SEVEN COMPETE FOR 4 OPENINGS ON GHI BOARD

A total of seven candidates will compete for the four openings on the board of directors at the Greenbelt Homes, Inc. annual election on Thursday and Friday, May 23 and 24. The latest candidates to announce are Nolan G. Miller, 39-E Ridge and Joseph A. Searles, Jr., 9-C Research. They join the previously announced candidates — James Foster, Ben Hogensen, Virginia Moryadas, James Smith, and Norman Weyel.

Smith and Weyel are present members of the board. Two other incumbents — Thomas White and Robert Nelson — are not running for another term. Biographies of the candidates appear on an inside page of this issue.

Balloting will begin Thursday evening after the candidates are introduced, but members will have to walk over from the Center School Auditorium where the business meeting is being held to the city council chambers where the voting machines are located. The evening balloting will close at 11 p.m. The balloting will resume the next day at the council chambers from 7 a.m. to 7:30 p.m.

The four candidates receiving the highest vote will be elected for 2-year terms. Each member is asked to vote for four candidates. Unlike city elections, no previous registration is needed.

Each family is entitled to only one voting card. A special color for proxy votes is used so that a check can readily be made on people voting two cards improperly.

Also to be elected is a 3-member audit committee for 1-year terms. The latest candidates to file are incumbent Janet James, 1-D Plateau, and Elmer B. Cutright, 3-A Crescent Rd. Other candidates previously announcing are incumbent Tony McCarthy, Joe Reid, and James Wright.

A nominations and elections committee consisting of five members will be elected for a 1-year term through nominations from the floor at the Thursday night meeting.

By-law questions

Appearing on the machine ballot, in addition to candidates' names, will be a proposed by-law change petitioned to referendum. This by-law change would provide for one-day voting for GHI officers instead of the present two-day voting and require the use of voting machines. The board of directors has taken no position on this change.

Three other by-law changes that were recommended by the board will be taken up at the Thursday evening meeting. All by-law changes require a two-thirds vote of the membership for approval.

The first by-law change puts into writing what has been the current practice of making the approved minutes of the corporation available for inspection and copying by members.

The second by-law change provides for an expansion in the scope of audits by allowing for one full and complete audit at the end of the fiscal year and a second audit of special or limited scope at some other time during the year.

The third by-law change increases from $500 to $1,500 the limit on expenditures for supplies, materials, equipment, etc. which would not have to be covered by written contract.

Proposed GHI By-Law Stirs Up Discussion

by Al Skolnik

A petition signed by more than 50 Greenbelt Homes, Inc. members requesting the placing on the voting machine of a by-law change calling for one-day elections provoked much discussion at the Thursday, May 9, GHI board of directors meeting. The proposed by-law change also called for mandatory use of voting machines in all GHI elections.

At present, balloting for GHI offices begins at the annual evening meeting after the candidates have been presented and then continues the next day all day. Since 1972 voting machines have been used in GHI elections. The annual membership meeting this year is scheduled for Thursday, May 23, starting at 8 p.m. Balloting will begin that night (until 11 p.m.) and then resume again the next day from 7 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. The proposed by-law change if adopted will not go into effect until the 1975 elections.

Two separate issues were involved in the petition. One was whether by-law changes can be voted on by referendum rather than through the usual procedure of voting during the evening business meeting. Conflicting portions of the present by-laws could be interpreted either way.

Article IV provides for referendums at a polling place on any matter which may be the concern of the membership. Article X provides for amending the by-laws by a two-thirds vote at any duly functioning membership meeting.

The opinion of GHI attorney Albert Ginsberg was that there is no barrier to voting on by-law changes by referendum and the board decided to place the by-law change on the voting machine, as requested by the petitioners.

Pros and Cons

The major argument put forward against voting on a by-law change by referendum is that there would be no opportunity for the membership to amend or change the proposed by-law change at the evening business meeting (since the wording of the by-law change would already be printed on the ballot). Members would have to vote on the by-law change as submitted. The major argument in favor of voting on the by-law change by referendum is that more GHI members (those voting during the day) would have an opportunity to pass on the by-law change.

The second issue discussed by the board concerned the merits of the by-law change. Director Hugh O'Donnell favored the one-day voting because of the present difficulty (and possible endangering of the vote count) of moving voting machines after the evening meeting to the site of the balloting the next day. For example, this year, the evening meeting is to be held at the Center School auditorium. While voting machines could be placed at the Center School for that evening, they could not be kept there for the next day's voting because of school activities. As a result, the voting machines are going to be kept in the city council chambers for both days, and members attending the evening meeting will have to walk over to the council chambers to vote that evening.

GHI president James Smith and directors Ted Byerly and Steve Polaschik opposed the one-day voting for a variety of reasons. The major concern appeared to be that it would discourage attendance at the evening business meetings. As Byerly said, "Why should anyone come to the annual evening meeting, when he can't vote for officers?" Polaschik thought it would be an inconvenience to members to ask them to come to the evening meeting and then to come back again the next day to vote.

Smith also thought that while he and the board favored voting machines, it would not be wise to make the use of voting machines a by-law requirement. He wanted more flexibility to take care of situations when voting machines might not be available. He also noted a trend toward the use of magnetic paper ballots (which assure retabulation of the count) over voting machines (which cannot do this).

Because of the divided opinion, the board finally voted to make no recommendation to the membership regarding the by-law change. As director Joe Comproni put it, "It's up to the membership to decide."

Fire Insurance

GHI manager Roy Breashears reported that a reassessment of the replacement value of GHI properties indicates that additional premiums will have to be paid to keep GHI fully covered for fire insurance purposes. He said that GHI has obtained a binder assuring this full coverage of $19 million while negotiations are going on with the insurer regarding the premium.

Washing Machines

Breashears recounted the difficulties the maintenance department has had with washing machines that do not have check valves which automatically close the water supply to the washer when not in use. Members can manually close the valves leading to the washing machine, but often fail to do so with the result that water continues to flow to the machine: the cold water line has more pressure than the hot water line and the cold water pushes against the water in the hot line.

When a next door neighbor or someone else in the row turns on his hot water, as the tap is opened there is a slight drop in pressure in the hot water line and the higher pressure cold water crosses over from his unit through the hot water line.

Breashears said that about two or three times a week complaints are received from enraged members about having no hot water and up to 20 manhours a week is used in tracking down the unit or units at fault.

Breashears was asked to come back with a comprehensive corrective policy which could include such things as requiring GHI approval of installation of washing machines, charging members for negligence in not closing their manual valves, and inspection of washing machines at time of resale.

Fisher Commended

At the suggestion of O'Donnell, the board voted to commend Henry Fisher, a GHI employee, for his community activities in such areas as chairing the health and glaucoma clinics sponsored several times a year by the Lions Club. A $25 contribution to the Eye Bank was made by the board in the name of Fisher.

Ellen Kessler Winner At International Fair

Ellen Kessler, a sophomore at Parkdale Senior High School, won second prize in mathematics at the 25th International Science and Engineering Fair. Between four and five hundred finalists competed in the fair held at the University of Notre Dame, South Bend, Ind. May 5-11. Ellen received an award of $75 and, along with the other finalists, she received a silver medal for attending the fair.

First grand prize winner at the Prince Georges Area Science Fair (Prince Georges, Charles, St. Mary's and Ann Arundel counties), Ellen was awarded a full-expense paid trip to the International Fair. Her project was the Mathematical Probability in Music: Sequential Analysis. She was able, when given a note within a specific piece of music, to project that another note would follow eleven notes after that note.

Ellen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Kessler, 2-D Woodland Way.

Against By-Law Change

One by-law change placed on the ballot in this year's Greenbelt Homes, Inc. election merits some discussion. It is a proposal to abandon the present two-day voting for GHI officers and substitute a one-day voting system. Apparently, the major consideration for this change is that GHI has had difficulty in lining up locations where the voting machines could be used both at the evening business meeting and for voting the next day. In the past, the heavy voting machines have had to be moved during the night with the risk that the vote count might be joggled or in some way endangered during the move.

This year, the nominations and elections committee overcame this problem by installing the voting machines at the council chambers where they can be used for both days. We think there are also other ways of meeting this problem, such as using paper ballots for the evening meeting and voting machines for the all-day voting the next day.

In any event, we do not feel that this problem is of such proportions as to warrant the change to a one-day voting system, for the following reasons:

(1) By eliminating the evening voting hours (8 p.m. on), the one-day voting system would restrict instead of broaden the opportunities for members to vote, especially those who have odd working hours or other personal obligations, and would most likely result in a reduced number of members participating in the electoral process.

(2) GHI has had difficulties enough in getting good attendance at the evening business meetings. There would now be even less incentive for people to come out to the evening meeting if they know they won't be able to vote for the candidates that evening.

(3) It would be an inconvenience for people, especially some of the disabled or elderly members, to come out to the evening meeting to hear the candidates and then to come back again the next day to vote.

We would recommend that the membership vote "NO" on the by-law change.

CITY NOTES

Work has continued on the swimming pool. Sections of the concrete deck were patched while the inside of the lobby and the concrete canopy at the north end of the pool were scraped and repainted. The roof of the bath house and concession stand was repaired. Debris was removed and the chipper chipped brush from the roadside. Old appliances were collected and disposed of. Grass was cut and work done on ball fields and the golf course.

A new 12 foot willow oak purchased by the Woman's Club was planted near the Eleanor Roosevelt Memorial Tree, as a replacement.

The concrete in the Center Mall, recently removed to repair the steam line, has been replaced, by the owner of the buildings.

The parks crew has cut grass and planted trees. Sod and plantings were done in the area of the statue in the shopping center. Some sod was laid on McDonald Field and the Springhill Lake Elementary School ball field. The fields were ready for their opening day games.

The Parks Superintendent attended the Governor's Conference on Parks and Recreation at Ocean City.

The refuse crew now has a full complement of personnel, the first time in a long while.

The new female collector has secured her class "B" license enabling her to operate vehicles over 20,000 lbs. gross weight. She is now driving as well as collecting.

Citizens' special requests for pickups have been running quite heavy, due to the annual spring clean-up.

Work has continued on the Youth Center gym. The second shipment of plastic covers, for the gym lights, was received. This time, only 13 out of the 23 covers were damaged. In the first shipment, only one cover survived the trip.

Some line painting has been done at the Lake Park parking lot. This will make more spaces available for parking.

No Rent Increase For Ten-Year SHL Residents

In a generous move, the owners and management of the Springhill Apartments (SHL) have waived a rent increase this year for some 50 families who have resided in SHL for 10 or more years.

Owner-representative Harold Kramer and Elton Young of management told the News Review that "this was our way of recognizing residents for their long and faithful association with the SHL community."

Letters notifying families of the "no rent increase" for a year were sent out recently. Those long-time residents who were already paying a rent increase were advised that the increase was rescinded and that a refund would be forthcoming.

This month SHL celebrates its eleventh anniversary. About 8,000 persons reside in the 2,899 apartment-townhouse development, and many play an active role in the city through their political clubs, civic organizations and a host of other organizations.

Letters to the Editor

Paint Funds Used Unwisely To the Editor:

In reply to Stephen Polaschik's "Correcting the Record" letter, it seems that the whole point of my statement at the membership meeting of April 17, 1974 was completely missed.

The point I was trying to make was that 12 court of Ridge was painted in the RAIN. When I questioned the contractor about this, I was given the answer that there are different types of paint for different surfaces, and each takes a different time to dry. Big deal. It still was painted in the rain. Which means that under that paint is moisture, and anyone with a little common sense knows that a paint job like that will not last long. I have since been told that the painters got a little over $700 per 4-unit building. In our court that means $2,100, which is 1/3 of what is needed to convert our heating plant. I also now understand that we were supposed to have been asked if we wanted our units painted or not. Unfortunately nobody asked us. A good co-op court should have asked that the paint trim money be used to defer the cost of our conversion.

I might also add, that besides having painted in the rain at least two of the homes were painted last summer. One in order to sell, and the other after the people moved in. And two other homes were painted within the last two years, surely they didn't need to be completely painted so soon.

I would also like to make a comment to the reply I got at the meeting that the money for the trim paint program came out of a reserved fund. What difference does it make where the money came from, it was still used unwisely. Nobody asked the membership if they would rather have that money applied to the heating improvements so monthly charges would not have to be raised so high.

Support School Budget To the Editor:

On May 28, at 7:30 p.m. the County Council will hold an open hearing on the county budget. At that time, parents concerned about full financing of next year's school budget may speak on this issue.

The Board of Education has recommended a budget that increases the per pupil expenditure by $217 to a total of $1319. (Montgomery County has just passed a budget of $1533 per pupil.) While money alone doesn't insure quality education, it is a pretty good gauge of priorities. We are the ninth largest school system in the U.S. Inflation has hit the school services and materials; negotiated salary increases of 7% (not a large sum in relation to 12% inflation rate) must be met; special programs — career education, Special Education, and special reading programs — are vital to the needs of our children.

Most important, the School Board would like to reduce the pupil-teacher ratio in the first three grades to 27 pupils for each teacher. This is hardly an unreasonable number when you consider the importance of individual teaching during the first years of a child's school experience. This might make the difference between success or drop-out years later.

Parents are voters and tax-payers. A parent who wants full funding for our schools should write to:

Mr. Francis Francois, Chairman Prince George's County Council Upper Marlboro, Md. 20870

Better still, write to our own Greenbelt resident County Councilman Francis White, to the above address.

Remember, an open hearing is set for May 28. Those interested in speaking should call the County Council clerk by May 21. Large attendance at the hearing is also a show of support.

"Everybody Needs Help"

To the Editor:

Viola Keer, the issue is not whether the city can afford tax money for Greenbelt CARES, but whether it can NOT afford it.

You ask if it might become similar to the "Public Works, Recreation, etc." Well, I hope so. I also hope mental health clinics and guidance centers can be accepted as a necessary and usual part of our world, just as are public libraries and public schools.

Everybody needs help at times — you and I too — even though this may be more obvious to other people than it is to ourselves. Furthermore, many of us who are now adults might have been happier people, better people had we had a place to go during our adolescence, where we could talk about our problems with our parents without being made to feel that we were not being sufficiently "grateful" for the many things our parents did for us (and often to us).

You complain, Viola L. Keer, because not ALL the taxpayers need the help of Greenbelt CARES. Be grateful. You carp because "less than 100 people are receiving these so-called services". Face it: all anyone has to do to receive the services is walk through the door.

You speak of the "so-called" services. Why not go to Greenbelt CARES yourself, personally, and see what they have done for some unhappy families? Don't throw stones without looking carefully at the target.

Greenbelt Quilting Group

On Fri., Apr. 26, 22 women attended the first meeting of the Greenbelt Quilting Group, sponsored by the Recreation Department and the National Quilting Association, at the Recreation Center. Mrs. Marie Luccarelli of the NQA demonstrated the preliminaries of "Learning to Quilt," and many beautiful quilts were displayed by the association and some Greenbelt women.

Future meetings will include additional instructions in this popular revived craft, and other interested women are invited to join the group. The NQA prohibits children in the sewing area because of hazards of sewing tools. If there is sufficient demand for baby sitting, the recreation department can provide it at a reasonable fee. For information, call 474-6970.

CLEAN-UP SUCCESSFUL

The public Lake Park clean-up last Saturday proved to be successful as 15 truck loads of trash and debris were collected and hauled away for disposal. Additionally, an estimated 200 pounds of glass was collected and recycled.

Approximately 60 volunteers participated, assisted by the city's parks crew. The largest group participating was the Greenbelt Chucks and Lassies, while the youngest worker was five-year-old Lisa Ann Eckstorm of 6-N Ridge Road.

Winners of prizes for the most unusual items found were Trevor Siegel, 16 Maplewood Court, who retrieved an asthmatic medihaler which still worked; and Tom Ricciuti, 109 Lynbrook Court, who found a broken pistol. Some other unusual items found included a Massachusetts license plate, a 1969 animal rabies vaccination tag, a pair of eye glasses, a light switch and an illegible sign and sign post.

John Carroll PTA

John Carroll students held an Art Fair Monday, May 6, under the guidance of Mr. DiGennaro and Mrs. Drown, 6th-grade teachers.

Ribbons were given for First, Second and Third Place and Honorable Mention. A Grand Prize ribbon went to Mrs. Drown's class (according to independent judges) for a wall mural. Greenbelt children involved in painting the mural were Patty Bowen, Peter Linstrom, Vance Rockwell, Riccy Revillas, Brett Brinkley, Viky Taylor and Jimmy Crockett.

First place winners by grade included Greenbelt students in Room 9 of the 1st grade; Barry Perkins, 2nd grade; Donald Tayman, 4th grade; Nancy Dawson, 5th grade; Ricky Thompson, 6th grade.

RABIES CLINIC

The Prince Georges County Health Department is conducting a rabies clinic, where residents of the county may have their dogs and cats vaccinated against rabies. Cub Pack 1253-SHL

by Madelon Ferguson

In April we cleaned up with the Girl Scouts, Cadets and Brownies. We marched in the Little League Baseball Opening Day Parade as the Honor Guard with the Boy Scouts. At our Pack Meeting we sang, played games and won raffle prizes.

April's honored Cubs and Webelos were: Patrick Dean, Wolf Badge and Arrows; Jimmy Hitchcock, Bear Badge; Timothy Karch, Webelos Athlete; John Aatwood, David Lamberton, Freddie Ellis, Webelos Citizen; Jimmy Hitchcock, Jimmy DeMeyer, graduation to Webelos; Larry Tolliver, Eddy McLeod, new members; Taka and Take Fugano, Patrick Dean, farewell.

May is a big month, too with rodeo attendance and Scout Expo '74 participation. The Pack meeting will be Tuesday, May 28.

Our summer schedule includes a picnic (June 22), a pool party (July 29) and an outdoor olympic (August 24). Want to join us? Call 345-8477 or 474-8996.

Cub Scout Pack 746

Induction and awards were featured at the Sea Adventure meeting of Cub Scout Pack 746 at the Methodist Church recently.

Michael Bracken gave a report on the Saturday pack hike in Greenbelt Park.

Cubmaster Stephen Sinden inducted Peter Williamson into the pack. Peter was assisted by his father in a "Cooperation stunt."

The coveted salesmanship patch for selling the first ten tickets to Expo '74 was won by John Jordan with Lysle Rice being a close second. All cubs can earn this patch by selling ten tickets to the Gaithersburg-Anacostia-Manassas display of scout action in this area.

Webelos activity badges were awarded Scott Anderson for outdoorsman, Travis Don Bullian for forester, geologist, outdoorsman and sportsman, and Lysle Rice for traveller.

Guests and cubs were entertained by a fish grab at odd moments during the program.

The meeting ended with a Grand Howl for Mr. Ralph Noble, Commissioner and Institutional Representative of the pack.

Paper Recycling Profitable

An article on Greenbelt's paper recycling appears in the May issue of "The American City" magazine. According to the article, since Greenbelt initiated its mandatory paper recycling program about a year ago, an increase in collection fees was avoided and the city is making a profit. Paper was selling for $8 a ton but the price is up to $20 a ton now. Income from the sale of paper has offset rising salary, landfill and other disposal operational costs. It was estimated that in one year, Greenbelt could save about one and a half acre-feet of landfill space with its paper program. Greenbelt can look forward to an extension of the usable life of its landfill.

"A Draggy But Good Meeting" is Consensus

by Bob McGee

What can you say about budget sessions, other than that they are a grind? Councilman Charles Schwan said that it was a "draggy but good meeting"; this was a cap-off to the budget session conducted by the Greenbelt city council in the hearing chambers of city hall, Monday evening, May 13. The "good" part probably pertained to discussion about matters not directly relating to the budget, and the "drag" to those countless items over which everyone poured with a magnifying glass and fine-tooth comb.

Prior to getting into the line-item screening of the copious budget, council went over the statement to be presented by the city before the public hearing to be conducted on Greenbriar by the Environmental Protection Agency in the Greenbelt city hall Wednesday morning. Councilman Thomas White proposed three changes which he felt would strengthen the overall statement and assure Greenbelt citizens that all of the pertinent questions were raised. Councilman Gil Weidenfeld and Schwan found no objections.

At this point a minor bruhaha developed when Mayor Richard Pilski objected to the language throughout the document which said "the council" raises questions or opposes. He wanted "the majority of council" substituted so it is made clear that he has none of the objections that the rest of council was raising. Schwan objected strenuously to this as a matter of principle. He felt that when council spoke on anything, it spoke as a body, even if the vote was only 3 to 2. He thought that Pilski had every right, as any citizen does, to make his own statement at the hearing.

White felt that it wasn't that big of a deal and was willing to go along with the change, but said that he'd leave it up to Weidenfeld. Weidenfeld said that he was in conflict about it, but would rather lean on the side of protecting the right of any minority to be heard so would go along with Pilski's request.

Broken Globes

White also kicked off about the only other really interesting bit of discussion later in the meeting when he asked City Manager James Giese what he is supposed to say to people who keep asking him about the broken light globes on the center mall. Giese reported that 6 out of 10 lights have been broken, the first by a rock that had come down on-top of the globe, and the other 5 by someone whacking at the globes with one of the tree support stakes they had pulled out of the ground. None of the culprits, or culprit, has been apprehended. Giese stated that he had been trying to save the merchants money by purchasing the cheaper globes, which, although not unbreakable, are quite durable. He assured council that whoever broke them had to really work at it. The unbreakable globes cost about $60 more and the city may have to use these.

Administrative Budget

Very few changes or additions were considered in the administrative budget items covered. Council received requests to cover travel by the city solicitor to the National Institute for Municipal Lawyers in San Diego and an increase in his fees, from $25 to $35 per hour for non-court work and from $35 to $50 per hour for court appearances. It was pointed out by Giese that Nanna's retainer, which covered appearances at council meetings, remained the same.

An amount of $600 was also asked to cover expenses for 1 representative (presumably the Mayor) to attend the National League of Cities Conference in Houston, Texas. An amount of $600 was also supported for election costs in the event that the city planned to go to a bond referendum in the off-election year, which everyone pre-

Heart Ass'n Commends City For Help On Heart-Risk Project

by Elaine Skolnik

The Greenbelt city council on May 6 was commended for the city's contributions to the Heart Screening Project held in Greenbelt at the Ridge Road Recreation Center from February 5 through 14, 1973.

Michael Delaney, program director of the Heart Association of Southern Maryland which conducted the project in cooperation with the Greenbelt Risk Factor Screening Committee headed by Leo Gerton, presented the council with a complete written report on the program.

Gerton told council that the successful pilot project in Greenbelt opened the way for further programs in the county. He hoped the county would continue to make funds available for the program which benefited its residents. The county contributed $2,500 for laboratory work which was matched by the city of Greenbelt.

The planning, organization and operation of the clinic was a massive undertaking. Doctors, nurses and other professional and technical personnel were recruited. Over 150 volunteers were trained and used during all phases of the screening, with the majority coming from Greenbelt. City personnel performed many services to insure the smooth running of the program.

Findings

Five tests to detect a person's susceptibility to heart disease were performed on 1,971 persons with almost equal distribution between men and women. They included a blood cholesterol and triglycerides analysis, electrocardiogram, blood pressure, height-weight ratio and personal and family health history.

Hypertension was detected in 336 individuals with 19.6% of men and 14.5% of women involved. Abnormal electrocardiograms were present in 5.4% of those screened. Almost 25% of the population screened had a cholesterol over 260mg% (over 300mg% is considered abnormally high), with equal proportion in both sexes. Those in the high category numbered 185. According to the findings of the report the cholesterol figures were significant in view of the importance of cholesterol as a risk factor.

The report states that abnormal values for triglycerides were even more significant with 785 persons having a high value. Of these 265 had values abnormally high. "The combined percentages for cholesterol and triglycerides appear to be a reflection of the dietary habit patterns typical of the average American."

Cigarette smoking was present in 28% of the screenees, with 50% of them smoking more than one pack a day. Obesity was detected in 22% of those screened.

Follow-up referrals were made in 655 persons (368 men and 287 women) in whom risk factors were detected. Of those referred, 352 completed follow-up.

Serving on the screening committee with Gerton were Marilyn Fowler, R.N., Henry Fisher, Mary Welsh Don Kling, Harriet Glickman, Vera Collins and Gertrude S. Curtis. The Ladies Auxiliary of the Volunteer Fire Department and Rescue Squad provided meals for the staff.

sent seemed to feel was entirely likely. Council questioned the expense items related to retiring employees, and objected to paying $75 for retirement pins. Members made it clear that it was not the money — they would "just as soon give money" — but that they thought something more useful and probably more appreciated could be purchased for retirees.

The Police Blotter

One adult and one male juvenile were recently arrested after breaking into the Arco gas station in Springhill Lake. $120 worth of tires was recovered.

A large amount of stolen property was recovered in the Lake Park area. The items had been taken from a house on Lakeside Drive this past August.

A vehicle stolen in Springhill Lake was recovered in Washington the day after it was stolen as a result of police lookout. Also a car stolen in D.C. was recovered by Greenbelt police in the Springhill Lake area.

Corporal Philip Coombes and PFC David Fulgham are attending an Advanced Traffic Investigation Seminar held at the University of Maryland. The seminar is sponsored by the Maryland Police Training Commission. Officers Kenneth Stair and Paul Duprat recently completed a course at the University of Maryland.

Fifty traffic summonses were issued recently by the radar team in various areas of the city, for speeding violations in school zones.

In separate cases, two ladies reported that they were grabbed by a passing male subject while walking. A lookout was issued.

During a routine check of suspicious persons on Westway Road late at night, it was discovered that one male suspect had just stolen a bicycle from a carport on Olivewood Court. He then concealed it in a friend's car. The bicycle, valued at $125, was returned to its owner. The suspect was charged with larceny.

An indecent exposure case was reported in the Lake Park near Braden Field. The area was checked and a lookout issued. Investigation is continuing.

Two apartments were entered in Springhill Lake by forcing the patio doors. Items such as stereo equipment and televisions were taken. Residents have been cautioned to provide locks or bars in the tracks of this type door as they are easily forced.

by Elaine Skolnik - 474-6060

Seen on Channel 9 on Tuesday was Greenbelt's Dr. William Weintraub. The occasion was the opening of the Shock Trauma Center at the Prince Georges Community Hospital, the second of such units in Maryland. Dr. Weintraub, who is chief of staff at Prince Georges Hospital, officiated at the opening ceremonies and greeted the many state, county and local officials who attended. Prior to the opening of the new facility, critically ill or injured persons were taken to the University of Maryland Hospital in Baltimore. Dr. Weintraub noted that the savings in transportation time may well mean the difference between life and death.

Al Skolnik and Nat Shinderman teamed up at last week's duplicate bridge session to win handily. Runners up were Joe Nusinov and Harold Moline. Because of the holidays, the next game will not be until Friday, June 14.

Leslie Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Durrell Moore, 1 Lakeside, is one of 47 freshmen at Bucknell University recently initiated into Alpha Lambda Delta, national scholastic sorority for freshman women. Membership in the honor society is open to women who attain at least a 3.5 average (on a 4.0 scale) during the first semester of their freshman year.

A highlight of the School Board meeting at Bladensburg High on April 25 was the performance given by the Parkdale Senior High School Handbell Choir.

Glad to hear that Terry Herman is home from the hospital. We wish her a speedy recovery.

Congratulations to News Review staff member Judy Goldstein, who was elected to the Board of Directors of Park and Shop in Washington. Judy is the owner of Potomac Photo Supply Inc. on 17th and Pennsylvania Ave. N.W.

Joel S. Birds-eye, U. S. Coast Guard, son of Ruth S. Birdseye and the late Frederic H. Birdseye, received his Chief Petty Officer assignment in April. Joel, now stationed in West Juneau, Alaska, will be assigned his new duties at the Coast Guard base in Portsmouth, Va., in late July.

Two Greenbelters were awarded degrees from Frostburg State College on May 12: Walter J. Butkus, 5993 Springhill Dr., ME; and Donald Paul Loutsch, 13 Maplewood Ct., BS.

Under the direction of "General Manager" Judy Bausell (media specialist) and "Manager" Bruce Murray (University of Maryland student teacher of library science), the media center at Springhill Lake Elementary was recently transformed into the Card Catalog Restaurant. A fourth grade class took full charge as waiters, waitresses, chefs, hostesses, maitre d', cashier, dishwashers and busboys. The banquet was the culmination of a unit on using the card catalog.

The class was divided into two alternating groups, the diners and the servers. A diner requested a selection from a broad and varied menu of art, history, mystery, humor, science, etc. His order was briskly jotted down by the waiter and taken to the card catalog in the "kitchen." The chef found its call number. The "dish" was then located on the bookshelves and served on a tray to the diner. Dishwashers and busboys cleared the tables and filled the shelves. After twenty minutes, the groups changed places and the banquet continued.

Hans Jorgensen, former Superintendent of Parks for Greenbelt, is now Superintendent of the Paca Gardens in Annapolis. The Paca House and its lovely garden is an historic sight which is being restored.

Friends and neighbors of Regina Wilkinson, 118 Lastner Lane, wish to extend their sincere sympathy on the loss of her mother.

Welcome back to Glenn and Ginger Williams, 45-J Ridge, who returned Sunday from several month's of singing engagements in eastern Holiday Inns.

It's a boy for Joyce and William Yarwood, 54-D Crescent. John Albert was born April 29 and tipped the scales at 8 lbs. 4 oz.

Karen Goldstein and Nancy Weintraub teamed up and copped third place in the recent 83-mile Economy Road Rally. Participants from many Maryland counties competed in the difficult drive. Nancy and Karen are members of the Explorer's Club, which meets at Prince Georges Hospital. Last week Karen received a conservation award from the Izaak Walton League for her science fair project "Clean Clear Water."

A speedy recovery to Nettie Granims, 4-B Ridge, who has been ill.

Last month's SHL Elementary School PTA program featured a meeting staged by the SHL Student Council under the guidance of teachers, Mrs. Webber and Mrs. Tracy. According to those attending, the student's knowledge of parliamentary procedure and handling of issues was impressive.

Our deepest sympathy to Rev. and Mrs. Clifton Cunningham, 39-A Ridge, on the death of their son, Dennis.

Codolences to Lillian Greenbaum 23-A Ridge who lost her mother.
