GHI Debates Changes in Loan Program, Favors Interest Rise

by Sid Kastner

In a long meeting last Thursday evening, the Greenbelt Homes Inc. board of directors took up matters of some importance to both the corporation's members and its staff workers. A series of revisions in the staff personnel policy, recommended by the personnel committee, was adopted with few changes. In general these liberalized the policy. The board also mulled over a recommendation by the finance committee to broaden the scope of GHI's loan program for home improvements, at the same time raising the interest rate; the proposal would have extended the program to the purchase of furnishings such as appliances and carpets. No decision was arrived at.

Director John O'Reilly, for the finance committee, introduced the motion to extend the scope of the loan program and raise the interest rate from the current 4½% to a rate of 5½%, the latter step being advocated to bring the corporation's lending rates into line with the market. The motion included the phrase "purchase from any sources," and some board members balked at this. Director Stephen Polaschik offered an amendment that a minimum purchase value of $100 be required, to ensure a reasonable quality. Manager Roy Breashears expressed unhappiness that his staff might have to handle numerous small loans, but chairman Nat Shinderman argued that the procedure would work out satisfactorily and was in the members' interest. The motion lost narrowly, 3 to 4. Director David Lange made the same motion without the words "from any source," and again it failed on a 3-4 vote. Clearly, as Polaschik remarked, the impasse resulted from insufficient time to study details of the recommendation because the board generally favored the basic idea. It will be considered further later.

Manager Breashears reported on aspects of the city's parkland acquisition program that have a bearing on GHI's interest. Two GHI tracts are mentioned by city manager James Giese in a preliminary communication, both in the north end. Lange, speaking for an ad-hoc committee which is presently studying the matter, noted that the city would like to ensure an open space on the tract lying between Laurel Hill and Plateau Place. He expressed appreciation to the city manager for providing the information and explained that his committee has not yet completed its study.

Personnel Proposals

For the personnel committee's report on proposed changes in policy, Shinderman relinquished the chair to Polaschik and went through the changes one by one. Among the numerous changes may be mentioned five which illustrate the corporation's desire to make its policies more liberal:

1. Job training at outside institutions will be encouraged and will be paid for by GHI up to a limit of $100 in each six months. O'Reilly included a provision for refund of the money by the employee if training is not satisfactorily completed.

2. Employees are encouraged to participate in professional meetings; administrative leave may be granted for the purpose, and expenses up to $20 a day may be paid.

3. Existing job vacancies will be advertised at six month intervals, to ensure that the membership is made aware of them.

4. GHI will pay the cost of an employee's medical examination if such is required by management. This follows current practice in industry, according to the personnel committee.

5. Employees may use their annual leave within the first three

Marathon Race in Beltsville on Sunday

The Washington area's answer to the Boston Marathon will be held at the Chestnut Hills Shopping Center in Beltsville, Md. on Sunday, Feb. 22 at 1 p.m. with the full 26 mile 385 yard race sponsored by the Beltsville JAYCEES. Several Greenbelt runners are expected in this long race and the two mile Run-For-Your-Life race also to be held.

Entered are runners from all over the East Coast including the national 50 mile champion and the present record holder for continuous running, Jared Beads, who recently ran 121 and ¼ miles in 19 hours 25 minutes.

months of their employment. This relaxation of the earlier restriction caused the only disagreement, with O'Reilly and Lange opposing it. On a vote, however, it passed 5-2.

In a last remark, O'Reilly proposed that the title of Maintenance Superintendent be changed to Director of Engineering. This suggestion was deferred for consideration by the committee.

Townhouses

Families had moved into fifteen of the townhouses by last Thursday and eight more units were ready for occupancy this week. The remaining two units are unoccupied, though several applications have been received from non-members. The manager noted that an open house will be held on the afternoon of Sunday, Feb. 22.

The advisor of a graduate student of sociology at the University of Maryland has asked permission for a study to be carried out in Greenbelt. The study, consisting of a statistical survey of about 100 persons, would be used as material for the student's graduate thesis. After a short discussion, in which the manager assured the board that the privacy of members would not be infringed upon, a motion by Lange was passed to cooperate with the university study. A board member made the point that it would be of great help in GHI's long-range planning effort.

The date of the annual membership meeting has been officially set for May 20. Thomas White suggested that a good location for it would be in the auditorium of the just-completed Greenbelt Library, next to Center School. The board greeted this idea with enthusiasm — it will be seriously considered.

The cooperative's policy on donations to outside groups has been reconsidered by the finance committee; O'Reilly reported that the committee felt the present policy was adequate if strictly interpreted — that is, the activity subsidized should take place within Greenbelt (In the past, requests have been made on behalf of schools and other groups in the area surrounding Greenbelt.)

Environment Group Holds First Meeting

by Peggy Rath

The first meeting, on February 11, of the steering committee for Greenbelt Environment Day was highlighted by a spirited discussion of possibilities for various displays and events to be used in connection with Environment Day. Several of those attending were professionally concerned with air or water pollution.

Environment day is to be held on Saturday, April 18.

The theme chosen for the day is "Air, Water, Land, and People—The Delicate Balance." At present the tentative schedule includes field trips, displays and exhibits, films, and a round table and panel discussion. The purpose of Environment Day is to stimulate an interest in the Greenbelt Community in improving the general quality of the environment.

Many workers are still needed to staff committees and to chair some sub-committees. Anyone wishing to help or representing an organization which would contribute time or services should contact chairman Carl Smith at 474-5316 or Rhea Cohen at 345-1052.

The next meeting will be held on Wednesday, February 25, from 8:30 to 10 p.m. in the GHI Hospitality Room on Hamilton Place.

James Giese Guest Speaker At SHL Civic Association

The Springhill Lake Civic Association will hold its first general meeting of the year on Wed., Feb. 25, at the Springhill Lake Community House. The meeting is scheduled from 8-10 p.m.

James Giese, Greenbelt City Manager, will be guest speaker at the meeting. Giese will explain the organization of the city government, its tax structure, and the facilities and services available to residents of Greenbelt. A discussion period will follow Giese's talk.

Also planned for the meeting is a report on the progress of the Gentry Road repaving project; a discussion of the proposed county tax on apartment dwellers; a report on the city recreation center planned for Springhill Lake; and planning for civic activity to be undertaken by the Springhill Lake Civic Association during 1970.

NOTICE TO ALL GHI MEMBERS

Two of the GHI Townhouses are still available to our members. There will be an open house of one located on Laurel Hill Road on Sunday, February 22nd between the hours of 12 noon and 5 p.m. You are cordially invited to view this home. Sales personnel will be on hand to answer any questions you might have.

Agreement Near on Gentry Dr., SHL Recreation Center

by Elaine Skolnik

As the result of a special meeting on February 11, the city of Greenbelt and Springhill Lake owners appear to be closer to agreement on the financing of Gentry Drive and the location of a city-built Springhill Lake recreation center. The city received a commitment from SHL owner-representative Harold Kramer that SHL would pay $17,500 toward the construction of Gentry Drive if the total amount were $35,000, with the city paying the other half. Kramer also offered the city 20,000 square feet of the SHL golf course for the new recreation center.

Commissioners Consider Petition For Rezoning

At its February 11 meeting, the county commissioners sitting as the District Council took under advisement a petition for rezoning the Lakeside North apartment tract from the present R-30 (14 units per acre) zoning to R-18 (21 units per acre). It was noted by the commissioners that the Court of Appeals has ruled that rezoning decisions must be supported with written statements of the commissioners' findings and conclusions.

At the hearing, the Maryland National Capital Park and Planning Commission presented its recommendation denying the request. The recommendation was supported by Greenbelt city manager James Giese who said that the rezoning would create an undesirable precedent as developers would be encouraged to build in clusters and then come back later to ask for rezoning which would permit use of the green space for further construction. The original owners of the 19-acre Lakeside North parcel had clustered construction in such a way as to concentrate the green space in one 4-acre area. The rezoning if granted would permit construction of 125 townhouses on the Lakeside North tract.

Attorney Harry Taylor, Jr., representing the present contract owner, David Hillman, told the commissioners that the project would be a physical asset to the community and that there is a need for additional housing as Lakeside North apartments has a waiting list.

Oral Arguments Scheduled In News Review Libel Suit

On Tuesday, February 24, the U. S. Supreme Court is scheduled to hear the oral arguments in the appeal taken by the Greenbelt News Review of the $17,500 libel judgment upheld by the Maryland Court of Appeals in May 1969. The judgment against the weekly newspaper was awarded local developer Charles S. Bresler in a January 1968 Prince Georges Circuit Court jury verdict.

Regular Measles Immunization Clinic

The P. G. County Health Dept. will hold free measles immunization clinics on Saturday, Feb. 21, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. for children aged one through seven years.

Bowie Firehouse, Rte. 450, opposite Belair Shopping Center.

Ager Rd. Elem. School, 6201 Ager Rd. West Hyattsville (use Health Department Clinic entrance).

Gentry Drive

The hang-up on the financing of Gentry Drive, which is intended to be an alternate access road to Springhill Lake through the Beltway Plaza, concerned the estimates of total costs. Kramer was willing to pay half the costs, provided the total costs did not exceed $35,000. City manager James Giese said that cost figures could only be resolved after the Washington Suburban Sanitary Commission (WSSC) accepts the plans on storm drains and catch basins. The city's engineering firm, Greenhorne and O'Mara, are now working up the necessary data for WSSC. If WSSC accepts the plans as proposed by the city, Giese thought that total costs would not exceed $35,000.

Councilman Edgar Smith, noting that the costs of Gentry Drive had been discussed with Springhill Lake some nine months ago, felt that there should be a firm commitment from Kramer that, regardless of final costs SHL should agree to 50/50 financing. It was Smith's impression that the city and SHL had reached such an agreement, but Kramer thought that the agreement was 50/50 up to $30,000. In upping SHL's share to $17,500, Kramer said that if any revisions by WSSC raise the costs to more than $35,000, he would be obliged to go back to his associates for further discussions. At any rate, he argued that it was premature on his part to agree to a flat 50/50 sharing plan until WSSC comes back with its report.

Giese said he hoped that the construction of Gentry Drive could start in April.

Recreation Center

The originally suggested location for the Springhill Lake recreation center was a tract immediately adjacent to the existing SHL Community Center, but now SHL management is proposing that the city purchase the 11 acre golf course from SHL for $100,000 (about half the estimated cost of the land, which is located on the east side of Cherrywood Lane north of Springhill Drive). The 11 acres, which include a small clubhouse, could then be used for city park and recreation uses and the site of the new recreation center. Kramer made clear that no matter what the city's decision is concerning the purchase of the land, SHL in any event would donate to the city 20,000 square feet of land for the recreation center. The electorate in the November 1968 referendum approved a $950,000 bond issue, which included $60,000 for the construction of the facility.

Springhill Lake residents, in addition to stressing the need for a recreation center to meet the needs of the youth in SHL, pointed to the critical need for ball fields. They recommended that if the city purchased the 11 acres, it convert the golf course to ballfields. SHL's proposal appealed to council members, who wanted to study further the possibility of getting Federal and State aid. It is understood that such aid would not be forthcoming if the golf course were to remain.

As an interim measure, Kramer asked the city if it wanted to operate the Par 3 golf course for a season on a lease basis of $1. He indicated that the golf course at the most broke even last year. Giese was not enthusiastic because he felt it would be an expensive proposition for just one season to buy special equipment to maintain the grounds.

Springhill Lake citizens present thanked council and Kramer for their efforts in the area of parks and recreation and improving road conditions.

Perimeter Rd. Not Needed
To the Editor:

After reading the very timely article by Al Skolnik on the history and status of the perimeter road in the February 12th News Review and the first three paragraphs of the editorial "Now is the Time," I was astounded to read in the last paragraph of this editorial an endorsement of the current efforts by City Council to have state planning for construction of a portion of the perimeter road.

It is difficult to understand that, in an editorial pointing out the irony of the timing of MNCPPC in declaring Greenbelt's worthiness "of inclusion on their historical map" when this community "is now on the verge of having its very essence eroded away," (as the editorial states), the News Review would in any way endorse the building of a perimeter road.

An eighty foot wide roadway cut through the green belt around our community, to accommodate a school complex with all its problems, and its accompanying noise, gas pollution and traffic hazards would only compound our "very essence being eroded away."

Greenbelt does not need any additional roadways at this time and certainly not the perimeter road. If the City has money, or can get any for roadways, it should be spent on our present roads, which primarily serve all the citizens of Greenbelt, and at the same time the City should provide the much needed off street parking facilities.

Charles T. McDonald

Thanks

Growth Limited by Savings
Twin Pines grew about 9% in 1969. Assets are now over two million dollars and dividends increased from $74,847 at 5% in 1968 to almost $86,000 at 5.2% in 1969. We anticipate paying 5.5% per annum starting with the quarter ending April first and intend to request a supplemental dividend up to the state limit of 6% on $1000 amounts remaining on deposit for at least one year.
Like all savings and loan associations Twin Pines has suffered from high interest rates on money we have had to borrow in order to satisfy the increased demand for loans on Greenbelt Homes. And, in spite of paying the highest dividends available anywhere our savings have been reduced due to inflation. We are increasing our dividend rate again in order to attract additional savings. We now have over 3000 accounts about 1000 loans.

In the same boat every washday?

Don't ride out the storm with baskets of damp laundry. It could be a long, wet wait that'll dampen your spirits, too. Instead, weatherproof your washday with an electric dryer; then any day can be laundry day.

Electric dryers cost less to buy and have fewer parts. And, with an electric dryer, you'll save hours of waiting for clothes to dry.

Today's electric dryers have many convenience settings to dry all kinds of fabrics. Settings for drying permanent press clothes and then tumbling them in a cool-down cycle to prevent wrinkles. Settings just to fluff-dry your thickest towels. Even settings to remind you when your laundry is completely dry.

Before you're rained out again on washday, set sail to your dealer. (Many stores are offering special February savings on today's electric dryers.) Or, see many new dryer makes and models before you buy. Visit the Electric Institute Showroom, first floor, PEPCO Building, 10th and E Streets, N.W.
