Hot "Fourth" Celebration Sizzler; Parade, Speeches, Fun, Fireworks

By Miriam Solomon

It was the traditional Fourth of July in Greenbelt; bigger, better, but hotter. The floats were wonderful, original, ingenious, the fire companies shiny and impressive, the ladies' auxiliaries fetching and graceful. Tattered clowns shuffled ahead of the Laurel Boy Scouts-Jones Lee Cottage contingent, the Community Church float of teacher and pupils acted out "Better Citizens thru Christian Education", bank manager Henry Brautigam was a natural as a dignified Uncle Sam, the GVHC float pictured a Self-Help Paint program, Farmer Cipriano's tractor pulled chicks and ducks along, Crisp's Garage towed an accident victim in a smashed up auto dramatizing the motto "Be alert and stay alive." Noisy fire engines and ambulances were in abundance. The county civil defense truck with Director Hal Silvers at the mike was followed by a radio car. The Little League action baseball float drew special applause. Soap box cars, decorated bikes, space-helmeted riders on some of them (one mother along to help) amused the crowd. Ponies ambled along in time with the rest. Greenbelt's special pride, the Greenbelt Band and Majorettes were admired. The Beltsville Volunteer Fire Department Majorettes, drilled by former Greenbelt Majorette Judy Lewis, were also admired. The News Review float together with the Bookmobile put a plug in for the writ-

Co-op Housing Group Elects Five Directors

A five-man board of directors was elected by the members of Woodway Homes, Inc., the new housing cooperative formed to develop the Woodland Hills area, at a meeting of the new organization on Thursday, June 30.

Elected to the board were James Bates, Martin Haker, Michael Burckick, James Cassels, and Anthony Madden. The new board will meet on July 12 to elect officers and to initiate an active membership campaign.

Cassels, who has been assigned by the Foundation for Cooperative Housing (FCH) of New York, to assist the housing cooperative in its project, was introduced to the meeting by Roger Wilcox, general manager of FCH. Cassels, who arrived in Greenbelt last week, now resides at 1-G Northway.

Cost figures for the lots, improvements and the homes were presented along with drawings of the homes that will be constructed. The project is located on Crescent Road opposite St. Hugh's. A lot can be reserved for a $100 returnable deposit.

The Horse Shoe Tournament was held, however, the winners being none other than Recreation Director Donnie Wolfe and Otis Keyes, his partner. Thirty boys took part.

Traffic Moves Fast

During the day crowds were less than expected because of the heat. Twilight, and the attraction of the spectacular fireworks brought four to five thousand to the lake starting 8 p.m. It was the biggest fireworks crowd in years. Police Sergeant Green, his force, and the Berwyn Heights police kept a potential Times Square traffic jam from developing among the hundreds of cars. Crescent road had been made one way, and traffic moved amazingly fast. The midnight swim at the pool afterwards was successful, financially and otherwise.

The expenses of the day were carried by the Boys Club; $85 went for twelve trophy awards. The city council's outlay was $500 for the fireworks, considered a promotional expense. Greenbelt enjoys a reputation for its Fourth of July celebration, attracting countless outsiders each year.

Election And Voting Regulations Or "How To Get Into Politics"

Do you know someone you think should be on the Greenbelt City Council? Would you yourself run for the office? What do you need to do to get the person of your choice on the city's governing body? For that matter, how do you qualify to vote?

Here are the regulations for citizen participation in Greenbelt City elections, as explained by City Clerk Winfield McCamy to the June 28 meeting of the Greenbelt Citizens Association:

Anyone who is eligible to vote in Greenbelt City elections is eligible to run for one of the five seats on the city council. ELECTION DAY is September 20, 1955; the term of office is two years.

Registration

REGISTRATION DAY for voters is ANY DAY, during business hours—just go to the city offices and sign up with Mrs. McCamy. If you work during the day and can't register then, wait until special registration days are announced. During special registration days, Mrs. McCamy will sign you up during the evening.

Once you've registered for Greenbelt elections, you needn't register again as long as you live here continuously, provided you have voted in at least one of the two previous city elections. If you've never registered here, or if you moved out of town and then moved back, or if you missed voting in two consecutive elections, you must register again in order to vote.

Eligibility

To be eligible to vote in Greenbelt elections, you must be a citizen of the United States, eligible to vote in Maryland elections, a resident of Maryland for at least one year—of Greenbelt at least six months continuously before Election Day, and living here at the time of election.

If you—or your candidate—are eligible to vote, here's what must be done to get a place on the ballot for City Councilman:

1—Get 3% to 5% of the number of registered voters in the previous election to sign a nomination petition. Last election there were 901 registered, so this year you need 27 to 45 valid signatures. Mrs. McCamy guesses there are about 3,600 adults here. You may use your own petition form, or get some from Mrs. McCamy; she also has an information form that will be helpful. You may use one sheet of paper or several.

2—Submit the signed petition to her (together with a $3 filing fee) not earlier than July 22 and not later than August 22. Mrs. McCamy will check the petition for valid signatures. Only registered voters' signatures are valid, and a voter may sign only ONE nomination petition even though he may vote for five candidates. Therefore, Mrs. McCamy will disqualify a voter's signature on the second and all subsequent petitions she receives on which it appears.

This means a voter should think twice before signing a nomination petition for someone he isn't really eager to back; it would make him unable to nominate someone else. This also means that the candidate (or the backers of a candidate) who file their petitions with Mrs. McCamy early in the July 22-August 22 period will have more time in which to get additional signatures if she disqualifies enough signatures to invalidate the petition.

Mrs. McCamy asks that married women signers of petitions use the form Mary Doe, not Mrs. John Doe. Her records show them as Mary Doe and if Mrs. McCamy doesn't recognize the name in its married form, she may not be able to check and accept it. With many new people in town she doesn't know, she must rely on her records in many cases.

3—Within 7 days of filing of a valid petition, Mrs. McCamy notifies the candidate. He then has 7 days within which to notify her he accepts the nomination. (In some cases, petitions are circulated without the candidate's say-so.) The ballot carries all persons nominated this way. But you can write in when you vote.

That's all there is to it. September 20 there'll be an election. Last election 618 persons voted, of the 901 registered, Mrs. McCamy said. If five candidates fail to win majorities of the votes cast, there will be a run-off election 7 days later at which up to twice as many candidates as there are vacancies to be filled may run. Council usually elects as Mayor the candidate who got the most votes. And the City has a new Council.

Hats Off To Tot Playgrounds

We would like to commend the city council and the city Recreation Department for the improved tot playground program they have inaugurated this summer, following the strong and urgent recommendation of the Citizens' Recreation Advisory Committee. Although the program is only in its first week and problems may arise that will have to be ironed out, there is no doubt that the plan suggested by the Committee and adopted by the city is a practical one, which will give residents the type of special service long associated with Greenbelt. This also demonstrates how citizens' committees can work effectively, and how, if well organized under capable leadership, they can bring about needed improvements.

Our city fathers are to be congratulated especially for frankly recognizing the deficiencies of previous summers' tot playground programs which utilized untrained school girls who were paid the munificent fee of five cents per child for each two-hour period. Some of these girls approached their task with real enthusiasm and natural ability for this type of work, but there were the exceptions. Most of them were unable to provide the type of supervision that encouraged children to attend regularly.

This year not only are mothers being used but the Recreation Department has thoughtfully given these mothers some special training in how to supervise the youngsters. In addition, the mothers assigned to the playgrounds generally reside in the area in which the particular playground is located. Thus parents feel more secure knowing that their youngsters are in the charge of a neighbor. Incidentally, we also owe a debt of thanks to these mother-supervisors for volunteering for this work at a salary that will not pay their week's grocery bill. Parents can show their gratitude for this service to the community by giving their assistance as helping mothers as often as possible.

Our only regret is that lack of funds or perhaps lack of enough mother-supervisors has meant that supervised play can only be conducted for two hours a day at each playground. However, this is only a small complaint, particularly if the caliber of supervision is high. We also understand that each Wednesday afternoon the youngsters with the additional assistance of helping mothers will be taken to the swimming pool for the two-hour period free of charge.

It is programs like this one that have in the past made Greenbelt an attractive community in which to raise a family. We hope that it is indicative of even more ambitious programs to come that will continue to keep Greenbelt the jewel of Prince Georges County.

The Editor's Notebook Letter to the Editor

Kids living in the Center school area (or what is that end of town called?) still have no means of getting up to the North End playground to enjoy the county program. What is happening to the Recreation Committee's plans for bus service during the hours of 10:30 a.m. and 2:30 p.m.? Don't forget to call City Recreation at 2011 and let Donnie Wolfe know you're interested in having your kids use the bus, at the usual fare, of course. If the demand is great enough, perhaps the city will institute this service.

Our congrats to Austin Green for organizing a fine 4th of July parade. The floats were especially beautiful this year. We awarded ourselves a prize for the most interesting vehicle in the parade. The NEWS REVIEW'S car is a custom made job designed and donated by new Greenbelter Henry Arneson.

One of the reasons why our monthly payments will be raised is the high rate of water consumption here. Greenbelters must do a lot of washing. In any event, we recommend that everyone read the article on Ways to Save Water.

Believe it or no, someone swiped the sign which the News Review used in the July 4th parade. Can't imagine why they would want it, but we would like to have it back—no questions asked.

Your reply to Diane was one of the best I have ever seen. Democracy does mean freedom, but freedom with responsibilities and the responsibilities are to respect the wishes of the majority. If we violate such wishes we show disrespect to our neighbor. So to Diane, be a good sport, a good citizen, and a good Greenbelter. You are not the only one who makes this sacrifice.

A Reader.

Slugger Slauch accomplished that record total with a perfect 4 for 4, including a double, two triples and a home run!

My Daze

WE ARE VAINLY TRYING TO TEACH THE CHILDREN that kicking at the door is not as good a way to open it as turning the knob. They kick, bang and holler for admittance, so lately we've been having some lessons in opening doors.

OUR SECOND GRADER IS SAVORING A BOOK OF 1001 RIDDLES (so help me!) a friend gave him for his eighth birthday. Since then I get questions like, "How can you keep a fish from smelling?", or "If you are locked in a room with only a bed and a calendar, what do you do for food?" The answers, from the back of the book are, "Cut off his nose" and "Get water from the spring and dates from the calendar" respectively. I'm sure we won't be spared a one of the 1001.

IN THE JUNE BULLETIN OF THE MARYLAND CONGRESS OF PARENTS AND TEACHERS (called the MARYLAND PARENT-TEACHER) appear NINE BASIC NEEDS OF ALL CHILDREN: to be loved, to take increasing responsibility, to be respected, to feel accepted by their families, to feel accepted by the community, to have fun, to achieve a sense of values, for creative experiences, and to have five examples of admired adults in their lives. This item of the bulletin goes on to suggest that this list, compiled by Dr. Frank Fremont-Smith, be made available to every parent. I would like to see it reprinted in full for EVERY parent.

The Long View

By A. C. Long

I decided last week (or to be perfectly honest, Pat told me) that it is the personal responsibility of each person to be a good active, conscientious citizen in his home community—so I started to set down some of the activities in which a community-minded parent should engage. Church and school affairs like the Holy Name Society and PTA are important and would require three or four evenings a month. Civic matters like the GCS, GVHC, the Democratic Club and the Republican Club (it's best to be safe), City Council meetings and GCA easily account for about 8 or 10 more evenings. Youth activities requiring parent participation like the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Drop-Inn, Teen Age Club and the Band would take about eight more evenings. Then there are fraternal organizations like the Legion, Elk, etc. for which I budgeted four evenings a month.

I counted it all up and it is pretty obvious that good citizenship can be maintained with a cost of about 26 evenings a month. There are an awful lot of lazy "let George do it" poor citizens in this town who should get out to some of these meetings and do their share. As they drive by 7-K Crescent on their dutiful way to their next meeting they might wave to a lazy no account poor citizen enjoying the evening peace and quiet as he lounges comfortably in his lawn chair. I'll put down my glass and wave back.

Since the "powers that be" don't seem able to devise an intelligible sign telling motorists coming into Greenbelt that the Washington-Baltimore Parkway turns right, I suggest that Greenbelt authorities post a sign saying "You have just passed the Wash.-Balt. Parkway." Never saw so many befuddled motorists in all my life!

Male Quartet Sings At Baptist Chapel

Male quartet of the First Baptist Church of Silver Spring will conduct evening service of Greenbelt Baptist Chapel on Sunday, July 10, 7 p.m., at Center School.

The quartet will sing various songs, including spirituals, old favorites and new arrangements interspersed with narration by Edward J. Fox, Jr., baritone. Songs and narration will center around the theme "Worth Singing About." Other members of the quartet are Marlin Kinna, tenor, John Munson, lead, and Roy Kilgore, bass.

Ways To Save Water

Do you have a little drip in your home? It's costing you money—perhaps more than you think, say the editors of Changing Times, The Kiplinger Magazine. In a day, the steadily dripping faucet can waste almost as much water as one member of the family will use during that day.

Saving water is mainly a matter of thinking about the subject whenever you turn on a faucet. Here are some suggestions on ways to save:

Showers usually require 25 gallons of water—baths, 36. Reduce the figures by turning off the shower while soaping and turning it on again to rinse and save 15 gallons. Substitute a partly filled tub for a full one and save 16 gallons.

Washing dishes under running water can use up to 30 gallons per meal. You can save by using a dishpan or sinkstopper.

Letting the water run all the time you are brushing your teeth is wasteful.

Use the basin instead of the shower for a shampoo.

Turn off the hot-water faucet when shaving and save up to 25 gallons of water.

If you want to know whether you're using the average amount of water, read your meter at the beginning and end of a representative period and calculate your consumption per person per day. If it's 25 to 35 gallons, that's pretty good. Fifty is about average. Anything above that is too high for household use.

Library News & Notes

By Mary Kenan Hadley

Over the weekend Mrs. Esther Hotchkiss and a crew of County Library staff prepared all books in the Greenbelt Library for our loan system. You will not find a card in the book pocket now; that card is at the Administrative Office as record of what is in the branch library. Printed directions for withdrawing books are placed near the forms you use. Mrs. Muir and Mrs. Slauch have each spent a few hours at the Hyattsville Branch, so they're expert and ready to help you.

Children may take four books at a time, during any hours the library is open. No limit on adult books. We hope you will be patient with changes, which we plan to make as gradual and as few as possible. Be sure to let Mrs. Muir know your wants and suggestions.

Green Will Trade Car for Horse

Parade viewers who were disappointed last Monday to see Grand Marshal Austin Green riding primarily in an automobile instead of atop a horse impersonating an Indian Chief can look forward to Labor Day, when he will do just that, as he has done before. Green has been appointed by the Greenbelt Youth Recreational Building Committee to take complete charge of a planned Labor Day parade, and he has promised to ride the horse at that time. It is expected to make a three day Labor Day festival a tradition in Greenbelt just as are the Memorial Day (sponsored by Lions Club) and Independence Day (Boys Club) events. Hundreds of organizations in and out of town are being asked to participate. The festival will take place at the Center. Green plans a demonstration of a fire company's rescue of a dummy from a flaming automobile.

Death Rate High on Outmoded Roads

In 1940, traffic officials labeled this typical rural road as unsafe. Today it is a much more serious killer. Built in 1920 when few drivers even ventured on highways at night, it is one of hundreds of rural highways desperately in need of widening, less dangerous curves, resurfacing and better use of traffic signs that are visible 24 hours a day, for both day and night safety. The great majority of the 3,343,170 miles of existing roads are not part of the interstate network that is receiving most attention in discussions of vast new highway building, traffic officials report. According to the Automobile Manufacturers' Association accidents and time lost on these roads costs the nation billions of dollars each year.

For More Fun In A Boat Use Common Sense Afloat

KNOW YOUR BOAT

Every boat has its limitations. Learn what you can expect from your boat.

HEAD INTO THE WAVES

If waves are high, head your boat at an angle towards the waves at slow speed.

BALANCE YOUR LOAD

Distribute weight evenly in the boat— from side to side and from bow to stern.

WATCH THE WEATHER

Head for shore before a storm breaks. If caught out, seat passengers on floor.

DON'T OVERLOAD

Seats do not indicate capacity. Two or three adults may be a full load under many conditions.

AVOID SHARP TURNS

Fast, sharp turns are hard on equipment—and sometimes on people. Take it easy.

KEEP LOW

And step in the center when boarding the boat or changing seats.

Follow the eight simple rules shown here for more safety and fun afloat this season, says the Outboard Boating Club of America, national organization of outboard boat and motor owners. Boating is the safest of outdoor sports, says OBC, if you'll use common sense and courtesy.

Speaking of PUBLIC SAFETY

Pedestrians have obligations to themselves and the motoring public. Public officials, by publicizing rules for safe walking, have reduced pedestrian accidents.

These four rules, suggested by the National Street and Traffic Safety Lighting Bureau, will help pedestrians overcome night hazards until street lighting has been modernized:

1. Always walk on the sidewalk, not in the road. If you must walk in the road, walk on the left shoulder of the road, facing traffic.
2. Cross at intersections. At night cross at lighted intersections.
3. Wear contrasting clothing, usually something white or light-colored. Better still, carry a flashlight or something made of reflectorized material.
4. Don't trust your judgment of the speed of an approaching car by its headlights at night.

There's another night hazard—bicycles. In many communities, official and non-official agencies have teamed up to meet the bike-traffic accident problem. They usually promulgate these four rules for bicyclists:

1. A good headlight and tail light (or reflector) are musts for night riding.
2. Trim your bicycle with some type of reflectorized material.
3. Wear light colored (contrasting) clothing or something trimmed with reflectorized material when riding at night.
