APB Report Lists Priorities For Future Land Acquisition

by Virginia Beauchamp

The Springhill Lake golf course would be the first piece of property to be acquired by the city in an open space acquisition plan, if recommendations received by the city council in a report from the Advisory Planning Board should be put into effect. In the APB report ten pieces of land, all potentially cited for development under the open spaces plan, are listed in order of priority, based on a set of three criteria used in establishing the ranking. The ten parcels were previously listed, in a somewhat different order, in a report, dated February 5, by city manager James K. Giese. His report had been referred for study to the APB.

The three criteria mentioned in the APB report, presented to council by APB chairman John Bogumill at the regular city council meeting on June 15, were listed as scarcity, extension and density. Those sections of the city presently having the greatest scarcity of open space land should receive first consideration in any acquisition program, the APB report states. Priority should also be given to acquiring land "which can serve as an extension of existing open space facilities." Open space should also be acquired for those areas of the city having the highest density of development, the report further urges.

According to these principles of priority, the ten properties suggested for potential open space acquisition were listed as follows: Spring Lake golf course, Furey property, GHI property adjacent to parcel 1, GHI property next to Lakewood, part of parcel 4, Agricultural Research Center next to parcel 5, Smith-Ewing tract north of Greenbelt Rd, the Indian Creek flood plain, parcel 1 flood plain, and NASA triangle.

Day-to-day Basis

Recognizing, however, that such practical considerations as the owner's willingness to sell might affect the availability to the city of any of these properties or that imminent undesirable development might also force the city's action in acquiring a given piece of property, the APB report recommends that assessment of such factors must be the city manager's responsibility on "a day-to-day basis."

Such a "practical consideration" was mentioned in the report when the APB referred to a letter by former GHI president Charles Schwan, objecting to the city's interest in the two GHI parcels listed as items 3 and 4 on the priority list. Because of the owner's (that is, GHI's) objection to selling these properties, the APB suggests moving these parcels to the bottom of the priority list, where they already were located on the city manager's recommended list of February 5.

The listed properties are described as follows:

Springhill Lake golf course — a par 3 course comprising over 11 acres at the west end of Springhill Lake. A recreation center facility could be added to the land without seriously disrupting the golf course, according to Giese's report. (Architects Cohen and Haft were designated by council at the meeting on June 15 to design such a facility.)

Furey property — 5.7 acres north of Ridge Rd. and east of Lakeside North Apartments, currently outside the city limits.

GHI property next to parcel 1 — over 8 acres, part of common land located between Laurel Hill and Plateau Pl. northeast of Ridge.

GHI property next to Lakewood — over 4 acres, part of common land located behind 1 and 3 courts of Research, 71 and 73 courts of Ridge, and homes on Greenhill Rd. Part of parcel 4 — over 4 acres, behind 7 and 9 Research on parcel

5 adjacent to Agricultural Research Center and extending from Ridge to Research.

Agricultural Research Center next to parcel 5 — over 3 acres, adjacent to Ridge Rd. park and parcel 5.

Smith-Ewing north — 9 acres adjacent to proposed elementary school on projected perimeter road north of Greenbelt Rd. and backing upon Goddard Space Center.

Indian Creek Flood Plain — over 17 acres, the westernmost part of the Springhill Lake tract on the north side of the Beltway.

Parcel 1 flood plain — 15 to 30 acres in the northeast corner of the city.

NASA triangle — over 25 acres, outside the city at its northeast corner, bounded by Baltimore-Washington Parkway, the city limits, and the Agricultural Research Center.

LOCAL YOUNGSTERS FIGHT POLLUTION

Pollution became a concern for Mrs. Nancie Doyle's Ungraded Upper Elementary class of Springhill Lake School. In order to take an active part in anti-pollution they planned, in place of a play day, a field trip on May 27 to Lake Manor Park in Hyattsville. They devoted their outing to cleaning the stream.

Commissioners Delete Funds For High School Construction

by Virginia Beauchamp

Two simultaneous meetings, held in Upper Marlboro on the morning of Tuesday, June 16, had potential implications for resolving Greenbelt's long-standing controversy over the use of parcel 2 for a senior high school, which, it was learned that day, was to be named the Franklin D. Roosevelt Senior High School. In any case, an extra year for bargaining over the issue was gained for Greenbelt citizens when funds for construction of the controversial building were denied in this year's county budget.

At the more immediately significant of the two meetings — a public hearing by the Prince Georges County Commissioners — the five commissioners expressed their unanimous agreement to withhold for one year a $2.4 million item for construction of a high school on parcel 2. In reaching their decision, the Commissioners referred to strong citizen opposition to the site, asserting that location of an alternate site would probably require a year's time. In this action they followed the recommendation of the Greenbelt City Council presented at a May 27 hearing on the county budget, as well as of other groups and individual citizens who had testified at that earlier hearing.

Also believed having a bearing on the commissioners' decision to delete the item from this year's budget was a recommendation to them from Fred H. Spigler, Jr. Administrative Officer of Education under Governor Marvin Mandel. In a letter to Mrs. Rhea Cohen, Vice-chairman of Greenbelt's Save Our Community Committee, Spigler indicated that he had suggested to Frank J. Aluisi, Chairman of the County Commissioners, that he intercede "if at all possible" in the controversy over the school site. "Governor Mandel is aware of the controversy," the letter stated, "and is hopeful a solution can be reached. In the final analysis, education is not well served when community opinion and any level of government are in conflict."

County School Superintendent William S. Schmidt, as reported in a by-line article by Stephen Neary in the Washington Post on June 17, was "angered and surprised" by the Commissioners' action. Schmidt, according to the Post article, asserted that delay of construction — already three years behind schedule — would lead to overcrowding of Parkdale, DuVal, and High Point high schools.

Board of Education Meeting

Meanwhile the county Board of Education was also holding a public hearing that Tuesday morning. Present to offer two petitions before this body were Mrs. Cohen, representing SOCC; James Bates, President of the Woodland Hills Civic Association; and councilwoman Elizabeth Maffay, who testified as an individual citizen of Greenbelt.

The first petition, presented as an expression of community sentiment, contained over 1500 signatures. Directed to the city council, it requested them to act to halt negotiations for the construction of a senior high school on parcel 2. The other petition, containing 139 signatures and directed to the school board, requested a series of public hearings in Greenbelt concerning "relocating the proposed junior-senior high school complex to one of the several nearby sites which afford better access and sanitary sewer capabilities than the present site."

In a statement accompanying the petition, Mrs. Cohen listed several recommended alternate sites. One of these, parcel 15, the originally chosen location would be suitable for a high school only. Totalling about 29.6 acres, it is adjacent to the newly acquired section of lake park and would be accessible from Greenbelt Rd.

Several sites were also suggested for a junior-senior high school complex: a section of the USDA Agricultural Research Center bordering the city limits to the north and accessible from Edmonston Rd.; a southern part of the Smith-Ewing tract on Greenbelt Rd., called the Glen Oaks Apartments tract, 16.5 acres of which are already designated for a junior high

Big Labor Day Weekend Planned

At the Labor Day Festival committee meeting May 25, events were planned for the weekend of September 4 through September 7.

The two largest twins in the world — Benny and Billy McCrary, of Hendersonville, N. Carolina, will be one of the features of the parade on Monday, Sept. 7, at 10 a.m. Benny and Billy weigh approximately 650 pounds apiece. They ride motorcycles, strum ukas and sing.

Other features planned for the parade and festival are Ronald McDonald, a U. S. Army band and drill team, helicopter rides, Miss Prince Georges' County, High School bands and Pom Pom girls, antique cars, fashion show (latest French fashions created by five internationally known designers), queen contest, carnival, booths, corn shucking contest, dancing, an old fashioned crab feast, plus many other contests and features. The parade marshal is Congressman Lawrence Hogan. W.T.T.G. TV is planning to cover the parade live this year.

Any individual or organization interested in participating in any way, such as manning booths, making posters, typing, helping to secure donations, electrical work, helping with the parade or in any other capacity, please contact the following:

Gen. Chairman: Bill Lawson, 345-3125; Vice Chairman: Dave Lange, 474-0559; Parade Chairman: Dan Minster, 474-0977; Carnival Area: Jim Tewell, 345-1788; Treasurer, Queen Contest: Shirley Meredith, 474-1410; Secretary: Bernie McGee, 474-1861; Publicity: Emory A. Harman, 474-5156.

The committee needs all the assistance possible in order to continue the 1970 festival in the same fine caliber of past years.

Swim Team News

by Mike "Turtle" Jones

This Saturday, June 27, the Greenbelt Swim Team will host the Carrollton Swim Team in a practice meet. Swimmers and officials are asked to be at the pool at 8:30 so that the meet can begin at 9 a.m. school on the MNCPPC Master Plan for Greenbelt and College Park; a northern portion of the Smith-Ewing tract north of Greenbelt Rd.; and — cited as "least desirable because of cost" — the Golden Triangle.

Mrs. Cohen's statement indicated that opposition to the parcel 2 site stemmed mainly from the size of the projected school complex — "the equivalent of an industrial complex." According to her letter to Spigler, to which his letter quoted earlier was a response, 2400 students would attend the high school (of which 600 would be Greenbelters), 1200 would attend the junior high school (500 of these Greenbelters), and 600 — all Greenbelters — would attend the elementary school. In addition, an administration building for 50 people was projected, according to Mrs. Cohen; school faculty and staff would number about 185. Also planned were a regional auditorium, seating 800 and a stadium seating 6000. Daily traffic to the site was estimated at 70 buses and 800 cars, with parking spaces for 1097 cars planned. Parcel 2, which is a section of land abutting on the Baltimore-Washington Parkway but inaccessible to it, could be reached only by narrow residential streets unless a proposed perimeter road were later constructed.

Henry R. Fisher, (L.) who on July 1 will be the new president of the Greenbelt Lions Club, is congratulated by out-going president "Scoop" Wainscott. (R.)

A Self Appraisal

We have heard some criticism recently that the News Review has been devoting an undue proportion of its columns to the affairs of Greenbelt Homes, Inc.. We appreciate comments of this nature, if for no other reason than that they provide us with evidence that people are reading the newspaper. But, more significantly, they make us sit back and reflect on the role of a community newspaper and to write editorials like this which attempt to explain our position.

The News Review, as a non-profit, cooperative newspaper, is dependent on volunteer help in reporting the news. By volunteer, we not only mean the volunteer services of our staff reporters but also the volunteer efforts of non-staff persons who as members of various civic organizations send us press releases and in other ways communicate to us the happenings of the community.

Historically, we have felt an obligation to cover on a regular basis through our own staff reporters the activities of two major organizations in the city — Greenbelt city council (and city government) and Greenbelt Homes, Inc.

The necessity and desirability of detailed reporting of city council and government activities are self-evident. As for GHI, up until the late 1950's, the residents of GHI comprised over 80 percent of the city's population. Even though this proportion is now down to about one-third, we still feel an obligation to report GHI activities in detail.

The affairs of this housing cooperative are of special interest to its 1,600 families because it is a self-governing organization with many elements of sovereignty that are not too dissimilar from those of city council. This aspect of GHI, as exemplified by its bi-weekly board meetings and annual elections which require an informed membership, is in unique contrast to what is found, say, in the operation of apartment complexes. In our judgment, board and membership actions of GHI warrant regular staff coverage.

If there is an imbalance in coverage, the answer, of course, is not to cut down GHI coverage, but to improve the coverage of news from other sections of town. To do so will require the cooperation of residents of the various areas, because there are few focal centers of information to which staff reporters can turn. In effect, we are asking for help, for volunteers in various sections to become special correspondents. No experience is needed for such volunteer work. Remember, this is your community newspaper.. We gather every Tuesday evening, 8 to 10 pm. at 15 Parkway (basement). Come down and get acquainted.

A "Corny" Community

To the Editor:

We have met some wonderful people during our short stay here. I would like to take just a moment while my husband is busy packing (for our trip to California) to thank each and everyone of you, for your kindnesses, your friendliness, your generosity and your enthusiasm for life in general.

Greenbelt is like the last of the Leprechauns — it has a magic all its own in a town-type setting that is fast disappearing from this country. You Greenbelters may not always agree on the "how" but you certainly agree on the "whys" for a better community. You care! That's the magic ingredient!

Sound corny? Well, you're a corny community - caring went out of style years ago.

Mosquito Control Program

The City of Greenbelt is again participating in the county-sponsored mosquito control program administered by State entomologists located at the University of Maryland.

City officials have received numerous complaints and mosquitoes appear to be especially bothersome this year. Crews checked on the larvae breeding and the first spraying in Greenbelt took place June 15. The next date scheduled for spraying in Greenbelt is June 29, and every Monday thereafter.

The major ingredient used in the fairly mild solution is malathion, claimed to be far less toxic to birds and wildlife than DDT. Any inquiries pertaining to the program may be directed to the Mosquito Control Program at the University of Maryland, telephone 454-3846.

The Police Blotter

The department was visited during the week of June eighth by the Maryland Police Training Commission to make sure the department was complying with the mandatory state training act. The commission's report stated that, "this department far exceeds minimum standards and provides more advanced training than most other departments" they had visited.

On June 5-26 Cpl. Faulkner and Officer Reamy will be attending Wesley College, Dover, Delaware, taking a course in police supervision.

On June 12, officer John Salvatore obtained his law degree from Eastern University in Baltimore. He has been going to school while working full-time. He will take his bar exam in July.

A March fire on Breezewood Lane has resulted in the arrest of three members, two adults and one juvenile, of the Branchville fire department. Officer William E. Vogel, of the Greenbelt police force, was commended by Chief William Lane for his investigative work, which was turned over to the fire marshal, in the case. The trio were charged with arson and suspended from the force.

Chief Lane wishes to thank all citizens for coming to the Open House on May 16. The chief also thanks Mrs. Spong, who showed her appreciation to the police by baking a cake for the force.

The first burglary at Springhill Lake in quite a while occurred during the first week in May when the occupants of an apartment awoke at 4:30 p.m. to see an unknown person leaving by the front door. Some souvenir firearms and credit cards were found missing. No forced entry was noted.

A worker at the Beltway Plaza Hot Shoppe called police when he saw a large amount of drugs in a nearby trash can. The drugs had been stolen from a doctor's office in Adelphi. Some other stolen goods were still missing.

Several Boxwood residents have complained about persons speeding on Lastner Lane. Radar has been set up there and police will start issuing summonses shortly.

Two indecent exposure cases were closed, according to the police chief, when a Lanham man was recently arrested.

On May 21, four adult males in two cars were arrested on Crescent Rd., near Lastner Lane, for carrying concealed weapons and narcotics. Officer Vogel arrested the occupant of one vehicle who was driving without a license, and who had concealed a 22 caliber long barreled revolver and a 12 gauge sawed-off shotgun under the drivers seat. Officer Van Valkenburg stopped the second car containing three males. The driver was charged with driving while intoxicated, possessing a concealed weapon, and possessing illegal narcotics. Weapons found in their possession were a 22 calibre pistol, and an M2 carbine rifle, cut down, and illegal according to federal law.

The follow-up details in the case are being handled by Det. Cpl. John Krob.

A week later two males, one a juvenile and the other 18 years old, were arrested in a car stolen from Forrestville. In the car the police found syringes. Both people were charged with unauthorized use of a motor vehicle and possession of narcotic implements. They are also suspects in a breaking and entering case.

Procedure For Service Academy Appointments

Senator Joseph D. Tydings (D.-Md.) asks that all young men interested in being appointed to one of the United States military academies for the Class of 1975 apply to his office as soon as possible.

The Maryland Senator urges all interested Marylanders to initiate the application procedure by writing to his Baltimore office 1616 Federal Building, 31 Hopkins Plaza, Baltimore, Maryland 21201. Those who have already written him need not do so again.

Applicants must be unmarried and never married, a citizen of the United States and at least 17 but less than 22 years of age on July 1, 1971.

City Notes

Recently a contractor has cut gradually sloping sides for a drainage ditch that traverses parcel 1 near the entrance to Boxwood Village. The ditch had been conchidren, since the eroded sides sidered a hazard to neighborhood were considered likely to collapse without warning. One small corner of the parcel 7 project has been done by the city crew.

In University Square some remedial concrete work has been done to curbs and gutters under the maintenance bond to the development. Once the work is completed and accepted into the city system, the city will assume maintenance in the area.

The Public Works Crew during the first week of June reinstalled chain link fences around the silt basin near Olivewood Ct., which had been removed when the drag line contractor cleaned the basin.

The sign painting crew painted crosswalks and stop lines on Crescent Rd. At the baseball diamond and the practice field near St. Hugh's, permanent bases were put into place. Some members of the Public Works crew also worked overtime during several evenings to clean roadsides of debris.

No Parking signs were also placed on the south side of Grescent between Northway and Parkway. Prohibition of parking along that stretch was authorized in response to a request from St. Hugh's Church. The city manager suggested extending the restriction as far as Parkway because the sidewalk along that stretch is placed too close to the pavement, with the result that parked vehicles partly block the sidewalk and also contribute to the working down of dirt on to the sidewalk.

The Public Works crew also patched streets in various places, including Centerway. The Parks crew has planted blue ageratum and scarlet sage in the flower bed near the bank.

The contractor for the widening of Southway has been constructing concrete catch basins for the relocated storm drains. Pepeco is expected next to relocate the light poles.

TICK CONTROL

Precautions are necessary during spring and summer months to guard against dog ticks. Ticks can carry and transmit the organism which causes a serious disease in humans known as Rocky Mountain Spotted Fever.

The disease begins suddenly with a headache and fever which may last two weeks. A skin rash may appear on the extremities on the third day and may spread over the rest of the body. Although the illness responds readily to specific antibiotics, it can be quite serious if it is not diagnosed and treated early, and clinical diagnosis should be supported by blood examinations which are tested in the laboratory.

Primary control measures, should be aimed at preventing humans from being bitten by ticks. They most often frequent wooded shrubbed or tall grassy areas which have a high moisture content. These conditions are found in many of Maryland's recreational and suburban areas.

Children should receive a thorough head-to-toe inspection at least twice a day so that ticks can be removed. Usually within an hour after attachment to the body, ticks begin to transmit the infection; however, it may require as long as several hours. It is, therefore important that ticks be removed promptly.

Caution should be exercised when removing ticks. Either coating the head of the imbedded tick with nail polish remover, oil or grease, or touching the tick with the hot end of an extinguished match encourages detachment. Tweezers or paper tissues can then be used to safely remove the ticks. The wound itself should be washed with soap and water or other antiseptics. It is recommended that the ticks be flushed down the toilet.

Pet owners should be aware of the problem of tick infestation. Pets should not be permitted into one's home until after they are tick free.

GHI Gives City Views On North End Park

In an unofficial letter to the city dated May 18, Greenbelt Homes Inc., restated its position on city manager proposals for acquisition of GHI property for parkland. The two tracts in question were an 8-acre wooded tract between Laurel Hill and Plateau and a buffer strip between Boxwood Village and GHI near 71-73 Ridge.

With respect to the first item, which was given a priority of ninth by the city, GHI agreed that there was a need for extensive wooded parks in the North End and that part should be located on GHI property. It felt, however, that parks on GHI property may not adequately serve the residents of homes constructed on the northern side of the perimeter road and recommended that an additional park area be acquired toward the northwest part of parcel 1.

With respect to the second tract, which was given the lowest priority, GHI suggested that the city consider an exchange of this land for land of comparable size adjacent to GHI's boundary.

GHI observed that several tracts are likely to be developed before the two GHI parcels and therefore suggested that parkland be acquired in these tracts before they are rezoned or developed while the land is at a more reasonable price.

PRAB Recommendations On Lake Park Area

In Report #2-70 delivered before the city council on Monday, May 18, the city's Park and Recreation Advisory Board (PRAB) gave its recommendations for city development of Lake Park South Bay area.

Among the recommendations were:

1) That the existing open field South of the Bay area be developed in a manner that would discourage use by older children, but still facilitate use by younger children (ages 7 to 12). This could be partially accomplished by staking out pathways, locating dense screen plantings, and appropriate fencing.

2) That the Schlafman, Hanses Associates plan for the tot area be approved since its location would encourage supervised use, the lighted multi-purpose court for use by older children and adults, and the screening of the tennis courts.

3) That concrete drainage pipe should be laid from the silt basin to the lake to the extent that the cost of piping would be offset by the savings in hauling away the silt from the basin and the unsightly deposits previously dumped in the area. This action would enhance the appearance of the open space and reclaim additional space. PRAB noted that the Lakeside Citizens Association had strongly urged that piping be extended all the way to the lake, but has agreed to this formula as a compromise so that the city will have sufficient funds to plant larger and better quality trees and to construct the essential pathways.

4) That an additional path be created on city property from the tennis court in the University Square area to the courts by Lakecrest Drive in order to facilitate traffic flow.

5) That a separate lake park maintenance department be budgeted and established in order to assure ease of maintenance and effectuate the silt basin concept.

6) That the representatives of the Lakeside Citizens Association be consulted with respect to final location of pathways, placement of plantings and other pertinent matters.

TRAFFIC TIPS

Don't swing out to the left to make a right turn. It may seem odd to warn against such an action, but it's one of which too many drivers are guilty. You don't need to swing out to miss the curb in turning . . . and, if you do, you're asking for trouble.

If you become tired and sleepy when driving, get off the road. A close call may jolt you awake, but a closer one can put you to sleep permanently.

Did You Hear?

by Sally Greenbelter

Did you hear that the Roosevelt Tree was killed with T.L.C. . . .

Why did the Wednesday Night Club meet on Tuesday? We think there's a story there . . .

If all the people who said they attended that posh Boxwood party really had, the overflow would have covered the streets . . .

Did you hear about the gal from G.H.I. who baked a cake and took it to the Police Department as a thank you for some help she had received? She didn't leave her name, and in calling back later she found they had been afraid to eat it . . . All turned out A.O.K.

If you think the G.H.I. elections are hard-fought campaigns, you should tune in on the Spring Hill Lake P.T.A. elections . . .

What local housewife receives regular calls for help and advice from a nationally known political figure? This name would come as a surprise to many, many people.

Did you hear that a couple of gals in town are members of the Women's Liberation Movement? But not too brave. When they attend meetings they tell their husbands they're playing bridge . . .

Did you hear about the cool, calm and collected fellow over at Lakeside North who came home from a recent golf date with an iron that had been wrapped around a tree? Temper, temper . . .

Did you hear that all these recent defections to the Republican party are about to switch back? Do they know something we don't know?

Did you hear about the fellow in Lakewood who's quietly getting even with a stuffy neighbor? He gets up early in the morning and blows dandelions all over the neighbor's yard . . .

Have you noticed the number of old posters all over the store windows in the center mall area? Actually we suspect that's all that's holding those windows together . . .

Who's the checker who works at the Co-op, has six children and still looks like Miss America?

Did you see the station wagon full of kids with the sticker on the back . . . Stop Hair Pollution . . .

Or how about that Volkswagen Bus with the sticker . . . Buy American . . . ? Both of them

Did you hear that no one in Greenbelt will admit to being the establishment????

Did you hear that the behind-the-scenes political activity at several of the apartment areas is feverish? Gearing up for what?

If you think the sermons in church are fire and brimstone you should listen to the conversation in a local store on Sunday morning.

CITY APPEALS DENIAL FOR GRANT OF FUNDS

Three city officials — Chief of Police William Lane, City Manager James K. Glese, and Administrative Assistant Gary Stenhouse — journeyed to Annapolis on June 11 to appear before the Governor's Committee on Law Enforcement to appeal an earlier denial of the city's application for a grant of funds under the Federal Government's Safe Streets Act to purchase a tape recorder. Following the appeal, in the form of a verbal presentation, the city was granted $840 of the $1700 requested. The grant will cover the actual cost of the equipment, but not time for training the officers in its use.

The recording equipment, which will consist of individual cassettes for the patrol cars, is expected to relieve officers of clerical time by allowing them to tape their comments immediately for later transcription by a clerk, to enable them to take statements on the spot by witnesses, and to be used in the station for formal interrogation. Of much importance, officials believe, will be its use in providing better information for detectives in their follow-up work and a better record for criminal trials. Equally important should be its effect in keeping patrolmen on actual patrol duty.

CUB PACK 746

A Kachina Dance Team from Explorer Post 70 presented a colorful and authentic Indian Dance at the May meeting of Pack 746, held at Camp Conestoga.

The fireside meeting provided a dramatic setting for the pack's graduation ceremony for the following eighteen boys: Thomas Geiger, John Beauchamp, Timothy Moore, Phillip Hartley, Gregory Turner, Mark Gilbert, Paul Birner, Andrew Birner, Mark Felsner, Michael Magill, Timothy O'Brien, John Eastep, Brian Havekost, Bruce Mangum, Michael Talbot, Andrew Webster, Terrance Burchick and Kevin Foster.

Al Cousin, Scoutmaster of Troop 746, welcomed the graduates and announced his expectations of them as Boy Scouts.

Peter Bracken, Den 7, was awarded his Wolf Badge, Gold and Silver Arrow Points.

Cubmaster E. Kubichar announced plans for the June 27th Rocket Derby, to be held at 2 p.m. at Mowatt Methodist Church, a trip to the Beltsville Speedway on July 31; and a Field Day Cookout on August 15, when the men and boys will compete in field games and host their families and den mothers at a cookout dinner.

The Rev. Kenneth Buker, Neighborhood Commissioner, presented a first place ribbon to the pack for their participation in the 1970 Scout Exposition at Gaithersburg.

Cub Scout Joel Weissler received the ticket sales award and Mrs. Weissler's Den 8 received the Honor Den award for 100% parent participation in the 'Expedition to the Exposition.'

LICENSE REQUIRED FOR BABY SITTING

Maryland law requires that anyone providing family day care (babysitting) be licensed by the State Department of Social Services. This not only protects the health, safety and welfare of the child but also helps the woman providing care by furnishing her with a social worker to advise her on any problems that may arise and to assist her in other ways, as well.

In some cases, the Department of Social Services can pay for the care of these children. Payment is $60.00 per month per child for full day care and $30.00 per month per child for part-time children.

If you are interested in learning more about being licensed, please telephone the Prince Georges County Department of Social Services at 927-4600 or 927-9130.

6 suggestions for wives with radiators where furniture ought to be.

Suggestion 6.

1. If you're genuinely attached to hot water heat, switch to an electric hydronic heating system. Instead of radiators, it uses inconspicuous baseboard or wall units. And the boiler is about the size of a suitcase.

2. Install an electric warm air system. You can use the same ducts for both heating and cooling.

3. Consider one of the three kinds of furnace-less electric heat which offer room-by-room temperature control. Like flush-fitting wall units.

4. Or trim, attractive baseboard units.

5. Or invisible ceiling cables which radiate heat downward like the sun.

6. Cleverly disguise your radiators with slipcovers as shown above.

We will be happy to fill you in on suggestions 1-5. For a free heating survey and estimate of operating costs for your own home—and a complimentary copy of "20 Most Often Asked Questions About Electric Heat"—call our Residential Customer Department at 628-0389, 628-0506 or 628-0617. No obligation.
