'Atypical Child' Subject of Report By State Board of Education

The Maryland State Board of Education, in order to determine what should constitute a satisfactory program of education for atypical children in Maryland, directed Dr. Thomas G. Pullen, Jr., State Superintendent of Schools, to appoint a Committee to work on this problem. Consequently in September, 1951, the Committee to Study the Educational Needs of Atypical Children in Maryland was appointed. This Committee, with George W. Constable serving as chairman, was composed of twenty-one persons who were either specialists in various types of disability, interested parents, representatives of State agencies connected with special services to atypical children, or interested lay persons. The State Superintendent of Schools was also a member of the Committee but served only to give information to the Committee.

The Committee was given no deadline for its report; in fact, it was encouraged to take as long as it deemed necessary to make a thorough investigation. The work was divided into three phases, in the following order:

First, a determination of who the atypical child is — Who is included?

Second, a determination of what is being done presently in the way of special education.

And third — What should be done?

The completed report describes every type of atypical child, reports upon the institutions now attempting to give some of these children some form of education, and makes specific recommendations for the proper education of all these children who can profit from any type of education. Underlying every recommendation is a philosophy accepted by the Committee that every child, regardless of his condition, is entitled to an educational opportunity commensurate with his ability to grasp it.

Specifically, the Committee found that there are approximately 58,000 atypical children in Maryland. Included in this group are visually handicapped children, children with speech and hearing handicaps, children with other physical handicaps, gifted children, mentally retarded children, and maladjusted and delinquent children. In considering the needs of these atypical children, the Committee recommended that Maryland should strengthen programs of teacher education in these special areas, create a top caliber professional team to assist in the diagnosis of these disabilities, initiate and organize a research and evaluation unit, and give special attention to the child who has more than one handicap.

The study further recognized that "the key to the execution of any special education program is a system of fixing responsibility in each school for promoting the program."

In addition to these general recommendations, there are specific and detailed suggestions in each of the seven categories of atypical quality.

In its concluding statement, the Committee acknowledged that the administration of such a program must of necessity be the responsibility of the officials of the public school system, both State and local.

The Committee, which included some of the outstanding specialists in the field of physical and mental deviations in children, formally presented its report to the Maryland State Board of Education at a dinner meeting on Wednesday, February 27, 1957. At that time, Wendell D. Allen, President expressed the appreciation of the Board of the general excellence of the report.

At the regular meeting of the Board the following day, Dr. Thomas G. Pullen, Jr., State Superintendent of Schools, stated that "this publication is, in my opinion, the most important report of its kind ever made in this country." The State Board of Education then directed the State Superintendent to devise methods of implementing the recommendations contained in the report. The printed report is being distributed to all local boards of education, members of the General Assembly, and interested citizens.

Ambulance Club Drive Starts Friday, Members' Fees, Benefits Explained

by Rhea Kahn

The Greenbelt Rescue Squad has announced its annual "ambulance club" drive for Friday, March 15, through Sunday, March 31. With a goal of $4000, 34 members of the fire department, rescue squad, and ladies' auxiliary will knock on doors throughout the city between 7:30 and 9 p.m. any of those days, asking a donation of two dollars or more per family.

The membership entitles anyone in the member family to emergency treatment and emergency transportation to any hospital within 30 miles of Greenbelt 24 hours a day, as often as needed. "When a call comes in and the siren blows, the equipment is moving within 3 minutes", according to rescue-squad chief Joe D'Agostino. The squad also provides routine transportation to members, for instance for treatment at a hospital, and according to D'Agostino is one of the very few squads which has never refused a call. It also lends miscellaneous equipment which it owns, such as crutches and a wheel for short-term use.

Stating that the tax contribution which the volunteer fire department and rescue squad receives isn't enough to give Greenbelt the service it is used to, D'Agostino emphasized that the two-dollar membership fee is a minimum contribution. There are squads in Prince Georges county which will not accept less than three to five dollars; some Greenbelters regularly give up to $25 a year. Similar service if available from private ambulance companies would cost many times the "ambulance-club" fee.

Collectors will be identified by their firemen's or rescue-squad hats or ladies'-auxiliary pins and will give the printed "ambulance-club" membership card as a receipt for each fee received. Residents missed in the regular collection may join the club at the police station Friday, March 29, or Saturday, March 30, 7 to 10 p.m., or Sunday, March 31, 3 to 7 p.m.

In addition to the high cost of operating, maintaining, and repairing the equipment, the rescue squad is now faced with the need to replace its two ambulances, a 1948 Cadillac and a 1952 Pontiac. Although out-dated, they are as well equipped as those of any other organization, D'Agostino said, since they must meet the rigid standards of the Maryland State Ambulance Association. If sufficient money is raised, the squad may be able to fit its ambulances for use of the portable iron lung which it recently received as a gift from the hodcarriers' union.

The ambulance will be open for public inspection Saturday and Sunday, March 30 and 31, 3 to 7 p.m. at the firehouse. One ambulance will be completely stripped down and all the equipment and supplies normally carried inside lined up outside on display. There will be lists of everything required in an ambulance and squad men on hand to answer questions.

The Long View Our Neighbors

By Al Long

Well, here I am back in Chicago and sitting at the bar in Al Farber's Cocktail Lounge.

"I've got a problem, Al," I explained to his inquiring look. "Last time I wrote a column about your famous martinis, and Pat got real mad. She made me promise not to drink any more of them or write about them."

"How about a nice, cool and refreshing sarsaparilla," he offered gloomily.

"No," I shuddered. "I'm just not in the mood. But I would like some of those anchovy olives you use in your martinis. I suppose they'd get awfully dry without some kind of olive juice, wouldn't they?"

So he fixed me up three or four olives in a glass with some olive juice, so I could keep my promise to Pat. You know after you eat twelve or fifteen olives fixed up that way, it has the same effect as four martinis. Say! You don't suppose—but no, I'm sure he would not do that, and have me break my promise. After all he's just as honorable and trustworthy as I am.

"By the way, aren't you on the board of some kind of a free flophouse or Salvation Army shelter or something like that?" he remarked after several olives.

"No, no," I protested. "It's not free, we have to pay monthly payments. It's a mutual housing thing." I explained then how a Co-op town like Greenbelt worked, and after munching on a few more anchovy olives, he made a very sage observation. "It seems to me that in a town like that, you either have to keep going to meetings or the 'boys' will take over." And you know that's about right—which reminds me that the annual GVHC membership meeting is this month. So be sure and attend and vote intelligently.

On the E & O train to Chicago there is a club car waiter who is a sepiia spitting image of the late Senator Robert Taft.

"Say," I said, after watching him awhile, "Did anyone ever tell you that you look a lot like Senator Taft?"

"Yes, Sir," he nodded, "so many have said it that I guess it's true. One time a friend brought the Senator back to the club car. He watched me awhile, smiled, said, 'I'll be darned!' left me a nice tip, and left. You want another Harper and ginger ale?"

"Yes," I answered and mused as I sipped—it sure is an interesting world.

North End Safety Patrol

by Sandy Vaughn

Every afternoon you will find the North End School Safety Patrol practicing for the AAA National Drill Team contest which is being held in the D.C. National Guard Armory on May 3 this year. Sometimes we bring our lunch to school and practice during our noon hour. We also practice on Saturday mornings. We are under the direction of our patrol supervisor, Mr. O'Laughlin. Already the AAA has received entries from California, Ohio and Pennsylvania, just to mention a few. The competition is going to be close against some of the military schools. We are going to try hard to make Greenbelt proud of us. We are the only school in Prince Georges county entered in the contest at this time.

We were able to enter because of the fine cooperation we are getting from other organizations in our community.

Edward A. Burgoon, present president of the Board of Directors, will preside.

Twelve candidates, including seven incumbents of the Board, are running for the new Board and, thus far, one candidate has put his name forward for election to the Auditor's Committee.

The order of business will be as follows:

1. Issuance of voting cards and ballots.
2. Proof of due notice of meeting.
3. Certification of presence of a quorum (by secretary)
4. Approval of the agenda.
5. Action on minutes of previous meeting.
6. Reports of officers, directors and committees.
7. Old business.
8. New business.
9. Good and welfare.
10. Brief talk by candidates for board of directors.
11. Recess until 7 a.m. the following day.

The polls will be open for voting following the meeting, and from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. the next day at Tanner's Cleaners in the shopping center.

The seven incumbent board members are Percy H. Andros, Ralph Bartholomew, Bruce Bowman, Edward A. Burgoon, Hans Jorgensen, Frank A. Kriby and Frank J. Lastner.

Following is an alphabetical listing of short biographies of all candidates for election to the Board of Directors:

Percy H. Andros, 2-A Northway. Graduate of the University of Utah, School of Mines and Engineering, class of '38. Accepted a position as Cartographic Engineer with the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey in January, 1941. Moved to Greenbelt in February, 1943, and has lived here since that time. Registered in the District of Columbia as a Professional Engineer. Five children, ranging in ages from 2½ to 15 years. Active in civic organizations, having had the opportunity to serve as President of the North End School P.T.A., and as President of the Greenbelt Junior High School P.T.A. for 2 years.

Served one year on the Supervisory Committee of the Department of Commerce Credit Union. Past Vice-President of the Greenbelt Community Band, and former chairman of the Pack Committee, Cub Scout Pack 202. Recently appointed to the staff of the George Washington University as Lecturer in Civil Engineering.

GVHC board member, 1953-54, 1955-56, 1956-57. Initiated and developed plan whereby GVHC members may purchase a nationally advertised make of large electrical appliances for home remodeling at builders' prices. If elected, I will strive to the best of my ability to help to maintain sound business practices, with improvement of services and, if at all feasible, reduction in costs to members.

Ralph ("Bart") Bartholomew, 1-A Southway. Early years spent in Iowa; moved to Washington in 1939 and Greenbelt in 1941. Returned to Middle West in 1947 for a brief period and then moved back to the Washington area and purchased in Greenbelt when GVHC acquired the properties. After two years with the Manger Hotel chain as a bookkeeper, employed by the Government in 1940 starting with the Supply Department of the Navy Yard.

Currently in charge of Electronic Stores at the Naval Ordnance Laboratory. Knowledge of cost operation and material needs of a large concern should be of considerable value to GVHC. Active in the Community Church and Lions Club. Appointed to GVHC Board in December 1956 to serve the balance of Robert Halpin's term. Having served this partial term, I now appreciate the problems facing the Board, and if elected will sincerely devote my efforts to what I feel are the best interests of the membership and the corporation.

Bruce Bowman, 14-Z-3 Laurel Hill Rd. Resident since December, 1944. Charter member of GMHOC, secretary of GVHC and Greenbelt Development Corporation since inception. Other organizational activities: vice president State PTA, Community Church, GCS, Rapidan Camp, Potomac Cooperative Federation, Antioch College Alumni. Background: graduate Antioch College, Navy veteran World War II, Defense Department employee.

Platform: Desire to continue active participation in further improvement of Greenbelt through frame house remodeling, additional landscaping, use of available land for additional housing primarily for retired and elderly, continuation of "self help" programs and promotion of cooperative principles in the operation of our mutual housing corporation.

Burgoon, Edward A., 37-K Ridge. Resident since March, 1943, charter member GMHOC, active in GVHC development and progress since being discharged from the U. S. Army in 1945, member of GVHC board 1952, vice president of board 1953 and president of the board since January, 1954. Served on the following committees: membership, sales, personnel, public relations, inventory, electricity, fuel oil physical plant and equipment, legal, taxes, parking, newsletter, and other ad hoc committees.

Other community activities: charter member Lions Club, member of that board, advisory board of the Youth Center, advisory board of the Rescue Squad (4 yrs.), trustees GCS retirement fund (4 yrs.), member American Legion, chairman, Community Betterment Committee, member Co-ordinating committee publishing the last Greenbelt directory, member St. Hugh's church, Holy Name Society, charter member of the newly formed Toastmasters club. Employed by GCS the past 10 years.

At present supervisor of the petroleum division which requires operation of all three of GCS's Service Stations. My platform: I believe this corporation should at all times be operated on sound business principles. If elected, my business experience should be extremely helpful to the GVHC board.

If elected I would, as in the past, work towards economical operations in every department, keeping all charges within reason, yet enough to assure the continued financial soundness of our corporation. I shall keep the members informed and in all decisions be fair to both the members and the corporation.

Joseph C. Cherry, 13-F Laurel Hill Rd. Born March 20, 1895, Brownsville, Fayette County, Pennsylvania. Served twenty-five months in Eleventh U. S. Cavalry, during World War I. Married Marie Stien of Baltimore, Md.

Took active part in the Greenbelt Community Band and PTA while our children attended school. Have been employed in the Greenbelt Post Office since 1942 and have been assistant postmaster since 1944.

Hans Jorgensen, 19-E Hillside Rd. Candidate for reelection. North End resident for 13 years. I have served 3 years on the board of GVHC and with the support of the members hope to serve another year. Active in Cub and Boy Scouts. Assisted the Greenbelt Garden Club in allocating garden plots for 4 years. Chairman of the Greenbelt Community Church Landscape committee for 5 years. Sponsor of the landscape program for GVHC and the city.

If reelected I will continue to assist the board and management to achieve efficient and economical operation, so members may realize the best value for the least cost. Landscaping of the city, in particular the frame house area is still my special interest and while this program has a good start and this year will see 400 flowering trees added to the overall planting. I hope next year to add evergreen and to set up a program for continued replacement and improvements of parks and recreational areas, so that Greenbelt will be green and stay green.

BIOGRAPHIES OF CANDIDATES

In the last two years, most members of Greenbelt Veteran Housing Corporation have felt that the lack of attendance at the quarterly membership meetings was not a serious thing. The corporation had passed its shakedown cruise with flying colors, both financially and administratively. Problems facing GVHC were no longer of the same intensity and scope as those encountered in earlier years. The need for close supervision of GVHC activities by the rank and file was less acute as management and the board of directors demonstrated the ability to meet their responsibilities. Through the introduction of the GVHC News Letter, as well as the up-to-date coverage of board proceedings by the NEWS REVIEW, members found that they no longer needed the quarterly meetings to learn what was happening within their organization.

For all these reasons, the GVHC board has now recommended to the membership for decision at the annual meeting on Wednesday, March 20 that the quarterly meetings be eliminated. In making this recommendation, the GVHC board pointed out that should any occasion arise which requires a special meeting, machinery is available to do so. A majority of the board or the Audit committee can call a special meeting at any time, or a petition with 50 signatures can compel the board to call one. This assures that the membership will retain effective control of the organization.

While not opposing this recommendation, we should like to point out that the elimination of the quarterly meetings makes it much more imperative that the annual meeting be attended by a good representation of the membership. The annual meeting will be the only regular face-to-face point of contact between GVHC directors and the membership (except for occasional interim meetings). It will be the only opportunity for GVHC directors to feel the pulse and gauge the thinking of the membership en masse. (From the attendance at the quarterly meetings and the bi-weekly board meetings, it may not be surprising if some GVHC officials wonder whether there is a pulse.) Board members who spend many long and weary hours on corporation business deserve to receive from the rank and file some positive response or reaction to their proposals and handling of business.

While a small turn-out may indicate general satisfaction and approval of current operations, it may also indicate lack of interest. It is to avoid any possible supposition that the latter attitude predominates among the membership that a large turnout for the annual meeting is urged. Experience with other cooperative ventures as well as democratic organizations in general shows that abuses and self-perpetuating rule begin when elected officials no longer feel the need to worry about an alert electorate.

If you can't attend the annual meeting, be sure to exercise your right to vote. The polls will be open at the shopping center all day from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. on Thursday, March 21—the day following the annual meeting. Last year only 367 votes were cast out of a potential 1,400, so that it would not take much effort to surpass that count.

Parents Meet Saturday To Hear Reports

Parents who met two weeks ago to consider the question of community conduct problems at the Greenbelt Junior High school are meeting again on Saturday evening at 8:30 p.m. at the Center school cafeteria to hear reports from the committee appointed to examine into ways and means of coping with the problem.

The community liaison committee will report on the results of meetings and indicate some of the recommended procedures to bring about the needed changes. It will also present some proposals of various interested parents designed to improve school and student morale.

All parents of students now or soon to be at the Junior High school are invited to participate in this community venture. To date, the facilities of the Methodist Church and the Jewish Community Center have been made available for the group. Formal liaison representation has been made available by the Lutheran Church, Mrs. Leland Leasia; the Methodist Church, George Confer; and the American Legion, Wayne Roberts. All community organizations interested in the problem are extended a standing invitation to participate.

Rev. Glenn Samuelson of the Baptist Chapel indicated interest on the part of his group, pending formal action by the officers. Ben Rosenzweig was selected as chairman of the fact-finding committee, which will report to the parents' group on Saturday.

Children's Story Hour On Saturday Mornings

Based on the idea that a child gains far more from hearing a "live" story than watching television, community mothers are supporting the weekly children's story hour sponsored by the Friends of the Greenbelt Library. The next session will be held this Saturday, March 16, in the kindergarten room of the Center School from 11:15 to 11:45 a.m.

Mrs. Rose Amberg, one of the mothers who has volunteered as a story-teller, will present stories suitable for children between the first grade and fourth grade ages. Mrs. Ethel Rosenzweig is another of the volunteer story-tellers in this program, which the Friends of the Library hope will build to the point where the county library will take it over.

The mothers engaged in the program say it is something they enjoy doing because of the children's response to what is actually a form of drama. At the same time, the youngsters are introduced to classical children's literature that is carefully selected by the county library. It is urged that children in the younger age group be encouraged to attend. Mothers could drop off their children at the story hour while doing a half hour's shopping.

WOMEN VOTERS

"Economic Development in the Near East will be the topic for the League of Women Voters (Greenbelt Unit) meeting next Wednesday, March 20, 8:15 p.m., at the home of Mrs. Herbert Hertz, 45-T Ridge. All women are welcome.

The Rescue Squad Will Declare a Holiday

The Greenbelt Rescue Squad will declare a holiday only when accidents decide not to happen. The Rescue Squad will declare a holiday when illness and disaster no longer disturb our desire to live in uninterrupted peace. The Rescue Squad will cease to operate as a community service in Greenbelt when little boys and girls no longer play with sharp or pointed instruments; when parents can watch their children at all times and keep them from the thoughtless act or careless movement. When the business of the day is no longer disturbed or the sleep of the night broken by the sudden call for help, only then will the Rescue Squad be content to call it a day. Until such time of miracle, the Rescue Squad of Greenbelt will never declare a holiday.

Also, until such time, it will be necessary for our health, safety and welfare to continue to repair, maintain and replace, whenever possible, the overage, worn out and obsolete equipment now being used. Our first aid supplies constantly need replenishing, sheets and blankets for the ambulance litters need laundering; ambulance engines must be kept in the best condition and tires as well. Imagine a tire blowing out during a maternity run. Also gas and oil always did cost money.

Greenbelt is lucky. The most expensive rescue ingredient of all does not cost our community one cent.—The time, a daily 24 hours of it, the willingness, the skill and the courage of the men who answer the call. These rescue ingredients cannot be bought, they can only be given from the good will and the strength, and the time belonging to family, recreation and livelihood. The ambulance crews are volunteers.

The drive for the Ambulance Club begins this week. The contribution requested is ridiculously small considering the service offered. Ask any neighbor who has had occasion to ride in the ambulance.

To paraphrase Hemingway - ask not for whom the siren blows, it blows for thee, it means protection and security because the Rescue Squad never declares a holiday.

Rescue Squad report for February: 19 calls were answered. 9 day, 10 night; 4 men and 14 women were treated and transported; 2 auto accidents, 3 maternity calls, 2 fire calls, 9 calls for routine or emergency transportation, 3 miscellaneous. Ambulance time 18½ hours; ambulance miles, 273; men used, 57; man hours, 55.

Fire Department Report for February: Fire calls, 5; men used, 37; fire truck time on calls, 13½ hours; fire truck miles, 50; man hours, not available. Neighboring companies responding, 9.

Recreation Review

The March 9 dance at the youth center was quite successful. The recreation department wishes to thank the members of the Woman's Club who were present as chaperones.

All activities of the recreation department are increasing each week. It seems that as more people find out what we have to offer the more participation we have. Men's gym night has grown to a count of 25, while women's gym night accommodates about 20. The tumbling programs at both schools show approximately 80 boys and girls participating.

A new activity has started. It is a chess club which meets on Monday nights at 8 p.m. in Room 125 at the community building.

Easter is coming, and the recreation department is planning a program to include all age groups. On Easter Monday an Easter egg hunt will take place. A time schedule will be announced later.

For the adults, there will be an Easter parade in the center on Easter Sunday from 1 - 2 p.m. Prizes will be awarded to the woman and a teen-age girl with the prettiest hat, and a prize to the best dressed man and teen-age boy. Stick up and join the parade!

GREET REFUGEES

Dear editor:
 I was informed that the City of Greenbelt will soon welcome some refugees. If this is true, don't you think the people should, in some way, let them know that we are a friendly community and greet them in a very nice manner?

"DO WHAT YOU CAN"

The Prince George's County Scholarship Fund hopes to take an important part in conducting a program which will lead to substantial relief of the acute teacher shortage in the public schools of our county. This fund needs your help. As one mindful of the importance of the guidance of youth we feel you will be anxious to do what you can. The Board of Directors has for its goal to help at least 20 students and teachers who would not be able to go to college for economic reasons.

For further information, call Mrs. Grace W. Loffler, Secretary, 751 Southern Avenue, S.E., Oxon Hill, Maryland, phone LOgan 7-0111.

The Secretary is mailing out letters to civic organizations, individuals, clubs, etc. The PTA, civic organizations and individuals have already contributed $3,000 toward this fund. We are hopeful of the outcome.

Bus Service for Polio Shots

To the Editor:
 The Prince Georges Health Department is now offering polio injections at Prince Georges Hospital for all children. Many families do not have transportation or means to have their children receive these shots. If the city has any money on hand to be used for polio I would like to suggest that free bus service be furnished to anyone who wishes to take their children to receive this service. (A parent must be with each child.) If no money is available from anywhere else, let's take it from the recreation department and cut out some less important item.

Scout Circus Coming To Griffith Stadium

May 24 and 25 has a big meaning for the cubs, scouts and explorers in this area. For on those two days the "Scout Circus" will be held at Griffith Stadium starting at 7:45 p.m.

Hundreds of Cub Packs, Scout Troops and Explorer Posts will participate. The National Capital Area Council, Boy Scouts of America, are going all out to make it a gala affair.

This year the circus will consist of 10 acts. The talent will come entirely from cubs, scouts and explorers. Those people interested in the scout movement who have not yet witnessed these excellent affairs, now have an opportunity to see first hand the many talents their children develop through the wonderful Scout program.

Troop 229, Explorers Post, is now building a wooden tower and expects to actively participate in the circus. The boys in the troop range in age from 14 years to 18. A pot luck supper for parents and sons is being arranged in celebration of Explorer Post 229 Charter for 1957.

Thme Post is now open for applications from boys 14 to 18 years old. The parents' committee has decided to add an additional four or five explorers to its roster and here is an opportunity for applicants interested in scouting to join a fine and active outfit.

GVHC Officials Warn Taxpayers

Internal revenue officials this week warned taxpayers to beware of "refund artists" who advertise themselves as tax experts who can save people money on taxes. In many cases, these so-called tax experts can only save their clients money by claiming erroneous and false deductions.

Officials warned that even though a taxpayer is personally blameless, he faces fraud penalties when co-signing a return with such unjustified deductions. In addition, his previous returns are certain to be investigated and he may be required to pay in lump sum the accumulated unpaid taxes for back years.

In connection with this Internal Revenue announcement, Greenbelt Veteran Housing Corporation officials reminded members that the only legitimate deductions for a cooperative housing member is his proportionate share of (1) the real estate taxes paid by the corporation and (2) the interest paid by the corporation on its indebtedness. Each individual member in January was notified through the mail the amounts which represented his proportionate share of real estate taxes and mortgage interest.

According to GVHC attorneys, Krooth and Altman, no portion of the monthly charges attributable to the cost of maintenance and repair, heat, water, trash collection, administration, etc. can be claimed as deductible for income tax purposes.

Members are advised to make certain that the person employed to complete their returns is reliable.
