Ruth Taylor Resigns From GCS Position; Ten Years Service

After ten years' service, Ruth Taylor resigned recently from the staff of Greenbelt Consumer Services.

Best known as secretary to General Manager Samuel Ashelman, actually she resigned from several positions. She has been a general coordinator for the co-op, editor of the newsletter, active in personnel and membership work, and board secretary as well as Ashelman's "girl Friday."

"The loss of Ruth Taylor is a great one and it will be a long time before we have someone who can handle the variety of work as well as she did," Ashelman said. "Much of her work was beyond the requirements of her job, but was done because of her interest in the co-op."

Mrs. Taylor has been a prominent member of the community since the early days of Greenbelt. She was a member of the Cooperative Organizing Committee which formed GCS and served on the town council the first time a town election was held.

She started at GCS in April 1945 as secretary to the Board and as a part-time assistant to Merton Trast, then director of public relations and personnel. She took on full-time work in October of that year, in charge of membership stock records. The scope of her activities increased each year and in 1950 she became Ashelman's secretary.

Mrs. Taylor told the News Review that the most interesting part of her work was meeting the visitors who come from all over the world to see the co-op. The most rewarding part of her work, she said, was serving on the staff during the record growth of the last ten years.

The Taylors plan to keep their home in Greenbelt. Ted Taylor has been working at Parkersburg, West Virginia, the last year, and it is for this reason that Mrs. Taylor resigned from GCS.

Movies provided by the telephone company to be shown in the social hall (coolest place in town) will include a 30 minute film on the life of Alexander Graham Bell and a 25 minute film called "Rehearsal" featuring the Bell Telephone Co.'s symphony orchestra and Mr. Ezio Pinza.

The Greenbelt police have indicated that they will start to pick up bicycles that are not registered and impound them for a 30-day period. They also reminded Greenbelt youngsters that riding two-wheel bicycles on the sidewalks is not permitted.

Orchids For Mothers At All-Star Game

The Annual Greenbelt Little League All-Star Baseball Game will be played Saturday, July 23 at 2:45 p.m. at McDonald Field and orchids will be given to the first 100 Little League Mothers attending the game.

At this now famous Greenbelt landmark, just beside the Baltimore-Washington Expressway, these Greenbelt Little Leaguers will slug away to see which League, National or American, will leave the field victorious.

This All-Star Roster consists of the boys who, in the opinion of the American and National League Coaches, qualify by reason of their ability and good sportsmanship, to represent their respective League in this Annual Classic.

Chet Speziale, National League 1954 Indian Coach and Bud Dean, of the American League 1954 Athletics, will be the opposing strategists, assisted by the other League coaches.

Orioles Win Again

Boys Club Orioles are still undefeated in Prince Georges County Boys Club baseball. Shortstop Bob Caning got a single and double in four times at bat, scoring twice and driving home two to spark the local Intermediates' 17-3 victory over Hollywood-Berwyn Boys Club at Braden Field July 12.

Ronnie Bussard made his first start on the mound for the Orioles and went all the way, tiring in the moments before darkness when he gave up four walks and two hits for H-B's only runs. "Buzz" gave up only 3 hits in all, walked 10 and struck out a pair.

The Oriole infield defended beautifully. Tommy Iveson, who went 2 for 3 at bat, started two great double-plays from his third-base position that went Iveson to Ronnie DonBullian to Ritchie Fonda - just like clockwork! DonBullian pulled an unassisted DP in the third inning. Little Brent Barker - who was born and bred in Greenbelt - was on second base for HB when catcher Harry Dreany, who got 2 of the 3 hits off Bussard, lined smartly over the bag. DonBullian speared the ball and toed the base to double up Barker.

Local Boy Appointed To Naval Academy

Daniel Bernice Branch, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel B. Branch of 13-H Ridge, reported to the U. S. Naval Academy, Annapolis, on July 18 to be sworn in as midshipman at the Academy. Dan's grandmother, Mrs. D. B. Branch of Wilmington, North Carolina was present, along with other members of his family in Memorial to see him take his oath of office.

Dan has lived in Greenbelt all his life, his family moving into the new community in November 1937. He was active for many years in the Boys Club playing baseball, football and basketball; participated in scouting and Northwestern High's Senior Bowling League; and held a publicity job in the Greenbelt Chapter of Izaak Walton League of America. His favorite hobbies are fishing and hunting.

He graduated from Northwestern High School, Hyattsville, in June, class of 1955. While attending high school he held a part-time position with the Greenbelt Consumer Services, where he worked in the local Variety store.

Dan's parents are formerly from North Carolina. Mrs. Branch received her education in Raleigh and Mr. Branch lived in Wilmington before going to Raleigh to attend North Carolina State College where he graduated in the class of 1929.

Baptist Chapel Shows Bible School Slides

Colored slides of scenes taken of Vacation Bible School in June will be shown during the evening worship of Greenbelt Baptist Chapel Sunday, July 24, at 7 p.m. at Center School.

The slides, depicting scenes of opening worship service and views of activities of all recent Vacation Bible School departments, were photographed by Dr. William J. Crowder, Director of Evangelism and Missions, who was first pastor of Greenbelt Baptist Chapel.

The service will also include informal hymn singing led by Dr. James T. McCarl and message by Rev. Glenn W. Samuelson, pastor, on the subject, "The Man Who Walked With God."

Parents of children attending Vacation Bible School are especially welcomed to attend this service.

Council Bars Busloads From Pool; Public Discussion Set For July 26

By Russell Greenbaum

A decision to request the Prince Georges County Recreation Department to cease sending busloads of children from its playgrounds to the Greenbelt swimming pool until further notice was made by the city council on a 3-2 vote at a special meeting on Tuesday, July 19, which had been called to consider the usage of the Greenbelt pool.

This action grew out of recommendations presented to the council by the citizens recreation advisory committee, which met to consider the problem just prior to the council meeting. Further action on other recommendations of the committee was postponed by the council until after the public meeting called by the committee for Tuesday, July 26, to consider the entire issue. The meeting will be held in the city council office over the Variety Store at 8 p.m.

The move to bar busloads of outside children from coming to the pool was actually more drastic than the recommendation of the committee, which proposed that a limit of one busload a day be set. City Manager Charles McDonald explained that the County Recreation Department had originally asked permission to send over children from its playgrounds in buses and that we had agreed since the Greenbelt pool provided the only swimming facilities in this area.

Madden Heads New Co-op Housing Group

Anthony M. Madden was elected president of the board of directors of the new Woodland Hills cooperative home building group at the first meeting of the new board on July 12. Other officers elected were Michael Burchick, vice-president; James Bates, secretary; and Martin Haker, treasurer.

The board laid plans for an intensive membership campaign in order to fill as quickly as possible the remaining 29 vacancies in the cooperative so that purchase of the land may be negotiated. Aiding the group is James Cassels, cooperative housing specialist of the Foundation for Cooperative Housing.

Those desiring to join this project may reserve a lot by depositing a check for $100 made payable to Woodway Homes, Inc., at Madden's business office at 141 Centerway.

Babe Ruth League Co-op All-Stars In State Tourney

An All-Star selection of fifteen players from the Co-op Babe Ruth League will represent Greenbelt next week at Frederick, Maryland in National Babe Ruth League State Tournament. It is a single elimination tourney at Frederick's McCurdy Field in which six teams will battle for survival and the Maryland title.

Greenbelt plays Northeast Branch YMCA of Baltimore at 4 p.m. Tuesday, July 26. Optimistically foreseeing an all-winning performance for our Orioles, they would next meet Westminster at 4 p.m. on Wednesday, July 27. Another win could be the host team, Frederick. Now, when last seen at Braden Field, Frederick was easily spanking our stars, 27-0!

The 1955 All-Star Team representing the Co-op Babe Ruth League of Greenbelt is as follows: Variety Store placed three: Pitcher Barry Petroff, Second-baseman Ronnie DonBullian and Outfielder Donnie Estep. Drug Store placed four: Kenny Reamy, Utility, Pitcher Ronnie Bussard, Third-baseman Tommy Iveson and Utility player Billy Stetele. Supermarket placed three: Pitcher Fred Slaugh, First-baseman Richie Fonda and Pitcher Ronnie Newman. League-leading Service Station placed five: Catcher Dale White, Utility player Donnie King, Shortstop Bob McGlothlin, Pitcher Dave Goldfaden and Utility player Roy McCauley.

Since this is an entirely functional all-star list as well as containing the usual degree of honor, two boys' names were needfully left off. They are Bobby Canning and Wes Hogan. Canning is the league's outstanding shortstop but became ineligible by playing with the local Legion nine. The fleet, sure-handed Hogan will be out of town during tourney play.

Parents who have cars are invited to make the daily trek to Frederick. Tuesday the all-star players are to meet in front of the Tobacco Store at 12 noon. Car drivers are requested to meet same place, same time

The recreation committee stated that one of the main reasons for the overcrowding of the pool in the daytime during weekdays was the large number of outside children using the pool. Allen Chotiner, chairman of the committee, noted that on July 6 the pool was used by 453 outside children between the ages of 6 and 12 and 286 Greenbelt youngsters in the same age group.

In addition to the limitation of one busload a day, the committee recommended that an overall limit on the number of outsiders using the pool be set, that a Greenbelt husband and wife be admitted for the price of one in the afternoon and evening and that Greenbelt adults be admitted free of charge on Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings. Children and teen-agers would pay the regular price.

In regard to the busloads of outsiders, Chotiner reported that as many as four busloads of children come to the pool in one afternoon. It was revealed that a large bus carries 70 passengers while a small bus carries 48.

The matter of possible loss of revenue was also discussed, with City Manager McDonald noting that the pool cannot afford to lose any money for the rest of the year. This year's budget set $15,000 as the amount required in revenue to meet expenditures. He said that June had been an unusually poor month due to the inclement weather.

Donnie Wolfe, city recreation head, stated his belief that the elimination of busloads of outside children and the two-for-one plan would not lead to an appreciable drop in revenue. Councilman Jim Smith pointed out that the pool has always been intended primarily for the use of Greenbelt residents, and he got confirmations from McDonald that the pool was managing to break even in June before the busloads began coming to the pool.

It was at this point that Councilman Ben Goldfaden moved that the busloads of children be stopped until further notice and that a husband and wife be admitted to the pool for the price of one in the evening hours (from 6 to 8:40 p.m.) when the pool was little used. He said he did not consider it practical to make this an all-day policy or to admit them free in the evening. At the request of McDonald the proposal was split into two separate motions to permit separate voting.

Search For Ideas

Goldfaden said he was interested in "searching for ideas" that would lead to greater use and greater enjoyment of the pool by Greenbelt residents. He suggested that his modification of the committee's recommendations be tried for a time. "Then if we find that Greenbelt residents are not taking advantage of the pool, we can re-examine the situation," he said. He added that on principle he was against closing the pool to outside children since they had no place else to go, but that it should be done if it will solve the local problem.

Councilman Bob Hurst said that he was opposed to the complete elimination of all busloads and that we should try to cooperate

A Fair Test?

Last Thursday the city began a special bus service to the Northend Playground for the benefit of those children who could not get there otherwise. There was a short news item about this new service in the issue of the News Review which was distributed Thursday night. Tuesday this service was discontinued. That is, as nearly as we can ascertain, it was discontinued Tuesday. Thus a service was instituted and, based on three or four days of experience, abolished. Obviously, not enough people availed themselves of this particular service to warrant its continuance. Yet, we can't help feeling that this was not a fair test.

The service was started on a frankly experimental basis. Certainly, we would not want the city to operate a special bus service at a deficit unless there were an overriding reason to do so, and we commend our astute city manager for keeping an eagle eye on this operation and stopping it before losing too much money.

On the other hand, we do not like to see the city start something halfheartedly and then drop it like a hot potato if it doesn't pay off immediately.

Without belaboring the factors which, in our opinion, made the success of the experiment highly unlikely, we should like to suggest that the experiment be repeated. We respectfully submit that the following conditions must obtain in order to render the test a fair one: 1) An announcement to the public as to starting date and hours of service; 2) An announcement to the switchboard operator in the city office who must be able to answer questions; 3) An announcement to the playground supervisor; 4) An announcement to the Recreation Director; 5) An announcement to the children who attend the playground. (We might even suggest some advertising as a means of stimulating patronage.)

Then, if a week of operation fails to attract sufficient patronage to warrant the continuance of the service, we would be in complete accord with the decision to abandon it. Under the circumstances, however, we are impelled to question the validity of the test.

The Editor's Notebook

It can't happen here—or can it? In University Park a few weeks ago four candidates ran unopposed for council seats and won by the following majorities—7, 15, 16, and 7. There was one write-in vote. Out of 1500 eligible voters, only 46 cast ballots. DEMOCRACY IN INACTION, we call it. Our own election takes place September 20. All Greenbelt adults who have lived in the state one year and in Greenbelt six months are eligible to vote. Register with City Clerk Winfield McCamy any day. Let's show them that in Greenbelt democracy does work.

We note with great interest that a movement is afoot in the county to build a teen-age swimming pool—or is it a swimming pool for teen-agers? In any event, about 250 families have already signed up for membership in the proposed non-profit corporation. The pool, to be located on a 6-acre tract behind Mt. Rainier Junior High School, is expected to cost $100,000. Membership fee is $25 per family. It seems to us the county could use several such pools, to accommodate the growing population—and we mean all ages, not just teensters.

Much as we hate to mention it, our advertising revenue has fallen off in recent weeks, and the small reserve we built up in the last few months is fading away. Does anyone have any ideas or suggestions?

Rumor has it that the Lions Club is planning to revive the Community Men's dinners this fall. Glad to hear it. We expressed the wish that this would happen a few weeks ago in this column, and we're particularly gratified at such quick results.

NOW HEAR THIS

In response to the many requests for information about sirens—now hear this. One blast is for ambulance service. Two blasts are for test purposes only. Three blasts are for a fire.

Recreation Notes

Senior life savers are urgently needed. So, all you good swimmers, age 16 years and over, boys and girls, register August 1 for the senior life saving class. This instruction is FREE. Thirty hours of instruction are required for a certificate. It is planned that some of the training will be held at the lake where instruction in life saving from a boat on the lake will be given.

Speaking of boats on the lake. We haven't seen any recently. Don't forget, they are permitted. All that's needed besides the boat is a license. Call Donnie Wolfe at 2011.

Life in Greenbelt—Past, Present and Future will be the theme of the Recreation Department's Water Pageant to be given as part of the Labor Day Festivities now being planned.

The nets are up on three tennis courts and the courts have been patched and are now ready for use.

County Playground

The county operated playground will be holding a Carnival Day next Wednesday, July 27. The kids will set up various games of skill and compete for prizes. The highest cumulative scores will win.

Friday, July 29, will be a busy day at Greenbelt Lake when young people from all over the County will gather there to compete in various fishing contests.

The Junior softball team at the playground lost their first game to Laurel last week; but the Midgets and Intermediates are still undefeated.

Wednesday, July 20, an afternoon watermelon festival was held at the playground attended by approximately 300 parents and children. It took two of the city's big waste baskets to cart away all of the rinds! Rosemary Siegel, George Moore, Otis Keys and David Morris were the winners of the various eating contests. The afternoon closed with a cold shower, courtesy of the city's fire hose.

Our Greenbelt entrants in the Prince Georges County bike rodeo did not bag any of the prizes, unless you count the... See RECREATION, Page 4

Topping the field of experts were Larry Fink and George West who captured the coveted first and second prizes respectively. The following night, in partnership with George Kaufman, Mr. West evidently gave lessons (Greenbelt style) at the Goren Duplicate Bridge League where the boys romped in with a first place victory. George West is busily establishing a reputation in the Washington Area Bridge circles. His other accomplishments this past month include winning first place honors at both the Langley Park and Penthouse Duplicate Bridge Leagues. It is rumored that both Goren and Culbertson intend to rewrite their books to include a section on original tactics by Mr. West.

with the county as much as possible. He proposed that a limitation of 150 outside children be set. McDonald suggested that the number of buses could be reduced by asking the cooperation of the county, which he felt sure we could get. Goldfaden, however, asserted that we must experiment by going all the way. The votes of Goldfaden, Canning, and Smith carried the question against the nays of Mayor Wolfe and Hurst.

On the question of admitting a husband and wife in the evenings for the price of one, the council went around in a complete circle. This scheme was not considered practical since it meant that a family had to go together or not at all. It was noted jocularly that it might encourage a husband, whose wife didn't wish to swim, to go with someone else's wife.

Reduced Price?

McDonald maintained that free admission would prove nothing and suggested that a reduced price in the evening might be the answer. Goldfaden, who said he was searching for any possible solution, immediately picked this up and proposed a 25-cent charge for adults in the evening. After some discussion, however, McDonald raised the point that a change in the price would mean a long, involved procedure, including printing new tickets and passing a new ordinance, although he admitted that the latter action could be taken that night. He felt that the two-for-one plan might be simpler.

The council then came almost full circle when Councilman Hurst proposed that two adults, rather than husband and wife, be admitted for the price of one on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday evenings. It was decided to vote on this motion, which was defeated by the nays of Goldfaden, Wolfe, and Smith against the affirmative votes of Hurst and Canning. Goldfaden explained that he now considered the two-for-one policy impractical and restrictive as it meant that an adult could not go alone and must arrange to go with his wife or a neighbor.

No Problem

This led to general discussion during which McDonald declared and Mayor Wolfe reaffirmed that actually there was no real problem in regard to the pool. Wolfe earlier maintained that he personally had not heard a single complaint about the pool and that the issue had largely been raised by the small Greenbelt Citizens Association. McDonald also affirmed that there was absolutely "no clamor" and that only a half dozen people were pushing the matter. However, earlier he had stated that "unless we reduce the number of people in the pool, we won't induce Greenbelt people to use it."

Interspersing the discussion were comments by Herman Sirlin who originally proposed a season pass for Greenbelt adults to use the pool in the evening hours for the remainder of the summer. This plan was rejected by the recreation committee. He argued that most people wanted to use the pool only for a short period in the evening to cool off and that this plan was certain to bring in more revenue than the pool now earned in the evenings.

Family Pass Plan

Councilman Hurst gave his support to the family pass plan, but McDonald countered that the plan would not get 25 people. Mayor Wolfe moved to delay further discussion of the matter until after the public meeting called by the recreation committee for July 26. This motion passed with only Hurst dissenting.

Service Station Leads Close Babe Ruth Race

That old wail about the rich getting richer and the poor getting poorer and the middle folks staying in the middle certainly applied to the Co-op Babe Ruth league this week. Captain Dale White's Service Station had one opportunity to "get richer" and didn't miff it, trimming Supermarket 7-4 in a real good game. "Poor" little Drug Store had the opportunity to lose—and made the most of it, bowing to Variety Store, 13 to 15. And "Middle" teams Variety and Supermarket "stayed in the middle" by splitting two games each.

Dave Goldfaden got the pitching nod from his captain and scattered eight hits effectively to beat Supermarket for Service Station, July 12. The score was 7-4, one of the more respectable totals of the season. The tall righthander fanned 8 and gave up but 6 walks. 3 walks and 2 hits in the first inning and 2 walks and 3 hits in the 5th inning plated 2 runs each time for Supermarket—all the scoring "Goldy" permitted. Ronnie Newman and losing pitcher Fred Slaugh got 2 hits each to lead the Foodmen.

Pete Bowman's 3 for 4 paced the Grease-monkeys. The lanky first-sacker got a double and 2 singles, scoring one and driving in one. Catcher White had a triple and single in 3 official AB's, scored twice and drove home a pair. Shortstop Bob McGlothlin figured in his team's two rallies with his 2 for 4.

Drug Store outhit Variety Store by 12-6 but lost a heartbreaker July 15 by 13 to 15. Captain Reamy assumed hero's mantle and goat's horns during the morning struggle. Big Ken batted in 5 runs with a three-bagger and two singles in 3 official times at bat. Billy Steele, Eddie Brooks and Earl Doss added two hits apiece but couldn't drive enough runs over to win. Ronnie Bussard pitched well enough, striking out 8. He did walk 6 men and Captain Reamy showed glaring catching inexperience with his too many passed balls.

Neil Vaughn was the only Variety player to get more than one hit off "Buzz," hitting safely in the third and fifth innings.

What started out to be a pitching duel between Variety's Barry Petroff and Supermarket's Fred Slaugh last Monday morning turned into a rout, Market winning 14 to 6.

Tom Bartholomew with 2 for 4 and Nolan Miller with a bases-loaded triple were heavy guns for Supermarket. Petroff donated 12 bases on balls that made things easy for the Foodmen.

Neil Vaughn got a two-run single in the first, scoring on Junior Schossler's single. Frank Jerry, husky firstsacker, got 2 for 3 but big Fred Slaugh was generally tight in the pinches.

RECREATION from page 2 fortunately, but they had fun anyway. As a matter of fact, it looked for a while as though they were not going to get there at all, when transportation difficulties developed at the last moment. However, Mrs. Castaldi and Mr. Conway, both of GVHC learned of their plight and Conway lent the group his personal truck so that the boys and their bikes could be carted to the affair. A heartfelt thanks to both of you! Won't adults who have a few hours to spare contact Mr. O'Loughlin at 6708 and volunteer for his much needed transportation committee. Your car and your services are needed to enable our children to represent their city in county-wide contests.
