City Council and Berwyn Heights Discuss Common Traffic Problem

by G. K. Hodenfield

The possibility that Greenbelt and Berwyn Heights might join forces to control traffic at the intersection of Greenbelt Road and Edmonston Road was discussed at a special meeting of city council Monday night.

Representatives of Berwyn Heights proposed that Greenbelt station police at the intersection, with Berwyn Heights helping meet the cost. Informal discussions between the two communities will be continued, in hope of finding a solution to the problem before school opens Sept. 8.

In its three-hour-plus meeting, Council ranged over a wide variety of problems, including trash and billboards, the new swimming pool, a possible high school for Greenbelt, zoning, appointments, and some bills that have to be paid.

It may have been the heat, it may have been the televised opening of the Democratic National Convention. Whatever the reason, fewer than a dozen citizens were on hand for the special Council meeting.

George Lauterbach, chairman of the Berwyn Heights Board of Commissioners, and Lawrence A. Lee, safety commissioner, made the proposal for inter-community cooperation.

School Crossing

Berwyn Heights has a particular interest in the problem, Lauterbach said, because its children must cross Greenbelt Road to get to the junior high school. And, he added, Greenbelt and Berwyn Heights children alike will be crossing the road at lunchtime to get to the 7-11 store on Edmonston Road.

Lauterbach proposed that Greenbelt station police at the intersection to handle both the traffic from Spring Hill Lake and the children going to and from school. Berwyn Heights, he said, would pay its part of the salary costs.

"Berwyn Heights could hire a crossing guard," he told Council, "but then there is the question of jurisdiction. We aren't going to question Greenbelts jurisdiction, believe me."

Mayor Edgar L. Smith said, "We have been in contact with the state roads commission about traffic lights there, but the results haven't been very satisfactory."

Lauterbach said he had written to the county commissioners and the county police with no discernible results.

City Manager Giese said he thought a cooperative program with Berwyn Heights would be good, and council directed him to continue discussions with Commissioner Lee of Berwyn Heights.

On the motion of Dave Champion, it was agreed a special session of Council will be called before the opening of school if no solution is found before that time.

Swimming Pool Bid

The opening of bids on various matters of city business proceeded routinely until Council came to the one-repeat one—for the building of a new swimming pool.

Eighteen firms had studied the proposed plans, but only Ira C. Rigger, Inc., of Cockeysville chose to bid. And the Rigger bid for the entire project was $237,000, compared to the city engineer's estimate of $183,952.

In the lengthy discussion which followed, a representative of the Rigger firm told council:

"Your pool has been over-designed. You are asking not only for a Cadillac, but for a gold-plated Cadillac."

Councilman Champion commented, "We may have to re-design our program so that we get the most for our money for the most of our citizens."

The Rigger representative said, "If we can negotiate this, we can build you a pool within the price

Festival Features

by Rita Fisher
COMMITTEE MEETING

Representatives of all participating organizations and any interested individuals are urged to attend a meeting of the Greenbelt Festival Committee Tuesday September 1 at 7:45 p.m. at the Youth Center. Everyone will be expected to report on his activity and any problems or needs he still has. Purpose of the meeting is to hear these reports, solve the problems and arrange to meet the needs.

Dedication Ceremony

The Greenbelt Municipal Building Dedication Committee announced that plans are rapidly nearing completion for the dedication of the new municipal building. The ceremony will be held in conjunction with the Labor Day Festival and is scheduled for Sunday, September 6, at 3:30 P.M. starting with a band concert by the Greenbelt City Band. The ceremonies are scheduled for the west parking lot behind the Municipal Building. Chairs will be provided for those wishing to attend. In addition, the grass hillside next to the parking lot will be available for those who wish to spread out blankets or bring their own lawn chairs.

The committee announced that the Reverend Francis T. Flaherty, assistant pastor of St. Hugh's Catholic Church, will give the invocation for the ceremony and Reverend Edward H. Birner, pastor of the Holy Cross Lutheran Church, will give the benediction. Mrs. Francis W. White will sing the National Anthem.

A plaque is being prepared to be placed in the new building which will commemorate the dedication. A second plaque is also being prepared which will honor each and every member of the Greenbelt City Council since the city was incorporated. It is being planned that these plaques will be unveiled by former Mayors Thomas J. Canning and Frank J. Lastner.

Also included as part of the dedication ceremonies will be the special recognition of all persons who have served as members of the city's advisory boards. Special certificates have been designed and prepared for issuance for these persons.

Swim Team News

by Mary Beth Turner

Last Saturday the annual Cheverly Relays were held at the Cheverly Pool. A total of fourteen teams participated in the twenty-four relay events. Over a thousand people were there, either to swim their teams to victory, or to cheer swimmers to their laurels.

There were three groups of relays: freestyle, medley, and mixed. Each relay team consisted of four swimmers, except for the Special Trophy Event, which was made up of five boys and five girls in five age groups. The Special Trophy Event was a separate relay with a separate trophy and did not count in the team scoring.

Greenbelt made a good showing, in spite of the rough competition. At the end of the freestyle relays Greenbelt was in third place; at the end of the meet Greenbelt held the number 9 spot.

Trophies were awarded to the three teams scoring the highest number of points. The scores of all the teams in descending order were as follows: (1) Cheverly - 224; (2) Silver Spring "Y" - 218; (3) Adelphi - 154; (4) Takoma - 105; (5) Summit Hill - 84; (6) Carrollton - 78; (7) Oxon Hill - 40; (8) Beltsville - 28; (9) Greenbelt - 27; (10) Andrews Air Force - 20; (11) Burn Brae - 12; (12) Rock Creek - 10; (13) Rosemary - 2; (14) Indian Head (0).

On Saturday, August 29, there will be an All-Star Meet at 9 a.m. at the Cheverly Pool. Participating swimmers and other interested persons are asked to meet at 8 a.m. sharp at the local pool.

Anne: A Remembrance

Anne Hull

Tuesday's papers carried the story that Anne Carter Hull, wife of Dayton, died on August 24.

To oldtime Greenbelters, this meant the loss of a dear and gracious friend. To staffers of the News Review who served as members of the Cooperator staff, it meant the loss of one of our ablest and most talented former editors.

Anne and Dayton came to Greenbelt in the early 1940's along with a lot of us who are still here. Their youngsters Debbie and Chip were in nursery school with our children. Dayton was president of "the co-op" — as we called our Consumer Discount in those days — and Anne was hostess to the earnest cooperators of the time; it was at the Hulls' house at 2-B Woodway that we heard the first Burl Ives album (what a long time ago it was!)

The oldtimers credit Anne with a number of achievements during her editorship; it was she who encouraged the budding cartoonist Parker (now appearing in a major metropolitan daily) to draw his "Greenbelt at the Crossroads" for the Cooperator. It was Anne's local-color and feature articles from which the 25th anniversary committee selected the background notes for the recent city celebration issue. She combined the quick eye and the ready word of an accomplished writer with the affection and humor of a dedicated citizen and friend to the community.

The Hulls left Greenbelt for an assignment in Greece; upon their return they settled in Kensington, but kept in touch with their friends in Greenbelt. The 25th anniversary dinner for the Cooperator was a glad reunion with them for many of us. We will miss Anne, and we will remember her as the blithe spirit who gave us so much while she was here.

Commissioners Defer Decisions On Re-zoning in Greenbelt Area

The county commissioners sitting as Prince Georges District Council postponed once again on Friday, August 21, the hearings on the 4 Smith and Ewing applications for rezoning the area within Greenbelt city boundaries east of the Baltimore - Washington Parkway. February 19 was the new date set for the hearings. The hearings were first postponed on May 20 on the grounds that such zoning decisions should be deferred until after adoption of the Greenbelt-College Park Master Plan (Area Plan 13).

The Maryland National Capital Park and Planning Commission (MNCPPC) has recommended to the county commissioners that the requests filed by the owners, Frank M. Ewing and Alfred H. Smith, for 105 acres of R-H (high-rise) and 179 acres of R-18 (multiple-family, medium density apartments) be cut back to lower densities — 19.48 acres R-H; 19.86 acres R-10 (multiple-family, high-density); and 209 acres R-18. The land is presently zoned R-R (rural residential).

The city of Greenbelt has consistently opposed both the original Smith & Ewing petitions and the watered-down recommendations of the MNCPPC. The city's Advisory Planning Board has recommended development of the area for single-family homes.

The arguments presented against high-density development of the land east of the Baltimore-Washington Parkway are that the city's population will become four times greater than at present without adequate means available for handling the additional traffic load and providing the city services. Also argued is that the city will become an unbalanced community in that 80 percent of the population will be living in rental apartments. Finally, it is feared that development of this land for apartments will set a pattern for the development of the remaining vacant land in Greenbelt.

The land recommended by MNCPPC for high-rise apartments is located north of Glen Dale Rd adjacent to the Washington-Baltimore Parkway. It is a largely wooded tract, recently used, in part, for sand and gravel excavation.

The land suggested for R-10 zoning is across the road from the high-rise apartments, nearest the Parkway. The R-18 zoning is located on both sides of Glen Dale Rd to the east and southeast of the high-rise apartments.

Action has been deferred by the county commissioners on rezoning

Lakewood Picnic

The Lakewood Citizens Association will hold its annual picnic on Saturday, August 29 from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. at Greenbelt Lake. Families should bring picnic lunches — soft drinks will be furnished. A ferris wheel and Henry's Ice-cream truck will be on the grounds. Everyone from Lakewood is welcome.

Pupils Urged to Register

The Board of Education of Prince George's County urges all pupils who are new to the County and who will be attending either a junior or senior high school to go to the school, prior to the opening day, on any week day to register, to arrange their schedules, and to receive their room assignments.

All children who have moved into Prince Georges County and who have not registered should do so without fail on Friday, September 4, between 9 a.m. and 3:30 p.m., and such registrations may occur at all schools, both elementary and secondary.

The opening day of school is Tuesday, September 8.

For Future Nurses

A deadline date of September 1st has been set for registration for the twelve month, tuition free course in Practical Nursing being offered by Prince George's General Hospital.

Additional information on the course can be obtained from Miss Welch at Prince George's General Hospital, SP 3-3300, Ext. 572.

requests for an 150-acre apartment-industrial complex east of the Goddard Space Flight Center and adjacent to the DuVal High School. However, the commissioners heard five hours of testimony on Friday, August 21, from the petitioners and from opponents, including the city of Greenbelt, after denying a request to postpone hearings pending the adoption of Master Plan for Area 13.

The plan, presented by developer Alfred H. Smith and his attorney, Herbert W. Reichelt, included 64 acres of I-2 (heavy industry); 20 acres of high-rise apartments; and 65.4 acres of R-18 (medium density apartments). The seven tracts of land are currently zoned rural residential.

Fred W. Tuemmler, a planner who testified for Smith, said that the proposed industrial area would provide jobs for about 600-1,200 persons, attracting high-type industry in the electronics field closely linked with the space center. Officials of NASA agreed that the industrial area would be useful, but stated that they did not encourage its development.

The apartments would provide 1,970 units and an additional population of more than 5,000 persons, according to the staff planners of MNCPPC.

The city of Greenbelt, represented by attorney Joseph A. DePaul, argued against the seven rezoning petitions over the objection of Reichelt who felt that Greenbelt should not enter the case. Reichelt, however, was overruled.

John R. Joyner, a professional planner employed by the city, said the project would cause up to 11,000 vehicle movements a day. This would affect Greenbelt because much of the traffic generated by the project would pass through the city, which is not equipped to handle it.

Greenbelt City councilman Dave Champion said the Master Plan and other plans propose single family homes for the area. Although the MNCPPC has indicated that no other apartment zoning applications have been approved in the immediate vicinity, Champion pointed out that previously denied applications for apartment zoning on Telegraph Rd. adjacent to the petitioned area have been appealed and are pending in the courts. Approval of the current petitions is likely to set off a chain reaction leading to justifications for other apartment zoning.

Reichelt contended that the project would be of "tremendous value to Prince Georges County." DePaul argued that the rezoning applications were premature. It was pointed out that an industrial park generating 1,000 jobs can hardly justify a 2,000 unit apartment project.

The county commissioners did take action on one zoning request in the Greenbelt Center. It approved a C-1 (commercial) zoning for a 7,500 square foot site next to the post office. A medical building will be erected on the site.

To Hold Lawn Course On September 1, 9, 15

The Prince George's County Cooperative Extension Service announces that a short course on lawn development and maintenance will be held on September 1st, 9th, and 15th. The meeting places are listed as follows: September 1, Prince George's County Memorial Library, 6532 Adelphi Road, Hyattsville, September 9, Auditorium, Prince George's Plaza, East West Highway, Hyattsville, September 15, Prince George's County Memorial Library, 6532 Adelphi Road, Hyattsville. The time of all the meetings is 8:15 p.m.

The short course is open to all home owners and commercial businesses. There is no charge for the course, but an advance registration is required. All persons desiring to attend the course should write to the Prince George's County Extension Office and request tickets. Specialists from the University of Maryland and the County Extension Office will teach the course.

TO BOYCOTT PLAZA

To the Editor:

Saturday evening, Aug. 15, my wife drove our automobile out of Klein's at the Beltway Plaza, was struck by another car coming west on Greenbelt Road—and suddenly the traffic control problem there I have been reading about became a very personal and almost tragic thing to me.

But for the matter of a split second, and—quite likely—her seat belt, my wife almost certainly would have been killed.

I realize such accidents are becoming almost commonplace. Much has been said, nothing has been done.

I refuse to believe we must wait until one, two, three, four or five persons have been killed in an accident there before traffic lights will be installed.

We have decided this: until traffic lights are installed at Beltway Plaza, our family will refuse to patronize any store in that center. This is an open invitation to anyone else who wants to join in this form of protest.

A copy of this letter is being sent to every store at Beltway Plaza. Perhaps some one will awaken to the tragic possibilities before it is too late.

Apparent callousness of the developer of Beltway Plaza is in bitter contrast to the kindness of the passing motorists, whose names we do not know, who assisted my wife, the Branchville Rescue Squad which sped her to the hospital, and the Greenbelt police, who so quickly and efficiently took charge.

sons who have voluntarily given their time to the city. The first of these certificates, which will be issued to each person upon the completion of his service on an advisory board, will be presented on this occasion.

Another "first" at the dedication ceremony will be the flying of flags on the new flag poles which have been erected to the east of the building. These thirty-foot aluminum poles will fly the city and state flags in addition to the American flag for the first time on the day of dedication.

Following the dedication ceremonies the Municipal Building will be open to the public for a tour. Besides being able to see all the offices in the building, visitors will have an opportunity to see the art exhibits and other displays which the Labor Day Festival Committee will place in the Council room. Light refreshments are being planned for visitors to the open house.

Parade

Along with the desire to be a fireman, drive a train, and pilot a jet aircraft, most youngsters become excited at the opportunity to join a parade. Just such an opportunity will be available to youngsters under 16 who decorate some wheeled device to enter the Kiddie Parade competition being sponsored during this year's Labor Day Festival parade by the Greenbelt Lions Club. Prizes will be awarded in about 25 categories such as best decorated bicycle, tricycle, scooter, baby carriage, etc.

The assembly point for those who wish to enter the Kiddie Parade competition will be announced by the Greenbelt Recreation Department.

Pancake Breakfast

You'll have to get up early to beat those Greenbelt Lions. They are preparing to feed the early and late Sunday morning risers sausage and pancake breakfast between 9 A.M. and 1 P.M. on September 6.

All this activity will take place at the Greenbelt Center west parking lot, behind the Municipal Center. Local Lions have adult tickets which entitle the holder to all he can eat, or adult and children's tickets may be purchased at the affair.

Coffee and milk will be available to clear those sleepy taste-buds for the tempting plain and fancy flapjacks.

City Notes

On Monday the Public Works crew completed the erection of three flag poles beside the Municipal Building. These poles, made out of aluminum, stand thirty feet tall and are mounted on concrete pedestals constructed by the crew. Since their erection a number of Greenbelters have been busy sighting the poles to determine that they are straight and of equal heights. Buddy Attick, Superintendent of Public Works, assures us, however, that according to his surveying instruments the poles are 100% in line and of the same height. The United States, Maryland, and Greenbelt flags will be flown from the poles for the first time on Sunday, September 6, when the Municipal Building is dedicated.

The line painting crew has completed the painting of the guard rails at the underpasses. On Tuesday this crew began relining the parking spaces in the east center parking lot. Because of the shortage of space in that lot on Friday evenings and Saturdays the crew has marked off additional spaces in the lot. Residents are urged to follow carefully the directional lines and parking space guide lines in order to insure the maximum utilization of this very convenient parking facility.

Springhill Lake residents will be interested to note the work being done along Edmonston Road. A city crew has constructed a gravel pathway from the Junior High School to the southern end of the Springhill Lake property in order that children attending the Junior High School need not walk in the street in that location. The summer time crew of high school boys employed by the city has also been working in the same general area removing trees and shrubs from along the shoulders of the road. The city has also given permission to the developers to reconstruct Edmonston Road at the point where the old highway intersected the new street.

you want to pay." It was agreed that the city manager would discuss the matter further with the Rigger firm, to see whether a contract could be negotiated.

Other Business

Before stumbling over the swimming pool bid, Council agreed to award a workmen's compensation and liability insurance contract to Anthony Madden, representing Nationwide Insurance Co., for the low bid of $7,113; a miscellaneous maintenance construction contract to A. H. Smith of Branchville for the low bid of $18,731.97; and the contract for the purchase of certificates of indebtedness totalling $150,000 for the construction of the swimming pool to the Suburban Trust Co. for an interest rate of 2.9 per cent.

Awarding of the contracts is pending a final check of the bids by the City Manager. Suburban Trust was the only financial institution to bid on the certificates of indebtedness.

Council agreed unanimously to transfer $1,400 from the reserve for contingencies to community promotion ($1,000) and street lighting ($400). The $1,000 is to cover the cost of the dedication ceremony at the new municipal building, Sept. 6, and the $400 is to complete the installation of lights in the parking lot.

Land for High School

Council discussed, without reaching agreement, the request of the county Board of Education that Greenbelt donate about five acres of land fill site on Northway extended for use as an athletic field for a senior high school.

The debate centered on the question of whether city should donate the land, or try to get the Board of Education to pay for it. There was no disagreement on the notion that Greenbelt should have a new high school.

Councilman Hoff urged that the land be donated.

"This is a cheap gift for what we will get in return," he said. "A high school would bring us an athletic program that would raise the spirits of the community, and eliminate many of the present problems we have with buses"

After lengthy discussion it was agreed that a meeting should be arranged with the county school board to discuss all facets of the proposed school building program in Greenbelt.

Tid-bits

In other actions, Council:

Appointed Reggie McNamara, 9140 Edmonston Road, Spring Hill Lake, to the Personnel Advisory Board, succeeding Gerald Gough, resigned.

Appointed James Cassels, 125 Northway, to Employees Relations Board, succeeding Walter G. Mann, resigned.

Appointed Mrs. Marjorie Bergemann, 3-D Crescent to the Charter Review Committee to fill a vacancy.

Postponed until the next meeting the question of acquisition of park land by the city.

Asked the Advisory Planning Board to give its opinion to the city manager on possible new sites for warehouse facilities, with a report from the city manager to be made at the Oct. 5 meeting.

Agreed on a resolution of appreciation to Mr. Brook Hayes and a citation to Reverend Braund for their participation at the dedication ceremony of the municipal building.

Discussed a report by Ronald M. Dick, administrative aide, on citizens complaints concerning trash collection, and agreed that overall the collection system is working very well.

CITIZEN'S CHARTER CONVENTION

"THE VOICE OF THE PEOPLE..."

Statement of Principles

We are dedicated to write a Charter which will establish Home Rule for Prince Georges County.

- Believing that the cure for the ills of democracy is more not less democracy
- Recognizing that a Home Rule Charter may take several forms (elected county executive, county manager etc.)
- Understanding that the people of Prince Georges County are entitled to a full (NOT PARTIAL) choice as to the form the Home Rule Charter will take

We therefore pledge to write a charter embracing a form of representative government which accurately reflects the will of the People of Prince Georges County.
