Officials Hear Citizens' Views On New Greenbelt Master Plan

by Virginia Beauchamp

The Franklin D. Roosevelt High School could possibly open on time even if a different site than parcel 2 is selected now—that seemed to be the implication in a remark by County Commissioner Francis Francois. Speaking at a public hearing on Thursday, September 10, in the Greenbelt Municipal Building on the Proposed Master Plan for College Park-Greenbelt and Vicinity, Commissioner Francois responded to expressed concern over the deferment of construction of a proposed senior high school. "If we act promptly on a site," he said he had been "assured," there would be "no significant delay," he told the audience.

Since the location of a Senior High School on parcel 2, as shown in the Master Plan, was the principal objection to the Plan expressed by the city, as well as by many citizens at the meeting, Francois noted that the record for the Master Plan hearing would remain open until October 15, permitting the contents of the September 29 School Board hearing on the location of the school to be incorporated. Gladys Spellman, the only other Commissioner present, concurred.

The over-all tone of the September 10 meeting was amicable, set off by some good-natured sparring between Francois and Mayor Francis W. White, both candidates for county commissioner on opposing slates in the County primary election. In fact, Francois brought a laugh from the audience when, in introducing White, he expressed the hope that White would be Mayor of Greenbelt for many years.

With the exception of some controversy centering chiefly on the proposed location of the high school and the plans for a perimeter road, the overall reception given to the Master Plan was favorable. Revisions made over the past six years have reduced the proposed future density by more than 2,000 dwellings units (for comparison, there are 1600 units in Old Greenbelt), in addition, the Master Plan now incorporates several areas zoned single-family homes instead of apartments.

White was first of three speakers who read prepared statements at the meeting. White spoke for the city council, Rhea Cohen, represented the Save Our Community Committee, and Royal D. Breashers represented Greenbelt Homes Inc. As expected, these statements showed similarities in the positions represented—objections to the high school on parcel 2 because of anticipated traffic tie-ups on the narrow, nearby roads; and a desire for lower density zoning of the Golden Triangle.

Perimeter Road Positions
SOCC differed from the other two, however, in its attitude toward a proposed perimeter road, which is shown on the MNCPPC map as roughly paralleling the northern boundary of the city. City council and GHI strongly support the eventual construction of such a road to provide access to parcels 1 and 2 in the northeastern corner of the city. But, SOCC opposes such a road, recommending elimination of the middle portion so that there would be no through road to attract traffic in a short-cut from Kenilworth to Greenbelt Road, east of the Baltimore-Washington Parkway.

SOCC endorses construction of a road connecting Springhill Lake, over the Beltway, with Kenilworth near Crescent Road, the paving of Ridge Road, from Lakeside North to Lastner Lane; and construction of a "collector road" from Parcels 1 and 2 with a bridge over the B-P Parkway and continuing through the Smith-Ewing tract to Greenbelt Road.

Both the city's and GHI statements see MASTER PLAN, p. 3, col. 1

Details of Sept. 29 Hearing Outlined by School Board

Prince Georges County citizens will have the opportunity to express their views, either in support of or in opposition to, the planned location of a new high school scheduled to be constructed in Greenbelt, at a public hearing on Tuesday, September 29.

The public hearing, called for by the Board of Education in response to a request made by the Mayor of Greenbelt, will start at 8 p.m. in the multi-purpose room of Greenbelt Junior High School.

By previous action, the Board of Education resolved to construct three new schools—one elementary, one junior high, and one senior high—on a 73-acre plot of land in Greenbelt.

Since that decision, opposition to the proposed senior high school site has been voiced by the Greenbelt community.

Funds for the immediate construction of a new school were deleted from the current financing program by the County Commissioners of Prince Georges County.

Participants in the public hearing will include: staff members of the Superintendent of Schools, who will review the history of the location; representatives of the Maryland-National Capital Park and Planning Commission who will present the Commission's views; a representative of the City to present the views of the City; civic organization representatives, with one speaker per organization, who will be given five minutes to express his group's views; and individual citizens, who will be given three minutes each to express their personal views.

At a later date, after deliberation, the Board of Education will make its recommendation to the State Superintendent of Schools in accordance with Section 47(b) of Article 77 of the Annotated Code of Maryland.

Persons or organizations interested in appearing before the Board at the public hearing should contact Edward Feeny, Administrative Assistant to the Superintendent of Schools, Prince Georges County Public Schools, Upper Marlboro, Maryland, 20870; telephone: 627-4800, extension: 205.

Public Hearing on the Location of Franklin Roosevelt Senior High School

The Board of Education of Prince Georges County has scheduled a public hearing at the Greenbelt Junior High School on Tuesday, September 29, 1970 at 8 p.m., in accordance with section 47 (b) of the 1969 Public School Laws.

The public hearing is on the location of the new Franklin Roosevelt Senior High School.

Persons or organizations desiring to be heard at the meeting should so indicate in advance, if at all possible, their intention to present testimony. Notification may be given to Edward Feeny, Administrative Assistant to the Superintendent of Schools, Prince Georges County Public Schools, Upper Marlboro, Maryland 20870, telephone 627-4800.

Gas Station Approved

On Wednesday, September 2, the Prince Georges County Planning Board voted approval of a Springhill Lake request for a change in zoning from R-R (Rural Residential) to C-2 to permit construction of a gasoline station on 0.8529 acres of land on the west side of Kenilworth Avenue near the State Roads Commission Building. The city council and the Maryland National Capital Park and Planning Commission staff had previously recommended approval. The county commissioners will have the final say.

The application (A-8147), filed by Albert H. Small and associates, was approved with the stipulation that the tract be developed in accordance with the submitted site and design plan.

The city's arrangement with Springhill Lake calls for approximately two-thirds of the land to be dedicated to the city to serve as a buffer zone between the station and homes on the opposite side of Kenilworth Ave. The city will thus be able to control the type of screening that will be used.

The city has also stipulated that no other uses than a gasoline station be permitted for the tract.

Greenbelt Primary Results

Tydings, Hart Win Here As F. White Runs Strong Race

With most of the interest centered on the Democratic primary, Greenbelt Democrats last Tuesday pretty much followed the county and State trends. They gave Governor Marvin Mandel a whopping vote, favored Senator Joseph Tydings and Congressional seat seeker Royal Hart with large majorities, and helped elect a slew of candidates supported by the Alliance for Action group.

The one area where local sentiment differed from the county concerned the race for five county commissioners. Here two Greenbelters, Mayor Francis White and Perry Smith led the field in Greenbelt, followed by John J. Garrity, Francis B. Francois, and Francis J. Aluisi (see chart on page 3). The winners countywide were Aluisi, Francois, Garrity, Samuel W. Bogley, and Winfield M. Kelly, Jr., as White came in sixth, some 1,200 votes behind.

Outside of the county commissioners' race and that for State's Attorney, the Alliance for Action slate got a Greenbelt high vote for every major post. These included

3 candidates for House of Delegates (Pauline H. Menes, Arthur Dorman, and David Gray Ross), Edward T. Conroy for State Senator, Don Edward Ansell for Sheriff, and three candidates for Orphan's Court judges (Stewart B. Preston, Thomas V. Moore, and Ronald G. Maurice). All these candidates were winners at the county level except Preston. In the State's Attorney race, Arthur A. Marshall of the County Democrats '70 group received the high Greenbelt vote.

Republican Results

On the Republican side, all the candidates endorsed by the Republican Central Committee won handily in Greenbelt. These included John R. Burcham, Jr., Robert A. Crawley, Gerard F. Holcomb, Lucille B. Potts, and Raymond G. LaPlaca for county commissioners; William N. McKeever, Jr. for sheriff; and Joseph M. Bryan, C. Paul Hickman, and Larry F. Hoffman for House of Delegates. Greenbelt Republican voters also supported C. Stanley Blair for Governor and J. Glenn Beall, Jr. for U. S. Senator.

About 2,470 Democrats and 590 Republicans voted in Greenbelt's three precincts. This represents about a 45 percent turnout for the Democrats and a 25 percent turnout for the Republicans. In the Springhill Lake precinct, the Democratic turnout was about 36 percent compared with 50 percent for the rest of Greenbelt.

Generally speaking, Tydings and Hart made their best showing in the Springhill Lake and Center school districts. Mayor Francis White received the highest Greenbelt vote — 1,236 — among the candidates for county commissioner, doing best in the Center school district. Francois and Smith also pulled well in that district, while Garrity and Aluisi showed up best in the other districts.

In the Democratic State Central Committee contest, the Greenbelt vote for local personages were Rhea Cohen, 703; Bruce Bowman, 524; Irene Hensel, 367; and George Panagoulis, 283. None of these, however, won seats on the Committee, though former Greenbelt Louis Pohoryles did. One Greenbelt runner for the Republican Central Committee was successful — Michael Gendel.

In the Circuit Court Judges race, James H. Taylor, William H. McCullough, and Samuel J. DeBlasis finished in that order in the Greenbelt balloting.

Jaycees Ask Assistance To Clear Lake Debris

by William Pine

Last year at this time the Greenbelt Jaycees (twenty-five strong) attempted to clean the lake and the two tributaries that feed the lake. Manned with rakes and nets and working in hip boots and in row boats, they accomplished a considerable amount of work. Four dump trucks full of debris including tires, cans, bottles, telephone poles and innumerable other items were taken out of the water. The only thought that became evident at the end of the day was that twenty-five men could not come close to accomplishing what needed to be done.

Now again they have evaluated the work that needs to be accomplished and they cannot do it alone. The lake is fairly clean despite a continual ring of litter around its perimeter. But the two creeks that feed the lake are in deplorable condition. The main concern is the creek that feeds the settlement basin; beyond the basin every five or ten feet there is a stoppage in the creek and also several absolute dams that send the water out and around to rejoin the creek at a later point. At each of these dams the water is left to stagnate and collect litter.

The Greenbelt Jaycees will be out at the lake Saturday, Sept. 19, doing their best with thirty-five men this year. Now they must plead with the community for help.

A conservative estimate of 200 men has been made by the project committee to be sufficient manpower to accomplish the cleaning of the lake and creek areas. The Jaycees need the help of all the men's clubs and organizations in the community and any individuals who are interested in conservation and having a cleaner and healthier recreation area. The project will begin at the parking lot adjacent the lake on Crescent Road at 9:30 a.m., Saturday, Sept. 19. If you would like to help or have any questions, please call project chairman Jim Daffron at 474-5054.

Thanks

Letter to the Editor:

Once again, it is a privilege and my pleasure to say thanks to the many, many wonderful people in Greenbelt and surrounding communities who gave of their time and effort in helping and assisting me during the preparation and presentation of the annual Queen Pageant during the 16th Greenbelt Labor Day Festival.

It is my great pleasure to express my gratitude and appreciation to the following people for their cooperation and support: Mayor Francis White; City Manager James Giese; City Offices; Police Department; Recreation Department; all of the 22 sponsors; Mr. Vincent Caruso, who presented the trophies; Miss Debby Freeman, Miss Greenbelt of 1969, who crowned Miss Beth Wilkinson as Miss Greenbelt of 1970 and also who presented flowers to the winners and participants; Miss Karen Hennings, Professional Model and Instructor at the Patricia Stevens Model Agency; Major John K. Bevans, Professor and instructor of the Air Force ROTC at Catholic University; Walter Tryon, Councilman of the Seventh District at College Park and employee of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Co.; the Rev. B. F. Booher, Associate Pastor of St. Johns Lutheran Church of Riverdale; and Drew Marcks, staff writer for the Prince Georges County News of Laurel, who served as judges; Tom Freeman, Associated Press photographer, who took pictures for the posters, during the presentations and also the parade; Ina Marie's Dress Shop of Seabrook, who furnished fashions for the contestants on the Friday and Saturday night program and Mrs. Rose Marie Jung, who acted as fashion coordinator and commentator for the fashion show.

Others who assisted were: Butch Siehl, who made posters for the convertibles, and the following who drove the Queen, her court and participants in the parade: C. W. Raley, D. E. Smith, Rae Smith, Don McCaughey, Izzy Pelton, Mrs. Sue Taylor, Mrs. Shirley Welch, Don Britton, W. B. Drake, Mike Spahr, Dave MacFarlane and Mr. and Mrs. Steve Tavener.

Thanks also to Mrs. Shirley Clute, Mrs. Gloria Drake, Mrs. Shirley Welch, Miss Doris Costanza and Miss Kathy Foster, who helped tremendously with the contestants in preparation for their appearance and also following each presentation; Cindy Hampton, Carol Leech and Lyn Lawson, in helping to make posters for the girls' pictures; Joe Natoli of the Greenbelt Carry-Out for the storage of flowers; Jo's Hair Stylist of Riverdale, who gave hair styles to the contestants; and Jay Morris of the Young Republican Club, who received Miss Wilkinson and Mr. and Mrs. Meredith as guests at the crab feast. Also Pastor Boland of St. Hugh's Catholic Church for use of the parking lot for arranging cars for the parade, and S. Klein's for loan of a dress rack.

To those who drove cars to take the girls to lunch: Mrs. Clute, Mrs. Barbara Lawson and Emory Harmon. To the escorts Mr. Butch Siehl, Dave Rosetti, Kevin Wilkenson, Joe McNally, Jim Woodell, Danny Pray, Scott Powell, Mike Spahr, Dave MacFarlane, Mike Long, Cliff Bordas, and Don Britton.

Above all, my sincere and whole-hearted thanks to the 22 contestants for their delightful participation, full co-operation and contribution to a most successful pageant.

The theme of the 1970 Greenbelt Labor Day Festival, "Americanization — Unity Through Community Involvement" certainly, in my belief, was fulfilled, as the 16th annual Greenbelt Labor Day Festival was everything that it was reported to be. Again, my thanks.

1970 Queen Contest Chairman
Mrs. Shirley Meredith

Thanks Again

Teen Parent Co-op?

To the Editor:

As my children grow into their teens I find myself wondering whether Greenbelt could use yet another cooperative. Greenbelt is a wonderful town; but despite the commendable efforts of the Recreation Department, there doesn't seem enough for young people at this very active and inquiring age to do. As their minds begin to broaden and serious interests awaken — intellectual, artistic, political, and social — what can Greenbelt offer? There are interesting activities in Washington and scattered through the suburbs; but public transportation is so expensive and inconvenient that parents either find themselves unwilling full-time chauffeurs or else their children are unable to avail themselves of the existing opportunities.

There must be other Greenbelt parents contemplating similar problems. Is there a way we could organize to pool our ideas and energies? Could we offer our adolescents a richer choice and at the same time do less driving individually?

A few of the possibilities that have occurred to me are group subscriptions to some of the series of plays and concerts in Washington and at the University of Maryland; swim parties at indoor pools; special interest classes at the Smithsonian; ice skating at some of the rinks in the area; an afternoon spent browsing through second-hand bookstores or exploring Georgetown or Annapolis; perhaps an occasional meal at one of the many good foreign restaurants in the area. Most of these fun things involve some driving.

If anyone is interested in talking this over, please call me at 345-9421 or drop me a line at 8 Lakeside Drive.

Beth Wilkinson Crowned
Miss Greenbelt 1970

Beth Wilkinson was selected as Miss Greenbelt of 1970 at a ceremony on Sunday, September 6 at the Greenbelt Labor Day Festival. She was chosen from a group of 22 contestants on the basis of poise, personality, appearance and beauty by the following judges: Miss Karen Hennings, Maj. John P. Bevans, Rev. B. F. Booher, Walter Tryon, and Drew Marcks.

Miss Wilkinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wilkinson of 118 Northway, was sponsored by the Greenbelt Boys and Girls Club and is a student at Parkdale Senior High School.

Miss Greenbelt of 1969, Debby Freeman, crowned Miss Wilkinson Sunday night after three days of competition. On Friday and Saturday nights, the evenings program was a combination of the introduction and appearance of the contestants and a fashion show. Fashions worn by the girls were furnished by Ina Marie's of Seabrook. Mrs. Rose Marie Jung acted as coordinator and commentator. Sunday afternoon, the contestants were introduced in the swim suit competition and finally in street length formals for the Sunday night judging and crowning.

The first runner-up was Dorette Ahmay sponsored by Metropolitan Claim Service and the second runner-up was Mary Ann Eisler, sponsored by the Lion's Club. Those who were judged for the ten semi-finalists included the following: Kay Helms, Sherry Snider, Terry Corbin, Sherry Kennedy, Heidi Barron, Lynette Brafford, Mary Beth McNally and the three winners. Heidi Barron and Terry Corbin were also among the five finalists. Miss Wilkinson, Miss Ahmay and Miss Eisler were awarded scholarships to the Patricia Stevens Modeling Agency. All participants received trophies and flowers for their participation, full cooperation and contributions to a most successful Beauty Contest.

Vincent Caruso, Chairman Emeritus of the Queen Contest and Festival Committee presented the trophies to the queen and her court and the other participants. Caruso was the first chairman of the Queen contest in 1955 and served in that capacity for several years.

Escorts for the contestants included Butch Siehl, Dave Rosetti, Kevin Wilkenson, Joe McNally, Jim Woodell, Danny Pray, Scott Powell, Mike Spahr, Dave MacFarlane, Mike Long, Cliff Bordas and Don Britton.

The Queen, her court and other participants rode in the Labor Day Parade on Monday in open convertibles driven by: C. W. Raley, D. E. Smith, Rae Smith, Don McCaughey, Izzy Pelton, Mrs. Sue Taylor, Mrs. Shirley Welch, Don Britton, W. B. Drake, Mike Spahr, Dave MacFarlane and Mr. & Mrs. Steven Tavener. Debby Freeman, Miss Greenbelt 1969 and Mrs. Shirley Meredith, Chairman also rode in the parade, and were driven by George McKenny. Mrs. Meredith also served as Mistress of Ceremonies for the annual festival pageant.

"Civilisation" Series

Because of an unexpectedly large turnout of people hoping to see the first film in the "Civilisation" Series last Monday night at the Greenbelt Library, future weekly films will be shown twice on Mondays—the first show at 7:30 p.m., the second at 8:30 p.m. The first film, "The Skin Of Our Teeth," will be shown at the Laurel Library on Sept. 23 at 7:30 p.m.

On Monday, Sept. 21, "The Great Thaw" will be shown, followed by "Romance and Reality" on Sept. 28.

Teens Will March

Teens from St. Hugh's CYO will march for ALSAC—Aiding Leukemia Stricken American Children on Sunday, Sept. 20, from 2-4 p.m. Proceeds will go to Saint Jude's Children's Hospital in Memphis, Tenn. Founded by Danny Thomas, this Center treats children from all over the world without charge. PLEASE HELP! Our Teen Club receives no benefits from this drive—only the pleasure of helping. We have eager volunteers—don't disappoint them. THANK YOU.

Saint Hugh's CYO

The dance scheduled to be held at St. Hugh's on Saturday, Sept. 19 has been cancelled. Plans are underway to form carpools to attend a dance at Saint Mathias in Lanham, Friday, Sept. 18 from 7:30-10:30. Parents—please help—drive a careful over and back.

The Teen's March for ALSAC will be conducted on Sunday, Sept. 20, from 2-4 p.m. Members will be contacted by a block captain to assign areas and distribute materials. Please return proceeds to the Rectory meeting room after the March.

Please call Maureen Fitzgerald, 474-7914, or Mrs. Flood, 474-5610, for information.

Mary Williamson

Mary Helen Williamson of Lanham, daughter of Louise Wall of Greenbelt, died on Sunday, Sept. 13. Funeral services were held on Sept. 16 at Lanham Methodist Church.

MASTER PLAN from p. 1 ments differed also from SOCC's in stressing many positive aspects of the revised Master Plan. Both commended the MNCPPC for the general excellence of the plan—particularly stressing a proposed grade separation at the Kenilworth-Greenbelt Road intersection, and recognition in the plan of the need for additional open space and recreational area in the city.

The city also commended the elimination of garden-apartment zoning in the northwest corner of the city (the Springhill Lake tract north of the Beltway) and the substitution of restricted commercial zoning, which would permit development of an office park and motel convention center adjacent to the Beltway and behind the State Roads Commission building on Kenilworth Ave. Council also endorsed the proposed extension of Interstate 95 into the District of Columbia as a means of reducing traffic movements through the city of Greenbelt.

Assumptions Challenged

Among the group of individuals who testified later concerning the Master Plan proposal, two — Katherine Keene and Dorothy Sucher — challenged underlying assumptions which they felt the school board and the MNCPPC were operating under. Miss Keene objected to the proposition that a complex of elementary-junior high-senior high was in itself desirable. Referring to comments at a recent school board hearing that educators endorse the idea of schools at different levels utilizing adjacent land and facilities, she noted that after some research in professional journals and consultation with officials in the National Education Association and the U. S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, she had been unable to find any professional endorsement of such plants as educationally desirable. Indeed, she noted, the whole idea of the junior high school was to separate the younger children from the older ones.

Mrs. Sucher objected to the relatively new specification that senior high schools must occupy a minimum of 40 acres of land. She noted that no such limitation applied when parcel 15 was first recommended for use as a high school site. As she grew older, she said, she had seen many fads come and go. She urged the Commissioners not to be "hidebound" by such figures from consideration of parcel 15 as a suitable school site. The important thing, she stressed, was that the schools be good schools.

Two residents of Lakecrest development opposed parcel 15 as a high school site, as suggested in the city's statement as a possible alternative to parcel 2. James Bates, President of Woodland Hills subdivision, on the other hand, expressed the opposition of his organization to a school on parcel 2.

Spurred by these objections to locating a school on the two available sites within the boundaries of "old Greenbelt," Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Stone spoke in favor of building necessary schools now, recognizing — as Stone said — that "some pollution may be necessary." (Most objections to the suggested sites stressed the heavy traffic and attendant air pollution that would be generated by the school.)

In rebuttal Bates drew audience applause for his ringing defense of long-range planning. He stressed that we must differentiate between short- and long-term effects of plans now made. A one or two-year delay in starting construction of a high school might offer unpleasant short-term effects in the form of overcrowded schools, he noted; but these would be as nothing compared to the long-term danger from traffic that generations of children in the neighborhood might be subjected to if the proposed plan for the three-school complex on parcel 2 should become a reality.

One of the last speakers, Gabriel Sucher, a student at the Junior High School, drew favorable commendation from Commissioner Francois for his courage in coming out to testify. Young Sucher particularly objected to the routing of an access road to Springhill Lake, which appeared to be shown on the map as cutting across the present Junior High School athletic field. He also endorsed the idea of rapid transit over freeway transit, differing with the city's endorsement of I-95.

Recreation Review

Winners of the Fishing Contest

Will Hatfield caught a foot-long Bass to capture the 12 and under "Huck Finn" fishing title during the Labor Day festival contest. Other winners were: Larry Waters, 10 and under; Anthony Hanyok, 14 and under; Greg Scheibel, 14 and under; and Mary Florence, 14 and under.

Swim Relay Winners

The following are the winners of the Labor Day Family Swim Relay: First Place — The J. Merriks Family; Second Place — The George Jones Family; Third Place — The Robert Dredger Family.

TENNIS FINALS

The Greenbelt Labor Day Tennis Championships, sponsored by the Recreation Department, was the scene of some fine competition. Five-time National Champion, from Scotland, Jim Denaney, captured the Singles crown 6-0, 1-6, 6-2 over Randy Harbough. Sue Modewiezeski defeated Claire Walsh 6-3, 7-5, to win in the Ladies Singles event. Ray McDonald and Bob Magnums won the Men's Doubles; while Peggy Patterson and Ann Wittenstein captured the Ladies Doubles title.

Dolores Nichte and Bob Lyon were victorious in the Mixed Doubles with a score of 6-1, 2-6, 6-2 over John Shearer and Claire Walsh.

HEALTH TESTS POPULAR

In the visual, glaucoma and diabetic tests, President Henry Fisher of the Greenbelt Lions reports a new record of tested people in the two mobile units under the direction of program chairman John Dutrow of the Prince Georges Health Dept. 580 people were tested for diabetes and 547 for visual and glaucoma tests. Eight diabetics were detected and two border-line diabetics. Several people were reported with poor vision. No glaucoma was discovered.

Our Neighbors City Notes

Elaine Skolnik — 474-6060
 Dr. William Weintraub has been named to head the newly formed Department of Family Medicine at Prince Georges Hospital.

Stephen Ford spent six weeks in Alaska (Chickimin River), where he visited his uncle. A student at Prince Georges Community College, he enjoyed salmon fishing in the forty-ninth state.

Billie and "Mac" McDonnell, 2-H Northway, will soon be on their way to their retirement home in Pearce, Arizona. We wish them good health and much happiness. They will be missed.

The Boy Scouts of SHL Troop 1253 had a busy summer. There were trips to historic Antietam, Harpers Ferry, and a camping vacation in Virginia.

Meetings of the SHL Players are held regularly at 8 p.m. on the second Wednesday and fourth Tuesday of each month. New members and guests are always welcome.

Baseball 1970 was brought to a close at SHL at a banquet attended by boys, their families, umps, coaches, managers and sponsors. Trophies were given to the winning team, "Orioles," and also to the players showing the most sportsmanship on each team. Selected by the managers, they are Steven Goldberg, Orioles; Harold Patty, Bombers; Frank Murdock, Yankees; Timothy Berliner, Senators; and Larry Brady, Mets. Teams wound up in the following order: Orioles, Bombers, Mets and Yankees, and Senators.

On August 11, a new baby girl made her debut at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Biondi, 105 Periwinkle Ct. Susan Ann, weighing in at 8 lb. 2 oz., was welcomed by Joe, age 9, David, 8, Marie, 6, Jimmy, 5, and Judy 3.

Louis M. Levine, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. Levine, 3-H Eastway, entered service in the Army on August 26. Friends may correspond with him at the following address: Pvt. Louis M. Levine, Platoon #3, U. S. 212-54-6438, E-4-3, 3rd Platoon, Fort Dix, New Jersey 08640.

Navy Hospital Corpsman Neville F. Keys, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otis L. Keys, 1624 Ridge, graduated from the Hospital Corps School at Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill.

Our sympathy to May Downey of the News Review staff, who recently lost her brother, Michael Giltrude of Lanham.

Condolences to Louise Wall on the death of her daughter, Mary Helen Williamson.

Rug Hooking Classes

LITTLE LEAGUE BANQUET

There will be a Little League banquet on October 3 at 7:30 p.m. at Greenbelt Fire House.

Following the breaking of windows and other vandalism at the Ridge Road Center (the former Lutheran Church building, the city has taken steps to make the building more secure. Windows have been temporarily boarded up, pending the purchase of a steel mesh type of window guard. New locks will be installed throughout and new exterior doors will also be purchased to increase security for the premises.

Besides the broken windows, the major damage to the building was caused when a large can of wax remover was tipped over on the floor. A 10' by 20' area of floor tile had to be replaced.

The building is expected to be used for the first time around the end of September, when the Department of Recreation will schedule certain of its programs there.

The Public Works Dept. is continuing with the job of sprucing up its own premises in the Municipal Service Bldg. Another load of sod — 600 yards more — was laid last week. Currently the crew is preparing forms to pour concrete steps for the new sidewalk to the parking lot.

As always during the Labor Day Festival weekend, the city crew put in many overtime hours, just keeping the carnival area spruced up and tidy. Each morning a city crew went out, in the wee hours, to cart away debris and rake up the ground. The carnival rides all moved out by Tuesday morning, but Public Works crew did not finish knocking down and removing the booths until Wednesday.

Work on the Youth Center addition, which had stopped over the weekend, resumed on Tuesday, when the remainder of the concrete foundations were poured. But city officials were not certain when work would resume on the paving of Southway. All concrete work for Gentry Drive has been completed, and the foundation layer of asphalt has been poured. Workmen were backfilling behind curbs and along sidewalks after the concrete hardened. Only the laying down of the top layer of asphalt now remains.

Fair Housing Group To Discuss Film

The Greenbelt Citizens for Fair Housing will hold a special meeting at the Greenbelt Library on Thursday, September 24, at 8 p.m. The film, "Run Jimmy Run," will be presented by Mrs. Virginia Kellogg and a team of case workers from the Prince Georges Public Welfare Department.

The film explains the idea of adopting children across racial lines. Two families will be present who have made such adoptions and will explain all of the considerations and the fulfillments involved.

FOLKSING EVENING

A folksing will be held on the lower level of the Greenbelt library on Crescent Rd. from 7:30 to 10 p.m. on Wednesday, Sept. 23. Greenbelters who enjoy singing, playing instruments, or listening are invited to attend. Two additional evenings of folk-singing have been scheduled for later this fall, according to Young People's Librarian Elizabeth Allen.

Majorettes Registration

The Greenbelt Majorettes and Drum Corps, sponsored by the Women's Auxiliary of the Greenbelt Volunteer Fire Department, report a most successful recent fund-raising project. Top sales award went to Miss Jacqueline Lee, with Miss Desirae England in second place. Both girls received prizes for their outstanding sales ability.

Registration for majorettes, both beginning and advanced, is open every Saturday morning through September and October. Children eight years old and younger are asked to register and practice from 10 a.m. to 11 a.m. every Saturday, while older girls will register from 11 a.m. to 12 noon every Saturday. Older girls with no previous baton experience are invited to join, as are potential drummers with or without experience. A small monthly dues is charged.

Library Children's Programs

Story Program Registration will be held at the Greenbelt Branch of Prince Georges County Memorial Library on Monday, September 21, for three-year-olds and on Thursday, September 24, for four and five-year-olds. Registration will be held in the Conference Room, Lower Level, at 2 p.m.

Saturday Show Time will begin on September 19 for children 6-12. Films for this week are Puppets and Siam: People of Thailand. The program begins at 2 p.m. in the Meeting Room.

Managing the Difficult Child

Dr. Gerald M. Polin, a physician currently affiliated with the Child Psychiatry section of the Prince Georges County Mental Health Center, will speak on the use of drugs in treating hyperactive children. The program is scheduled for Sunday, Sept. 20, 8 p.m., at the Mishkan Torah Synagogue, Ridge and Westway Rds. All parents and teachers, are cordially invited.

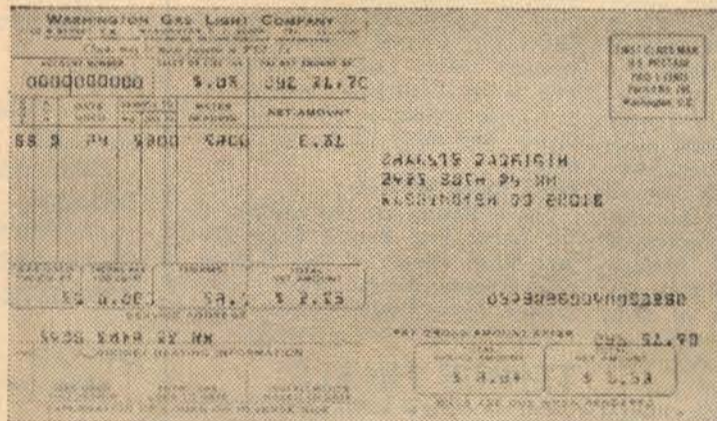

SQUARE DANCERS MEET

The Frank Robson Square Dance group, sponsored by the Recreation Department, will meet the first and third Wednesday of each month at the Greenbelt Youth Center from 8-10 p.m. Meetings are scheduled as follows: September 16, October 7, 21, November 4 and 18, December 2 and 16.

Request For Reports On Concession Profits

All Labor Day Festival organizations who serviced a booth for profit-making proceeds should submit their financial statement at their earliest convenience. The commission, according to the Greenbelt Labor Day Festival By-Laws is as follows: 20% on all food and beverage concessions and 30% on all games, books or others. Please send reports and commissions to the following address: Mrs. Shirley Meredith, Treasurer, 206 Lastner Lane, Greenbelt, Md. 20770.

The bill that fights inflation

The gas bill, of course.

Even in these days of skyrocketing prices, gas heat costs about half what electric heat costs. A gas heating system is also reasonable to install. Easy to maintain, too. And payments can be budgeted on your gas bill.

And gas systems are dependable. They last and last. But should you need service, the gas company is just a phone call away.

Join the fight against inflation. Call Washington Gas today at 783-5225 and find out how easy it is to enjoy clean, economical gas heat.

Gas heat costs about half what electric heat costs. And serves you better.

What kind of investment is Freedom Shares?

Shrewd? Safe? Patriotic? Exclusive?

You're right if you checked all four boxes.

Freedom Shares are a shrewd investment because they pay 4.74% when held to maturity. They mature in just four-and-a-half years, and are redeemable after one year.

There is no safer investment because Freedom Shares are backed by The United States of America.

Exclusive? Absolutely. Not everyone can buy new Freedom Shares.

You have to belong to the Bond-a-Month or Payroll Savings Plan. Freedom Shares are a bonus opportunity for these regular Bond buyers.

And, as you help yourself by buying Freedom Shares, you're also helping your country. Sign up for Freedom. Get all the facts from the payroll people where you work or any officer where you bank.

Dear Heating Advisor,

- I've had it with my old heating system. For instance:
- It can't get the whole house evenly heated.
 - It wastes heat in rooms we don't use.
 - It won't keep the new room warm enough.
 - It makes weird noises that keep me awake at night.
 - I'd like to get more space in the basement.
 - so I can really use it for something.
 - I seem to be cleaning all the time.

Please come out here and tell me how electric heat can solve my problems. And as long as you're coming, I'd like a free heating survey and estimate of operating costs, too.

Call me and we'll set up an appointment.
