Four GHI Incumbents, White, Beck, Elected; Schwan to Step Down

by Sandra Barnes

At the start of the Greenbelt Homes, Inc. annual membership meeting, May 20, board chairman Charles Schwan announced that he would not serve another term as chairman, and would not run for the board in 1971 "unless something unforeseen happens."

His report to the membership emphasized the following topics:

Perimeter Rd.-School Site: "This is a most important issue," Schwan stated. Although GHI has consistently opposed the present school site, if the site is not changed, the perimeter road is essential to keep traffic out of the residential areas, Schwan maintained. GHI must also support the city's efforts to obtain state aid for the perimeter road, as it is estimated that the eastern portion of the road alone will cost over a million dollars, said Schwan.

Taxes: GHI is still awaiting the decision from the State Tax Appeals Court on the question of the county's reassessment of GHI properties.

Water Line Replacement Program: Schwan proudly proclaimed that since the replacement program went into effect in 1964, the amount paid for water consumption has declined even though there have been rate increases.

Monthly Charges: Heat, taxes, and interest charges have accounted for the major increases in the monthly charges. If the tax assessment case is successful, each member might realize as much as a $3 savings. Also, Schwan stated, GHI's increases have been considerably lower than comparable housing increases across the country.

At the conclusion of Schwan's report, some members wanted to know if "we are paying as we go or do we have enough in reserves?" John O'Reilly, who was presented with a plaque by the corporation for his seven years of service on the GHI board, responded to this question. O'Reilly stated that past boards had used the reserves too much in order to keep the monthly charges low. "The reserves are now at a minimum level," he affirmed, "and the charges are increasing" as costs increase. He noted that the GHI mortgage with the federal government will be paid off in 1977 and this may result in some decrease in the charges.

Audit Committee

Next, Thomas White, chairman of the audit committee, delivered his report. He cited the following three items as those the audit committee felt were most important: (1) the reserves (He tended to feel that the reserves should be kept above the minimum level) (2) member apathy and (3) how to utilize board time more effectively.

Townhouse Appraisal

The most heated discussion of the evening arose over two aspects of the Member Ownership contract which the 25 townhouses purchasers have yet to sign, pending appraisal of their homes.

The first, as related by Nat Shinderman, chairman of the Larger Homes Committee, involved giving the townhouse purchasers full credit for any major improvements they may make instead of sharing the credit with the corporation.

Those against the motion felt the present formula was "already good enough." Thomas White wondered if it would be possible to obtain a separate appraisal just on the improvement. Shinderman replied that it could be done. Matt Amberg stated that he didn't want to encourage improvements which would up the cost of houses to future owners.

A move to table the issue for further study was defeated 55-48. After an interim of an hour, during which the candidates' speeches were heard, the question of giving the townhouse purchasers full credit for their improvements was voted on and approved by the membership.

However, a second question, involving the fact that the townhouse purchasers pay 100% of the taxes on their property while sharing any increase in equity with the corporation upon resale, failed to pass. Some members felt it amounted to a subsidy to the townhouse people. Others felt the matter should be studied further. Jim Smith, former board member, introduced a substitute amendment that would change the percent that members pay on the land from 7 1/2% to 6% which would do the same thing as giving the members credit for all the tax money paid at the time of resale.

Other Business

The membership agreed to compensate the officers of GHI in the amount of $1000 and $750 for board members. Sums were also allocated for the audit committee — $350 for the chairman and $250 for the other two members.

The report submitted by the Ad Hoc Nuclear Power Plant Committee was accepted with no discussion. Briefly, the report recommended that GHI join other groups in encouraging the state to oppose further construction and operation of the Calvert Cliffs Nuclear Power Plant until it can be guaranteed that the level of radioactive and thermal contaminants are greatly reduced.

At the conclusion of the meeting, George Adams sought to introduce a motion on shed regulations which seemed to have a chance of passing until a quorum was called for; there was none and the meeting was concluded.

S. J. R. 81 SIGNED

Mayor Francis W. White and City Manager James K. Giese represented the city of Greenbelt in Annapolis on Thursday, May 21, to witness the signing by Governor Marvin Mandel of Joint Senate Resolution 81. This resolution calls for a moratorium on construction of the Greenbelt Senior High School on parcel 2 until alternate sites can be explored by the Prince Georges Board of Education, together with the city of Greenbelt.

by Al Skolnik

In an election with few surprises, the Greenbelt Homes, Inc., membership renamed incumbents Katherine Keene, Steve Polaschik, Norman Weyel, and Nat Shinderman to the board of directors. The other two openings were filled by newcomers Tom White and Darwin Beck.

The only surprise was the order of finish. Veteran board members Weyel and Shinderman finished fifth and sixth in a field of nine and accordingly will have to stand election again next year. The other four winners gained the two-year terms.

White was top vote gatherer, with 306 votes or 73 percent of the total number cast, but Miss Keene was only two ballots behind. There was actually only a spread of 45 votes between the first and sixth place winners. The best vote among the challengers was received by Cathy Foster, but her 198 votes were 63 behind those cast for sixth-place winner Shinderman.

The winning candidates now join the present three members of the GHI board — Charles Schwan, David Lange, and Alex Chavrid — to round out the nine-man board. The organization of the new board and election of officers will take place at the board's regularly scheduled meeting tonight.

Winners in the race for the 3-man audit committee were incumbent Janet James with the top vote, and newcomers James Foster and Roger Craine.

Elected without opposition at Wednesday night's meeting to the nominations and elections committee were George Adams, Jule Churchill, Jacqueline Shabe, Douglas Hawes, and Gordon Allen.

The 421 votes cast were considerably fewer than last year's total of 485, but were the third highest number cast since 1965, when only 284 ballots were cast. There was one proxy vote cast.

There are about 1550 eligible GHI voters.

Parcels 1 & 2 Rezoning

A zoning hearing has been scheduled for Wednesday, June 3, on an application for rezoning parcels 1 and 2 for R-30 apartment zoning, before the Prince Georges County Planning Board. Both the city of Greenbelt and the Technical Staff of Maryland National Capital Park and Planning Commission oppose the R-30 zoning for the 150 acres of land located between the Baltimore-Washington Parkway and the GHI property.

Many Questions Raised By Budget; Public Hearing On Monday, June 1

by Al Skolnik

Last week's budget review of the public works and recreation departments brought out several major issues that must be resolved by council.

(1) Should $12,000 be allocated for reconstructing Laurel Hill Rd. north of Ridge? According to an engineering study, the cost of the project is estimated at $18,000, of which $6,000 had been appropriated but not spent in the 1970 budget. Council indicated that it might not appropriate the entire amount this year.

(2) Should the city authorize four additional lights on Centerway, estimated to cost $2,500, some of which is attributable to the need for removing sidewalk in order to lay underground cable? City manager James Giese was asked to investigate the possibility of affixing lights on the store buildings at a lower cost.

(3) What should the city do about facilities for refuse disposal? Giese stated that the city's present landfill may have to be closed as early as May of next year. The increased cost of using another landfill could lead to a further increase in waste collection fees above the 75 cents per month increase already recommended in the 1971 budget (for owner-occupied homes). The city is exploring the possibility of cooperative arrangements with College Park to use its landfill.

(4) How should the city fund the $10,500 asked for in the budget for shopping center maintenance? In the past, the shopping center owners shared the costs with the city until a recent court order voided this arrangement. Councilman Dick Pillski was upset that the city was being asked to foot the bill for new street lights to help make the shopping center more attractive.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING ON BUDGET

The Mayor and Council of the City of Greenbelt, Maryland, will hold a Public Hearing on the Proposed 1970-71 Fiscal Year Budget on Monday, June 1, 1970 at 8:00 P.M. at the City Offices, 25 Crescent Road, Greenbelt, Maryland. Copies of the Budget will be available.

Swim Season Opens On Friday, May 29

The Greenbelt Swimming Pool will open for the 1970 season on Friday, May 29, at 1 p.m. Season passes are now on sale and offer a considerable savings over the daily admission fee. These season passes remain one of the most inexpensive pool memberships in the Metropolitan area.

Pool Hours: Hours of operation are 1 p.m. to 8:15 p.m. Prior to the closing of the public schools, the pool will open at 4 p.m. Morning hours are scheduled for swimming classes, swim team practice, synchronized swimming and general pool maintenance. The first swim lesson registration is scheduled for June 15.

The pool will be under the management this season of Richard Mest, Assistant manager, Steve Davis, will be on duty when the manager is off. Mary and Anne Barcus will again be cashiers. The lifeguards are as follows: Jack Downs, Jeff Cassels, Curt Frambis, Curt McBride, Allen Hostick, Joe Smith, Larry Noel, Michael Lundregan.

Nat'l Guard Still Here

Two new units, the 110th Field Artillery Battalion and an armored cavalry unit, have replaced an MP detachment at the Greenbelt National Guard Armory. Guardsmen are still on duty at the University of Maryland until the state of emergency proclaimed by Governor Marvin Mandel is declared over.

The current Guard detachment, which is here on its two-week summer training program, requested permission from the city to set up its tents in the Greenbelt lake park. Permission was denied. The troops are apparently staying in tents adjacent to the Armory on land belonging to the Armory.

Legion Memorial Services

On Saturday, May 30 at 10 a.m., The American Legion, Greenbelt Post 136, will hold Memorial exercises at the Greenbelt Center Memorial. All past members and the general public are invited to honor our war dead.

yet the city cannot get the owners to contribute to cleaning up the center.

(5) What can be done to relieve the crowding at Greenbelt Lake, much of which stems from out-of-town visitors on weekends? Concern was expressed that enforcement of boating permits and other regulations at the Lake was lax. There was also a feeling that it would be desirable if out-of-town visitors could in some way share in the costs of the maintenance of the Park.

(6) To what extent should the city subsidize the activities of special groups such as the Band, Little League, Aquatic Booster Club, Springhill Lake Baseball League, Boys Club, and Tennis Association? All the councilmen expressed concern that the requests of some of these organizations were getting out of hand. The 1970 budget approved $4,100 for these groups, and the requests from these groups have now reached $7,825 for 1971. In some instances, the groups were asking for city funds to finance unprofitable social events, which the council felt was a departure from the original objective of providing city funds for the basic activity. Council also felt that the groups were tending to become dependent upon the city and less self-sustaining through their own fund-raising activities.

(7) Should the parks and playground maintenance work be merged with the Recreation Department or kept with the public works department? The city's Park and Recreation Advisory Board (PRAB) has recommended such a merger as in keeping with the national trend to put park and recreation functions under uniform direction and administration. PRAB claims that under the present setup park functions have not been dealt with on a uniform and continuous basis, are low on the priority list of the public works department, and that it is difficult to pinpoint responsibility. Giese defended the present arrangement, pointing out that at this stage of the city's development when equipment and manpower has to be shared for maintenance purposes, it is preferable to keep the park functions with public works.

"Deliberate Distortion"

To the Editor:

On May 14 a letter from Mr. William Lathom was printed in the News Review which was both inaccurate and unprincipled. By writing such a letter, Mr. Lathom, Chairman of SOCC, is doing more than anyone I know to defeat the very goals which he, I, and most citizens of Greenbelt share: that a school not be built on parcel 2 and that it be built instead, as soon as possible, on a site that is satisfactory to all of us.

Mr. Lathom says Commissioner Aluisi and "the Governor's office," refusing to state names, say "others in the community" favor "the presently planned development." He promptly asserts that, "Therefore, we can only deduce that various community leaders have covertly taken a position contrary to the wishes of a majority of the community. This has effectively throttled action by the Governor and the Commissioners," he says. He adds, "Unfortunately . . . the school complex development is being used by some community leaders as leverage to obtain the promise of future development of the proposed perimeter road."

Notice that Mr. Lathom alleges that (a) unnamed leaders are (b) secretly fighting (c) the majority of Greenbelt. But he reveals the real target at the end when the Mayor and Council are named.

The facts are that every member of City Council opposes the school construction on parcel 2. I oppose it. So does everyone I have talked to on this issue, publicly or privately. But it isn't the school construction Mr. Lathom is really talking about; it's the perimeter road. The perimeter road was planned long ago and had nothing to do with the school. The threat of a school on parcel 2 simply made the need for a perimeter road more urgent.

Mr. Lathom knows this. But he is deliberately distorting this issue, dividing the community, and using the technique that should be familiar to us all. Remember Senator Joe McCarthy and the "unnamed" in government who were so powerful they might defeat Government itself? Remember the snide innuendo? I do. And I think we've had enough of it in Greenbelt. I think it's time we all worked together, Mr. Lathom, in a responsible way, for Greenbelt.

George E. Beauchamp, Jr.

Planning Foresight Needed

To the Editors:

In the News-Review report on the public works budget meeting of May 13, Council members expressed the need of exercising some foresight in considering all eventualities in Greenbelt's road program.

Foresight is indeed very important in planning future development and at the same time preserving the character and qualities of this residential community and I agree that the discussion of any major improvements to Northway from Ridge to Hillside at this time is not only untimely because of the present stage of the school complex problem but I would like to point out that such construction would destroy the residential character of this area. This section of roadway has served the residents for the past thirty three years, including the construction of 1000 frame houses in 1942 and also Woodland Hills subdivision of now approximately 60 houses. To change its character now would only be to serve other interests.

The tax payers already have a sample of untimely foresight and extravagant use of tax payers money in recent approval of contracts for Southway Road construction. This contract calls for the section of Southway between Ridge and Greenbelt Road to be built to State standards of a main arterial roadway with divided center strip. These standards in Maryland are for roads carrying over 10,000 vehicles per day and permit speed up to 50 miles per hour. A secondary residential road standard of construction with a 30 ft. paved surface and speed limits up to 25 miles per hour would cost approximately one half as much to build and to maintain as the one now under construction would serve this residential community adequately unless we are determined to assist the School Board and high-rise developers.

To compound this extravagance City Council has apparently decided not to seek Federal-State aid in the present reconstruction of Southway Road. The big need now is more off-street parking facilities.

Competitive Swimming

By Dorallen Davis

Tuesday, June 2, will mark the beginning of Greenbelt's summer competitive swimming season. This year, through the Recreation Department, a comprehensive program of competitive swimming and technique will be taught by the swim coach, Dorallen Davis.

The technique courses will consist of eight lessons, lasting anywhere from half an hour to an hour (depending upon the technique being taught). Registration will begin at 4 p.m. on Monday, June 1, at the Greenbelt Recreation Department. The course is open to any Greenbelt resident, five years of age or over, who is capable of passing an advanced beginners course.

It is desirable for any child or young adult wishing to participate on the swim team to first take these offered technique courses. There are exceptions, of course. Many children may have learned their proper techniques from another team and thus qualify for Greenbelt's team; others have been on the swim team before and again may qualify. Any child believing he may qualify for the team may see Mrs. Davis (with swim suit, please) on June 8, at 4 p.m. at the swimming pool.

Competitive swimming will be offered at 9 a.m. through 12 noon, Tuesday through Friday, on a two-week basis. The purpose of this course is many-sided. First, the student will be taught techniques in using his body, as well as the water, then the actual use of different strokes (i.e. butterfly, breaststroke) and lastly racing dives and turns. There is a vast difference in swimming for pleasure and safety and in swimming for speed. The point here is that one should not take the course with only the express wish of being on the swim team but rather with the hope of becoming a highly developed swimmer.

For more information call Mrs. Davis, 552-2693, or Mrs. Jones, 474-6001.

Local Zoning Denied

In a decision announced on May 13 the District Council (the Prince Georges County Commissioners sitting as a zoning board) denied a petition by David Hillman to rezone from R-30 to R-18 a tract of undeveloped land adjacent to the Lakeside North apartments.

In denying the petition, the commissioners stated that there had been no change in the character of the neighborhood and no mistake in the original zoning grant. The city had previously opposed the change in zoning, as had the MNCPPC.

No decision yet on another petition before District Council to permit the construction of apartments with more than the allowed number of bedrooms for the Glen Oaks development on Greenbelt Rd. east of B-W Parkway.
