Country Music Concerts At Greenbelt Park

The National Park Service will feature country music in its outdoor concerts in Greenbelt Park this weekend. Bluegrass music will be featured on Saturday, Aug. 12 and Country and Western music on Sunday, Aug. 13. Both concerts will be held from 6 to 8 p.m. in the Sweetgum Picnic area.

New Proposal by Tennis Unlimited

by Virginia Beauchamp

A second proposal to the city to construct an indoor-outdoor tennis facility will be aired at a public hearing before the city council on Wednesday, August 23. The new proposal, by the Lancer Corporation of Bowie, describes a recreational center to be located adjacent to the Beltway and Greenbelt Rd. on a strip of land to the north and west of the Greenbelt American Legion post.

Action by council was deferred on the earlier proposal, made in April by former recreation director Richard C. Stevenson, representing Tennis Unlimited. This proposal involved the use of land under an Open Spaces grant by the Department of Housing and Urban Development. Council awaits comment from HUD concerning whether further building on the site, which already holds the city building, would violate HUD's limit on the total amount of acreage in an Open Space grant allowed for building purposes.

The Lancer proposal, however, involves private land. The land in question is a 4-acre section of Parcel 15, an approximately 18-acre tract near the Charlestowne North highrise apartment building and the lake park. The four acres are owned by Consolidated Syndicates.

According to the proposal, the two acres used for construction of the recreational facility would be deeded to the city of Greenbelt, which in turn would grant the corporation a twenty to thirty year lease to operate the concession. The remaining two acres would be reserved by the company for parking and for future expansion.

The recreation center being proposed is described in a letter to the city by William D. Berkshire, president of the corporation, as "indoor/outdoor tennis courts, handball, squash and related general exercise areas, lockers, sales and club facilities." Presently envisioned are six indoor and six outdoor tennis courts and five handball and squash courts.

The agreement would include the right by the lessor to erect "identification signs" on the property. All buildings and improvements would be made by the corporation "at its sole expense" but subject to approval by the city.

As lessor in the arrangement, the city would receive in rent an amount equal to 3% of the gross annual receipt up to $200,000 and 2% of all amounts over that figure, with a minimum rental of $2,000 per year. All receipts above the $2,000 minimum, however, would be withheld until the corporation had earned back the original purchase price of the land - an amount thought to be substantially less than $50,000.

After that time the city would receive its full percentage of rental monies. At the end of the period of lease - 20 years with two five-year renewal options - the city would become sole owner of the property.

The recreation center would operate on a membership fee basis, with courts reserved on a regular schedule. However, a minimum of 100 hours per week would be set aside to allow residents of Greenbelt and educational or recreational associations to use the facility on a first-come, first-served basis. Special fee benefits would be allowed to local residents. Although Lancer Corporation has

by Elaine Skolnik

Regrading of the eroded embankment adjacent to Klein's at the Beltway Plaza is making progress, but alterations in the plan being proposed by the State Water Resources Administration may cause friction among the parties concerned.

The proposed change involves elimination of the earthen swale along the top of the slope. In lieu of this swale, which was part of the original plan prepared by the consulting firm of Balter, the state agency's proposal would place asphalt or bituminous concrete on the top surface. This asphalt would slope back into the school bus parking lot so that the drainage would be diverted away from the slope.

Unsettled at this point is who will pay for this asphalt work - the Board of Education, which owns the parking lot, or the Beltway developer - Sidney J. Brown - whose contractor is doing the work. School board officials indicate annoyance that the original concept of the Balter plan was altered without first consulting them.

Water Resources officials say that they had made clear from the beginning that they were going to supervise the work closely. The work, they said, was being done in sections, so that on-the-spot decisions could be made to change the plans if deemed desirable.

Water Resources explained that the change was made because they feared that the proposed swale at top would cause water to percolate vertically until it hits the fine strata of earth and then emerge horizontally on the slope causing blow-outs.

(A blow-out refers to areas where there has been a slump, slide, or depression requiring the removal of unstable materials and replacement with suitable soil. One such blow-out has already occurred near the maintenance building. Bleeders (french drains) will be installed where internal seepage has taken place.

According to Water Resources, a curb will be placed at the top of the slope to insure that rainfall will not go over the slope. This will also act as a safety factor.

The work so far has proceeded to just about the middle of the slope north of the maintenance building. The piles of earth on that side of the slope near Breezewood will be removed as soon as arrangements have been made by Brown.

Water Resource officials noted that the clay slope is as hard as brick and that in some places the loader was almost extended on end trying to dig into the slope.

School board officials state that in event the slope is not finished in time for school, or if any damage is done to the parking lot, arrangements have been made with Brown for temporary gas pumps and storage areas.

Labor Day Talent Show

As in previous years the Labor Day Festival will feature one of the most popular events - the talent contest. All youngsters, teens and under, who are willing to perform on stage are urged to participate. For the past two years, entrants from the talent show appeared on local TV., with talent chairman Elizabeth Maffay acting as M.C. A panel of three judges will select first and second place winners each night.

The shows are scheduled for Saturday, Sept. 3, and Sunday, Sept. 4 at 7 p.m. Cash prizes will be awarded.

Please call 474-5806 for information.

VOTER REGISTRATION FOR INDOOR POOL ISSUE

Residents wishing to participate in the October 3, 1972 referendum concerning the issuing of $650,000 in bonds for the building of an indoor swimming pool and exercise facility must be registered voters in the city of Greenbelt. Registration can be accomplished between now and September 1, any Monday through Friday between 8:30 a.m. and 5 p.m. at the City Offices located at 25 Crescent Road adjacent to the Greenbelt Commercial Center.

Special registrations will be held at the Springhill Lake Community Center, North End Elementary School and the Municipal Building on Monday, August 21 between 5 p.m. and 9 p.m. and Saturday, September 2 and Monday, September 4 from 12 noon to 5:30 p.m. at the Labor Day Festival. The last day to register prior to the referendum will be Monday, September 4. Residents should note that registration with Prince Georges County for County, State and Federal elections is not registration for City elections. More information may be obtained by calling the City Clerk at 474-8000.

Teens Staging Music Man

The Prince Georges County Summer Teen Theatre will open its sixth season with a production of Meredith Wilson's Broadway musical, "Music Man" which will be presented August 11, 12, 18 and 20 at the Northwestern Senior High School auditorium, Adelphi Road, Hyattsville, beginning at 8 p.m.

This year's popular musical comedy is about a fast talking con man, Professor Harold Hill, and his reform when confronted by the residents of a small Iowa town, River City. Though River City is fictional in name, the setting for the story is said to be styled after Meredith Wilson's own home town in Iowa, Mason City.

Tickets for the production can be obtained at the box office or in advance by calling the Maryland-National Capital Park and Planning Commission's Department of Parks and Recreation, Arts Division, 277-2200, Ext. 322.

Financial Audit Unnecessary

To the Editor:

Regarding the proposed financial audit of Greenbelt Homes, Inc., mentioned in the last issue of the News Review, it appears that seemingly scare tactics were used by a small group of GHI members in getting the petition signed for another audit. This approach seems to indicate that they are trying by any means possible, to get only answers which they want, rather than to accept facts. These members are trying to use scarce GHI funds for an audit whose need is not supported by evidence.

Please consider the following:

- (1) The corporation is audited regularly, (twice a year), by a firm of Certified Public Accountants;
- (2) If there are matters not covered by the regular semi-annual audit, the scope of the audit can be expanded to include them;
- (3) An annual financial report which gives information about GHI income and expenditures and related data is made available to members at each annual membership meeting;
- (4) The management consulting firm of Cresap, McCormick and Paget, Inc., reviewed allegations made by members against board members and staff and found no supporting evidence to support such charges;
- (5) Suburban Trust, which is concerned with the financial state of a borrower such as GHI found the corporation in sufficiently good health to advance hundreds of thousands of dollars for a ten year loan;
- (6) The Cresap, McCormick and Paget survey covered many of the matters the proposed audit would duplicate, i.e., recommendations for more efficient management, possible savings and accumulation of reserves; and
- (7) The Government National Mortgage Association, which is responsible for the GHI overall mortgage, has never indicated any concern about the financial condition of GHI.

It would seem appropriate that if the members who signed the petition to have GHI expend $15,000 to $30,000 for such an audit are interested in keeping the finances of GHI in good health, but yet would like to see an independent financial audit, they should be willing to each donate $50 to $100 to cover such expenses. Before additional expense is urged by these members, they and others should avail themselves of the chance to read the Cresap, McCormick and Paget Survey Report — hundreds of copies of which have not been picked up by members from the GHI office.

The continuing program of these few members who are trying to split the membership, Board and management staff can only result in the eventual total destruction of this cooperative housing organization. If they are interested in improving GHI's operations and strengthening co-operative bonds, let them come up with constructive suggestions rather than continued destructive criticisms.

Complaints About Spraying

To the Editor:

It is about time someone concern themselves with the Concerned Citizens of Greenbelt.

You published an article several months ago written by an entomologist on the subject of the non-toxicity of malathion, which is the present chemical being sprayed here for mosquitos. I repudiate what he says and I suggest he do further research on the chemical.

My beef this time is the spray truck is coming around not according to your schedule published in the News Review.

Someone is in error somewhere, most important though, the citizens are being taken by surprise by the spraying. Trying to run away from the spray truck is a very frustrating experience. You should try it someday and maybe you would understand why I like to be forewarned.

B. Brown

To the Editor:

I surely did appreciate your printing the dates in the News Review of the mosquito spraying for Greenbelt.

Unfortunately, however, your dates haven't been correct thus far.

Someone is in error somewhere. Seems like a sad state of affairs that the homeowners here can't open their windows without fear of the spray.

Seems to me in the past the dates of the spraying have been accurately printed.

Please try to correct your dates for the remainder of the month.

Calls for Financial Audit

To the Editor:

After reading Miss Janet James' diatribe directed towards 325 members who signed the petition for a comprehensive financial audit, I can only echo the words of Shakespeare, "Methinks thou doth protest too much." I presume she is the spokesman for a faction of the board who has opposed all audits. The cost of one would be about one-half of the estimate given by Miss James.

She and our board know that our semiannual audit is not to be confused with the recent in-depth financial audits of county school boards, etc. by prominent C.P.A. firms. Cresap, McCormick and Paget, Inc. simply enlarged the scope of our auditor's yearly book and record check, as they were accountants, not C.P.A.'s.

Other cooperatives have died, not of constructive and concerned dissent, but because of the complacency, ignorance of facts and blind faith in the governing body, the board of directors and management.

For Aqua Spa

Dear Sir:

We have been hearing objections to the Aqua-Spa lately, on the grounds that it will raise taxes and that it will be used by only a small percentage of Greenbelters.

Long-time residents will recall that similar objections were raised when the Youth Center was suggested and when the present pool was refurbished. If these voices had been heeded, the excellent facilities of which we are so proud would not exist.

GDC Board Meets

At the first meeting of the new Greenbelt Development Corporation (GDC) board of directors on July 27, the following officers were elected: James Smith, president; Donald Volk, vice-president; Ben Rosenzweig, secretary; and Tom White, treasurer.

The first quarter 1972 financial statements were reviewed for GDC, the operators of the Parkway apartments. In contrast to previous years, a profit was reported — $460. In the previous two years, a first-quarter deficit had developed as the result of one-time maintenance work required by the county. Rentals also went up by 3 percent as of March 1.

How very nice it was to see Rita Fisher and her daughter Lori last weekend. The Fishers, who now reside in Kenoza Lake, New York, contributed much to the community, working actively on the News Review, Fire Department and Rescue Squad, and Labor Day Festival, just to name a few of their activities. We were very sorry to learn that Victor's mother passed away recently and offer our deepest sympathy.

Gerald Russ will be assuming the office of president of the SHL Civic Association, replacing Richard Alpher, who will be moving from SHL. Lee Raesly of SHL Boy Scout Troop 1253 recently became a First Class Scout.

Congratulations to the following families, who were winners of the recent Patio and Balcony contest at SHL: Dubroca - Patio - 6231 Springhill Dr.; Andrusic - Patio - 6124 Breezewood Dr.; McCarthy - Patio - 6140 Springhill Ter.; Conatant - Patio - 9125 Springhill La.; Hotham - Patio - 9006 Breezewood Ter.; Loveday - Balcony - 9152 Edmonston Rd.; Balberson - Balcony - 6200 Springhill Dr.; Kaub - Town House - 9250 Edmonston Rd.

It's family reunion time at the home of Josephine and Randy Seay, 6-S Plateau. Grechen Crabill, 1B Northway, is participating in an unusual 4-H project this year. Last Friday, she received a Labrador Retriever puppy, Margot, to care for and love for about one year; at the end of this time, Margot will be returned to the Pilot House in Columbus, Ohio, where she will be given specialized training as a seeing-eye dog. Gretchen's responsibilities include teaching the pup to trust people and become accustomed to all types of normal living situation, training her in basic obedience, and meeting health needs. This program is sponsored by the County 4-H Office and the Prince George's Plaza Lions Club.

Members of the Golden Age Club have volunteered to make box lunches for shut-ins.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Downey, formerly of Ridge Rd., are visiting in town this week while on vacation from Oklahoma.

Bob and Bernie McGee and daughters, Marcy and Michelle, just returned from a three week trip to Europe. They spent an exciting 10 days touring Switzerland, with Bernie's parents, and then took a rapid tour of Paris, Nice, Milano, Innsbruck, Garmisch, and Munich. It was a memorable trip, they said, "but there is nothing like returning home to Greenbelt."

Margaret Williamson, age 4, returned from a 2 week visit with her grandparents on the farm in Michigan.

CITY NOTES

Instant information from as far away as Hawaii is now available to the Greenbelt Police Dept. through the recently installed MILES Maryland Inter-Agency Law Enforcement System, computer terminal system. This system, which is connected with the National Crime Information Center (NCIC) provides immediate access to all State Motor Vehicle Department records and to similar information across the country. Thus, if a local police officer should pull over a car as suspicious, he would know before the car had stopped such information pertaining to that car's license number as whether the vehicle had been reported stolen.

Sixty percent of the cost to the city for the first year's operation of the terminal will be paid by a federal grant under the Low Enforcement Assistance Act. Since the state of Maryland pays for the computer itself, expense to the city is mainly for leasing of the equipment and use of telephone lines.

Revenues for the municipal swimming pool are running at least $1,000 behind the figure for last year, according to an end of July estimate by city manager James K. Giese. Because of the chilly and rainy weather for so much of the summer, sales of passes are running slower in every category than for the 1971 season.

Worst hit has been the category of resident family passes. Only 466 had been sold by the end of July, as compared with a total of 473 passes sold by the end of the season last year. Normally almost all pass sales would have been completed by this time.

Income from daily admissions has also been markedly lower this year — again because of the unfavorable weather.

The Public Works Dept. installed 480 feet of underdrain along Lastner Lane to correct a drainage problem that was undermining several driveways. A second section or underdrain — some 305 feet lower down the slope — is currently being installed. Following this installation work, the city crew will repair the affected driveways and restore sod to damaged lawns.

The Parks crew cleaned a large area below the Public Works Bldg. of weeds and undesirable growth.

Two new men have been hired for the refuse collection crew, to replace two men who recently quit.

Environmental News

The Greenbelt Environment Action Committee (GEAC) will be sponsoring several activities in connection with the Labor Day Festival. If you do anything that recycles material of any kind, you're invited to enter your work in a competition of recycling crafts. Anything goes as long as it is made entirely from recycled materials: paper, glass, tin, old wood, flowers, wire, reused metal, cloth, rope and string, etc. These will be displayed at the GEAC booth during the Festival and awards will be given in several categories: most original, most beautiful, most interesting, most practical, most unusual. Entries may be brought to the booth on Friday or Saturday, September 1 or 2. If anyone does a recycling craft that could be practiced in the booth for an hour or more, anytime during the Festival, please get in touch with Sheila Gibbs (345-2080) or Tony Mingey (474-2083).

Bicyclists are invited to enter a unique scavenger hunt/race that will begin Saturday morning, September 2, at 10 o'clock. It will be open to anyone over 14. Watch for more details later.

Exchange old records and tapes that you no longer want for other old records and tapes that you might want. GEAC's booth will have a special section where anyone who brings in an old record or tape (or any other small, usable adult item excluding books) can take out another. It's a way of recycling: one person's junk is another person's joy.

THE IDEA AT THE HEART of the Labor Day Festival seems to be one that is in total harmony with our concern for the environment: people enjoying themselves locally, sharing their talents, displaying their skills, helping the institutions that help the community. Making community's that kind of home is what "care of the earth" is all about. That must be what makes the proposed sky diving exhibition so incongruous. Not just the additional air pollution of planes and cars, not just the additional litter it will bring, but the passing of the idea and spirit. The city council will be discussing the sky diving next week. Make your opinion known to those you elected.

GEAC has established a file in the Greenbelt Public Library to supplement the library's already excellent collection of materials on ecology. If you are interested in using the materials, just ask the librarian.

MOSQUITO POPULATION UP

Mosquito control specialists for the State Board of Agriculture, headquartered at College Park, confirmed that the recent brood of common household mosquitoes is probably at its highest level in 10 years, thanks to abundant floodwater pools left by tropical storm Agnes on June 21-23.

And they warn that the next brood of floodwater mosquitoes, expected about now, could well be many times larger than the current troublesome brood, especially if the prolonged rainy period we have been enduring continues to recur.

Fortunately, there has been no apparent corresponding increase in the population of the even more troublesome salt-marsh mosquito on Maryland's Eastern Shore, according to Dr. Robert N. Altman, state entomologist, although high tides could trigger a big build-up in a hurry, he observed.

Under Dr. Altman's over-all supervision, the State Board of Agriculture administers a mosquito control program in cooperation with local taxing areas throughout the state. Approximately 1,175 communities now participate in this cooperative program.

FURNITURE EXHIBIT

The Labor Day Festival committee is hoping to set up a small exhibit of original Old Greenbelt furniture. Anyone possessing such furniture and willing to loan it for the festival is asked to call chairman Howard Savage, 474-4904.
