GHI BOARD INVITES SUGGESTIONS ON REDUCING 1972 BUDGET COSTS

by Al Skolnik

Further insight into Greenbelt Homes, Inc. budget problems for 1972 was gained at last Thursday's special board meeting. First-round drafts of the budget prepared by management indicate anticipated increases for almost every major item, with the largest dollar increases occurring in taxes, heating, structural and grounds maintenance, capital improvement loan payments, trash collection, and water costs.

The increases in the preliminary budget would come to 19 percent for the frame homeowners and 16 percent for the brick homeowners, for an overall increase of 17 percent. When the increases are related to just the operating part of the budget, they average out to 22 percent. Membership approval is required for an increase of 10 percent or more, which in dollar terms comes in 1972 to an increase in operating costs of about $155,000.

At the October 28 meeting, the GHI board will entertain suggestions as to how budget costs can be trimmed and the public is invited. The consensus is, however, that the reductions will not be enough to avoid the need for calling a general membership meeting to get approval for a higher-than-10 percent increase.

Items Beyond GHI Control

The reason for this pessimism is that so much of the budget is beyond GHI's control. For example, the tax situation facing GHI is that the corporation is due for a reassessment of its properties. In view of rising home sales prices, which are influential in determining assessed valuation, the budget must set aside sufficient funds to allow for a hefty assessment increase. Also, allowance must be made for possible increase in the city and county property tax rates.

Two other items beyond the corporation's control are rising water costs and waste collection costs. Another item — capital improvement loan payments — shows a rise due to borrowings made in previous years. All these items alone are anticipated to reach the 10 percent ($155,000) increase limit.

Other Cost Increases

In addition, the items over which GHI has some measure of control such as heating and maintenance are facing increases from such outside factors as rising fuel oil prices and the corporation's contract obligation with its members to engage in certain maintenance practices, such as a trim paint program.

Comptroller Don McGinn told the board that despite the wage-price freeze it was prudent to allow for some increases during 1972. The budget assumes a 1/2-cent gallon increase in fuel oil prices and 5-percent increases in the cost of materials and utilities. Also a 6-percent increase in GHI salaries, effective July 1.

McGinn said that the corporation does not anticipate that the shiftover in oil from No. 6 to No. 2 will result in the consumption of any more oil in 1972 than in 1971. However, because No. 2 oil is more expensive than No. 6, the oil bill to the corporation is expected to rise by $34,000. Most of this increase will be in the frame homes, because that is where the shift in grade of oil took place.

Both the heating and maintenance budgets, McGinn said, will have to absorb certain increases in personnel costs arising out of increased costs for such fringe benefits as workmen's compensation, hospitalization, and pensions.

Discretionary Items

The more discretionary items in the budget concern such items as the trim paint program, which was suspended in 1971 as an economy measure. The board's feeling is that this item is necessary to prevent rusting and decay in the window and trim areas and is hesitant to order another year's suspension. The budget calls for the resumption of the 5-year cycle (one-fifth of the homes painted each year) in 1972. About $44,000 is involved.

Another discretionary item concerns expenditures for grounds maintenance. For years the board has been trying to upgrade its landscaping program. In last year's budget, the salaries of three new groundsmen were stricken as an economy measure. The 1972 budget calls for the addition of one groundsman.

Resurfacing of parking courts is another discretionary program. No money was set aside in the 1971 budget for this item. The continual deterioration of the court pavements has led management to recommend $11,000 for this item in the 1972 budget.

Altogether, the structural and grounds maintenance budget for 1972 shows a prospective increase of $80,000.

Correction

The cost of renting two voting machines for the county for one day is $130, not $150 as incorrectly reported last week in the News Review. Because GHI by-laws call for holding a two-day election, presumably a by-law change would be needed if the election were confined to one day.

The Parkdale Band will present its first formal concert of the year on Friday, Oct. 29, 8 p.m. at Parkdale Senior High School. Col. Chester E. Whiting, Vice President of the Prince Georges County Board of Education will conduct the Symphonic Band in selected numbers. Tickets for this performance will be available at the door. The public is invited to come to support the band and hear and enjoy their award-winning music.

It's definitely go for the Parkdale Band in financing its trip to Vienna, Austria. Band parents rallied to make the initial $3,000 deposit. $9,575 has been raised so far; the total goal is $50,000.

The Band was invited to Austria because of its Superior Rating, playing Grade VI music, in State competition last spring.

The band wants to publicly thank everybody who has so far contributed to this venture by work and cash. Contributions have been received from California, Massachusetts, Missouri, Texas and other states. The band also thanks state senators, area delegates and the county council for their backing and support.

Liquor License Denied

The Board of License Commissioners has unanimously denied an application for a beer, wine and liquor on-sale license for a (steak and ale) restaurant to be located on the Stidham Tire property directly north of the new People's National Bank on Edmonston Road. The property is already zoned commercial-office. In turning down the applicant, the 3-member board said that it would not be in the public interest to grant the license.

The action taken by the board followed a public hearing on the matter on October 21 at the County Service Building. At that time the board took the matter under advisement after hearing testimony from the city, citizens, organizations and the applicant. Some 30 persons from Greenbelt attended.

Greenbelters appearing before the commissioners urged the denial of the class B liquor license on the grounds that the restaurant is near the Greenbelt Junior High School, traffic congestion would be created and the residential nature of the community would be disrupted.

Testifying for the city were Mayor Richard Pilski and acting city manager, Gary Stenhouse. Other speakers included Charles T. McDonald of Save Our Community Committee, Muriel Weidenfeld, Springhill Lake Civic Association, Mrs. Lil Klineberg, Elton Young, Springhill Lake Apartments Property Manager, Raymond Krasnick and Howard Rebach.

Pilski in his statement voiced concern over the fact that no plan for the location of the building was filed so that it could not readily be determined whether the location is within 1,000 feet of a school. County law prohibits liquor establishments within 1,000 feet of the nearest school entrance.

Pilski also felt that the liquor transfer was improperly advertised in that the sign advertising the hearing was posted on a little used street bypass instead of on Edmonston Road, the main access road to Springhill Lake. The city also complained it received notice of the transfer less than two weeks prior to the scheduled hearing.

The applicants, Carl Hays, Thomas Hays and Eugene Morrison were represented by Russell Shipley.

Center School PTA

Partnership between child and parent will be the theme of the program at the Greenbelt Center School PTA meeting on Tuesday, November 2.

"The Child in School: Parents and Children Working Together" is the title of a talk to be given by Dr. Milton Shore, clinical psychologist and author. There will be time for questions and answers after the talk.

Refreshments will be served starting at 7:30 p.m., and the meeting will begin at 8 p.m.

We Survived the Fire
To the Editor:

Just before 6 a.m. on Monday, October 11, there was a fire in the basement of our house at 16 Lakeside Drive. While there was substantial property damage and much inconvenience, we are delighted that all our family escaped death. The Fire Prevention programs conducted every year are probably responsible for our escape. We urge all readers of this letter to benefit from our happy experience in the face of potential disaster. The five people at home, when awakened by the smell of smoke, acted appropriately without hesitation. We attribute our survival to our regular discussions and planning of fire escape routes.

Once we had left the smoke-filled house, we encountered the greatness of this community. Unselfish, humane people gave help with much generosity.

Our highly skilled fire department came very quickly and were very impressive in their efficiency in a difficult situation. They deserve our community's full support. (Support their current fund drive—they need the support, and we need them!)

Neighbors and friends rallied around and opened their homes, coffee pots and hearts.

We hope all people are as fortunate as we. Thank you all.

Income from Trash

To the Editor:

In an article in the October 21, 1971 issue of the Greenbelt News Review, it was suggested that Greenbelt might raise its monthly trash pick up and disposal charge. This suggestion was included in an article on the upcoming Greenbelt Homes, Inc. budget. What that article did not disclose was that Greenbelt could get by without an increase and may possibly even decrease the charge. The key factor to stable monthly charges for trash pick up and disposal is recycle.

By now, most citizens are aware that our city dump is closed, and the College Park dump, which we share, is going to close in the near future. We may be faced with the task of hauling solid waste further away or even purchasing new land. This problem could be solved by recycling solid waste. By selling solid waste, we could produce income that we heretofore did not have, and solve another environmental problem, land pollution. By producing this additional income, we could free some tax dollars for other programs, or we could reduce taxes.

Up to now, the City of Greenbelt has been a step or two ahead of other municipalities in the area of recycling. However, there is much more that we can do toward reaching a full and complete program of solid waste recycling. We must give full and strong support to our City Council to adopt a strong and positive program of recycling. We all must become involved in our city's effort to recycle. We need to save all of our paper, metal and glass containers. We need to develop and adopt the composting of organic waste and yard grass clippings and leaves.

What can we do now? On Monday, November 1, at Greenbelt Council meeting there will be a demonstration and discussion on recycling. Citizens will be shown how they can participate in local voluntary recycling collection centers at a profit.

Unfit Previews
To the Editor:

Trapped by a rainy Sunday afternoon, with only baseball or football as an alternative, I decided to take my seven-year-old daughter to a movie matinee. I carefully chose an Academy Award picture which in itself was a perfect show for children. However parents beware, it's only not only the movies one must scan for acceptability to children; one has a new responsibility, to scan the "previews" for the coming week's attractions.

Saturday and Sunday matinee tots, from three years on, were treated to a horrifying explicit, grotesquely gory preview of a gothic thriller which left me cold, shaking with rage and indignation.

This intrusion on a pleasant family outing was unthinkable. Not only was the acting hideously and graphically neurotic, but overly long as previews go...

I question the good judgment or at least the common sense of any person involved with public entertainment of children in choosing to show a horrifying episode like this.

County Hearing - Human Relations

The Greenbelt Citizens for Racial Justice will appear before the County Council on Thursday, Nov. 4, in support of Bill 65 to establish a County Human Relations Commission. The hearing will be held at 7:30 p.m. and is presently scheduled for the Council Chambers in the Upper Marlboro Courthouse. As there is a possibility that the meeting place will be changed to the P.G. Community College Auditorium in Largo, anyone planning to attend should check the location before going.

Testimony for the Greenbelt organization, initially known as the Greenbelt Citizens for Fair Housing, will be given by Mrs. Irene Hensel. If transportation is needed call Bertram Donn, 474-1353.

The photographs are especially appealing - wildlife in Greenbelt Lake, a pathway through the woods, the swimming pool, bicycle registration at the Municipal Building, Labor Day Parade Marshall Lefty Driesell, and city manager James K. Giese at the telephone.

A "Thank You Dance" last Saturday Night at the American Legion Hall honored the many dedicated persons who devoted their time and energies in making the Greenbelt Labor Day Festival the "finest observance of Labor Day in the county, state and country." (Quote from State Comptroller Louis Goldstein). Master of Ceremonies Robert McGee kept the award ceremonies moving swimmingly. He and Dave Lange, co-chairmen of the Labor Day Festival committee, paid special tribute to Chairman Bill Lawson, who, Lange said, "possessed the qualities of superior administrative ability and a flair for the job - a rare combination."

Best wishes for a speedy recovery to Betty Beale, 46-L Ridge, who is in Holy Cross Hospital, Room 412.

OPERATOR YOU'VE GOT TO HELP ME—
 SEND SOMEBODY—
 I NEED HELP

One call ago
 it was business as usual. Now you flick a switch and a voice—hysterical—clutches at you like a drowning man. Fire. Heart attack.
 Robbery. Poison. Murder. Suddenly you're the only link in a life or death communication—the lone messenger of a desperate plea for help.
 You become hope...keeping voice contact at all times. You try to get the necessary information, as you try to control panic and confusion—through a wire.
 You go to the emergency list in front of you,
 finding the right number for the right emergency service in your area.
 You keep the line open so your party can hear you contacting help.
 Police. Fire Department. Ambulance. Coast Guard.
 Poison Control Center...
 Most of the time it all goes very smoothly. But you've got to be ready to deal with an emergency. And everytime you help save a life or stop a crime...you learn something.
 You learn that you're more than just a girl with just a routine job. You learn why C&P Telephone's training for its operators requires the handling of emergency calls. You learn what it means to be part of a company dedicated to service. Service. That's what C&P Telephone
 is...and that's what
 we've always been.
