$116,000 Grant Approved For Greenbelt Parkland

Congressman Lawrence J. Hogan (R-Md) last week announced approval of a $116,000 Open-Space grant for Greenbelt. The HUD grant is authorized by the Housing Act of 1961.

Verbal notice had already been received by the city from Howard LePoers, HUD Field Representative for this area that the grant would be available for the purchase of 11.1 acres of parkland near the Kenilworth entrance to the city. This acreage consists of two pieces of land - Parcels 7 and 8. Parcel 7, which is part of the original Boxwood Village tract, is a denuded piece of land bordered by Ridge Rd., Crescent Rd., Lastner Lane, and Ivy Lane. Trustee for the property is Theodore Lerner. Parcel 8 is a narrow piece of land west of Parcel 7 lying between Ridge Rd. and Kenilworth. Kelly and Grossberg are trustees.

Coincidental with the news of the parkland grant, the city has been notified of a public meeting to be held on August 6 at which an application, filed a year ago by Kelly and Grossberg, for rezoning of Parcel 8 from RPC (Rural Planned Community) to C-2 (commercial) will be heard by the Maryland National Capital Park and Planning Commission. The technical staff for the Commission has recommended retention of RPC zoning.

A previous rezoning application on Parcel 8, instituted by previous owners, Crescent Leasing (Mich-nick, Solomon and Associates), was denied by the District Council on October 12, 1966, although the Prince Georges Planning Board at that time recommended in favor of C-1 zoning. Kelly and Grossberg were trustees for the property at the time that the city won condemnation proceedings against two other sections of property for parkland—Parcels 9 and 10 — of which Kelly and Grossberg were also trustees.

In response to notification of the $116,000 parkland grant, the city is seeking appraisals of Parcels 7 and 8 from two different appraisers. The next step will be to negotiate the purchase of the two properties. Failing successful completion of such negotiations, the city may begin condemnation proceedings.

Firecracker Tournament

The 1969 Fourth of July Men's Slow-Pitch Tournament ended Sunday with Clancy's coming from the losers' bracket to take the Championship. Clancy's beat Greenbelt Shell, 8-1, in game 23 of regular tournament play. Since Greenbelt Shell had been undefeated prior to that game, one more game had to be played to determine the champion. In game 24, the crowd of 350 experienced one of the best games of the season. At the bottom of the seventh inning, Clancy's led 10 to 7. Greenbelt Shell scored three runs and the game went into extra innings. The two runs scored by Clancy's in the eighth inning could not be matched by the home team, who were defeated 12 to 10.

The five Greenbelt teams entered in the tournament all finished behind Clancy's in second through sixth place. Seven out of town teams represented four different leagues and several were league winners, yet all of those teams were eliminated early in the tournament.

City Officials Attend Md. Municipal League

by Virginia Beauchamp

Greenbelt was well represented at the 21st Annual Conference of the Maryland Municipal League, held in Ocean City on June 22-24. Besides Mayor Edgar Smith, all other members of the city council, the city manager, and the chief of police, who were the city's official representatives at the conference, Greenbelt citizens also in attendance were former councilman Gerald Gough and Dr. Thomas Kelly. Gough participated in a meeting on rapid transit in his capacity as Assistant Government Relations Officer with the Washington Metropolitan Area Transit Authority. Kelly is Assistant to the County Commissioners, three of whom — Chairman Francis Aluisi, Gladys Spellman, and Francis Francois — also attended the conference.

The main focus of this year's meeting of the Municipal League dealt with aspects of police administration. For example, a session on Sunday was designed to clarify procedures in reporting expenditures for police protection. Since allotments from the State to individual municipalities are prorated on the basis of their overall costs of police protection, definition of the term protection is crucial. State officials explained that salaries for parking meter collectors are not considered necessary to protection, while rentals and expenses for those parts of a building occupied by a police force (as in Greenbelt's Municipal Building) are partially reimbursable by the State's formula.

Another meeting was devoted to explaining the federal government's Safe Streets Act, under which various federal grants are available for certain aspects of police protection programs. Greenbelt hopes to apply for a grant for the purchase of a portable tape recorder system to be used by the city's policemen in making reports at the scene of an incident. Such reports could later be transcribed by a clerk in the office, in this way relieving the patrolman of time-consuming clerical duties. Such a tape recorder system was originally included in the city's 1969 budget but was deleted on the hope that a federal grant would make the purchase possible.

A third program in the area of police administration was devoted to explaining the Highway Safety Act of 1966. Federal funds are available for improving highway safety, especially for adoption of standard traffic regulations throughout the nation. Within the state of Maryland a model proposal for statewide traffic control is currently being prepared. Details of this proposal are of especial interest locally, since the city's traffic ordinances are also in the process of revision.

At the meeting, Maryland municipalities were urged to make their ordinances consonant with those of the state and were warned that they could not claim authority to regulate specific acts which are not also regulated by the State. For example, Greenbelt cannot pass an ordinance setting penalties for opening a car door against on-coming traffic since the state sets no penalty for such an act.

Other meetings during the three-day session dealt with aspects of city administration apart from police administration. One long meeting probed problems in planning a rapid transit system for the Washington metropolitan area. At this meeting Gladys Spellman and Rose Kamer, members of the Washington Metropolitan Area Transit Authority from Prince Georges and Montgomery Counties

Gentry Drive and Perimeter Rd. Tied Together in Discussions

by Elaine Skolnik

Further ramifications of the Gentry Drive roadway problem at Beltway Plaza were aired at an informal city council meeting Monday night attended by Sidney Brown, head of First National Realty and developer of the shopping center, and Harold Kramer, part-owner of the Springhill Lake apartments.

Thousands Enjoy Concert; Cheer Fireworks July 4

An estimated record crowd, upwards of 5,000, assembled Friday along the lake shore to hear a concert and watch the city's Fourth of July fireworks display.

For the first time in many years Superintendent of Public Works Albert S. Attick was absent from his usual job of supervising the setting off of the display. This year he was granted leave to be with his son, a State Police officer, who last week was shot and seriously injured while on duty.

In the risky business of shooting off rockets, there were inevitably a few snags. One of the mortars failed, thus giving inadequate lift to some of the rockets. A gallant attempt was made to fire off rockets to simulate cannon-fire) at the appropriate places during the playing by the Greenbelt Concert Band of Tchaikowsky's 1812 Overture. One member of the Band was equipped with a walkie-talkie and a copy of the music score. His frantic signals via the walkie-talkie to a member of the Fire Dept. across the lake brought results—a little too late in the timing, but lively enough to bring forth cheers from the audience.

There was trouble also in lighting the fuse of the battleship for the much anticipated battle between the ship and airplane. The airplane was nearly consumed before the ship began its firing.

But if the crowd noticed these problems, their general enthusiasm did not appear dampened. There were the usual ooh's and ah's over especially brilliant displays of color. Only one incident of injury was reported—when a woman was burned on the neck and shoulders from a parachute flare set off by someone in the crowd.

Handling of traffic as usual, was the major police problem. State police officers gave warning tickets to those who parked along Kenilworth Ave. Some people were also moved on when they pulled up on the shoulder of the Beltway to observe the fireworks.

Both beforehand and afterwards the Public Works Dept. had extra work. They filled eroded areas along the lake shore where the set pieces were erected and the rockets were launched and assisted in getting everything ready. Throughout the weekend two crewmen worked every day, augmented by other help on Saturday, to keep the park area cleaned up.

City Honors Employees For Long Service

Two city employees with the longest record of service were honored last night at the Greenbelt Employees Awards Banquet. Mel Simms, who has worked as a mechanic for the Public Works Dept. during his entire period of employment, and Albert S. ("Buddy") Attick, Superintendent of Public Works, received certificates honoring them for 30 years of service. Simms, the employee with the longest term of service, preceded Attick by a few months as a city employee. Attick served as a police officer and public works employee before assuming his present post as Supervisor in the latter department.

A third employee, Mrs. Linda Dove, Senior Accounts Clerk in the finance office, was honored for 25 years of service with the city at the same ceremony, which was held in the new room of the Greenbelt Firehouse. Presentation of the awards was made by Mayor Edgar L. Smith and members of the city council.

Other city employees who received awards were as follows: Fifteen Years - Doris Cottingham, Secretary to City Manager; Norman "Buck" Powell, Public Works

Gentry Drive is the road alongside the A&P Supermarket which connects the westerly portion of Springhill Lake with Greenbelt Road. The road is a major egress and ingress route for Springhill Lake dwellers. It has been about one-third paved by Brown, with two-thirds remaining.

Brown has been seeking Maryland National Capital Park and Planning Commission approval of a preliminary plan, known as Parcel N, but the MNCPPC has declined to approve, pending a satisfactory agreement on dedication of Gentry Drive and its location. Brown has been seeking a westerly curvature in the road which will permit maximum use of the property for commercial purposes.

Both the MNCPPC and State Roads Commission have designated this road as an 80-foot arterial highway, to be part of the perimeter road which the city feels is necessary to channel traffic properly from one section of town to another. Already 80-foot rights of way for the perimeter road are being required through the property immediately north of the Capital Beltway and through the Springhill Lake golf course on the south side of the Beltway.

Brown told Council that a "high-speed highway" running through his property would be detrimental to his shopping center and render his property to the west of the perimeter road virtually useless. In addition, he pointed out that Springhill Lake residents would benefit more directly from the road. Nevertheless, he was agreeable to dedication of all of Gentry Drive through the Beltway Plaza property, as proposed by MNCPPC, provided the right-of-way be restricted to 60 feet and other needs of the shopping center be considered.

In addition, Brown wanted assistance in paving the road. He said he had assumed his share by donating the land and paving part of the road. To this, Kramer said that Springhill Lake would be willing to pay for part of Gentry Drive, but felt that the city, county, and State should also join in meeting the costs. However, he noted, and council concurred, that until Brown and MNCPPC reached agreement, discussions on the financing of the road were premature.

Council was generally noncommittal on Gentry Drive but expressed concern that Beltway Plaza was developing without benefit of the guidance of an over-all development plan. Brown said that the tenants dictate how the land will be developed; one can't know in advance the amount of space or location a tenant desires.

Council directed City Manager James K. Giese to explore the matter further with MNCPPC and the city solicitor.

Congratulations to Gary Mankulich, 53-D Ridge, who was runner-up in the 1969 Metropolitan Schoolboy Golf Championship. The Washington press was lavish in its praise of the 16-year old junior from DeMatha High School in his first tournament start. "Gary Mankulich promises to be heard from," wrote sports writer Bob Whitley of the Washington Daily News. The Catholic Standard had this to report: "The show stealer was little Gary Mankulich, who rivaled Orville Moody's victory in the National Open by coming from nowhere to become the center of attraction."

Kathy Labukas, 21 Lakeside, was named to the Dean's List at the University of Dayton in Ohio for the past term. Recently, too, Kathy, a sophomore majoring in Special Education (education for the handicapped), was awarded a partial scholarship towards her studies in this field.

The fireworks didn't go off for the Greenbelt Swim Team last Saturday as the Silver Spring Y.M.C.A. trampled Greenbelt 298-184, and remained undefeated for over two years. Mrs. Davis, Greenbelt's coach, however, seemed pleased at the team's efforts. "I thought we'd do much worse," she said after the meet.

Congratulations to Greenbelt's 10-and-under girls, who outscored Silver Spring's 26-16, and to Greenbelt's 8-and-under girls, who outscored Silver Spring's by 12-10.
