Council Okays Youth Center Board Requirements for New Building

By Russ Greenbaum

A list of requirements for the proposed new youth center building was presented to the city council by the Youth Center Advisory Board on Monday night, Oct. 20, and approved by the council with one modification.

The Board asked for a dance floor, with a small band stand and room for booths and tables, and a roller rink which could be used for both skating and roller hockey. Councilman Ben Goldfaden proposed that these requirements be combined, with provision also made for a basketball court, and this was unanimously passed by council.

Other features approved are a table tennis area with room for three or four tables, a small game room for cards and chess with four to six tables, a multi-purpose room for meetings and movies, a lounge, an arts and crafts room and a snack bar. In addition, it is planned to have a wood shop room, a photography room and darkroom, and an auto shop with room for one car to be driven in and worked on, with a pit if possible.

The architects will now receive these requirements and work out detailed plans for the building. The site of the building has been established in the area behind the swimming pool on the higher part of the slope.

Municipal Building Site

The city's wandering municipal building has not yet settled down, and there has been a new decision not to place it behind the statue. The Gilbert Realty Company is now interested in exchanging land with the city, which will permit the center mall to be extended as originally proposed by the architects. This will also make it possible to place the municipal building in a more desirable location.

Negotiations with Gilbert are being conducted by City Manager Charles McDonald, who is out of town this week attending a conference in Dallas, Tex. The change in the location of the municipal building also answered the principal objection of Greenbelt Homes, Inc., which had asked the council to delay reaching a decision on the site until a specially appointed planning committee could make a recommendation. The council pointed out to GHI President Burgoon, who was present at the meeting, that the city had to make an immediate decision, and Burgoon indicated that the new arrangement appeared satisfactory.

Sidewalk Controversy

There was less harmony, however, between Burgoon and the council on the issue of sidewalks, which was discussed informally after the meeting. Burgoon contended that, aside from the problem of limited funds, GHI was using a new type of blacktop material in its sidewalk repairs which does not come off on the shoes or clothes. He said that it appeared that residents were tracking in material used in the city's surfacing of the court parking areas. He also called attention to the blacktop sidewalk the city constructed on Hillside along side the Community Church.

The council, however, noted that its principal policy was not to use blacktop to repair cement sidewalks because it looked unsightly and was unsatisfactory. Council members said they did not intend to dictate what construction material GHI should use to repair its sidewalk but they thought that the city might be interested in taking over certain sidewalks.

Fair Named to Head Charter Committee

Clinton Fair of 45-E Ridge has been appointed by Mayor Tom Canning to head the ten-man committee to review the city charter and make recommendations for possible revisions.

Under the plan for this committee approved by the city council, each council member has the privilege of selecting two members, with the mayor appointing the chairman. The selections of the rest of the council are as follows:

Councilman Jim Smith—Emory Harman of 23-B Ridge and Reverend Robert Hull of 33-K Ridge; Councilman Ben Goldfaden—Bernard Sisco of 18 Lakeside and Al Long of 48-C Crescent; Councilman Alan Kistler—James Duffy of 43-E Ridge and Robert Hurst of 5-H Eastway; and Councilman Stan Edwards—Earl Thomas of 60-E Crescent and one other to be selected.

The committee is expected to present a preliminary report by Feb. 15. Final recommendations approved by the council will be placed before the city's voters at the next city election in Sept., 1959.

RECREATION REVIEW

By Warren Leddick
Youth Center

Attendance at the new meeting room for the Youth Center seems to become more popular each week. Other than dancing members are now participating in ping pong and checkers. Parents are always welcome to drop in for a visit.

Golf

Names are still being accepted for a winter golf class at Center School. The response we receive now will decide whether or not the classes are held. So far 17 persons have called. If you are interested call GR. 3-2011 and leave your name and address.

Jr. HI PTA Meeting

On Tuesday evening, Oct. 15, the gymnasium of the Greenbelt, Jr. Hi School was packed to capacity with parents going "Back to School" for the first PTA meeting of the year. President Hatfield opened the meeting promptly at 8. The PTA prayer was read by Mr. Wheeler, followed by the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag. Hatfield then introduced the following officers and committee chairmen: Mr. Wheeler, 1st Vice President; Mr. Collins, 2nd Vice President; Mrs. Parker, Secretary; Mrs. Horlick, Historian; Mrs. Puffinburger, Hospitality; Mrs. McGee, Home Room Representative; Mrs. Bergstrom, Legislation; Mrs. LeForte, Membership; Mrs. Kerr, Co-Chairman Program, working with Mr. Wheeler; Mr. Fink, Special Projects; and Mrs. Galvin, Publicity. Business and announcements were kept to a minimum so that parents could spend the maximum time with the teachers. Principal Furgang acquainted the group with the location of the classrooms and the bell schedules to be followed. Parents then adjourned to the various classrooms where the teachers explained their plans for the year, teaching methods and curriculum and answered questions of general interest. Thanks to Furgang's careful planning, parents were able to follow their children's schedules during an average school day. Classes were dismissed at 10 p.m.

Halloween

Thursday — Halloween eve is Trick or Treat Night.

Gala Party on Friday Halloween

Our annual Halloween Party will be held this year at the Greenbelt Theatre starting at 5:00 P. M.

A parade will take place across the stage with prizes to be awarded for the Funniest, Prettiest and Most Original Costumes.

Prizes will be awarded in three age groups: 0-4 years; 5-7 years; 8-12 years. There will also be a prize for the Most Attractive Couple and Youngest Child present in costume.

Following the party a Cartoon Carnival will be shown to all present.

There will be a dance at the Youth Center that night at 8:00. Free cider and donuts.

GHI Board Urges City Planning Commission to Review Center Plans

By Al Skolnik

Disturbed by city proposals for location of the new municipal offices and youth center, the board of directors of Greenbelt Homes, Inc. raised a "go-slow" notice at their regular meeting, Thursday, Oct. 9. On the motion of director Bruce Bowman, management was directed to advise Mayor Tom Canning of the board's feeling that no further action be taken with respect to the site of the new buildings until a Greenbelt planning commission, representing the leading civic organization in town, is organized to review and analyze the whole situation.

Bowman stated that such a planning commission, because of its broad representation, would be able to reach decisions which would receive strong support from the citizenry. Without such an advisory body, he continued, city council decisions were apt to become mired in controversy.

The latest action of the city council which apparently touched off this move was the reported decision to locate the city office in the rear of the mall, paralleling the Co-op food store.

Final Land Payment

GHI president Ed Burgoon reported that negotiations are proceeding at a rapid pace with Warner-Kanter, Inc. for the payment of the remaining $112,950 due GHI on the sale of the undeveloped land. The speed-up in negotiations after months of inaction is attributed to the desire of Warner-Kanter to resell the entire land to W. Evans Buchanan & Co., who has already started construction of 80 houses under a deed of trust on the tract of land, off Crescent between Greenbelt Lake and St. Hugh's Church, known as Lakewood.

So far GHI has received $37,800 on the total payment of $150,750 due on the May 1955 sale of the stock of Greenbelt Land Development Corporation, owner of the undeveloped land. In a Feb., 1958 supplement to the original land contract, Warner-Kanter agreed that if it sells the land and seeks its release from the Public Housing Administration mortgage, GHI must first be paid off the entire amount due it.

Upon the final payment of $112,950, GHI will be eliminated from the scene as far as the development of the vacant land is concerned. Restrictions contained in the original contract on retaining 50 percent of the trees, on dedicating land for park and recreation purposes, and on minimum housing standards will no longer be enforceable by GHI. Burgoon stated, however, that Buchanan will still have to adhere to the Greenbelt Master Plan of Land Use as adopted by the Maryland-National Capital Park and Planning Commission and the County Commissioners. He felt confident that the interests of Greenbelt citizens in an orderly development of Greenbelt will be adequately protected. In fact, he said, Buchanan has given every indication of recognizing the unique wooded qualities of this area and of orienting his operations to achieve this goal on his own volition.

Burgoon appointed a committee consisting of Lloyd Moore, Bruce Bowman, and Ralph Bartholomew to recommend disposition of the land proceeds. After legal fees, commissions, and income taxes are deducted, it is expected that GHI will have something under $100,000 left. Among the suggestions being voiced are development of the vacant North End property, purchase of 5 acres of land near the Administration building for expansion of maintenance facilities, and establishment of a refinancing plan which will ease the problem of reselling GHI housing units.

The first proceeds of $37,800 were used to purchase the North End tract from Gilbert Realty, Inc. and to remodel the former GCS-store building. Some of this amount will be returned to the corporation with the sale of the 4 renovated housing units.

Youth Groups Collect Next Week for UNICEF

Next Wednesday, Oct. 29, children between the ages of 9 and 14 will be collecting money for the United Nations Children's Fund. Between 7:30 and 9 p.m. they will be going from door to door with the words, "Trick or Treat for UNICEF."

This annual event in the week of Halloween last year attracted participants all over the United States. In Greenbelt the campaign is being sponsored jointly by the following groups: Community Church, Greenbelt Lutheran Church, the Jewish Community Center, the Mowatt Memorial Methodist Church and the 4-H Club of Greenbelt. High's Ice Cream store has donated cartons for the children to use in their collection.

All of the money received will go to alleviating the suffering of the 600 million children around the world who are either hungry or sick. Even a small amount of money can do a great deal. For only a dime 10 children can be protected against tuberculosis or 50 children receive a glass of milk.

Every child who participates in this collection will have a carton with the black and orange UNICEF marker on it. Each will also be wearing the official identification tag with the words "Trick or Treat — UNICEF." Please give your contribution only to those who are thus identified.

Besides this collection in which our children are able to help all the world's children, the organizations sponsoring this drive are making filmstrips and films available to the local schools, telling about the work of UNICEF around the world.

"The Trick is to Treat" the world's children.

Special Bonus At Twin Pines Next Forty Days

To encourage more people to save at Twin Pines Savings and Loan Association, the Board of Directors has authorized a 1% Special Bonus, to be added to all deposits made from Oct. 23 through Nov. 29. The Board's action was prompted by the shortage of loan funds and the continuing need of many people to borrow money for downpayments on Greenbelt homes. This bonus will be in addition to the regular 4% dividend that is paid and compounded quarterly.

The net increase in deposits has been at an average rate of $1,500 a month since the Savings and Loan started business a year ago; but this growth has not been fast enough to keep up with the number of good loan applications received. The 1% Special Bonus paid to depositors this past August brought in more than $6,700 in deposits, so a similar Bonus offer had been set for November. However, the date was moved up a week to coincide with the Greenbelt Businessmen's special insert in this week's issue of the News Review.

It was also announced that junior members of Twin Pines and all holders of Twin Savings Stamps are invited to attend a meeting at the Twin Pines office in the Greenbelt Shopping Center this coming Saturday afternoon, Oct. 25, at 1 p.m. A temporary Junior Board will be elected, and the possibility of participating in a forthcoming co-op film-discussion series will be discussed. The idea of sponsoring a poster contest will be considered also. Junior members are those who have deposited at least $10 in the Association and have not yet reached the age of 18.

Trick or Treat for UNICEF

Would you give a nickel to keep a child from sickness? That's all it costs to protect a child for life from yaws, a hideous disease afflicting thousands of people in many parts of the world. Next week you can answer that question—not with a word but a deed, for some Greenbelt child will be knocking on your door to collect for UNICEF, the division of the United Nations that cares for the underprivileged children of the world.

For a good many years now the name of UNICEF has been made familiar through the annual sale of handsome greeting cards. Many Americans learned further about UNICEF when the motion picture of Danny Kaye's worldwide tour on its behalf was shown over a major television work. For the last six or eight years the idea of linking the children's Halloween calls with fund raising for UNICEF has been spreading rapidly. Three years ago every state in the nation could boast some example. Last year children in 8500 different communities throughout the United States participated, collecting the astounding total of one million dollars.

Next Wednesday night young people from the Community Church, the Lutheran Church, the Methodist Church, the Jewish Community Center, and the girls' 4-H Club will knock at every door in Greenbelt. Wearing an identifying badge and carrying a canister with the UNICEF symbol, the child at your door will solicit a nickel, a dime, a dollar—whatever you can spare to help some other, less fortunate child somewhere in the world. If they and all the other American children collecting for UNICEF can turn the trick, they will be treating many other of the world's children to the greatest gift of all—the gift of health. Will you help them Trick-or-Treat for UNICEF?

On the Rescue Squad

Every community can, without looking far, discover those elements of its civic life to which it can point with quiet and understandable pride. This is good. A community can furnish inspiration through the example of those institutions which transcend the ordinary.

One of the finest such institutions in Greenbelt—in which all of us take pride—is the Rescue Squad. The sacrifice made by the Squadmen in time, sleep, comfort, and sometimes personal safety, is well known. But many other communities can much match our pride in the personal sacrifices of their own Rescue Squads. What is unique to Greenbelt—that which transcends the ordinary—is the exceptional abilities possessed by the Squad members. When the individual members of the Greenbelt Rescue Squad are compared with their colleagues elsewhere in Maryland, they bring honors and recognition not only to themselves but to the community they serve.

Let us look at their record.

Just last week the News Review published an account of the high honor recently accorded to Robert W. Mogel, our Fire Marshal and member of the Rescue Squad. From among some 1150 firemen in the District of Columbia, Mogel was singled out to receive the Fireman of the Year award. Another Greenbelt squadman, Joseph D'Agostino, for his direction of the rescue operation of the Olds boys, was given the W. R. Beattie Trophy as Rescue Squadman of 1957 in Prince Georges County and the still higher Dr. Howard M. Bubert Award from the Maryland State Ambulance and Rescue Association. A third member of the squad, Henry Wynkoop, serves with the Metropolitan Police Department of Washington, D. C., during his paid working hours. He must be a good policeman because when his group of 83 rookies completed their training, he was the top of his class. Another Greenbelt Rescue Squadman serving with the Metropolitan Police is Joseph G. Klinger. Out of the 2350 men of that force he was chosen Policeman of the Month for July, 1958. And as if this weren't enough in the way of honors and esteem for the Greenbelt squad, consider the case of R. Hal Silvers. Silvers, who directs the Prince Georges County Civil Defense Group, has received local, county, and state awards for his work. He holds a citation from the Greenbelt City Council for community services rendered. A similar citation was given him by the Prince Georges Municipal League. The Prince Georges Jaycees gave him their District Service Award. And last year he received the Maryland Man of the Year Award given by the U. S. Junior Chamber of Commerce.

All of these men have received prominent recognition for their ability and services in the field of public safety. Yet they turn over their considerable talents and experience, as volunteers, to provide for the safety and physical security of their home community.

Maybe it's time for Greenbelters to be less quiet in their pride about their Rescue Squad. Maybe it's time to shout!

Patricia Glover

Funeral services for Patricia Ann ("Patty") Glover, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvyn Glover, 16-Q Ridge, were held at 2:30 p.m., Wednesday, Oct. 22, at the Central Baptist Church in Cheverly. "Patty", who had been ill with leukemia for nearly a year and a half, succumbed to the disease on Sunday at the National Institutes of Health. She would have been five years old on Nov. 10.

Besides her parents, "Patty" is survived by two brothers, Kenneth, 3, and Roy, 1, and by her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Glover of Upper Marlboro.

Burial was at the Fort Lincoln Cemetery.

REFORMATION SUNDAY

The Film "Martin Luther" will be shown at Greenbelt Community Church on Sunday, Oct. 26 at 7 p.m. The showing is sponsored by the combined Youth Fellowships of the church. The general public is invited. There will be no charge for admission. There will be opportunity for discussion after the showing.

BAPTIST NEWS

The Greenbelt Baptist Church observed its fifth anniversary last Sunday with record attendance of 212 in Sunday School and a corner stone laying service in the afternoon. The cement for the first floor for the new church was poured last Saturday enabling the bricklayers to resume the laying of bricks. It is expected that the brick work and the roof will be completed before the cold weather comes.

JACOBS ADDRESSES JCC

Sam Jacobs of the United Auto Workers will speak at the JCC following services on Friday, Oct. 24. His topic will be "Jewish Values and Their Relation to Psychiatry, Psychology and the Social Sciences." Services will begin at 7:30 p.m. Refreshments will be served.

Wanted: Scout Leader

This is the sad plight of ten little ten-year-old girls, who formerly belonged to Brownie Troop 416. Most of them have been working for three years toward the day when they would become full-fledged girl scouts, but they are now denied this goal because they cannot find a leader.

The girls, all of whom live in the North End, have won their wings and had their "fly-up" ceremonies. However, they cannot find room in other girl scout troops in Greenbelt. Unless they can find a leader, they will not be able to put on green uniforms.

A few of the mothers of the girls are willing to be helpers for a new girl scout troop, but someone is needed to volunteer for the responsibility of leader. Anyone interested in taking on this job should phone 9689.

High Point High Points Co-op Nursery School

By Marion Ryss

For three years the Walter Johnson football team has never been beaten. Friday, Oct. 10, at the High Point Stadium they met their match in the High Point "Eagles." They were beaten to the tune of 19 to 12. This is the first time that the "Eagles" have ever played the Walter Johnson "Spartans" and this probably explains their three year perfect record. Eugene Carney, the head coach at High Point, is still congratulating the team on this upset. All of High Point is overjoyed.

The newly organized Student Court holds its first meeting Monday, Oct. 20. This court is made up of three seniors, two juniors, and two sophomores. They can try any case in which a student has violated the High Point code of student behavior. An example of this would be poor sportsmanship at a game. The Student Court can deal out punishment but must go to principal Allan I. Chotiner for approval.

Seniors will have a busy week. Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday, Oct. 22-24, they will take the Iowa Educational Development Test. These tests are taken both in the 10th and 12th grades. They are used to indicate the amount of knowledge the student has gained between those years.

The sophomores will take a mental ability exam next week also. This is a county exam and is called the Lorge Thorndike Exam.

The Scholarship Qualifying Test will be given on Tuesday, Oct. 21, from 9 to 11 a.m. to 133 students who signed up for it. The fee is $1 per person. Obtaining a high score will make a student eligible for several scholarships, and the results may be used in applying for other scholarships.

Monday, Oct. 19, the senior class of '59 will get their school rings. It is a very attractive ring and the seniors can not wait to slip them on their fingers.

Tickets to four great concerts by the National Symphony, conducted by Howard Mitchell, are being offered to all High Point students at the student price of $3. These concerts will take place at Maryland University on Thursdays, at 8:30 p.m. All those who are interested in this program should get in touch with the school office.

High Point's football team was really on the ball as they breezed their way to a 37-14 victory over South Hagerstown Saturday, Oct. 18, at Northwestern's Memorial Stadium.

Friday, Oct. 24, at 8 p.m., the High Point "Eagles" will come up against the Northwestern "Wildcats" in the biggest game of the season at Northwestern's Stadium. Half-time will be spectacular with both the High Point Band and the Northwestern Band performing. Helping to cheer the "Eagles" to victory will be the High Point Cheerleaders.

Once more, as Oct. 25 rolls around, the Sadie Hawkins Dance comes with it, sponsored by the student council at High Point every year. The girls ask the boys to this dance. Al Capp, who originated this day, has made it a day when the girls reign supreme.

High Point's Summit Singers and Dramatic Group performed at the University of Maryland Saturday, Oct. 18 to celebrate United Nations Day.

You will be disappointed in nursery school if you expect your child to:

Say his A B C's
Learn his 1 2 3's

Recite poeries
Perform and please.

You will be pleased with nursery school when you see that your child has improved his attitudes in his ability to:

Explore and run
Share his fun
Finish what's begun
Put away when done
Demand less "all or none"

Restrict his "no"
Let mother go
Accept what's so.

These verses explain in a nutshell the purpose of a well-run nursery school. It's a play school, yes, but play with a purpose! Another aim of the school is to help your child bridge the gap between home and school. A good teacher can guide, direct and help your child develop a good set of habits and attitudes so necessary for his future growth and happiness.

A cooperative nursery school is a school organized and operated by a group of interested parents who work together and cooperate with the teacher to meet the needs of the children. Parents meet monthly to formulate school policies, serve on committees and sometimes work together to make and repair play equipment. Mothers take turns serving as aides under the guidance of the teacher. This opportunity to see the school in action is a stimulating experience, as well as an educational one. Your child is especially pleased when it's your day to be helping mother.

To meet other mothers and share experiences together is part of the enjoyment of a cooperative. While a cooperative nursery school does require some time and effort, your reward is not only in watching the progress and growth of your child, but also in learning to understand him better. Nursery school can help your child grow toward social maturity and help him to enjoy group living. In learning to get along with and appreciating many children of different backgrounds and origins, nursery school children are learning the basic principles of democracy.

For information about the Greenbelt Co-op Nursery School, call Mrs. Wisman at GR. 4-6480. There's an opportunity for one more child to join this group. Yours, perhaps?

4-H CLUB NEWS

By Barbara Bowman

Beginning its second year, the Greenbelt 4-H Club held an election of officers at the home of Mrs. Harvey Geller, club leader. Elise Geller was chosen President, Carol Hurst, vice-president, Barbara Geller, secretary, and Karen Fowler, treasurer.

Other officers, elected were Barbara Bowman, reporter, Lynn Rousseau, program chairman, Jeanette Louk, song leader, and Eva Garin, housekeeping chairman.

The club will join with the churches of Greenbelt in collecting for UNICEF on Wednesday evening, Oct. 29. The members are anxious to help other children throughout the world.

The summer gardening project was a great success. The group is now working on a sewing project, having just completed individual sewing boxes.

Next week will be the end of the vision tests for all 11th graders and new students. This vision test is given every year to the 11th grade classes and in the past has proven quite helpful.

GREENBELT BUSINESSMEN'S ASSOCIATION

By Virginia Beauchamp

In response to a letter of invitation sent out last July by Donn C. Liston, owner of the Greenbelt Bowling Center (now renamed the Greenbelt Ten Pin Lanes), representatives of ten business establishments in Greenbelt met to discuss their mutual problems. From that small nucleus the Greenbelt Businessmen's Association—now numbering twenty member businesses—was born.

Apparently Liston had his finger on the pulse of the local business community, for those attending the organizational meeting agreed unanimously to cooperate in a joint promotion of the Greenbelt Shopping Center. The more local trade attracted into the local shopping area, they felt, the more each business individually would prosper.

One major lack in the current situation was emphasized at that first meeting—a constant loss of potential customers from the surrounding area. Even people from towns as close as Branchville and Hollywood, it was pointed out, remained unaware that the Greenbelt Center existed. To the thousands traveling within sight of Greenbelt every day on the Washington-Baltimore Parkway nothing would indicate that a shopping area was just beyond their view. Even some outsiders looking for the Center they knew existed could not find it.

For these reasons, the Association's first action was to authorize the construction and placement of attractive directional signs for the key highway junctions outside the city. Liston himself undertook to get this project underway, first securing permission for the erection of the signs from the Prince Georges County Building Inspector and from the property owners.

Greenbelters, to whom the group's intention of erecting these signs was announced some time ago in the Greenbelt News Review, may have been wondering where they are. The truth is that a misfortune befell them. With the completed signs ready for installation, Liston left them in the rear of his car when he took it to a garage for emergency servicing. A workman removed the signs, setting them in corner of the garage; another workman, cleaning up the garage, threw them out with the trash. Now a second batch of signs is nearly completed. They will go up, Liston announces, on Saturday, Oct. 25, at the following locations: Edmonston rd. at Greenbelt rd., Crescent rd. at the junction with the road from Beltsville farm, and Greenbelt rd. at the intersection with Southway.

Almost from the first meeting of the Association, the group considered how to plan a major promotion of all the member businesses at the same time. During the weekend of Sept. 17-20 they made the first such venture by means of a flyer limited to the city of Greenbelt. With the present flyer-insert, distributed in Greenbelt with the News Review and separately in the outlying towns, the Association hopes to attract to the Greenbelt Center both local and out-of-town shoppers, eager to take advantage of the special pre-Halloween features they have prepared. Future plans call for similar, but larger, promotions on a monthly basis.

Officers of the Association, elected at the organizational meeting on July 25, are Liston, President; Abraham Chasanow of Greenbelt Realty, Vice-President; and Virginia Beauchamp of the News Review, Secretary-Treasurer.

Astronomy for Laymen

By David Fisher

The Stars, by Irving Adler, is a well written introduction to astronomy for the non-scientifically trained public. It is easy to read and understand. Most remarkable of all, this book does not contain a single equation!

This little book will go a long way in helping you answer some of junior's embarrassing questions about space. Also, it is well enough written so that students of high school age and even a large group approaching high school age will find it appealing.

Voters Guide Available

Non-partisan information on Prince Georges County candidates for U. S. senator and congressman, governor, controller, state senator, delegate to the General Assembly, county commissioner and other county offices is now available in the Voters Guide.

Sponsored by the League of Woman Voters of Prince Georges county and published by the News-Leader, the Voters Guide is being distributed free of charge thru the County Library. Guides may be requested from the League publications chairman, Mrs. William Sulzbacher, at WE 5-6672.

petitioned the board to go on record against the use of blacktop material. Burgoon stated that management is still investigating the problem and has not come up with any recommendations yet.

Burgoon stated it was mainly a problem of money. The GHI budget, he pointed out, carries no specific appropriation for repairs of sidewalks. Building Superintendent Dave Kane, Burgoon continued, has actually done a remarkable bit of juggling to squeeze out a couple of thousand dollars from the grounds budget to repair about 2,000 lineal ft. of common sidewalks. It is not expected that this year's budget will permit any further diversion of funds for this purpose. Consequently, Burgoon suggested, if members are really adamant against blacktop sidewalks and want the corporation to expend the additional amounts involved in laying concrete walks, they should make their wishes known to management before next year's budget is prepared in Nov.

Burgoon also stated that management has not received any complaints from other courts with respect to the blacktop. He suggested that management investigate the possibility of defective material or workmanship in the laying of the Plateau pl. sidewalk.

Director Percy Andros pointed out that the city has been doing some repair work on the streets and in the courts and that some tracking of tar by children may be attributed to this repaving rather than to the blacktop sidewalks. Director George Eshbaugh urged management and the city to get together to determine just which sidewalks are the responsibility of the city and which are the responsibility of GHI. He felt that such a clarification was necessary if the board was to know the magnitude of the problem and the alternatives open to it.

Disability Insurance

Continental Casualty Company, sponsor of the disability insurance plan offered GHI members last summer, advised GHI manager John O. Walker that it is ready to go ahead with the plan, although only 87 out of 500 replies indicated an interest. The company believes

The board decided to abide by its agreement in performing certain administrative functions involved in the plan, but voted to notify the company that any further promotion of the plan will have to be done by the company without GHI's participation.

Little League Awards

The Little League Annual Awards Banquet was held on Monday, Oct. 13, at the American Legion Post Home.

The invocation was given by the Reverend Donald McKenzie of the Community Church. Francis W. White, president of the Little League, acted as Master of Ceremonies.

Among the guests seated at the head table were many representatives of the team sponsors, Mr. Charles McDonald, City Manager; Mayor Tom Canning; Recreation Director Warren Leddick; Joe O'Loughlin; Joe Cawley; Sid Haymes, Editor and Publisher of Baseball Magazine; Ed Leffson and Chub Connelly, Manager and coach of the American Legion Baseball Team, Post 136; and Bill Clark, Commissioner of the Little League.

Guest speaker was Terry Moore, assistant to Coach Millikan of the University of Maryland. His topic was "The Importance of Preparing Yourself for College—the Importance of Studying Hard to Work Toward Scholarships."

Certificates of Commendation were given to all boys who graduated from the program. An individual trophy was presented to the National League Champions—the Tigers, managed by Lawrence Palmer. An other individual trophy was awarded to the American League and World Series Champions—the Co-op Team, managed by Bernie Emmert.

Editor Sid Haymes awarded the Baseball Magazine Sportsmanship trophy to the National League Cardinals, managed by Jim Wells.

Mr. McDonald presented the City Plaque to Joe O'Loughlin for "Meritorious Service to the Youth of Greenbelt."

The American Legion co-sponsored the banquet, and the Ladies Auxiliary served the dinner.

Lions to Hear Gwynn

Thomas S. Gwynn, Jr., assistant superintendent of schools in charge of construction, will address the Greenbelt Lions Club at their next regularly scheduled dinner meeting on Oct. 27, at 6:45 p.m. in the Community Church. Gwynn's topic will be: "Prince Georges County looks to the Future in School House Construction."

MENTAL HEALTH PROGRAM

St. Elizabeth's Hospital Chorus is being presented Monday, Oct. 27, at 8 p.m. at the Benjamin Stoddard Junior High School, Marlow Heights, by the Prince Georges County Mental Health Society and individual members of the League of Women Voters who are working in the field of mental health.

Following the program the clinic staff, headed by Dr. A. M. Schneidmuhl, Director, will discuss the present status of the Prince Georges County Mental Health Clinic.

"Bang - Up" Calendar Due After Election

The 1959 County Engagement Calendar and Directory, published by the League of Women Voters of Prince Georges County, will be delayed until after the Nov. election, according to Mrs. Harold Hayes, president.

The "hang-up" calendar will contain a "Guide to Your Government" listing the incumbents, describing offices, and providing addresses and phone numbers of county agencies.

Modelled on its predecessors, the Calendar contains space for writing engagements and appointments and shows the school holidays as well as the due-dates for income taxes.

The calendar is a part of the League program of providing the citizen with accurate information about his government. Proceeds from the calendar sales are used to finance further voter services.

To avoid disappointment, calendars for personal use and for Christmas gifts should be ordered soon from the League's publications chairman, Mrs. William Sulzbacher, 9413 50th pl., College Park, Md., WE. 5-6672. The price is still 50c.

Twin Pines Gives New Travel Agency Service

As an additional service to residents of Greenbelt and the surrounding area, the facilities of the American Travel Association (ATA) are now available at the office of the Twin Prince Savings & Loan Association in the Greenbelt Shopping Center. ATA specializes in group to group international travel, but also provides all the usual travel agency services for individuals.

The ATA is a nonprofit cooperative travel agency that cuts cost and finds the contacts you are looking for anywhere in the world. Among the member-owners of ATA are the National Farmers Union, Industrial Union Department AFL-CIO, United Auto Workers, Cooperatives League of the USA, National Education Association, and District of Columbia Credit Union League.

Other members of ATA are the Nationwide Insurance Companies, Americans for Democratic Action, Michigan Credit Union League, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, New York Teachers Guild, Group Health Mutual, Eastern Cooperative, Inc., Central Cooperative, Inc., and the National Housing Conference. The cooperative has recently been joined as an equal partner by Histadrut, the Israel labor-cooperative.

In providing the services ATA to Greenbelters, the board and membership of Twin Pines affirm their belief that purposeful, carefully planned, organized travel can play a part in building up the understanding between peoples that must be developed, if the age-old pattern of international rivalries and war is to be replaced by cooperative relationships.

To make such planning easier, ATA is affiliated with the International Federation of Peoples Travel Associations with cooperative groups in the United Kingdom, Canada, Austria, Belgium, Denmark, Finland, Germany, Italy, Netherlands, Norway, Sweden, Switzerland, and now Israel. Each of these groups was organized for a similar purpose.

Wallace J. Campbell, director of the Washington office of the Co-operative League of the USA is president of ATA. Dr. Joseph Wenger, head of the New York Office of Histadrut and Victor Reuther, director of the Washington office of UAW, are vice-presidents, and Arnold Zander, president of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, is treasurer. Reservations, tickets and other arrangements made at the Twin Pines office will be secured through the Washington office of ATA, located at 1800 H st., N.W.

BOWLING NEWS

About fifty children and adults showed up on Saturday, Oct. 11, for instruction in bowling at the Greenbelt Bowling Center. Under the teaching of Robby Robinson and John Volk, American Junior Bowling Congress instructors, the students learned the basic fundamentals of bowling in a four-step approach. After the two-hour instruction period each student received a free game from the Greenbelt Bowling Center.

St. Hugh's Parish now has its own bowling league of six teams. Leading team is the Spacemen, composed of Cottingham, Geiger, Keohan, McDonnell, and San Antonio.

High scorer is Robertazzi, with the high game of 208 and the high set of 520.

Rupard - Hunt

Miss Geraldine Marie Rupard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Clifford Rupard, of 8316 49th ave., College Park, exchanged marriage vows with Mr. Ronald Kelly Hunt, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Howard Hunt, 3-D Research, at the Hyattsville First Methodist Church on Oct. 4 at 4 p.m. The Rev. Edgar W. Beckett, pastor of the church, performed the ceremony. The bride wore a floor length gown of white taffeta and chantilly lace. Her finger tip veil of illusion fell from a crown tiara of pearls and sequins, and she carried a white Bible with a white orchid.

Miss Anita Goldberg was maid of honor, and the bridesmaids were Miss Karen Kirkley and Miss Jackie Hodges, a cousin of the groom. The junior bridesmaid was Jeanie Mae Rupard, sister of the bride.

Serving as best man for the groom was his brother, James Hunt. The ushers included his cousin William Hodges, the bride's brother, Calvin Rupard, and the groom's fraternity brother, Denny Whitford.

The bride graduated from High Point High School and attended the University of Maryland. The groom, a graduate of the University of Maryland, is now employed in Philadelphia with the National Dairy Products Corp. and expects to report to Tex. in March to begin his pilot training. Following a honeymoon in the South, the couple will reside in Philadelphia.

Warm Peninsula

Julie Harris

On Nov. 3 Julie Harris, one of today's most exciting young actresses, comes to the National Theatre, Washington, for two weeks in "The Warm Peninsula," a new comedy-drama by Joe Masteroff. A play of today with its scene laid in Miami Beach, "The Warm Peninsula" tells the engrossing story of Ruth Arnold, a girl who goes looking for the fulfillment of a dream and finds, in the end, that she wants reality.

Appearing with Miss Harris in "The Warm Peninsula" are Josephine Brown, Peter Baldwin, Steve Holland, Carroll Brooks, Thomas Ruisinger, Olga Fabian and Laurence Haddon. The producer is Manning Gurian, Miss Harris' husband. Evening performances will be at 8:30 and the Wednesday and Saturday matinees at 2:30.

N-R STAFF MEETING

The Annual Membership Meeting of the Greenbelt Cooperative Publishing Association will be held on Friday, Oct. 31, at 8:30 p.m. at the Arthur Levine residence, 23-F Ridge. The election of the officers and governing board for 1958-59 will be held. All staff members of the News Review are invited to attend.

IN FRONT OF THE GREENBELT THEATRE

OCTOBER 24, FRIDAY, 10 a.m. - 5 p.m.

By Elaine Skolnik, GR. 4-6060
 Bride to be Lois Ann Pettit was recently feted at personal showers given by Mrs. Robert Hurlbrink, 1-H Southway, and Mrs. H. Miller, 1-B Southway. A miscellaneous shower in her honor was given by Norma Malsly, Ruth Wolf, Ellen McGuire, Clara Hines, and Marika Haggerty.
 Birthday congratulations to Joan Barnett, 45-F Ridge, Carol Pines, 7-E Crescent, and Marion Ryss, 2-J Westway, who are all sweet sixteen. A birthday celebration in their honor was held last Saturday at the JCC building.
 Robert Donald McNally, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Francis McNally, 16-D Ridge, enlisted in the Navy through the Hyattsville Recruiting Agency. Robert left for Great Lakes Training Center on Oct. 7 for nine weeks of training.
 The Owen Crowders, 41-B Ridge, have a slightly changed telephone number, GR. 4-4661. (It's a 4 exchange instead of 3). Glad to hear that Owen is feeling much better.
 Recently, the Greenbelt Cooperative Nursery School Tots accompanied by two teachers and two mothers, invaded the local Co-op supermarket. Manager Lovaaas led the group on a behind the scenes tour of the store. The youngsters were particularly impressed by the meat slicing machines. "Don't stop, don't stop," they pleaded. They were also fascinated with the huge sides of beef hanging in the cold storage room.
 Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. James McQuarrie, 4-K Gardenway, on the birth of their son, Sept 28.
 It was indeed fortunate for the youngsters of North End School that no talent scouts were in the audience at the PTA meeting on Oct. 7. For if there were, Mrs. Grimm, principal, and her singing teachers, would have surely been offered contracts on the spot. Their rendition of "A Teacher's Life," a parody sung to the tune of Finiculi-Finicula was a simply delightful. The chorus went something like this:

 Measles, chicken-pox, Junior's got the mumps,
 Chewing gum, bubble gum, shots to cure the bumps,
 We vaccinate, inoculate, excuse the child who cannot wait!
 All who teach agree—a teacher's life's the Life For Me!
 Little Mary Mitchell, two year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Mitchell, 62-A Ridge, is in Children's Hospital, Washington, D. C. Mary, a polio victim, will be hospitalized for several weeks. She derives great pleasure from get-well cards. So let's grant Mary's wish and send her stacks.
 It's a girl for Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hampton, 20-Q Ridge. Pamela Jean made her debut on Oct. 7, weighing 5 lbs. 11 oz. She joins a sister Cindy. And a very happy birthday to Cindy, who will be five years old on Saturday.
 Mr. and Mrs. Charles Van Blaragon, 23-H Ridge, announce the birth of a daughter. The important date was Oct. 7.
 Mrs. Jean Mogel and Mrs. Betty Wynkoop were guests of honor at a stork shower given by Mrs. Cleo Dutton on Oct. 8.

Mrs. Martha Murray is the new third-fourth grade teacher at North End School.
 Sorry to hear that former Greenbelt, Helen Rubin, injured her hand.
 First to paint their homes under the new self-help painting program are residents of one row of the 15 Court of Laurel. Green for the shingles—white for the trim. Very pretty, indeed.
 Happy birthday to Susan Gregerson, 14-N Ridge, who celebrated her seventh birthday. Susan and her party guests were treated to pony rides.
 Visiting from Lakeland, Fla., is Marge Bergemann's mother, Mrs. Stamler.
 Birthday greetings to Debby Speth, 15-G Laurel, who celebrated her ninth birthday.
 Moving here from Washington, D. C., are Ruth and Toni Durantine, 15-F Laurel. They have a son, Chip, age 4. Durantine is employed by the Bureau of Public Roads.
 Dr. James W. McCarl, Sr. has been named as an alternate delegate from Md. at the 99th annual session of the American Dental Association, to be held at Dallas, on Nov. 10 to 13.
 Army Pvt. Teryl C. Lawson, son of Mrs. Miriam G. Reynolds, 115 Northway, is scheduled to participate with the 327th Infantry in "Exercise White Cloud," a Strategic Army Corps (STRAC) maneuver involving parachute assaults on Fort Campbell, Ky., and Fort Bragg, N. C. Lawson, a rifleman in the infantry's Company B at Fort Camp-

VOLUNTEER NOTES

By Don Pratt
 Too late for last week's News Review was the birth on Oct. 7 of Miss Pamela Jean Hampton, Pamela weighed in at 5 pounds, 11 ounces and 18 inches long. Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hampton are accepting congratulations at 20-Q Ridge.

While we are on the subject of Fire Prevention, and this is being written during Fire Prevention Week, we feel that since Pamela Jean Hampton was born during Fire Prevention Week, she should be named Miss Fire Prevention by the Greenbelt Volunteer Fire Department and Rescue Squad, Inc. Any other nominations?

THANKS
 We wish to thank the Greenbelt Rescue Squad for their prompt and courteous service in our time of need.

Helen Chasanow Wins
 At the dinner meeting of the Prince Georges County Real Estate Board, held last week at the Prince Georges Country Club, Helen Chasanow of Greenbelt Realty Company, local realtors, received one of the two Star Salesman Awards for selling the largest number of houses in the County during the past year. Mrs. Chasanow received an engraved certificate and a pin, which had been especially designed for recipients of this award.

The Real Estate Board is composed of 86 of the leading real estate offices in the county, who employ approximately 300 salesmen. Only members of this board are authorized to use the term "Realtor." Not every real estate broker is a Realtor. Only those accepted for membership by the National Association of Real Estate Boards may use the term as their trademark. Those accepted for membership pledge themselves to observe the National Association of Real Estate Boards' strict code of ethics. Their acceptance is based upon good business character and a demonstration that they are capable of properly caring for the real estate matters entrusted to them.

A Real Estate Salesman's School sponsored by the Real Estate Board is now being conducted by Abraham Chasanow, local attorney and Realtor, and Andrew J. Moore, of Moore & Moore. Over 100 salesmen are enrolled in this school with 33 Realtors as instructors. Mr. Chasanow lectures on Real Estate Law.
