Recreation Review

by James A. Wooldridge

The Greenbelt Recreation Department, in cooperation with Twin Pines, will hold a Family day every third Sunday through the month of March. The first one will be on Sunday, January 20 from 2 to 5 p.m. Activities will include volleyball, roller skating, and movies for the children. Refreshments will be served. Children will not be admitted unless accompanied by their parents, and a fee of $1.00 per family will be charged.

The Teen Club's 16-and-under basketball team won the Prince George's County Christmas Basketball Championship from a field of the top eight teams in the area. Members of the team were Tom Delaney, Vince Colley, Sam Miller, Kippy Moore, Bob Emmerett, Richard McGlochlin, George Bernardy, Jay Coleman, and Bob Schumaker. The team was coached by James A. Wooldridge and DJ.

The Recreation Department Basketball League in conjunction with the Greenbelt Boys' Club is now in full swing. All teams opened their season last week. Any boy who would like to join one of the teams may call the Recreation Department, 474-6878. All boys between the ages of 10 and 18 years are eligible.

The Teen Club will go swimming at the Ambassador this week. Seniors will go Friday, January 11, at 7 p.m. and Juniors, Saturday, January 12, at 7 p.m.

Arts and Crafts classes are held every Tuesday and Thursday afternoons from 3:30 to 5 p.m. Mrs. Boggs is the instructor and only a small fee is charged to cover the cost of materials. All elementary school children interested are invited to come to the Youth Center.

Twin Pines Pays 5%

Twin Pines is paying $6137 to its members this week, the regular quarterly dividend. A total of 5% in dividends—more than $24,000—was paid to members during 1962, stated Harvey Geller, president of the local cooperative.

The Association recorded a year of satisfactory, but slower growth, largely because of the general concern resulting from so many Maryland savings and loan associations being closed down by the State. At the end of 1962 Twin Pines assets stood at $641,057, compared to $591,139 at the beginning of the year.

AAUN to Hear Trowbridge

A. Buell Trowbridge, president of the Capital Area Chapter of the American Association for the United Nations, will be the featured speaker at the next meeting of the Prince Georges County Unit of this chapter of AAUN. The meeting will take place on Thursday, January 17, at 8:15 p.m., at the Co-op Hospitality Room. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Officers elected at the last meeting were: President, Dorothy White; Vice-President, Rev. Kenneth Wyatt; Executive Secretary, Mary Louise Williamson; Treasurer, James Cassels; Seymour Kaplan and Peter Whittaker. A seventh member will be appointed later to replace George Beauchamp, who is serving until leaving the country in late January.

Talk at Community Church

On Monday, January 14, Mrs. Betty Denson, former longtime resident of Greenbelt, will give a talk and show slides about her experiences overseas to the Women's Fellowship of Community Church. Mrs. Denson, who is home on leave after 2 years in Brazil, will begin her talk at 7:30 p.m. following a covered dish supper at 6:30 p.m. in the Social Hall. The public is invited.

Member Relations, Secrecy Considered by Co-op Board

by Sam Cornelius

The improvement of member relations and an attempt to reduce the amount of secrecy on details of the Co-op's sales of its properties and current financial status were the two principal items discussed at a meeting of the Board of Greenbelt Consumer Services, Inc., at Rockville on January 5. The Board met with Mr. Stewart of the Supervisory Committee, five of the staff and six observers, half from Greenbelt.

In discussing the matter of whether too much or too little secrecy was being practiced in connection with the Co-op's financial operations, one view was expressed that "we keep too much stuff confidential." At a suggestion of the executive committee certain items in the executive session minutes of July 7, August 4, and October 6 were "declassified" and directed to be included in the regular minutes. Although the regular minutes are not distributed, they are available for inspection at the Beltsville main office.

A number of suggestions heard at the meeting on how to improve member relations were referred to a new temporary committee set up by the Board to redirect and energize member relations activity.

Local Program Honors School Safety Patrol

The fifth annual School Safety Patrol program will be held at the Center School on Wednesday, January 16, at 7:30 p.m. Sergeant Austin R. Green of the Greenbelt Police Department, who started the program five years ago to honor the school patrol members, will deliver the opening address. Commissioner Frank Lastner will serve as Master of Ceremonies. The main speaker will be Paul E. Burke, executive director of the Maryland Traffic Safety Commission. The public is invited to attend.

Following the main address, safety patrol awards and presentations for 1961-62 will be made. Music will be provided by the Greenbelt Junior High School band, under the direction of Frank Troy.

The City Council has proclaimed the week of January 13-19 as School Safety Patrol Week, and a number of activities are planned. On Tuesday, January 15, members of local, county, and state police departments will visit schools to talk on safety. A special show for school safety patrol members will be held at the Greenbelt Theater on Saturday, January 19. Door prizes will be awarded to the first 75 arrivals.

Lions To Hear Selkirk

George Selkirk, new general manager of the Washington Senators, will address the Lion's Club at the next regularly scheduled meeting on Monday, January 14, at 7:15 p.m. at the Legion home. Selkirk will talk on the Senators' prospects for 1963. The public is invited to attend.

Fire Department Installation

The Greenbelt Volunteer Fire Department and Rescue Squad and its Ladies Auxiliary will hold their joint installation of officers at the Fire House on Saturday, February 2, at 6:30 p.m.

CORRECTION

In last week's column The Name is Familiar former editor Virginia Beauchamp was described as a "paragon who's nice to dislike." The sentence should, of course, have read: "paragon who's too nice to dislike."

The Police Blotter

An attempted breaking and entering was probably averted last Saturday evening at the Drug Fair in the Beltway Plaza, Greenbelt police, touring the area, spotted a ladder leaning against the building. A closer look revealed wet marks on the ladder presumably made from footprints.

Maryland State Police were called to the scene to assist in circling the building and the Fire Department was called to supply climbing equipment.

Police found that an iron grate covering a sky-light on the roof had been removed but no one was found in or on the building. They obviously noticed police arriving as they were attempting to enter the building and left to avoid capture.

The theft of money was reported from the Laundromat at Beltway Plaza. About $199 was taken from the money-changing machines in the store.

Two vehicles were involved in an accident near 58 Ridge last Saturday. The driver of one car was apparently driving on the wrong side of the road and the car hit an oncoming vehicle. No injuries were reported.

Residents reported two youngsters setting off fire-crackers in the apartment-house basements.

There have been many parking complaints recently. Police have been lenient with parkers due to the hazardous conditions of the roads and parking areas due to the snow and ice. Now that the areas are clearing up, police will be enforcing the parking laws.

Citizens are reminded that there are many items listed in the Police lost and found files. Inquiries may be made by calling GR 4-5454 at any time.

Greenbelt Students Slated To Appear On Television

Nancy Hoffman and David Volk of Greenbelt will be two of the four High Point students who will appear in the near future on the national television program, "Youth Wants to Know." The program will be taped on January 23 and will be televised at a later date, over the CBS network and locally on Channel 9, WTOG. Nancy Hoffman is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Hoffman, 114 Northway, and David Volk is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Volk, 5-G Ridge Road. The other members of the panel are High Point students Leslie Cohen and Arla Mills.

$132 Raised For Care

A total of $132 was raised this Holiday Season and sent to CARE, according to Dorothy White, chairman of the local branch of the American Association for the United Nations, sponsors of the campaign in Greenbelt. This includes the contributions received at the Community Thanksgiving Service.

CARE uses the money to send food packages to Needy families in Equador. Each dollar provides 22 pounds of life-saving staple food. Many of these packages are being sent in the names of friends of the donors, contributed to CARE instead of sending the usual holiday gifts to their friends.

Latin Americans Tour Coop

Forty representatives from Latin America toured our Greenbelt store and service station to study an American consumer CO-OP. The group then returned to the American Institute of Free Labor in Washington, D. C., their sponsoring organization, for talks on the management and organization of CO-OPs given by GCS General Manager Robert E. Morrow and former GCS President Robert Bonham.

Council Prepares To Borrow $6,250 for Lakewood Drainage

by Mary Louise Williamson

An ordinance which will permit the council to borrow $6,250 on a short-term basis to pay the city's share of the cost of the WSSC Lakewood storm drainage project was given a first reading at the regular city council meeting last Monday night. One councilman pointed out that the note would be paid by adding six cents to the city's tax rate for one year.

The total cost of the drainage work will be about $40,000, with the Washington Suburban Sanitary Commission bearing the major share of the cost. The city's contribution was one of the items in the proposed $40,000 capital improvements budget that was to be raised by floating long-term bonds but was defeated by the citizens in a referendum held last November.

WSSC has informed the city that the design work has been completed and that it is ready to go ahead with the project as soon as the $6,250 was made available. It is hoped that the project can be completed before spring floods cause further damage.

The ordinance will allow the city manager to negotiate a short-term note from the Suburban Trust Company. Council considered suspending the rules in order to pass the ordinance Monday night. However, Councilman Ben Goldstein pointed out that since a large sum was involved, the expenditure of the funds should not be approved until it had been given proper publicity, including a clearcut announcement in the agenda published in the News Review. Mayor Francis White supported this, noting that a two week's delay was not significant at this time of year as construction work would probably have to wait until late February or early March for better weather.

The council was questioned on how it could raise the $6,250 by ordinance when it was deemed necessary to hold a referendum to float a loan to raise $40,000 for a capital improvements budget to include this item. Councilman Dave Champion answered by noting that the referendum called for a long-term note to be paid over a period of several years, whereas this note would be paid by a one-year increase in the tax rate by about six cents.

Planning Board Nominations

In considering the current vacancy on the Advisory Planning Board, two nominations were made by council. Councilman Tom Canning nominated Eli Crupain of 6-K Ridge Road. Canning noted that Crupain is a professional planner employed by the Maryland National Park and Planning Commission, has devoted his life to planning, and previously served on the Advisory Planning Board. Councilman Bill Phillips nominated George Neumann of 46 Lakeside but did not list his qualifications. The council, which has already interviewed Crupain, arranged to interview Neumann before voting on its choice at the next council meeting.

Manager Giese pointed out to council an easier method for setting the salaries of appointed officials. Giese noted numerous past ordinances by council concerning the manager's salary. He suggested that the only ordinance necessary would be the budget, in which council automatically sets an upper limit. Therefore council need not take time for further ordinances, but rather may set the exact figure by simple motion. Giese's suggestion was adopted, a previous ordinance repealed and the manager's salary reset in a motion by Councilman Champion. His salary was set at a starting rate of $9,000 per year.

City Newsletter Proposed

Councilman Phillips suggested that council establish some form of house organ or fact sheet to be put out by council, probably with the aid of the manager. A number of possibilities were suggested from a paid column in the News Review written by the city manager to a fact sheet designed to introduce city services to new citizens. Giese was directed to study the situation during the next six months with an eye to making special presentation prior to the budget. It was noted by Phillips that in this time of rapid growth and change in Greenbelt, no means should be overlooked in educating and informing the citizens about current city problems.

A recommendation by Phillips that the Chairman of the Recreation Advisory Board be asked to take over the functions of the recently resigned Teen Club Advisory Board until the current situation is alleviated was turned down. It was noted that council members would meet Wednesday, January 9, with past members of the Teen Club Advisory Board for their recommendations and therefore any prior action would be ill-advised.

Report on Added Center Parking Heard By Council

A report by the Advisory Planning Board on adding 150 parking spaces in the Center, the construction of a road behind the Co-op to connect the two present parking lots, the relocation of the entrance to the west parking lot (between the bank and the Center School), and the widening of entrances and exits to the east parking lot (next to the Co-op store) was accepted by city council at its regular meeting Monday night.

The report noted that the most efficient and least costly area for adding the 150 parking spaces would be between the Co-op store and Braden field. The design is L-shaped with a long projection paralleling the swimming pool down the slope to the east.

The back limit of the parking area would be just beyond the hand ball courts, but some distance from Braden field so as not to endanger parked cars during ball games. The Board chose this area feeling that the terrain would call for the least amount of dirt moving, thus saving a maximum number of trees.

A roadway connecting the east and west parking lots and running behind the Co-op store would also provide some additional parking spaces. Several other important changes would result from the additional traffic through the parking areas. Suggested are the widening of the road leading to the east parking lot with special attention on improving the intersection of Crescent and Centerway.

The entrance to the west parking lot could be widened to permit exit of cars from the lot or a new entrance could be made by continuing Southway straight into the parking lot. In the latter case the old west entrance could be removed to provide additional commercial space. The board felt the additional traffic should not be allowed to exit through the Center School drive.

The Board submitted a detailed sketch of its recommendations and requested council to instruct the engineering firm of Greenhorne and O'Mara, engaged by the city to draw up final plans, to consult with the Board on their feasibility or if other plans might be more desirable. On a motion by Councilman Champion, modified by Mayor White, council voted to pass the Board's recommendations and sketch to the engineering firm to consider and then meet with council and the Planning Board to consider final plans.

The APB is also working on a comprehensive study of the entire Greenbelt Center, including the "Gruen Plan" proposed by the Co-op and also involving additional parking on Centerway and location of a library site. The APB indicated that this report should be ready in the next few weeks.

In the discussion it was revealed that the agreement between the city and the Co-op in deeding Panel #6 to the city requires the roadway connecting the parking lots and half the additional parking to be completed in 1963.

Mrs. Greenbelt at Home

by Vivian Greenbaum

(Ed. Note: The News Review welcomes the return of one of its most popular columns which will appear periodically. As our older readers know, our columnist writes about the life of a typical Greenbelt family, with which the editor has some relationship.)

Two years ago we acquired our cats. I can now imagine the owner, as we drove off in our car, rubbing his hands gleefully, and saying to his wife: "Well, dear, we did it. Got rid of Tiger and Grey Ghost. Now let's get out of town." Which they did.

The reason for this exultation was that he had transferred to us the job of enforcing the Marquess of Queensbury rules on two cats, who seem to have been destined from birth to hate the sight of each other. The cats evidently felt that a change in environment was insufficient reason to end their blood feud, and so they have continued to fight all over the house and neighborhood.

We have looked upon this, on the whole, as one of those burdens in life sent to plague us, and we have accepted it. Until last New Year's morning, that is, when the cats awakened Russ at 6 a.m. by staging a battle on his bed, complete with snarling, hissing, and clawing through the covers. Russ then decided they had to go. Nothing would shake him until Eric packed a suitcase and sleeping bag, set up housekeeping with them until the matter finally blew over.

Separately, however, the cats are fun, and are good companions for the children. Eric plays checkers with one of them. He complains that the cat is pretty stupid because he sometimes plays out of turn, and even moves backward instead of forward. But considering the way Eric plays checkers, I think he is lucky to find anyone willing to give him a match at all. Rachelle is trying to teach the other cat to play the piano, but I think she might as well give up. That is an unmusical cat if I ever saw one.

Contrary to police regulations, our cats do not wear their tags when they go out into the world, and for a very good reason. A friend of mine, also a cat-owner, gets a call from North End at least once a month, reporting that her cat has been found and would she like to come and pick it up. My friend arrives to find Puss comfortably ensconced on a sofa, waiting to be chauffeured home. Our cats undoubtedly traipse up to North End, too, because travel is so broadening. But since they don't wear tags, no one takes them in, and they walk back home on their own four legs.

In addition to their fighting, Russ has another grudge against the cats. They are expensive. Cats have to be de-sexed and de-wormed, and they get things like conjunctivitis which requires a two-day hospital stay to clear up. And so a few times a year we find ourselves in the waiting-room at the vet's along with other pets and their owners. Russ and I are each holding a cat who is frantically clawing his way to the tops of our respective heads in order to escape a lunging mastiff. All of this puts Russ in a pretty temper which is not improved by the presentation of the bill. For days afterward he can be heard muttering, "And it's not even deductible!"

Revive Our Teen Club

To the Editor:

I have been in teen club for five years. In that time I have served as treasurer for five years. I watched our teen club grow. I am proud to be a member of the teen club. Our teen club was cited by a number of groups for our outstanding record in the community. We worked harmoniously with our adult leaders and advisory board. Mr. Fonda, whom I had contact with the most, was very understanding of our problems. We conducted our own meetings, made our own rules and had a well-run teen club.

The first I knew when our club was beginning to lose status was when Mr. Leddick left for reasons known only to himself. Then some of us realized that we were going to lose our teen club director because council decided they wanted to change the organization of the recreation department. We tried to practice democracy by going to a council meeting. We came away with some of our parents knowing council would not listen to us present our side of the story.

We lost our understanding teen club director in July. Now we have lost, according to your newspaper, our understanding Advisory Board. I have watched our attendance at activities tumble to the point where there have been occasions when the building closed up early because of lack of enough teenagers to operate the building.

We no longer make our own rules, our adult leaders do not guide us in programing but tell us when, where and how we will do an activity. I hope that someone who has the power to help us revive our teen club will read this letter and come to our rescue.

Clarice Rowe Treasurer Greenbelt Teen Club

Boys Club News

by Bud Dean

With the cage season in full swing the Boys Club teams are fast rounding into shape and are looking forward to a good season.

Tuesday night was the opener - for the 14-and-under boys - and they looked good. Coaches Gene Sparks and Bill Hoffman were pleased with the fine performance of George Moray, Bob Klem, Tom Maedows, and the strong guarding of Fred Schumaker, as the boys came away with their first win over Palmer Park - Greenbelt 40 Palmer Park 13.

Thursday night in a double header at the Youth Center, the 18-and-unders and the 16-and-unders opened their seasons. The 18-and-unders, coached by Ricky Stevenson, met a strong College Park five. College Park carried a lead all through the game until the last five minutes when the Greenbelt boys, led by Al Moray, proceeded to put on a fine display of basketball. However the effort was too late as College Park copped the win 39 to 36. This team has the capability of being one of the strong teams in the League but they will have to maintain the type of play they showed in the last five minutes of the opener.

In the second game, the 16-and-unders, coached by Bill Tallent, met a real strong Belair team and in a tight game all the way the Greenbelt boys never gave an inch, winning a real squeaker 41 to 39. This team has many fine players on it: George Burnette, Kibby Moore, Vince Colley, Bob Emmert, Sam Miller and Rich McLaughlin. They also have good bench strength in Wayne Palmer, Jay Coleman, Bob Schumaker, Doc Whimbley and Alan Henry. This club has the potential needed to bring Greenbelt a championship.

Monday night the 12-and-under traveled to Green Meadows to open their season. Green Meadows has a fine team and showed it by taking Greenbelt by a 25 to 13 score. Joe Colley led the Greenbelt boys with 8 points. This team will come along with more practice as they have some fine players, and their coaches, Jerry Jenkins and Chuck Morrison, have high hopes for the boys.

Friday night, January 11, at 6:30 p.m. at the Youth Center, the 14-and-under will take on a strong Capital Heights team.

On Friday night at 5:30 p.m. at the Youth Center an intramural program will be started with boys in the 9 to 14 age groups. All boys in this age group are welcome.

The Officials of the Greenbelt Boys Club thank the Recreation Department for the fine cooperation they have received from the directors.

We would like to see more parents at these games. Since parents participation at this time is very small, we believe it would be a help to the boys and give them an incentive to play better ball if more parents would attend.

Perlzweig-Neimark

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Perlzweig of Silver Spring announce the marriage of their daughter, Dana Ellen, to Sheridan Lew Neimark, son of Mrs. Anne Neimark of Youngstown, Ohio on Saturday, January 5. The ceremony took place in the Cotillion Room of the Sheraton Park Hotel. Rabbi Morris Gordon officiated.

Bridge Club Meeting Friday

The Greenbelt Bridge Club meets the second and fourth Friday of each month at the Co-op Hospitality Room, starting at 8:30 p.m. The next duplicate bridge game will be tomorrow, Friday, January 11.

Dr. Max Bloomberg

Dr. Max W. Bloomberg of Langley Park died at Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore on December 19, 1962, unexpectedly. Dr. Bloomberg, a well known pediatrician, resided in Greenbelt for approximately 14 years. His office was located in the Medical Center. Dr. Bloomberg was associated with the Kimbrough Army Hospital at Fort Meade. He is survived by his wife, Phyllis, and a son, Allan.

High Point High Points

by Naomi Baron

Basketball and wrestling are in the limelight with a heavy schedule being followed in both sports. An evening basketball game with Suitland on January 3 brought victory to the Eagles by a 62-40 lead. Greenbelt's James Caruso was high scorer. A Tuesday afternoon game with Oxon Hill raised spirits even higher with a winning High Point score of 44-42. The wrestling team has been doing equally well with two victories in as many tries. The first was against Perry High School, the second with Brookland Park.

Heel and tie were quite in vogue last Friday, for January 4th was Dress Up Day at High Point. This annual occasion was under the supervision of the Student Council.

January 10 offered an afternoon of arts to two groups of High Pointers. One phase, a visit to the Mona Lisa at the National Gallery of Art, was attended by some of the art students. The other, attendance of "The Hollow Crown," a play presented by the Royal Shakespeare Company at the National Theater, was under the supervision of the English and speech departments.

It's official! Fourteen percent of the student body made the Honor Roll during the first nine week grading period. Of these, 63 were seniors, 89 juniors, and 120 sophomores.

No longer is there trouble in recognizing the basketball team and their coaches. Last week, the school presented them with specially designed blue or grey sport coats with the school insignia on the pocket.

Plans are being formulated by the Junior Class for a winter dance to be held in the cafeteria on January 19. A fireside theme will be used. Other doings of the class includes the sale of special High Point stationery to the student body.

Mousley-Gonzalez

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Mousley, 6-Q Hillside, announce the marriage of their daughter, Norma Joann, to Mariano A. Gonzalez, son of Mr. and Mrs. Avelino Gonzalez of Cumberland, Maryland, on December 8, 1962, in the Greenbelt Community Church. The bride is a graduate of High Point High School and attended State Teachers College at Towson, Maryland. Her husband is a graduate of the University of Maryland, and is employed by the University. The couple will live in East Riverdale, Maryland.

FORMER RESIDENTS FETED BY WOMAN'S CLUB

A holiday Tea, in honor of Mrs. Leon Benefiel and Mrs. Annymae Wilson Downs, Charter Members and former presidents of the Woman's Club of Greenbelt, was given by Mrs. James W. McCarl at her home on Forestway. The guests of honor, who now live in Florida and Mississippi, were revisiting members of their families in Greenbelt for the holidays.

In spite of the unfavorable weather many Club members welcomed the opportunity to greet their old friends and to reminisce over the early days of the club and Greenbelt. The lovely house decorations, the delicious (and calorie filled) goodies and the warm hospitality of the Hostess, made this one of the unforgettable parties of the season.

On January 3rd the first meeting of the Board of Directors for the new year was held at the home of Mrs. Charles T. McDonald, on Woodland Way. The agenda included many items of new business and the planning of the club programs for the remainder of the club year.

The first membership meeting of the new year will be held on Thursday evening, January 10th, at 8 p.m., at the Community Church. Following the business meeting a film entitled "The making of fine China" will be presented through the courtesy of the Lenox China Co. Refreshments will be served by the Hostess Committee.

Bishop Sewing Classes

Bishop sewing classes will be offered by the Adult Education program of Prince George's County at Mowatt Memorial Methodist Church. The basic course will be taught from 9 a.m. to 12 noon, beginning Tuesday, January 15.

Two Tailoring II classes will be offered. One class will be held from 12:15 to 3:15 p.m. beginning Tuesday, January 15; the other, from 12:15 to 3:15 p.m. beginning Thursday, January 17.

The registration fee for each course is $5.00 and should be sent by January 14 to the instructor, Mrs. Grace Smith, 4407 Beechwood Road, Hyattsville, Md. For further information, call Mrs. Smith at UN 4-3821.

Canadian Ballet Company To Give Free Performance

Les Grands Ballets Canadiens of Montreal will appear at Roosevelt Auditorium, 13th and Allison Streets, N. W., on February 15, at 8:30 P. M., under the sponsorship of the D. C. Recreation Department.

This new dance troupe, "Les Grands Ballets Canadiens" has made two successful tours here, and this year will perform again throughout the United States and Canada. The twenty young dancers of this company have been trained by Ludmilla Chiriaeff and are featured regularly over CBS-TV on "The Concert Hour". Recently they scored on the famous Telephone Hour TV program.

This performance is being given free of charge to the public.

Unmarried Mother's Service

Family Service of Prince Georges County today announced that a new counseling service was available for the unmarried mothers in the area. "There are a number of mothers - many still in their teens - who need help in picking up the threads of future life after their baby is placed for adoption", said Dr. Joyce Gale Klein, Director.

"While our agency does no placement or adoption work, these women frequently need other guidance, such as returning to school, to their families or to their jobs, and Family Service, a UGF agency, is prepared to help them."

Evening and daytime appointments are available for this, and marital and parent-child problems at the main office - 4314 Gallatin Street, Hyattsville, Maryland. Day appointments are given at Marlow Heights and Accokeek sub-offices. All appointments are made through WARfield 7-1441.

Elaine Skolnik - Granite 4-6060
It's a boy for Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Collins, 53-G Ridge. Chris Richard was born December 27 weighing 8 lbs. 4 oz. He joins two sisters, Carol and Cathy and a brother Charles. Chris' daddy teaches at Greenbelt Junior High, and his mother formerly taught at North End.

There's a brand new baby in the Pearson home, 24-R Ridge. Daniel Everett arrived December 16, weighing 5 lbs. 8 oz. He has two brothers, Michael and Patrick.

It's a girl for Mr. and Mrs. Walter Perry, 5-J Eastway. Patricia Jean made her debut December 17 weighing 6 lbs. 1 oz. She joins Kevin, Colin, and Lois Inez.

Happy-happy birthday to Bobby Barnes, 55-F Ridge, who celebrated his sixth birthday.

Best wishes for a happy birthday to Ray McCloskey, 114 Greenhill, who was six years old.

From the Green City (Missouri) Press "40 years ago" column comes this interesting story - "Allen D. Morrison of Green City who is to represent Sullivan county in the state legislature, this winter, leaves the first of the week for Jefferson City to take up his work there." Morrison, 58-H Crescent, served a two year term and was responsible for a bill which gave a bonus to World War I vets. Morrison's father was a Sullivan County circuit clerk, his grandfather served as county treasurer and justice of peace, and his great grandfather was the first representative from that county to the legislature after the state was admitted to the Union.

It's a blue bundle for Mr. and Mrs. William Steele, 16-C Parkway. William Scott was born January 5 weighing 8 lbs. 6 oz.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Mohr, 4-H Crescent, will be leaving Greenbelt on January 26 for Ann Arbor, Michigan. Mohr, who has been working for the U.S. Public Health Service, has received a fellowship from the National Institutes of Health. He will work towards a degree in Political Science from the University of Michigan, in order to do research in Public Health Administration. The Mohrs have two children, Ricky and Carol.

The lucky winner of the Greenbelt Majorette's recent raffle was Vernon Iseli, Jr. 14-T Ridge. His little daughter was delighted with the prize - a Barby doll and 20 home-fashioned outfits!

LOST AND FOUND! During a recent attempt to organize the contents of our medicine shelf, Al and I were shocked to discover that all the bandaid boxes were missing. "What do they do - eat them?" roared the man of the house.

Before I could reply, the most amazing scene unfolded before our eyes. Five year old Richy bounced up the stairs shouting, "Rita cut herself, she needs a band-aid!" He raced past us into his room, fell to his knees, lifted the spread of his bed, reached underneath and produced two large boxes of band-aids.

Naturally we were curious as to why Richy hoarded the band-aids under his bed, so after we regained our speech, we asked, and this was his answer, "Because some people couldn't find them when they wanted them."

One for the Road

To the Editor:

I have a question which I think many Greenbelters are asking themselves lately—"Will Greenbelt Road ever be finished all the way to University Blvd.?"

Clifford J. Smith

PS Enjoy your fine paper and believe Greenbelt would be just another run of the mill town without it.

Homemaker's Open House

County Commissioners Authorize C D Communications System

A new "command net" communications system to link Prince Georges County Civil Defense Headquarters and major governmental units was authorized Friday by the Board of Commissioners. The $11,000 system will link the County's Civil Defense headquarters in Greenbelt with the Courthouse in Upper Marlboro and central Police Headquarters in Seat Pleasant and provide some mobile units.

County Civil Defense Director R. Hal Silvers told the Commissioners the new system would "expand the capabilities of existing government" with emergency units in time of attack or natural disaster. "A good Civil Defense system," he declared, "works under existing civil functions. This new network will keep the chairman of the board and the other commissioners in contact with CD headquarters and county police, fire, and public works departments at all times."
