club is sponsoring the U.G.F. drive in Greenbelt.
