Citizens Present Their Views At County Delegation Hearing

by David Stern

At a hearing held Wednesday, Feb. 24, in the state house in Annapolis, local associations and individuals expressed their views on zoning and planning to Prince Georges County's delegation to the Maryland Assembly and recommended legislation to alleviate some of the more pressing needs. Many of the points raised during the hearing reflected, directly or indirectly, conclusions drawn from the Jaeger zoning case.

Edward Conroy, who heads the county delegation, chaired the hearing which was held in the marble-decked assembly hall. Present were most of the delegates; Prince Georges Senator Fred Wineland; County Commissioner Gladys Spellman; William Stevens, chairman of the Maryland-National Capital Park and Planning Commission (MNCPPC); and about 120 county residents. Among the Greenbelters present were Mayor Edgar Smith, Councilman David Champion, City Manager James Giese, and Simon Pristoop, representing the Prince Georges Citizens Planning Association.

Zoning by Courts Opposed

First to speak was Mrs. Gordon Hull, president of the League of Women Voters (LWV), on parkland needs in the county. She supported the proposed legislation to enable the MNCPPC to buy scenic easements on land without outright purchase (a bill to this end has since been introduced in the assembly). She also spoke in favor of laws which would require developers either to allocate part of their land to parks or, where this is impractical, to pay an equivalent amount for parkland development.

Mrs. Merwin Phelps (also representing the LWV), expressed the opinion that zoning is essentially a legislative process; therefore, she urged that the power of courts to reverse zoning decisions be abolished. She also said that zoning changes, because of their importance, should require the approval of more than a simple majority of the Board of Commissioners. Mrs.

Phelps supported the demand that recommendations of the technical staff of MNCPPC go on record in zoning hearings, and that a zoning decision should be accompanied by a summary stating the exact reasons behind it (as is now being done by the board of zoning appeals).

Sworn Testimony in Zoning

The next speaker, Mayor William Gullett of College Park (introduced by Mayor Smith of Greenbelt), asked for legislation requiring cities to make recommendations on zoning within their boundaries, and requiring the commissioners to include these recommendations in the record of each zoning case. Gullett was followed by Walter H. Maloney of the Prince Georges County Civic Federation, whose long presentation reiterated many points previously raised and introduced some new ones, such as the demand that zoning testimony be given under oath (as is the practice in Baltimore County, among others), and that subpoenas be available for securing such testimony when needed. He also commented on conflict of interest in zoning cases and asked for the appointment of a "people's counsel" who would represent the interest of local residents and associations in rezonings.

Among other speakers was Mayor Smith, who reviewed the Jaeger case and asked for legislation to make municipalities eligible as "aggrieved parties" in any rezoning affecting land within their limits or a stated distance beyond them. William Avrutis, the attorney who together with the city of Greenbelt, carried the Jaeger case to the Maryland Court of Appeals, presented detailed arguments against the 1963 law which removed recommendations of the MNCPPC staff from the zoning record. He noted that, at present, the general public has virtually no way of learning the content of these recommendations.

Spellman Praises Avrutis

The arguments of the evening were summarized by the last speaker, County Commissioner Gladys N. Spellman who first reviewed the points raised by the preceding speakers; then voiced her reservations about some of them; and finally gave reasons for her support of the main proposals.

Speaking about the Jaeger case, Commissioner Spellman said: "Let me tell Mr. Avrutis something that hasn't been said before in the state assembly hall—I do love you. As far as the Jaeger case is concerned—oh, I feel sick about it. It is a terrible defeat in what should have been a victory. But who's responsible? You, the people... you were frightened... and pretty soon we ended with only one person who had the courage, and who lived miles away... And this is why I love Bill Avrutis. He had the courage."

The deadline for introduction of bills in the Maryland assembly was Tuesday, March 2. It is reported that a bill covering many of the points raised has been introduced, though not with the support of the entire delegation.

Council Denies Road Ordinance Waiver Further Discussion of Jaeger Tract

by Al Skolnik

The City Council, at its meeting last Monday March 1, dealt briefly with a number of unrelated items on the agenda and adjourned at the early hour of 10:30 p.m.

The City Council voted to deny the request of Allen Rozansky, owner of the Lakeside North apartments, for a waiver of the city ordinance requirements for street construction. The ordinance specifies the construction of urban roads (32 feet wide, with curbs, gutters, and sidewalks), while Rozansky desired to construct a rural road instead (20 feet wide with side ditches). His reason was that the road (Ridge Road) adjacent to his apartment houses may eventually be relocated by the State Roads Commission (SRC), and the members of the council were inclined to sympathize with his predicament. After some discussion, however, his request was denied on the grounds that it will be a long time—at least six years—before the final road locations are chosen by the SRC. Rozansky was, however, urged to discuss the matter further with the City Manager to see whether some acceptable accommodation might perhaps be made.

Traffic Light Review

City Manager James Giese reported to the council a communication from the State Roads Commission to the effect that no new traffic signal installations will be approved pending a statewide review of the payment arrangements for traffic signals, and the establishment of a uniform, statewide policy for the future. Several councilmen asked whether this meant that installation of a left-turn signal at the intersection of Kenilworth Avenue and Greenbelt Road (which has already been authorized) will be postponed. Giese was asked to look into the matter.

Jaeger Tract

Further repercussions of the recent Jaeger tract decision were also discussed. Mayor Edgar Smith has arranged to meet United States Senators Brewster and Tydings to discuss the possible purchase of the 76-acre Jaeger tract by the federal government for inclusion in the Greenbelt Regional Park. The park surrounds the tract on three sides.

The city's recent appeal of the rezoning of the Jaeger tract for high-rise apartments was rejected by the Court of Appeals on the grounds that the city was not an "aggrieved party"; only individual property owners can be so considered. It is hoped that this situation will be changed in the future by a proposed amendment to Article 17 of the Code of Public Local Laws of Maryland, which would explicitly define the term "aggrieved party" as it relates to zoning action.

Mayor Smith described the proposed amendment, saying it would permit the City of Greenbelt, or even an "association of persons," to appeal to the circuit court any local zoning decision by the county commissioners sitting as the district council. The proposed amendment

Policeman Delivers Baby

Thomas Galifaro, 14-C Crescent, of the Greenbelt Police Department, delivered a baby girl on Thursday night, Feb. 25. Galifaro, who is also a member of the Volunteer Fire Department and Rescue Squad, was at the firehouse when the emergency call came in. He responded immediately, and "just barely had time to put on the rubber gloves."

Galifaro has delivered three other babies in the past: two in Bethesda and one in Branchville. He was a hospital corpsman and dental technician in the navy. Galifaro is married and has two children.

The city has received an unexpected bill for $1,328 extra for the swimming pool renovation, because of an error by the engineering firm of Greenhorne and O'Mara. The specifications for the thickness of the concrete bottom of the pool were erroneously stated as six inches, rather than the true thickness, ten inches. The city noted this error some time ago, and so informed the engineering firm, which deleted all the errors but one, on the last page. When the subcontractor now at work on the pool discovered the mistake, he presented the additional bill. Council has referred the matter to the city solicitor.

UN Essay Contests

An essay contest is being held for students of the Greenbelt Junior High School to stimulate interest in and knowledge of the worldwide, day-to-day work of the United Nations. The Greenbelt Chapter of the American Association for United Nations is sponsoring the contest, and the prize—a two-day trip to New York—comes from the Twin Pines sale of UNICEF greeting cards and calendars.

Papers must be from 1,000 to 1,500 words long and cover the work of a UN Agency dealing with either (1) education (2) refugees (3) relief (4) economic development or (5) health. Papers must be turned in by March 19.

The winner will travel to New York May 1-2 with the Greenbelt Travel Club. The group will visit both the United Nations and the World's Fair.

The Twin Pines office has information on both the contest and the New York trip.

GHI to Canvass Members On Future Needs and Plans

by Al Skolnik

Greenbelt Homes, Inc. homeowners will receive a questionnaire this week asking their views on the future development of the corporation. The GHI board of directors at its February 25 meeting authorized the questionnaire which will be sent out under the auspices of the Long-Range Planning Committee. Questionnaires will be mailed to each home and replies will be requested by March 16. Replies will be anonymous.

The Committee hopes through the survey to get information on such topics as future housing plans and needs of individuals, adequacy of homes and parking facilities, and attitudes toward present GHI and government services, toward use of GHI vacant land and toward long-range financing of resales. Also asked will be questions on the extent to which members are interested in remodeling their homes and how much they are willing to invest for such purpose.

With this information, the Committee feels it will be in a better position to recommend guidelines and policies on the future of the frame homes, use of vacant land, home improvements, beautification of grounds, and the scope of GHI operations in general.

Zoning Meetings

The board urged GHI members to attend Monday's special city council meeting on the Area 13 Master Plan and Greenbelt's own Master Plan. This meeting is being held in preparation for the March 12 public hearing by the County Commissioners on petitions for rezoning land east of the Baltimore-Washington Parkway. The two master plans differ with respect to the zoning of the Smith-Ewing properties within the city's boundaries. The city wants generally R-30 (townhouse) zoning for this area while the Area 13 plan calls for R-18 and R-10 (medium and high-density apartment) zoning.

Petitions will be circulated this week appealing to the Secretary of the Interior to purchase the 76-acre Jaeger tract for incorporation into the Greenbelt Regional Park. Petition forms are available at Twin Pines.

Other Matters

The board received a recommendation from the Joint Maintenance and Improvements Committee that members be advised that heating pipes must be kept intact after removal of radiators, so that a new owner could replace radiators if so desired. Also recommended was that testing of new lines and systems for additions be done in the presence of GHI personnel.

Plans are going ahead for the construction of a boat and trailer park near the Administration Building. Sufficient members have indicated interest so that 1 lot (10 units) could be started. The yearly rent would be $36.

The GHI board donated $100 for the sponsorship of a Little League baseball team.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING City of Greenbelt Maryland

GREENBELT MASTER PLAN

March 8, 1965 - 8:00 P.M.

GREENBELT MUNICIPAL BUILDING, 25 CRESCENT ROAD

The Mayor and Council of Greenbelt, Maryland, have called a public hearing for Monday, March 8, 1965, at 8:00 P.M. to consider the proposed Master Plan for the City of Greenbelt and surrounding areas to be adopted by the City Council. This master plan will be the basis for the City of Greenbelt's recommendations to the Maryland-National Capital Park and Planning Commission and to the County Commissioners of Prince George's County concerning the zoning of property in Greenbelt and in the unincorporated area to the southeast of the city limits lying between Glenn Dale Road and Good Luck Road.

The proposed Greenbelt Master Plan was prepared by the consulting firm of Marcou, O'Leary and Associates working with the Greenbelt Advisory Planning Board. A public hearing was previously held concerning this proposed plan on July 20, 1964. Since that time the City Council has reviewed the plan with its consultants, and a number of changes to the plan were tentatively approved. Also, the Maryland-National Capital Park and Planning Commission has adopted its Master Plan for Planning Area 13 N - Greenbelt, College Park and Vicinity.

Copies of the tentatively approved Greenbelt Master Plan, together with a comparative map showing the master plan adopted by the Park and Planning Commission, are on display in the upstairs lobby of the Greenbelt Municipal Building and may be examined at any time.

Coming Up--Two Hearings

Two different zoning hearings are coming up in the next week—one in Greenbelt and one in Hyattsville.

The Greenbelt city council will hold a public meeting next Monday to consider formal adoption of the Greenbelt Master plan.

A map comparing Greenbelt's tentatively-approved plan with the Area 13 Master Plan is on display in the Municipal Building lobby. (See map on page 8).

This will be the first opportunity for Greenbelt residents to publicly discuss and comment on the plan.

It is not expected that the County Commissioners will hold any public hearings on their master plan. However, the District Council will hold hearings Friday, March 12, at the County Service Building in Hyattsville, to hear 25 petitions for rezoning land east of the Baltimore-Washington Parkway.

Individual residents of Greenbelt are urged to attend and to testify at the hearings. The latest Maryland court decisions have raised serious doubt as to the extent that the city of Greenbelt can represent its own citizens as aggrieved parties.

Wonder of Wonders

Public meetings are more often endured than enjoyed: all too often, speakers stray off their subjects into dull monologues that prolong the expected closing hour.

It is therefore a great pleasure to point to an exception. The hearing conducted by the county's delegation to the Maryland State Assembly on Feb. 24 (described elsewhere in this issue) was one of the best ever held in this area. There wasn't a dull moment all evening; presentations were concise and informative; speakers all remained within the bounds of their subject, time available, and—wonder-of-wonders—even taste. The chairman, Delegate Edward Conroy, conducted the meeting with an experienced hand and, judging from their questions, he and the rest of the delegates enjoyed the evening as much as the citizens.

Beware of Impostors

To the Editor:

In last week's issue you had a small article concerning the Ambulance Club Fund Drive. The article mentioned the possibility of imposters soliciting for funds.

I should like to reiterate this warning! Every legitimate fund drive has its share of imposters. These people are thieves, depriving the public of services for which they are subscribing. They are not averse to falsely claiming to be members of the soliciting Squad, or they may claim to be from neighboring areas and make false and derogatory remarks concerning the local unit.

BEWARE THESE HUCKSTERS!

In an attempt to reach more people and to help prevent these imposters from coming into our town, the Greenbelt Fire Dept. & Rescue Squad is distributing coin cards to every home in Greenbelt. We will start collecting them in the middle of March and continue until the middle of April. EVERY COLLECTOR WILL BE A MEMBER OF THIS DEPT. He will wear a badge. The badge will have the words Greenbelt VFD & RS, an emblem, and (excepting officers) the numerals "35", our company's number. In addition he will carry on his person a current card showing his membership in the Department for 1965. He will give you a FULL receipt for all monies you donate, from the Greenbelt VFD & RS.

If you are approached for funds for an "Ambulance Drive" and you are not sure of the collector, call the police (474-5454) or the firehouse (474-5511). Give generously . . . but wisely.

Victor M. Fisher
Lt. Rescue Squad

Lakeside Citizens Assoc.

A joint meeting will be held by the Lakeside Citizens Association and the Lakeside Association (oil accounts) on Thursday night, March 25, at the firehouse. A business meeting at which officers will be elected is scheduled by the oil accounts group from 8 to 9 p.m. A general, combined meeting of the two groups will begin at 9 p.m. New Lakesiders are invited to attend.

Unitarians to Dedicate Paint Branch Church

The Paint Branch Unitarian Church, which began ten years ago as a small group meeting in a University of Maryland building to hear services piped in from the downtown All Souls' Unitarian Church, will dedicate its new church building on Sunday, March 7th.

The modern building, located on a wooded five-acre tract at 3215 Powder Mill Road in Adelphi, was designed to house the church's religious education school but it will be used for regular Sunday services until a second building—including an auditorium, social hall, library and offices—can be built.

The three-day dedication activities will begin Thursday, March 4, at the church with an "Evening with the Arts." A Candlelight Dinner will be held Friday evening at 7 p.m. and an Open House will be held Sunday, March 7, from 3 to 5:30 p.m. following the Dedication Services at 9 and 11 a.m.

Started as the College Park Center of All Souls' Church, the Paint Branch Church has enjoyed a consistent and satisfying growth. The Rev. David P. Osborn has served as its minister since 1957, and services have been held in a temporary building on the campus of the university.

Because of the growth of the church membership and space limitations of the new church plant, two services are held each Sunday at 9 a.m. and 11 a.m. It is hoped to consolidate the services once a church auditorium is built.

Catholic Retreats

Retreats are scheduled each week-end in March and April at the Washington Retreat House, 4000 Harewood Road, N. E. On March 5-7, Rev. William Kaifer, S. J. of Georgetown University, will conduct a retreat for student nurses.

Rev. Ferris Kleem, C.S.C. of the Maronite Seminary will conduct a retreat for secretaries and State Department employees on March 12-14.

Rev. James McNamara, S.J. will be the retreat master the week-end of March 19-21, Rev. Eugene Linehan, S.J. of Woodstock College, on March 26-28, and Rev. William Horton, S.J. of Georgetown will conduct the Palm Sunday week-end spiritual exercises.

Two married couples' retreats are scheduled: April 3-4, Rev. James Gillen will conduct the spiritual exercises and Rev. Luis Dolan, C.P. will conduct a Better World retreat for married couples April 23-25.

For reservations or further information, please contact the Retreat House at 529-1111.

Spring Concert By Greenbelt Band

The Greenbelt Concert Band will hold its Spring Concert at the Greenbelt Center Elementary School, Tuesday, March 9 at 8 p.m. Featured soloists will be George Townsend on flute and James Robinson on trumpet. The concert is sponsored by the Greenbelt Recreation Department. Admission is free and the concert is open to the public.

High Point High Points

By Rachelle Chasnoff

It's that time of year again, when something happens every minute at school! High Point's Eleventh Annual Science Fair will take place on Saturday, March 6, from 1 to 8:30 p.m., and on Sunday, March 7 from 1 to 4 p.m. in the cafeteria, for public visitation.

The annual Blue and Gold Nights, designated specifically to honor students who contribute to High Point through extra-curricular service, will be held March 12 and 19 at 8 p.m. in the boys' gymnasium. Featuring "faculty follies" and club talent performances, the first night will serve to present the court of sophomore, junior, and senior students who will be elected for their service by the student body. Court Night, the second evening of the affair, will include individual student talent, alumni talent, and the coronation of the 1965 King and Queen. Alumni and parents of students, as well as all others, are extended a special welcome. Tickets are now available at the school for 75c per night or $1.25 for both evenings if they are purchased at the same time.

Another annual event, the student-faculty basketball games, sponsored by the National Honor Society, is scheduled to be played on March 26 in the boys' gymnasium. Senior Class members will comprise the boys' and girls' teams, while members of the faculty will show off their athletic abilities. The High Point Gymkana Team will provide halftime entertainment. Profits from the games will go to the National Honor Society scholarship fund which is awarded to a worthy Senior to aid him with his college education costs.

Barbara Bowman, Susan Ellerin, Missy Brady, and Barbara Skolnik, junior journalism students, will be among the High Point contingent to the Forty-first Annual Convention of the Columbia Scholastic Press Association March 11, 12 & 13 in New York City. Miss Dorothy Beck, journalism instructor, will accompany the delegates who will attend meetings concerning various phases of school publications.

Bach Festival

Musically speaking, the annual Bach Festival will be presented at High Point on March 22 by the Summit Singers, Harmonettes, orchestra, and band. March 27 is the date for the HP Spring Choral Festival by the Concert Choir in Northwestern High School's auditorium.

Interested in something different? Why not consider having High

Point's foreign exchange student for the coming year live with you. Housing for the student is being handled by the Adelphi Chapter of the American Field Service. If you desire further information, call Mrs. Richard Bauer at HE 9-1021.

Civil Service examinations for typing, stenography, and general knowledge are to be given to HP students during the latter part of March or the early part of April. Students who expect to take the test should pick up exam applications when they are made available at school.

High Point Science Fair

High Point High School's Eleventh Annual Science Fair will be held Saturday, March 6, from 1 to 8:30 p.m., and Sunday, March 7, from 1 to 4 p.m. in the cafeteria blue room.

Judges, many from the Department of Agriculture, will award first, second, third prizes and honorable mentions in the following subject areas: botany, zoology, medical sciences, agricultural sciences, chemistry, physics, mathematics, engineering, electronics, planning and architecture, and earth and astronomical sciences.

Richard Stewart, biology teacher and coordinator for the Fair, said that the most popular areas among students are medical sciences and zoology.

In selecting winners, judges will consider scientific thought, originality of concept, thoroughness, ingenuity, technical skill, workmanship, and dramatic value.

Jr. High PTA

The Gymkana group of Greenbelt Junior High School will provide the program for the March meeting of the Greenbelt Junior High School PTA. The meeting, to be held March 9 at 8 p.m. in the gymnasium, will begin with a short business meeting.

The Greenbelt Recreation Department will present a musical program of works by Beethoven, Kirchner and Ravel played by the Maryland University Trio. The program will be presented at the Greenbelt Community Church, chosen because of its fine acoustics, on Wednesday, March 10 at 8:30 p.m.

The Trio consists of Joel Berman, violin, William Skidmore, cello and Evelyn Garvey, Piano.

The Beethoven composition will be Trio V, op. 70, No. 1: Allegro Vivace e con Brio, Largo Assai ed Espressivo, Presto. They will then play the Kirchner's Trio (1954): Adagio - Marcato - Adagio - Marcato, Largo.

Following an intermission, Ravel's Trio will be rendered: Modere, Pantoum-Assez Vif, Passacaille-Trez large, Final-anime.

This concert will be presented free of charge and the public is invited.

Teachers Needed For Adult Non-readers

Persons wishing to join the "Each One Teach One" movement may do so by taking the training course offered by the Prince George's County Literacy Council next week. The Council is dedicated to the task of finding adult non-readers in the County and teaching them to read and write. Using the Laubach method, teachers work with just one student, privately and at no cost to the student. Both men and women are urgently needed.

The only requirement for teachers is that they take the nine hour training course in the use of the prescribed materials. Any adult reader can teach a non-reader by this method. The workshop will be held at the Pepsi Cola plant, Kenilworth Ave., Cheverly, Md. March 8, 9, 11, 12 from 7:30 until 10:00 p.m.

Registrations for the course are being taken by Mrs. J. Crandell at 864-6058.

Second Klein Store Opens

S. Klein Department Stores, Inc., will open its second Washington area store in Virginia Plaza on the Alexandria-Fairfax County line. The tentative opening date is Monday, March 8, 1965, Henry Wolfgang, area managing director, announced today.

"We are convinced that the cosmopolitan character of Northern Virginia and S. Klein will make for a happy combination, just as has resulted with our Maryland store and the surrounding communities of Greenbelt," Wolfgang said.

Renew License Tags Early

It's "that time of year" again--for auto license tags, at least--and time to apply for your 1965 plates if you wish to avoid the last-minute rush, the American Automobile Association reminds Maryland residents.

The new license plates will be gold with black letters, and will cost Maryland car owners $15 for cars weighing 3,700 pounds or less; or, $23 for cars weighing over 3,700 pounds. Present Maryland tags expire at midnight, March 31, but new tags may be displayed anytime after March 1.

Applications for license plate renewals must be accompanied by Form UCJ-1A, showing proof that the car owner carries public liability insurance. This form is usually mailed to the policyholder by his insurance company, or it can be obtained on request. Failure to file Form UCJ-1A means that the applicant must pay a $70 uninsured motorists' fee, which does not provide the applicant with any form of insurance.

Renewal applications are mailed to residents previously registered in Maryland; however, the AAA advises motorists who do not receive their renewal applications prior to March 15 to contact the Department of Motor Vehicles immediately. Applications for registration should be mailed to: Department of Motor Vehicles, 6601 Ritchie Highway, N.E., Glen Burnie, Maryland. Or, contact the nearest AAA office.

Woman's Club News

At the meeting of the City Council on March 1, 1965, Mayor Edgar Smith issued a proclamation citing the Woman's Club for outstanding service to the Community. Mrs. Charles T. McDonald, president of the Woman's Club, accepted the acknowledgment. For 25 years club members have shown a united interest in educational, moral, and social community matters.

Plans for this month include the Executive Board Meeting on March 4 at 8:15 p.m., at the home of Mrs. Charles M. Cormack, 6-M Ridge. The Membership Meeting will be held at 8 p.m., March 11, in the Social Room of Community Church. Musicians Mr. and Mrs. James Basta will perform.

A tour of the Hickory Farms Store at Capital Plaza will begin at 8 p.m. on March 18. Members are urged to bring guests for this event. Call Mrs. Edward Kaighn for further details. Her phone number is GR 4-5129. Transportation will be furnished.
