GHI Board Told Not To Relax

by Sid Kastner

Director Ed Burgoon was formally commended, Thursday night, by his fellow GHI board members for his vigorous stand on behalf of GHI and Greenbelt at the Master Plan public hearing of Tuesday night. They also expressed appreciation to the manager and staff for their thorough presentation, and to the membership for its excellent turnout.

Director Gerald Gough reminded the board that "we've only won a skirmish", however, and director Nat Shinderman suggested that manager Roy Breashears keep in touch with city manager Jim Giese to follow later developments. Breashears intends, with board approval, to keep the membership informed of zoning hearings by newsletters when necessary.

A letter of resignation from Frank Lastner was read by Chairman Charles Schwan, and accepted by motion. The board will convey its appreciation for Mr. Lastner's long and able service to GHI through a plaque to be presented later.

Board members will make their nominations for the vacancy at the meeting of August 21, and will elect the new member at the first meeting in September.

Committee Structure

The following GHI members are being considered for the unfilled committee posts: Mrs. L. Kimball, Mr. Whitmer, Mr. Leonard Baron, Mat Amberg, Roy Davis, Norman Weyel, Mrs. Carol Kelly, and Miss Katherine Keene. Director Shinderman moved to have chairman Schwan appoint committee chairmen, in the interests of efficient committee work; this motion failed for lack of a second, but a similar motion by director Burgoon was passed to the effect that Schwan appoint committee chairmen at his discretion. Schwan promptly stated he would appoint all chairmen, to show that "all committees are equally important".

A motion by director O'Reilly was also passed providing that no committee meeting will be regarded as official unless the GHI office has been properly notified.

Among other items considered at the meeting, permission was granted to one member to temporarily park his camping trailer near his house, until such time as GHI can provide a fenced, floodlit area for such equipment. The permission is contingent on compliance with any existing city ordinances. Another member's request to paint his home before next year was granted because of his willingness to paint again when his neighbors do. The board commended these residents on their cooperative attitude in applying through proper channels.

On manager Breashears' recommendation, a walkway dispute between GHI and the city was referred to a meeting of the joint GHI-city council committee. Breashears also reported that only two bids have been received for flat-roof replacement, though nine were asked. One of these has been sent back for more information.

Before the close of the meeting, Schwan appointed Burgoon to act as chairman in his absence at any future meeting, because of Mr. Lastner's resignation.

Mayor Swears In New Police Chief

Greenbelt's new police chief, William T. Lane, Jr., took over his duties on Wednesday, July 15. The 33-year-old former detective officer with the Takoma Park Police Department is a handsome six-foot, four-inch former Marine. He is already in the process of adding four additional men to the seven-man full-time and two-man part-time force. Chief Lane wants an adequate force which he says should be one policeman per 1,000 population. Greenbelt now has a population of 11,000 and is steadily increasing in size.

Chief Lane joined the Takoma force in February 1953 as a private. In 1956 he became a uniform corporal and rose to detective corporal in 1960. One year later he was appointed detective sergeant. Since 1961, he was third in command of the Takoma Department. At the time of his resignation he was in charge of the Detective Bureau. A special tribute by Takoma officials was paid to Chief Lane on July 27.

Most of Chief Lane's spare time these days is devoted to house hunting with his wife, the former Lois Tipton of Bristol, Va. Although they live on the line dividing Prince Georges and Montgomery counties, (at 318 Ethan Allen ave.) Chief Lane feels he should live within the jurisdiction he serves. They have one son, Edward Thomas, 7 years old.

NEW TRAVEL CLUB HEADS FOR WORLD'S FAIR IN HIGH STYLE

You may have heard scattered chattering recently about the expensive trip to the New York World's Fair planned by the Greenbelt Travel Club. Well, it's news for you whether you've heard it or not. Here's the scoop.

The Greenbelt Travel Club was recently organized to conduct inexpensive trips on deluxe equipment originating in Greenbelt. Sound like a good idea? Well, we're just neophytes searching for others who enjoy going places. We're open for suggestions and raring to go. Interested?

Acting president, Deborah Wyatt, and colleagues (of all ages) have planned a one day trip to the New York World's Fair for Saturday, August 8. The buses, which will pick up and deliver passengers right in Greenbelt, are very modern, having reclining seats, air-conditioning, air-cushioned seats, and radio equipment. We have planned an exciting day which includes over eight full hours actually at the Fair.

We hope we have aroused your curiosity enough to motivate you to come on down to Twin Pines Savings and Loan Association and investigate for yourself. Here you can obtain a brochure which tells all about it. Will you?

Chief Lane's interest in investigative work began in his last of three years with the U. S. Marine Corps. He studied fingerprinting at the Marine Corps Institute, then decided to make police work his career. He served at Camp Lejeune and in the Caribbean.

Former Congressman Brooks Hays lice work throughout his service in Takoma Park he attended 15 police training schools and belongs to the Southern Police Institute Alumni Association of the University of Louisiana, the Prince Georges Municipal Police Association and the National Police Officers Association. He served as president of the Police and Firemen's Association of Takoma Park, is currently post adjutant of the John B. Latimer Post No. 28, American Legion and chairman of the Veterans' Council of Takoma Park.

A native of Atlanta, Ga., he attended the Augusta Military Academy at Ft. Defiance, Va., after which he joined the Marines.

Former Congressman Brooks Hays will be the main speaker at the dedication ceremonies for the new Municipal Building. The occasion will take place on Sunday, September 6, with the time expected to be late afternoon. Hays is at present an instructor at Rutgers University and part-time consultant to the Johnson Administration. He was connected with the Resettlement Administration in the 1930's and worked with Rexford Guy Tugwell.

Labor Day Art Show

Plans for the Art Festival portion of the Labor Day celebration have been moving along on a programmed time-table. Entry blanks and group invitations are going out to all of the area Art Clubs.

There will be separate cash prizes for professionals and amateurs in each of two categories. The first will include oils, tempera, polymers, caseins and collages; the second consists of mixed media, water colors, pastels, graphics and drawings. In addition, there will be a cash prize for the most popular entry, based on public balloting. An entry fee of 50c per item will be applied toward the prizes.

The show will be held in the Council Chambers of the new Municipal Building, with the opening scheduled for 2 p.m., Sept. 5 and the awarding of prizes closing the exhibition at 7 p.m. on Sept. 7.

The Arts and Crafts Guild has obtained the services of Professor George O'Connell of the Art Department, University of Maryland, as chief judge for the competition.

MNCPPC Staff Report Keeps Zoning Cauldron Boiling

by Al Skolnik

Zoning matters continued to monopolize the attention of city council at last Monday's special meeting which was called mainly to discuss the latest zoning petitions before Maryland National Capital Park and Planning Commission. These petitions involve seven tracts of land located in the area east and northeast of DuVal High School (east of the Baltimore-Washington Parkway).

The council learned only last week that a hearing on these petitions was scheduled by MNCPPC for Wednesday, July 29, at its Silver Spring office.

The pending applications propose that 64.56 acres be rezoned for I-2 (heavy industry); 20 acres be rezoned for high-rise apartments, and 65.37 acres be rezoned R-18 (medium density apartments). The land is presently zoned rural residential.

The Technical Staff of MNCPPC has issued a report recommending approval of these petitions (with some acreage set aside for schools) except for the 65 acres of I-2 zoning. The Staff suggested instead an I-1 (light industry) zoning with protective covenants as desired by NASA.

The Staff's recommendations differ somewhat from its own Staff Study Plan for the Glen Dale Road-Good Luck Road Area, issued last January. That report proposed high density activity in the vicinity of the Baltimore-Washington Parkway-Capital Beltway interchange with these higher densities tapering off to the east and southeast. Thus, based on that plan, the area to the east of Cipriano Road was to be retained in the R-80 (one-family detached residential) and rural-residential zones. The plan implied that the entire area in the vicinity of DuVal High School was to remain in low-density, single family zoning categories.

Industrial Park

The Staff however justified its approval of the petitions on the grounds that Goddard Space Flight Center looks with favor on the development of a nearby industrial park which would attract some of their contractual groups who are seeking space in the vicinity of NASA to relocate a portion of their facilities.

Once an industrial park is agreed upon, the Staff Report said, it would seem logical to locate a small compact high-density residential area in the immediate vicinity of the industrial park in an effort to reduce the amount of street traffic.

Nowhere in the Report was there any indication that the Staff was considering a complete reversal of its January position (and Master Plan 13) by calling perhaps for low-density single-family residential development on the property immediately adjacent to the Baltimore-Washington Parkway.

This is indicated by the following quotation from the Staff Report:

"Another concern involves the effect of this recommendation on the preliminary Master Plan for College Park - Greenbelt and Vicinity and on the Staff Study Plan for Glendale Road - Good Luck Road Area. Previously, we had constructed a transition belt along the east side of Cipriano Road. If higher-density residential development in the vicinity of DuVal is allowed to expand, we would wonder what the value of this transition belt would be. Unless careful thought is given to its extent, the higher density residential development in the vicinity of DuVal could spread all the way to Cipriano Road - thus, potentially forming a solid belt of apartments along the south side of Glenn Dale Road from the Parkway to Lanham-

UM Summer Theatre Presents "Rashomon"

College Park, Md. — The University of Maryland Summer Theatre will present its second production of the season, "Rashomon," July 27 through August 14. The play is presented to the public only on Thursday and Friday evenings at 8:30 p.m., July 30-31, August 6-7, and August 13-14.

Seyern Road, thus, destroying the concept of the Plans."

Although the land involved is not within Greenbelt's city boundaries, the council reacted sharply to the Staff Report. The council declared that the orderly development of Greenbelt would be adversely affected by the approval of these petitions and directed city manager James Giese to present the city's objections at the MNCPPC hearing.

Dave Champion, acting mayor in Edgar Smith's absence, summarized the city's opposition by quoting from the Technical Staff's own report:

"We must note that we do have some reservations about making a favorable recommendation on the multiple-family requests. These stem not so much from the requests themselves as from the effect that they might have, if approved, on the surrounding area. What would be most desirable would be to keep the higher-density residential area in a rather compact space and to prevent its expansion — particularly to the northeast, southwest, and to the west (that is, west of DuVal High School). From experience, we know that once a lower use zone is granted it is likely to set off a chain of events leading to justifications for other zoning requests. Therefore, we would urge that in consideration of these requests some thought be given to a policy of limiting the expansion of the multiple-family development in this area."

The Staff Report also expressed concern over the traffic problems that would be created by the high-density residential development.

Springhill Lake Zoning

Also called to the attention of council were four other zoning applications requested by Springhill Lake. These applications called for rezoning a 19.4 acre north of Beltway Plaza R-18 (presently I-1); a 2.2 acre parcel located at the northwest corner of Edmonston road and Springhill Drive for office commercial (presently R-18); a 2.3 acre parcel at the southwest corner of Springhill Drive for neighborhood commercial; and 8.7 acre tract near the Junior High School from R-18 to R-10 (high-density apartments).

The Technical Staff of MNCPPC has requested the city's views on these applications. The council voted to inform the Staff that since the Greenbelt Master Plan is still under consideration, it would recommend that no action be taken by MNCPPC on these properties until final consideration and adoption of the Master Plan. The city's Advisory Planning Board was requested to review the applications and report back to council within 30 days.

NASA Purchase of City Land

The council agreed in principle to the sale to NASA of 4.8 acres of city land fill property on Northway near the Baltimore - Washington Parkway, subject to further negotiation on price and clarification of the arrangements for the city's use on a lease basis of 14 acres of Federal property for land fill. NASA wants the land to build a special, private interchange to give it direct access to the Baltimore-Washington Parkway.

Traffic

County Police Chief George J. Panagoulis has informed the city that several studies made of the traffic situation during rush hours at Edmonston and Greenbelt roads since school stopped have indicated a decrease in congestion. He, therefore, finds no justification for placing an officer at that corner, but did promise another study in September when school starts.

A GOOD START

To the Editor:

On behalf of the GHI Board of Directors I should like to commend all those who participated actively in planning the future of Greenbelt. Some of those who merit the gratitude of the entire community are the City Council, the Advisory Planning Board, our own GHI staff, the News Review and the Junior Chamber of Commerce. Necessarily this list is incomplete because it does not include the hundreds of people who attended the public hearings July twentieth, on the APE Plan, and July twenty-first, on the Area 13 Plan.

Those hundreds can congratulate themselves on a job well done. Their interest in the public hearings cannot fail to have a marked effect on the evolution of the area master plan. Perhaps, however, self-congratulations are premature. Widespread public interest must be maintained if Greenbelt is to grow in the manner in which we wish. The many petitions for rezoning that have been or will be filed are of even greater significance than the Proposed or a finalized Master Plan in the potential for the destruction of the concept of Greenbelt. In any and every instance that the granting of a petition to rezone would jeopardize orderly growth, the citizens of Greenbelt must organize to register their opposition. A good start has been made, but there is a long, hard pull ahead. Only if we are alert and if we persevere can we prevail in the long run.

THANKS POLICE DEPARTMENT

To the Editor:

On Friday, June 26, Officer Galifaro showed seven Cub Scouts of Pack 1050, Palmer Park, through your police station. Besides his fine talk on peace and law enforcement, Officer Galifaro gave our boys a new outlook on fireworks. I'm sure that is why our community had such a safe 4th of July. The boys enjoyed their tour of the "Squad Room", meeting your dispatcher, and also seeing how people are finger printed.

On behalf of the boys, I'd like to thank your fine community for letting us tour the Greenbelt Police Station.

Mrs. G. Martenot, Jr.

Starting August first, residents may register all day Monday through Friday in the County Service Building, in Hyattsville, as well as in the Courthouse in Upper Marlboro. In addition, the County Service Building registration office will be open each Tuesday and Friday evening from 6 until 9 p.m.

The commissioners also authorized $8,000 to finance a third all-day registration in each of the County's 79 voting precincts. Under the law, registration opportunity must be provided on the 8th and 15th of September in all precincts. Since both are Tuesdays, it was decided to open all precincts on Saturday, September 12th as well, to give more opportunity for working men to register.

All voters who have not registered before must do so by September 22nd to vote in the November election. Those who have registered previously do not have to register again, but should report changes of address to the Elections Offices.

A Full House

Greenbelters turn out en masse to express their concern over the proposed College Park-Greenbelt Master Plan 13. Pictured above is the packed Center School Auditorium on July 21 to hear the testimony of local organizations and citizens before the Maryland National Capital Park and Planning Commission. The corridors not shown in the photograph were also crowded. The photograph to the left shows Greenbelt councilman David C. Champion (standing) making a point to MNCPPC Chairman William J. Stevens (far left) who is tracing a road on the map. In the photograph at bottom, Edward A. Burgoon, representing the Greenbelt Homes, Inc. board of directors, presents the corporation's objections and views on the Master Plan. Members of the MNCPPC are seated at the table facing the audience which numbered at least 1,000 different individuals throughout the evening.
