CONTRACTS AWARDED BY COUNCIL; LENGTHY AGENDA IS CONSIDERED by Charles T. McDonald

The regular meeting of City Council on August 16 handled a twenty-item agenda in record time; the meeting was adjourned at 10:45 p.m. Items on the agenda included: the awarding of contracts in the approximate amount of $24,000; the second reading of an ordinance to authorize the city to sell bonds in the amount of $250,000 for parkland; and an ordinance to provide for levying a special assessment against property owners in cases of road construction.

Two of the five members of the City Council, Mayor Edgar Smith and Mayor Pro-tem Dave Champion, were out of town on vacation. The meeting was called to order by the City Clerk, and Councilman Lewis Bernstein was elected as chairman of the meeting.

Bids were opened, and after consideration by City Manager James Giese, the low bidders were awarded the contracts. The G. L. Cornell Co. received the award on a bid of $1,390 on a triplex mower; and the Drummond Co. of Baltimore was awarded the contract for road sursading and smooth seal paving for $15,549.40.

Parkland Acquisition

The ordinance to authorize and empower the city to issue and sell $250,000 in bonds for the purchase of land for parks and a Municipal Service building was put off for final decision until Wednesday, August 25. Adoption of a technical amendment prevented final passage inst Monday.

Some discussion took place as to the possibility of getting federal aid on the purchase of land for a Service Building to replace the old city warehouse, but it was explained that only park maintenance faciliby land, in connection with open space land, might be purchased with federal aid; but not land for a municipal service building.

Public Hearing

A public hearing was scheduled for September 13 to hear the views of citizens on establishing policies for levying special assessments against property owners for road construction projects such as the planned improvement of Greenhill-Millside Rds.

Under the approval of bills for the Swimming Pool construction, Master Plan.

much criticism of the work was forthcoming from members of Council and citizens alike. The approval of the payment of the bills was given with instructions to the City Manager to have the builder's mistakes remedied before paying the bills.

Police in Center

Under petitions and requests, the Shopping Center merchants were represented on a complaint of the lack of regular police officers assigned to the Center, particularly at the time when recreation activities are closing for the evening and large groups of teenagers move to the Center. # City, GHI, File Appeals Against Zoning Decisions

Joseph DePaul, Greenbelt's special zoning attorney, announced that an appeal petition was filed on Friday, August 13, with the Circuit Court of Appeal. The petition appealing the recent decisions of the county commissioners on the Golden Triangle and the Smith-Ewing tracts, was filed on behalf of the City of Greenbelt, the city council, Greenbelt Homes, Inc. and the following individuals: Edgar Smith, David Champion, Gordon Allen, and Roy Breashears.

The city is contesting the decision of the county commissioners to zone the 57-acre Golden Triangle for general commercial use (C-2) on the grounds, among other, that the commissioners' decision was based on evidence not in the record. The city is also contesting the Smith-Ewing tract decisions as resulting in residential density that would be much higher than that recommended by the Greenbelt

Five Candidates Kow Running In Coming Council Elections

The tempo for the city council election increased this week as four candidates threw their hats into the ring. They are Harvey Geller, 117 Northway; William Hoff, 71-E Ridge; Robert E. Foley, 11-D Parkway; and Clifford H. Simonson, 8-C Ridge. Hoff and Simonson are incumbent councilmen. The only previous candidate to announce officially is Lloyd Moore.

The election for the five-man council will be held on Tuesday, September 21, but all nominating petitions must be in by Monday, August 23.

Deadline to Register Monday, August 23

Monday, August 23, is the last day to register to vote in the coming city council election. The city clerk's office will be open until 5 p.m. that day. Special hours for registration will also be held tonight to 9 p.m. and on Saturday morning from 9 to 12 a.m.

Posted on the bulletin board at the city offices is a list of almost 100 names that have been stricken from the voting rolls because of failure to vote in either of the last two elections. In the last 1963 election, there were 1,724 registered voters of whom 1,393 voted. Two years before that there were 1,473 registered voters of whom 1,060 voted.

To register to vote, one must be a citizen of the U.S., be at least 21 years of age and must have lived in Greenbelt at least six months and in the State of Maryland for one year immediately preceding the election on September 21. It is not necessary for a person to be a registered voter in Maryland to be eligible to vote in Greenbelt. Even though you normally vote in another State for State and national elections, you may still vote in the city election if you meet the other conditions.

Those citizens who have voted in at least one of the two previous regular city elections need not register again, as long as they have lived continuously in Greenhelt.

The city election will feature the election of five city councilmen. Each voter is entitled to vote for as many candidates as there are vacancies to be filled.

The city charter, which governs election procedures, requires that a candidate must receive a majority of the votes to be elected. If fewer than five candidates receive a majority, a "run-off" election is held one week later. In the run-off election, the ballot consists of those remaining candidates receiving the highest number of votes in the first election, up to twice as many names as there are positions to be filled. Candidates polling the greatest number of votes, whether a majority or a plurality, are declared winners in the run-off.

.The biographies of Geller, Hoff and Simonson follow: (Foley's biography was not available at press time):

GELLER

Geller and wife, Helen have three girls, Elise 16, Barbara 14 and Holly 10. A resident of Greenbelt for 8 years, he has been very active in civic affairs. At the present time he is Chairman, Greenbelt Advisory Planning Board; Treasurer, Citizens For a Planned Greenbelt (CFPG); and President, Twin Pines Savings and Loan Association. He has also been active in the Greenbelt Lions Club and GCS, and has been vice-president of North End School for two years.

The Gellers are active 4-Hers. Helen was the leader of the first club in Greenbelt 6 years ago, and is presently the leader of the Little Women club.

Harvey received his bachelors degree from Brooklyn College with a major in Economics, and has done graduate work at both New York University and the Department of Agriculture Graduate School in statistics.

He is Chief, Operational Studies Section, Cancer Control Branch, U. S. Public Health Service. As such he is responsible for a staff that develops and carries out studies dealing with the early detection of cancer and the evaluation of treatment given to cancer patients. He serves as statistical consultant for a number of national medical organizations including the American College of Surgeons, The American College of Radiolology, and the American Academy of General Practice. He is a Fellow of the American Public Health Assocation, and is listed in American Men of Science.

HOFF

Hoff has resided in Greenbelt for 12 years and was elected to the City Council of Greenbelt in 1963. He has served as chairman of the city's Personnel Board and has been a member of the nominations-elections committee of Greenbelt Homes, Inc.

Hoff and his wife, the former Amelia Ann Enkemann, live at 71-E Ridge Road. Mrs. Hoff is a registered nurse. The Hoffs have two daughters, Carol Ann, who is married and lives in Langley Park, and Barbara Ellen, who graduated in June from High Point High School and was one of four featured graduation speakers.

> He gave one architect's price as being 5% of the construction cost of the house, plus $50 for every house built under the same planthis would come to $1200 for ten $15,000 houses, as an example. The cost would be lower if the townhouses and single homes were included as a package. Director Nat Shinderman suggested that the planning of additions, a frequent need, might also be added to the package, while director James Smith felt it could be useful to keep the architect on a permanent retainer. From the floor, Gordon Allen urged that the corporation "shop" for an architect, possibly getting the advice of a present GHI member-architect.

In Car Near Sand Pits

Last Saturday, August 14, police officers found the body of a man in a parked car near the disused sand pits east of the Baltimore Washington Parkway (Smith Ewing property).

Greenbelt Police Officers Brunk and Krob noticed the car a 1965 Chevrolet, at about 4:10 p.m. It was parked about 300 feet from the road. As the officers approached, they noticed a length of garden hose leading from the exhaust pipe to a side vent window, stuffed with rags.

The body of a 38-year-old man lay on the front sect. County Medical Examiner Dr. Kehoe pronounced him dead of carbon monovide poisoning.

The man, a resident of East Riverdale, had been missing from home for three days. He had married around the first of the year. tria family could give no reason for his disappearance.

The purpose of this letter is to recover if possible a small boy's gun and holster, which were stolen down in Candy Cane City this morning when my son took them off to play horseshoes.

My son is 6 and is not in the very best of health due to an enzyme deficiency. This leather holster and gun set was given to him as a birthday present and was hand-tooled in Denver, Colorado, where we lived before coming to Greenbelt.

My daughter, age 5, saw the "big boys" who took the set and told them that it belonged to her brother and she asked them to leave it alone. They refused. This letter is an appeal to the child who has this set, to please return it, no questions asked, to the writer or to the Police Station, to make a very heartbroken little boy happy. We will be most grateful, and will forget what happened.

The belt is wide, black with a large silver buckle, decorated with studs; the holster is black, recorated with studs also and has a white leather string at the bottom. The gun is white and black.

We are new in Greenbelt and this incident could cause us to wonder if we should consider another area more suitable for children.

Frank Getlein to Judge Labor Day Art Festival

The Arts and Crafts Guild announces that Frank Getlein, art critic of the Washington Evening Star, will act as judge for the Labor Day Art Festival. Getlein is widely recognized in art circles as a very experienced and competent critic and judge.

The three-day competition and display will be open to all artists of the Washington area, with major prizes in both professional and amateur categories, and two divisions within each for the various media. With an entry fee of $1.00 per entry (or three for $2.00), all receipts will be added to the pool of prize money. Since this fund will be supplemented by the money raised by the Guild by means of the raffle of Marie Picard's oil painting and profits from the Guild booth, the show is expected to attract many exhibitors from the Metropolitan region. .

Point of View . . . . by Dorothy Sucher

What goes on in those mysterious curtained enclosures, strictly off limits to males: the ladies' try-on rooms of a large department store? What do women talk about when they're standing around in their underwear? Men? No indeed.

The conversations one overhears are generally a mixture of wishful thinking and strict realism.

Women often go shopping in pairs partly for company and partly because they don't quite trust their own judgement. The role of the confidant on these occasions requires tact.

The following conversations were overheard last week.

In the lingerie department: "Don't you think this one's too pointy?"

"Yes, I do. Try that one."

"Well, what do you think."

"It's too saggy."

"How about this one?"

"It's too flat,"

"This one's not bad, but I don't care for the separation." To the salesgirl: "Don't you have something with a nice conservative uplift?'

"I'll see, Madam."

"Really, I don't know who they have in mind when they make these things."

In the dress department: (Indignant middle-aged voice) "Will you look at this-a size 18 and it won't even close!" Friend (casually): "Try a 20." "But I'm size 18."

"What difference does the size make, as long as it fits?"

Better Hearing Month

Early detection of a hearing impairment is vital to successful treatment. A problem that goes unnoticed can change a person's entire way of life, interfere with his business, professional and social activities.

Follow these six rules to help minimize hearing loss:

1. Get a hearing test at least once a year; children's hearing should be tested following any illness which might affect their hearing.

2. At the first sign of ear pain or discharge, consult your physician. 3. Never swim in uninspected pools or stagnant waters.

4. Avoid blowing of the nose or blowing one nostril while closing the other. This may lead to infection in the middle ear.

5. Stay away from loud noises which may cause hearing damage. 6. Keep your ears clean but never use match sticks, metal objects, or other sharp or dangerous instru-

"This dress has been mislabelled, I'm positive of it."

"Still, if it doesn't fit . . . "

"Wait, where's my tape measure. I'm going to measure this dress. You'll see."

"Well, maybe you should try the beige."

(A pause) "What's the matter, is the zipper stuck?"

"Take a deep breath." "I am already."

"Well, I can't close it."

"There must be a thread in the zipper. No? How do you like that! This dress is mislabelled, too. Come on, let's go. I won't come back in a hurry-believe me."

In the bathing suit department: (A young voice) "This one is cute. How do you think it looks on?" "Adorable. Will it stay up with no straps?"

"It has bones."

"Oh, Still, when it's wet . . . "I'm sure it'll stay up."

"Pretend you're swimming."

"Swimming how?"

"Oh, side stroke, crawl . . . That's okay. Now let's see, try the back stroke."

"Oops. Oh well, I guess I'll try the one with straps."

"That one's cute, too."

"Darling. What happens when I bend over?"

"It creeps. Pull it down and bend over again. Yes, it definitely creeps."

"Much?"

"Bend over some more. No I'd say average."

"Well, if it creeps average I don't mind. I definitely hate a bathing suit that creeps too much. How does it fit?"

"Perfect."

"Then I'll take it, but in the next smaller size."

"The next smaller size will really creep."

"Never mind. Tomorrow I'm going on a diet."

the recent referendum (about 15% of the membership voted), but took it as acceptance of the program. His motion, to accept the result as a mandate to go ahead and build the homes, passed unanimously.

Family Criteria

The board moved to the question of applying criteria for choosing among applicants for the homes. Shinderman asked Breashears to contact the members with large families and request them, if interested, to apply in writing. He suggested that a minimum of five children be set. This set off some discussion, with Smith offering an alternate procedure by which any family could apply and the selection would be made "from the top down," i.e. from the largest families down. Director Ed Burgoon finally moved that initially a minimum of five children will be set for eligibility.

Garages

The garage problem was clarified by a letter from counsel Alan Ginsberg (some court residents have complained they do not have garages, while others misuse them). Ginsberg stated that the garages are to be rented only for the purpose of parking a licensed, operating car, unless there is written permission from the board for other use. He has prepared a form of notice which management may use to remind those persons who are in violation of this rule.
