Woman's Club To Run Local Heart Drive

Sunday, February 20 is Heart Sunday. The Welfare Committee of the Greenbelt Woman's Club will conduct the National Heart Fund drive Sunday afternoon from one to three o'clock.

Mrs. Adelbert Long, chairman of the local drive, has appointed captains in each of Greenbelt's twelve blocks and hopes the whole town will give gladly to this worthwhile drive.

On Thursday, February 10, the Woman's Club of Greenbelt celebrated its fifteenth birthday with a special birthday program and dance in the Community Church basement.

Among the invited guests were these officers of the State Federation: Mrs. J. E. Brogdon, president; Mrs. William Bowie, 1st vice-president; Mrs. Charles M. Cormack, 2nd vice president; Mrs. Gerry Pettibone, recording secretary; Mrs. J. Harry Hoyert, corresponding secretary; Mrs. William Gullett, treasurer.

Many former members returned to help celebrate the special day. Mrs. Edna White was the guest soloist, accompanied by Miss Elizabeth Goetze.

An impressive candle lighting ceremony was presided over by Mrs. Paul Hawk, a former member, who presented a brief message for each of the 15 candles on the tea table. Each new member was given the honor of lighting a candle.

About 300 attended a Valentine Dance at the American Legion hall Saturday evening, February 13, sponsored by the Woman's Club. Music was furnished by Ben Worth's orchestra, and Mrs. Harry McNeel headed the dance committee. Mrs. H. M. Goode, club president, and her husband were crowned Queen and King of Hearts.

Watch For Your Paper Every Thursday Night

Look for the News Review at your doorstep on Thursday night between 7:30 and 8:30 p.m. For the past several weeks our community newspaper has been back on free city-wide distribution. Probably many Greenbelt residents are not yet aware of this, and it will take a while before they get into the habit of looking for the paper Thursday nights.

Jim O'Neill, the News Review's circulation manager for the past four years, gets the paper from the printer at about 7:15, and sends it out around town with his crew of ten delivery boys. The boys usually live in the blocks in which they deliver, so that they know their way around. The ten blocks are: A—from Westway to the meeting of Crescent and Ridge, B—to Southway, C—Southway to Gardenway, D—to 35 Ridge, E—35 Ridge to Northway, F—to Plateau, G—Plateau to Laurel Hill Rd., H—to Research, J—Hillside to Laurel Hill, K—all Parkway and individual homes on Forestway and Woodlandway.

On windy days the boys are instructed to anchor the paper down in the screen, under a mat, or under a milk bottle. To insure finding your paper, it would help if everyone would watch for it during the hour of 7:30 to 8:30 on Thursday nights. If you can't find your paper, then phone Jim O'Neill at 2436.

In addition to the Thursday doorstep distributions, copies are mailed to out-of-town subscribers, to GVHC, to the Library, and to the Junior High school. From now on, copies will go to the principals of the local elementary schools.

Puerto Ricans Here

Beginning about February 19 Greenbelt Consumer Services, which operates shopping centers in Greenbelt, Takoma Park and Wheaton, will come under the attentive eyes of a number of Puerto Rican government employees, here at their government's expense to work and study for 3 to 4 months with GCS. Those who would like to rent a room and extend the American hospitality and friendship of their homes to one of these Latin American guests should call Ruth Taylor immediately on 2231.

Panagoulis Becomes County Police Chief

George Panagoulis, until recently and for 15 years Greenbelt's Director of Public Safety, in charge of police and fire protection, was sworn in Tuesday as chief of police of Prince Georges County. Panagoulis, who has lived in Greenbelt since the community was founded, plans to remain with his wife and two boys, James 12 and Charles 8, at his home at 43-A Ridge.

Panagoulis

A graduate of the University of New Hampshire and student of Georgetown Medical School, he moved from head of the federal Information and Guide Service at Greenbelt to city policeman and in 1939 to chief of the department. In 1945 he was graduated from the 29th session of the Federal Bureau of Investigation Academy and has taken extension courses in police work, fire protection and city administration.

City Manager Charles McDonald assumes Panagoulis' past administrative duties here. Austin Green, promoted to sergeant, assumes the police supervisory duties. An addition to the department will make possible continued 24-hour protection in the city.

21 Pre-School Co-ops Plan Workshop Here

Representatives of 21 cooperative pre-school groups will meet at the Greenbelt Center School on Monday, February 21, to discuss their common problems and goals. Members of the Greenbelt Cooperative Kindergarten and the Greenbelt Cooperative Nursery School will participate along with officers and committee chairmen from other schools.

Starting at 8:30 p.m., there will be three discussion groups, meeting in the social room and the kindergarten room of the school. One group will meet with Margaret Beardsley, county supervisor of kindergartens, to discuss what is a good nursery school or kindergarten program. Mrs. C. T. Reed, coordinator of parent study groups for the County Board of Education, will lead a group discussing parent education programs. Mrs. Evelyn Kimberly, a teacher in the Buckingham Cooperative Nursery School, Virginia, will lead a session on parent-teacher relations.

The Prince Georges County Council of Cooperative Nursery Schools and Kindergartens, which sponsors the workshop, has been functioning since the spring of 1951. (Greenbelt delegates to the Council are Mrs. John Schmidt, Mrs. W. R. Volckhausen and Mrs. R. L. Roberts.) Cooperative schools in Prince Georges County, Montgomery County, Virginia and the District of Columbia are jointly affiliated through the Potomac Cooperative Federation.

Meet New Head Of City Police

The newly-appointed Sergeant of the Greenbelt police department, Austin Green, is well-known to most Greenbelters.

Green has been on the local police force since 1946, when he joined as part-time officer. In 1947, he went on full-time duty. He moved to Greenbelt in 1942 and has a record of civic accomplishments which include participation in the National Guard, American Legion and the Boys Club. As Grand Marshal of the Independence Day parade for the past seven years, Green has organized the event and obtained representatives from area fire departments, rescue squads, military drill teams and other service organizations.

Speaking of drill teams, Green organized and is chairman of the local American Legion Post drill team, which made a splendid showing at the Legion Post Home dedications ceremonies.

Green has a long record of police and military experience. As a member of the Governor's Troop in the Pennsylvania National Guard, he was one of 15 men selected to escort the Governor to Freehold, New Jersey for an important ceremony. In the Air Force during the war, Green achieved the rank of Master Sergeant. He has served as a guard at the National Airport and in the Military Police.

Now living in Berwyn Heights, Green has a house opposite the junior high school, on Greenbelt road—"the one with the green shutters." After being elected to the Berwyn Heights town council, Green organized and directed their police force for the past year. However, Green discloses, he is resigning those duties, to devote full time to his Greenbelt job.

Green has received certificates from the Law Enforcement Officers Training School given by the Federal Bureau of Investigation (Department of Justice), the University of Maryland course in Fundamentals of Police Administration, and a certificate of Meritorious Conduct from the District of Columbia for his work in civilian defense.

Green's address is 6116 Greenbelt Road, where he lives with his wife, Evelyn. Two daughters, Mrs. William Giddings and Mrs. James Thomas, live in Greenbelt.

BANK CLOSED

All offices of Suburban Trust Company will be closed on Tuesday, February 22, 1955, in observance of Washington's Birthday, a legal holiday in the State of Maryland.

GVHC Board Talks Zoning, Publicity PTA Hears Warning On Two-Shift Classes

Despite snow and high winds which accompanied the worst blizzard of the season, the GVHC board of directors met as scheduled last Friday. Although only seven of the nine members were present, business was conducted as usual.

Zoning for the medical center came under discussion when it was disclosed that Dr. James McCarl has purchased two houses across the street from the present medical center. The board approved this purchase with the understanding that the exterior appearance of the buildings would not be altered. As long as the buildings are used for residential purposes, the question of zoning does not enter into it; but if they are to be used as medical offices exclusively, this may pose a problem. For the time being, however, it was disclosed that the buildings would be used for residential purposes.

City Councilman James Smith appealed to the board to seek some means of helping the News Review financially by advertising in its pages. Al Long, reporting for a sub-committee of the board which had previously considered this question, moved that the board authorize the printing of the GVHC Newsletter in the paper, but after some adverse discussion he withdrew this motion. Instead, the board voted to spend $500 for advertising in the paper during the year.

In discussing certain aspects of legislation currently before the State Legislature, it was pointed out that there are some weaknesses in the contract which GVHC members hold with the corporation. Discussion of this situation was off the record. (See editorial).

The agenda for the annual meeting coming up in March was considered. Bruce Bowman, secretary, disclosed that there is a serious shortage of candidates running for the board. So far, he said, only four names have been entered in the race.

Flash! Center Class Hatches Batch Of Eggs

Excerpt from the latest "NEWSIE SUSIE," sent to the parents of the Center School's 2nd-3rd grade class by Mrs. Gertrude Yaeger, the teacher: (reprinted with her permission)

Feature Story
Baby chickens hatch in classroom!

Spring is just around the corner! We can prove it in room 122. If you were to visit our room right now you would find that we have other visitors too. They would greet you with a cheerful "Peep, Peep." After twenty-one days of careful attention (keeping the temperature at 102 degrees, keeping water in the incubator, turning the eggs and trying not to knock the stand over)—we have been rewarded! February 7th was one of the most exciting days in this room. (Did you hear about it?)

Many thanks to Mr. McIntosh, father of Carol Ann, who made the incubator and loaned it to us. He has been very successful in past years in his own classroom at Berwyn with this incubator.

UNQUOTE

The following has not yet appeared in NEWSIE SUSIE, but it happened while Mrs. Yaeger was talking to the class about television. "Any questions from the floor?" she asked. "I didn't know the floor could talk," piped up little Ellen Spector.

The ever-increasing possibility of double-shift classes in Greenbelt schools was brought to the attention of the Center School Parent-Teachers Association meeting Tuesday night by the guest speaker, Mrs. Louise D. Yuill, a member of the Prince Georges County Board of Education.

"We should not build for yesterday," Mrs. Yuill told the meeting, "instead of preparing for tomorrow. We must anticipate school needs, so that we can keep double shift classes in the county at a minimum."

The New Budget

Principal subject of the meeting was the 1955-56 school budget soon to come up for consideration by the Board of Commissioners.

The proposed budget for the school year amounts to $20.2 million which includes $13 million for operating costs and $7.2 million for new construction.

The proposed operating cost will be provided as follows: 52 percent from local county funds, 42 percent from the State of Maryland, and 6 percent from the Federal government.

If the budget is adopted, the operating cost will be expended as follows:

For instruction, including supplies and books, 72.2 percent.
For operation, 9.6 percent.
For maintenance, 5.6 percent.
For transportation, 3.6 percent.
For administration, 1.5 percent.
For fixed charges, 1.1 percent.
For modernization and alterations, 5.4 percent.
Miscellaneous, one percent.

Salary Boost

The subject of school salaries came up for discussion during the meeting. Mrs. Yuill stated that the present scale is $3,200 for first year teachers up to $4,800 for teachers with 18 years of service, with an extra $200 for those with masters degrees. The new budget provides for a $3,400 to $5,200 salary range, with the same $200 additional bonus for masters.

Construction Costs

Mrs. Yuill noted the difference in construction costs between elementary schools and high schools. She said that, while an elementary school can be erected for from $250,000 to $350,000 any high school will cost nearly a million dollars.

In closing, she stated that the County School board always appreciates any support it receives, especially from members of Parent-Teachers Associations.

Attendance Awards

Membership Chairman Vincent Caruso announced that Mrs. Sawtelle's room received the award for the highest attendance of fathers at this meeting, and that Mrs. Yeager and Mrs. Ravitz tied for the prize for highest attendance of parents. He added that 328 Greenbelt families are now members of the association, comprising 66 percent of the families of children attending the Center school.

Program Chairman Morris Solomon announced that the next meeting will be held on March 22, 1955, and that the subject will be "What Are the Health Needs of Our Community and Our Country?"

GARDEN PLOTS

This year no garden plots will be available at the American Legion, according to Hans Jorgensen, chairman of the GVHC Landscaping Committee. Plots will be available at the old garden site near the Lutheran church, and the Crabbe property back of the GVHC building. Greenbelt gardeners who have had gardens in past years and would like to have another this year should call Jorgensen, (GR. 4-9286) before March 1.

Have A Heart

Our editorial hat is off to the public-spirited group of men and women who have volunteered to carry out a house-to-house solicitation Sunday afternoon, February 20, in behalf of the 1955 Heart Fund. Their willing expenditure of time and effort is in line with the finest traditions of good public service.

In essence, the Heart Fund volunteers are front-line soldiers in a war that is everybody's concern, namely, the war against diseases of the heart and circulation, which takes an annual death toll of more than 794,000 lives, more deaths than all other diseases combined.

Next Sunday's house-to-house collection will also permit you to have a part in this vital undertaking. Your contributions will help underwrite the costs of medical research aimed at the conquest of these diseases, while also supporting education and community heart projects of your Heart Association.

The outlook is hopeful. New drugs, new surgical methods and techniques, and new means of diagnosis and treatment have already resulted in significant gains.

A point to be remembered is that your Heart Fund Volunteer will be working for your good, the community's good and the nation's good. Make your gift a generous one, and let these volunteers know you appreciate their efforts.

"Please Don't Print This . . ."

For quite some time the reporters of this newspaper have been requested by several organizations in Greenbelt to withhold news. A typical situation: a board of directors is holding a meeting. One board member discloses a delicate situation which exists. Discussion takes place. After the matter is discussed and plans are made to deal with the problem, the president or some board member will turn to the press representative and declare - "We would appreciate it if this did not get into the paper. It would ruin our organization."

The reporter, alarmed at the matter discussed and acutely aware of the consequences of reporting the information, is suddenly burdened with a great responsibility. So "for the good of the organization concerned" and often "for the good of Greenbelt", he withholds the news.

This happens, and there is no denying it.

Henceforth, however, our reporters are instructed to report the news emanating from any open meeting as factually and completely as possible. Our reporters will not be unfairly encumbered with requests to withhold information which is disclosed publicly at meetings that any member or citizen may attend and hear.

Also, if this stated policy encourages closed meetings (executive sessions), this newspaper will endeavor to print any information it may learn of these meetings, as part of our job to get and report legitimate news.

We are asking organizations in Greenbelt to become aware of their responsibilities and we will take care of our own. We are not obligated to anyone except our readers, and we prefer that no one be obligated to us — for suppressing the news.

Louis Levine, 18-N Ridge, discovered last week that it was not as cold as it was "cracked-up" to be. As a matter of fact, he cracked through the thin ice on Greenbelt Lake on February 8 while he and two friends were sliding on it. Fortunately he was able to pull himself out and an unidentified mother dried him and changed his clothes so that no physical damage was incurred. Lawrence, Pearl and Louis extend their sincere thanks to their benefactress.

Many Greenbelters will remember the George Boykoffs who moved to New York two years ago. The lure of Greenbelt has proved too strong, and the Boykoffs are moving back to 2-C Northway. Since they've been gone the family has increased by one for a grand total of three girls.

St. Valentine's Day was ushered in in grand style on the afternoon of February 13 by a party given by Kathleen McGee of 7-D Hillside. Ten boys and girls made merry at a "grown-up" style party (with cokes instead of cocktails, of course).

On Wednesday, February 16, Brownie Troop 128 under the leadership of Mrs. Guppy had a slippery time sliding and gliding around the roller skating rink. (Just don't ask the girls to sit down when they come to visit!)

Greenbelters will be happy to hear that Mr. and Mrs. Ray Austin are returning to our fair town. Of course "Grandma" and "Grandpa" (otherwise known as Mr. and Mrs. Francis Lastner) and Aunt Fran are delighted to know that they will reside in this area after being away two years at Camp Gordon, Augusta, Georgia. Angela (Ann) and Ray (who was just discharged from the service) will be introducing their five-month-old daughter, Dianno Frances, to their numerous friends.

Army Pvt. Fred A. Ropko, son of Mrs. Anna G. Ropko, 6103 Greenbelt Rd., recently arrived at Schofield Barracks in Hawaii, and is now a member of the 25th Infantry Division. Private Ropko entered the Army in August, 1954 and last served at Fort Jackson, South Carolina.

"Calling all ladies!" Did you ever dream you had a figure like Marilyn Monroe? Want to make that dream come true?? Well, then you are invited to be the guest at the meeting of the Women's Group of the J. C. C. Thursday, February 24, at the Greenbelt center school. Mrs. Ruth Baron, local representative of a reducing machine company, knows all the secrets and she will put on a demonstration using live models (guess who?).

After the demonstration a humorous skit entitled "Take An Ad. Please!" will be presented by members of the group, relating to the experiences collecting for the JCC Journal.

The demonstration will start at 9:30 and you may bring your hubby. He'll have a swell time watching.

Greenbelt friends of Esther Tillem, now living in Detroit, gave her a long-distance baby shower last week at the home of Jenny Klein. The girls telephoned Esther for a nice chat, and have mailed the packages to her.

Mrs. Lib Goldfaden of 3-A Ridge reports that this has been a hard winter for relief agencies, and we are appealing to all the neighbors to dig into their closets and attics and come to the rescue. The Social Service League of Prince Georges County, a non-sectarian organization, is looking for clothing donations—particularly for school-age children. There is one destitute family with nine children between the ages of two and high-school. The children have insufficient clothing to attend school and this is not an isolated case. Come to the rescue, neighbors, and leave your clothing with Mrs. Goldfaden at 3-A Ridge or take it down to the agency in Mt. Ranier.

Ruth Bowman of 14-Z-3 Laurel has just returned from Greene, New York. Ruth went to see her father who is ill.

PLEASE call your news items in to me before Tuesday night. My phone number is 3251, and I would like to hear from all of you.

My Daze

LAST FRIDAY'S TWO INCHES OF SNOW put Washington in a dither. Many took two-and-a-half or three hours to get back from work. Someone I know got caught in the snarl around the Lincoln Memorial, was routed quite involuntarily to Virginia, and got back to Greenbelt in four hours after a horrible trip! Believe it or not, my husband and his friend turned out to be the big-shots in all this. They made it back from mid-town Washington in three-quarters of an hour. The secret? They didn't leave for home until 7:15, after all the commotion and mess was over.

THE WEATHER DID BRING SOME NEAR-MISHAPS, however. One was a frightening, turn-about skid on Saturday, and getting stuck on the icy part of Metzert Road the other evening. Getting the chains back on in the dusk, while the cars moved cautiously by, then getting out of the side ditch with the kind help of strangers was an adventure the children and I enjoyed only afterwards, in telling about it. (Don't ask me what I was doing on Metzert road in the first place, if there was still ice about?) Its a bumpy ride at best. My husband thinks I should be more concerned about the springs, but then he always worries more about the car than I do anyway. The snow means so much fun for the children. Despite all the inconveniences of ski pants and boots, despite the driving difficulties, the bright beauty of snow in Greenbelt is a big thrill to me. As the children say, Yikes, the scenery. The big city was never like this.

TALKING OF THE CITY, our friends little five-year-old has a low opinion of it too, apparently. And he's litter conscious. "I'm going to eat this candy now," he announced, "but I'm going to put the wrapper in my pocket and not on the ground. I want Greenbelt to be clean, not like New York."

THIS WEEK WAS FULL OF LOVE and Abraham Lincoln. We sorely need in the influence of both love and the ideas of our great Civil War President.

Betty Cress Accepts Job On News Review

One of Greenbelt's alert citizens, quick to answer the clarion call of the News Review for help on its volunteer staff, is Betty Cress, currently taking over bookkeeping duties for the paper.

Betty and her husband, Sam, have been living at 34-D Ridge for the past two years. Although now a full time homemaker, Betty has previously been employed as a statistician in the Census Bureau and the National Production Authority (N. P. A.)

Aside from her interest in figures, Betty enjoys sewing. One of her specialties is making slipcovers, which she'll make up for you too, reasonably! Betty and her husband also enjoy hiking and cycling. Happy summer week-ends are spent at their cabin in the Catocin Mountains, not far from Camp David, President Eisenhower's hideaway, and Misty Mount, the Girl Scout Camp.

Betty's varied interests also include reading, (the News Review) and she wants to do her stint in maintaining this worthwhile community service.

The local chapters goal is $34,000 and everyone agreed that the county should raise this amount early in the month.

Pick up papers, clean your yard. Teach your children to be neat. If they balk and won't be tidy, Get right to the problem's seat!

Red Cross Fund Maps Campaign

A dinner for the 1955 Red Cross County fund campaign chairmen took place on Wednesday, February 9 in College Park. Many of the captains from the county subdivisions were present as well as some of the honorary chairmen.

Joseph W. Rabbitt, Jr., chairman of the entire county drive, introduced Dr. Louis M. Jimal, Chapter Chairman and called on various chairmen to say a few words. Rabbitt outlined the services of the Red Cross with special emphasis on the local blood program which means so much to our county residents. He made an appeal to the captains to get their workers organized early so that everything would be ready for the March 1 opening.
