Sickles Slate Wins Here In Democratic Primary

The Sickles slate in Greenbelt won handsomely in the Democratic primary on September 13, especially in the county races.

The battle for county commissioners was probably the best bellwether, with margins of 3 to 1 showing up for the Sickles-backed slate against the Finan team.

In the Statewide races, the differences were much smaller. Carlton Sickles built up a little less than 2-1 margin over Thomas Finan for the governorship. Sickles' 1,085 votes in Greenbelt, however, greatly dwarfed George P. Mahoney's 131.

The only Finan-backed candidate to finish in the money in Greenbelt was Louis Goldstein who got 879 votes to 850 for Charles Boyce.

In the race for Congress from the Fifth District, incumbent Herve Machen had no difficulty, racking up almost twice as many Greenbelt votes as his nearest rival, Elbert M. Byrd, Jr.

The State Senate race from the 1st Subdistrict saw Greenbelt's Mayor Edgar Smith run a strong second in town, only to succumb to the Sickles-backed candidate, Edward Conroy.

High person in the county commissioners' race was incumbent Gladys Spellman who polled 1,052 votes in Greenbelt. For the House of Delegates from the 1st Subdistrict, Paulene Menes led the victorious 3-man Sickles team.

Sickles-backed candidates for treasurer, register of wills, sheriff, State's attorney, and Judges of Orphans' Courts also won by a wide margin in Greenbelt.

A local Greenbelter, Gerald Gough, was elected as delegate to the State Democratic Convention. He drew 927 votes in Greenbelt. Another Greenbelter, Martin Anderson, drew 377 votes in an unsuccessful bid for State Central Committee.

Long Lines Delay Voting

About 1,900 Democrats and 400 Republicans voted in Greenbelt's 3 precincts, the 3rd (Center School), 6th (North End) and the 8th (Springhill Lake) of the 21st district. Democrats often waited in line for two or three hours before their turn arrived; though the entrances to the polls closed at 7 p.m., voting at North End continued until about 9 p.m. and at Center School until about 10 p.m. According to the chairman of the 8th precinct, about 60 voters there were discouraged by the lines and turned away from the polls even though they were already registered by the election supervisors.

Spiro T. Agnew ran up 361 votes in his bid for the Republican gubernatorial nomination to win easily against token opposition. For the post of Comptroller, Charles Bresler received 193 votes in Greenbelt against 172 for his opponent, Harry Simms.

In the Republican race for Congress from 5th District, Lawrence Hogan received 162 votes in Greenbelt, against 99 for Agnes Hatfield, 99 for William Martin, and 44 for Russell Viau. Mrs. Hatfield's campaign was solely led to demonstrate that the candidate listed first on the ballot (where names appear in alphabetical order) has an unfair advantage. She refrained from campaigning and scored

SERIES OF 4 CONCERTS TO BEGIN OCTOBER 15

Arrangements have been completed for the Baltimore Symphony Orchestra, directed by Peter Herman Adler, to give a series of four concerts in Greenbelt this season.

The first Greenbelt concert will be on Saturday evening October 15, at the Junior High School. The young Korean violinist, Miss Kyung Wha Chung, who won second place in the Post-Meriwether contest for musicians in 1964, will play Lalo's Symphonie Espagnole for violin and orchestra. The rest of the program is the same as that of the opening concert to be given in Baltimore this fall. It will begin with Beethoven's Overture to Leonore, No. 3, and conclude with the Symphony in C minor, No. 1, by Brahms.

No subscriptions will be offered after the first concert. Those wishing to subscribe may do so at the Twin Pines office on Centerway beginning Oct. 3, or through one of the subscription workers. Anyone wishing to become a subscription worker may telephone the president of the newly organized Greenbelt Symphony Society (GR 4-4621) after 6:30 p.m.

Teenagers Chant Spirituals At KKK Rally on the Mall

by Rita Fisher

Ten Ku Klux Klansmen made an hour-long attempt to hold a meeting last Sunday evening at the Center Mall but their speeches were drowned out by a hostile audience of about 150. Costumed in red, green and white, the Klansmen wore their pointed hoods high masking their faces with dark glasses.

A crowd rapidly gathered when the Klansmen emerged from their three cars on the North Parking Lot, carrying American and Confederate flags. The Klan group deliberated for a while and then proceeded uphill towards the grass area between the statue and the medical center.

The young people of Greenbelt then started to appear. Perhaps phone calls were made to summon some of them. It was no mistake: Ku Klux Klan had come to Greenbelt to spread their "gospel."

One youngster queried: "I hear you hate Catholics." "Oh, no," was the reply. "In fact, our Imperial Dragon is a Catholic."

"Well then, just what is your aim? What is it you want us to know?" asked an adult.

"We just hate Negroes," came the reply. This was the only time during the whole of the evening that the word was properly pronounced.

With a megaphone in hand, a massively-built man wearing a shiny red costume started speaking. He was identified as Henry Shelton, Imperial Chaplain of Maryland, a former Greenbelter who stated he was the cousin of Imperial Klan Wizard Robert Shelton. His first words brought jeers, shouts and whistles from the crowd, a majority of whom were teenagers. Most of his speech went unheard due to harassment by the audience.

The second Klansman who tried to speak was Dave Harris, the Grand Dragon of Virginia. As he started speaking, Harris attempted to silence the crowd but his words were drowned out as the onlookers began singing "Amen," "Mammy's Little Baby Loves Shortnin' Bread" and "Swing Low Sweet Chariot."

At about 8 p.m. the Klansmen announced that the police had asked them to leave. They went back down the hill and into their cars, assuring those who followed that they would come back.

Parkland Grant Comes Through; City May Appeal Recent Court Decisions

by Al Skolnik

City manager James K. Giese announced at last Monday's city council meeting that the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development has approved the city's application for an Open Space Grant in the amount of $167,575. This money will be used to assist in the purchase of parkland which was authorized by the Greenbelt electorate September a year ago when it voted overwhelmingly for a $250,000 bond issue.

The city is seeking 4 parcels of land consisting of 22 acres located around Greenbelt Lake. Condemnation proceedings to acquire the land by eminent domain have been started against the owners, Crescent Leasing Company, and Charles Bresler and associates. The necessary papers have been served on all the owners except Bresler. According to Giese, the sheriff has been unable to locate Bresler.

Covenants

The possibility of appealing the recent adverse court decisions against Greenbelt in the covenant and Golden Triangle cases will be discussed at a meeting between the city solicitor and city council on Tuesday, September 20, it was announced Monday.

Many persons from the audience urged that the council appeal these cases, especially those relating to the Charlestowne Village covenants and agreement, on the grounds that equity had not been served.

Meetings

The council also set up a series of meetings on other subjects. On Tuesday, Sept. 27, council will meet to discuss appointments to the various advisory boards.

The terms of three members of the Advisory Planning Board expire in October. The members holding these terms at present are Harvey Geller, Edward Wuermsler, and Leo Gerton (who has resigned).

The Recreation Advisory Board has three vacancies. One vacancy was filled on Monday when Councilman Dick Pilski named Donald Kern, 4-G Hillside. All terms expire in May 1967.

Three appointments for terms expiring in May 1967 are still to be made to the Greenbelt Foundation. One term was filled on Monday with the appointment of Charles McDonald.

One vacancy exists on the Community Relations Advisory Board due to the resignation of Peter Whittaker. The term of appointment would be until February 1968. Appointments to this board are made by the Mayor. The council scheduled a meeting with the Community Relations Board for Monday evening, Sept. 26.

Another meeting was scheduled for Saturday morning, Oct. 1, with the Golden Age Club and the city's Advisory Planning Board to discuss plans for a Golden Age Recreation Building.

Ordinances

Several ordinances were introduced for first reading. A group deals with regulation of meetings and parades and use of city facilities. These ordinances, drafted by Mel Powell, assistant city solicitor, impose regulations on such activities which Giese termed "reasonable." Giese noted that the U. S. Constitution guarantees the right of free speech and freedom of assembly and therefore, no matter how unpopular or objectionable the activity, it is unconstitutional for the city to prohibit completely parades, demonstrations, and picketing. In this connection, the council tabled a proposed revised ordinance for regulating the use of parks by organizations and groups until the whole matter was given further review.

Another group of proposed ordinances deals with city personnel matters.

One revises the share that the city will contribute toward the cost of employee's group hospitalization. At present the city pays a fixed share toward each employee's costs and with the rise in premium rates, employees have been bearing the entire burden of the increased costs. Under the proposed ordinance, the city would absorb a percentage of the costs.

Another revises the city's pay plan by eliminating the provisions relating to longevity steps and substituting instead three additional regular in-grade pay steps for which an employee becomes eligible after three years of service at the previous rate. The effect of the change would be to reduce the waiting period for the first longevity step by 1 year. It would also produce greater flexibility, Giese said, in the matter of in-grade promotions.

The council also approved for first reading a resolution embodying the 5 percent pay increase in employees' salaries, effective October 9.

Other Items Covered

The city council agreed to recommend to the County Commissioners that a request by American Legion Post 136 for a new pole sign be approved. The request had been turned down by the Maryland-National Capital Park and Planning Commission because the sign exceeded the size permitted by the county zoning ordinance. According to Post Commander Lawrence Wilkinson, there is no objection by local residents to the larger sign provided it is erected at the present spot. The new sign will eliminate reference to advertising.

The council held up a decision on the plat plan submitted by the school board for the 3-school complex near the Baltimore-Washington Parkway, pending receipt of written comments from Greenbelt Homes, Inc. The city's APB had found that plat plan unacceptable because it did not provide for a perimeter road and had recommended that an access road to the school property be obtained through GHI property opposite the intersection of Eastway with Ridge Road.

Planners Recommend Zoning Parcel 15 For Commercial and Apartment Use

by Elaine Skolnik

In an unexpected move, the Prince Georges County Planning Board on September 14 recommended 27 acres of R-18 (apartment zoning) and 5 acres of C-1 (restricted commercial) zoning for Parcel 15, the land near the Capital Beltway which had been designated for a senior high school on the Greenbelt Master Plan.

The city had not been aware that the owner of Parcel 15—Consolidated Syndicates, Inc. (Charles Bresler, Theodore Lerner, and associates) had amended its original zoning application to R-18 (approximately 18-20 units per acre), a higher density than the original petition of R30 (10-12 apartment units per acre). The land is presently zoned rural residential.

The Greenbelt City Council, Greenbelt Homes, Inc., and Mrs. Evelyn Simonson on behalf of several citizens requested that action on the petitions be deferred until the MNCPPC adopts a revised Area 13 Master Plan for the College Park-Greenbelt area which is acceptable to the county commissioners. This plan, which had been returned by the District Council (county commissioners) in July, 1965, with instructions to lower the densities, originally showed the entire parcel 15 tract in R-30. Later the plan was changed to reflect the senior high school site on parcel 15, in accordance with the wishes of the school board and the city of Greenbelt.

The Prince Georges Newsletter reported on September 17 that the Technical Staff had been "busy on other master plans, and in carrying out the General Assembly's orders to clear up backlog cases," and has not been able to return the Area 13 plan to the District Council. However, it is understood that the Planning Board has scheduled a closed work session on the plan for this week.

City Council's Recommendations
After the County Planning Board turned down the requests for a deferral, Greenbelt's City Manager James K. Giese offered the council's recommendations for parcel 15:

- (1) that single-family zoning (R-55 and R-80) be used for the land north of Prince James Way.
- (2) that R-30 zoning be granted to the south of Prince James Way.

(3) that the request for C-1 for the 5-acre parcel near the American Legion be denied and that R-30 zoning be substituted.

Giese stated that "rezoning the property in accord with the city's recommendations would be an opportunity to reduce the density of development in Greenbelt in accord with the wishes of the County Commissioners when the plan for Area 13 N was rejected."

He continued, "Originally, when the city supported multifamily development in the vicinity of Lakecrest Drive, it was with the explicit written commitments of the property owner that the property would be developed at the very low density of seven units per acre, which is comparable to the original planned development in the city. The developer failed to honor these commitments. Consequently," Giese concluded, "this area is being developed at far higher densities than originally planned, and the singlefamily zoning recommended by the City would be an excellent way of preventing the overextensive concentration of apartments in this area which would occur if the petitioners' requests are granted."

Bresler Plans Motel

Developer Charles Bresler spoke on behalf of the petitions submitted by Consolidated Syndicates. He pointed out that the adjacent land (Charlestowne Village) was zoned R-18 and included an eight story apartment. He also noted that the adjacent American Legion Hall was used for commercial purposes and remained open at late hours.

Bresler indicated that a motel would be constructed on the 5-acre tract next to the Legion. He said a need existed because of the proximity of the Greenbelt Regional Park across the road.

Giese commented later that access to a motel at this spot would be poor because there is no nearby intersection to the Beltway or Parkway. Traffic would have to use the American Legion service driveway from Lakecrest Drive. Giese said the city council is opposed to any commercial zoning on Greenbelt Road between the Capital Beltway and Armory, noting that previous petitions for such zoning have been denied by the county commissioners.

In recommending R-18 for 27 acres, the Planning Board suggested that the land between the water main and Greenbelt Lake be considered for "required green space" when the preliminary plans and record plats are approved. According to the Prince Georges Newsletter, commissioner Virginia Wiltbank was of the opinion that "visual variety" of housing units was required and that the proposed master plan "had too much R-30."

The petitions will now go to the county commissioners for a public hearing.

The city council requested an opportunity to meet with MNCPPC Chairman William Dutton as soon as possible to discuss planning and zoning problems in Greenbelt.

Thank You, Teenagers

To the Editor:

I was not present when the KKK came to Greenbelt, last Sunday. However, I have heard so many favorable comments on the behavior of the teenagers who were at the Center, at the time, that I feel compelled to write this letter.

The opinion of all adults who told me of this "meeting" was that the teenagers, who comprised a large portion of the audience, acted in a praiseworthy manner.

Therefore, on behalf of these adults, and myself, I want to say "THANK YOU" and "WELL DONE" to all teenagers present.

Sincerely,
Victor M. Fisher

Thanks

To the Editor:

We wish to extend our sincere appreciation to the Greenbelt Rescue Squad for their assistance when our daughter, Janice, was injured.

Mrs. and Mrs. Joseph Rosetti

Why Not Ignore Them ?

To the Editor:

Most of the people gathered at the center this past Sunday to hear the KKK were merely curious. Most of us are actually opposed to this organization and believe that their actions lead only to lawlessness. Yet, those who provide them with an audience also unwittingly provide encouragement to their cause.

Why not ignore them and thus frustrate their attempts to gain publicity? Let's exclude them from our circle and let them simmer in their own juice, cast out and ignored.

If the KKK makes another appearance here in Greenbelt, let's use the strategy of ignoring them, and pass them by. The "thunder of silence" can be a powerful force for neutralizing this pernicious evil.

Greenbelt Aquatic Booster Club

The Executive Board of the Greenbelt Aquatic Booster Club held its organizational meeting on Sept. 7. Officers elected included: chairman, George Jones; vice-chairman, E. Klukowsky; and secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Doreen Flood. George Jones, G. Myers and D. Butcher were appointed league representatives.

The following committees were established:

Records, Mrs. Jones; awards, Mr. Butcher; uniforms, Mrs. Mary Merlene; party, Mrs. Flood; winter swimming, Mrs. Penney; publicity, Mr. Brubaker.

Mrs. Penney announced enthusiastic response to plans for Winter Swimming at Columbia College scheduled to begin Oct. 2. There will be 12 weeks of one hour periods to be held Sundays at 6 p.m.

The Board was pleased by the swimming teams good record last year. Greenbelt took second in the Red Division (one of four in the two counties) having been edged out by Andrews Air Force Base in the Division finals.

Plans were discussed for an A and B team, each with its own coach to give every swimmer a better opportunity for more individual instruction and to compete in his own age group. Young people 17 and under in the Greenbelt area are encouraged to participate in swimming next year.

The Longs want to thank their old friends and new ones for the warm reception they received. They write "We found the Center and Co-op store the place to meet friends as in our day of residence." They did, however, miss the Greenbelt band, "a wonderful organization especially for the youth of the community and I hope some day it will be reorganized and playing for all the special events the town offers." Years back the band was a great representative for the community, in all public events, from marching down Pennsylvania Avenue in Washington to being seen in many other places of importance. It would be marvelous if the band could be reactivated.

Mrs. Long, our "Florida correspondent," informs us that seen in Greenbelt at the Labor Day celebration were Mr. and Mrs.

Button, button...

Who's got the buttons?
We have! On the newest phones around—Touch-Tone® telephones!

Ten easy push buttons replace the dial. You can tap out a telephone number as fast as your finger can fly.

A one-time charge of $5 pays for replacing every phone in your house with new Touch-Tone telephones. There's no extra charge for color.

The low monthly billing for Touch-Tone service—no matter how many extensions you now have—is only $1.50 more than regular individual line service ($2 per business line).

Call or visit your Telephone Business Office to find out when Touch-Tone service will be available in your area. The phones are on display. Try them and see how easy it is to make a call the Touch-Tone way.
