CHAPTER 2 OF TOWNHOUSE SAGA UNFOLDS AT GHI BOARD MEETING

by Sandra Barnes

Again townhouse problems occupied much of the regular Greenbelt Homes, Inc., board meeting April 9. Manager Roy Breashears reported that bids had gone out for the placement of laterals, which are expected to alleviate the wet basements. It was pointed out that the drainage costs would be added to the final cost of the houses.

Milton Hoffman, of the audit committee, wanted to know why the contractor wasn't held responsible for these costs. He also stated that he felt, from his personal appraisal, that the drain work had not been done properly.

Maintenance engineer, David Kane, replied that the contractor built the drains according to approved plans. Therefore, he could not be held accountable for the water problems now occurring. Kane also strongly affirmed, "If it (the drain work) was a poor job, everyone up there would be having problems instead of just three or four."

Townhouse Meeting

Director Nat Shinderman reported on his meeting with a number of townhouse people the previous week, during which mutual views were exchanged. He noted that bi-monthly meetings will be taking place until all problems are resolved.

Shinderman asked the manager and maintenance engineer if the builder was working at a reasonable rate to complete his job. The answer, "He's moving as fast as he's going to which is somewhat better than he had been doing, but not as much as he should be doing."

There was some discussion about the penalty clause in the builder's contract, and it was pointed out that the builder had not been notifying GHI in writing of the reasons for the delays, as his contract specified he should. Thomas White, of the audit committee, asked where the cut-off point would be. At what point, he asked, would the penalty be effected?

Kane seemed to feel that the builder thought he had legitimate reasons for the delays, particularly the one involving completion of the parking lots. It appears that the city imposed certain construction requirements after the original plans had been approved. Therefore, among other things, revised plans had to be devised and then submitted to the Maryland National Park and Planning Commission.

Action Urged

Board chairman, Charles Schwan, said, "Let's see what we can do to illustrate some muscle." It was agreed that management would seek legal advice on how to proceed to assure "that the work on the townhouse is performed satisfactorily and expeditiously." Director David Lange added that the townhouse purchasers should be informed of all such proceedings. It was also agreed that the corporation withhold such sums of money as necessary to insure that the work is done satisfactorily.

Zig Vaitzys, a townhouse purchaser, said that "things were not proceeding as they were presented tonight." He did not agree that the contractor was working even moderately hard to solve the problems.

Milton Hoffman also expressed his view that the townhouse people were being treated as "second-class citizens" in that they weren't getting the work done on their homes and they were being charged with the drainage costs instead of the contractor or the entire membership sharing the burden.

District Council Studies Glen Oaks Exception

The county commissioners sitting on the District Council took under advisement on Friday, April 3, the request of Glen Oaks apartments for a special exception to permit bedrooms in excess of the number permitted by zoning ordinance.

The developers of the project, Rozansky and Kay, asked the present percentage ratio of 50-40-10 for one, two, and three-bedroom units be modified to 33-49-18, and that dens and family-rooms not be counted as bedrooms, as under the present ordinance. The owners, represented by Herbert Reichelt, offered to include certain restrictions on occupancy with the special exception. Such a special exception, it was argued, is needed in order to provide quality apartments.

City manager James Giese, representing Greenbelt, said that it would be very difficult to enforce occupancy restrictions. Giese also said that it is not the number of bedrooms that can be constructed but, rather, the general market conditions that makes quality construction feasible. He also thought that the granting of the special exception would not be consistent with surrounding land use zoning and would set an undesirable precedent.

In reply to the city's concern over insufficient parking spaces planned for the new project, owner Allan Kay said that during construction it was the practice to construct the minimum number of spaces required, and if this was found to be insufficient, they would later provide additional parking. He also said that he would be willing to allocate a ball field facility if the District Council made that a condition. The city had expressed concern that no such facility was planned.

The $22 million project is to be located east of the Baltimore-Washington Parkway and south of Greenbelt road (between the Schrom airport property and the Pepco right-of-way). Plans call for a 1,172-unit luxury-type, garden apartment, replete with a community building, swimming pool, tennis courts, and extensive landscaping with 70 percent green space. The project will be targeted to attract families in the $12,000 to $25,000 income range, mainly from Goddard Space Center.

City Receives Support On School Site Issue

On Tuesday, March 31, the Prince Georges County Civic Federation adopted a resolution supporting the city of Greenbelt in opposing the construction of a school complex on parcel 2 (the land between the Baltimore-Washington Parkway and Greenbelt Homes, Inc.). The resolution also advocated that the Prince Georges County Board of Education meet with Greenbelt's mayor and city council to discuss alternate school sites.

The group offered to send a representative if asked to support the city's position at any school board meeting.

CITY MOVES AHEAD ON SOUTHWAY RD. PROGRAM, LAND ACQUISITION

by Al Skolnik

The city council on Monday, April 6, tentatively accepted a low bid of $98,879 submitted by Nazario Construction Co. of College Park Woods for the reconstruction of Southway Road. This bid is close to the amount allocated for the improvement from the $950,000 bond issue recently sold.

The plans for the reconstruction of Southway Road call for a 44-foot wide road from Crescent to Ridge Roads and for a divided four-lane roadway from Ridge to the Co-op gas station. The road will be repaved with curbing, gutters, and drainage. A sidewalk will be constructed on the west side of Southway.

Open-Space Grant

The council gave final approval to a resolution authorizing the city to apply to the Department of Housing and Urban Development for an open-space grant to help purchase the Holy Cross Lutheran Church site, the Furey tract, and the Springhill Lake golf course property. The three properties were combined into one application at the request of the Department.

The city estimates the properties will cost $424,320, half of which is expected to come from the open-space grant.

Swimming pool rates

The council accepted city manager James Giese's recommendation that swimming pool rates not be changed for the 1970 season. The family season rate for residents will remain at $28; a single person's rate will be $17. Daily admission will be 90 cents for adults and 50 cents for children. The charges are higher for non-residents — a family pass being $60 for the season, with proportionately higher rates for the other categories.

The council also looked with favor at the manager's suggestion that discounts of $1 be offered on season passes if they are purchased ahead of time. The favor-

Sun., April 19, 3:30 p.m. Greenbelt Concert Band, Center School
Mon., April 20, 8 p.m. City Council Meeting, Municipal Bldg.
Tues., April 21, 8 p.m. Parkdale Senior High School PTA Gymkana Club
Thurs., April 23, 7:45 p.m. GHI Board Meeting, Hamilton Pl.

able balance in the swimming pool construction account led the manager to propose, and the council to accept, the purchase of a ventilating fan for the swimming pool basket room and a portable life guard chair stand.

Springhill Lake Request

Springhill Lake owners requested council to construct as a special assessment improvement a roadway bridging Indian Creek to connect Cherrywood Lane with the industrial property. The cost of the project, estimated at $150,000, would be fully assessed against Springhill Lake over a 15-year period.

The reason for asking the city's participation is to provide Springhill Lake with more favorable financing arrangements than it could otherwise obtain. The city would sell its bonds and back them with its credit, thus providing a more favorable interest expense.

Harold Kramer, owner-representative of Springhill Lake, said that in other areas governmental agencies have furnished road access facilities to industrial property without charge to encourage the industrial development and the added valuation for its tax base.

The council referred the matter to its city solicitor to study the legality of the proposal and its effects on city bond limitations.

City vs. County

Council was not happy over a decision by the county commissioners not to pay for street lights requested by the city for the intersection of Greenbelt Road and Lakecrest Drive. According to Giese, the request was denied on the basis that the county utilizes license tag monies paid to it by the State for this purpose, and that since such funds are also paid to the city, the city should assume the responsibility.

Giese observed that the county has been furnishing all other street lighting on Greenbelt Road (a county road). He said that for each dollar of license tag fees paid to the State by city residents, a dollar is also paid to the county. Therefore, the county receives as much money from city residents from license tag fees as the city does. He argued that the citizens of Greenbelt should receive some benefits from this money.

"If this money is to be used for street lighting purposes, it would seem logical," he said, "that the county would use the money throughout the county for the lighting of major arterial highways." He charged that the county policy discriminates against residents of municipalities.

The council agreed and voted to request a rehearing before the county commissioners. It also voted to bring this matter before the Prince Georges Municipal Association.

Parking Restrictions

The council voted to request the State Roads Commission to prohibit parking between the driveways of the Co-op gas station. It also had before it a recommendation by Giese that parking be prohibited on the south side of Crescent Road from the driveway entrance to the city parking lot at the Jaycee Club opposite Northway to Parkway Road. This matter was referred to St. Hugh's which had originally requested parking be prohibited on Crescent Road in front of the church. Giese had extended the parking restrictions to the Fire House because cars were parking on the sidewalk, obstructing vision and bringing dirt and stone onto the sidewalk.

Purchases

The council authorized the purchase of a steam cleaner-pressure washer from replacement fund surplus money, at a cost not to exceed $1,000. In another expenditure approval, council honored a request of the Greenbelt Concert Band for the purchase of a bass drum and cymbals at a cost of $260.

An Open Letter To: The Honorable Marvin Mandel Governor of Maryland State House Annapolis, Maryland 21401

Dear Governor Mandel: I wrote to you on February 18, 1970, about a school complex site in Greenbelt which is so poorly located that it will create a major traffic problem for the entire city. On March 5, 1970, I was notified by a Mr. George E. Burnett, Jr., that my letter was referred to the Secretary of State Planning, Vladimir Wahbe, with the request that he send your office a copy of his reply to me. As Mr. Wahbe has not answered me, I assume you have received no copy from him.

Within the past several weeks this city has become unified in opposition to the school site. So far, an on-going petition campaign has collected 1300 signatures. In response, the City Council has passed motions expressing their rejection of the site, their renewed offer of parkland and service roads to enhance the City's and the School Board's original site choice, and their flexibility in regard to several alternate nearby sites.

Governor Mandel, on behalf of a city united to protect its original historically unique land-use plan, and on behalf of the many disillusioned citizens here who are growing convinced that the only remaining avenue open to them is confrontation politics, I appeal to your good political common sense in this election year.

I urge you to sign the General Assembly resolution without delay. Your letter to Mayor White indicates your private concern. Now I ask — indeed, a municipality of 21,000 asks — that you publicly take an active part in setting up a series of public meetings between the Prince Georges County Board of Education, the City of Greenbelt, and representatives of civic groups for the purpose of relocating the proposed senior and junior high schools.

Save Our Community Committee

Vice Chairman.

Community Church Planning Two Probe Groups Sunday

Arthur A. King, Negro Legislator from Prince Georges County, will be the Probe leader this Sunday at the Greenbelt Community Church.

Born in Beltsville, King attended Prince Georges Public Schools. He has a degree in animal husbandry and is currently setting up a training program for zoo keepers. He is also a fulltime student at Catholic University Law School.

King was the first Negro state legislator to be elected from Prince Georges County and has served for four years as a leader in the House of Delegates. He will lead the group in his experiences as a black politician.

The second Probe group will continue discussion on "Facing Problems In Our Community." Dr. John C. Price, 225 Springhill Court, will discuss environmental problems in Greenbelt. A resident of the area for four years, Dr. Price has been active in the Citizens for a Better Environment organization and is presently its treasurer. He is a physicist in the Theoretical Division of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration at Goddard Space Flight Center.

The Community is cordially invited to attend one of the sessions at 11 a.m. this coming Sunday, April 19.

Perimeter Road To the Editor:

In last week's News Review, Mrs. Eunice E. Coxon took me to task for failing to keep her informed concerning recent developments relating to the perimeter road. All recent developments have had to do with securing financial aid to plan and to build the southern leg of the road, terminating at Northway Road. These developments have been fully reported in the press (see News Review for March 5, March 12, March 19, March 26 and April 2) and at the special council meeting of March 23.

Those "most directly affected" had not heard from GHI. Mrs. Coxon charged. What should the Board report? Should it inform her on a weekly or monthly schedule that since March 1964, when the Greenbelt Master Plan was adopted it has been planned to swing the road north through the Department of Agriculture farm so that no GHI "homes or front yards" would be lost? Should the Board report to her that everyone present at the city council meeting March 23, including her, were informed by the city manager that negotiations were proceeding to purchase privately owned property on the city's northern boundary and to swap land with the Department of Agriculture to insure that the road would be as far as possible from GHI homes?

GHI Board meetings are open. Every meeting agenda provides for recognition of members who may address the Board on any subject. Mrs. Coxon attended one meeting this past year, that of November 20, 1969. The minutes do not reveal that she spoke on the subject of the perimeter road.

I suspect that Mrs. Coxon has had every opportunity to be fully informed on this issue, and indeed has been given all the facts, but she refuses to believe them. A stubborn persistence in disbelief defeats all attempts to enlighten.

Mrs. Coxon complains, too, concerning my remarks "that letters by anyone to the governor that undercut the city's efforts for the perimeter road aren't doing the city any good." At the time I made them, I was fearful that too many disharmonious voices might undo the city's efforts to obtain financial aid to build the southern leg of the perimeter road should the senior high school be built on parcel 2 despite our best efforts. Happily it would appear that subsequent events have proved my fears to have been groundless.

Questions Formula

To the Editor:

Well, Virginia, as you know, the Audit Committee is the watchdog committee for the members: it's rather disquieting to find the lady Auditor running with the hounds so to speak - collaborating with the lady Board Director. Its a little like having your watch dog welcome the stranger into your home while he proceeds to tally your household effects. Some watch dog. The lady Auditor doesn't seem to know her job: that she was elected by and works for you, Virginia, and nobody else. It's worth noting that she also espouses the developer's rights to high density profits (it's a free country isn't it?). Well no, its a planned community and the people want to keep it that way. If the lady Auditor wants to call that socialistic it's evident she's as ignorant of politics as she is of economics.

It turns out that the figure .2416 was some kind of a joke (or a mistake?). But the lady was not joking when she said there is a complicated mathematical formula for calculating monthly charges. Has she seen it? I've been trying for three months to get that formula out on the table; I've yet to see it. Instead, the lady Auditor, and the Board, attack me and my "figures" but nobody has put out that formula to be looked at. Instead, a quasi-official Newsletter is published purporting to explain how the formula works. But in reality it merely glosses it over with a glib and shiny plausibility.

As for the lady Board Director, I feel a little like Senator Fulbright who recently commented on a Certain Lady that she was a "little unrestrained". Really, accusing me of falsehood in the public prints is a bit much. After all, Virginia, it's not me that's on trial; I'm not the respondent in this process; I don't make up the charges to the members for our monthly payments; I am not the defendant. All I asked is - what's the formula and how does it work out so that inequitable charges are made? It's not up to me to explain it; my "figures" are not what's wrong with GHI charges; it is Management's use of that 18-year-old formula that needs examination, not me.

Briefly, I brought up the matter to the Board 'way back last December. Immediately my "figures" were attacked. They were not a representative sample of maintenance costs, they said. Virtually nobody, including the lady Director was interested in the existing formula. I persisted, and finally the Board authorized the Finance Committee to put it on the agenda as "A review of the basis for the spread of monthly charges to the members". There it has languished ever since. The last meeting of the Finance committee was called on March 3 and then postponed. The Chairman has not called a new meeting. I believe they wish I'd get lost - at least until after the annual elections in May.

But there's the lady Director, manfully firing at Hoffman. If she can put up a large enough smoke screen maybe nobody will notice her error. Let me be perfectly clear, Virginia. I said in a previous letter to you that our unit costs are difficult to break out of our accounting system. (I won't go into the matter of the "lumped" inventories for materials and supplies which are so large a factor in the costs computation.) But I believe there is enough to warrant a good hard look at the spread of monthly charges. The lady Director would be serving you better if she'd take a candid look at the formula for charges instead of taking pot shots at what she calls Hoffman falsehoods.

Milton Hoffman

NARCE April Meeting

The National Association of Retired Civil Employees, Greenbelt Chapter 1117, will meet in the Hospitality Room of the Greenbelt Co-Op Store, on April 21, at 1 p.m. The secretary, named at the March meeting to represent the Chapter at the State Convention, to be held in Mt. Rainier on April 18, will report on convention activities.

Oppose Freeways

To the Editor:

Last week's News Review reported the Greenbelt City Council's agreement to support College Park in urging that "I-95 be completed to a point as close to D. C. as possible along previously agreed routes."

If my facts are correct, this previous route was altered because of successful citizen opposition to yet another freeway into the city.

I believe we in Greenbelt should be as ready to oppose these freeways in other jurisdictions as we are within our own city limits.

Would we not be on firmer ground to work for alternate solutions (such as a subway station at the intersection, for instance)?

Young People Receive Bible Study Awards

Last Sunday, Dr. Merrill Unger, well-known author, preacher, pastor and teacher, brought the morning message at Greenbelt Baptist Church, and presented autographed copies of his famous "Bible Handbook" to three young people who have excelled in Bible Study. They are Carla Jean Smith, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. James Smith of Greenbelt; John Kendrick III, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Kendrick II of Berwyn Heights; and Fred Nahwooksy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Reaves Nahwooksy of Lewisdale.

During Youth Week, places of responsibility in the church are being filled by the young people.

Mr. William Brackney, who will begin his theological studies next fall, and who is presently working with the youth of Greenbelt Baptist Church will bring the final Youth Week message on Sunday evening.

A Social Hour after the Sunday evening service will conclude the special Youth Week activities.

ROAD RUNNERS SPONSOR LONG DISTANCE RACE

On Sunday, April 19, at 2 p.m. in the Greenbelt Regional Park, the D.C. Road Runners Club will hold two long distance races, one a 5 mile handicap race and a 2 mile Run For Your Life race run at your own pace. The races will start in the Picnic area driveway about 200 yards to the left of the Police Substation and are part of a weekly series of races held throughout the year by the Road Runners Club. Info. from L. Noel, 474-9362.

Environment Day

To the Editor:

On behalf of the Greenbelt Environment Day Committee I would like to take this opportunity to invite all citizens of Greenbelt to participate with us on that day. The Environment Day is scheduled for Saturday, April 18, 9 - 4:30 p.m. We have planned a varied program of field trips, exhibits, slide and film presentation, speakers, etc. Among the many attractions for that day is a natural gas powered vehicle, compliments of the Washington Gas Light Company, and persons will have an opportunity to see how the natural gas car works and to ride in it. There are so many features planned for that day that it is not possible to describe them all here. We invite you to come and see and participate.

We hope that you will find the program lively and interesting. Our environment, if it is to be restored and preserved, if we wish to have water, air, and food uncontaminated by pollution, needs the support and activity of all of us. For Greenbelt, we can take the first step by joining together on April 18 as a community to demonstrate our concern by our participation and to learn more about what we as individuals and groups can do to halt pollution before it halts us all.

Shinderman exploded. "That's the most ridiculous, inappropriate statement I've ever heard," he thundered. He noted how for four and a half years he had worked with the committee (Ad Hoc Committee on Larger Homes) the board, and the builder, "often until 3 a.m. . . . doing everything humanly possible, showing concern beyond what could be reasonably expected" to assure that the homes were built properly. He added that he welcomed constructive criticism which was not made with electioneering motives in mind. "Within reason, we had taken all precautions. I deeply resent this unjust attack," he concluded.

Other Problems

Other problems the townhouse purchasers had discussed with Shinderman were brought before the board. One was the resale formula, which the townhouse people are supposed to discuss among themselves and then present for an equitable agreement. The manager was also asked to seek council's advice on the agreement.

Another problem was the delay in the appraisal which is an important element in the resale formula. Director John O'Reilly opined that the appraisal could be made on unfinished houses. It can be made from plans, even, he said, recognizing that things not done will be done.

Thereupon the board agreed to investigate the possibility of having the townhouses appraised as soon as possible and to consult GHI member Roy Davis, a professional appraiser, on the subject.

O'Reilly also proposed a motion, which was unanimously accepted, to consult with council to force the builder to proceed with all due speed to complete the homes.

O'Reilly Resigns

John O'Reilly's resignation from the board, effective as of May 20, was greeted with deep regret and fond memories by all of the board. O'Reilly has accepted a job in Detroit, Michigan, but will be available on week-ends to complete his finance committee's business.

Shinderman paid special tribute to O'Reilly, noting that he, Shinderman, had known every board member since GHI's inception, and "no one has done more than John. He used his tenacity and common sense . . . in what was a labor of love for the community," Shinderman warmly concluded.

ECHO Report

Manager Breashears reported on his trip, along with others, to a cooperative town, Winfield, N.J., to attend a meeting of the Eastern Cooperative Housing Organization. Of particular interest was the rehabilitation work done to the facades of all the houses, from the foundations up.

Katherine Keene commented that some members of Pennypack, a co-op in north Philadelphia, have been invited to go on the upcoming GHI Home Improvement Tour.

The next meeting of ECHO will be held here in Greenbelt, and Shinderman suggested that the member relations committee or a special ad hoc committee be formed to make arrangements for the meeting and also to make suggestions to ECHO for substantive discussions.

The board agreed to pay the out-of-pocket transportation costs for those attending the meeting.

School Board

The board also unanimously agreed to send a letter to each member of the school board, infor-

GHI Election Deadlines

With the Greenbelt Homes, Inc., annual membership meeting just a month away, the following schedule of deadlines has been announced. The meeting this year will be held at the Center School Auditorium on Wednesday evening, May 20, starting at 7:30 p.m. Balloting for GHI elections will start that evening and continue the next day.

The first deadline is the placing of an item on the agenda by petition. The deadline for this is midnight, April 24.

The next deadline involves the official notice of meeting and related material. This material must be mailed to members between April 29 and May 9.

All candidates for the GHI Board of directors and the audit committee desiring to be listed by the GHI Nominations and Elections Committee must submit their applications to the committee by midnight, Saturday, May 9. There are four 2-year terms and two 1-year terms to be filled on the 9-man board. There are also three audit committee members to be elected for 1-year terms.

Biographies of prospective candidates must be handed in early Tuesday evening, May 12, if they are to be published in the News Review.

Nominations by petition will be accepted at the GHI administrative offices up to 5 p.m. on Wednesday, May 13. Names submitted after that date cannot be placed on the official ballot.

Members can vote by proxy but they must make their request in writing on official forms. The deadline for turning in proxy forms to the GHI offices is midnight, Thursday, May 14.

The board members whose 2-year terms expire this year are Nat Shinderman, Steve Polaschik, Katherine Keene, and Douglas Hawes. A 1-year term is also expiring for Norman Weyel. The other 1-year term is open as a result of John O'Reilly's resignation. Present audit committee members are Thomas White, Milton Hoffman, and Janet James.

ming him of the exact wording in GHI's unsuccessful suit against the school board. GHI alleged that the board had acted "arbitrarily, capriciously and in breach of trust as a public body." Paul Nussbaum, school board attorney, alluding to the GHI suit in a recent hearing, told the school board that GHI charged the board with acting "fraudulently, capriciously, and arbitrarily."

Attorney David Reich was officially retained to see what GHI, the city or the individual taxpayer might possibly do to change the school site.

Other

GHI authorized payment of half the cost, $300, for a transcript of the tax assessment suit with the attorney general's office.

The capital improvements program is proceeding, with the roofing on the third masonry house being done. The millwork is going on for the porches for the frame units.

An 11-page draft for member complaint procedures was generally accepted, with minor changes, by the board. It outlines the steps members may take in either making or replying to a complaint. Copies will probably be available at the annual meeting.

City Notes

Three new police cars have been received and are now in use by the Police Department. This brings the total of cars available to five, one of these being an older vehicle which is kept on a standby basis. In addition, an unmarked car, designed to police specifications, can be used by the Department, although it is principally used on other city business.

There's spring in the air, and with summer not far behind, the Recreation Dept. has most of its swimming pool staff already lined up. On weekends some of them have been at work on cleaning the pool and getting ready for a not-so-distant opening day.

The Parks crew has been preparing for seeding the filled area behind the peninsula at the lake. Earlier in the year many dead trees were removed from that location. The Parks crew is also seeding the ball fields at Braden Field, as well as the Little League field.

The city now holds the deed for Parcel 7, the tract near the entrance to Boxwood Village. The piece of land was recently acquired for parkland development.

The Parks crew, having completed the tree planting program in Springhill Lake, has begun to transplant shrubs along Southway Rd. in preparation for the letting of the contract to widen that street.

Some oil residue is still reaching the trap on the feeder stream to the lake, but city officials believe that the recent heavy rains have flushed out most of the oil remaining in the soil. No new oil leaks have been detected.

CUB PACK 746

The "Craftsman Theme" of the March meeting of Pack 746 got under way at St. Hugh's with an impressive opening ceremony presented by Den Leader Patrick Hanyok's Den 9. The lights were dimmed and spotlights were focused on the flag for a reading of "I Am Old Glory."

Following this the boys drew cheers and laughter from the audience with their Craftsman Theme Skits presented by Mrs. Gardes' Den 3, Mrs. Sinden's Den 6, and Mrs. Weiner's Den 10 and with their nail-driving dexterity during the competition.

Articles that the boys had constructed in their dens, ranging from kites to bookshelves, provided a varied and interesting display.

Advancement Chairman James Hanna presented the following awards: Bobcat Pins: Terry Shaughnessy, Mark Crabtree; Wolf Badge: Craig Marrapodi; Wolf Badge and Gold and Silver Arrows: Christopher Dwyer, Joel Weissler; Wolf Gold and Silver Arrows: Robert Reback; Webelos Activity Badges: John Beauchamp, Athlete; Thomas Geiger, Aquanaut, Naturalist, Scientist; Dale Matthews, Artist, Engineer, Geologist; Michael Talbot, Engineer Geologist; Kirk Kubichar, Andrew Webster, Bruce Mangum, Engineer; Two Year Pin: Robert Reback; One Year Pin: Joseph DeCuir; Denner: Brent Hayes, Richard Schubauer, Peter Bracken, Thomas Geiger, Andrew Webster; Assistant Denner: Richard Wooster, James Colby, Joseph DeCuir, John Beauchamp, Joseph Rosenbaum.

Mrs. Weissler's Den 8 was awarded the Best Uniformed Den Ribbon for March.

Greenbelt Band Concert

The Greenbelt Concert Band directed by John Del Homme, will present a concert of popular, march, and showtime music at 3:30 p.m. Sunday, April 19, in the auditorium at Greenbelt Center Elementary School. Robert Wagner, trumpeter, will be the featured soloist. Also featured by the band will be selections from "The Sound of Music." Admission is free.

An exploration of occupations will be the theme of Parkdale Senior High School's "Career Week" scheduled for April 20 through 24.

The highlight of the "Career Week" activities will be the Career Night program scheduled for April 23. Approximately 40 representatives of various occupations and professions will come to the school to give information on careers in a program starting at 7:30 p.m.

Students and parents are invited to attend. Three information sessions will be held so that it will be possible for an individual to get information on at least three different occupations. Programs will be available prior to Career Night so that students may select the three presentations they wish to attend.

Other activities during the week will include presentations by subject teachers on occupations within their respective field of specialization. Teachers will explain how the subjects they teach help to prepare the student for certain kinds of jobs. H. John Crisman, Chief G.V.F.D.
& R.S. Inc.

Yesteryear's procedures do not measure up to today's standards. We are compelled to replace our 1964 International Ambulance this year. Place your donation in the return envelope (the envelope with your address on the back flap) - this is our voucher for your tax-deductible contribution.

The ambulance service is made possible through a joint understanding between active volunteers and active financial supporters - both receive satisfaction, neither is paid. The volunteer receives satisfaction by knowing he has helped his neighbor; the active financial supporter receives satisfaction by knowing help is available when needed. You can be an active financial supporter by donating $5 to the Ambulance Club Drive or be an active Member of our Gold Card Club by donating $10 or more. You can be an active volunteer if you can respond to calls either A.M. or P.M.; attend training sessions, sleep in our bunkroom, and when called upon, endanger your life to save others. No volunteer is paid. Both the volunteer and the financial supporter are necessary — which one are you? Cast your financial vote now or become a volunteer or do both but above all - be active for then we do have the best ambulance service.

What kind of investment is Freedom Shares?

Shrewd?  Safe?  Patriotic?  Exclusive?

You're right if you checked all four boxes.

Freedom Shares are a shrewd investment because they pay 4.74% when held to maturity. They mature in just four-and-a-half years, and are redeemable after one year.

There is no safer investment because Freedom Shares are backed by The United States of America.

Exclusive? Absolutely. Not everyone can buy new Freedom Shares.

You have to belong to the Bond-a-Month or Payroll Savings Plan. Freedom Shares are a bonus opportunity for these regular Bond buyers.

And, as you help yourself by buying Freedom Shares, you're also helping your country. Sign up for Freedom. Get all the facts from the payroll people where you work or any officer where you bank.

Can your old oven clean itself?

If it can't clean itself, does it have insides that slide out for easier cleaning? And a door you can take off?

How about automatic controls? Does your old oven know when to stop baking and start warming? Or boast a surface unit that keeps a pot at the temperature you want?

If that's a fair description of what your old range doesn't do, no wonder cooking's not much fun any more.

You need a new electric range. The kind that has all the automatic features you could ever want. Including a self-cleaning oven that really cleans itself; broiler, racks, surface unit drip pans, too.

Cook happy again. Catch up with the latest in all-electric cooking. Visit your appliance dealer. Or get a preview of the many makes and models at the Electric Institute Showroom, 1st floor, Pepco Building, 10th & E Streets, N.W.

$40 wiring allowance when you purchase an electric range with a self-cleaning oven . . .
